2 And the Philistines pursued after Saul and after his sonnes, and the Philistines smote Jonathan, and Abinadab, and spalchisna the sonnes of Saul.

3 And the battell was sore against Saul, and the archers * but him, & he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then said Saul to his armour bearer, Drawe out thy sworde, and thrust mee through therewith, lest these uncircumcised come and mocke at mee: but his armour bearer would not, for hee was sore afraid: therefore Saul tooke the sword and fell vpon it.

5 And when his armour bearer saw that Saul was dead, hee fell likewise vpon the sword, and died.

6 So Saul died and his three sonnes, and all his house, they died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley, sawe how they fled, and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, they forsooke their cities, and fled away, and the Philistines came and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morowe when the Philistines came to spoile them that were slaine, they found Saul and his sonnes * lying in mount Gilboa.

9 And when they had stript him, they tooke his head and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistines round about, to publish it vnto their idoles, and to the people.

10 And they layde by his armour in the house of their god, and set by his head in the house of * Dagon.

11 ¶ When all they of Jabesh Gilead heard all that the Philistines had done to Saul, 12 Then they arose (all the valiant men) and tooke the body of Saul, and the bodies of his sonnes, and brought them to Jabesh, and buried the bones of them vnder an oke in Jabesh, and fasted seuen dayes.

13 So Saul died for his transgression, that hee committed against the Lord, * euen against the word of the Lord which he kept not, and in that hee fought and asked counsell of a * familiar spirit.

14 And asked not of the Lord: therefore he slew him, and turned the kingdome vnto David the sonne of Isha.

3 After the death of Saul, David anoyned in Hebron. 5 The Iebusites rebell against David, from whom hee taketh the towre of Zion. 6 Iobab is made captain. 10 His valiant men.

¶ Then * all Israel gathered themselves to David vnto Hebron, saying, Beholde, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

2 And in time past, when Saul was king, thou ledest Israel out and in: and the Lord thy God said vnto thee, Thou shalt feede my people Israel, and thou shalt bee captaine ouer my people Israel.

3 So came all the Elders of Israel to the king to Hebron, and David made a couenant with them in Hebron, before the Lord. And they anoyned David king ouer Israel, * according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Samuel.

4 ¶ And David & all Israel went to Jerusalem, which is Iebus, where were the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Iebus spake to David, Thou shalt not come in hither. Nevertheless David tooke the towre of Zion, which is the citie of David.

6 And David spake, * Whosoever smiteth the Jebusites first, shall bee the chiefe and captain. So Iobab the sonne of Zerinah went first by, and was captain.

7 And David dwelt in the towre: therefore they called it the citie of David.

8 * And hee built the citie on euery side, from Giloen euen rounde about: and Iobab repaired the rest of the citie.

9 And David prospered, and grew: for the Lord of hostes was with him.

10 ¶ These also are the chiefe of the valiant men that were with David, and ioyned their force with him in his kingdome with all Israel, to make him king ouer Israel, according to the word of the Lord.

11 And this is the number of the valiant men whome David had, Iathobeam the sonne of Hachmoni, the chiefe among their: hee lift by his speare against threehundred, whom hee slew at one time.

12 And after him was Eleazar the sonne of Dodo the Abiathite, which was one of the three valiant men.

13 Hee was with David at Pasdamsim, and there the Philistines were gathered together to battell: and there was a parcel of ground full of baies, and the people fled before the Philistines.

14 And they stood in the middes of the field, and * laued it, and slew the Philistines: so the Lord gaue a great victorie.

15 ¶ And thre of the * thirte captaines went to a rocke to David, into the cave of Adullaim, and the armie of the Philistines camped in the valley of Rephaim.

16 And when David was in the holde, the Philistines garison was at Beth-lehem.

17 And David longed, and said, * Oh, that one would giue mee to drinke of the water of the Well of Beth-lehem that is at the gate.

18 Then these thre, which thorowe the holle of the Philistines, and drew water out of the Well of Beth-lehem that was by the gate, and tooke it, and brought it to David: but David would not drinke of it, but poured it for an oblation to the Lord.

19 And said, Let not my God suffer me to doe this: for I drinke the blood of these mens limes: for they haue brought it with the jeopardy of their limes: therefore hee would not drinke it. These things did these thre mightie men.

20 ¶ And when that the brooke of Iobab, he was chiefe of the thre, and hee lift by his speare against thre hundred, and slew them, and had the name among the thre.

21 Among the thre hee was more honourable then the two, and hee was their captain: * but he attained not vnto the first thre.

These also are they that came to Dauid to a Ziklag, while he was yet kept cloise, because of Saul the sonne of Ithai: and they were among the valiant and helpers of the battell.

2 They were weaponed with bowes, and coulde vse the right and the left hande with stones and with arrowes and with bowes, and were of Sauls brethren, even of Beniamin.

3 The chiefe were Hhiezzer, and Joash the sonnes of Schemah a Gibeathite, and Iezziel, and Pelet the sonnes of Asmaueh, Zetachah and Iehu the Amothite,

6 Elkanah, and Hhiah, and Azriel, and Joezer, and Jathobeam of Jakozehim,

7 And Iorlah, and Zebadiah, the sonnes of Jeroham of Gebor,

8 And of the Gadites there separated themselves some vnto Dauid into the holde of the wilderness, valiant men of warre, and men of armes, & apt for battell, which coulde handle speare and shielde, and their faces were like the faces of lions, and were like the hoes in the mountaines in swiftnesse,

14 These were the sonnes of Gad, Captaines of the hoste: one of the least coulde resist an hundred, and the greatest a thousande.

15 These are they that went ouer Jordan in the first moneth when hee had filled ouer all his bankes, and put to flight all them of the valley, toward the East and the West.

16 And there came of the children of Benjamin, and Judah to the holde vnto Dauid,

17 And Dauid went out to meete them, and answered, and sayde vnto them, If ye be come peaceably vnto mee to helpe mee, mine heart shall bee knit vnto you, but if you come to betray mee to mine adversaries, seeing there is no wickednesse in mine hands, the God of our fathers beholde it, and rebuke it.

18 And the spirit came vpon Amasai, which was the chiefe of thirtie, and hee saide, Thine are wee, Dauid, and with thee, O sonne of Ithai. Peace, peace be vnto thee, and peace bee vnto thine helpers: for thy God helpeth thee. Then Dauid receiued them, and made them Captaines of the garrison.

20 As he went to Ziklag, there fell to him of Manasseh, Adnah, & Jozabad, and Jedaiel, and Michael, and Jozabad, and Eshai, and Zithai, heads of the thousandes that were of Manasseh.

21 And they helped Dauid against achish band: for they were all valiant men and were captaynes in the hoste.

22 For at that time day by day there came to Dauid to helpe him, until it was a great hoste, like the hoste of ^h God.

38 ¶ All these men of warre || that could lead an armie, came with bright heart to Hebron to make Dauid king ouer all Israel: and all the rest of Israel was of one accord to make Dauid king.

39 And there they were with Dauid three daies, eating and drinking: for there ^a brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreover they that were neere them brent Achish, and Zebulun, and Naphtali brought bread vpon asses, and on Camels, and on mules, & on orene, even in eate, flour, figges, and reishins, & wine and oyle, and beeces & sheepe abundantly: for there was top in Israel.

CHAP. XIII.

7 The Arke is brought againe from Kirjath-earim to Ierusalem, 9 Vzza dieth because he touched it.

¶ And Dauid counselled with the captaynes of thousandes and of hundredes, and with all the gouernours.

2 And Dauid said to all the Congregation of Israel, If it seeme good to you, and that it proceedeth of the Lord our God, we will send to and fro vnto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Israel (for with them are the Priestes and the Leuites in the cities and their suburbs) that they may assemble themselves vnto vs.

3 And we will bring againe the * Arke of our God to vs: for we sought not vnto it in the daies of Saul.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs doe so: for the thing seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 ¶ So Dauid gathered all Israel together from Shihoh in Egypt, euen vnto the entering of Hamath, to bring the Arke of God from Kirjath-earim.

6 And Dauid went vp and all Israel to Baalath, in Kirjath-earim, that was in Judah, to bring vp from thence þe Arke of God the Loyde that dwelleth betwene þe Cherubims, where his name is called on.

7 And they caried the Arke of God in a newe cart out of the house of Abinadab: and Vzza and Ahio guided the cart.

8 And Dauid and all Israel played before God with all their might, both with songes and with baryes, and with viols, and with trumpets and with cymbals, and with tympanes.

9 ¶ And when they came vnto þe thershyng flooze of Chidon, Vzza put forth his hand to holde the Arke, for the oxen did shake it.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Vzza, and he smote him, because he laid his hand vpon the Arke: so he died there before God.

11 And Dauid was angry, because the Lord had made a breache in Vzza, and he called the name of that place Perez-Vzza vnto this day.

12 And Dauid feared God þe day, saying, How shal I bring in to me þe Arke of God?

13 Therefore Dauid brought not þe Arke to him into the citie of Dauid, but caused reine to his vocation: for this charge was giuen to the Priestes, Num. 4. 15. so that here all good intentions are condemned except they be commaunded by the word of God.

1 Hiram sendeth wood and workmen to David, 4 The names of his children, 8 By the counsell of God he goeth against the Philistims, and overcome them. 15 God fighteth for him.

Then sent Hiram the King of Tyre messengers to David, and cedars trees, with masons and carpenters to build him an house.

2 Therefore David knew that the Lord had confirmed him King over Israel, and that his kingdom was lift up on his, because of his people Israel.

3 Also David tooke more wives at Jerusalem, and David begat more sonnes and daughters.

4 And these are the names of the children which he had at Jerusalem, Shammua, and Shobab, Nathan, and Salomon,

5 And Ithar, and Elishua, & Elpalet,

8 But when the Philistims heard that David was anointed king over Israel, all the Philistims came up to seeke David, and when David heard, he went out against them.

9 And the Philistims came and spied themselves in the valley of Rephaim.

10 Then David asked counsell at God, saying, Shall I goe up against the Philistims, & wilt thou deliver them into mine hands? And the Lord said unto him, Go up: for I will deliver them into thine hand.

11 So they came up to Baal-perazim, and David smote them there: and David said, God hath divided mine enemies with mine hand, as waters are divided: therefore they called the name of that place, Baal-perazim.

12 And there they had left their goods: & David said, Let them even be burnt to fire.

13 Again the Philistims came & spied themselves in the valley.

14 And when David asked againe counsell at God, God said to him, Thou shalt not goe up after them, but turne away from them, that thou mayest come upon them over against the mulberry trees.

15 And when thou hearest the noise of one going in the toppes of the mulberry trees, then go out to battell: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the host of the Philistims.

16 So David did as God had commanded him: and they smote the hoste of the Philistims from Gibeon even to Gazer.

17 And the fame of David went out into all lands, and the Lord brought the feare of him upon all nations.

CHAP. XV.

1 David prepareth an house for the Arke, 4 The number and order of the Levites, 16 The singers are chosen out among them, 25 They bring againe the Arke with joy, 29 David dancing before it, is despised of his wife Michal.

And David made him houses in the Citie of David, and prepared a place for the Ark of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then David said, None ought to carie the Ark of God, but the Levites: for the Lord hath chosen them to beare the Ark of the Lord, and to minister unto him for ever.

3 And David gathered all Israel together to Jerusalem to bring up the Ark of the Lord unto his place, which he had ordained for it.

4 And David assembled the sonnes of Aaron, and the Levites.

5 Of the sonnes of Kohath, Miziel the chiefe, and his brethren five score.

9 Of the sonnes of Iebzon, Eliel the chiefe, and his brethren fourscore.

10 Of the sonnes of Izziel, Amminadab the chiefe, and his brethren an hundred and twentie.

11 And David called Zadok and Abiathar the Priests, and of the Levites, Miziel, Uzzaiah, and Joel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab:

12 And he said unto them, We are the chiefe fathers of the Levites: sanctifie yourselves, and your brethren, and bring up the Ark of the Lord God of Israel unto the place that I have prepared for it.

13 For because ye were not there at the first, the Lord our God made a breach among vs: for we sought him not after due order.

14 So the Priests and the Levites sanctified themselves to bring up the Ark of the Lord God of Israel.

15 And the sonnes of the Levites bare the Ark of God upon their shoulders with the barres, as Moyses had commanded, according to the word of the Lord.

16 And David spake to the chiefe of the Levites, that they should appoint certaine of their brethren to sing with instruments of musike, with viols, & harpes, and cymbales, that they might make a sound, and lift up their voice with joy.

17 So the Levites appointed Yeman the sonne of Joel, & of his brethren Asaph the sonne of Berechiah, and of the sonnes of Gerson their brethren, Echan the sonne of Buchanah, 18 And with them their brethren in the second degree, Zechariah, Benai, Jaaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Unni, Eliab, & Benaiab, and Maaseiah, & Matthanah, and Eliphelet, and Shimeon, and David Edom, and Jeiel the porters.

9 Also I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and I will plant it, that they may dwell in their place, & moue no more: neither shall the wicked people vex them any more, as at the beginning.

10 And since the time that I commanded Iudges ouer my people Israel, And I will subdue all thine enemies: therefore I say vnto thee, that the Lord will build thee an house.

11 And when thy dayes shall be fulfilled to goe with thy fathers, then will I raise vp thy seed after thee, which shall be of thy sonnes, and will stablish his kingdom.

12 He shall build me an house, and I will stablish his throne for euer.

13 I will be his father, and hee shall be my sonne, and I will not take my mercie away from him, as I tooke it from him that was before thee.

14 But I will establish him in mine house, and in my kingdom for euer, and his throne shall be established for euer.

15 According to all these words, and according to all this vision, So Nathan spake to Dauid.

16 ¶ And Dauid the King went in, and laye before the Lord, and sayde, Who am I, O Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought mee hither to?

17 Yet thou esteeming this a small thing, O God, hast also spoken concerning the house of thy seruant for a great while, and hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of his degree, O Lord God.

18 What can Dauid desire more of thee for the honour of thy seruant? for thou knowest thy seruant.

19 O Lord, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine heart hast thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

21 Moreover, what one nation in the earth is like thy people Israel, whose God went to redeeme them to be his people, and to make thy selfe a Name, and to doe great and terrible things by casting out nations from before thy people, whome thou hast delivered out of Egypt?

22 For thou hast ordained thy people Israel to be thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord art become their God.

23 Therefore now Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant and concerning his house, bee confirmed for euer, and do as thou hast said,

24 And let thy Name bee stable and magnified for euer, that it may bee sayde, The Lord of hostes, God of Israel, is the God

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The battell of Dauid against the Philistims, 2 and against Moab, 3 Zebah, 5 Aram, 12 and Edom.

And after this Dauid smote the Philistims, and subdued them, and tooke Gath, and the villages thereof out of the hand of the Philistims.

2 And he smote Moab, & the Moabites became Dauids seruants, and he brought gifts.

3 ¶ And Dauid smote Hadarezer King of Zobah vnto Hamath, as he went to Rabbath his border by the river ¶ Berath.

4 And Dauid tooke from him a thousand charrets, and ten thousand horsemen, and twentie thousand footmen, and * desstroyed all the charrets, but hee reserued of them an hundred charrets.

5 ¶ Then came the Aramites of Damascus to succour Hadarezer King of Zobah, but Dauid slew of the Aramites two and twentie thousand.

6 And Dauid put a garison in Aram of Damasians, and the Aramites became Dauids seruants, and brought gifts: and the Lord * preferred Dauid wheresoener he went.

7 And Dauid tooke the shields of golde that were of the seruants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Ierusalem.

8 And from Tishath, and from Chinn (cities of Hadarezer) brought Dauid exceeding much brasse, wherewith Salomon made the bason * Sea, and the pillars and the vessels of brasse.

9 ¶ Then Tou King of Hamath heard how Dauid had smitten all the hoste of Hadarezer King of Zobah:

10 Therefore hee sent Adoram his sonne to King Dauid, to salute him, and to reioyce with him, because hee had fought against Hadarezer, and beaten him (for Tou had warre with Hadarezer) who brought all vessels of golde, and silver, and brasse.

11 And King Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Lord, with the silver and gold that he brought from all the nations, from Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistims, and from Amalek.

12 ¶ And Bishai the sonne of Zeruiah smote of Edom in the salt valley eightene thousand,

13 And he put a garison in Edom, and al

the Edomites became Dauids seruants: and the Lord preferred Dauid wheresoener he went.

14 So Dauid reigned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and iustice to all his people.

15 And Iobab the sonne of Zeruiah was ouer the holte, and Jehoshaphat the sonne of Achis recorder,

16 And Zadok the sonne of Ahitub, and Abiimelech the sonne of Abiathar were the Priests, and Shaphan the Scribe, 17 * And Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada was ouer the Cherethites and the Pelusites: & the sonnes of Dauid were chiefe about the King.

CHAP. XIX.

4 Hanun king of the children of Ammon doeth great injuries to the seruants of Dauid. 6 He prepareth an armie against Dauid, 15 and ouercome.

After this also Nabath the King of the children of Ammon died, and his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And Dauid said, I will shew kindnesse vnto Hanun the sonne of Nabath, because his father shewed kindnesse vnto me. And Dauid sent messengers to comfort him for his father. So the seruants of Dauid came into the lande of the children of Ammon to Hanun to comfort him.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon sayde to Hanun, Thinkest thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father, that hee doeth send comforters vnto thee? Are not his seruants come to thee to search, to seeke and to spy out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanun tooke Dauids seruants, & shaued them, and cut off their garments by the halfe vnto the buttocks, and sent them away.

5 And there went certeine and tolde Dauid concerning the men: and hee sent to meete them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and the King sayde, Tarry at Jericho vntill your beards be grown: then returne.

6 ¶ When the children of Ammon sawe that they stanke in the sight of Dauid, then sent Hanun and the children of Ammon a thousand talents of silver to hire them charrets and horsemen out of Aram Nabath, and out of Aram Maachab, and out of Zobah.

7 And they hired them two and thirtie thousand charrets, and the king of Maachab and his people, which came and pitched before Medeba: and the children of Ammon gathered themselves together from their cities, and came to the battell.

8 ¶ And when Dauid heard, he sent Zebah and all the hoste of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and set their battell in aray at the gate of the cite. And the Kings that were rounde were by themselves in the field.

10 When Iobab sawe that the front of the battell was against him before and behind, then hee chose out of all the choise of Israel, and set himselfe in aray to meete the Aramites.

13 Be strong, and let vs shew our selues valiant for our people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord do that which is good in his owne sight.

14 So Iobab and the people that was with him, came neere before the Ammonites vnto the battell, and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon sawe that the Ammonites fled, they fled also before Abihai his brother, and entred into the citie: so Iobab came to Jerusalem.

16 ¶ And when the Ammonites sawe that they were discomfited before Israel, they sent messengers and caused the Ammonites to come forth that were beyond the river: and Shophach the captaine of the hoste of Hadarezer went before them.

17 And when it was shewed Dauid, hee gathered all Israel, and went ouer Jordan, and came vnto them, and put himselfe in aray against them: And when Dauid had put himselfe in battell aray to meete the Ammonites, they fought with him.

18 But the Ammonites fledde before Israel, and Dauid destroyed of the Ammonites seven thousand charets, and fourtie thousand footemen, and killed Shophach the captaine of the hoste.

19 And when the seruants of Hadarezer sawe that they fell before Israel, they made peace with Dauid, and serued him. And the Ammonites would no more succour the children of Ammon.

1 Rabhah destroyed, 3 The Ammonites tormented. 4 The Philistims are thrise ouercome with their gyants.

¶ And when the yere was expired, in the time that kings goe out a warfare, Iobab carried out the strength of the armie, and destroyed the countrey of the children of Ammon, and came and besieged Rabhah (but Dauid carried at Jerusalem) and Iobab smote Rabhah and destroyed it.

2 ¶ Then Dauid tooke the crown of their king from off his head, and founde it the weight of a talent of golde, with precious stones in it: and it was set on Dauids head, and he brought away the spoyle of the citie exceeding much.

3 And hee carried away the people that were in it, and cut them with sawes, and with harrowes of yron, and with axes: euen thus did Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammon. Then Dauid and all the people came againe to Jerusalem.

4 ¶ And after this also there arose warre at Gazer with the Philistims: then Sibbechai the Gushathite slew || Sipai, of the children of || Haraphah, and they were subdued.

5 And there was yet another battell with the Philistims: and Eihanan the sonne of Iair slew || Lahmi, the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whose speare staffe was like a weavers beame.

6 And yet againe there was a battell at Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and his fingers were by 4 fives, euen foure and twentie, and was also the sonne of Haraphah.

7 And when hee rentured Israel, Jehonath than the sonne of Shimea Dauids brother did slay him.

8 These were borne vnto Haraphah at Gath, and fell by the hande of Dauid, and by the hands of his seruants.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Dauid causeth the people to be numbered, 14 and there die seventie thousand men of the pestilence.

2 Therefore Dauid said to Iobab, and to the rulers of the people, Goe, and number Israel from Beer-sheba vnto Dan, and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

3 And Iobab answered, The Lord encrease his people an hundred times so many as they be, O my lord the king: are they not all my lords seruantes? wherefore doeth my lord require this thing? why should he be a cause of treaspasse to Israel?

4 Nevertheless the kings word preuailed against Iobab, and Iobab departed and went thorow all Israel, and returned to Jerusalem.

5 And Iobab gaue the number & summe of the people vnto Dauid: and all Israel were celenen hundredth thousand men that drew sword: and Iudah was foure hundredth and seuentie thousand men that drew sword.

6 But the Levites and Benjamin counted he not among them: for the kings word was abominable to Iobab.

7 ¶ And God was displeased with this thing: therefore he smote Israel.

8 Then Dauid saide vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now, I beseech thee, remooue the iniquitie of thy seruants: for I haue done verp foolishly.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids seer, saying,

10 Goe and tell Dauid, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I offer thee three things: chuse thee one of them, that I may doe it vnto thee.

11 So Gad came to Dauid, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Take to thee

12 Either three yeeres famine, or three moneths to bee destroyed before thine aduersaries, and the sworde of thine enemies || to take thee, or else the sworde of the Lord and pestilence in the lande three dayes, that the Angel of the Lord may destroy thorowout all the coastes of 13 And Dauid said vnto Gad, I am in a wonderfull strait: for me nowe fall into the hand of the Lord: for his mercies are exceeding great, and let me not fall into the hand of man.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel seuentie thousand men.

15 ¶ And God sent the Angel into Jerusalem to destroy it. And as he was destroying, the Lord beset him, and he repented of the euill, & said to the Angel that destroys it, It is nowe enough, let thine hand cease. Then the Angel of the Lord stood by the threshing floore of Ornan the Jebusite.

16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and sawe the Angel of the Lord stand betwene the earth and heauen with his sword drawn in his hand, and stretched out toward Jerusalem. Then Dauid and the Elders of Israel, which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And Dauid said vnto God, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is euill I that haue innued and haue committed euill, but these sheepe, what haue they done? O Lord my God, I beseech thee, let thine hand be on me, and on my fathers house, and not on the people for their destruction.

18 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord commanded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid should goe vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Ornan the Jebusite.

19 So Dauid went by according to the saying of Gad, which he had spoken in the name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned about, and sawe the Angel, & his foure sonnes that were with him, hid themselves, and Ornan threshed wheate.

21 And as Dauid came to Ornan, Ornan looked and sawe Dauid, and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed himselfe to Dauid with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid saide to Ornan, Give me the place of thy threshing floore, that I may build an altar therein vnto the Lord: give it me for sufficient money, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

23 Then Ornan said vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my Lord the King doe that which seemeth him good: loe, I give thee bullocks for burnt offerings, and threshing instruments for wood, & wheate for meate offering. I give it all.

24 And King Dauid said to Ornan, Not so: but I will buy it for sufficient money: for I will not take that which is thine of the Lord, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

25 So Dauid gaue to Ornan for that place = five hundred shekels of golde by weight.

26 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the Lord, & offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, and called vpon the Lord, and he answered him by fire from heauen vpon the altar of burnt offering.

27 And when the Lord had spoken to the Angel, he put by his sword againe into his sheath.

28 At that time when Dauid sawe that the Lord had heard him in the threshing floore of Ornan the Jebusite, then he sacrificed there.

CHAP. XXII.

2 David prepareth things necessarie for the building of the Temple. 6 He commaundeth his sonne Salomon to builde the Temple of the Lord, which thing he himselfe was forbidden to doe. 9 Under the figure of Salomon Christ is promised.

And Dauid said, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for the burnt offering of Israel.

2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Israel, and he set masons to hew and polish stones to builde the house of God.

3 Dauid also prepared much iron for the nailes of the doores & of the gates, and for the topnings, and abundance of brasse palling weight,

4 And cedar trees without number: for the Zidonians and they of Tyrus brought much Cedar wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid saide, Salomon my sonne is pong and tender, and we must builde an house for the Lord, magnificall, excellent, and of great fame and by name the house of all countreys. I will therefore now prepare for him. So Dauid prepared verp much before his death.

6 Then he called Salomon his sonne, and charged him to builde an house for the Lord God of Israel.

7 And Dauid saide to Salomon, * My sonne, I purposed with my selfe to build an house to the name of the Lord my God,

8 But the word of the Lord came to me, saying, * Thou hast shed much blood, and hast made great battels: thou shalt not builde an house vnto my name: for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

9 Beholde, a sonne is borne to thee, which shall be a man of rest, for I will him rest from all his enemies round about: therefore his name is Salomon: and I will send peace and quietnes vpon Israel in his dayes.

10 * He shall build an house for my name, and he shall be my sonne, and I will be his father, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom vpon Israel for ever.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 David being old, ordeined Salomon king. 3 He caused the Levites to be numbered. 4 And assigneth them to their offices. 13 Aaron and his sonnes are for the his Priests. 14 The sonnes of Moses.

2 When David was old & full of daies, he made Salomon his sonne king over Israel.

3 And he gathered together all the princes of Israel with the Priests and the Levites.

4 And the Levites were numbered from the age of thirtie yeeres and above, and their number according to their summe was eight and thirtie thousand men.

5 Of these foure and twentie thousand were set to aduance the worke of the house of the Lord: and six thousand were officers and iudges.

6 And foure thousand were porters, and foure thousand praped the Lord with instruments which he made to prape the Lord.

7 So David diuided offices vnto them, to wit, to the sonnes of Levi, to Gerthion, Kohath, and Merari.

8 Of the Gerthionites were Laadan and Shime.

9 The sonnes of Laadan, the chief was Jeshiel, and Zetham, and Jochi, three.

10 The sonnes of Shime, Shelomith and Hazi, and Garam, three: these were the chief fathers of Laadan.

11 Also the sonnes of Shime were Jashar, Zina, Jethi, and Beriath: these foure were the sonnes of Shime.

12 And Jahath was the chief, and Jizabab the second, but Jethi and Beriath had not many sonnes: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

13 The sonnes of Kohath were Minram, Jethi, Hebion, and Bzziel foure.

14 The sonnes of Amram, Aaron, and Moses: and Aaron was separated to sanctifie the most holy place, he and his sonnes for ever to burne incense before the Lord, to minister to him, and to blesse in his Name for ever.

15 Moses also the man of God, and his children were named with the tribe of Levi.

16 The sonnes of Moses were Gerthion, and Eliezer.

17 Of the sonnes of Gerthion was Shebuel the chief.

18 And the sonne of Eliezer was Kehasiah the chief: for Eliezer had none other sonnes: but the sonnes of Kehasiah were very many.

19 The sonnes of Jethi was Shelomith the chief.

20 The sonnes of Hebion was Zeriah the first, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jehaniam the fourth.

21 The sonnes of Bzziel were Michai the first, and Jethi the second.

22 The sonnes of Merari were Mahli and Mushy. The sonnes of Mahli, Eleazar and Kish.

23 And Eleazar died, & had no sonnes, but daughters, & their brethren the sonnes of Kish tooke them.

24 The sonnes of Mushy were Mahli, and Eder, and Jerinoth, three.

25 These were the sonnes of Levi according to the house of their fathers, even the chief fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names and their summe that did the worke for the service of the house of the Lord from the age of twentie yeeres and above.

26 For David said, The Lord God of Israel hath giuen rest vnto his people, that they may dwell in Jerusalem for ever.

27 And also the Levites shall no more beare the Tabernacle and all the vessels for the service thereof.

28 Therefore according to the last words of David, the Levites were numbered from twentie yeeres and above.

29 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, for the service of the house of the Lord in the courts, and chambers, & in the purifying of all holy things, and for that which was vowed, and for the service of the service of the house of God.

CHAP. XXIII.

David assigneth offices unto the sonnes of Aaron.

These are also the divisions of the sonnes of Aaron. The sonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar, and Ithamar executed the Priests' office.

3 And David distributed them, even Zadok of the sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sonnes of Ithamar according to their offices in their ministrations.

4 And there were found two of the sonnes of Eleazar by the number of men, then of the sonnes of Ithamar, and they divided them, to wit, among the sonnes of Eleazar, sixteen heads, according to the household of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the household of their fathers, eight.

22 Of Ishari, Shelomoth, of the sonnes of Shelomoth, Jahath, 23 And his sonnes Jeriah the first, Amasrah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jehameam the fourth.

3 But God said vnto me, β Thou shalt not build an house for my name, because thou hast been a man of warre, and hast shed blood.

4 Yet as the Lord God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father, to be king ouer Israel for euer (for in Judah would he chuse a prince, and of the house of Judah is the house of my father, and among the sonnes of my father he delighted in me to make me king ouer all Israel :)

9 And thou, Salomon my sonne, know thou the God of thy father, and serue him with a perfect heart, and with a willing minde : For the Lord searcheth all hearts, and understandeth all the imaginations of thoughts : if thou seeke him, he will be found of thee : but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for euer.

10 Take heed now, for the Lord hath chosen thee to build the house of the Sanctuary : be strong therefore, and doe it.

11 ¶ Then Dauid gaue to Salomon his sonne the paterne of the porch and of the houses thereof, and of the cloisters thereof, and of the galleries thereof, and of the chambers thereof that are within, and of the house of the Mercie.

The offering of David and of the princes for the building of the Temple, 10 David giueth thanks to the Lord. 20 Hee exhorteth the people to doe the same. 22 Salomon is created King. 28 David dis-ceth, and Salomon his sonne reigneth in his stead.

Myrrour Dauid the King saide vnto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine onely sonne yong and tender, and the worke is great: for this house is not for man, but for the Lord God.

2 Nowe I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, golde for vessels of golde, and siluer for them of siluer, and brasse for things of brasse, ypon for things of yron, and wood for things of wood, and onyx stones, and stones to be set, and carbuncle stones, and of diuers colours, and al-precious stones, and marble stones in abundance.

3 Moreover, because I haue delighted in the house of my God, I haue of mine owne golde and siluer, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuarie.

4 Euen three thousand talents of gold of the golde of Ophir, and seven thousand talents of fined siluer to overlay the walles of the houses.

5 The golde for the things of golde, and the siluer for things of siluer, and for all the worke by the hands of artificers: and who is willing to fill his hand to day vnto the Lord?

6 So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captaines of thousands & of hundredes, with the rulers of the Kings worke, offered willingly.

7 And they gaue for the seruire of the house of God five thousand talents of gold, and tenne thousand pieces, and tenne thousand talents of siluer, and eightene thousand talents of brasse, and one hundred thousand talents of yron.

8 And they with whom precious stones were found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Jehiel the Gershunite.

9 And the people reioyced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly vnto the Lord, with a perfect heart. And Dauid the King also reioyced with great joy.

10 Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and Dauid said, Blessed be thou O Lord God of Israel
our father, for ever and ever.

11 Thine, O Lord, is grauetie & power, and glory, and victorie, and praise: for all that is in heauen and in earth is thine: thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou reuel-lest as head ouer all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, & to giue strength vnto all.

13 Nowe therefore our God, we thanke thee, and praye thy glorious Name.

14 But who am I, & what is my people, that we should be able to offer willings ly after this sort: for all things come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue genen thee.

15 For we are strangers before thee, and sojourners, like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadowe vpon the earth, and there is none abiding.

16 O Lord our God, all this abundance that wee haue prepared to binde thee an house for thine holy Name, is of thine hand and all is thine.

17 I know also, my God, that thou triest the heart, and hast pleasure in righteousnes: I haue offered willingly in the bright-nesse of mine heart at these things: now also haue I seene thy people which are found here, to offer vnto thee willingly with joy.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Izhak and Israel our fathers, keepe this for ceter in the purpose, and the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts vnto thee.

19 And giue vnto Salomon my sonne a perfect heart to keepe thy commandments, thy testimonies & thy statutes, and to doe all things, and to binde the house which I haue prepared.

20 I And Dauid said to all the Congregation, Nowe bless the Lord your God:
And all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heads, and worshipped the Lord, and the King.

21 And they offered sacrifices vnto the Lord, and on the morrowe after that day, they offered burnt offerings vnto the Lord, euen a thousand yong bullocks, a thousand rammes, and a thousand sheepe, with their drinke offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

22 And they did eate, and drinke, before the Lord the same day with great ioy, and they made Salomon the sonne of Dauid king the second time, and anointed him Prince before the Lord, and Zadok for the high Priest.

23 So Salomon sat on the throne of the Lord, as king in stead of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all Israel obeyed him.

24 And all the princes & men of power, and all the sonnes of king Dauid submited themselves vnder king Salomon.

25 And the Lord magnified Salomon in dignitie, in the sight of all Israel, & gaue him so glorious a kingdom, as no king had before him in Israel.

26 Thus Dauid the sonne of Ithai reigned ouer all Israel.

Israel, was fouerty yeere: ten yeere reigned

29 Concerning the actes of Dauid the king, first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of Samuel the Seer, and in the booke of Nathan the Prophet, and in the booke of Gad the Seer, 30 With all his might and his power, and his riches that went out of him, and out of Israel, & over all the kingdoms of the earth.

The bookes of Nathan and Gad are thought to have bene lost in the captiuitie. p Meaning the troubles and griefes.

The second booke of the Chronicles.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis second booke containeth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two bookes of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Ierusalem, & the carying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this story are certaine things declared and set forth more copiously then in the bookes of the Kings, and therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be considered. First, that the godly Kings, when they sawe the plagues of God prepared against their country for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues remooued. The second, howe it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that such as feare him and professe his religion, shoulde ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, howe the good rulers euer loued the Prophets of God, and were very zealous to set forth his religion throughout al their dominions, and contrariwise the wicked hated his ministers, depofed them, and for the true religion and word of God, set vp idolatrie, and serued God according to the fantastic of men. Thus haue we hitherto the chiefe actes from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yere of Darius, and containe in the whole three thousand, five hundred, threescore and eighcene yeeres, and fixe moneths.

CHAP. I.

6 The offering of Salomon at Gibcon. 8 He prayeth vnto God to giue him wisdom: 11 Which he giueth him and more. 14 The number of his charrets and horses. 15 And of his riches.

When Salomon the sonne of Dauid was sconfermed in his kingdome: and the Lord by God was with him, and magnified him highly.

2 And Salomon a spake vnto all Israel, to the captaynes of thousands, and of hundredths, and to the Iudges, and to all the gouernours in all Israel, euen the chiefe fathers.

3 So Salomon and all the Congregation with him went to the hie place that was at Gibcon: for there was the Tabernacle of the Congregation of God which Moses the seruant of the Lord had made in the wilderness.

4 But the Arke of God had Dauid brought by from Iericho-icariim, wher Dauid had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Jerusalem.

5 Moreover the brasen altar that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lord: and Salomon and the Congregation sought it.

6 And Salomon offered there before the Lord vpon the brasen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: * euen a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

7 The same night did God appeare vnto Salomon, and saide vnto him, What wilt thou I shall giue thee.

8 And Salomon saide vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to reigne in his stead.

9 Nowe therefore, O Lord God, let thy promise vnto Dauid my father be true:

for thou hast made me king ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Giue me nowe wisdom and knowledge, that I may goe out and goe in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God saide to Salomon, Because this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, treasures, and honour, nor the times of thine enemies, neither yett hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisdom & knowledge, that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whom I haue made thee king.

12 Wisdom and knowledge is graunted vnto thee, and I will giue thee riches, and treasures & honour, so that there hath not bene the like among the kings which were before thee, neither after thee shall there be the like.

13 Then Salomon came from the hie place that was at Gibcon, to Jerusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israel.

14 And Salomon gathered the charrets 1. King. 10. 26. and horsesmen: and hee had a thousande and foure hundred charrets, and twelue thousand horsesmen, whom hee placed in the charret ciues, and with the King at Ierusalem.

15 And the King gaue siluer and gold at Ierusalem as stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wilde figge trees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

16 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt: and fine linen: the kings merchants receiued the fine linen for a pyre.

17 They came by also and brought out of Egypt some charret, worth five hundred shekels of silver, that is, an horse for an hundred and fifty shekels: and thus they brought horses to all the Kings of the Hittites, and to the Kings of Iram by their meanes.

13 The wings of these Cherubims were spread abroad twentieth cubites: they stood on their feet, and their faces were toward the house.

1 The altar of brasie. 2 The molten Sea. 6 The caldrins. 7 The candlesticks, &c.

And hee made an altar of brasie twentie cubits long, and twentie cubits broad, and ten cubits high.

2 And he made a molten Sea of tenne cubites from brynne to brynne, round in compasse, and five cubites high: and a line of thyrre cubites did compasse it about.

3 And under it was the fashion of oren, which did compasse it round about, ten in a cubite compassing the Sea about: two rowes of oren were cast when it was molten.

4 It stood upon twelue oren: three looked toward the North, and thre looked toward the West, and thre looked toward the South, and thre looked toward the East, and the Sea stood about upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thickeste thereof was like the woike of the brynne of a cup, with floures of lilies: it concerned thye thousand baths.

6 He made also ten caldrions, and put five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them, and to cleanse in them that which apperented to the burnt offerings: but the Sea was for the Priests to wash in.

7 And hee made tenne candlesticks of golde (according to their forme) and put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 And he made tenne tables, And put them in the Temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left: and hee made an hundred basins of golde.

9 And he made the court of the Priests, and the great Court, and doores for the Court, and overlaped the doores thereof with brasie.

10 And hee set the Sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

11 And Huram made pots, & besoms, and basens, and Huram finished the woike that he should make for king Salomon for the house of God,

12 To wit, two pillars, and the bowles and the chapters on the toppe of the two pillars, and two grates to cover the two bowles of the chapters, which were upon the toppe of the pillars:

13 And foure hundred pomegranates for the two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for every grate to cover the two bowles of the chapters, which were upon the pillars.

14 He made also bases, and made caldrions upon the bases:

15 And a Sea, and twelue bulles under it:

16 Pots also & besoms, and fleshhooks, and all the vessels made Huram his father, to bring Salomon for the house of the Lord, of bringing brasie.

17 In the plaine of Jordan did the king cast them in clay betweene Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Salomon made all the vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasie could not be reckoned.

19 And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden altar also & the tables, whereon the shewbread stood.

20 Moreover the candlesticks, with their lampes to burne them after the maner, before the Oracle, of pure golde.

21 And the floures, and the lampes, and the snuffers of golde, which was fine golde.

22 And the shoothes, and the basens, and the spoones, and the alspans of pure gold: the entrie also of the house & doores thereof within, even of the most holy place: and the doores of the house, to wit, of the Temple were of golde.

28 ¶ When there shall be famine in the land, when there shall be pestilence, blasting, or murther, when there shall be grasshopper, or caterpiller, when their enemy shall besiege them & in the cities of their lande, or any plague or any sickness,

29 Then what prayer & supplication so ever shall be made of any man, or of all thy people Israel, when euery one shall know his owne plague, and his owne disease, and shall stretch forth his hands toward this house,

32 ¶ Whereouer, as touching the stranger which is not of thy people Israel, who shall come out of a farre countrey for thy great names sake, and thy mighty hand, & thy stretched out arme: when they shall come and pray in this house,

33 Heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and do according to all that the liuans get calleth for vnto thee, that all the people of the earth may know thy Name, & feare thee like thy people Israel, and that they may know, that thy Name is called vpon in this house which I haue built.

34 ¶ When thy people shall goe out to battell against their enemies, by the way that thou shalt send them, and they pray to thee, in the way toward this cite, which thou hast chosen, euen toward the house which I haue built to thy Name,

35 Then heare thou in heauen their prayer and their supplication, and iudge their cause.

38 If they turne againe to thee with all their heart, and with all their soule in the land of their captiuitie, whither they haue carried them captiues, and pray toward their land, which thou gauest vnto their fathers, and toward the cite which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I haue built for thy Name,

39 Then heare thou in heauen, in the place of thine habitation their prayer and their supplication, & iudge their cause, and bee mercifull vnto thy people, which haue sinned against thee.

40 Nowe my God, I beseech thee, let thine eyes be open, and thine eares attend vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 ¶ Now therefore arise, O Lord God, to come into thy rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength: O Lord God, let thy Priests bee clothed with salvation, and let thy Saints reioyce in goodness.

sacrifices before the Lord.

5 And king Salomon offered a sacrifice of two and twentie thousand bullocks, and an hundred and twentie thousand sheepe, for the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the Priests waited on their offices, and the Levites with the instruments of musike of the Lord, which King David had made to praise the Lord. Because his mercie lasteth for ever: when David praised God thy them, the Priests also blew trumpets over against them: and all they of Israel stood by.

7 Moreover Salomon hallowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offerings, and the fatte of the peace offerings, because the brasen altar which Salomon had made, was not able to receive the burnt offering, and the meate offering, and the fatte.

8 And Salomon made a feast at that time of seven dayes, & all Israel with him, a very great congregation, from the entering in of Hamath, unto the river of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they made a solemn assemble: for they had made the dedication of the altar seven dayes, and the feast seven dayes.

10 And the thirce and twentieth day of the seventh moneth, he sent the people away into their tents, ioyous and with glad heart, because of the goodnesse that the Lord had done for David and for Salomon, and for Israel his people.

11 So Salomon finished the house of the Lord, & the kings house, & all that came into Salomons heart, to make in the house of the Lord: and he prospered in his house.

12 ¶ And the Lord appeared to Salomon by night & sayde to him, I have heard thy prayer, and have chosen this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heaven that there be no raine, or if I commaunde the grasshopper to devour the lande, or if I sende pestilence among my people, 14 If my people, among whome my name is called upon, doe humble themselves, and pray, & seeke my plesence, and turne from their wicked wayes, then wil I heare in heaven, and bee mercifull to their sinne, and wil heale their lande.

15 Then mine eyes shall be open, & mine eares attent unto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I have now chosen and sanctified this house, that my name may bee there for ever: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before mee, as David thy father walked, to doe according unto all that I have commaunded thee, and shalt observe my statutes and my iudgements, 18 Then wil I stablish the throne of thy kingdome, according as I made the covenant with David thy father, saying, Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if pee turne away, & forsake my statutes and my commaundements which I have set before you, and shall goe & serve other gods, and worship them, 20 Then wil I plucke them by out of my lande, which I have given them, & this house which I have sanctified for my name, wil I cast out of my sight, and wil make it to bee a psoner and a common talke among all people.

21 And this house which is most hie, shall bee an astonishment to every one that passeth by it, so that hee shall say, Why hath the Lord done thus to this lande, and to this house?

22 And they shall answer, Because they forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the lande of Egypt, and have taken holde on other gods, and have worshipped them, and served them, therefore hath he brought all this evil upon them.

CHAP. VIII.

2 The cities that Salomon built. 7 People that were made tributaries unto him. 12 His sacrifices. 17 He sendeth to Ophir.

¶ After a twentie yeere when Salomon had built the house of the Lord, and his owne house,

2 Then Salomon built the cities that Hurain gave to Salomon, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Salomon went to Hamath Zobah, and overcame it.

4 And hee built Tadmor in the wilderness, and repaired all the cities of store which hee built in Hamath.

5 And hee built Beth-horon the upper, and Beth-horon the nether, cities defended with walles, gates and barres:

6 Also Zaath, and all the cities of store that Salomon had, and all the charret cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and every pleasant place that Salomon had a minde to build in Jerusalem, and in Lebanon, and throughout all the lande of his dominion.

7 And all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, & Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites, which were not of Israel,

8 But of their children which were left after them in the land, whome the children of Israel had not consumed, even them did Salomon make tributaries until this day.

9 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no servants for his worke: for they were men of warre, and his chiefe princes, and the captaines of his charvets, and of his horsemen.

10 So these were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, even two hundred & thirte that bare rule over the people.

11 ¶ Then Salomon brought by the daughter of Pharaoh out of the cite of David: into the house that hee had built for her: for hee said, My wife shall not dwell in the house of David King of Israel: for it is holy, because that the Urne of the Lord came unto it.

12 ¶ Then Salomon offered burnt offerings.

14 And he let the courses of the Priestes to their offices, according to the ord. r of Dauid his father, & the Leuites in their waiches, for to praise and minster before the Priestes euery day, & the porters by * their courses, at euery gate: for so was the commandment of Dauid the man of God.

15 And they declared mit from the commandment of the King, concerning the Duties & the deuotes, touching all things, and touching the realites.

16 ¶ Howe Salomon had made promise for all the worke, from the day of the foundation of the house of the Lorde, but ill it was finished, so the house of the Lorde was perfite.

17 Then went Salomon to Ezion-geber, & to Elath by the sea side in the lande of Edom.

18 And Huram sent him by the handes of his seruantes, hyppes, and seruantes that had knowledge of the Sea: and they went with the seruantes of Salomon to Ophir, and brought thence 4 foure hundredth and fiftie talents of golde, and brought them to king Salomon.

C H A P. IX.

1. 9 The Queene of Sheba cometh to see Salomon and bringeth giftes. 13 Hu yerely reuenues, 30 The time of hu reigne. 31 Hu death.

¶ Ad * when the Queene of Sheba heard of the fame of Salomon, she came to a proue Salomon with hard questions at Ierusalem, with a very great traine, and camels that bare sweete odours and much golde, and precious stones: and when she came to Salomon, she communed with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Salomon declared her all her questions, and there was b nothing hidde from Salomon, which hee declared not vnto her.

3 Then the Queene of Sheba salued the wisdom of Salomon, and the house that he had built,

4 And the meate of his table, and the sitting of his seruantes, and the order of his warters, and their apparell, and his butlers, and their apparell, and his burnt offrings, which hee offered in the house of the Lorde, and the was & greatly astonished.

5 And she saide to the King, It was a true word which I heard in mine owne land of thy sayings, and of thy wisdom.

6 Howbeit I beleened not their report, vntill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and beholde, the one halfe of thy great wisdom was not tolde mee: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happte are thy men, and happte are these thy seruantes, which stand before thee alway, and heare thy wisdom.

8 Blessed be the Lorde thy God, which loued thee, to set thee on his throne as King, in the steade of the Lorde thy God: because thy God loueth Israel, to establish it for euer, therefore hath hee made thee King ouer them, to execute iudgement and iustice.

9 Then shee gaue the King fire scole talents of golde, and of sweete odours exceeding much, and precious stones: neither was there such sweete odours since, as the queene of Sheba gaue vnto king Salomon.

10 And the seruantes also of Huram, and the seruantes of Salomon which brought golde from Ophir, brought 4 Alguuminum wood and precious stones.

11 And the King made of the Alguuminum wood 4 staires in the house of the Lorde, and in the kings house, and harpes & viols for fingers: and there was no such scene before in the land of Iudah.

12 And King Salomon gaue to the queene of Sheba, euery pleasant thing that shee asked, besides to that which shee had brought vnto the King: so she returned and went to her owne countrey, both shee, and her seruantes.

13 ¶ Also the weight of golde that came to Salomon in one peere, was sixe hundredth, threescore and sixe talents of golde.

14 Besides that which chapmen & marchantes brought: and all the kings of Arabia, and the princes of the countrey brought golde and silver to Salomon.

15 And king Salomon made two hundredth targets of beaten golde, and 6 sixe hundredth shekels of beaten golde went to one target.

16 And three hundredth shields of beaten golde: three hundredth shekels of gold went to one shilde, and the king put them in the house of the wood of Lebanon.

17 And the king made a great throne of puozie, and overlaped it with pure golde.

18 And the throne had sixe steppes, with a footstool of gold: fastened to the throne, and stapes on either side on the place of the seate, and two lions standing by the stapes.

19 And twelue lions stood there on the sixe steppes on either side: there was not the like made in any kingdom.

20 And all king Salomons drinkeing vessels were of golde, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon were of pure golde: for silver was nothing esteemed in the dayes of Salomon.

21 For the kings hyppes went to Tarshish with the seruantes of Huram, euery three peere once came the ships of Tarshish, and brought golde, and silver, puozie, and apes, and peacocks.

22 So king Salomon excelled all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom.

23 And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Salomon, to heare his wisdom that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and raiment, armour, and sweete odours, horses, and mules, from peere to peere.

T hen * Rehoboam * went to Shechem: for to Shechem came all Irael to make him king.

2 And when Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat heard it, (which was in Egypt, whither hee had fledde from the presence of Salomon the king) he returned out of Esgypt.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboam and all Irael, and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father^b made our poke grievous:
now therefore make thou the grievous ser-uitude of thy father, and his fowle poke, that he put vpon vs, lighter, & we wil serue thee.

5 And he sayde to them, Depart yet thre dayes, then come againe vnto mee, And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam tooke counsell with the old men that had stood befoze Salomon his father, while hee yet liued, saying, What counsell giue ye that I map an-swere this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou bee kinde to this people, and please them, and speake louing wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But hee left the counsell of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and tooke counsell of the pong men that were brought vp with him, and * waited on him.

9 And hee said vnto them, Why couldest ye giue me, that wee may answer this people, which haue spoken to me, saying, Make the poke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the pong men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our poke heauie, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My least part shall bee bigger then my fathers lopnes.

11 Now whereas my father did burden you with a grievous poke, I will per increase your poke: my father hath chastised you with rods, but I will correct you with || scourges.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the thirde day, as the king had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the thirde day.

13 And the king answered them sharpe-ly: and king Rehoboam left the counsell of the ancient men,

14 And spake to them after the counsell of the pong men, saying, My father made your poke grievous, but I will increase it:
my father chastised you with rodde, but I will correct you with scourges.

15 So the king hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of God, that the Lord might performe his saying, which hee had spoken by Ahijah the Shilonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Irael saw that the king would not heare them, the people answered the king, saying, * What portion haue we in Dauid? for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Ithai. O Irael, euery man to your tentes: noliue see to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Irael departed to their tentes.

17 Nowbeit Rehoboam reigned ouer the children of Irael, that dwelt in the cities of Judah.

18 Then king Rehoboam sent Hadad

children of Irael stoned him with stones,

1 Rehoboam forsaketh the Lorde and is punished by Shishak: 5 Schemariah reprooueth him. 6 He humbled himselfe. 7 God sendeth him succour. 9 Shishak taketh his treasures. 13 His reigne and death. 16 Abiash his sonne succeedeth him.

¶ Or, when the Lord had established Rehobo-ams kingdome.

And when Rehoboam had established the kingdome and made it strong, hee forsooke the Lawe of the Lorde, and all Israel with him.

a For hee is the inconstancie of the people, that for the most part they follow the vices of their gouernours.

2 Therefore in the first peere of King Rehoboam, Shishak the King of Egypt came vp against Jerusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lorde)

3 With twelue hundred charets, & three score thousande horsemen, and the people were without number, that came with him from Egypt, euen the Lubims, Sukkims, and the Ethiopians.

4 And hee tooke the strong cities which were of Judah, and came vnto Jerusalem.

5 ¶ Then came Schemariah the Prophet to Rehoboam, and to the princes of Judah, that were gathered together in Jerusalem, because of Shishak, and sayde vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde, Ye haue forsaken me, therefore haue I also left you in the hands of Shishak.

6 Then the princes of Israel, and the King humbled themselves, and sayde, The Lorde is iust.

7 And when the Lorde sawe that they humbled themselves, the word of the Lorde came to Schemariah, saying, They haue humbled themselves, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will sende them deliuerance hostily, and my wrath shall not be poured out vpon Jerusalem by the hande of Shishak.

8 Neuerthelesse they shall bee his seruants: so shall they know my seruice, and the seruice of the kingdomes of the earth.

9 ¶ Then Shishak king of Egypt came vp against Jerusalem, and tooke the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and the treasures of the Kings house: hee tooke euen all, and hee caried away the shields of golde, which Salomon had made.

10 ¶ In steade whereof King Rehoboam made shields of brasse, and committed them to the handes of the chiefe of the garde, that waited at the doore of the Kings house.

11 And when the King entered into the house of the Lorde, the garde came and bare them and brought them againe vnto the garde chamber.

12 And because hee humbled himselfe, the wrath of the Lorde turned from him, that he would not destroy all together. And also in Judah the things prospered.

13 * So King Rehoboam was strong in Jerusalem & reigned: for Rehoboam was one and fourtie peere olde, when he beganne to reigne, and reigned 4 seuentene yeeres in Jerusalem, the citie which the Lorde had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his Name there. And his mothers name was Shebassah an Ammonitisse.

14 And hee did euil: for he prepared not his heart to seeke the Lorde.

15 The actes also of Rehoboam first and last, are they not written in the booke of Schemariah the Prophete, and Iddo the Seer, in rehearsing the genealogie: and there was warre alway betweene Rehoboam and Jeroboam.

1 In the eighteenth yeere of king Ieroboam, began Abiah to reigne ouer Iudah.
2 He reigned thre yeere in Ierusalem : (his mothers name also was Michaiah the daughter of Uriel of Gibeon) and there was warre betwene Abiah & Ieroboam.
3 And Abiah set the battell in aray with the armie of valiant men of warre, euen foure hundred thousand chosen men. Ieroboam also set the battell in aray against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men, which were strong and valiant.
4 And Abiah stood by vpon mount Zemaraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, O Ieroboam, and all Israel, heare you me,
5 Dought you not to know that the Lord God of Israel hath giuen the kingdome ouer Israel to David for euer, euen to him and to his sonnes by a couenant of salt?
6 And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat the seruant of Salomon the sonne of Dauid is risen by, & hath rebelled against his lord:
7 And there are gathered to him saine men & twicked, & made themselves strong against Ieroboam the sonne of Salomon: for Ieroboam was but a child and tender hearted, and could not resist them.
8 Nowe therefore ye thinke that ye bee able to resist against the kingdome of the Lord, which is in the hands of the sonnes of David, and ye be a great multitude, and the golden calves are with you which Ieroboam made you for gods.
9 Haue ye not diuen away the Priests of the Lord the sonnes of Aaron and the Leuites, and haue made you priests like the people of other countreys: whosoever cometh to conferate with a pson bullocke and seuen rams, the same may bee a Priest of them that are no gods.
10 But wee belong vnto the Lord our God, and haue not forsaken him, and the Priests the sonnes of Aaron minister vnto the Lord, and the Leuites in their office, 11 And they burne vnto the Lord euery morning and euery evening burnt offerings and sweete incense, and the bread is set in order vpon the pure table, and the candlesticke of gold with the lampes thereof, to burne euery evening: for wee keepe the watch of the Lord our God: but ye haue forsaken him.
12 And behold, this God is with vs as a captain, and his Priests with the sounding trumpets, to cry an alarme against you. O pee children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of your fathers: for ye shall not prosper.
13 But Ieroboam caused an ambushment to compass, & come behinde them, when they were before Judah, and the ambushment behinde them.
14 Then Judah looked, and behold, the battell was before and behinde them, and they cried vnto the Lord, and the Priests blew with the trumpets,
15 As it was appointed in the Lawe, Exod. 29. 39. 1 Because their cause was good and approved by the Lord, they doubted not of the successe and victorie, m Contemning the good counsel which came of the Spirit of God, he thought to have overcome by deceit.

15 And the men of Judah gaue a shout: and euen as the men of Judah shouted, God smote Ieroboam and also Israel before Abiah and Judah.
16 And the children of Israel fled before Judah, & God deliuered them into their hand.
17 And Abiah and his people slew a great slaughter of them, so that there fell downe wounded of Israel fve hundred thousand chosen men.
18 So the children of Israel were broughte vnder at that time: and the children of Judah preuailed, because they stayed vpon the Lord God of their fathers.
19 And Abiah pursued after Ieroboam, & tooke cities from him, euen Beth-el, and the villages thereof, and Bethanah with her villages, & Ephron with her villages.
20 And Ieroboam recovered no strength againe in the dayes of Abiah, but the Lord plagued him, and he died.
21 So Abiah waxed mighty, & married foureteene wives, & begate two and twentie sonnes, and thirteene daughters.
22 The rest of the actes of Abiah, and his maners and his sayings are written in the booke of the Prophet Iddo.

4 Abiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid, and Asa his sonne reigned in his steade: in whole dayes the land was quiet ten yeere.
5 And Asa did that was good and righte in the eyes of the Lord his God.
6 For hee tooke away the altars of the strange gods & the high places, & brake downe the images, and cut downe the groines,
7 And commaunded Judah to seke the Lord God of their fathers, and to doe according to the lawe and the commandement.
8 And hee tooke away out of all the cities of Iudah the high places, & the images: there fore the kingdome was quiet before him.
9 Hee built also strong cities in Judah, because the land was in rest, and hee had no warre in those yeeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.
10 Therefore hee sayde to Judah, Let vs build these cities and make walles about, and towers, gates, and barres, whyles the land is before vs: because we haue sought the Lord our God, we haue sought him, and he hath giuen vs rest on euery side: so they built and prospered.
11 And Asa had an armie of Judah that bare shields & speares, thre hundred thousand, & of Beniamin that bare shields and drew bowes, two hundred and fourescore thousand: all these were valiant men.
12 And there came out against them Zerah of Ethiopia with an hoste of tenne hundred thousand, and thre hundred chariots, and came vnto Maroth.
13 Then Asa went out before him, and they set the battell in aray in the valley of Zephathai beside Maroth.

¶ Or, againe / many without power.

¶ Thus the children of God neither trust in their owne power or pollicie, neither feare the strength and subtiltie of their enemies, but consider the cause & see whether their enterprises tend to Gods glory, and thereupon assure themselves of the victory by him, which is onely Almighty, and can turne all flesh into dust & the breath of his mouth.

12 ¶ So the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Aſa and before Judah, and the Ethiopians flew.

13 And Aſa & the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians holts was overthrowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lord, and before his holts: and they caried away a mightie great spoile.

14 And they smote all the cities round about Gerar: for the feare of the Lord came vpon them, and they spoiled all the cities, for there was exceeding much spoile in them.

1 The exhortation of Aſariah. 8 Aſa purgeth his countrey of idolatrie. 11 He sacrificeth with the people. 14 They sweare together to serue the Lord. 16 He deposeth his mother for her idolatrie.

¶ Then the Spirit of God came vpon Aſariah the sonne of Aſbed.

2 And he went out to meete Aſa, & sayd vnto him, O Aſa, and all Judah and Benjamin, heare ye mee. The Lord is with you, while ye be with him: and if ye seeke him, hee will be found of you, but if ye forlake him, he will forlake you.

3 Now for a long season Israel hath bin without the true God, & without Priest to teach, and without law.

4 But whosoever returned in his affliction to the Lord God of Israel, and sought him, hee was found of them.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him, that did goe out and goe in: but great troubles were to all the inhabitants of the earth.

6 For nation was destituted of nation, and citie of citie: for God troubled them with all aduersitie.

7 Be ye strong therefore, & let not your hands be weak: for youe woyle haue a reward.

8 ¶ And when Aſa heard these wordes, and the propheticall word the Prophet, he was encouraged, and tooke away the abominations out of all the land of Judah, and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken of mount Ephraim, and he reared the altar of the Lord, that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And he gathered all Judah & Benjamin, & the strangers which he had out of Ephraim, and Manasse, and out of Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they assembled to Ierusalem in the third moneth, in the fiftene peere of the reigne of Aſa, 11 And they offered vnto the Lord the same time of the people, which they had brought, even seven hundred bullocks, & seven thousand sheepe.

12 And they made a couenaunt to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their soule.

13 And whosoever wil not seeke the Lord God of Israel, shall bee shame, whether hee were small or great, man or woman.

14 And they were vnto the Lord with a loude voyce, and with shouting and with trumpets, and with coryners.

15 And all Judah reioiced at the othe: for they had sowne vnto the Lord with all their heart, and sought him with a whole desire, and he was found of them. And the Lord gaue them rest round about.

16 ¶ And king Aſa deposeſt Maachab his mother from her regencie, because shee had made an idole in a grone: And Aſa brake downe her idole, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brooke Kidron.

17 But the high places were not taken away out of Israel: yet the heart of Aſa was perfected all his dayes.

18 Aſa he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, and that hee had dedicate, silver, and golde, and vessels.

19 And there was no warre vnto the fise and thirtieth peere of the reigne of Aſa.

¶ In the fise and thirtieth peere of the reigne of Aſa came Baalſha king of Israel vnto Agassil Judah, and built a Ramoth to let none passe out or goe in to Aſa king of Judah.

2 Then Aſa brought out silver and gold out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the kings house, and sent to Benhadad king of Aram that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

3 There is a covenant betwene me and thee, and betwene my father, and thy father: behold, I have sent thee silver and golde: come, & breake thy league with Baalſha king of Israel, that he may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad hearkened vnto king Aſa, and sent the captaynes of the armies which hee had, against the cities of Israel. And they smote Iion, and Dan, and Belmanni, and all the store cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Baalſha heard it, hee left building of Ramoth, and let his worke cease.

6 Then Aſa the king tooke all Judah, and caried away the stones of Ramoth strong.

5 Iehoshaphat trusting in the Lords, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 Hee aboliseth idolatrie, 7 and causeth the people to be taught. 11 He recei-ueth the tribute of strangers. 13 His munitions, and men of warre.

And Iehoshaphat his sonne reigned in his stead, and preailed against Israel.

2 And hee put garisons in all the strong cites of Iudah, and set bandes in the lande of Iudah, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Afsa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphat, because hee walked in the first wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not Baalim.

4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lord stablished the kingdome in his hand, and all Iudah brought presents to Iehoshaphat, so that hee had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And hee lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, & hee tooke away images ouer the hie places and the grones out of Iudah.

7 ¶ And in the third yeere of his reigne he sent his vncles, Ben-hail, and Adabiah, and Zachariah, and Jehanneel, and Je-chazai, that they should teach in the cities of Iudah,

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiah, and Jehanah, and Zebadiah, and Mahel, and Shenuramoth, and Jehonathan, and Adoniah, and Tobiah, & Tob-adoniah, Leuites, and with them Elishama and Jehojam Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudah, and had the booke of the lawe of the Lord with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Iudah, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdomes of the landes that were round about Iudah, and they fought not against Iehoshaphat.

11 Also some of the Philistims brought Iehoshaphat gifts & tribute silver, and the Arabians brought him flocks, ieuen thousand and ieuen hundred rammes, and ieuen thousand and ieuen hundred yee goats.

12 So Iehoshaphat prospered and grew vp on hie: and hee built in Iudah palaces and cities of store.

13 And he had great workes in the citises of Iudah, and men of warre, and valiant men in Ierusalem.

14 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers, In Iudah were capitaines of thousandes, Adnah the captaine, and ¶ with him of valiant men three hundred thousand.

15 And ¶ at his hand Iehohanan a captaine, and with him two hundred & foures-core thousand.

16 And at his hand Amasai the sonne of Zichri, which willingly offered himselfe vnto the Lord, and with him two hundred thousand valiant men.

17 And of Beniamin, Eliada a valiant man, and with him armed men with bowe and shield two hundred thousand.

18 And at his hand Jehoazabab, and with him an hundred and fourescore thousand armed to the warre.

19 These waited on the king, besides those which the king put in the strong cities throughout all Iudah.

4 And Jehoshaphat said vnto the king of Israel, Wike counsell, I pray thee, at the word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the king of Israel gathered of the Prophets foure hundred men, and said vnto them, Shall wee goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I cease? And they said, Goe by: for God shall deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Jehoshaphat said, Is there here neuer a Prophet moe of the Lord that we might inquire of him?

7 And the king of Israel lapde vnto Jehoshaphat, There is yet one man, by whom wee may aske counsell of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doeth not prophesie good vnto me, but alway euill: it is Michaiah the sonne of Imla. Then Jehoshaphat said, Let not the king say so.

8 And the king of Israel called an euill man, and said, Call quickly Michaiah the sonne of Imla.

9 And the king of Israel, and Jehoshaphat king of Iudah late either of them on his throne clothed in their apparel: they late euen in the threshing floore at the entering in of the gate of Samaria: and all the prophets prophesied before them.

10 And Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah made him boues of piron, and lapde, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou punish the Drunites, untill thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the Prophets prophesied so, saying, Go by to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 And the messenger that went to call Michaiah, spake to him, saying, Beholde, the wordes of the Prophets declare good to the king with one accord: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and I speake thou good.

13 And Michaiah said, As the Lord lieth, whatsoever my God saith, that will I speake.

14 So hee came to the king, and the king lapd vnto him, Michaiah, shall wee goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I leaue off? And hee said, Goe pee up, and prosper, and they shall be deliuered into your hand.

15 And the king said to him, How oft shalt I charge thee, that thou tell mee nothing but the truth in the name of the Lord?

16 Then he said, I saw all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe that haue no shepheard: and the Lord said, These haue no master: let them returne euery man to his house in peace.

17 And the king of Israel lapd to Jehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would not prophesie good vnto me, but euill?

18 Againe he said, Therefore heare ye the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the hoste of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lord said, Who shall perswade Ahab king of Israel, that hee may goe by and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one spake and said thus, and another lapde that.

20 Then there came forth a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and sayde, I will perswade him. And the Lord said vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he said, I will goe out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And hee said, Thou shalt perswade, and shalt also preuaile: go forth and do so.

22 Nowe therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a false spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the Lord hath determined euill againt thee.

23 Then Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah came neere, and smote Zachariah vpon the cheek, and said, What way went the Spirit of the Lord from mee, to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiah lapde, Beholde, thou shalt see that day, when thou shalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the king of Israel lapd, Take ye Michaiah, and carpe him to Amon the gouernour of the city, and to Joash the kings sonne.

26 And say, Thus saith the King, Put this man in the prison house, and feede him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction, untill I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiah lapd, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by mee. And he said, Heare, all ye people.

28 So the king of Israel & Jehoshaphat the king of Iudah went vp to Ramoth Gilead.

29 And the king of Israel said vnto Jehoshaphat, I will change my selfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thine apparel. So the king of Israel changed him selfe, and they went into the battell.

30 And the king of Iram had commanded the captaines of the charrets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but againt the king of Israel onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charrets saw Jehoshaphat, they said, It is the king of Israel: and they compassed about him to fight. But Jehoshaphat cried, and the Lord helped him and mooued them to depart from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charrets saw that he was not the king of Israel, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certaine man dyewe a bowe & mightie, and smote the king of Israel betweene the ioints of his thigh: therefore hee lapd to his charreman, Turne thine hand, and carpe me out of the host: for I am hurt.

34 And the battell increased that day: and the king of Israel stood still in his charret againt the Drunites untill euen, and died at the time of the sunne going downe.

1 Declaring his faith and obedience to the word of the Lord, and giving thanks for the deliverance promised.

18 Then Jehoshaphat bowed downe with his face to the earth, & all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell downe before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

19 And the Levites of the children of the Kohathites and the children of the Kohathites stood up to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loud voice on high.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wilderness of Tekoa: and as they departed, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Heare ye me, O Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem: put your trust in the Lord your God, and ye shall be assured: beleue his Prophets, and ye shall prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, and appointed singers unto the Lord, and them that should praise him that is in the beautiful Sanctuary, in going forth before the men of armes, and saying, Praise ye the Lord, for his mercie lasteth for ever.

22 And when they began to shoute and to praise, the Lord laide ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and Mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they slew one another.

23 For ye children of Ammon, and Moab rose against the inhabitants of Mount Seir, to slay and to destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, every one helped to destroy an other.

24 And when Iudah came towarde Ephraim in the wilderness, they looked unto the multitude: and behold, the carkeises were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Jehoshaphat & his people came to take away the people of them, they found among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies laden with precious Jewels, which they took for their filures, till they could carrie no more: they were three dayes in gathering of the spoile: for it was much.

26 And in the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Berachah: for there they blessed the Lord: therefore they called the name of that place, The valley of Berachah unto this day.

27 Then came men of Iudah and Ierusalem returned with Jehoshaphat their head, to goe againe to Ierusalem with ioy: for the Lord had made them to reioyce over their enemies.

28 And they came to Ierusalem with viols, and with harpes, and with tumblers, even unto the house of the Lord.

29 And their feare of God was upon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the kingdom of Jehoshaphat was quiet, and his God gave him rest on every side.

31 ¶ And Jehoshaphat reigned over Iudah, and was five and thirtie yeeres old, when he began to reigne: and reigned five and twentieth yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Azubab the daughter of Shithi.

32 And hee walked in the way of his father, and departed not therefrom, and doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit the high places were not taken away: for the people had not yet departed their hearts unto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning the rest of the actes of Jehoshaphat first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of Iehu the sonne of Hanani, which is mentioned in the booke of the kings of Israel.

35 ¶ After this did Jehoshaphat king of Iudah ioyne himselfe with Ahaziah king of Israel, who was given to doe euill.

36 And hee ioynd with him to make ships to goe to Cartahish: and they made the ships in Ezion Gaber.

37 Then came the sonne of Madaiah of Ierachiah propheticke against Jehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast ioynd thy selfe with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy workes, and the ships were broken, that they were not able to goe to Cartahish.

3 And their father gaue them great gifts of silver and of golde, and of precious things, with strong cities in Iudah, but the kingdom gaue he to Jehoram: for he was the eldest.

5 Jehoram was two and thirtie yeeres old, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eight yeere in Ierusalem.

6 And hee walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done: for hee had the daughter of Ahab to a wife, and he wrought euill in the eyes of the Lord.

rose up by night, and smote Edom, which had compassed him, and the captaines of the chariots.

10 But Edom rebelled from under the hand of Iudah vnto this day. Then did Libnah rebell at the same time from under his hand, because hee had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Moreover, he made his places in the mountaines of Iudah, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalem to commit fornication, and compelled Iudah cherefo.

12 And there came a writing to him from Eliah the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the waies of Jehoshaphat thy father, nor in the waies of Asa king of Iudah,

13 But hast walked in the way of the kings of Israel, and hast made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to go a whoring, as the house of Abah went a whoring, and hast also slain thy brethren of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

14 Behold, with a great plague will the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy substance,

15 And thou shalt be in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntill thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 So the Lord stirred vp against Jehoram the spirit of the Philistines, and the Arabians that were beside the Ethiopians, 17 And they came by into Iudah, and brake into it, and caried away all the substance that was found in the kings house, and his sonnes also, and his wives, so that there was not a sonne left him, save Jehoshaphat, the youngest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in process of time, when after the end of two yeeres, his guttes fell out with his disease: so he dyed of loze diseases: and his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When hee began to reigne, hee was two and thirtie yeere olde, and reigned in Ierusalem eight yeere, and liued without being desired: yet they buried him in the citie of Dauid, but not among the sepulchres of the kings.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Abahiah reigned after Iehoram, 9 Iehu king of Israel killeth Abahiah, 10 Athaliah putteth to death all the kings lineage, 11 Ioshephath.

And the inhabitants of Ierusalem made Abahiah his youngest sonne king in his stead: for the armie that came with the Arabians to the campe, had slain all the eldest: therefore Abahiah the sonne of Jehoram king of Iudah reigned.

2 Two and thirtie yeere old was Abahiah when he began to reigne, and hee reigned one yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter of Omri.

3 He walked also in the waies of the house of Abah: for his mother counselled him to doe wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Abah: for they were his counsellors after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And hee walked after their counsell, and went with Jehoram the sonne of Abah king of Israel to fight against Hazael king of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Joram.

6 And he returned to be healed in Jezreel, because of the woundes wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, when he fought with Hazael king of Aram. Nowe Azariah the sonne of Jehoram king of Iudah, went downe to see Jehoram the sonne of Abah at Jezreel, because he was diseased.

7 And the destruction of Abahiah came of God in that he went to Joram: for when he was come, he went forth with Jehoram against Iehu the sonne of Nimshi, whom the Lord had anointed to destroy the house of Abah.

8 Therefore when Iehu executed iudgement vpon the house of Abah, and sounde the winces of Iudah and the sonnes of the brethren of Abahiah that waited on Abahiah, he slew them also.

9 And hee sought Abahiah, and they caught him where hee was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, and slew him, and buried him, because, said they, he is the sonne of Jehoshaphat, which fought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Abahiah was not able to retaine the kingdom.

10 Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Abahiah sawe that her sonne was dead, she arose and destroyed all the kings seede of the house of Iudah.

11 But Jehoshabeath the daughter of the king, tooke Joash the sonne of Abahiah, and stole him from among the kings sonnes, that should be slain, and put him and his nurse in the bed chamber: so Jehoshabeath the daughter of king Jehoram the wife of Jehoiada the Priest (for she was the sister of Abahiah) hid him from Athaliah: so shee slew him not.

12 And hee was with them hidde in the house of God six yeeres, whilst Athaliah reigned ouer the land.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 And they went about in Iudah, and gathered the Levites out of all the citie of Iudah, and the chiefe fathers of Israel: and they came to Ierusalem.

3 And all the congregation made a covenant with the king in the house of God:

And he saide vnto them, Beholde the kings sonne must reigne, * as the Lord hath said of the sones of Dauid.

4 This is it that ye shall doe, The third part of you that come on the Sabbath of the Priests, and the Leuites, shalbe porters of the doores.

5 And another third part toward þ kings

6 But let none come into the house of holy: but all the people shall keepe the 7 And the Leuites shall compasse the king rounde about, and euery man with his weapon in his hand, and he that entreth into the house shall be slaine, and be you with the king, when he cometh in,

and when he goeth out.

8 ¶ So the Leuites and all Iudah did according to all things that Jehoiada the Priest had commanded, and tooke euery man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that went out on the Sabbath:
for Jehoiada the Priest did not discharge the courses.

9 And Jehoiada the Priest deliuered to the captaines of hundredes speares, and shields, and bucklers which had bene king Dauids, and were in the house of God.

10 And he caused all the people to stand (euery man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the altar and by the horde round about the king.

11 Then they brought out the kings sonne, and put vpon him the crowne, and gaue him the testimonies, and made him king. And Jehoiada and his sones annoiced him, and said, God saue the king.

12 ¶ But when Athaliah heard þ noise of the people running and praising the king, she came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And when she looked, beholde, the king stood by his pillar at the cutting in, and the princes and the trumpets by the king, and all the people of the land reioy-ced, and blew the trumpets, and the singers were with instruments of musike, and they that could sing psalms: then Athaliah rent her clothes, and said, ¶ Treason, treason.

14 Then Jehoiada the Priest brought out the captaines of hundredes that were gouernours of the hoste, & said vnto them, Hear her word of the ranges, and he that followeth her, let him die by the sword:
for the Priest had said, Slay her not in the house of the Lord.

15 So they laid hands on her: and when she was come to the entring of the houses gate by þ kings house, they slawe her there.

16 ¶ And Jehoiada made a k covenant betweene him, and all the people, and the king, that they would be the Lords people.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and destroyed it, and brake his altars and his images, and slewe Maathan the Priest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Jehoiada appointed officers for the house of þ Lord, vnder the hands of the Priests, and Leuites, whom Dauid had distributed for the house of the Lord, to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord, * as it is written in the Lawe of Moses, with reioycing a singing by þ appointment of Dauid.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none that was uncleane in any thing, should enter in.

20 And he tooke the captaines of hundreds, and the noble men, and the gouer-nours of the people, and all the people of the land, and hee caused the king to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they went through the hie gate of þ kings house, and set the king vpon the throne of the kingdom.

21 Then all the people of the land reioy-ced, and the citie was quiet, after that they had slaine Athaliah with the sword.

in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Joash did uprightly in the sight

3 And Jehoiada tooke him two wiues, and he begate sones and daughters.

4 ¶ And afterward it came into Joash

Leuites, and saide to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Iudah, and gather of all ¶ the rakeloney to repaire the house of your but the Leuites halted not.

6 Therefore the king called Jehoiada the not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudah and Ierusalem * the taxe of Mo-things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did they bestowe vpon Baalim.

they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord without.

Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring vnto the 12 And the king and Jehoiada gaue it to such as did the labour and worke in the house of the Lord, and hiredasons and carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: they gaue it also to workers of yron & brasse, to repaire the house of the Lord.

13 So the workemen wrought, and the worke amended through their handes: and they restored the house of God to his state, and strengned it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the silver before the king and Jehoiada, and he made thereof vessels for the house of the Lord, euen vessels to minister, both molters & incense cups, and vessels of golde, & of silver: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the dayes of Jehoiada.

15 But Jehoiada waxed olde, and was full of dayes, and died. An hundred and thirtie yere olde was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the citie of David with the buried kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Jehoiada, came the princes of Judah, and did reuerence to the king, and the king hearkened vnto them.

18 And then left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued grones & idoles: and wrath came vpon Judah and Jerusalem, because of their trespass.

19 And God sent prophets among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: and they made protestation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Zechariah the sonne of Jehoiada the Priest, which stood above the people, and saide vnto them, Thus saith God, Why transgresse ye the commandements of the Lord? surely ye shall not prosper: because ye haue forsaken the Lord, hee also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the commandement of the king, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Josiah the King remembered not the kindnesse which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but slew his sonne. And when he died, he said, The Lord looke vpon it, and require it.

23 ¶ And when the peere was out, the hofe of Ram came vp against him, & they came against Judah and Jerusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoile of them vnto the king of Damascus.

And when the peere was out, the hofe of Ram came vp against him, & they came against Judah and Jerusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoile of them vnto the king of Damascus.

24 Though the armie of Ram came with a small company of men, yet the Lord druncker a very great armie into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they gaue sentence against Josiah.

25 And when they were departed from him, for they left him in great diseases) his owne seruants conspired against him for the blood of the children of Jehoiada the Priest, and slew him on his bed, and he died, and they buried him in the citie of David: but they buried him not in the sepulchres of the kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him, Zabab the sonne of Shumrath an Ammonite, and Jezozabab the sonne of Shumrath a Moabitess.

27 But his sonnes, and the surname of the tare gathered by him, and the foundation of the house of God, beholde, they are written in the booke of the bookes of the Kings. And Amaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

3 Amaziah putteth him to death which slew his father. 10 Hee sendeth backe them of Israel. 11 He ouercometh the Edomites. 14 He forsaketh to idolatrie. 17 And Josiah King of Israel ouercometh Amaziah. 27 Hee is slaine by a conspiracy.

Amaziah was five & twentie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned nine and twentie yere in Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Jehoaddan, of Jerusalem.

2 And he did vnghtly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.

3 And when the kingdome was established vnto him, hee slew his seruants, that had slaine the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, but did as it is written in the law, and in the booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, The fathers shall not die for the children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but euery man shall die for his owne sinne.

5 ¶ And Amaziah assembled Judah, and made them captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, thowout at Judah and Benjamin: and he numbered them from twenty yere olde & aboue, and found among them thre hundred thousand chosen men to goe forth to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

6 Hee hired also an hundred thousand valiant men out of Israel for an hundred talents of silver.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O king, let not the armie of Israel goe with thee: for the Lord is not with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

8 If I not, goe thou on, doe it, make thy selfe strong to the battell, but God shall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

of Israel? Then the man of God answered, red, The Lord is able to giue thee more then this.
 10 So Amaziah separated them, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wheres-fore their wrath was kindled greatly against Iudab, and they returned to their places with great anger.
 11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led forth his people, and went to the salt halles, and smote of the children of Seir, ten thousand.
 12 And other ten thousand did the children of Iudab take alive, and caried them to the top of a rocke, and cast them downe from the top of the rocke, and they all burst to pieces.
 13 But the men of the armie, which Amaziah sent away, that they should not goe with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Iudab from Samaria vnto Bethbozon, and smote three thousand of them, and rooke much spoile.
 14 Now after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, hee brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his gods, and worshipped them & burned incense vnto them.
 15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziah, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which saide vnto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?
 16 And as he talked with him, he saide vnto him, Vaine they made thee the kings counsell: cease thou: why shouldst thou lince thee? And the Prophet ceased, but saide, I know that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this,
 and hast not obeyed my counsell.
 17 ¶ Then Amaziah king of Iudab tooke counsell, and sent to Joash the sonne of Jehoahaz, the sonne of Jehu king of Israel, saying, Come, let vs see one another in the face.
 18 But Joash king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Iudab, saying, The chistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the Cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, ¶ Come thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilde beast that was in Lebanon went & trode downe the chistle.
 19 Thou thinkest: loe, thou hast smitten Edom, and thine heart lifteth thee vp to bragge: abide nowe at home: why dost thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, and Iudab with thee?
 20 But Amaziah would not heare: for q it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hand, because they had sought the gods of Edom.
 21 So Joash the King of Israel went up: and he, and Amaziah king of Iudab sawe one another in the face at Bethshe-meih, which is in Iudab.

 22 And Iudab was put to the worse before Israel, and they slew many man to his tents.
 23 But Joash the king of Israel tooke Amaziah king of Iudab, the sonne of Jo-ash, the sonne of Jehoahaz in Bethshe-meih, and brought him to Ierusalem, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim vnto the corner gate, foure hundred cubits.
 24 And he rooke all the golde and the siluer, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with: Obed Edom, & in the treasures of the kings house, and the children that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.
 25 ¶ And Amaziah the sonne of Joash king of Iudab died after the death of Jo-ash sonne of Jehoahaz king of Israel, fift-teene yeere.
 26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Amaziah first and last, are they not written in the booke of the Kings of Iudab and Israel?
 27 Nowe after the time that Amaziah did turne away from the Lord, * they wrought treason against him in Ierusalem: and when he was fled to Babilon, they sent to Babilon after him, & slew him there.

much cattell both in the valleys & plaines, plowmen, & dressers of vines in the mount-

11 Hzziah had also an hoste of fighting men that went out to warre by bands, according to the count of their number vnder the hand of Ieriel the scribe, and Asaiah the ruler, and vnder the hand of Banaiyah, one of the kings captaynes.

12 The whole number of the chiefe of the families of the valiant men were two thousand and six hundredth.

13 And vnder their hand was the armie for warre, thys hundredth and seven thou-to helpe the king against the enemye.

14 And Hzziah prepared them thoughout all the holte, shields, and speares, and helmettes, and bygambures, and bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also very artificall engins in Jerusalem, to be vpon the towres and vpon the corneres, to throwe arrowes and great stones: and his name was, sarr & broade, because God did helpe him manie dayes, till he was mighty.

16 But when he was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction: for he transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the Temple of the Lord to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Hzziah the Priest went in after him, and with him foure score Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstood Hzziah the king, and said vnto him, * It verementh not to thee, Hzziah, to burne incense vnto y^e Lord, but to the Priests the sones of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: * goe foorth of the Sanctuary: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none ho-

19 Then Hzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it: and while he was wroth with the Priests, the leprosie rose vp in his forehead before y^e Priests in the house of the Lord beside the incense altar.

20 And when Hzziah the chiefe Priest with all the Priests looked vpon him, & se-holde, he was leprous in his forehead, and they caused him hastily to depart thence:
and he was euen compelled to goe out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 * And Hzziah the king was a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in an house apart, because he was cutt off from the house of the Lord: and Jo-his, many prisoners, and brought them to Damascus: and he was also deliuered into the hand of the king of Israel, which smote him with a great slaughter.

 6 For ezechiah the sonne of kemaliah sleue in Iudah five score thousand in one day, all able men, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.
 7 And Zicchi a Iugnapht man of Ephraim new spaciath the kings sonne, and Azur him the gouernour of the house, and Esihanah the second after the king.
 8 And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, two hundred thousand of women, sonnes and daughters, and caried away much spoyle of them, and brought the spoyle to Samaria.
 9 But there was a Prophet of the Lords, (whose name was Obed) and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, and saide vnto them, Beholde, because the Lord God of your fathers is worth Iudah, he hath deliuered them into your hand, and he haue sinned them in a rage, that reacheth vp to heauen.
 10 And now he purpose to keepe vnder the children of Iudah and Ierusalem, as seruants and handmaides vnto your line are not you such, that sinnes are with you before the Lord your God?
 11 Now therefore heare me, and deliuer the captiues againe, which ye haue taken prisoners of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is toward you.
 12 Wherefore certaine of the chiefe of the children of ephraim, Mariah the sonne of Iehohanan, Berechiah the sonne of speshillemoth, & Jehizkiah the sonne of Shallum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai, stood vp against them that came from b warre, 13 And said vnto them, Being not in the captiues hither: for this shall be a sime vpon vs against the Lord: ye intende to adde more to our sinnes and to our trespasses, though our trespass be great, and the fierce wrath of God is against Israel.
 14 So the armie left the captiues and the spoyle before the princes and all the Congregation.
 15 And the men that were named by name, rose vp and tooke the prisoners, and with the spoyle clothed all that were naked among them, and araped them, and shodde them, and gaue them meate and gaue them drinke, and anointed them, and caried all that were feeble of them vpon asses, and brought them to Iericho b citie of Balme-rees to their brethren: so they returned to Samaria.
 16 At that time did king Ahaz send vnto
the kings of Asshur, to helpe him.
 17 (For the Edomites came moreover, & sate of Iudah, & caried away captiues.)
 18 The Philistines also invaded the cities in the lowe countrey, and toward the South of Iudah, and tooke Bethemelech and Malon and Gederoth & Schocho, with the villages thereof, and Timnah, with her villages, and Ginyo, with her villages: and they dwelt there.
 19 For the Lord had humbled Iudah, because of Ahaz king of Israel: for he had brought vengeance vpon Iudah and had griuously transgressed against the Lord.

 20 And Tigath Pileseer king of As-sur came vnto him, who troubled him and did not strengthen him.
 21 For Ahaz tooke a portion out of the house of the Lord, and out of the kings house & of the princes, and came vnto the king of Asshur: yet it helped him not.
 22 And in the time of his tribulation did he yet trespass more against the Lord, (this is king Ahaz)
 23 For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damascus, which plagued him, and he saide, Because the gods of the kings of As-sur haue helped them, I will sacrifice vnto them, and they will driue me: yet they were his rime, and of all Israel.
 24 And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in euery corner of Ierusalem.
 25 And in euery cite of Iudah he made high places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and provoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.
 26 Concerning the rest of his actes, and all his wayes first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel.
 27 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of Ierusalem, but brought him not vnto the sepulchres of the kings of Israel: and Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

8 ¶ Wherefore the wrath of the Lord hath bene on Judah & Jerusalem: and he hath made them a scattering, a desolation,

11 Now in sonnes, be not deceived: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, to serve him, and to be his ministers, and to burne incense.
12 ¶ Then the Levites arose, Sathai the sonne of Maasai, and Joel the sonne of Azariah, of the sonnes of the Koathites: and of the sonnes of Sopherai, Ishi the sonne of Abbi, and Azariah the sonne of Jephale-of Zinnah, and Eden the sonne of Joah:

13 And of the sonnes of Elisaphan,

Aph, Zechariah, and Ahitaniah:
14 And of the sonnes of Hemai, Jehiel, and Shumi: and of the sonnes of Jethu-thim, Shenatah, and Wyzri.
15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselves, and came according to the commandement of the king, and by the wordes of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.
16 And the Priests went into the inner parts of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, and brought out all the uncleannes that they found in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Levites tooke it, to carrie it out unto the brooke Kidron.
17 They began the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie it, & the eight day of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lorde: so they sanctified the house of the Lord in eight dayes, & in the sixteenth day of the first moneth they made an end.
18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and saide, Wee have cleaned all the house of the Lord, and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof.
19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when hee reigned, and transgressed, have we prepared and sanctified:
and beholde, they are before the altar of the Lord.
20 ¶ And Hezekiah the king rose early, and gathered the Princes of the cite, and went by to the house of the Lord.
21 And they brought seven bullocks, and seven rammes, and seven lambs, and seven hee goats, for a sime offering for the kingdome, and for the Sanctuarie, and for Judah. And hee commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.
22 So they slew the bullocks, and the Priests received the blood, and sprinkled

it upon the altar: they slew also the rams and sprinkled the blood upon the altar, and they slew the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood upon the altar.
23 Then they brought the hee goats for the sime offering before the king and the Congregation, and they laid their hands upon them.
24 And the Priests slew them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the king had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering and the sime offering.
25 He appointed also the Levites in the house of the Lord with cymbals, with vials, and with harpes, according to the commandement of David, and Gad the Kings Secer, and Nathan the Prophet: for the commandement was by the hand of the Lorde, and by the hand of his Prophets.
26 And the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the Priests with the trumpets.
27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering upon the Altar: and when the burnt offering beganne, the song of the Lorde began with the trumpets, and the instruments of David king of Israel.
28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued until the burnt offering was finished.
29 And when they had made an end of offering, the king and all that were present with him, bowed themselves, and worshipped.
30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the king & the princes commanded the Levites to praise the Lorde with the wordes of David, and of Asaph the Secer: so they praised with joy, and they bowed themselves and worshipped.
31 And Hezekiah spake, and saide, Now see haue I consecrate your selves to the Lorde: come nere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of praise into the house of the Lorde. And the Congregation brought sacrifices, and offerings of praises, and every man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.
32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the congregation brought, was seventie bullocks, an hundred rammes, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord.
33 And for sanctification three hundred bullocks, and three thousand sheepe.
34 But the Priests were too fewe, and were not able to slay all the burnt offerings:
therefore their brethren the Levites did helpe them, till they had ended the worke, and until other Priests were sanctified: for the Levites were more by right in heart to sanctifie themselves, then the Priests.
35 And also the burnt offerings were made up with the fat of the peace offerings, and the drinke offerings for the burnt offering.

CHAP. XXX.

1, 13 The keeping of the Passover by the kings commandement. 6 He exhorteth Israel to turne to the Lord. 18 He prayeth for the people. 24 His oblation and the princes. 27 The Leuites blese the people.

And Hezekiah sent to all Israel, & Judah, and also wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasse, that they should come to the house of the Lord at Jerusalem to keepe the Passover vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And the king and his princes in all the Congregation had taken counsell in Jerusalem to keepe the Passover in the second moneth.

3 For they coulde not keepe it at this time, because there were not Priests enow sanctified, neither was the people gathered to Jerusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation to the whole of all Israel from Beer-sheba euē to Dan, that they should come to keepe the Passover vnto the Lord God of Israel at Jerusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, as it was written.

6 ¶ So the postes went with letters by the commission of the king & his princes, to shew vnto all Israel and Judah, and with the commandement of the king, saying, Ye children of Israel, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, and see he will reuerne to the remnant that are escaped of you, out of the hands of the kings of Asshur.

7 And be not pe like your fathers, & like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them desolate, as ye see.

8 Be not ye now disrecked like your fathers, but give the hand to the Lord, and come into his Sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lord your God: and the fiercenesse of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne vnto the Lord, your brethren and your children shall finde mercy before them that ledde them captiues, and they shall & returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and mercifull, and wil not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 ¶ So the postes went from citie to citie thorow the lande of Ephraim and Manasse, euē vnto Zebulun: but they laughed them to scorne, & mocked them.

11 Perezabeseth, diners of Asshur, and Manasse, & of Zebulun submitted themselves, and came to Jerusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Judah, so that he gaue them one heart to doe the commandement of the king, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Jerusalem much people, to keepe the feast of the vntaken bread in the second moneth, a very great assemble.

14 ¶ And they arose, and tooke away the altars that were in Jerusalem: and all those for incense tooke they away, and cast them into the brooke Kidon.

15 Afterward they slew the Passover the fourteenth day of the second moneth: and the Priests and Leuites were alhazmed, and sanctified themselves, & brought the burnt offerings vnto the house of the Lord.

16 And they stood in their place after their maner, according to the lawe of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the blood, receiued of the hands of the Leuites.

17 Because there were many in the congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Passover for all that were not cleane, to sanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, euē a multitude of Ephraim, and Manasse, Issachar and Zebulun had not cleued themselves, yet did eate the Passover, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The good Lord be mercifull toward him, 19 That prepareth his whole heart to seeke the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleued, according to the purification of the Sanctuary.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, and healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Jerusalem, kept the feast of the vntaken bread seuen daies with great ioy, and the Leuites, and the Priests praised the Lord day by day, singing with loud instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah & spake comfortable vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did eate in that feast seuen daies, and offered peace offerings, and praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assemble tooke counsell to keepe it other seuen daies. So they kept it seuen daies with ioy.

24 For Hezekiah king of Judah had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullocks, and seuen thousand sheepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullocks, & ten thousand sheepe: and many Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Judah reioyced with the Priests and the Leuites, and all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, & that dwelt in Judah.

26 So there was great ioy in Jerusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel there was not the like thing in Jerusalem.

27 Then the Priests and the Leuites arose, & blessed the people, and their voice was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen, and to his holy habitation.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The people destroy idolatrie. 2 Hezekiah appointeth Priests and Leuites, 4 and prouideth for their living. 13 He ordeineth overseers to distribute to euery one his portion.

And when all these things were finished, all Israel that were found in the cities of Iudah, went out and brake the images, and cut downe the groues, and brake downe the high places, and the altars throughout all Iudah and Benjamin, in Ephraim also & Manasseh, untill they had made an end: afterward all the children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, into their owne cities.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the Priests and Leuites, by their turnes, euery man according to his office, both Priests and Leuites, for the burnt offering and peace offerings, to minister and to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the tents of the Lord.

3 And the Kings portion was of his owne substance for the burnt offerings, euen for the burnt offerings of the morning and of the evening, and for the burnt offerings for the Sabbathis, and for the new moones, and for the solemne feastes, as it is written in the Law of the Lord.

4 Hee commanded also the people that dwell in Ierusalem, to giue a part to the Priests, and Leuites, that they might be encouraged in the Law of the Lord.

5 And when the commandement was giuen, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruites of coine, wine, & oyle, and hony, and of all the increase of the field, and the tithes of all things brought they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israel and Iudah that dwell in the cities of Iudah, they also brought the tithes of bullockes and sheepe, and the holly tithes which were consecrate vnto the Lord their God, and layd them on many heapes.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the foundation of the heapes, and finished them in the seventh moneth.

8 And when Hezekiah and the Priests came, and saw the heapes, they blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the Priests and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariah the chiefe Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, and said, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, wee haue earene and haue bene fortified, and there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 And Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them, 12 And eared in the first fruites, and the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully: and onter them was Conaniah the Leuite, the chiefe, and Shinner his brother the second.

13 And Jehiel, and Azariah, and Ma-

hath, and Mabel, and Jerimoth, and Josabab, and Euel, and Jinnachiah, and spashath, and Benaiah were overseers: by the appointment of Conaniah, and Shinner his brother, and by the commandement of Hezekiah the King, and of Azariah the chiefe of the house of God.

14 And Rose the sonne of Jumah the Leuite porter toward the East, was ouer the things that were willingly offered vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holly things that were consecrate.

15 And at his hand were Eden, and Spinianin, and Felhua, and Shemaiah, Amasiah, and Shechanah, in the cities of the Priests, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethren by courses, both to the great and small.

16 Their dayly portion: beside their generation being males: from threere yere old and aboue, euen to all that entred into the house of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courses:

17 Both to the generation of the Priests after the house of their fathers, and to the Leuites from twentire yere old and aboue, according to their charge in their courses:

18 And to the generation of all their children, their wines, and their sonnes & their daughters throughout all the Congregation: for by their fidelitie are they partakers of the holly things.

19 Also to the sonnes of Aaron, the Priests, which were in the fields and suburbs of their cities, in euery citie the men that were appointed by names, should giue portions to all the males of the Priests, and to all the generations of the Leuites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Iudah, and did well and brightly, and truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the works that hee began for the seruice of the house of God, both in the Lawe and in the commandements, to seeke his God, hee did it with all his heart, and prospered.

CHAP. XXXII.

After these things faithfully described, Saneherib king of Asshur came and eured into Iudah, and besieged the strong cities, and thought to winne them for himselfe.

2 When Hezekiah sawe that Saneherib was come, and that his purpose was to fight against Ierusalem,

3 Then he tooke counsell with his princes and his nobles, to stoppe the water of the fountaines without the citie: and they did helpe him.

g Thus the wicked put no difference between true religion and false, for Hezekiah onely destroyed idolatrie and placed true religion, thus the papists slander the seruants of God: for when they destroy idolatrie, they say that they abolish religion.

h This is his blasphemie, that he will compare the living God to vile idoles.

k Herein wee see that when the wicked speake euill of the seruants of God, they care not to blaspheme God himselfe: for if they feared God they would loue his seruants.

the river that runneth throught the middes of the countrey, saying, Why should the King of Asshur come, and finde much water?

5 And he tooke courage, & built all the broken wall, and made vp the towres, and another wall without, and repaired a bulwark in the citie of Dauid, and made many ditches and shields.

6 And hee set capitaines of warre ouer the people, and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous: feare not, neither be afrayde for the King of Asshur, neither for all the multitude that is with him: * for there bee more with vs, then is with him.

8 With him is an arme of flesh, but with vs is the * Loyde our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the words of Hezekiah king of Iudah.

9 * After this, did Saneherib king of Asshur send his seruants to Jerusalem, while he was against Lachish, and all his dominion with him, vnto Hezekiah king of Iudah, and vnto all Iudah that were at Jerusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Saneherib the King of Asshur, Wherein do you trust, that ye will remaine in Jerusalem, during the siege?

11 Doth not Hezekiah entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine and by thirst, saying, The Loyde our God shall deliuer vs out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his high places and his altars, and commanded Iudah and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

13 Know ye not what I & my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreys? Were the gods of the nations of other lands able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Who is he of all the gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that could deliuer his people out of mine hand? that your God should be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Nowe therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor seduce you after this sort, neither beleaue ye him: for none of all the gods of any nation or kingdom was able to deliuer his people out of mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: howe much lesse shall your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

16 And his seruantes spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his seruant Hezekiah.

17 Hee wrote also letters, blaspheming the Loyde God of Israel, and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countreys could not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they cried with a loud voice in the Iewes speech vnto the people of Jerusalem that were on the wall, to seare them and to astonish them, that they might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Jerusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, euen the works of mans hands, 20 But Hezekiah the King, & the Prophet Ishaiah the sonne of Amos, prayed against this, and cried to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes and capitaines of the hoste of the King of Asshur: so he returned with shame to his owne land. And when hee was come into the house of his god, then that came forth of his owne bowels, slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord saued Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hande of Saneherib king of Asshur, and from the hand of all other, and maintained them on euery side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lord to Jerusalem, and presents to Hezekiah king of Iudah, so that hee was magnified in the sight of all nations from thence forth.

24 * In those daies Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not render account for his heart: * was lifted vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Jerusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himselfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) hee and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the daies of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and hee gate him treasures of silver, and of golde, & of precious stones, and of sweete odours, and of shields, and of all pleasant vessels:

28 And of househoues for the increase of wheat and wine, and oyle, and stalles for all beastes, and for stables for the stables.

29 And hee made him cities, and had possession of sheepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the upper water courses of Elishon, and ledde them streight vnderneath toward the citie of Dauid Westward. so Hezekiah prospered in all his works.

31 But because of the ambassadors of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the lande, God left him to the true issue which him, and to knowe all that was in his heart.

12 He prayeth to the Lord and is deliuered. 14 He abolisheth idolatrie. 16 Anna setteth up true religion. 20 He dieth, and Amon his sonne succeedeth. 24 Whom his owne seruants slay.

Manasseh was twelue yeere olde, * when he began to reigne, and he reigned fine and sitie yeere in Ierusalem:

2 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the abominations of the Heathen, * whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Irael.

3 For he went backe and built the high places, * which Ihesekiah his father had broken downe: * and he set by altars for Baalim, and made groves, and worshipped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also he built altars in the house of the Lord, wherof the Lord had saide, * In Ierusalem shall my Name be for euer.

5 And he built altars for all the hoste of the heauen in the two courts of the house of the Lord.

6 * And he caused his sonnes to passe through the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: he gaue himselfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to sorcerie, and he used them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: he did verie much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 Yet put also the carved image, which he had made in the house of God: wherof God had saide to Dauid, and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Irael, will I put my Name for euer,

8 Neither will I make the soote of Irael to remooue any more out of the lande which I haue appoynted for your fathers, so that they take herde, and doe all that I haue commaunded them, according to the lawe and statutes and iudgements by the hand of Moses.

9 So Manasseh made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen, whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Irael.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake to Manasseh and to his people, but they would not resgarde.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them the captiuities of the hoste of the king of Asshur, which tooke Manasseh and put him in fetters, and bound him in chaines, and caried him to Babel.

12 And when he was in tribulation, he prayed to the Lord his God, & humbled him selfe greatly before the God of his fathers, 13 And prayed vnto him: and God was mercifull of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdome: then Manasseh knewe that the Lord was God.

14 Now after this he built a wall with out the citie of Dauid, on the Westside of the valley, even at the entrie of the highgate, and compassed about Ephel, and raised it verie high, and put capitaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

15 And he tooke away the strange gods, and the image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Ierusalem, and cast them out of the citie.

16 Also he prepared the altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and of thankes, and commaunded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Irael.

17 Nevertheless the people did sacrifice still in the high places, but vnto the Lord their God.

18 ¶ Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasseh, and his prayer vnto his God, and the wordes of the Seers, that spake to him in the Name of the Lord God of Irael, behold, they are written in the booke of the kings of Irael.

19 And his prayer and howe God was mercifull of him, and all his sinne, and his trespasses, and the places wherein he built his places, and set groves and images (beside which he was humbled) behold, they are written in the booke of the Seers.

20 So Manasseh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his owne house: and Amon his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 ¶ Amon was two and twentie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned two yeere in Ierusalem.

22 But he did euill in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseh his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the images, which Manasseh his father had made, & serued them.

23 And he humbled not himselfe before the Lord, as Manasseh his father had humbled himselfe: but this Amon trespassed more and more.

24 And his seruants conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the lande slew all them that had conspired against king Amon: and the people of the land made Iosiah his sonne king in his stead.

(when he was yet a child) he beganne to seeke after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth yere he began to purge Judah, and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and molten images:

4 And they brake downe in his sight the altars of Baalim, and he caused to cut downe the images that were on hie upon them: he brake also the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images, and stampeth them to powder, and strowed it upon the graves of them that had sacrificed unto them.

5 Also he burnt the bones of the priests upon their altars, and purged Judah and Jerusalem.

6 And in the cities of Manasse, and Ephraim, and Simeon, even unto Naphtali, with their mantles they brake all round about.

7 And when he had destroyed the altars, and the groves, and had broken and stamped to powder the images, and had cut downe all the idols throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem.

8 ¶ Then in the eighteenth yere of his reigne when he had purged the land and the Temple, he sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the Governour of the citie, and Joah the sonne of Joahaz the Recorder, to repaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high Priest, they delivered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Levites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Manasse, and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Israel, and of all Judah and Benjamin, and of the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

10 And they put it in the hands of them that should doe the worke, and had the oversight in the house of the Lord: and they gave it to the workemen that wrought in the house of the Lord, to repaire and amend the house.

11 Even to the workemen, and to the builders gave they it, to hew stone and timber for couples, and for beames of the houses, which the kings of Judah had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke faithfully, and the overseers of them were Jashiah and Obadiah the Levites, of the children of Merari, and Zechariah, and Ebed Meshulam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Levites all that could skill of instruments of musike.

13 And they were over the bearers of burdens, and them that set forward at the workemen in every worke: and of the Levites were scribes, and officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the Priest found the booke of the Lawe of the Lord given by the hand of Moses.

15 Therefore Hilkiah answered and said to Shaphan the chanceller, I have found the booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gave the booke to Shaphan

16 And Shaphan caried the booke to the king, and brought the king worde as he came, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy servants, that doe they.

17 For they have gathered the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and have delivered it into the hands of the overseers, and to the hands of the workemen.

18 Also Shaphan the chanceller declared to the king, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath given me a booke, and Shaphan read it before the king.

19 And when the king had heard the words of the Lawe, he tare his clothes,

20 And the king commaunded Hilkiah and Shikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Abdon the sonne of Apical, and Shaphan the chanceller, and Asaiah the kings servant, saying,

21 Goe and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the rest in Israel and Judah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen upon us, because our fathers have not kept the wordes of the Lord, to doe after all that is written in this booke.

22 Then Hilkiah and they that the king had appointed, went to Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tokhath, the sonne of Maaseh keeper of the wardrobe (and she dwelt in Jerusalem within the college) and they commaunded her of with her.

23 And she answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

24 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, even all the curses that are written in the booke which they have read before the king of Judah:

25 Because they have forsaken me, and burnt incense unto other gods, to anger me with all the workes of their hands: therefore shall my wrath fall upon this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 But to the king of Judah, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shall he say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The wordes which thou hast heard, shall come to passe.

27 But because thine heart did smelt, and thou diddest humble thy selfe before God, when thou heardest his wordes against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thy selfe before me and tarest thy clothes, and wepest before me, I have also heard it, saith the Lord.

28 Beholde, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy grave in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the evil, which I will bring upon this place, and upon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought the king worde againe.

1 Iofiah keepeth the Paffeouer. 2 He setteth forth Gods seruice. 20 He fighteth against the king of Egypt, and dieth. 20 The people bewaile him.

M^{eaner} Iofiah kept a Paffeouer vnto the Lorde in Jerusalem, and they slew the Paffeouer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2 And he appointed the Priests to their charges, and encouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lord,

3 And hee said vnto the Leuites, that taught all Israel and were sanctified vnto the Lorde, Put the holy Urke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel did build: it shalbe no more a burden vpon your shoulders: serue now the Lord your God and his people Israel,

4 And prepare your selues by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as David the King of Israel hath written, and according to the writing of Salomon his sonne,

5 And stand in the Sanctuary according to the diuision of the families of your brethren the children of the people, and after the diuision of the familie of the Leuites:

6 So kill the Paffeouer, and sacrifice your selues, and prepare your brethren that they may doe according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Iofiah also gaue to the people sheepe, lambs and kiddees, all for the Paffeouer, euen to all that were present, to the number of thirtie thousand, and three thousand bullocks: these were of the Kings substance.

8 And his Princes offered willingly vnto the people, to the Priests and to the Leuites: Yikiah, and Zechariah, and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priests for the Paffeouer, euen two thousand and fixe hundred sheepe, & three hundred bullocks.

9 C Onaniah also and Shemaiah and Jerthameel his brethren, & Yathabiah and Ariel, and Zolabab, chiefe of the Leuites gaue vnto the Leuites for the Paffeouer, fixe thousand sheepe, and fixe hundred bullocks.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priests stood in their places, also the Leuites in their orders, according to the Kings commandement:

11 And they slewe the Paffeouer, and the Priests sprinkled the blood with their hands, and the Leuites slaped them.

12 And they tooke away from the burnt offering to giue it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, and so of the bullocks.

13 And they roasted the Paffeouer with fire, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pannes, and caldrons, and distributed them quickely to all the people.

14 Afterwarde also they prepared for themselves and for the Priests: for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, and the fatte vntill night: therefore the Leuites prepared for themselves, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers the sonnes of Asaph stood in their standing according to the commandement of Dauid, and Asaph, and Benai, and Jeduthun the kings Ser: and the porters at every gate, who might not depart from the seruice: therefore their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

16 So all the seruice of the Lorde was prepared the same day, to keepe the Paffeouer, and to offer burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lorde, according to the commandement of King Iofiah,

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Paffeouer the same time, & the feast of unleavened bread seven dayes.

18 And there was no Paffeouer kept like that in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the Prophet: neither did all the kings of Israel keepe such a Paffeouer as Iofiah kept, and the Priests and the Leuites, and all Judah, and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 This Paffeouer was kept in the twentieth yere of the reigne of Iofiah.

20 ¶ After all this, when Iofiah had prepared the Temple, Necho king of Egypt came by to fight against Carchemish by Berath, and Iofiah went out against him.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying, What haue I to doe with thee, thou king of Iudah: I come not against thee this day, but against the house of mine enemy, and God commaunded mee to make baste: leaue off to come against God, which is with me, lest he desroy thee.

22 But Iofiah woulde not turne his face from him, but changed his apparell to fight with him, and hearkened not vnto the wordes of Necho, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

Then * the people of the land tooke Iehoahaz the sonne of Iohah, & made him King in his fathers stead in Ierusalem.

2 Iehoahaz was three and twentie peere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned three * moneths in Ierusalem.

3 And the king of Egypt tooke him as wap at Ierusalem, and condemned the land in an * hundredth talents of siluer, and a talent of golde.

4 And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother King ouer Judah and Ierusalem, and turned his name to Iehoiakim: and Necho tooke Iehoahaz his brother, and carried him to Egypt.

5 Iehoiakim was five and twentie peere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleven yere in Ierusalem, and did * euill in the sight of the Lord his God.

6 Against him came by Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and bound him with chaines to carry him to Babel.

7 Nebuchad-nezzar also * carried of the vessels of the house of the Lord to Babel, and put them in his temple at Babel.

8 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoiakim, and his abominations which hee did, and that which was found vpon him, beholde, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Judah: and Iehoiachin his sonne reigned in his stead.

9 Iehoiachin was * eight yere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned three moneths and ten dayes in Ierusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord.

10 And when the peere was out, King Nebuchad-nezzar sent and brought him to Babel with * precious vessels of the house of the Lord, & he made Zedekiah his brother King ouer Judah and Ierusalem.

11 Zedekiah was one and twentie peere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned eleven yere in Ierusalem.

12 * And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord his God, and humbled not himselfe before Ieremiah the Prophet at the commandment of the Lord,

13 But he rebelled moreouer against Nebuchad-nezzar, which had caused him to sweare by God: and he hardened his necke and made his heart obstinate that he might not returne to the Lord God of Israel.

14 All the chiefe of the Iudites also and of the people trespassed wonderfully, according to all the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord which he had sanctified in Ierusalem:

15 Therefore the Lord God of their fathers sent to them * by his messengers, rising early and sending: for he had compassion on his people, and on his habitation.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his wordes, and refused his Prophets, untill the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, and till there was no remedie.

17 For hee brought vpon them the king of the Caldeans, who slew their pong men with the sword: in the house of their Sanctuary, and spared neither pong man, nor virgine, ancient, nor aged, God * gaue all into his hand,

18 And all the vessels of the house of God great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king, and of his princes: all these carried he to Babel.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and all the precious vessels thereof, to destroy all.

20 And they that were left by the sword carried he away to Babel, and they were seruants to him and to his sones, vntill the kingdom of the * Persians had rule,

21 To fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of Ieremiah, untill the land had her fill of her Sabbaths: for all the dayes that the lay desolate, they kept Sabbath, to fulfill seuentie peeres.

22 * But in the * first peere of Cyrus king of Persia (when the word of the Lord spoken by the mouth of Ieremiah, was fulfilled) the Lord stirred by the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, and hee made a proclamation thorow all his kingdom, and also by writing, saying,

23 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, All the kingdoms of the earth hath * the Lord God of heauen giuen me, & he hath commanded me to build him an house in Ierusalem, that is in Judah. Who is among you of all his people, with whom the Lord his God is? let him go vp.

The prayer of Manasseh King of the Iewes,

This prayer is not in the Hebrews, but is translated out of the Greeke.

a Thou hast promised that repentance shall be the way for them to returne to thee.
b He speaketh
this in comparison of himselfe and those holy fathers which haue their commendation in the Scriptures, so that in respect of himselfe he calleth their finnes nothing, but attri-buteth vnto them
righteousnesse.

O Lord Almighty, God of our Fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seede, which hast made heauen & earth with all their ornament, which hast bound the sea by the word of thy commaundement, which hast shut vp the deepe and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name, wherein all doe feare and tremble before thy power: for the maiestie of thy glory cannot be boyme, & thine angry threatening toward sinners is impossible, but thy merciful promise is vnmeterable & vnsarchable. For thou art most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and most merci-full, & reuerest for mans miseries. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodnesse hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that sinne against thee, & for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, & Isaac, and Jacob, which hast not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I haue sinned aboue the number of the sand of the sea, my transgressions, O

Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to beholde and see the height of the heauens, for the multitude of mine vnrightheousnesse.
I am bowed downe wth many p^{ro}u bands, that I cannot lift vp mine head, neither haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath, and done euill before thee. I did not thy wil, neither kept thy commandments.
I haue set by abominations, & haue multiplied offences. Nowe therefore I bowe the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, & I acknowledge my transgressions:
but I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, & destroy me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with me for euer by refusing cunill for me, neither condemne me into the lower parts of p^{er} earth.
For thou art the God, even God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shewe all thy goodnesse: for thou wilt saue me that am unworthy, according to thy great mercie: therefore I will praye thee for euer all the daies of my life. For all the power of the heauens praye thee, and thine is the glory for euer and euer. Amen.

Ezra.

THE ARGUMENT.

As the Lorde is euer mercifull vnto his Church and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their owne miseries, and be exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the worlde, and aspire vnto the heauens: so after that he had visited the Iewes and kept them now in bondage seauentie yeeres in a strange countrey among infidels and idolaters, he remembered his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake rayled them vp a deliverer, & moued both the heart of the chiefe ruler to pitty them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in fer-uitude. Notwithstanding least they should growe into a contempt of Gods great benefite, hee keepeth them still in exercise, and raiseth domesticall enemies, which indoeur as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophets they went forward by little and little till their worke was finished. The author of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest and Scribe of the Lawe, as Chap. 7. He returned to Ierusalem the sixt yeere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, about fiftie yeeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. Hee brought with him a great company, and much treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all such things as should be necessary for the Temple: and at his comming he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

d For hee was chiefe Monarch, and had

Now in the first yere of Cyrus King of Persia (that the word of the Lord, spoken by the mouth of Jeremiah, might be accomplished) the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, and he made a proclamation through all his kingdome, and also by writing, saying,
2 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hath giuen me all the kingdomes of the earth, and he hath commaunded me to build him an house in Jerusalem, which is in Iudah.

ple with whom his God is: let him goe vp to Ierusalem, which is in Iudah, and build the house of the Lord God of Israel: hee is the God, which is in Ierusalem.
4 And euery one that remaineth in any place (where he sojourneeth) let the men of his place relieue him with silver and with golde, and with substance, and with cattell, and with a willing offering, for the house of God that is in Ierusalem.
5 Then the chiefe fathers of Iudah and Beniamin, and the Priestes and Leuites rose vp, with all them whose spirit God had raised to goe vp, to build the house of the Lord which is in Ierusalem.

11 And sing vnto the Lord.

¶ And when the seventh moneth was come, and the children of Israel were in their cities, the people assembled themselues as one man vnto Ierusalem.

2 Then Roode by Ieshua the sonne of Jozadak, and his brethren the Priests, and Zerubbabel the ^bsonne of Shealtiel, and his brethren, and builded the altar of the God of Israel to offer burnt offerings thereon, as it is written in the Lawe of Moyses,
 the man of God,

3 And they set the altar vpon ^chis bases (for feare was among them, because of the people of those countreys) therefore they offered burnt offerings thereon vnto the Lord, euen burnt offerings in the morning, and at euen.

4 They kept also the feast of the Tabernacles, as it is written, and the burnt offering ^ddaily, by number according to the custome day by day,

5 And afterward ^dthe continuall burnt offering, both in the newe moneths and in all the feast dayes that were consecrate vnto the Lorde, and in all the oblations willingly offered vnto the Lord.

6 From the first day of the seventh mo-neth began they to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lorde: but the foundation of the Temple of the Lord was not layd.

7 They gaue money also vnto the Masons, and to the workemen, and meate and drinke, and oyle vnto them of Zidon and of Tyrus, to buy them cedar wood from Lebanon to the sea vnto ^{||}Japho, according to the graunt that they had of Cyrus King of Persia.

8 ¶ And in the second yeere of their comin the ^eseconde moneth began Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, & Jeshua the sonne of Jozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the Priests and the Levites, and all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Ierusalem, and appointed the Le-uites from twentie yeere olde and aboue, to set forward the house of the worke of the Lorde.

9 And Jeshua stood with his sonnes, and his brethren, and Kadmiel with his sonnes, and the sonnes of Judah together to set forward the workemen in the house of God, and the sonnes of Beniadad with their sonnes, & their brethren the Levites.

10 And when the builders layde the foundation of the Temple of the Lord, then appointed the Priests in their apparell of Asaph with cybals, to praise the Lord,

11 Thus they sang when they gaue people shouted with a great shoute, when they praised the Lord, because the founda-

12 Whe the aduersaries of Iudah & Beniamin heard, that the children of the captiuitie builded the Temple vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chiefe fathers, and sayd vnto them, We will builde with you: for we seeke the Lord your God as ye doe, and we haue sacrificed vnto him, since the time of Esar Haddo king of Asshur, which brought vs by hither.

3 Then Zerubbabel, and Ieshua, and the rest of the chiefe fathers of Israel, sayde vnto them, It is not for you, but for vs to builde the house vnto our God: ^b for we our selues together will build it vnto the Lord God of Israel, as king Cyrus the King of Persia hath commanded vs.

4 Wherefore the people of the land dis- couraged the people of Iudah, and trou- bled them in building,

5 And they ^c hired counsellers against them, to hinder their deuite, al the daies of Cyrus king of Persia, euen vntil the reigne of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reigne of ^d Ahasueros (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote they an accusation against the inhabitants of Iu- dah and Jerusalem.

7 And in the daies of ^e Artahasthate, Mithredath, Tabeel, and the rest of their companions wrote when it was peace, vnto Artahasthate king of Persia, and the writing of the letter was the Aramites writing, and the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.

8 Rehum the Chancellour, and Shimi- thai the Scribe wrote a letter against Jeru- salem to Artahasthate the king, in this sort.

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellour, and Shimi^{thai} the Scribe, and their com- panions, ^f Dinaie, & Arpharathcaie, Tara- yelaie, Apharhaie, Mcheuaie, Babilate, Shithanchaie, Dehaue, Elimaie,

10 And the rest of the people whome the great and noble ^g Sinappar brought ouer and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyond the ^h River and ⁱ Cheeneth.

11 ^j This is the copie of the letter that they sent vnto king Artahasthate, THE SERVANTS the men beyond the River and Cheeneth, salute thee.

12 Whe it knowen vnto the king that the Jewes, which came by from thee to vs, are come vnto Jerusalem (a citie rebellious and wicked) and build, and lay the founda- tions of the walles, and haue iopnd the foundations.

13 Whe it knowen now vnto the King, that if this citie be built, and the foundati- ons of the walles layde, they will not giue tolle, tribute, nor ^k custome: so shalt thou hinder the Kings tribute.

14 Solve therefore because ^l we haue bene brought by in the Kings palace, it was not meete for vs to see the Kings dishonour: for this cause haue we sent and certified the king,

15 That one may searche in the booke of the Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this citie is rebellious and noyome vnto kings & p^{ri}nces, and that they haue moued sedition of old time, for ^m which cause this citie was destroyed.

16 Were certifie the king therefore, that if this citie bee builded, and the foundation of the walles layde, by this meanes the pos- tion beyond the River, shall not be thine.

17 ⁿ The King sent an answer vnto Rehum the chancellour, and Shimi^{thai} the Scribe, and to the rest of their compani- ons that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beynode the River, ^o Shalam, and ^p Cheeneth.

18 ^q The letter which pee sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me, 19 And ^r I haue commanded and they haue searched, and founde, that this citie of olde time hath made insurrection against kings, and hath rebelled, & rebellion hath bene committed therein.

20 There haue bene mightie Kings also ouer Jerusalem, which haue ruled ouer all beyode the River, and tolle, tribute, and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 ^s Make ye now a decree, that those men may cease, and that the citie be not built, til I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take heede now that pee faile not to doe this: why shoulde domage growe to hurt the King?

23 ^t When the copie of king Artahasthas- tes letter was read before Rehum and Shimi^{thai} the Scribe, and their compani- ons, they went by in all the haste to Jeru- salem vnto the Jewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.

24 Then ^u ceased the worke of the house of God, which was in Jerusalem, and did stay vnto the second peere of Darius King of Persia.

arose, and began to build the house of God at Jerusalem, and with them were the prophets of God, which helped them.

3 At the same time came to them Tatnai, which was captaine beponde the Riuer, and Shetherboznai and their companions, and said thus vnto them, Who hath giuen pou commaundement to builde this house, and to lay the foundations of these walles?

4 Then said wee vnto them after this manner, What are the names of the men that builde this building?

5 But the reple of the Lord was vpon the Elders of the Jewes, that they could not cause them to cease, til the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters thereunto.

6 The copie of the letter, that Tatnai captaine beponde the Riuer, and Shetherboznai & his companions, Appharsecbate, (which were beponde the Riuer) sent vnto King Darius.

7 They sent a letter vnto him wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIUS the King, all peace.

8 We it knowen vnto the King, that we went into the Prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with great stones, and beames are layde in the walles, and this worke is wrought speedily, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and said vnto them thus, Who hath giue pou commaundement to builde this house, and to lay the foundation of these walles?

10 We asked their names also, that wee might certifie thee, & that wee might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus, and said, We are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and builde the house that was built of olde and many yeeres agoe, which a great King of Israel builded, and founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had provoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, hee gaue them ouer into the hande of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel the Caldean, and he destroyed this house, & carried the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the first yeere of Cyrus King of Babel, King Cyrus made a decree to builde this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde and silver of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple that was in Jerusalem, and brought them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the King take out of the Temple of Babel, and they gaue them vnto one Sheshbazzar by his name, whom hee had made captaine;

15 And hee saide vnto him, Take these vessels and goe thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be built in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzar, and layde the foundation of the house of God, which is in Jerusalem, and since that time euen vntill now, hath it bene in building, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the King, let there be search made in the house of the Kings treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by King Cyrus, to build this house of God in Jerusalem, and let the King send his minde concerning this.

CHAP. VI.

At the commandement of Darius King of Persia, after the Temple was builded and dedicate, the children of Israel keepe the feast of vneauened bread.

Then * King Darius gaue commandement, and they made search in the treasure of the treasures, which were there layde vp in Babel.

2 And there was found in a coffer (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memoriall,

3 IN THE FIRST yeere of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Jerusalem, let the house be built, euen the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the walles thereof be joined together: let the height thereof be threescore cubites, and the breadth thereof threescore cubites,

4 Thre orders of great stones, & one order of timber, and let the expences be giuen of the Kings house.

5 And also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of gold and silver, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple which was in Jerusalem, and brought vnto Babel) and let him goe vnto the Temple that is in Jerusalem to his place & put them in the house of God.

6 Therefore Tatnai captaine beponde the Riuer, and Shetherboznai, and their companions Appharsecbate, which are beponde the riuer, be ye farre from thence.

7 Suffer ye the worke of this house of God, that the captaine of the Jewes and the Elders of the Jewes may builde this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandement what ye shall doe to the Elders of these Jewes, for the building of this house of God, that of p'uenues of the King, which is of the tribute beyond the riuer, there be incontinently expences giuen vnto these men that they cease not.

9 And that which they shall haue neede of, let it be giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullockes, or rammes, or lambs for the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheate, salt, wine and oyle, according to the appointment of the Priests that are in Jerusalem, that there be no fault,

10 That they may haue to offer sweete odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the Kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, that whose soeuer shall alter this sentence, the wood shall be pulled downe from his house, and shall be set vpon, and hee shall be hanged thereon.

1 By the commaundement of the King, Ezra and his companions come to Ieruſalem. 27 Hee giueth thanks to God.

Vhen as these thinges were done, the rulers came to me, saying, The people of Israel, and the Priests and the Leuites are not separated from the people of the landes (as touching their abominations to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, & Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Ammonites.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to themselves, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holie seede with the people of the landes, and the hande of the byinces and rulers hath bene chiefe in this trespass.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and plucked off the haire of mine head, and of my beard, and sat downe astonished.

4 And there assembled vnto me all that feared the wordes of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of captivity. And I sat downe astonished vntill the evening sacrifice.

5 And at the evening sacrifice I arose by from my heaume, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees, and spread out mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee, my God: for our iniquities are increased ouer our head, and our trespass is grouen by vnto the heauen.

7 From the dayes of our fathers haue we bene in a great trespass vnto this day, and for our iniquities haue we, our kings, and our Priests bene deliuered into the hand of the kings of the landes, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoyle, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a little space grace hath bene shewed from the Lorde our God, in causing a remnant to escape, and in giuing vs a small this help place, that our God may light out eyes; and giue vs a little resuming in our seruitude.

9 For though we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath inclined mercie vnto vs in the sight of the kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, and to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudah and in Jerusalem.

10 And now, our God, what shall we say after this? for wee haue forsaken thy commandments,

11 Which thou hast commanded by thy seruants the Prophets, saying, The lande wherunto ye goe to possesse it, is an vncleane lande, because of the filthinesse of the people of the landes, which by their abominations, and by their vncleannesse haue filled it from corner to corner.

12 Now therefore shal ye not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor seeke their peace nor wealth for ever, that ye may be strong and eate the goodnes of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for ever.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euill deedes, & for our great trespasses, (seeing that thou our God hast stayed vs from being beneath & for our iniquities, and hast giuen vs such deliuerance)

14 Should we returne to breake thy commandments, and ioyne in amicitie with the people of such abominations? wouldest not thou bee angry toward vs till thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant nor any escaping?

CHAP. X.

1 The people repents and turne, and put away their strange wives.

Whiles Ezra prayed thus, and confessed himselfe weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there also scumbled vnto him of Israel a very great Congregation of men, and women and children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

2 Then Shechaniah the sonne of Jehiel one of the sonnes of Elam, answered, and saide to Ezra, Wee haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wives of the people of the lande, yet nowe there is hope in Israel concerning this.

3 Nowe therefore let vs make a covenant with our God, to put away all the wives, (and such as are boyne of them) according to the counsell of the Lord, and of those that feare the commandements of our God: & let it be done according to the law.

4 Write for the matter ^a belongeth vnto thee: we also will be with thee: be of counsell and doe it.

5 Then arose Ezra, & caused the chiefe Priestes, the Levites, & all Israel to sweare, that they would do according to this word.
So they swore.

6 And Ezra rose vp fro before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Jo-shanan the sonne of Eliashib: he went euen thither, but hee did eate neither bread, nor drinke water: for hee mourned, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie.

7 And they caused a Proclamation to go throughout Iudah and Jerusalem, vnto all them of the captiuitie, that they should assemble themselves vnto Jerusalem.

8 And whosoever woulde not come within three dayes according to the counsell of the Princes and Elders, all his substance shoulde be forfeyte, and he should be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 Then all the men of Iudah & Beniamin assembled themselves vnto Jerusalem within three dayes, which was the twentieth day of the ninth moneth, and all the people sate in the streete of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the same.

10 And Ezra the Priest stood vp, & said vnto them, We haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wives, to increase the tres-passe of Israel.

11 Nowe therefore giue prayse vnto the Lord God of your father, and do his will,
and separate your selues from the people of the land, and from the strange wives.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and said with a loude voyce, So wil we do according to thy wordes vnto vs.

12 But the people are many, and it is a rairie weather, & we are not able to stande without, neither is it the worke of one day or two: for wee are many that haue offensded in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore before all the Congregation, & let all them which haue taken strange wives in our cities, come at the time appointed, & with them the Elders of euery cite and the Iudges thereof, till the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15 Then were appointed Jonathan the sonne of Ushai, and Jahasiah the sonne of Tikvah ouer this matter, and Heshullam and Shabbethai the Levites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so and departed, euen Ezra the Priest and the men that were chiefe fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and sate downe in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

17 And until the first day of the first mo-neth they were finishing the business with all the men that had taken strange wives.

18 And of the sonnes of the priests there were men founde, that had taken strange wives, to wit, of the sonnes of Jeshua, the sonne of Jozabab, and of his brethren, Maaseiah, Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gedas

THE ARGUMENT.

GOD doth in all ages and at all times set vp worthy persons for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as now within the compasse of fewe yeres he raised vp diuers excellent men for the preservation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabel, Ezra, & Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their capitaine to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was builded: the second reformed their manners, and planted religion: and the third builded vp the walles, deliuered the people from oppression, and provided that the Lawe of God was put in execution among them. He was a godly man and in great authoritie with the King, so that the King fauoured him greatly, and gaue him most ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he could desire. This booke is also called of the Latines the second of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

4 Nehemiah bewailerth the calamitie of Ierusalem. 5 He confesseth the sinnes of the people, & prayeth God for them.

He wordes of Nehemiah the sonne of Hachaliah. In the moneth^a Chusen, in the twentieth peere, as I was in the palace of Shulhan, 2 Came Hanani one of my brethren, he and the men of Iudah, and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were deliuered, which were of the residue of the captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalem.

a Which containeth part of November and part of December, and was their ninth moneth.
b A Iewe as I was.

c Meaning, in Iudea.

3 And they sayde vnto me, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the prouince, are in great affliction and in reproche, and the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these wordes, I sate downe and wept, and mourned certaine dayes, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen.

5 And saide, O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepeth couenant and mercie for them that loue him, and obserue his commandements,

6 I pray thee, let thine eares be attent, and thine eyes open, to heare the prayer of thy seruant, which I pray before thee day by day, and night for the children of Israel thy seruants, and confesse the sinnes of the children of Israel, which wee haue sinned against thee, both I and my fathers house haue sinned:

7 Wee haue kept grievously sinned against thee, & haue not kept the commandements, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements which thou commandedst thy seruant Moses.

8 I beseech thee, remember the worde that thou commandedst thy seruant Moses, saying, Ye wil transgresse, and I wil scatter you abroad among the people.

9 But if I returne vnto me, and keepe my commandements, & do them, & though your scattering were to the vttermost part of the heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, & will bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen, to place my Name there.

10 Now these are thy seruants and thy people, whome thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mightie hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let thine eares not hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruants, who desire to feare thy Name, and I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of this man: for I was the kings butler.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiah had obtained letters of Artaxerxes, 11 He came to Ierusalem, 17 And builded the walles.

Now in the moneth^a Nisan in the twentieth peere of King^b Artahabshre, the wine slood before him, and I tooke up the wine, and gaue it vnto the King. Now I was not before him in his presence.

2 And the King sayde vnto me, Why is thy countenance sadde, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing, but sorrowe of heart. Then was I sore afraid,

3 And I said to the King, God saue the King for ever: why should not my countenance be sad, when the citie & house of the sepulchres of my fathers lyeth waste, and the gates thereof are deniured with fire?

4 And the King said vnto me, For what thing dost thou require? Then I prayed to the God of heauen,

5 And sayde vnto the King, If it please the King, and if thy seruant haue found fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Iudah vnto the citie of my fathers sepulchres, that I may build it.

c I desired God in mine heart to prosper mine enterprise.

6 And the King said vnto me, (the Queene also sitting by him) How long shall thy iourney be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and he sent me, and I set him a tyme.

7 After I said vnto the King, If it please the King, let them giue me letters to pass thames beyonde the River, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Iudah, g They were encouraged and gaue themselves to doe well, and to trauell in this worthie enterprise.

h. These were three chiefe gouernours vnder the King of Persia beyond Euphrates.

i Thus the wicked when they will burden the children of God, euer lay treason vnto their charge, both because it maketh them most odious to the world, and also stirreth the hatred of Princes most against them.

k Neither ye are of the number of the children of God (to whom he hath appointed this cite one-ly) neither did any of your predecessors euer feare God,

8 And letters vnto Shash the keeper of the Kings parkes, that he may giue me liberty to build the gates of the palace (which appertained to the house) & to the walles of the cite, and for the house that I shal enter into. And the King gaue mee according to the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 I Then came I to the captaimes bespoude the river, and gaue them the kings letters. And the King had sent captaimes of the armie and horsemen with me.

10 But Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieved them sore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the chidren of Israel.

11 So I came to Jerusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I rose in the night, I, and a few men with mee: for I tolde no man what God hath put in mine heart to do at Jerusalem, and there was not a beast with me, save the beast wherupon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the walley, and came before the Dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the walles of Jerusalem, howe they were broken downe, and the postes thereof deuoured with the fire.

14 Then I went forth vnto the gate of the fountaine, and to the Kings fishpoule, and there was no roome for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then went I up in the night by the brooke, and viewed the wall, and mined backe, and coming backe, I entered by the gate of the walley and returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I said vnto them, He see the miserie that we are in, howe Jerusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let vs build the wal of Jerusalem, that we be no more a reproch.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God (which was good ouer mee) and also of the Kings wordes, that hee had spoken vnto mee. And they sayde, let vs rise, and builde. So they strengthened their hande to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs, and despised vs, and sayde, What a thing is that ye doe? Will ye rebel against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and sayd to them, The God of heauen, hee will prosper vs, and wee his seruants will rise vp and builde: but as for you, ye haue no portion nor right, nor memoriall in Jerusalem.

CHAP. III.

Then arose Eliashib the hie Priest with his brethren the Priests, and they build the Sheepgate: they repaired it, and set vp the doores thereof: euen vnto the towre of Sheph repaired they it, and vnto the towre of Hananeel.

2 And next vnto him builded the men of Jericho, and beside him Zaccur the sonne of Imri.

6 And the gate of the olde fishpoule fortified Jashubada the sonne of Paseah, and Meshullam the sonne of Meshebeal: they lapde the braimes thereof, and set on the doores thereof, and the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

7 Next vnto them also fortified Melatiah the Gibeonite, and Jadon the Seronothite, men of Sibeon, and of Shiphah, vnto the throne of the Duke, which was beyond the Kiner.

13 The walley gate fortified Harim, and the inhabitants of Zaniah: they builde it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, euen a thousand cubites on the wall vnto the dung port.

14 But the dung port fortified Malchiah, the sonne of Rechab, the ruler of the fourth part of Beth-haccarem: he builde it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountaine fortified Shallum, the sonne of Col-hozeh, the ruler of the fourth part of Shiphah: he builded it, and covered it, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, and the wall vnto the fishpoule of Shelaiah by the Kings garden, and vnto the steepe that goe downe from the cite of David.

28 From aboue the horse gate forth fortified the Puellies, euery one ouer against his house.

29 After them fortified Zadok the sonne of Immer ouer against his house: and after him fortified Sheumai, the sonne of Shechani, the keeper of the Eastgate.

30 After him fortified Hananiah, the sonne of Shelemiah, and Hanan, the sonne of Zalaph, the first, another portion: after him fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Bezreiah, ouer against his chamber.

31 After him fortified Gadiah, the goldsmithes sonne, untill the house of the Methunims, and of the merchants ouer against the gate of Siphkad, & to the chambers in the corner.

32 And betwene the chamber of the corner unto the sheppegate, fortified the goldsmiths and the merchants.

CHAP. III.

7 The building of Ierusalem is hindered, 15 But God bretheth their enterprise, 17 The Jews build with one hand, & holde their weapons in the other,

But when Sanballat heard that we build the wall, then was he wroth and sore griled, and mocked the Jewes,

2 And said before his brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus he said, What doe these weake Jewes? will they fortifie the cities? will they sacrifice? will they finly it in a day? will they make the stones whole againe out of the heapes of dunt, seeing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and said, Although they build, yet if a force goe by, he shall enen brake down their stoute wall.

4 Heare, O our God (for we are despised) and turne their shame vpon their own head, and gine them vnto a pray in the land of their captiuitie.

5 And couer not their iniquitie, neither let their sinne be put out in thy presence: for they haue pronounced vs before the builders.

6 So we build the wall, and all the wall was topped vnto the halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ethiopians heard that the walled of Ierusalem were repaired, (for the breaches began to be stopped) then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all together to come and to fight against Ierusalem, and to hinder them.

9 Then we prayed vnto our God, and set waite vnto them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Iudah said, The strength of the beavers is weakened, and there is much earth, so that we are not able to builde the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had saide, They shall not know, neither see, till we come into the middes of them and slay them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Jewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they told vs ten times, from all places whence they shal returne, they will be vpon vs.

13 Therefore let I in the lower places behinde the wall vpon the toppes of the stones, & placed the people by their families with their swords, their speares and their bowes.

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, and said vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not afraine of them: remember the great Lord, and fearefull, & fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wiues, & your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was known vnto vs, then God brought their counsel to nought, and wee turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his worke.

16 And from that day, halfe of the strong men did the labour, & the other halfe part of them helde the heares, and shields, and bowes, and haberguns: and the rulers stood behinde all the house of Iudah.

17 They that builded on the wal, & they that that bare burdens, and they that loded, bid the woike with one hands, and with the other held the sword.

18 For euery one of the builders, had his sword guided on his shoulpes, and he builded: & he that blew the trumpet, was before me.

19 Then said I vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people. The woike is great and large, and wee are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

20 In what place therefore ye heare the sound of the trumpet, & reioyce, thither vnto vs: our God shall fight for vs.

21 So wee laboured in the woike, and halfe of them helde the speares from the appearing of the morning, till the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time said I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruice lodge within Jerusalem, & they may bee a watch for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my seruants, nor the men of the waide, (which followed me) none of vs did put off our clothes, eue euery one put them off for walshing.

CHAP. V.

The people were oppressed and in necessitie. Nehemiah reme dyeth it. He sake not the portion of others, was hee diuised by his bee shoulde grieue the people.

Now there was a great grie of the people, and of their wiues: against their brethren the Iewes.

2 For there were that sayde, Wee, our sonnes and our daughters are many, there fore we take vp coine, that wee may eate and liue.

3 And there were that sayde, We must gage our landes, and our vineyardes, and our houses, & take vp coine for the famine.

4 There were also that sayde, Wee haue borrowed money for the kings: & tribute vpon our landes and our vineyardes.

5 And now our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren, & our sonnes as their sonnes: and lo, we bring into bondage our sonnes, and our daughters, as seruants, and there be of our daughters now in fornication, and there is no power in our handes, for other men haue our landes and our vineyardes.

6 Then was I verie angrie when I heard their crye and these wordes.

7 And I thought in my minde, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and saide vnto them, Pout ye not: burdens euery one vpon his brethren: and I set a great assembly against them.

8 And I said vnto them, Wee according to our ability haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were solde vnto the heathen: & wil you sel your brethren againe, or shall they bee solde vnto vs? Then helde they their peace, and could not answer.

9 I saide also, That which ye doe, is i Meaning, Ne. not good. Might ye not to walke in p feare hemiah, of our God, for the reproch of the heathen k Who by this our enemies occasion will blaspheme the name of God, & say that our aduersaries are no better than theis. Or, Vsurie. of which ye take the wine and of the ople that pre tract of them for the lone.

10 For euery I, my brethren, & my seruants doe lend them money and coine: I pray you, let vs leaue off this burden.

11 Moreover, I pray you, vnto them this day their landes, their vineyardes, their oliues, and their houses, and remit the hundredth part of the tithe and of the coine, of the wine and of the ople that pre tract of them for the lone.

12 Then said they, We wil restore it, and wil not require it of them: we wil doe as thou hast said. Then I called the Princes, and caused them to sweare, & they should doe according to this promise.

13 So I thooke my lay, and saide, So let God shake our euery man that will not performe this promise, from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him bee shaken out, and emptied. And all the congregation saide, Amen, and praised the Lord: and the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time that the King gaue me charge to be gouernour in the lande of Iudah from the twentieth yeere, euen vnto the two and thirtieth yeere of King Artaxerxes, that is, twelue yeere, I, and my brethren haue not eaten the bread of the gouernour.

15 For the former gouernours that were before me, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides fourtie shekels of silver: yea, and their seruants bare rule over the people: but I did not I, because of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified a portion in the woike of this wall, & we thought, no land, and all my seruants came thither together vnto the woike.

17 Moreover there were at my table an hundred and fiftie of the Iewes, and Rulers which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared daily an ox, and fiftie sholten sheepe, and birdes were prepared for me, and within ten dayes wine for all in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grievous vnto this people.

19 Remember me, O my God, in goodness, according to all that I haue done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

Nehemiah answered with great wisdom, and saile to his aduersarie. Hee uot discouraged by the fals prophets.

And when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Neschem the Arabian, & the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there were no more breaches therein (though at that time I had not set vp the doores vpon the gates)

h Very grieue caused him to pray against such, which vnder the pretence of being the ministers of God, were aduersaries to his glory, and went about to ouerthrowe his Church, declaring also hereby that where there is one true minister of God, the deuill hath a great sort of hirclings.

4 Yet they sent vnto me foure times after this sort. And I answered them after the same maner.
5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant after this sort vnto me the fiftie time, with an open letter in his hand.
6 Wherein was written, It is reported among the heathen, and Calhann hath said it, that thou and the Jewes thinke to rebell, for the which cause thou buildest the wall, and thou wilt be their king according to these wordes.
7 Thou hast also ordeined a Prophet to preach of thee at Jerusalem, saying, There is a King in Iudah: and now according to these wordes it shall come to the Kings eares: soine noyse therefore, and let vs take counsell to gether.
8 Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these wordes that thou saiest: for thou fallest them of thine owne heart.
9 For all they ascraped vs, saying, Their handes shall be weakened from the worke, and it shall not be done: noyse therefore: encourage thou ille.
10 And I came to the house of Sheanaiah the sonne of Delaiah the sonne of Shebabei, and he was: I shut vp, and he said, Let vs come together vnto the house of God in the middes of the Temple, and shut the doores of the Temple: for they will come to slay thee: pray in the night watch they come to kill thee.
11 Then I said, Should such a man as I, flee? Who is he, being as I am, that would goe into the Temple to lye? I will not ge in.
12 And soe, I perceiued, that God had not sent him, but that hee pronounced this prophesie against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.
13 Therefore was he hired, that I might be afraide, and doe thus, and sinne, & that they might haue an euill report that they might reproch me.
14 Oo God, remember thou Tobiah and Sanballat according vnto these their wordes, and Iobadiah the Prophetesse also, & the rest of the Prophets that would haue put me in feare.
15 I stood withstanding the wall was finished on the five and twentieth day of the month, in two and fiftie daies.
16 And when all our enemies hearde thereof, even all the heathen that were about vs, they were afraide, and their courage failed them: for they knewe that this worke was wrought by our God.

17 And in these daies were there many of the princes of Iudah; whose letters came vnto Tobiah, and those of Tobiah came vnto them.
18 For there were many in Iudah, that were fowles vnto him: for hee was the sonne in lawe of Shechamiah, the sonne of Arahy: and his sonne Jehonathan had the daughter of shephullam, the sonne of Berechiah.
19 Pea, they spake in his praye before me, and rode him in woordes, and Tobiah sent letters to put me in feare.

3 And I said vnto the, Let not the gates of Jerusalem be opened, vntill the heate of the sunne: and while I stand by, let them shut the doores, and make the fast: and I appointed wardes of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, euery one in his ward, and euery one ouer against his house.
4 Now the cite was large and great, but the people were few therein, and the houses were not builded.
5 And my God put into mine heart, and I gathered the princes, and the rulers, and the people to count their genealogies: and I found a booke of the genealogie of them: which came vp at the first, and founde written therein,

CHAP. VIII.

2 Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Lawe, 12 They reioyce in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. 15 They keepe the feast of Tabernacles or boothes.

As for al the people assembled themselves together, in the streete that was before the watergate, and they spake vnto Ezra the Scribe, that he would bring the booke of the Lawe of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Lawe before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all that coulde heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the seuenth moneth.

3 And he read therein in the streete that was before the watergate (from the morning vntill the midday) before men and women, and them that vnderstoode it, and the eares of al the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Lawe.

4 And Ezra the Scribe stood vpon a pulpit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, & beside him stood Mattithiah, and Sheima, and Naniiah, and Vniah, and Hukiah, and Shaleiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Iddajah, and Elphai, and Salchiah, and Halhum, and Hashabana, Zechariah, and Bethsillan.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for he was above all the people: and when hee opened it, all the people stood vp.

6 And Ezra praised the Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their handes: and they bowed themselves, & worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ieshua, and Bani, & Sherebiah, Iamin, Akkub, Shabberai, Hodiah, Asaiah, Beita, Azariah, Josabab, Hanan, Delaiah, and the Levites caued the people to vnderstand the Lawe, and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the lawe of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, and caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the Priest and Scribe, and the Levites that instructed the people, sayd vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord: pour God: mourne not, neither weepe: for all the people wept, when they heard the wordes of the Lawe.

10 He sayd also vnto them, Doe and eate of the fat, and drinke the sweete, & send part vnto them, for whome none is prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not sorie therefore: for the joy of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Levites ma be silence throughout all the people, saym g. Hold your peace: for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eate and to drinke, and to send away part, & to make great ioy, because they had vnderstand the wordes that they had taught them.

13 And on the second day, the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Levites were gathered vnto Ezra the scribe, that hee also might instruct them in the wordes of the Lawe.

14 And they found writen in the Lawe, (that the Lord hath commanded by Moses) that the children of Israel should dwell in bootes in the feast of the seuenth moneth,

15 And that they should cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and bring olive branches, and pine branches, and branches of myrtus, and palme branches, & branches of thicketers to make bootes, as it is writen.

16 So the people went forth and brought them and made them bootes, euery one vpon the rooffe of his house, and in their courtes, and in the courtes of the house of God, and in the streete by the watergate, and in the streete of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie, made bootes, & late vnder the bootes: for since the time of Iehunia the sonne of Iam vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great ioy.

18 And he read in the booke of the Lawe of God euery day, from the first day vnto the last day. And they kept the feast seuen daies, and on the eight day a solenne assembly, according vnto the maner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people repents, and forsake their strange wives. 5 The Levites exhort them to praise God, 6 Declaring his wonders, 26 And their ingratitude, 30 And Gods great mercies towards them.

It the foure and twentieth day of this moneth, the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloth, and earth vpon them.

2 (And they that were of the seede of Israel were separated from all the strangers) and they stood and confessed their finnes and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stood vp in their place and read in the booke of the Lawe of the Lord their God foure times on the day, and they confessed and worshipped the Lord their God foure times.

4 Then stood vp vpon the staires of the Levites Ieshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani and Shebani, and cried with a loude voyce vnto the Lord their God.

5 And the Levites said, euen Ieshua and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabaniah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebamiah and Bethaniah, Stande vp, and praise the Lord your God for:

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoste, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, & all that are in them, and thou preferrest them all, and the hoste of the heauen worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God, that hast chosen Abram, and broughtest him out of * Ur in Caldea, * and madest his name Abraham.

8 And foundest his heart faithfull before thee, * & madest a covenant with him, to giue vnto his seede the lande of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, and Perizzites, and Iebusites, and Girgathites, and hast performed thy wordes, because thou art iust.

9 * Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the red Sea,

10 And shewed tokens and wonders vpon Pharaoh, and on all his seruants, and on all the people of his lande: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against thee: therefore thou madest thee a name, as appeareth this day.

11 * For thou diddest breake by the sea before them, and they went through the middes of the Sea on dry lande: and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bottomes as a stone, in the mightie waters:

12 And * leddest them in the day with a pillar of a cloude, and in the night with a pillar of fire to giue them light in the way that they went.

13 * Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sinai, and spakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgments, and true lawes, ordinances and good commandments,

14 And declaredst vnto them thine holy Sabbath, & commaundedst them precepts, and ordinances, and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruant:

15 * And gauest them bread from heauen for their hunger, * and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke for their thirst: and * promisedst them that they should go in, and take possession of the land, for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them.

16 But they and our fathers behaued themselves proudly, and hardened their necke, so that they hearkened not vnto thy commandments,

17 But refused to obey, and would not remember thy marueilous workes that thou haddest done for them, but hardened their neckes, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou O God of mercies, gracious and full of compassion, of long suffering and of great mercie, yet forsookest them not.

18 Moreover, when they made them a molten calfe (and sayde, This is thy God that brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt) and committed great blasphemies, 19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forsookest them not in thy wilderness: * the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by day to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to shewe them light, and the way wherewith they should goe.

20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, & withheldest not thy MAN from their mouth, and gauest them water for their thirst.

21 Thou biddest also feede them fourtie yeeres in the wilderness: they lacked nothing: * their clothes waxed not olde, and their feete: swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and people, and scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed * the land of Sihon and the lande of the King of Ieshbon, and the land of Agking of Baschan.

23 And thou diddest multiply their children, like the starrs of the heauen, and broughtest them into the lande, wherof thou haddest spoken vnto their fathers, that they should goe, and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, & possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the lande, euen the Canaanites, & gauest them into their handes, with their kings and the people of the land, that they might doe with them what they would.

25 And they tooke their strong cities and the fat land, and possessed houses, full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyardes, and olives, and trees for foode in abundance, and they did eate, and were filled, and became fat, and liued in pleasure through thy great goodnesse.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy law behind their backs, & slew the Prophets (which protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hande of their enemies that vered them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cried vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them sauiours, who saued them out of the hand of their aduersaries.

28 But when they had rest, they returned to do euill before thee: therefore ledest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuerted and cried vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times,

29 And protestedst among them that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy law: but they behaued themselves proudly, & hearkened not vnto thy commandments, but sinned against thy iudgements (*which a man should do and liue in them) and pulled away the shoulder, and were stiffnecked, and would not heare.

30 Yet thou & diddest forbear them many yeeres, and protestedst among them by diddest admonish them by thy Prophets, & Ebr. thou diddest prolong vpon them many yeeres.

31 Yet for thy great mercies thou hast not consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

32 Now therefore our God, thy great God, mightie and terrible, that keepeth covenant and mercie, let not all the affliction that hath come vnto vs, seeme a little before thee, that is, to our Kings, to our Princes, and to our Priests, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers, and to all thy people since the time of the Kings of Israhel vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou hast dealt truly, but we haue done wickedly.

34 And our Kings and our Princes, our Priests and our fathers haue not done thy Lawe, nor regarded thy commandements nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnesse that thou shewest vnto them, and in the large and fatte land which thou diddest set before them, and haue not conuerted from their euill works.

36 Wherefore, wee are seruants this day, and the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eate the fruite thereof, and the goodnes thereof, behold, wee are seruants therein.

37 And it pecketh much fruite vnto the Kings whom thou hast set ouer vs, because of our finnes: and they haue domination ouer our bodies and ouer our cattell at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

38 Now because of all this we make a sure covenant, and write it, and our Princes, our Leuites and our Priests seale vnto it.

 22 In the dayes of Eliahub, Joiada, and Johanan & Jaddua were the chief fathers of the Levites written, and the Priests in the reigne of Darius the Persian.
 23 The sonnes of Levi, the chief fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicles even unto the dayes of Johanan the sonne of Eliahub.
 24 And the chiefs of the Levites were Balthabiah, Sherebiah, & Ieshua the sonne of Kadmiel, and their brethren about them to give praye and thankes, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, warde one against warde.
 25 Mattaniah and Bakbukiah, Dbadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub were porters keeping ^d warde at the thresholds of the gates.
 26 These were in the dayes of Joiakim
 the sonne of Ieshua, the sonne of Jozadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the captaine, and of Ezra the Priest and scribe.
 27 And in the dedication of the wall at Jerusalem they sought the Levites out of all their places to bring them to Jerusalem to keepe the dedication and gladnesse, both with thanksgivings and with songs, psalmes, viols and with harpes.
 28 Then the ^e fingers gathered themselves together both from the plaine countrey about Jerusalem, and from the villages of ^f Artophathi,

29 And from the house of Gilgal, & out of the countrey of Gaba, and Hamath:
 for ^g fingers had built them bulwages round about Jerusalem.
 30 And the Priests and Levites were purified, & cleansed the people, & the gates, and the wall.
 31 And I thought by the princes of ^h Meaning, Ne-Judah upon the wall, and appointed two hemiah, great companies to give thanks, and the one went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.
 32 And after them went Beshaiah, and halfe of the princes of Judah,
 33 And Azariah, Ezra and Meshullam, 34 Judah, Beniamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah,
 35 And of the Priests sonnes with trumpets, Zechariah the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Pattaniah, the sonne of Michai, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Baph, 36 And his brethren, Shemaiah, and ^k That is, the Azarel, Bilalai, Galalai, Azaai, Berhanesci, and Judah, Hanani, with the musickall instruments of Dauid the man of God: &
 Ezra the scribe went before them.

37 And to the gate of the fountaine, even over against them went they by ^l Which was the stair of the cite of Dauid, at the going up of the wall beyond the house of Dauid, even unto the water gate Eastward.
 38 And the seconde company of their that gave thanks, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was upon the wall, & upon the towne of the furnaces even unto the broad wall.
 39 And upon the gate of Ephraim, and upon the olde gate, and upon the fishgate, and the towne of Hammeel, and the towne of Meah, even unto the Herpegate: & they stood in the gate of the warde.
 40 So stood ^m two companies (of them that gave thanks) in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.
 41 The Priests also, Eliakim, Haases-iah, Ominan, Michai, Choenai, Zeschariah, Hananiah, with trumpets, 42 And Balthabiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzi, and Jehohanan, and Galchiah, and Elam, and Ezer: and the fingers sang loud, hauing Isaiah which was the overleer.

43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices and rejoiced: for God had given them great ioy, so that both the women and the children were ioyfull: and the ioy of Jerusalem was heard farre off.
 44 Also at the same time there were appointed ⁿ over the chambers of the store for the offerings (for the first fruites, and for the tithes) to gather into them out of the fieldes of the citie the portions of the lawe for the Priests and the Levites: for Judah rejoiced for the Priests and for the Levites, that served.
 45 And both the fingers and the Levites kept the ward of their God, & the warde of the purification according to the commadement of Dauid, and Salomon his sonne.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The Lawe is read. 3 They separate from them all strangers. 15 Nehemiah reprimeth them that broke the Sabbath. 30 An ordinance to serue God.

And on that day did they read in the booke of Moses, in the audience of the people, & it was found written therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite * should not enter into the Congregation of God.

2 Because they mette not the children of Israel with bread and with wine, & had hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3 Now when they had heard the Lawe, they separated from Israel * all those that were mixed.

4 And before ^b this had ^p Priest Elias shib ^p ouersight of the chabber of the house of our God, being * kinsman to Tobiah:

5 And he had made him a great habber, and there had they sometime layde the offings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tythes of come, of wine, & of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the fingers, and the porters) and the offerings of the Priestes.

6 But in all this time was not ^p ^p in Jerusalem: for in the two and thirtieth yere of Artaxasthe King of Babel, came ^p vnto the King, and ^p after certaine dayes ^p obtained of the King.

7 And when ^p was come to Jerusalem, ^p vnderstoode the euill that Elashib had done for Tobiah, ^p he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God.

8 And it grieved me for: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commaunded them to cleanse the chambers: and thither brought ^p again the vessels of the house of God with the meate offering and the incense.

10 And ^p perceived that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, & that euery one was fled to his lande, euen the Le-uites and fingers that executed the worke.

11 Then reprimoued ^p the rulers & saide,
Why is the house of God forsaken? And ^p assembled them, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iudah the tythes of come and of wine, and of oyle vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasures. Shelemiah the Priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Leuites, Jedaiah, and vnder their hand Hanan the sonne of Zaecur the sonne of Bathaniah: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to be mercesfull vnto their brethren.

14 Remember me, O my God, herein, & wiue not out my kindness that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the offices thereof.

15 In those dayes kept ^p in Iudah them, that trode wine presses on the Sabbath, and that brought in sheaves, and which laded asses alio with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Jerusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and ^p protested to them in the day that they shold violate.

16 There dwelt men of Tyris also therein, which brought fish and all waares, & sold on the Sabbath vnto the children of Judah euen in Jerusalem.

17 Then reprimoued ^p the rulers of Judah, and sayde vnto them, Wherewith thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers * thus, & our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this cite? yet ye increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breakeing the Sabbath.

19 And when the gates of Jerusalem began to be darke before the Sabbath, ^p commaunded to shut the gates, & charged, that they shoud not bee opened till after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants set ^p at the gates, that there shoud no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen and marchantes of night without Jerusalem.

they shoud cleanse themselves, & that they

THE ARGUMENT.

Because of the diuersitie of names, whereby they vsed to name their Kings, and the supputation of yeeres, wherein the Ebreues, and the Grecians doe varie, diuers authors write diuersly as touching this Ahashuerosh, but it seemeth, Daniel 6. 1, and 9. 1, that he was Darius King of the Medes, and sonne of Astyages, called also Ahashuerosh, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chiefe, as thiefe head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church, who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, he euertureth vp vpon him by whom he sendeth comfort, and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride and crueltie of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their sudden fall when they are at highest: and how God preferueth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glory, and haue a care and loue toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

3 King Ahashuerosh maketh a royall feast, 12 whereunto the Queene Vashti will not come, 19 for which cause she is diuorced, 20 The kings decree touching the preeminence of man.

In the dayes of Ahashuerosh (this is Ahashuerosh p reignes fro India euen vnto Ethiopia ouer an hundred & seuen and twentie yonnes)

2 In those dayes when the King Ahashuerosh sate on his throne, which was in the palace of Shulhan,

3 In the third pere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his princes & his seruants, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the captaines & gouernours of the prouinces which were before him,

4 That he might shew the riches & glorie of his kingdome, and the honour of his great maiestie many dayes, euen an hundred and foure score dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the King made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shulhan, both vnto great and small seuen dayes, in the court of the garden of the kings palace,

6 Vnder an hanging of white, Greene, and blew cloths, fastened with robes of fine linen and purple, in silver rings, and pillars of marble: the beds were of gold, and of silver vpon a pavement of porphyrie, and marble and alabaster, and blew colour.

7 And they gaue them drinke in vessels of golde, & changed vessell after vessell, and ropall wine in abundance according to the power of the King.

8 And the drinke was by an order, none might compel: for so the King had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they shoulde doe according to euery mans pleasure.

9 ¶ The Queene Vashti made a feast also for the women in the ropal house of king Ahashuerosh.

10 Vpon the seventh day, when p King was merry with wine, he commanded Medians, Bithians, Parthians, and Medians, Zerhars, and Carcas, the seuen Eunuchs, (that serued in the presence of king Ahashuerosh)

11 To bring Queene Vashti before the King with the crowne ropall, that he might shew the people & the princes her beautie: for she was faire to looke vpon.

12 But p Queene Vashti refused to come at the kings word, & which he had giuen in charge to p eunuchs: therefore p King was very angry, and his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the King sayd to the wise men, that knew p times (for so was the kings manner towards all that knew the law and the iudgement:

14 And the next vnto him was Carshena, Sherhar, Admatha, Tarshish, Spores, Sparlena and Spemucan the seuen princes of Persia & Media, which sawe the kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome)

15 What shall we doe vnto the Queene Vashti according to the law, because she did not according to p word of p King Ahashuerosh by the commission of the eunuchs?

16 Then Spemucan answered before the King and the princes, The Queene Vashti hath not onely done & euil against the king, but against all the princes, and against all the people that are in all the prouinces of king Ahashuerosh.

17 For the act of the Queene shall come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbonds in their owne eyes, and shall say, The king Ahashuerosh commanded Vashti the Queene to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 So shall the princesses of Persia & Media this day say vnto all the Kings Princes, when they heare of the acte of the Queene: thus shall there be much despitefulness, and wrath.

19 If it please the King, let a ropal decree proceede from him, and let it be written among the statutes of Persia, and Media (and let it not be transgressed) that Vashti come no more before king Ahashuerosh: and let the King giue her ropal estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

20 And when the decree of p King which shalbe made, shalbe published throughout all his kingdome (though it be great) all the women shall giue their husbonds honour, both great and small.

21 And this saying pleased the king and the 22 For he sent letters into all the p^rovinces of the king, into every p^rovince according to the writing thereof, that to every people after their language, that every man should beare rule in his owne house, and that he should publish it in the language of the same people.

C H A P. II.

1 After the Queene was put away, certaine yong maids are brought to the king, 17 Ester pleases the king, and is made Queene. 22 Mordecai discloseth unto the King these that would betray him.

After these things, when the wrath of King Ahasuerus was appeased, hee remembered Vashti, and what shee had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 And the kings servants that ministered unto him, saide, let them seeke for the king beautiful pong virgins,

3 And let the king appoint officers throug^h all the p^rovinces of his kingdome, and let them gather all the beautiful pong virgins unto the palace of Shulhan, into the house of the women, under the hand of Yege the kings eunuche-keeper of the women, to give them their things for p^rovision.

4 And the mapde that shall please the king: let her reigne in the stead of Vashti. And this pleased the king, and hee did so.

5 ¶ In the citie of Shulhan, there was a certaine Jewe, whose name was Mordecai the sonne of Jair, the sonne of Sheimei, the sonne of Kili a man of Beniamin.

6 Which had bene carried away from Jerusalem with the captivitie that was carried away with Ieconiah king of Iudah (whom Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel had carried away)

7 And hee nourished Hadassah, that is Ester, his uncles daughter: for shee had neither father nor mother, & the maid was faire, and beautiful to looke on: and after the death of her father & her mother, Mordecai tooke her for his owne daughter.

8 And when the kings commandement, and his decree was published, and manie mapdes were brought together to the palace of Shulhan, under the hande of Yege, Ester was brought also unto the kings house under the hand of Yege the keeper of the women.

9 And the mapde pleased him, and shee found favour in his sight: therefore hee caused her things for purification to bee given her freely, and her state, and seven comes maidens to bee given her out of the kings house, and hee gave chaurage to her and to her mapdes of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Ester shewed not her people and her kintred: for Mordecai had charged her, that she should not tell it.

11 And Mordecai walked every day before the court of p^r women house, to know if Ester did well, and what should bee done with her.

12 And when the course of every maide came, to goe in to king Ahasuerus, after that shee had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of p^r women (for so were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, sixe moneths with oyle of myrrhe, and sixe moneths with sweete odours and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the mapdes unto the king, whatsoener he required, was given her, to go with her out of the womens house unto the kings house.

14 In the evening he went, and on the morow hee returned into the second house of the women under the hand of Shashtgaz the kings eunuch, which kept the concubines: she came in to the king no more, except hee pleased the king, and that shee were called by name.

15 Nowe when the course of Ester the daughter of Abihai the uncle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, that she should goe in to the king, shee desired nothing, but what Yege the kings eunuche the keeper of the women said: and Ester found favour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

16 So Ester was taken unto king Ahasuerus into his house royal in the tenth moneth, which is the moneth Tebeth, in the seventh yeere of his reigne.

17 And the king loved Ester above all the women, and shee found grace and favour in his sight more then all the virgins: so that hee set the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, and made her Queene in stead of Vashti.

18 Then the king made a great feast unto all his princes, & his servants, which was the feast of Ester, and gave rest vnto the p^rovinces, and gave gifts, according to the power of a king.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the second time, then Mordecai late in the kings gate.

20 Ester had not yet shewed her kintred nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Ester did after p^r word of Mordecai, as when shee was nourished wth him.

21 ¶ In those dayes when Mordecai late in the kings gate, two of the kings eunuches, Bigthan, & Teresh, which kept the doore, were woth, and sought to lay a hand on the king Ahasuerus.

22 And the thing was knowne to Mordecai, and hee tolde it vnto Queene Ester, and Ester certified the king thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquisition was made, it was found so: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the Chronicles before the King.

C H A P. III.

1 Haman, after hee was exalted, obtained of the king, that all the Jewes should be put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship as other had.

After these things did King Ahasuerus promote Haman the son of Hamanmethatha the Agagite, and crated him, and set his seat above all the princes that were with him.

reuerenced Haman: for ^a king had so commanded concerning him: but Mordcai would not the knee, neither did reuerence.
3 Then the kings seruants which were at the kings gate, said vnto Mordcai, Why transgresses thou the kings commaundes in this?
4 And albeit they spake daily vnto him, yet he would not heare them: therefore they tolde Haman, that they might see howe Mordcai matters would stand: for he had tolde them, that he was a Jew.
5 And when Haman sawe that Mordcai bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.
6 How he thought it too litle to lay handes onely on Mordcai: and because they had shewed him the people of Mordcai, Haman sought to destroy all the Jewes that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahaluerod, euen the people of Mordcai.
7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth of Nissan) in the twelfth peere of King Aha-shuerod, they cast Pur (that is a lot) before Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, vnto the twelfth moneth, that is the moneth of Adar.
8 Then Haman said vnto King Ahas-uerod, There is a people scattered, & dispersed among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are di-uers from all people, and they doe not ob-serue thy kings lawes: therefore it is not the kings profite to suffer them.
9 If it please the king, let it be written that they may be destroyed, & I will pay ten thousand talents of silver by the hands of them that haue the charge of this businesse to buye it into the kings treasure.
10 Then the king tooke his ring from his hande & gave it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jewes aduersarie.
11 And the king saide vnto Haman, Let the silver be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaseth thee.
12 Then were the kings scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, & there was written (according to all that Haman commaunded) vnto the kings officers, and to the captaynes that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people and to euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people according to their language: in the name of King Ahaluerod was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.
13 And the letters were sent by postes into all the kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill and to destroy all the Jewes, both young and olde, children and women, in one day vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth. (which is the moneth of Adar) and to spoyle them as a pray.
14 The contents of the writing was, that there should bee given a commaundement in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they should be readie against the same day.

15 And the postes compelled by the kings commaundement went forth, and the commaundement was given in the palace at Shulhan: and the king and Haman sat drinking, but the cite of Shulhan was in perplexitie.
CHAP. IIII.
1 Mordcai giueth the Queene knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Jewes, 16 She willeth that they pray for her.
Now when Mordcai perceiued all that was done, Mordcai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth and ashes, and went out into the middes of the cite, and cryed with a great crye, and a biter.
2 And hee came euen before the kings gate, but he might not enter within the kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.
3 And in euery prouince, and place, whither the kings charge and his commaundion came, there was great sorow among the Jewes, and fasting, & weeping, and mourning, & many lay in sackcloth & in ashes.
4 Then Esters maids & her euniches came and tolde it her: therefore the Queene was very haire, and she sent raiment to clothe Mordcai, & to take away his sackcloth from him, but he received it not.
5 Then called Ester Harach one of the kings euniches, whom he had appoynted to serue her, and gaue him a commaun-dement vnto Mordcai, to knowe what it was, and why it was.
6 So Harach went forth to Mordcai vnto the streete of the cite, which was before the kings gate.
7 And Mordcai tolde him of all that which had come vnto him, & of the summe of the silver that Haman had promised to pay vnto the kings treasures, because of the Jewes, for to destroy them.
8 Also he gaue him the copie of the wis-ting & commaundion that was giue at Shulhan, to destroy them, that he might shewe it vnto Ester and declare it vnto her, and to charge her, that she should go in to the king, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.
9 So when Harach came, he tolde Ester the wordes of Mordcai.
10 Then Ester sayde vnto Harach, and commaunded him to say vnto Mordcai, 11 All the kings seruants doe know, that whosoener, man or woman, that cometh to the king into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that he shall die, except him to whom the king holdeth out the golden rod, that he may liue. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the king these thirtie dayes.
12 And they certified Mordcai of Esters wordes.
13 And Mordcai saide that they should answere Ester thus, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kings house, more then all the Jewes.
14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, & consort and deliuerance shall ap-

16 So, and assemble all the Iewes that are found in Shushan, and fast wee for me, and eate not, nor drinke in thre dayes, day nor night. I also and my maides will fast likewise, & so wil I go in to the king, which is not according to the lawe: and if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

1 Ester entred in to the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 14 Haman prepareth a gallows for Mordecai.

As on the thirde day Ester put on her ropall apparell, and stode in the court of the kings palace within, ouer against the kings house: and the king satte vpon his ropall thione in the kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the king sawe Ester the Queene standing in the court, he found fauour in his sight: and the king helde out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester drew neere, and toucht the toppe of the scepter.

3 Then sayde the king vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? and what is thy request? it shall be euen giuen thee to the halfe of the kingdome.

4 Then said Ester, If it please the king, let the king & Haman come this day vnto the banker, that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king sayde, Cause Haman to make haste that he may doe as Ester hath said. So the king and Haman came to the banker that Ester had prepared.

6 And the king said vnto Ester at the banker of wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shall euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then answered Ester, and saide, My petition and my request is,

8 If I haue found fauour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to giue me my petition, and to performe my request, let the king and Haman come to the banker that I shall prepare for them: and I will do to morow according to the kings saying.

9 I Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull & with a glad heart. But when Haman sawe Mordecai in the kings gate, that hee stode not vp, nor moued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Nevertheless Haman refrained himselfe: and when he came home, he sent, and called for his friends, & Zereth his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him, and how that he had set him above the princes and seruants of the king.

12 Haman said moreover, Behold, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the king to the banker that he had prepared, saue me: and to morow am I bidden vnto her also with the king.

13 But all this doeth nothing aniaile me, as long as I see Mordecai & Iewes sitting at the kings gate.

14 Then said Zereth his wife & all his friends vnto him, let them make a tree of fittie cubites hee, and to morow speake thou vnto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou go ioyfully with the king vnto the banker. And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused to make the tree.

CHAP. VI.

1 The king turneth ouer the Chronicles & findeth the fidelitie of Mordecai. 10 And commandeth Haman to cause Mordecai to be had in honour.

The same night & the king slept not, and he commaunded to bring the booke of the recordes and the Chronicles: and they were read before the king.

2 Then it was found written that Mordecai had tolde of Bigtana, and Zereth two of the kings euniches, keepers of the doore, who sought to lay hands on the king Nabuchodonosor.

3 Then the king sayde, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecai for this? And the kings seruants that ministered vnto him, said, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the king said, Who is in prison? (Saw Haman was come into the inner court of the kings house, that hee might speake vnto the king to hang Mordecai on the tree that hee had prepared for him.)

5 And the kings seruants said vnto him, Beholde, Haman standeth in the court. And the king sayde, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the king said vnto him, What hast thou done vnto me, whom the king wil honour? The Haman thought in his heart, To whome would the king do honour more then to me?

7 And Haman answered the king, The man whom the king would honour,

8 Let them bring for him ropall apparell, which the king useth to weare, & the horse that the king rideth vpon, and that the crowne ropall may be set vpon his head.

9 And let the raiment and the horse be deliuered by the hand of one of the kings most noble princes, and let them apparell the man (whom the king wil honour) and cause him to ride vpon the horse through the streete of the citie, and proclaim before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man, whom the king wil honour.

10 Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, take the raiment and the horse as thou hast said, and do so vnto Mordecai the Iew, that sitteth at the kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Haman rooke the raiment & the horse, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on horsebacke through the streete of the citie, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king wil honour,

CHAP. VIII.

12 And Mordecai came againe to the kings gate, but Haman halted home mourning and his head covered.

13 And Haman tolde Zeresh his wife, & all his friends all that had befallen him. Then said his wife men, & Zeresh his wife vnto him, If Mordecai bee of the see de of the Iewes, befoze whome thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not preuaile against him, but shalt surely fall befoze him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings eunuches & hastened to bring Haman vnto the banquet that Ester had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

3 The Queene biddeth the king and Haman againe, and prayeth for her selfe and her people. & she accuseth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallows, which he had prepared for Mordecai.

4 The king and Haman came to banquet with the Queene Ester.

2 And the king said againe vnto Ester on the second day at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, Queene Ester, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? It shall be euen performed vnto the halfe of the kindeome.

3 And Ester the Queene answered, and said, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be giuen me at my petition, and my people at my request.

4 For we are solde, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slaine and to perish: but if we were solde for seruants, and for handmaidens, I would haue helde my tongue: although the aduersarie could not recompense the kings losse.

5 Then king Ahasuerus answered, & saide vnto the Queene Ester, Who is hee? and where is hee that presumeth to doe thus?

6 And Ester saide, The aduersarie and enemye is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraide befoze the king and the Queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet of wine in his wrath, and went into the palace garden: but Haman stood by, to make request for his life to the Queene Ester: for he saue that there was a mischief prepared for him of the king.

8 And when the king came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Haman was fallen vpon the bed whereon Ester lay: therefore the king said, Will hee force the Queene also befoze me in the house? As the worde went out of the kings mouth, they covered Hamans face.

9 And Harbonah one of the eunuches, said in the presence of the king, Beholde, there standeth yet a tree in Hamans house fiftie cubits high, which Haman had prepared for Mordecai, that hee might hang vpon the tree. Then the king sayde, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the tree, that hee had prepared for Mordecai: then was the kings wrath pacified.

1 After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted, 14 Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

The same day did king Ahasuerus giue the house of Haman the aduersary of the Iewes vnto the Queene Ester. And Mordecai came befoze the king: for Ester tolde what he was vnto her.

2 And the king tooke off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mordecai: and Ester let Mordecai enter the house of Haman.

3 And Ester spake yet more befoze the king, and fell downe at his feete weeping, and brought him that he would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that hee had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the king helde out the golden scepter toward Ester. Then arose Ester, and stood befoze the king.

5 And said, If it please the king, and if I haue found fauour in his sight, & the thing be acceptable befoze the king, and I please him, let it be written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman the sonne of Ammedas, that the Agagite may be called againe, which he wrote to destroy the Iewes, that are in all the kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the cruel, that shall come vnto my people? Or how can I suffer and see the destruction of my kindred?

7 And the king Ahasuerus said vnto the Queene Ester, and to Mordecai the Iew, Beholde, I haue giuen Ester the house of Haman, wherein they haue hanged vpon a tree, because hee laide hand vpon the Iewes.

8 Write ye also for the Iewes, as it lieth vpon in the kings name, and seale it with the kings ring: for the writings written in the kings name, and sealed with the kings ring, may no man reuoke.

9 Then were the kings scribes called at the same time, one in the third moneth, that is the moneth of Siuan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commanded vnto the Iewes, & to the princes, and captains, and rulers of the prouinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia an hundred and seuen and twentie prouinces, vnto euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their speech, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the king Ahasuerus roly name, and sealed it with the kings ring: and he sent letters by posts on horses backe, and that rode on beskes of pice, as couriers and coltes of mares.

11 Wherein the king granted the Iewes (in what cities former they were) to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, and to roote out, to slay and to destroy all the power of the people and of the prouince that vexed them, both children and women, and to speele their goods:

day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth of Adar.

13 The copie of the writing was, howe there should be a commandement giuen in all and euery prouince, published among al the people, and that the Jewes should be readie against that day to k^auange themselves on their enemies.

14 So the postes rode vpon beasts of price, & byomedaries, & went forth with speere, to execute the kings commandement, and the decree was giuen at Shulhan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the king in royal apparel of blew, and white, and with a great crowne of gold and with a garment of fine lincn and purple, and the cite of Shulhan reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Jewes was comelighit and ioy and gladnesse, and honour.

17 Also in all and euery prouince, and in all and euery cite & place, where the kings commandement and his decree came, there was ioy and gladnesse to the Jewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land became Jewes: for the feare of the Jewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

a At the commandement of the king the Jewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten tonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Jewes keepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

S^d in the twelfth moneth, which is p^r mosneth Adar, vnto the thirteenth day of the same, when the kings commandement and his decree blew nere to be put in execution, in p^r day that the enemies of the Jewes hoped to haue power ouer the (but it turned contray: for the Jewes had rule ouer them that hated them.)

2 The Jewes gathered them selues together vnto their cities, throughout all the prouinces of the king Abasuerus, to lay hands on such as sought their hurt, and no man could withstande them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And al the rulers of the prouinces, and the princes and the captaynes, and the officers of the king b^eralled the Jewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings house, and the report of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai wayed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jewes wrote all their enemies with strokes of the sword a slaughter, a destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shulhan the palace slewe the Jewes and destroyed d^e five hundred men.

7 And Parshandatha, & Dalphon, and Abathah,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridastha,

9 And Varnashta, and Arisai, and Arisdai, and Baiesatha, 10 The tenne tonnes of Haman, the sonne of Ammedatha, the aduersarie of the Jewes slewe them: but they laped not their hands: on the people.

11 On the same day came the number of those that were slaine, vnto the palace of Shulhan before the king.

12 And the king laide vnto the Queene Ester, The Jewes haue slayne in Shulhan the palace and destroyed five hundred men, and the tenne tonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the kinges prouinces: and what is thy petition, that it may bee giuen thee? or what is thy request moreouer, that it may bee performed?

13 Then said Ester, If it please the king, let it bee graunted also to morowe to the Jewes that are in Shulhan, to doe according vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans tenne tonnes.

14 And the king charged to doe so, and the decree was giuen at Shulhan, & they hanged Hamans tenne tonnes.

15 So the Jewes that were in Shulhan, assembled themselves vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and slewe three hundred men in Shulhan, but on the spoile they laide not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Jewes that were in the kinges prouinces assembled themselves, and sloode for their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that b^e hated them, fourtie & five thousand: but they laide not their hand on the spoile.

17 This they did on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

18 But the Jewes that were in Shulhan, assembled themselves on p^r thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, and they rested on the fifteenth of the same, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

19 Therefore the Jewes of the villages that dwell in the vnwalled towines, kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feasting, euen a ioyfull day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 And Mordecai wrote these words, and sent letters vnto all the Jewes that were through all the prouinces of p^r king Abasuerus, both nere and farre, 21 Inuoyning them that they shoulde keepe the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, euery yere.

22 According to the dayes wherein the Jewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them from sorrow to ioy, and from mourning into a ioyfull day, to keepe them the dayes of feasting and ioy, and to send presents euery man to his neighbour, and gifts to the poore.

23 And the Jewes promised to doe as they had begun, & as Mordecai had written vnto them, 24 Because Haman the sonne of Varnashta, the Magagite al the Jewes aduersarie, had imagined against the Jewes, to destroy them, and had cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroy them.

f Thus the requieth, not for desire of vengeance, but with zeale to see Gods iudgements executed against his enemies.

26 Therefore they called these daies Purim, by the name of Pur, and because of all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seene besides this, & of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Jewes also ordeined, & promised for them and for their seede, and for all that loyded vnto them, p they would not faile to obserue those 2 daies euery yere, according to their wylning, and according to their season.

28 And that these daies shoulde be remembered, and kept throughout euery generation and euery familie, and euery province, and euery cite: euen these daies of Purim shoulde not faile among the Jewes, and the memorie of them shoulde not perish from their seede.

29 And the Queene Ester the daughter of Abihail and Mordecai the Jewe wrote with all authority (to confirme this letter of Purim the second time)

30 And he sent letters vnto all 7 Jewes to the hundredth, seuen and twentie prouinces of the kingdome of Whatshuerosh, with wordes of peace and truerth, 31 To confirme these daies of Purim, according to their seasons, as Mordecai the Jewe and Ester the Queene had appointed them, & as they had promised for themselves and for their seed with fasting and prayer.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Job was not onely extremely afflicted in outward things and in his body, but also in his minde, & conscience, by the sharpe tentations of his wife, and chiefe friends: which by their vehemend words, and subtil dispurations brought him almost to dispaire: for they set forth God as a seuerie Iudge, and mortall enemy vnto him, which had cast him off, therefore in vaine hee should seeke vnto him for succour. These friends came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, and at length had good successe. In this storie we haue to marke that Job maintaineth a good cause, but handleth it euill: againe, his aduersaries haue an euill matter, but they defendeit craftily. For Job held that God did not alway punish men according to their sinnes, but that hee had secret iudgements, whereof man knewe not the cause, and therefore man could not reason against God therein, but he should be conuicted. Moreover, he was assured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great torments and affliction, he brasteth forth into many inconueniences both of wordes and sentences, and sheweth himselfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that woulde resist God: and this is his good cause which he doth not handle well. Again, the aduersaries mainteine with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespass, grounding vpon Gods providence, his iustice, & mans sinnes, yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Job into despaire, and so they mainteine an euill cause. Ezekiel commendeth Job as a iust man, Ezekiel 14. 14. and Iames setteth out his patience for an example, Iames 5. 11.

sarie to God, yet he is compelled to obey him, and to doe him al ho-

8 And the Lorde sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my servant Iob, how none is like him in the earth: an upright and 9 Then Satan answered the Lorde, and said, Doest thou feare God for nought?

10 Hast thou not made an hedge about him and about his house, and about all that he hath on euery side: thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out now thine hand and touch all that he hath, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

12 Then the Lorde said vnto Satan, Doe all that he hath in thine hand: onely vpon himselfe shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the presence of the Lorde.

man hath, will be giue for his life.

5 But stretch now out thine hand, and touch his * bones and his fleshy, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lorde saide vnto Satan, Doe
he is in thine hand, but a saue his life.

7 ¶ So Satan departed fro the presence of the Lorde, & smote Iob with soze boiles,

8 And whiles he was yet speaking, there came another, and sayde, Behold, the Chaldeans have broken downe the charriot and the horse, and have taken the sheepe and the seruants, and have burnt them with fire.

came another, and sayde, Behold, the Chaldeans have broken downe the charriot

¹⁰ But he ſapd vnto her, Thou ſpeakeſt like a fooliſh woman: what ⁿ ſhall wee receiue good at the hand of God, and not receiue euill? In all this did not Job ſinne with his ^o lippes.

¹¹ Nowe when Job three ^p friends heard of all this euill that was come vpon him, they came euery one from his owne place, to wit, Eliphaz the Temanite, & Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.

²⁴ For my ſighing cometh before I eate, and my roarings are powred out like the water.

neſſe, neither had I reſt, ⁿ yet trouble is come.

CHAP. V.

1. 2. Eliphaz sheweth the difference betwene the children of God and the wicked. 3 The fall of the wicked. 4 Gods power, who destroyeth the wicked, and deliuereth him.

ALL now, if any will, answer thee, and to which of the saints wilt thou turne?
2 Doubtlesse anger killeth the foolishly, and enuie slapeth the idiothe.
3 I haue seene the foolishly well rooted, & suddenlly I cursed his habitation, saying, 4 His children shall bee farre from sal-uation, and they shall bee dektoped in the gate, and none shall deliuer them.
5 The hungry shall eate vpon his harvest:
pea, they shall take it from among the thornes, and the thirstie shall drinke vpon their substance.
6 For miserie commeth not forth of the dust, neither doeth affliction spring out of the earth.
7 But man is borne vnto trouble, as the sparkes flie upward.
8 But I woulde enquire at God, and turne my talke vnto God:
9 Which doeth great things and searchable, and maruelous things without number.
10 Hee giueth raine vpon the earth, and powreth water vpon the trees, 11 And setteth vpon hie them that bee lowe, that the fogosfull may bee exalted to saluation.
12 He scattereth the denises of the crastie: so that their hands can not accomplish that which they doe enterpise.
13 He taketh the wife in their craftines, and p counsell of the wicked is made foolishly.
14 They meete with darkenesse in the day time, and grope at noone day, as in the night.
15 But hee sauereth the poore from the sword, from their mouth, & from the hand of the violent man, 16 So that the poore hath his hope, but inquire shall stoppe her mouth.
17 Beholde, blessed is the man whome
God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almighty.
18 For he maketh the wound, and bind-eth it vpon he smiteth, and his hands make whole.
19 He shall deliuer thee in fire troubles, and in the seuenth the euill shall not touch
thee.
20 In famine he shall deliuer thee from death, and in battell from the power of the sword.
21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of his owne sinne. i Which declareth that sinne is euer in our corrupt nature: for before sinne it was not subiect to paine & affliction.
k If I suffred as thou doest, I would seeke vnto God. l He counselleth Iob to humble himselfe vnto God, to whome all creatures are subiect, and whose works declare that man is inexcusable, except he glorifie God in all his works. m He sheweth by particular examples, what the works of God are. 1. Cor. 3. 12. n In things plaine and euident they shew themselves fooles in stead of wisemen.
o This declareth that God punisheth the worldly wise, as he threat-ned, Deut. 32. 29. p That is, he humbleth himselfe before God.
q He compareth the slander of the wicked to sharpe swords. r If the wicked be compelled at Gods workes to stoppe their mouths, much more they that professe God. s He will send trouble after x God shall blesse thee, that thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things, and not to be offended.

y Though the children of God haue not alwayes this promise performed, yet God doth recompense it otherwise to their advantage. z Wee haue learned these poynts by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent: that man cannot compare in iustice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man suffereth, commeth for his owne sinne.

the tongue, and thou shalt not be afraid of destruction when it cometh.

22 But thou shalt laugh at destruction and death, and shalt not be afraid of the brail of the earth.

23 For the stones of the field shall be in league with thee, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt knowe, that peace shall be in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visite thine habitation, and shalt not sinne.

25 Thou shalt perceiue also, that thy seed shall be great, and thy posteritie as the grasse of the earth.

26 Thou shalt goe to thy graue in a full age, as a ricke of corne cometh in due season into the barn.

27 Lo, thus haue we enquired of it, and so it is: feare this and know it for thy selue.

CHAP. VI.

1 Iob answereth, that his paine is more grievous then his fault. 8 He wisheth death. 14 He complaineth of his friends.

B Ut Iob answered, and said, 2 Why that my griefe were wel weighed, and my miseries were laide together in the balance!

3 For it would be now heavier then the saide of the sea: therefore my wordes are swallowed vp.

4 For the arrows of the Almighty are in me, the venime whereof doeth drinke by my spirit, and the terrours of God fight against me.

5 Doeth the wilde asse bray when he hath grasse? or loweth the ore when he hath fodder?

6 That which is vnseasonable, shall it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?

7 Such things as my soule refused to touch, as were sorowes, are my meate.

8 Why that I might haue my desire, and that God would graunt me the thing that I long for!

9 That is, that God would destroy me: that he would let his hand goe, and cut me off.

10 Then shoulde I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with sorowe, let him not spare) because I haue not denied his wordes of the Holy one.

11 What power haue I that I shoulde endure? or what is mine end, if I should prolong my life?

12 Is my strength like strength of stones?

or is my flesh of brasse?

13 Is it not so, that there is in mee no helpe? & that strength is taken from mee?

14 Yet that is in miserie, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but men haue forsaken the feare of the Almighty.

15 My brethren haue deceiued mee as a brooke, and as the rising of the riuers they passe away.

16 Which are blackish with pee, and wherein the snow is hid.

17 But in time they are dried by with heate and are continued: and when it is hot, they faile out of their places.

18 Or they depart from their way and course, yea, they banish and perish.

19 They that goe to Tema, considered them, and they that goe to Shedar, waped for them.

20 But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither and were ashamed.

21 Surely nowe are ye like a binto it: ye haue leene my fearefull plague, and are afraid.

22 Was it because I sayde, Myng binto me? or giue a reward to me of pour substance?

23 And deliuer me from my enemies hand, or ransom me out of the hand of tyrants?

24 Teach mee, and I will holde my tongue: and cause me to vnderstand, where in I haue erred.

25 Howe steadfast are the wordes of righteousnesse? and what can any of pouer multiply repproue?

26 Doe ye imagine to repproue words, that the talke of the afflicted shoulde be as the winde?

27 Ye make pour wrath to fall vpon the fatherlesse, and dig a pit for pour friend.

28 Now therefore be content to looke vpon me: for I will not lie before pour face.

29 Turne, I pray you, let there be none iniquitie: returne, I say, and ye shall see yet my righteousnesse in that behalfe. Is there iniquitie in my tongue? doeth not my mouth teele sorowes?

30 Shewe mee wherein I haue erred, and I will confesse my fault. p Hee that hath a good conscience, doeth not shrinke at the sharpe wordes or reasonings of others, except they bee able to perswade him by reason. q Doe you cawill at my wordes because I should be thought to speake foolishly, which am nowe in miserie? Consider whether I speake as one that is driuen to this impatiencie through very sorowe, or as an hypocrite as you condemne me.

CHAP. VII.

1 Iob sheweth the shortnes & miserie of mans life.

2 Is there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? and are not his dayes as the dayes of an hireling?

3 As a seruant longeth for the shadowe, and as an hireling looketh for the end of his worke,

4 So haue I had as an inheritance the monthes of vanitie, and painefull nightes haue bene appoynted vnto me.

5 If I saye me downe, I saye, When moneth to moneth, and I haue looked for hope in vaine,

i Haue I not sought to helpe my selfe as much as was possible? || Or, wife, dame, or laue.

k He compareth those friends which comfort vs not in miserie, to a brooke, which in sommer, when we neede waters, is drie, in winter is hard frosen, and in the time of raine, when we haue no neede, overfloweth with water.

l They that passe thereby to goe into the hote countreies of Arabia, thinke to find water there, to quench their thirst, but they are deceiued.

m That is, like to this brooke, which deceiueth them, that thinke to haue water there in their neede, as I looked for consolation at your hands.

n He toucheth the worldlings, which for no necessity will giue part of their goods, and much more these men, which would not giue him comfortable wordes.

o Shewe mee wherein I haue erred, and I will confesse my fault.

p Hee that hath a good conscience, doeth not shrinke at the sharpe wordes or reasonings of others, except they bee able to perswade him by reason.

q Doe you cawill at my wordes because I should be thought to speake foolishly, which am nowe in miserie?

r Consider whether I speake as one that is driuen to this impatiencie through very sorowe, or as an hypocrite as you condemne me.

s He toucheth the worldlings, which for no necessity will giue part of their goods, and much more these men, which would not giue him comfortable wordes.

t He toucheth the worldlings, which for no necessity will giue part of their goods, and much more these men, which would not giue him com-

y He toucheth the worldlings, which for no necessity will giue part of their goods, and much more these men, which would not giue him coma To know whether I complain without iust cause.

b My griefe is so great, that I lacke words to expresse it.

c Which declareth that hee was not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest battell that the faithfull can haue.

d Thinke you that I grie without cause, seeing the brute beasts doe not complain when they haue what they would?

e Can a mans taste delite in that that hath no fauour? meaning that none take pleasure in affliction, seeing they cannot away with things that are vnseasonable to the mouth.

f Herein he sinneth double, both in wishing through impatiencie to die, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will.

g That is, let mee die at once, before I come to distrust in Gods promise through mine impatiencie.

h Hee feareth least he shoulde be brought to inconueniences, if his sorowes should continue.

i He toucheth the worldlings, which for no necessity will giue part of their goods, and much more these men, which would not giue him comfortable wordes.

k He toucheth the worldlings, which for no necessity will giue part of their goods, and much more these men, which would not giue him comfortable wordes.

l He toucheth the worldlings, which for no necessity will giue part of their goods, and much more these men, which would not giue him comfortable wordes.

c This signifieth that his disale was rare & most horrible.
d Thus he speaketh in respect of the breuicie of mans life, which passeth without hope of returning: in consideration whereof, he desireth God to haue compassion on him.
e If thou behold me in thine anger, I shall not be able to stand in thy presence.
f I shall no more enjoy this mortal life.
g Seeing I can by none other means comfort my selfe, I will declare my griefe by wordes: and thus he speaketh as one overcome with griefe of minde.
h Am not I a poore wretch? what needest thou then to lay so much paine on me?
i So that I can haue no rest, night nor day.
k He speaketh as one overcome with sorrow, and not of iudgement, or of the examination of his faith.
l Seeing my terme of life is so short, let me haue some rest and ease.
m Seeing that man of himselfe is so vile, why doest thou giue him that honour to contend against him? Iob veth all kinds of perswasion with God, that he might stay his hand.
n After all tentations faith braseth forth, and leadeth Iob to repentance: yet it was not in such perfection, that he could bridle himselfe from reasoning with God, because that he still tried his faith.
o That is, I shall be dead.

shall I arise? and measuring the evening, I am enu full with toiling to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.
5 My flesh is clothed with wormes and filthines of the dust: my skinne is rent, and cannot be hidde.
6 My daies are swifter then a weauers shuttle, and they are spent without hope.
7 Remember that my life is but a wind, and that mine eye shall not returne to see pleasure.
8 The eye that hath seene me, shall see me no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I shall be no longer.
9 As the cloude vanissheth and goeth away, so he that goeth downe to the graue, shall come by no more.
10 Ye shall returne no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more.
11 Therefore I will not spare my mouth, but will speake in the trouble of my spirit, and muse in the bitterness of my minde.
12 Wilt thou see a whole city, that thou keepest me in ward?
13 When I say, My couch shall relieue me, and my bed shall bring comfort in my meditation.
14 Then fearest thou me: with dreames, and thou dost visit me with visions.
15 Therefore my soule chuseth rather to be strangled and to die, then to be in my bones.
16 I abhorre it, I shall not liue alway: spare me then, for my daies are but a little.
17 What is man, that thou dost magnifie him, and that thou settest thine heare vpon him?
18 And dost visite him euery morning, and triest him euery moment?
19 How long will it be yet thou depart from mee? that thou wilt not let mee alone whilst I map wallowe in my settle.
20 I haue sinned, what shall I doe vnto thee? O thou preseruer of men, why hast thou set mee as a make against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?
21 And why dost thou not pardon my trespass? & take away mine iniquitie? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, & if thou keepest me in ward morning, I shall not be found.
m Seeing that man of himselfe is so vile, why doest thou giue him that honour to contend against him? Iob veth all kinds of perswasion with God, that he might stay his hand.
n After all tentations faith braseth forth, and leadeth Iob to repentance: yet it was not in such perfection, that he could bridle himselfe from reasoning with God, because that he still tried his faith.
o That is, I shall be dead.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, because God punisheth the wicked, and preserueth the good.
2 He answered Bildad the Shuhite, and saide,
3 How long wilt thou talke of these things? and how long shall the words of thy mouth be as a night wind?
4 Doeth God pervert iudgement? or doeth the Almighty subuert iustice?
5 If thy sounes haue sinned against him, and he hath sent the into the place of their iniquitie,

5 Yet if thou wilt earply secke vnto God, and pray to the Almighty,
6 If thou be pure & upright, then will he be wile awake vnto thee, and hee will make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.
7 And though thy beginning be small, yet thy latter end shall greatly encrease.
8 Enquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare the selfe to searche of their fathers.
9 For we are but of yesterday, & are ignorant: for our daies vpon earth are but a shadowe.
10 Shall not they teach thee and tell thee, and utter the wordes of their heart?
11 Can a rush grow without mire? or can the grasse growe without water?
12 Though it were in greene and not cut downe, per shall it wither before any other herbe.
13 So are the pities of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shall perish.
14 His confidence also shall be cut off, and his trust shall be as the house of a spider.
15 Hee shall leane vpon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.
16 The tree is greene before the sunne, and the branches spread ouer the garden thereof.
17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, and are souden about the house of stones.
18 If any plucke it from his place, and it beuie, saying, I haue not sene thee, 19 Behold, it will reioyce by this meanes, that it may growe in another molde.
20 Behold, God will not cast away an upright man, neither will he take the wicked by the hand, 21 Till hee haue filled thy mouth with laughter, and thy lips with ioy.
22 They that hate thee, shall be clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

b That is, hath rewarded them according to their iniquities meaning, that Iob ought to be warned by the example of his children, that he offend not God.
c That is, it thou turne betime, whiles God calleth thee to repentance.
d Though the beginnings be not so pleasant, as thou wouldest desire, yet in the ende thou shalt haue sufficient occasion to content thy selfe.
e He willeth Iob to examine all antiquities, and he shall finde it true, which he here saith.
f Meaning, that it is not ynough to haue the experience of our felues, but to be confirmed by the examples of them, that went before vs.
g As a rush can not grow without moisture, so can not the hypocrite, because he hath not faith, which is moistened with Gods Spirit. h Which is to day, and to morrow swept away.

i He compareth the iust to a tree, which although it be remooued out of one place vnto another, yet flourisheth: so the affliction of the godly turneth to their profit. k That is, so that there remaine nothing there to proue whether the tree had grown there or no.
l To be planted in another place, where it may growe at pleasure.
m If thou be godly, he will giue thee occasion to reioyce, and if not, thine affliction shall increase.

CHAP. IX.

1 Iob declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans righteousness is nothing.
2 Iob answered, and said,
3 I know verely that it is so: for how should man compared vnto God, be as iust? a To here answered to that
3 If he would dispute w him, he could not answer him one thing of a thousand.
4 touching the iustice of God and his innocencie, confessing God to be infinite in iustice, and man to be nothing in respect of a thousand things, which God could delay to his charge, man can not answer him one.

1 As brittle as a pot of clay. m That is, reason and understanding, and many other gifts whereby man excelleth all earthly creatures. n That is, thy fatherly care and providence, whereby thou preferrest me, & without y^e which I should perish straightway. o Though I be not fully able to comprehend these things, yet I must needs confesse y^e it is so. p I will alway walke in feare & humilitey, knowing that none is iust before thee. q Iob being sore assaulted in this battell betweene the flesh and the spirite, brasteth out into these affections, wishing rather short dayes then long paine. r That is, diuersitie of diseases & in great abundance, shewing that God hath infinite meanes to punish man. s He wisheth that God would leaue off his affliction, considering his great miserie and the breuitie of his life. t Hee speaketh thus in the person of a sinner, that is overcome with passions and with the feeling of Gods iudgements, and therefore cannot apprehendein that state the mercies of God and comfort of the resurrection. u No distinction betweene light and darkenesse, but where all is very darkenesse it selfe.

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me into the clasp, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe?

10 Hast thou not poured mee out as milke: and turned mee to cruds like cheefe?

11 Thou hast clothed mee with skinne and flesh, and topned mee together with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast giuen me life, & grace: and thy visitation hath preferred my spirite.

13 Though thou hast hid these things in thine heart, yet I knowe that it is so with thee.

14 If I haue sinned, then thou wilt straightly looke vnto mee, and wilt not hold me guiltlesse of mine iniquitie.

15 If I haue done wickedly, woe vnto mee: if I haue done righteously, I will not p^{er} lift by mine head, being full of confusion, because I see mine affliction.

16 But let it increaue: hunt thou me as a lion: returne and thewe thy selfe: marvellous vpon me.

17 Thou reimest thy plagues against mee, and thou increasest thy wrath against me: changes and armies of sorowes are against me.

18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me out of the wombe: why that I had perished, and that none eue had seene me!

19 And that I were as I had not bene, but brought from the wombe to the graue.

20 Were not my dayes fewe? let him cease, and leaue off from mee, that I may take a litle comfort.

21 Before I goe and shall not returne, euen to the land of darkenesse, and shadowe of death:

22 Into a land, I say, darke as darkenesse it selfe, and into the shadowe of death, where is none order, but the light is there as darkenesse.

1 Iob is vniuersally reprehended of Zophar, & God is incomprehensible. 14 He is merciful to the repentant. 18 Their assurance that line godly.

CHAP. XI.

1 Iob is vniuersally reprehended of Zophar, & God is incomprehensible. 14 He is merciful to the repentant. 18 Their assurance that line godly.

Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and saide,

2 Should not the multitude of wordes be answered? or should a great rather be multiplied?

3 Should men holde their peace at thy speeche: and when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast saide, & thy doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But oh, that God would speake and open his lips against thee!

6 That he might shew thee the secrets of wisdome, how thou hast deserved double, according to right: knowe therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou finde out the Almighty to his perfection?

8 The heauens are his, what canst thou doe? it is deeper then the hell, how canst thou knowe it?

9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broader then the sea.

10 If he cut off, and shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

11 For he knoweth vaine men, and seeth iniquitie, and him that understandeth nothing.

12 Per vaine man would be wise, though man newe borne is like a wilde asse colt.

13 If thou prepare thine heart, & stretch out thine hands toward him:

14 If iniquitie be in thine hand, put it farre away, and let no wickednesse dwell in thy tabernacle.

15 Wherein shalt thou lift up thy face without spot, and shalt be stable, and shalt not feare.

16 But thou shalt forget thy miserie, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt thine and he as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bold, because there is hope: and thou shalt digge pittes, & shalt lie downe safely.

19 For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afraid: yea, many shall make sure vnto thee.

20 But the eyes of the wicked shall faile, and their refuge shall perish, and their hope shall be sorowe of minde.

of conscience and successe in all things such shall haue, which turne to God by true repentance. Leuit. 26. 5, 6. k He sheweth that contrarie things shall come vnto them that doe not repent.

CHAP. XII.

1 Iob accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might and power of God. 17 And how he changeth the course of things.

Then Iob answered, and said,

2 In deede because that pee are the people onely, wilidome mischiefe with you.

3 But I haue vnderstanding as well as you, and am not inferior vnto you: yea, who knoweth not such things?

4 I am as one mocked of his neighbours, who calleth vpon God, and he heareth him: the iust & the vpright is laughed to scorne.

5 He that is ready to fall, is as a lanpe despised in the opinion of the rich.

but you. Pro. 14. 2. b Hee reprooueth these his friends of two faultes: the one, that they thought they had better knowledge then in deede they had, and the other, that in stead of true consolation they did deride and despise their friends in his aduersitie. c The which neighbour being a mocker, and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in Gods fauour but hee, because hee hath all things that he desireth. d As the riche esteeme not a light, or torch that goeth out, so is he despised that falleth from prosperitie to aduersitie.

d That is, this perfection of God: & if man be not able to comprehend the height of the heauen, & depth of hell, & length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures: how can he attaine to the perfection of the Creator? e If God should turne the state of things, and establish a new order in nature, who could controule him? f That is, without vnderstanding: so that whatsoever gifts he hath afterward, come of God, and not of nature. g If thou repent, pray vnto him. h Renouice thine owne euil works, & see that they offend not God, ouer whom thou hast charge. i He declareth what quicke haue, which turne to God by true repentance. Leuit. 26. 5, 6. k He sheweth that contrarie things shall come vnto them that doe not repent.

a Because you feele not that, which you speake, you thinke y^e whole standeth in words, & so flatter your selues as though none knew any thing, or could knowe clareth that he thinketh well of God, and is as able to set forth his power in wordes, as they that reasoned against, were.

6 The tabernacles of robbers doe prospere, as they are in iustitie, that prouoke God, they shall tell thee:

shall declare vnto thee.

dome!

eare to the arguments of my lips.

7 Will ye speake wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will ye accept his person? or will ye contend for God?

9 Is it well that he should seeke of you:
will you make a lie for him, as one lyeth for a man?

10 He will surely reprove you, if ye doe secretly accept any person.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you as-traide? and his feare fall vpon you?

12 Your memories may bee compared vnto alhes, and your bodies to bobbies

13 Holde your tongues in my presence, tified.

l. His pangs thus moue him to reason with God, not denying but that he had sinned: but he desired to vnderstand what were his great sinnes that he had deserued such rigor, wherein hee offended, that

CHAP. XLIII.

1 Iob describeth the shortnesse and miserie of the life of man. 14 Hope susteineth the godly. 22 The condition of mans life.

a Taking occasion of his aduersaries wordes, he describeth the state of mans life from his birth to his death.

Chap. 8. 9. psalms. 144. 4.

b His meaning is, that seeing that man is so traile a creature, God should not handle him so extremely: wherein Iob sheweth the wickednesse of the flesh, when it is not subiect to the spirite.

Psal. 51. 5. 7.

c Vntill the time that thou hast appointed for him to die, which he desireth, as the hiring wayteth for the end of his labour to receiue his wages.

d He speaketh not here as though he had no hope of the immortallitie, but as a man in extreme paine, whose reason is overcome by afflictions and torments.

e Hereby he declareth that the feare of Gods iudgement was the cause why he desired to die.

f That is, release my paynes, and take me to mercie.

g Meaning, vnto the day of the resurrection when he should bee changed and renewed.

h Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the resurrection I shall feele thy mercies, and answer when thou callest me. Prou. 5. 21. I Thou layest them altogether and sufferest none of my sinnes unpunished.

k He murmureth through the impatience of the flesh against God, as though hee wised as great feueritie against him as against the harde rocks, or water that overflowe, so that hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away.

Man: that is boine of a woman, is of Althor continuance. and full of trouble. 2 He thooteth forth as a flower, and is cut downe: he vaniseth also as a shadowe, and continueth not.

3 And yet thou openest thine eyes vpon such a one, and canst me to enter into iudgment with thee.

4 Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthinesse? there is none one.

5 Are not his dayes determined? the number of his moneths is with thee: thou hast appointed his boundes, which he cannot passe.

6 Turne from him that hee may cease: brull his desired daye, as an hiringling.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut downe, that it will yet sproute, & the branches thereof will not cease.

8 Though the roote of it waie old in the earth, and the stocke thereof be dead in the ground,

9 Yet by the sent of water it will bud, & bring forth boughes like a plant.

10 But man is like a sicke, and dieth, and man perissheth: and where is he?

11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decapeth and dieth by,

12 So man sleppeth and riseth not: for he shall not wake againe, nor be raised from his sleepe till the heauen be no more.

13 Oh that thou wouldest hide me in the graine, and keepe mee secreete, vntill thy wrath were past, and wouldest giue mee terme, and remember me!

14 If a man die, shall hee liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time will I waite, till my changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt call me, and I shall answer thee: thou shalt loue the worke of thine owne hands.

16 But now thou hast nombrest my steps, and doest not delay my finnes.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed by, as in a bag, & thou addest vnto my wickednesse.

18 And surely as the mountaine that falleth, cometh to nought, and the rocke that is remoued from his place:

19 As the water breaketh the stones, when thou ouerflowest the things which growe in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou piercest allway against him, so that he passeth away: yett changeth his face when thou callest him away.

21 And hee knoweth not if his finnes shall be honourable, neither shall hee vnderstand concerning them, whether they shall be of lowe degree, 22 But while his flesh is vpon him, he shall be sorrowfull, and while his soule is in him, it shall mourne.

CHAP. XV.

1 Eliphaz reprehendeth Iob, because he ascribeth wisdom, and purues to himselfe. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Iob to be one of the number.

Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and sayde,

2 Shall a wise man speake wordes of the winde, and fill his bellie with the East winde?

3 Shall he dispute w wordes not come? or will talke that is not profitable?

4 Surely thou hast cast off feare, and restrainest prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, seeing thou hast chosen the tongue of the craftie.

6 Thine owne mouth condemneeth thee, & not I, and thy lips reuel against thee.

7 Art thou the first man that was boine? and wast thou made before the hills?

8 Hast thou heard the secreete counsell of God, and dost thou restraime wisdom to thyselfe?

9 What knowest thou that wee knowe not? and vnderstandest that is not in vs?

10 With vs are both ancient & deep aged men, farre older then thy father.

11 Seeme the consolations of God small vnto thee? is this thing strange vnto thee?

12 Why doeth thine heart take thee as wap, and what doe thine eyes meane, 13 That thou answerest to God at thy pleasure, and bringest such wordes out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that hee should be cleane? and hee that is boine of woman, that he should be iust?

15 Behold, hee found no stedfastnesse in his fauits: yea, the heauens are not cleane in his sight.

16 How much more is man abominable, and filthie, which drinketh iniquitie like water?

17 I will tell thee: heare me, and I will declare that which I haue seene:

18 Which wise men haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it secrete:

19 To whome alone the land was giuen, and no stranger passed through them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that travaileth of childe, and the number of his peres is hid from the tyrant.

21 A sound of feare is in his eares, and in his prosperitie the destroyer shall come vpon him.

22 Yee bekeneth not to returne out of darknes: for he seeth a sword before him.

23 Yee wandreth to and fro for bread

1 Yet whiles hee liueth, he shall be in paine and miserie.

a That is, vaine wordes, and without consolation.

b Meaning, with matters that are of none importance, which are forgotten as soone as they are uttered, as East winde dieth vpon the moisture as soone as it falleth.

c He chargeth Iob as though his talke caused men to cast off the feare of God and prayer.

d Thou speakest as doe the mockers, & contemners of God.

e That is, the most ancient, & so by reason the most wisest.

f Art thou onely wiser?

g He accuseth Iobs pride, and ingratitude, that will not be comforted by God, nor by their counsel.

h Why doest thou stand in thine owne conceits?

i Hebr. in thy spirit

j His purpose is to proue, that Iob as an vnjust man and an hypocrite is punished for his finnes, likewise he did before.

k Which hath a desire to sinne, as hee that is thirskie, to drinke.

l Who by their words, and so the land seemed to bee giuen to them alone.

m The cruel man is ever in danger of death, and is neuer quiet in conscience.

n Out of that miserie wherinto he once falleth.

o God doeth not onely impoverish the wicked oft times: but euen in their prosperitie he punisheth them with a greedinesse euermore to gather: which is as a p He sheweth what weapons God vseth against the wicked which life vp themselves against him, to wit, terror of conscience, and outward afflictions.

q That is, he was so puffed vp with great prosperitie & abundance of all things, that he forgate God: noting that Iob in his felicitie had not the true feare of God. r Though he build and repaire ruinous places to get him fame, yet God shall bring all to nought, & turne his great prosperitie into extreme miserie. s Meaning, that his sumptuous buildings should neuer come to perfection.

t He standeth so in his owne conceite, that he will giue no place to good counsell, therefore his owne pride shall bring him to destruction. u As one that gathereth grapes before they be ripe. x Which were built or maintained by pawning and bribery. y And therefore all their vaine deuices shall turne to their owne destruction.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Iob moued by the importunacie of his friends, 2 Counteth in what extremie he is. 19 And taketh God witness of his innocencie.

B^{ut} Iob answered, and said, 2 I haue oft times heard such things: miserable comforters be ye all.

3 Shal there be none rinde of wordes of winde: or what maketh thee bolde so to answer?

4 I coulde also speake as ye doe: (but would God your soule were in my soules stead) I coulde keepe you companie in speaking, and coulde shake mine head at you.

5 But I woulde strengthen you with my mouth, and the comfort of my lippes should asswage your sorowe.

6 Though I speake, my sorrow cannot be asswaged: though I cease, what release haue I?

7 But nowe he maketh me wearie: O God, thou hast made all my congregation desolate, where he may: he knoweth that the day of darkenesse is prepared at hand.

24 Affliction and anguish shall make him afraid: they shall preuaile against him as a king ready to the battell.

25 For he hath stretched out his hande against God, and made himselfe strong against the Almighty.

26 Therefore God shall runne vpon him, euen vpon his necke, and against the most thicke part of his shield.

27 Because he hath couered his face with his fatnesse, & hath collops in his flanke.

28 Though he dwell in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes, 29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall he prolong the perfection thereof in the earth.

30 He shall neuer depart out of darkenesse: the flame shall drie vp his branches, and hee shall goe away with the breath of his mouth.

31 Hee beleueneth not that he ereth in vanitie: therefore vanitie shalbe his charge.

32 His branch shall not be greene, but shall be cut off before his day.

33 God shall destroy him as the vine her feawe grape, and shall cast him off, as the olive doth her flower.

34 For the congregation of the hypocrite shalbe desolate, and fire shall deuoure the houses of budes.

35 For they conceiue mischief, & bring forth vanitie, and their belly hath prepared deceit.

8 And hast made me full of wrinkles, which is a witness thereof, & my leane face: vnder my mee, testifying the same in my face.

9 His wrath hath togne me, and he hath teeth me, and gnaweth vpon mee with his teeth: mine enemie hath sharpened his eyes against me.

10 They haue opened their mouthes vpon me, and smitten me on the cheek: in reproche: they gather themselves together against me.

11 God hath bestowed me to the blast, and hath made me to turne out of the way by the hands of the wicked.

12 I was in weakly, but he hath brought me to nought: he hath taken mee by the necke, & beaten me, and set me as a marke for himselfe.

13 His archers compass me round about: he cutteth my reines, and doeth not spare, and powreth my gall vpon the ground.

14 He hath broken mee with one breaking vpon another, and runneth vpon me like a giant.

15 I haue sowed a sackcloth vpon my skinne, and haue abased mine house vnto the dust.

16 My face is withered with weeping, & the shadowe of death is vpon mine eyes.

17 Though there bee no wickednesse in mine hands, and my prayer be pure.

18 O earth, couer not thou my blood, & let my crying finde no place.

19 For lo, now my witness is in the heauen, and my record is on hie.

20 My friends speake eloquently against me: but mine eye poureth out teares vnto God.

21 Oh that a man might pleade with God, as man with his neighbour!

22 For the peeres accomited come, & I shal go the way, whence I shal not returne.

t Though man condemne me, yet God is witness of my cause. u Vse painted wordes in stead of true consolation. x Thus by his great tormentes he is caried away, and brasteth out into passions, and speaketh vnadvisedly, as though God shoulde intreate man more gently, seeing he hath but a short time here to liue.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Iob saith that he consumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abide it. 10 Hee exhorteth his friends to repentance. 13 Shewing that he looketh but for death.

M^y breath is corrupt: my napres are cut off, and the graue is ready for me.

2 There are none but mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in their bitterness.

3 Lay downe now and put me in suretie for thee: who is he, that will touch mine hand?

4 For thou hast hid their heart from vnderstanding: therefore shalt thou not see them vpon hie.

5 I haue reasoneth with God as a man beside himselfe, to the intent that his cause might be brought to light. d And answer for thee. e That these mine afflictions are thy iust iudgements, though man knowe not the cause.

i In token of sorrow and griefe. k That is, God by his wrath and in this diuersitie of words and his stile, he expecteth how grievous the hand of God was vpon him.

o I am wounded to the heart.

p Meaning, his glory was brought lowe.

q Signifying, that he is not able to comprehend the cause of this his grievous punishment.

s Let my sinne be knowne, if I be such a sinner as mine aduersaries accuse me, & let me finde no fauour.

u Vse painted wordes in stead of true consolation. x Thus by his great tormentes he is caried away, and brasteth out into passions, and speaketh vnadvisedly, as though God shoulde intreate man more gently, seeing he hath but a short time here to liue.

a Which serueth for vaine ostentation & for no true comfort. b For Eliphaz did reply against Iobs answer. c I would you felt that which I doe. d That is, mocke at your miserie, as you doe at mine. e If this were in my power, yet would I comfort you, and not doe as ye doe to me. f If they would say, Why doest thou not then comfort thy selfe? hee answereth, that the iudgements of God are more heauie, then he is able to asswage either by wordes or silence. g Meaning God. h That is, destroyed most of my familie.

F He that flattereth a man, and onely iudgeth him happie in his prosperitie, shal not himselfe onely, but in his posteritie bee punished.
G God hath made all the world to speake of me, because of mine afflictions.
H That is, as a continuall found in their eares.
I To wit, when they see the godly punished: but in the ende they shall come to understanding, and knowe what shalbe the rewarde of the hypocrite.
K That is, will not be discouraged, considering that the godly are punished as well as the wicked.

5 For the eyes of his childre shal faile, that speake thy flatterie to his friends.
6 He hath also made me a by word of the people, and I am as a tabret ^{before} them.
7 Mine eye therefore is dimme for griefe, and all my strength is like a shadow.
8 The righteous shalbe astounded at this, and the innocent shal be moued against the hypocrite.
9 But the righteous wil hold his way, and he whose hands are pure, shall increase his strength.
10 Will you therefore turne you, and come home, and I shall not finde one wise among you.
11 My dayes are past, mine enterpises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart
12 Have changed the night for the day, and the light that appoched, for darkenes.
13 Though I hope, yet the graue shall be mine house, and I shall make my bed in the darke.
14 I shall say to corruption, Thou art my father, and to the womne, Thou art my mother and my sister.
15 Where is then now mine hope? of who shall consider the thing, that I hoped for?
16 They shall goe downe into the bottoome of the pit: surely it shal lie together in the dust.
1 Job speaketh to them three, that came to comfort him.
m That is, haue brought me sorowe in stead of comfort.
n Though I should hope to come from aduersitie to prosperitie as your discourse pretendeth.
o I haue no more hope in father, mother, sister, or any worldly thing: for the dust and wormes shall be to me in stead of them.
p All worldly hope, and prosperitie faile, which you say, are onely signes of Gods fauour: but seeing that these things perith, I set mine hope in God, and in the life euerslasting.

CHAP. XVIII.

a Which count your selues iust?
as Chap. 12.4.
b Whome you take to be but beasts, as Chap. 12.7.
c That is, like a mad man.
d Shall God change the order of nature for thy sake, by dealing with thee otherwise then he doeth with all men?
e When the wicked is in his prosperitie, then God changeth his state: and this is his ordinarie working for their sinnes.
f Meaning, that the wicked are in continuall danger.

1 Bildad reherceth the paines of the unfaithfull and wicked.
Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,
2 When wilt thou make an ende of your wooednes? because vs to understande, and then we will speake.
3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and are vile in your sight?
4 Thou art as one that teareth his soule in his anger. Shal the earth bee forsaken for thy sake? or the rocke remooued out of his place?
5 Yea, the light of the wicked shall be quenched, and the sparke of his fire shall not shine.
6 The light shall bee darke in his dwelling, & his candle shall be put out with him.
7 The steppes of his strength shall be strenged, and his owne counsell shall cast him downe.
8 For he is taken in the net by his feete, and he shall walke vpon the snares.
9 The graine shall take him by the heele, and the theefe shall come vpon him.
10 His snare is laid for him in the ground, and a trappe for him in the way.
11 Fearfullnesse shall make him asprende on euery side, and shall bynde him to his feete.

12 His strength shall bee as famine: and destruction shall be ready at his side.
13 It shall denounce the inner partes of his kinne, and the first boyme of death shall denounce his strength.
14 His hope shall bee rooted out of his dwelling, and shall cause him to goe to the king of feare.
15 Feare shall dwell in his house (because it is not his) and brimstone shall be scattered vpon his habitation.
16 His rootes shall be dried by beneath, and aboute shall his branch be cut downe.
17 His remembrance shall perith from the earth, and he shall haue no name in the streets.
18 They shall bynde him out of the light into darkenesse, and chafe him out of the world.
19 He shall neither haue sonne nor nephew among his people, nor any posteritie in his dwellings.
20 The posteritie shall be astounded at his day, and feare shall come vpon the auerent.
21 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Job reprooueth his friends, 15 And reciteth his miseries and grievous paines, 25 He asseureth himselfe of the generall resurrection.
But Job answered, and said,
2 How long wilt thou be vexed my soule, and torment me with words?
3 He haue now remme times reproched me, and are not ashamed: he are unpudent toward me.
4 And though I had in deede erred, mine errour remapnerth with me.
5 But in deede if you will aduance your selues against me, and rebuke mee for my reproch,
6 Knowe now, that God hath shewen me, and hath compassed me with his net.
7 Beholde, I crye out of violence, but I haue none answer: I crye, but there is no iudgement.
8 He hath hedged by my way that I can not passe, and he hath set darkenesse in my pathes.
9 He hath spoiled me of mine honour, & taken the crowne away from mine head.
10 He hath destroyed me on euery side, and I am gone: & he hath remooued mine hope like a tree.
11 And he hath kindled his wrath against me, & counteth me as one of his enemies.
12 His armies came together, & made their way vpon me, and camped about my tabernacle.
13 He hath remooued my brethren farre from me, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.
14 My neighbours haue forsaken me, and my familiars haue forgotten me.
15 & They that dwell in mine house, and my maides tooke me for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.
16 I called my seruant, but he would not answer,

g That which should nourish him shalbe consumed by famine.
h That is, some strong and violent death shall consume his strength: or as the Hebrew worde signifieth, his members or parts.
i That is, with most great feare.
k Meaning, that truly come by.
l Though all the world would fauour him, yet God would destroy him & his.
m He shall fall from prosperitie to aduersitie.
n When they shall see what came vnto him.
a That is, many times, as Nehe.
b 12.
c That is, I myselfe shalbe punished for it, or you haue not yet confuted it.
c He brasteth out againe into his passions, and declareth still, & his affliction cometh of God, though he be not able to feeble the cause in himselfe.
d Meaning, our of his afflictions.
e Meaning, his children, and whatsoever was deare vnto him in this world.
f Which is plucked vp, and hath no more hope to growe.
g His manifold afflictions.
h Mine household seruants: by all these losses Job toucheth that touching the flesh he had: great occasions to be moued.

Which were hers and mine. k Besides these great losses and most cruel vntkindnes, he was touch'd in his owne person as followeth. l All my flesh was consumed. m Seeing I haue these iust causes to comaine, condemne me not as an hypocrite, specially ye which should comfort me. n Is it not ynough that God doth punish me, except you by reproches increase my sorrowe? o To see my bodie in bondage, except ye trouble my minde? p He protesteth that notwithstanding his sore passions, his religion is perfect, and that he is not a blasphemer, as they iudged him. q I doe not so iustifie my selfe before the world, but I knowe that I shall come before the great Iudge, who shall be my deliuerer and Sauour. r Herein Iob declarer plainly that he had a full hope, that both the soule and body should enioy the presence of GOD in the last resurrection. s Though his friends thought that hee was but persecut'd of God for his sinnes, yet he declarer that there was a deeper consideration: to wit, the triall of his faith and patience, and so to be an example for others. t God will bee reuenged of this haultie iudgement, whereby you condemne me, answere, though I prayed him with my mouth. 17 app byearth was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine owne body. 18 The wicked also despised mee, and when I rose, they spake against me. 19 All my secret friends abhorred mee, and they whome I loued, are turned as gainst me. 20 app bone cleaueth to my skinne and to my flesh, and I haue escaped with the skinne of my teeth. 21 Haue pitie vpon me: haue a pitie vpon me, (O ye my friends) for the hande of God hath touch'd me. 22 Why doe ye persecute me, as God? and are not satisfied with my flesh? 23 Oh that my wordes were now writen: oh that they were writen euen in a booke. 24 And grauen with a pen vpon paine in lead, or in stone for euer! 25 For I am sure, that my Redeemer liueth, & I shall stand the last on the earth. 26 And though after my skinne wormes destroy this bodie, yet shall I see God in my flesh. 27 Within I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall beholde, and none other for mee, though my reines are consumed within me. 28 As it is said, Why is he persecuted? And there was a deepe matter in me. 29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for the sword will be a reuenged of wickednesse, that pee in it knowe that there is a iudgement. q I doe not so iustifie my selfe before the world, but I knowe that I shall come before the great Iudge, who shall be my deliuerer and Sauour. r Herein Iob declarer plainly that he had a full hope, that both the soule and body should enioy the presence of GOD in the last resurrection. s Though his friends thought that hee was but persecut'd of God for his sinnes, yet he declarer that there was a deeper consideration: to wit, the triall of his faith and patience, and so to be an example for others. t God will bee reuenged of this haultie iudgement, whereby you condemne me,

CHAP. XX.

1 Zophar sheweth that the wicked and the couetous shall haue a short ende, 22 Though for a time they flourish. T hen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said, 2 Doubtlesse my thoughts cause mee to answer, and therefore I make haste. 3 I haue heard the correction of my reproch: therefore the spirit of mine vnderstanding causeth me to answer. 4 Knowest thou not this of olde? and since God placed man vpon the earth, 5 That the reioicing of the wicked is short, and that the top of hypocrites is but a moment? 6 Though his excellencie mount vpon to the heauen, and his head reach vnto the cloudes, 7 Yet shall hee perish for euer, like his dung, and they which haue seene him, shall say, Where is hee? 8 He shall flee away as a dreame, & they shall not finde him, and shall passe away as a vision of the night. 9 So that the eye which had seene him, shall doe so no more, and his place shall see him no more. 10 His children shall scatter the poore, and his hands shall restore his substance. 11 His bones are full of the sinne of his youth, and it shall lie downe with him in the dust. 12 When wickednesse was sweete in his mouth, and he hid it vnder his tongue, 13 And fauoured it, and would not forsake it, but kept it close in his mouth, 14 Then his meate in his bowels was turned: the gall of Aspes was in the middes of him. 15 He hath deuoured substance, and hee shall vomit it: for God shall draw it out of his bellie. 16 He shall sucke the gall of Aspes, and the vipers tongue shall flap him. 17 He shall not see the riuers, nor the floodes and streames of home and bitter. 18 He shall restore the labour, & shall be vnto no more: euen according to the substance shall be his exchange, and he shall enioy it no more. 19 For he hath vndone many: he hath forsaken the poore, and hath spoiled houses which he builded not. 20 Surely he shall seeke no quietnesse in his body, neither shall hee reuerse of which he desired. 21 There shall none of his kinne meate bee left: therefore none shall hope for his goods. 22 When hee shall be filled with his abundance, he shall be in paine, and the hand of all the wicked shall assault him. 23 He shall be about to fill his bellie, but God shall sende vpon him his fierce wrath, and shall cause to raine vpon him, euen vpon his meate. 24 He shall seee from the pyn weapons, & the bow of Steele shall strike him through. 25 The arrowe is drawn out, and cometh forth of the bodie, and shineth of his gall, so feare cometh vpon him. 26 All darknesse shall be hid in his secret places: the fire that is not blown, shall deuoure him, & that which remaineth in his tabernacle, shall be destroyed. 27 The heauen shall declare his wickednesse, & the earth shall rise vp against him. 28 The increase of his house shall goe away: it shall flow away in the day of his wrath. 29 This is the portion of the wicked man from God, and the heritage that hee shall haue of God for his wordes.

c Whereas the father through ambition and tyranny oppressed the poore, y children through pouertie & miserie shall seeke fauour at the poore. d So that the thing, which he hath taken away by violence, shall be restored againe by force. e Meaning, that he shall carie nothing away with him, but his sinne. f As payson that is sweete in the mouth bringeth destruction, when it cometh into the body: so all vice at the first is pleasant, but afterward God turneth it to destruction. g He compareth Cui gotten goods to the venime of aspes, which serpents is most dangerous: noting that Iobs great riches were not truly come by, and therefore God did plague him iustly for the same. h Though God giue to all other abundance of his blessings, yet he shall haue no part thereof. i That is, these raueners and spoylers of the poore shall enioy their theft but for a time.

a He declarer that two things moued him to speake: to wit, because Iob seemed to touch him, and because he thought he had knowledge sufficient to confute him. b His purpose is to proue Iob to be a wicked man, & an hypocrite, because God punished him, and changed his prosperitie into aduersitie.

for after God will take it from them, and cause them to make restitution, so that it is but an exchange. k He shall leaue nothing to his posteritie. l The wicked shall neuer be in rest: for one wicked man shall seeketo destroy another. m Somereade, vpon his flesh, alluding to Iob, whose flesh was smitten with scab. n Some reade, of the quiet. o All feare and forwe shall light vpon him, when he thinketh to escape. p That is, fire from heauen, or the fire of Gods wrath. q Meaning, the children of the wicked shall flowe away like riuers, and be dispersed in diuers places. r Thus God will plague the wicked. s Against God, thinking to excuse himselfe, and to escape Gods hand.

C H A P. XXI.

7 Job declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proude. 15 In so much that they blaspheme God. 16 Their destruction is at hand. 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperitie.

BUt Job answered, and said,
2 Heare diligently my wordes, and this I haile in stead of your consolations.

3 Suffer mee, that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.

4 Doe I direct my talke to man? If it were so, howe should not my spirit be troubled?

5 Sparke me, and be abashed, & lay your hand vpon your mouth.

6 Euen when I remember, I am afraid, and feare taketh hold on my flesh.

7 Wherefore doe the wicked ^d liue, and ware oile, and growe in wealth?

8 Their seede is established in their sight with them, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, & the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendereth, and saileth not: their cow calueth, and casteth not her calfe.

11 They sende forth their children like sheepe, and their sonnes daunce.

12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the sound of the organes.

13 They spend their dayes in wealth, & suddenly they goe downe to the graue.

14 They say also vnto God, Depart from vs: for we desire not the knowledge of thy wayes.

15 Who is the Almighty, & we should serue him: and what profite should we haue, if we should pray vnto him?

16 Io, their wealth is not in their hand: therefore let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me.

17 Howe oft shall the candle of the wicked be put out? and their destruction come vpon them? he wil denie their liues in his wrath.

18 They shall bee as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the storme carrieth away.

19 God wil lay by the sorrowe of the father for his children: when hee rewardeth him, he shall knowe it.

20 His eyes shall see his destruction, and he shall drinke of the wrath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleasure hath hee in his house after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off?

22 Shall any reach? God knowledgeth, who iudgeth the highest things?

23 One is dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie.

his aduersaries, that if they reason onely by that which is seene by common experience, the wicked that hate God, are better dealt withall, then they that loue him. h It is not their owne, but God onely lendeth it vnto them. i God keepe me from their prosperitie. k VVhe God recompenseth his wickednesse, he shall know that his prosperitie was but vanitie. l Who sendeth to the wicked prosperitie, and punisheth the godly. m Meaning, the wicked, 24 His breast is full of milke, and his bones run full of marrowe.

25 And another ^d dieth in the bitterness of his soule, & neuer eateth with pleasure.

26 They shall sleepe both in the dust, & the wormes shall couer them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the enterprises, wherewith ye doe me wrong.

28 For ye say, Where is the prince of honour? and where is the tabernacle of the wicked dwelling?

29 Say ye not q ask them that goe by the way? and ye cannot denie their signes.

30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, and they shall bee brought forth to the day of wrath.

31 Who shall declare his wape to his face? and who shall reward him for that he hath done?

32 Per shall he be brought to the grane, and remaine in the heape.

33 The same valley shall be sweete vnto him, and euery man shall dray after him, as before him there were munimercable.

34 VVhen then comfort ye me in vaine, seeing in your answers there remaine but lyes?

f Though men do flatter him, & none dare reprove him in this world, yet death is a token, that God will bring him to an account. r Hee shall be glad to lie in a slimie pit, which before would not be content with a royall palace. u Saying, that the iust in this world haue prosperitie, and the wicked aduersitie.

C H A P. XXII.

2 Eliphaz affirmeth that Job is punished for his finnes. 6 He accuseth him of vnicuersitallnesse. 13 And that he denied Gods providence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

THEN Eliphaz the Temanite answered, a Though man were iust, yet

God could haue. no profite of this his iustice: and therefore when he punisheth him, he hath no regard to his iustice, but to his sinne.

2 Say a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wise, may be profitable to himselfe?

3 Is it any thing vnto the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes hye?

4 Is it for feare of thee that he will cease to ruse thee? or go with thee into iudgement?

5 Is not thy wickednesse great, & thine iniquities innumerable?

6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, and spoiled the clothes of the naked.

7 To such as were wearie, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, & hast withheld bread from the hungry.

8 But the mighty man had the earth, and hee that was in authority, dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast cast out widowes empty, & the armes of the fatherles were broken.

10 Therefore rages are round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee:

11 Wherby thou shalt not see, & abundance of waters shall couer thee.

12 Is not Gods onigin in the heauen? &

Thou hast not onely not shewed pittie, but oppressed them. f That is, manifeste afflictions. g He accuseth Job of impietie and contempt of God, as though he would say, Job if thou passe not for men, yet consider the height of Gods maiestie.

Thou hast bene cruel and without charitie, and wouldst doe nothing for the poore, but for thine owne aduantage.

When thou wast in power, and authority, thou diddest not iustice, but wrong.

Thou hast bene cruel and without charitie, and wouldst doe nothing for the poore, but for thine owne aduantage.

When thou wast in power, and authority, thou diddest not iustice, but wrong.

Thou hast bene cruel and without charitie, and wouldst doe nothing for the poore, but for thine owne aduantage.

When thou wast in power, and authority, thou diddest not iustice, but wrong.

Thou hast bene cruel and without charitie, and wouldst doe nothing for the poore, but for thine owne aduantage.

When thou wast in power, and authority, thou diddest not iustice, but wrong.

That so much more by that excellent worke you mayest see God, and hence him. He reproueth as though he denied Gods providence, and yet he could not see the things that were done in this world. How God hath punished them from the beginning. He proueth Gods providence by the punishment of the wicked, whom he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe. He answereth to that, which Job had sayd, Chap. 31. 7. that the wicked haue prospered in this world: desiring that he might not be partaker of the like. The iust reioyce at the destruction of the wicked for two causes: first, because God sheweth him selfe iudge of the world, and by this meanes continueth his honour and glory: secondly, because God sheweth that he hath care ouer his, in that he punisheth their enemies. That is, the state and preservation of the godly is hidde vnder Gods wings. p Meaning, of the wicked, q He exhortheth Job to repentance, and to returne to God. r God will restore vnto thee all thy substance, f Which shall bee in abundance like dust, t That is, the fauour of God. u God will deliuer his when the wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the flood and in Sodome. x God will deliuer a whole country from perill, euen for the iust mans sake.

13 But thou sayest, Howe shouldst thou knowe? can hee see through the darke cloudes? 14 The cloudes hide him that he cannot see, and he walketh in the circle of heauen. 15 Hail thou in a way of a world, wherein wicked men haue walked? 16 Which were I cut downe before the time, whose foundation was as a river that ouerflowed. 17 Which said vnto God, Depart from vs, and asked what the Almighty could doe for them. 18 Yet he filled their houses with good things: but let the counsell of the wicked be faile from me. 19 The righteous shal see them, and shal reioyce, and the innocent shall laugh them to scorn. 20 Surely our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant of vs. 21 Therefore acquaint thy selfe, I pray thee, with him, and make peace: there by thou shalt haue prosperitie. 22 Receive, I pray thee, the salve of his mouth, & lay up his words in thine heart. 23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt be built vp, and thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy Tabernacle. 24 Thou shalt lay up gold for dust, and the golde of Bybrie, as the flints of the rivers. 25 Yea, the Almighty shal be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plenty of siluer. 26 And thou shalt then delight in the Almighty, and lift vp thy face vnto God. 27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, and he shal heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes. 28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shal establish it vnto thee, & the light shall shine vpon thy wayes. 29 When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shal saue the humble person. 30 The innocent shal deliuer the p pland, and it shal be preserved by the purchase of thine hands.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 Job affirmeth that he both knoweth & feareth the power and sentence of the Iudge, 10 And that he is not punished onely for his sinnes. B 2 Though my talke bee this daye in bitterness, and my plague greater then my grotting, 3 Would God ye knew how to finde him, I would enter vnto his place. 4 I would plead the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments. 5 I would knowe the wayes, that hee would answer me, and would understand what he would say vnto me. 6 Would hee plead against mee with his great power? No, but hee would put strength in me. 7 Where the righteous might reason with him, so I should be deliuered for euer from my Iudge. 8 Behold, if I goe to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceiue him: 9 If to the North where he worketh, yet I cannot see him: he will hide him selfe in the South, and I cannot behold him. 10 But he knoweth my way, and trieth me, and I shall come forth like the gold. 11 My foote hath followed his steps: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined. 12 Neither haue I departed from the commandment of his lippes, and I haue esteemed the wordes of his mouth more then mine appointed foode. 13 Yet he is in one minde, and who can he turne him? yea, he doeth what his minde desireth. 14 For he will perforce that, which is decreed of me, and many such thinges are with him. 15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, and in considering it, I am afraide of him. 16 For God hath softened mine heart, and the Almighty hath troubled me. 17 For I am not cut off in darkenes, but he hath hid the darknesse from my face.

more precious vnto mee, then the meate wherewith the bodie is susteined, b Job confesseth that at this present hee felt not Gods fauour, and yet was assured, that he had appointed him to a good ende. i In many payres man is not able to attaine to Gods iudgements. k That I should not be without feare, l He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble, seeth none end, neither yet knoweth the cause.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 Job describeth the wickednes of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked, 12 How all thinges are governed by Gods providence, 17 And the destruction of the wicked.

H W should not the riches be hid from the Almighty, seeing that they which knowe him, see not his dayes? 2 Some remoue the lande markes, that rob the flockes and feede thereof. 3 They leade away by alle of the fathers: and take the widowes ore to pledge. 4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselves together. 5 Beholde, others as wilde asses in the wilderness, goe forth to their businesse, and rise early for a pray: the wilderness

b Vnto his absolute power, & saying, because I am God, I may doe what I will. c Of his mercie he would giue me power to answer him, d When hee of his mercie hath giuen strength to mainteine their cause. e Meaning, that if he consider Gods iustice, he is not able to comprehend his iudgements on what side or part souer he turneth himselfe, f God hath this preeminence aboue me, that he knoweth my way: to wit, that I am innocent, and I am not able to iudge of his workes: he sheweth also his confidence, that God doeth visite him for his profice. g His worde is susteined, b Job confesseth that at this present hee felt not Gods fauour, and yet was assured, that he had appointed him to a good ende. i In many payres man is not able to attaine to Gods iudgements. k That I should not be without feare, l He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble, seeth none end, neither yet knoweth the cause.

a Thus Job speakech in his passions and after the iudgement of the flesh: that is, that hee seeth not the things that are done at times, neither yet hath a peculiar care ouer all, because he punisheth not the wicked, nor reuengeth the goodly. b When hee punisheth the wicked and rewardeth the good. c And for crueltie and oppression dare not shew their faces, d That is, spare no diligence, e He and his, live by robbing and murdering.

f Meaning, the poore mans.
g Signifying, that one wicked man will not spoyle another, but for necessitie.
h The poore are driven by the wicked into rocks and holes, where they can not lide drie for the raine.
i That is, they lo powe and pill the poore widowe, that she cannot haue to sustaine her selfe, that she may bee able to giue her childe sucke.
k That is, his garment, wherewith he should be covered or cladde.
l In such places, which are appointed for that purpose, meaning that those that labour for the wicked, are pined for hunger.
m For the great oppression and extortion.
n Cry out and call for vengeance.
o God doeth not condemne the wicked, but seeth need to passe over it by his long silence.
p That is, Gods word, because they are reproved thereby.
q By these particular vices, and he licence thereunto, he woulde proue that God punish not the wicked, and rewardeth the iust.

e Giue him and his children food.
6 They reape his promise in the field, but they gather the late & vintage of the wicked.
7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the colde.
8 They are wet with the showres of the mountaines, and they embrace the rocke for want of a conering.
9 They plucke the fatherlesse from the breast, and take the pledge of the poore.
10 They cause him to go naked without clothing, and take the gleanings from the thimble.
11 They that make oyle betweene their breastes, and treade their wine presses, suffer thirst.
12 When a crye out of the cite, and the soules of the flaine cry out: yet God doth not charge them with folie.
13 These are they that abhorre the light: they know not the wayes thereof, nor continue in the paths thereof.
14 The murderer riseth early, and killeth the poore and the needie: and in the night he is as a thiefe.
15 The epe also of the adulterer wappeth for the twilight, and sayeth, None epe shall see me, and disfigure his face.
16 They dig through houses in the darke, which they marked for themselves in the day: they knowe not the light.
17 But the morning is euen to them as the shadowe of death: if one knowe them, they are in the terroures of the shadowe of death.
18 He is swift vpon the waters: their portion shall be cursed in the earth: he will not beside the waie of the vineyards.
19 As the tyg ground and beate consume the snowe waters, so shall the graue the tygers.
20 The pitifull man shall forget him: the woman shall feele his sweetnesse: he shall be no more remembered, and the wicked shall be broken like a tree.
21 Hee doeth euill intreate the barren, that doeth not beare, neither doeth he good to the widow.
22 He drathely also the 7 nightie by his power, and when he riseth vp, none is sure of life.
23 Though men giue him assurance to be in safety, yet his eyes are vpon their waies.
24 They are exalted for a litle, but they are gone, and are brought low as all others: they are destroyed, and cut off as the toppe of an care of come.

t Hee fleeth to the waters for his succour, f They thinke that all the world is bent against them, and dare not goe by the way. e As the drie ground is neuer full with waters, so will they neuer cease sinning, till they come to the graue. u Though God suffer the wicked for a time, yet their ende halbe most vile destruction, and in this poynt Iob commeth to him selfe, and sheweth his confidence. x He sheweth why the wicked hall not be lamented, because he did not pittie others. y He declarerh that after that the wicked haue destroyed the weakest, they will doe like to the stronger, and therefore are iustly preuented by Gods iudgements.

25 But if it be not so, where is hee? or x. That is, that who will proue mee a liar, and make my contrary to your words of no value?
a perfitte reason of Gods iudgements, let me be reprovod.

CHAP. XXV.

Bilad proueth that no man is cleane nor without sinne before God.

T Then answered Bilad the Shubite, and sayd,

2 A power and feare is with him, that maketh peace in his high places.

3 Is there any number in his armies? and vpon whom shall not his light arise?

4 And how may a man be iustified with God? or how can he be cleane, that is borne of woman?

5 Beholde, hee will giue no light to the moone, and the starres are vncleane in his sight.

6 How much more a man, a woman, euen the soune of man, which is but a woman?

presence e That is, be iust in respect of God? d If God shew his power, the moone and starres can not haue that light, which is giuen them, much lesse can man haue any excellencie, but of God.

CHAP. XXVI.

Iob sheweth that man cannot helpe God, and proueth it by his miracles.

B Then Iob answered, and sayd,

2 A Whom helpest thou? him that hath no power: sauest thou the arme that hath no strength?

3 Whom counselest thou? him that hath no wisdom: thou shewest right well as the thing is.

4 To whome dost thou declare these words? or to whose spirit cometh out of thee?

5 The dead things are founed vnder the waters, and nere vnto them.

6 The graue is naked before him, and there is no couering for destruction.

7 He stretcheth out the south over the emptye place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.

8 He bindeth the waters in his cloudes, and the cloud is not broken vnder them.

9 He holdeth backe the face of his thron: and spreadeth his cloud vpon it.

10 Hee hath set boundes about the waters, vntill the day & night come to an end.

11 The pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.

12 The sea is calme by his power, and by his vnderstanding hee smiteth the pride thereof.

13 His Spirit hath garnished the heavens, and his hand hath foimed the crooked serpent.

14 Aoe, these are part of his waies: but how litle a portion heare we of him? and grau, wherein things putrifie. g He causeth the whole heauens to turne about the Northpole. h That is, he hideth the heauens, which are called his throne. i So long as this world endureth. k Not that heauen hath pillars to vpholde it, but he speaketh by a similitude, as though he would say, The heauen is selfe is not able to abide his reproch. l Which is a figure of starres facioned like a serpent, because of the crookednesse. m If these few things, which we see daily with our eyes, declare his great power and providence, how much more would they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes?

who can understand his fearefull powres?

CHAP. XXVII.

3 The constancie and perfectness of Job, 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

Moreover Job proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The living God hath taken away my judgement: for the Almighty hath put my soule in bitterness.

3 Per so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,

4 My lips surely shall speake no wickednesse, and my tongue shall utter no deceit.

5 God forbid, that I should be unjustified: until I die, I will never take away mine innocencie from my selfe.

6 I will keepe my righteousness, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprove me of my dapes.

7 Mine enemy shall bee as the wicked, and hee that riseth against mee, as the unrighteous.

8 For what hope hath the hypocrite when hee hath heaped by riches, if God take away his soules?

9 Will God heare his cry, when trouble cometh upon him?

10 Will he let his delight on the Almighty: will he call upon God at all times?

11 I will teach pon what is in the hand of God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almighty.

12 Behold, alpe pour selves have scene it: why then doe you thus vanily in vanitie?

13 This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receive of the Almighty.

14 If his children be in great number, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 His remnant shall be buried in death, and his widowes shall not weepe.

16 Though he should heape by silver as the dust, and prepare rayment as the clay, 17 He may prepare it, but the iust shall put it on, and the innocent shall bewide the silver.

18 He buildeth his house as the moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

19 When the rich man sleepe, hee shall not bee gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

20 Terrors shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall carry him away by night.

21 The Eastwinde shall take him away, and hee shall depart: and it shall hurle him out of his place.

22 And God shall cast upon him and not spare, though he would save him out of his hand.

23 Every man shall clappe their hands at him, and hiss at him out of their place,

CHAP. XXVIII.

Job sheweth that the wisdom of God is unsearchable.

1 He silver surely hath his veine, and the gold his place, where they take it.

2 Iron is taken out of the dust, and brasse is molten out of the stone.

3 God putteth an end to Arkenesse, and he trieth the perfection of all things: he setteth a bounde of darkness, and of the shadowe of death.

4 The flood breaketh out against the inhabitant, and the waters forgotten of the foote, being higher then man, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth cometh bread, and under it, as it were fire is turned by.

6 The stones thereof are a place of sapphires, and the dust of it is gold.

7 There is a path which no foule hath known, neither hath the kites epe scene it.

8 The Lyons whelpes have not walked it, nor the Lyon passed thereby.

9 We putte his hand upon the rocks, and overthroweth the mountaines by the rootes.

10 He beareth rivers in the rocks, and his eye seeth every precious thing.

11 Hee bindeth the floods, that they doe not overflowe, and the thing that is hidde, bringeth he to light.

12 But where is wisdom found? and where is the place of understanding?

13 Can knoweth nor the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the living.

14 The depth saith, It is not in me: the sea also saith, It is not with me.

15 Gold shall not be given for it, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shall not be valued with the wedge of gold of Sphir, nor with the precious stone, nor the saphir.

17 The golde nor the crysfall shall be as quall unto it, nor the exchange shalbe for plate of fine gold.

18 No mention shall be made of corall, nor of the gabith: for wisdom is more precious then pearles.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equall unto it, neither shall it be valued with the wedge of pure gold.

20 Whence then cometh wisdom? and wheres is the place of understanding,

21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the living, and is hid from the foules of the heauen?

22 Destruction and death say, We have heard the fame thereof with our eares, 23 But God understandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For hee beholbeth the ribbes of the world, and seeth all that is under heauen,

25 To make the weight of the winds, and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightning of the thunders,

27 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it, and also considered it, all meanes, whereby man might attaine to the heavenly wisdom which he meaneth by the foules that flie hie.

He maketh openly the authour of this wisdom, and giveth thereof.

a His purpose is to declare that man may attain in this world to divers secrets of nature, but man is never able to comprehend the wisdom of God.

b There is nothing but it is compassed with in certain limits and hath an end, but God is wise.

c Meaning, him that dwelleth thereby.

d Which a man cannot wade through.

e That is, come and vnderneath is brimstone or cole, which easil concealeth fire.

f He alludeth to the mines and secrets of nature, which are vnder the earth, where into neither foules nor beasts can enter.

g After that he hath declared the wisdom of God in the secrets of nature, he describeth his power.

h Though God power and wisdom may be vnderstand in earthly things, yet his heauenly wisdom cannot be attained vnto.

i It is too hie a thing for man to attain vnto in this world.

k It can neither be bought for golde nor precious stones, but is onely the gift of God.

l Which is thought to be a kinde of precious stone.

m Meaning, that there is no natural way to attain to the heavenly wisdom.

n He maketh openly the authour of this wisdom, and giveth thereof.

Trouber, 1. 7.

He declareth that man hath so much of this heavenly wisdom,
and departing from euill.

28 And vnto man he said, Behold, * the feare of the Lord is wisdom, and to des-part from euill is vnderstanding.

So much of this heavenly wisdom, as hee sheweth by feare of God,
and departing from euill.

C H A P. XXIX.

1 Iob complaineth of the prosperitie of the time past. 7. 22 His authoritie, 10 Iustice and equitie.

So Iob proceeded and continued his pascable, saying,

2 Oh that I were as + in times past,
when God prospered me!

3 When his + light shined vpon mine head: & when by his light I walked through the + darkenesse,

4 As I was in the dapes of my yowth:
when + Gods prouidence was vpon my tas-ternacle:

5 When the Almighty was yet with me, and my children round about me:

6 When I washed my pathes + with butter, and when the rocke powred me out rivers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, euen to the iudgement seat, & when I caused them to prepare my seate in the streete,

8 The yong men salued mee, and + hid themselves, & the aged arose, and stood vp.

9 The princes staied talke, and laid their hand on their + mouth.

10 The voyce of princes was hid, and their tongue cleaued to the rooofe of their mouth.

11 And when the + eare heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye saw mee, it gaue witness to + me.

12 For I deliuered the + poore that cried, and the fatherlesse, & him that had none to helpe him.

13 The blessing of him that was readie to perishe, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put + on iustice, and it couered me:
my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

15 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the feete to the lame.

16 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

17 I brake also the chawes of the vn-righteous man, and pluckt the pray out of his teeth.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my + nest, &
I shall multiply my dapes as the sand.

19 For my roote is + spread out by the water, and the delue shall be vpon my branch.

20 My yowp shall renue toward me, and my bowe shall be restored in mine hand.

21 Vnto me men gaue eare, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsell.

22 After my wordes they replied not,
and my talke + droppd vpon them.

23 And they waited for me, as for the raime, and they opened their mouth + as for the latter raime.

24 If I + laughed on them, they beleeued it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance + to fall.

So much of this heavenly wisdom, as hee sheweth by feare of God,
and departing from euill.

So much of this heavenly wisdom, as hee sheweth by feare of God,
and departing from euill.

So much of this heavenly wisdom, as hee sheweth by feare of God,
and departing from euill.

25 I appointed out + their way, and bid it as these, and dwelt as a king in the army, and like him that comforteth + mour-ners.

C H A P. XXX.

1 Iob complaineth that he is conuicted of the most contemptible, 11. 21. Because of his aduersitie and affliction, 23 Death is the house of all fleth.

But nowe they that are yonger then I smoke mee: yea, they whose fathers I haue refused to set with the + dogges of my flockes.

2 For whereto shoulde the strength of their hands haue settled me, seeing age + perished in them?

3 For pouertie and famine they were solitarie, fleeing into the wilderness, which is barke, desolate and waste.

4 They cut vp + nettles by the bushes, &
the iuniper rootes was their meate.

5 They were + chased forth from among men: they shouted at them, as at a therse.

6 Therefore they dwell in the cleftes of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rockes.

7 They roared among the bulshes, & vnder the thistles they gathered themselves.

8 They were the children of foolles and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And now am I their + song, and I am their talke.

10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because that God hath loosed my + cord and humbled mee, & they haue loosed the bridle before me.

12 The yowth rise vp at my right hand:
they haue put my feet, and haue trode on me as on the + pathes of their destruction.

13 They haue destroyed my pathes: they tooke pleasure at my calamitie, they had none + helpe.

14 They came as a great breach of waters, and + vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

15 Feare is turned vpon mee: and they pursue my soule as the winde, and mine health passeth away as a cloude.

16 Therefore my soule is now + poysoned out vpon mee, and the dapes of affliction haue taken hold on me.

17 It pearceth my bones in the night, and my sinewes take no rest.

18 For the great vehemencie is my garment changed, which compasseth me about as the collar of my coate.

19 + Bee hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like ashes and dust.

20 When I cry vnto thee, thou dost not heare me, neither regardst mee, when I stand vp.

21 Thou turnest thy selfe + cruelly against mee, and art enemie vnto mee with the strength of thine hand.

22 Thou takest me vp and causest me to ride vpon the + winde, and makest my ride vpon the + winde, and makest my himself.

to be the life of the faithfull.

I shoud I thinke on a maide.

quitie?

let my plants be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hath bene deceived by a woman, or if I haue layed waite at the doore of my neighbour, and let other men boile downe vpon her:

to be condemned:

to destruction, and which shall roote out all mine increase.

13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my seruant, and of my mapde, when they did contend with me,

14 What then shall I doe when I standeth by? and when he shall visite me, what shall I answer?

15 He that hath made me in the wombe, hath mee not made I him? hath not hee as long facioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I restrained the poore of their desire, or haue caused the eyes of the widow to faile,

17 Or haue eaten my morsels alone, and the fatherlesse hath not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my pouth he hath growen vp with me as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue bene a guide vnto her)

19 If I haue seene any perishe for want of clothing, or any poore without coe-ring,

20 If his lynes haue not blessed mee, because hee was warmed with the fleece of my sheepe,

21 If I haue lift v by mine hand against the fatherlesse, when I saw that I might helpe him in the gate,

22 Let mine arme fall from my shoulder, & mine arme be broken from the bone.

23 For Gods punishment was a feare full vnto mee, and I could not be deliuered from his highnesse.

24 If I made gold mine hope, or haue sayde to the wedge of golde, Thou art my confidence,

25 If I reioyced because my substance was great, or because mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did behold the sunne, when it shined, or the moone walking in her bright-nesse,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in secret, or if my mouth did kisse mine hand,

28 (This also had bene an iniquitie to bee condemned: for I had denieped the God about)

29 If I reioyced at his destruction that hated me, or was moued to ioy when euill came vpon him,

30 Neither haue I suffered my mouth to liue, by wishing a curse vnto his soule.

31 Did not the men of my tabernacle say, Who shall giue vs of his flesh? we can not be satisfied.

32 The stranger did not lodge in the streets, but I opened my doores vnto him, that went by the way.

33 If I haue hid my sinne, as Adam, concealing mine iniquitie in my bosome,

34 Though I could haue made afraid a great multitude, yet the most contemptible of the families did feare me: so I kept a silence, and went not out of the doore.

35 Oh that I had some to heare me! behold my signe that the Almighty will witnessse for mee: though mine aduersarie should write a booke against me,

36 Would not I take it vpon my shoulder, and binde it as a crowne vnto me?

37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and goe vnto him as to a prince.

THE WORDES OF IOB ARE ENDED.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elibu reprooveth them of follie. 8 Age maketh not a man wise, but the Spirit of God.

S These three men ceased to answer Job, because he esteemed himselfe iust.

2 Then the wyath of Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, of the familie of Kahi, was kindled: his wyath, I saye was kindled against Job, because hee iustified himselfe more then God.

3 Also his anger was kindled against his three friends, because they coude not finde an answer, and yet condemned Job.

4 (Now Elihu had waited till Job had spoken: for they were more ancient in yeeres then he)

5 So when Elihu sawe that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wyath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Baraschel the Buzite answered, and sayde, I am yong in yeeres, and pee are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was asfayde to shew pou mine opinion.

7 For I sayde, The dayes shall speake, and the multitude of yeeres shall teach wises dome.

8 Surely there is a spirite in man, but the inspiration of the Almightye quietly vnderstanding.

9 Great men are not alway wise, neither doe the aged alway vnderstand iudgement.

10 Therefore I say, Heare me, and I will shewe also mine opinion.

11 Behold, I did wait vpon your wordes, and hearkened vnto your knowledge, whyles you sought out reasons.

12 Yea, when I had considered you, loe, there was none of you that reproveth Job, nor answered his wordes:

13 Least ye should say, We haue found wisdome: for God hath cast him downe, and no man.

14 Yet hath he not directed his wordes to me, neither will I answer him by your wordes.

15 Then they fearing, answered no more, but left off their talke.

16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stood still, and answered no more)

17 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.

18 For I am full of matter, and the spirite within me compelleth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the newe bottles that burst.

20 Therefore will I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lips, and will answer.

21 I will not nowe accept the person of man, neither will I giue titles to man.

22 For I may not giue titles, least my speaker should take me awap suddenly.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Elibu accuseth Iob of ignorance. 14 Hee sheweth that God hath diuers meanes to instruct man and to drawe him from sinne. 19-29 Hee afflicteth man, and suddenly deliuereth him. 26- Man being deliuered, giueth thanks to God.

VV Herefore, Job, I pray thee, heare my talke, and hearken vnto all my wordes.

2 Behold now, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

3 My wordes are in the vprightnesse of mine heart, and my lips shall speake pure knowledge.

4 The Spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almightye hath giuen me life.

5 If thou canst giue me answer, prepare thy selfe, and stand before me.

6 Beholde, I am according to thy wish in Gods steade: I am also fogued of the clay.

7 Beholde, my terrour shall not feare thee, neither shall mine hand bee heauie vpon thee.

8 Doubtlesse thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy wordes:

9 I am cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

10 Loe, he hath found occasions against me, and counted me for his enemye.

11 Hee hath put my feete in the stocks, and looketh narrowly vnto all my pathes.

12 Beholde, in this hall thou not done right: I will answer thee, that God is greater then man.

13 Why dost thou strine against him: for hee doeth not giue account of all his matters.

14 For God speaketh once of twise, and one seeth it not.

15 In dreames and visions of the night, when sleepe faileth vpon men, & they sleepe vpon their beds, 16 Then hee openeth the eares of men, even by their corrections, which hee had sealed.

17 That hee might cause man to turne awap from his enterprise, and that he might hide the pride of man.

18 And keepe backe his soule from the pit, and that his life should not passe by the sword.

19 He is also stricken with sorowe vpon his bed, and the griefe of his bones is sore.

20 So that his life causeth him to abhorre bread, and his soule dauntie meate.

21 His flesh faileth that it cannot be seene, and his bones which were not seene, clatter.

22 So his soule draweth to the graue, and his life to the buriers.

stood.

a A singular man, and as one chosen out of a thousand, which is able to declare the great mercies of God vnto sinners: & wherein mans righteousness standeth, which is through the iustice of Iesus Christ and faith therein.

o He sheweth that it is a sure token of Gods mercie toward sinners, when he causeth his word to be preached vnto them, p That is, the minister shall by the preaching of the word pronounce vnto him the forgiveness of his finnes.

q He shall feele Gods fauour and reioyce: declaring hereby, wherein standeth the true ioy of the faithfull: and that God will restore him to health of body, which is a token of his blessing. r God will forgie his finnes, and accept him as iust, f That is, done wickedly. t But my sinne hath bene the cause of Gods wrath toward me, u God will forgive the penitent sinner. x Meaning, oft times, euen as oft as a sinner doeth repent. y If thou doubt of any thing, or see occasion to speake against it. z That is, to shewe thee, wherein mans iustification consisteth.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Elihu chargeth Iob, that hee called himselfe righteous. 12 Hee sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mightie. 30 By him the hypocrite reigneth.

e I am sorie punished, then my sinne deserueth.

f Which is compelled to receive the reproch and scorn of many for his foolish words.

g Meaning, that Iob was like to the wicked, because he seemed not to glorifie God and submit himselfe to his iudgements.

h He wrestleth Iobs wordes, who sayde that Gods children are oft times punished in this world, and the wicked goe free. i That is, lue godly, as Gen. 5. 22.

an interpreter, one of a thousand: to declare vnto man his righteousness.

24 Then will hee haue mercie vpon him, and will say, p Deliuere him, tha hee goe not downe into the pit: for I haue reseed a reconciliation.

25 Then shall his belly be as fresh as a childes, and shall returne as in the dapes of his pouth.

26 He shall pray vnto God, and he will be fauourable vnto him, and he shall see his face with ioy: for he will render vnto man his righteousness.

27 He looketh vpon men, and if one say, I haue sinned, and p peruerced righteousness, and it did not profite me, 28 He will deliuer his soule from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.

29 Lo, all these things will God doo to thee: & thou shalt be as a man, & shalt be as a child.

30 That he may turne backe his soule from the pit, to be illuminated in the light of the liuing.

31 Marke well, O Iob, and heare mee: keepe silence, and I will speake.

32 If there be y matter, answer me, and speake: for I desire to iustifie thee.

33 If thou hast not, heare me: holde thy tongue, and I will teach thee wisdom.

10 Therefore hearken vnto me, pee men of wisdom, God forbid that wickednesse should be in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty.

11 For he will render vnto man according to his worke, and cause euery one to finde according to his way.

12 And certainly God will not do twice kedly, neither will the Almighty peruert iudgement.

13 Whom hath he appointed ouer the earth beside himselfe? or who hath placed the whole world?

14 If he let his heart vpon man, & gather vnto himselfe his spirit: & his breath, 15 All flesh that perith together, and man shall returne vnto dust.

16 And if thou hast vnderstanding, heare this and hearken to the voyce of my wordes.

17 Shall hee that hateth iudgement, gouerne? and wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?

18 Wilt thou say vnto a king, Thou art wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodly?

19 How much lesse to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, and regardeth not the rich, more then the poore? for they be all the worke of his hands.

20 They shall die suddenly, & the people shall be troubled at midnight, and they shall passe forth and take away the mightie without hand.

21 For his eyes are vpon the wapes of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkness se nor shadow of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.

23 For he will not lay on man so much, that he should enter into iudgement with God.

24 He shall breake the mightie without seeking, and shall let vp other in their stead.

25 Therefore shall hee declare their workes: hee shall turne the night, and they shall be destroyed.

26 Hee striketh them as wicked men in the places of the seers.

27 Because they haue turned backe from him, and would not consider all his waies:

28 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to come vnto him, and he hath heard the cry of the afflicted.

29 And when hee quietly quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when hee hideth his face, who can behold him, whether it be vpon nations, or vpon a man only?

30 Because the hypocrite doth reigne, and because the people are feared.

31 Surely it appertheynt vnto God: to say, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 But if I see not, teach thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I will doe no more.

33 Will hee performe the thing though hee? for thou hast reprooued it, because z Onely it belongeth to God to moderate his corrections, and not vnto man. a Thus Elihu speakeh in the person of God, as it were mocking Iob, because he would be wiser then God. b Wil God vse thy counsel in doing his workes? c Thus hee speaketh in the person of God, as though Iob should chuse & refuse affliction at his pleasure, power, then much more ought they to be affraid to speake euill of God.

o When they looke not for it.

p The messengers or visitation that God shall send.

q God doeth not afflict man aboue measure, so that he should haue occasion to contend with him.

r For all his creatures are at hand to serue him, so that he needeth not to seeke for any other armie.

t Declare the things that were hid.

u Meaning openly in the sight of all men.

x By their cruelty and extortion.

y When tyrants sit in the throne of iustice, which vnder pretence of executing iustice, are but hypocrites and oppress the people.

doings.

ked men.

sinne: he clappeth his handes among vs,
and multiplieth his wordes against God.

CHAP. XXXV.

6 Neither doth god liasse profice, or vngodlinesse hurt God, but man. 13 The wicked cry vnto God, and are not heard.

E Ihu speake moreouer, and sayd,
2 Thinkest thou this right, that thou hast sayde, I am more righteous then God?

3 For thou hast said, What profiteth it thee, and what anawereth it me, to purge mee from my sinne?

4 Therefore wilt I answer thee, and thy comparisons with thee.

5 Looke vnto the heauen, and see, and behold the cloudes which are higher then thou.

6 If thou sinnest, what doest thou? as gainst him, yea, when thy sinnes be many, what doest thou vnto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what givest thou vnto him? or what receiveth hee at thine hand?

8 Thy wickednesse may hurt a man as thou art: and thy righteousness may profite the soune of man.

9 They cause many that are oppressed, to cry, which cry out for the violence of the wicked.

10 But none saith, Where is God that inade me, which giveth songs in the night?

11 Which reacheth vs more then the beasts of the earth, & giveth vs more wises doings then the foules of the heauen.

12 Then they cry because of the violence of the wicked, but he answereth not.

13 Surely God will not heare vanitie, neither will the almightie regard it.

14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it, & per iudgement is before him: trust thou in him.

15 But now because his anger hath not visited, nor called to count the euill with great excretion.

16 Therefore Job openeth his mouth in vaine, and multiplieth wordes without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6 And his iustice, 9 And wherefore he punisheth. 13 The properties of the wicked.

E Ihu also proceeded and said,
2 Suffer me a litle, and I will instruct thee: for I have yet to speake of Gods lesson.

3 I will fetch a my knowledge a farre off, and will attribute righteousness vnto my speaker.

4 For truly my wordes shall not be false, and hee that is perfect in knowledge, speaketh with thee.

5 Beholde, the mightie God casteth away none that is mightie and valiant of courage.

6 He maintaineth not the wicked, but hegiueth iudgement to the afflicted.

7 He withdraueth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with Kings in the throne, where he placeth them for reuer: thus they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters and tised with the cordes of affliction,

9 Then wil he shew them their workes, and their sinnes, because they haue become proud.

10 Hee openeth also their eare to discipline, and commandeth them that they returne from iniquitie.

11 If they obey and serue him, they shall end their dayes in prosperitie, & their peres in pleasures.

12 But if they will not obey, they shall passe by sword, & perishe without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites of heart increase the wrath: for they call not when he biddeth them.

14 Their soule dieth in youth, and their life among the whoremongers.

15 Hee deliuereth the poore in his afflic-tion, and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so woulde hee haue taken thee out of the straight place into a broad place and not shurre by beneath: and that which resteth vpon thy table, had bene full of farte.

17 But thou art full of the iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equi-tie maintaine all things.

18 For Gods wrath is, least he shoulde take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gifts can deliuer thee.

19 Will he regard thy riches? he regardeth not gold, nor all them that excel in strength.

20 Be not carefull in the night, how he

21 Take thou heede: looke not to vniquitie: for thou hast chosen it rather then affliction.

22 Behold, God exalteth by his power:
what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appoynted to him his wape? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his workes, which men beholde.

knowe him not, neither can the number of his perces be searched out.

vapours, and moue to and fro to water the earth. i That is, the cloudes that hath lightning in it. k Raime, colde, heate, tempestes and such like are sent of God, either to punish man, or to profite the earth, or to declare his fauour toward man, as Chap. 36. 31.

27 When hee restraineth the boyes of water, the raime f poureth downe by the vapour thereof,

28 Which raime the cloudes doe droppe and let fall abundantly vpon man.

29 Who can knowe the diuisions of the cloudes, and the thunders of his tabernacle?

30 Behold, he spreadeth his light vpon
it, and couereth the bottome of the sea.

31 For there by he iudgeth the people, and quietly meate abundantly.

32 He couereth the light with the clouds, and commandeth them to goe against it.

33 His companion sheweth him thereof, and there is anger in rising vp.

34 And now men see not his light, which shineth in the cloudes, but the winde passeth and cleanseth them.

22 The brightnesse commeth out of the South: the praise thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almighty: we can not find him out: hee is excellent in power and iudge-ment, and abundant in iustice: hee afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee will not regard any that are wise in their owne conceits.

when man murmureth against him: If God would destroy man, should he repine? f The cloudes stoppeth the shining of it sunne, that man cannot see it till the winde haue chased away the cloudes: and if man be not able to attaine to the knowledge of the things, how much lesse of Gods iudgements? t In Hebrew, gold meaning, faire weather and cleare as gold. u Meaning, without cause.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

God speaketh to Job, and declareth the weaknesse of man in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellencie the power, iustice, and preuidence of the Creator is knowne.

of the whirlwinde, and said,

3 Gird by now thy loynes like a man:

him, that is perfect in knowledge?

which are strong, and as a molten glasse?

darkenesse.

troyed?

2 When they couch in their places, and remaine in the covert to lie in waite?
3 Who prepareth for the rauen his meat, when his birdes? or crieth vnto God, wandering for lacke of meate?
4 Knowest thou the time when the wilde goates bring forth yong? or dost thou marke when the hindes doe calue?
5 Canst thou number the moneths that they fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?
6 They bowe themselves: they haile their yong and cast out their sowes.
7 Yet their yong wage fat, and growe vp with corne: they goe forth and returne not unto them.
8 Who hath set the wilde alle at liberty? or who hath loosed the bonds of the wilde alle?
9 Is it which haue made the wilderness his house, and the salt places his dwellings.
10 He derideth the multitude of the cite: he heareth not the crye of the diuer.
11 He seeketh out the mountaine for his pasture, and searcheth after euery greene thing.
12 Will the Unicorne salue thee? or will he rary by the crib?
13 Canst thou binde the Unicorne with his band to labour in the furrowe? or will he plowe the vailles after thee?
14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labour vnto him?
15 Wilt thou belecue him, that he wil bring home thy feede, and gather it vnto thy baine?
16 Hast thou giuen the pleasant wings vnto the peacocks? or wings and feathers vnto the ostrich?
17 Which leaueth his egges in the earth, and maketh them hote in the dust,
18 And forgetteth that the foote might scatter them, or that the wilde beast might breake them.
19 Hee sheweth himselfe cruell vnto his yong ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if hee trauailed in baine.
20 For God hath depriued him of wisdom, and hath giuen him no part of understanding.
21 When time is, hee mounteth on his: he mocketh the boye and his rider.
22 Hast thou giuen the hie strength?

a After he had declared Gods workes in the heauens, hee sheweth his marvellous providence in earth, euen toward the brute beastes.
b Reade Psalme 147. 9.
c He chiefly maketh mention of wilde goates and hindes, because they bring forth their yong with most difficultie.
d That is, how long they goe with yong?
e They bring forth with great difficultie.
f That is, the barren ground where no good fruites growe.
g Is it possible to make the vnicorne tame? signifying that if man cannot rule a creature, that it is much more impossible that he should appoynt the wisdom of God, whereby he governeth all the world.
h They write that the ostrich couereth her egges in the sand, and because the country is hot, and the sunne still keepeth them warme, they are hatched.
i If he should take care for them.
k That is, to haue a care and naturall affection toward his yong. l When the yong ostrich is grown vp, hee outrunneth the hork.

m That is, given him courage which is meant by neying and shaking his mane: for with his breath he couereth his necke. n He beareth with his hooffe. o He so riddeth the ground, that it seemeth nothing vnder him.

23 Hast thou made him at rayde as the grasshopper? his strong neying is fearefull. 24 He diggeth in the valley, and reioyceth in his strength: he goeth forth to meete the harnessed man. 25 He mocketh at feare, and is not afraid, and turneth not backe from the sword. 26 Though the quier rattle against him, the glittering speare and the shield. 27 He swalloweth the ground for fiercenesse and rage, and hee beleueth not that it is the noyle of the triumper. 28 Hee saith among the trumpets, Wa, ha: he smelleth the battell a farre off, and the noyle of the capitaines, and the shouting. 29 Shall the hawke flie by thy wisdom, stretching out his wings toward the south? 30 Doth the eagle mount by at thy commandement, or make his nest on hye? 31 He abideth & remaineth in the rocks, euen vpon the top of the rocks, & the tower. 32 If from thence hee lyeth for meate, and her eyes behold a farre off.

p That is, when colde cometh, to flie into the warme countries.

33 His yong ones also sucke by blood: and where the flaine are, there is free. 34 Moreover the Lord spake vnto Job, and sayd, 35 Is this to a leaue, to strue with the Almighty? he that reprooueth God, let him answere to it. 36 ¶ Then Job answered & Lord, saying, 37 Behold, I am vile: what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand vpon my mouth. 38 Once haue I spoken, but I will answere no more, yea twise, but I will proceede no further.

q Is this the way for a man that will learne, to strue with God? which thing he reproueth in Job. r Whereby he sheweth that he repented, and desired pardon for his fautes.

39 How weakes mans power, is compared to the workes of Gods, 40 Whose power appeareth in the creation, and gouerning of the great beasts. 41 Came the Lord answered Job out of the wind, and sayd, 42 Gird vp now thy loines like a man: I will demaund of thee, and declare thou vnto me. 43 Wilt thou disanull my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest be iustified? 44 Or hast thou an arme like God? or dost thou thunder with a voyce like him? 45 Decke thy selfe now with maiestie and excellencie, and aray thy selfe with beautie and glorie. 46 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and behold every one that is proude, and abase him. 47 Looke on every one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe: and destroy the wicked in their place. 48 Hide them in the dust together, and binde their faces in a secret place. 49 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that thy right hand can saue thee. 50 ¶ Behold now Behemoth, (whom I made with thee) which eateth a grasse as an oxe. 11 Beholde now, his strength is in his loines, & his force is in the nauill of his belly. 12 When hee taketh pleasure, his taile is like a Cedar: the sinewes of his stones are wapt together. 13 His bones are like stauces of brasse, and his small bones like stauces of yron. 14 He is the chiefe of the waies of God: hee that made him, will make his twoorde to approach vnto him. 15 Surely the mountaines bring him forth grasse, where all the beasts of the field play. 16 Lierh he vnder the trees in the court of the reede and fennes? 17 Can the trees couer him with their shadowe? or can the willowes of the river compasse him about? 18 Beholde, hee spyleth the river, & hasteth nor: he trusteth that he can draw vp Jordan into his mouth. 19 He taketh it with his eyes, & thrusteth his nose through whatsoever meeteth him. 20 Canst thou draw our Leviathan with an hook, and with a line which thou shalt cast downe vnto his tongue? 21 Canst thou cast an hook into his nose? canst thou pierce his talues with an angle? 22 Will he make many prayers vnto thee, or speake thee faure? 23 Will he make a couenant with thee? and wilt thou take him as a seruant for euer? 24 Wilt thou play with him, as with a bird? or wilt thou binde him for thy maids? 25 Shall the companions banquet with him? shall they deuide him among the merchants? 26 Canst thou fill the basket with his skinn? or the fish panier with his head? 27 Lay thine hand vpon him: remember the battell, and doe no more so. 28 Behold, his hope is in vaine: for shall not one perish euen at the sight of him? CHAP. XL.

h He is one of the chiefe works of God among the beasts. i Though man dare not come neere him, yet God can kill him. k He drinketh at leasure, and feareth no body. l Meaning, the whale. m Because he feareth lest thou shouldst take him. n To doe thy business, and be at thy commandement. o If thou once consider the danger, thou wilt not meddle with him. p To wit, that trusteth to take him. 1 By the greatnesse of this monster Leviathan God sheweth his greatnesse, and his power, which nothing can resist. NOne is so fierce that dare strue him vp. 2 Who is he then? he can stand before me? 3 Who hath prevented me that I should make an ende? All vnder heauen is mine. 4 I will not keepe silence concerning his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion. 5 Who can discouer the face of his garment? or who shall come to him with a double bridle? 6 Who shall open the doores of his face? his teeth are fearfull round about. 7 One is set to another, that no wounde can come betweene them. 8 One is toyed to another: they stick together, that they cannot be sundered. 9 His meetings make the light to shine, and his eyes are like the eye liddes of the morning. 10 Out of his mouth goe rampes, and sparkes of fire leape out. 11 Out of his nostrils cometh out smoke, a If none dare stand against a whale, which is but a creature, who is able to compare with God the Createur? b Who hath taught me to accomplish my worke? c The partes a members of the whale. d That is, who dare pull off his skinn? e Who dare put a bridle in his mouth? f Who dare looke into his mouth? g That is, cast out flames of fire. 88 as out of a boyling pot or caldron.

12 His breath maketh the coles burne for a flame goeth out of his mouth.

13 In his necke remaineth strength, and labour is reiected before his face.

14 The members of his body are joyned: they are strong in themselves, and can not be moued.

15 His heart is as strong as a stone, and as hard as the neither millstone.

16 He mightie are afraid of his maiestie, and for feare they faint in themselves.

17 When the sword doth touch him, hee will not rise vp, nor for the speare, darting habergeon.

18 Hee esteemeth you as strawe, and haste as rotten wood.

19 The archer cannot make him flee: the stones of the sling are turned into stubble vnto him.

20 The darts are counted as straws, and he laugheth at the thaking of a speare.

21 Sharpe stones are vnder him, and he spreadeth sharpe things vpon the mire.

22 He maketh the depths to be boile like a pot, & maketh the sea like a pot of oylment.

23 He maketh a path to a synner after him: one woulde thinke the depth as an hoare head.

24 In the earth there is none like him, he is made without feare.

25 He beheadeth all his things: he is a King ouer all the children of pride.

4 Heare, I beseech thee, and I will speake: I will demaund of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee. 6 Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes. 7 Now after that the Lord had spoken these wordes vnto Iob, the Lord also layde vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye haue not spoken of me the thing that is right, like my seruant Iob. 8 Therefore take vnto you now seven bullocks and seven rammes, and goe to my seruant Iob, and offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruant Iob shall pray for you: for I will accept him, lest I should put you to shame, because ye haue not spoken of me the thing, which is right, like my seruant Iob. 9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Sophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord had layde vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob. 10 Then the Lord turned the captivity of Iob, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Iob twice so much as he had before. 11 Then came vnto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did cate bread with him in his house, and had compassion of him, and comforted him for all the euill, that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euerie man gaue him a peece of money, and euerie one an earring of golde. 12 So the Lord blessed the last dayes of Iob more then the first: for he had I fourteene thousand sheepe, and thre thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses. 13 Hee had also seven sonnes, and three daughters. 14 And hee called the name of one Teminah, and the name of the seconde Reziah, and the name of the third Berem-hapuch. 15 In all the land were no women found so faire as the daughters of Iob, and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren. 16 And after this liued Iob an hundred and fourty yeres, and sawe his sonnes, and his sonnes tomes, euen foure generations. 17 So Iob died, being old, & full of daies.

THE ARGVMENT.

THIS booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holy Ghost, to bee esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that appertaine to true felicitie, a liuel in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heauenly wisdom are here let open for vs, to take thereof most abundantly. If we would know the great, and high maiestie of God, here wee may see the brightnesse thereof shine most clearly. If we would seeke his incomprehensible wilidome, here is the schoole of the same profession. If we would comprehend his ineffimable bountie, and approach nere thereunto, and fill our bandes with that treasure, here wee may haue a most liuely and comfortable taste thereof. If wee would knowe wherein standeth our saluation, and howe to attaine to life eueralasting, here is Christ our onely Redeemer, and Mediatour most evidently described. The rich man may learne the true vfe of his riches. The poore man may finde full contentation. He that will reioyce, shall knowe the true ioye, and howe to keepe measure therein. and oppressed, shall fee wherein standeth their comfort, and how they ought to praye God when he sendeth them deliuance. The wicked and the persecuters of the children of God shall see howe the hand of God is euer against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet he bridleth them, in so much as they can not touch an haire of ones head, except he permit them, and howe in the ende their destruction is most miserable. Briefly, here wee haue most present remedies against all tentations, and troubles of minde and conscience, so that being well practised herein, wee may be assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare, and loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glory, which is layde vp for all them that loue the comming of our Lorde Iesus Christ.

P S A L. I.

Whether it was David, or any other that gathered the Psalmes into a booke, it seemeth he did set this Psalm first in manner of a Preface, to exhort all godly men to studie and meditate the heavenly wisdom. For the effect hereof is, That they be blessed, which giue themselves wholly all their life to the holy scriptures: 4 And that the wicked contempters of God, though they seeme for a while happy, yet at length shall come to miserable destruction.

Blessed is the man that doth not walke in the counsel of the wicked, nor stande in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornfull:

2 But his delight is in the Law of the Lord, & in his Law doth he meditate day and night.

3 For he shall be like a treee planted by the riues of waters, that will bring forth her fruit in due season: whose lease shall not fade: so that he neuer be that doe, shall prosper.

4 The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the winde driueth away.

5 Therefore the wicked shall not stande in the iudgement, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

6 For the Lorde knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

a God's children are so moyntened euer with his grace, that whatsoever commeth vnto them, tendeth to their saluation. d Though the wicked seeme to beare the swinge in this worlde, yet the Lorde driueth them downe that they shall not rise nor stande in the company of the righteous. e But tremble when they seele Gods wrath, f Doth approue and prosper, like as not to know, is to reprocue and reiect.

P S A L. II.

1 The Prophet David reioyceth that notwithstanding his enemies rage, yet God will continue his kingdom for euer, and aduantage is euen to the end of the world. 10 And therefore exhorteth Kings and rulers, that they would humbly submit themselves vnder Gods yoke, because it is in vaine to resist God. Herein is figured Christs kingdom.

Why doe the heathen rage, and the people murmur in vainne:

2 The Kings of the earth band themselves, & the princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

3 Let vs breake their bandes, and cast their cordes from vs.

4 But he that dwelleth in heauen shall laugh: the Lord shall haue them in derision.

5 Then shall he speake vnto them in his wrath, and wexe them in his fure displeasure, saying,

6 Euen I haue set my King vpon Zion mine holy mountaine.

*7 I will declare the decree: that is, the Lorde hath saide vnto mee, * Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.*

8 Aske of mee, and I shall giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the ends of the earth for thy possession.

*9 * Thou shalt crush them with a scepter of yron, and breake them in pieces like a potters vessel.*

*10 * Bee wise now therefore, ye Kings: be learned ye iudges of the earth.*

11 Serue the Lorde in feare, and reioyce in trembling.

12 Kiss the sonne, least he be angry, and ye perish in the way, when his wrath shall suddenly burne, blessed are all that trust in him.

A Psalm of David.

Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousnes: thou hast let me at liber-tie, when I was in distress: haue mercy vpon me and hearken vnto my prayer.

PSAL. V.

1 Dauid oppressed with the crueltie of his enemies, and fearing greater dangers, calleth to God for succour, shewing how requisite it is that God should punish the malice of his aduersaries. 2 After being assured of prosperous successe, hee conceiueth comfort. 3 Concluding that when God shall deliuer him, others also shall bee partakers of the same mercies.

¶ To him that excellet vpon Nehiloth.

A Psalm of David.

Hear my wordes, O Lord: vnderstand my meditation.

2 Hearken vnto the voyce of my crie, my King and my God: for vnto thee doe
I pray.

3 Heare my voyce in the morning, O Lord: for in the morning will I direct me vnto thee, and I will waite.

4 For thou art not a God that loneth wickednesse: neither shall euill dwell with thee.

5 The foolish shall not stande in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that worke iniquitie.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake lies: the Lord will abhorre the bloody man after their carnall and deceitfull.

7 But I will come into thine house in the multitude of thy mercie: and in thy of his renations feare will I worship towards thine holy Temple.

8 Leade mee, O Lord, in thy righteousnes, because of mine enemies: make thy iust, therefore leade me out of the dangers of mine enemies.

way plaine before my face.

9 For no constancie is in their mouth:
within, they are very corruption: their thorow is an open faultshe, and they flatter with their tongue.

10 Destroy them, O God: let them fall from their counsels: cast them out for the multitude of their iniquities, because they haue rebelled againe thee.

11 And blest all them, that trust in thee, reioyce and triumph for euer, & conser thou them: and let them that loue thy name, reioyce in thee.

12 For thou Lord wilt blesse the righteous, and with fauour wilt compasse him, as with a shield.

PSAL. VI.

1 When Dauid by his sinnes had provoked Gods wrath, and now felt no rowely his hand against him, but also concerned the horrors of death everlasting, he desired forgiveness, 2 Bewayling that if God tooke him away in his indignation, he should lacke occasion to praise him as he was wont to doe, whyles he was among men. 3 Then suddenly feeling Gods mercy, he sharply rebuketh his enemies, which reioyced in his affliction.

¶ To him that excellet on Neginoth vpon the eight tone. A Psalm of David.

Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lord, for I am weak: O Lord heale me, for my bones are vnder.

3 My soule is also sore troubled: but Lord how long wilt thou delay?

4 Reuerne, O Lord: deliuer my soule: saue me for thy mercies sake.

5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the graue who shall praise thee?

6 I fainted in my mourning: I cause my bed every night to swarme, and water my couch with my teares.

7 Mine eye is dimmed for despise, and sunke in because of all mine enemies.

8 Away from me all ye workers of in-iquitie: for the Lord hath heard the voyce of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lord will recite my prayer.

10 All mine enemies that be confounded and sore vnder: they shall be turned backe, and put to shame suddenly.

that wee may triumph ouer our enemies. f When the wicked thinke that the godly shall perish, God deliuereth them suddenly, and destroyeth their enemies.

PSAL. VII.

1 Being falsely accused by Chush one of Sauls kinsmen, he calleth to God to be his defender. 2 To whom he commendeth his innocencie. 3 First shew-ing that his conscience did not accuse him of any eu-ill towards Saul. 4 Next that it rowbled Gods glory to award sentence against the wicked. 5
And so entering into the consideration of Gods mercies and promise, he wazeth bolde, and desired the same enterpriss of his enemies. 6 Threatning that it shall fall on their owne necke, which they haue purposed for others.

1 This Psalme is the first beginning of his gratulation, and thankesgiving in the entering into his kingdome, wherein he extollet and prayseth most highly the marvellous mercies and graces of God, who hath thus preferred & defended him. 32 Also hee fetherforth the image of Christs kingdome, that the faithfull may be assured that Christ shall alwayes conquere and ouercome by the vnspeakeable power of his Father, though all the whole world should sturue there against. To him that excelleth, A Psalme of Dauid the seruant of the Lord, which spake vnto the Lorde the wordes of this song (in the day that the Lord deliuered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul) and said,

16 Hee hath sent downe from aboue, and taken mee: he hath broken me out of many waters.

17 Hee hath deliuered mee from my strong enemy, and from them which hate mee: for they were too strong for mee.

18 They persecuted mee in the day of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.

19 Wee brought mee forth also into a large place: he deliuered mee, because hee fauoured me.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness: according to the purenesse of mine hands he recompensed me.

21 Because I kept the wordes of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

22 For all his lawes were before mee, and I did not cast away his commandements from mee.

23 I was vpright also with him, and haue kept me from my wickednesse.

24 Therefore the Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness, and according to the purenesse of mine hands in his sight.

25 Altho the godly thou wilt shew thy selfe godly: and with the vpright man thou wilt be thy selfe vpright.

26 Altho the pure thou wilt shewe thy selfe pure, and with the froward thou wilt shew thy selfe froward.

27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, and wilt cast downe the proud lookes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkness.

29 For by thee I haue broken through an hollie, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The way of God is incorrupt: the word of the Lord is tried in the fire: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mightie saue our God?

32 God giueth me with strength, and maketh my way vpright.

33 He maketh my feete like hinds feete, and setteth me vpon mine high places.

34 Hee taught mine hands to fight: so that a bowe of brass is broken with mine armes.

35 Thou hast also giuen mee the shield of thy saluation, and thy right hand hath stayed me, and thy louing kindenesse hath caused me to increase.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder me, and mine feete haue not slipt.

37 I haue persecuted mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe til I had consumed them.

38 I haue wounded them, that they were not able to rise: they are fallen vnder my feete.

41 They cryed, but there was none to saue them, euen into the Lord, but hee answered them not.

Hee beginneth euery verse according to the Ebrewe letters, two or three except.

A Psalme of Dauid.

Vnto thee, O Lord, lift I vp my soule.

3 So all that hope in thee, shall not be ashamed: but let them be confounded, that transgresse without cause.

PSAL. XXVI.

1 Dauid oppressed with many injuries, finding no helpe in the world, calleth for ayde from God: and assured of his integrity towards Saul, desireth God to be his iudge, and to defend his innocencie. 6 Finally he maketh mention of his sacrifice, which he will offer for his deliuerance, and desireth to bee in the company of the faithful all in the Congregation of God, whence hee was banished by Saul, promising integrity of life, and open prayers and thanksgiuings.

A Psalme of Dauid.

I Voe me, O Lord, for I gaue walked in mine innocencie: my trust hath bene also in the Lord: therefore shall I not slide.

2 Proue me, O Lord, and trie me: examine me, and mine heart.

3 For thy louing kindnesse is before mine eyes: therefore haue I walked in thy truth.

4 I haue not haunted with vaine persons, neither keept company with the dissemblers.

1 David maketh this Psalme being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the prayes and thanksgiwng annexed: 6 Wherein wee may see the constant faith of David against the assaults of all his enemies. 7 And also the ende wherefore he desireth to liue and to be deliuered, onely to worship God in his Congregation.

A Psalme of David.

a Because he was assured of good successe in all his dangers, and that his saluation was surely layde vp in God, he feared not the tyrannie of his enemies.

b That God will deliuer mee and giue my faith the victorie.

c The losse of cuntry, wife, and all worldly commodities grieue mee not in respect of this one thing, that I may not prayse thy name in the middes of the congregation.

d David assured himselfe by the Spirit of prophetic, that he should overcome his enemies and serue God in his Tabernacle.

e Hee groundeth vpon Gods promise, and sheweth that he is most willing to obey his commaundement.

f He magnifieth Gods loue towards his, which farre surpasseth the most tender loue of parents towards their children. g But either pacifie their wrath, or bridle their rage. h In this present life before I dye, as Isaiah 38. 11. I He exhorteth himselfe to depend on the Lorde, seeing he neuer failed in his promises.

The Lord is my light and my saluation, whome shall I feare? the Lorde is the strength of my life, of whome shall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, euen mine enemies and my foes came vpon mee to eate vp my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 Though an hoste pitched against mee, mine heart should not bee afrayd: though warre be raised against me, I will trust in the Lord.

4 One thing haue I desired of the Lord, that I will require, euen that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to behold the beautie of the Lorde, and to visite his temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his Tabernacle: in the secret place of his pavilion shall hee hide me, and set me vp vpon a rocke.

6 And now he shall be lift vp mine head above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of ioy: I will sing and playe the Lord.

7 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lord, when I cry: haue mercy also vpon mee and heare mee.

8 When thou saydest, Seeke ye my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lord, I will seeke thy face.

9 Did not therefore thy face from mee, nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure: thou hast bene my succour: leave mee not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.

10 Though my father and my mother should forsake me, yet the Lord will gather me vp.

11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, & lead me in a right path, because of mine enemies.

12 Quipe mee not vnto the lust of mine adulteraries: for there are false witnesses risen vp against me, & such as speake cruelly.

P S A L. XXVIII.

A Psalme of David.

Vnto thee, O Lorde, doe I crye: O my strength, be not deaf to ward me, lest, if thou and were mee not, I be like them that goe downe into the pit.

2 Heare the voyce of my petitions, when I crye vnto thee, when I holde vp mine hands toward thee O holy Oracle.

3 Drawe mee not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitie: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.

4 Rewarde them according to their deeds, and according to the wickednesse of their inventions: recompense them after the worke of their hands: render them their reward.

5 For they regard not the workes of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore breake them downe, and build them not vp.

6 Praised be the Lorde, for hee hath heard the voyce of my petitions.

7 The Lord is my strength, & my shield: mine heart trusted in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart shall reioyce, and with my long will I praise him.

8 The Lord is their strength, & he is the strength of deliverances of his anointed.

1 When David was delivered from great danger, he rendred thanks to God, exhorting others to doe the like, and so learne by his example, that God is rather mercifull then seuer and ² gorious towards his children. 7 And also that the fall from pros-peritie to aduersitie is sudden. 8 This done, he resurneth to prayer, promising to praise God for euer.

1 A Psalm of long of the ¹ dedication of the ² boule of David.

1 Will magnific thee, O Lord: ³ for thou hast exalted mee, and hast not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lorde my God, I cryed vnto thee, and thou hast ⁴ restored me.

3 O Lorde, thou hast brought by my soule out of the graue: thou hast reuined me from them that goe downe into the pit.

4 Sing praises vnto the Lord, yee ⁵ his Saints, and giue thanks ⁶ before the re-membraunce of his Holinesse.

5 For he endureth but a while in his anger:
but in his fauour is life: weeping may abide at euening, but ioy cometh in the morning.

6 And in my ⁷ prosperitie I said, I shall neuer be moued.

7 For thou Lord of the goodnesse haddest made my ⁸ mountaine to stand strong:
but thou diddest hide thy face, and I ⁹ was troubled.

8 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lorde, and prayed vnto my Lord.

9 What profite is there in my blood, whē
I goe downe to the pit: shall the dust ¹⁰ giue thanks vnto thee? or shall it declare thy truchē?

10 Heare O Lord, and haue mercy vpon me: be thou mine helper.

11 Thou hast turned my mourning into me with gladnes.

thee and not cease: O Lord my God, I will giue thanks vnto thee for euer.

1 David deliuered from some great danger, first relieseth what meditation hee had by the power of faith, whē death was before his eyes, his enemy being ready to take him. 15 Then hee affirmeth that the fauour of God is alwayes ready to those that feare him. 20 Finally hee exhorteth althe faithfull to trust

Psalm of David.

1 I ² thee, O Lorde, haue I put my trust: ³ Psal. 71. 1.
I let me neuer be confounded: deliuer me in thy ⁴ righteousness.

2 Wot downe thine care to mee: make haste to deliuer mee: bee vnto mee a strong rocke, and an house of defence to laue me.

3 For thou art my rocke and my fortresse: therefore for thy ⁵ Names sake direct me and guide me.

4 Driue mee out of the ⁶ net, that they haue laide priuily for mee: for thou art my strength.

5 Into thine ⁷ hand I commend my spirit: for thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth.

6 I haue hated them that giue themselues to deceitfull vanities: for I ⁸ trust in the Lord.

7 I will be glad and reioyce in thy mercie: for thou hast seene my trouble: thou hast knowen my soule in aduersities.

8 And thou hast not shut me vp in y hand of the enemy, but hast let my feete at ⁹ large.

9 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lorde: for I am in trouble: mine ¹⁰ eye, my soule and my belly are consumed with griefe.

faileth for my paine, and my bones are conbours: and a feare to mine acquaintance, who seeing me in the streete, fled from me.

PSAL. XXXII.

1 David punished with grievous sicknesse for his sinnes, counteth them blessed, to whom God doth not impute their transgressions. 5 And after that he had confessed his sinnes and obtained pardon, 6
Hee exhorteth the wicked men to luee godly, 11
And the good to reioyce.

1 A Psalm of David to giue instruction.
Blessed is he whose wickednesse is forgiuen, and whose sinne is covered.

2 Blessed is the man, vnto whome the Lord is pure: he is not iniquitie, and in whose spirite there is no guile.

were consumed, or when I roared all the day,

5 Then I acknowledged my sinne vnto thee, neither hidde I mine iniquitie: for I thought, I will confesse against my selfe my wickednesse vnto the Lord, and thou forgas-test the punishment of my sinne. Selah.

6 Therefore shall euery one that is godly, make his prayer vnto thee in a time when thou mayest be found: surely in the flood of great waters they shall not come neere him.

7 Thou art my secret place: thou preferrest me from trouble: thou compassedst me about with thyfull deliuerance. Selah.

8 I will instruct thee, and teach thee in the way, that thou shalt goe, and I will guide thee with mine eye.

9 Be ye not like an horse, or like a mule, which understand not: whose mouths thou dost binde with bit and bridle, least ked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercie

PSAL. XXXIII.

Hee exhorteth good men to prayse God, for that he hath not only created all things, & by his promi-dence governeth the same, but also is faithfull in his promises. 10 He understandeth mans heart, and searcheth the counsell of the wicked, 16 So that no man can be preferred by any creature or mans strength: but they that put their confidence in his mercie, shall be preferred from all aduersaries.

1 Reioyce in the Lord, O ye righteous: for the Lord is mercifull the faithfull, and re-wardeth abundantly the prouide doer.

2 Praise the Lord with harpe: sing vnto him with vials, and with instrument of ten strings.
3 Sing vnto him a newe song: sing cheerfully with a loude voyce.

4 For the wordes of the Lord is righteous: and all his workes are faithful.
5 Hee loveth righteousnesse & iudgement:
the earth is full of the goodnesse of the Lord.

6 By the wordes of the Lord were the heavens made, and all the hoste of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 Hee gathereth the waters of the sea depths in his treasures.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: let all them that dwell in the world, feare him.

9 For hee spake, and it was done: hee commanded, and it stood.

10 The Lord breakech the counsell of the heathen, and bringeth to nought the deuices of the people.

11 The counsell of the Lord shall stand for ever, and the thoughts of his heart chosen for his inheritance.

13 The Lord looketh downe from heauen, and beholdeth all the children of men.
14 From the habitation of his dwelling he beholdeth all them that dwell in the earth.

15 Hee fashioneth their hearts euery one,
and understandeth all their workes.

16 The King is not saued by the multitude of an hoste, neither is the mightie man deliuered by great strength.

17 A horse is a vaine helpe, and shall not them that feare him, and vpon them, that 20 Hee keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 But malice shall slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous, shall perish.

22 The Lord redeemereth the soules of his seruants: and none that trust in him, shall perish.

1 When they seeme to be swallowed vp with afflictions, then God is at hand to deliuer them, m And as Christ saith, all the haire of his head, n Their wicked enterprises shall turne to their owne destruction.

o For when they seeme to be overcome with great dangers and death it selfe, then God sheweth him selfe their redeemer.

PSAL. XXXV.

1 So long as Saul was enemy to David, all that had any authoritie vnder him, so flatter their king (as is the course of the world) did also most cruelly persecute David: against whom he prayeth God so to please and to avenge his cause, 8 That they may be taken in their nets and snares, which they laide for him, that his innocencie may be declared, 17 And that the innocent, which taketh part with him, may reioyce and praise the Name of the Lord, that thus deliuereth his seruants. 28 And so he promisseth to speake forth the iustitie of the Lord, and to magnifie his name all the dayes of his life.

¶ A Psalm of David.

PLease thou my cause, O Lord, with them that strue with mee: fight thou against them that fight against me.

2 Lay hand vpon the shield and buckler, and stand vp for mine helpe.

3 Bring out also the spear, and stoppe the way against them, that persecute me: say vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them be confounded and put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the winde, and let the Angel of the Lord scatter them.

6 Let their way bee darke and slipperie: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For without cause they haue hid the pit and their net for me: without cause haue they digged a pit for my soule.

8 Let destruction come vpon him at bu-wares, and let his net, that hee hath layd priuily, take him: let him fall into the same destruction.

9 Then my soule shall bee ioyfull in the Lord: it shall reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my bones shall say, Lord, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him, that is too strong for him! yea, the poore, and him that is in miserie, from him that spoyled him!

11 Cruell witnesses did rise vp: they asked of me things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me euill for good, to haue spoyled my soule.

13 Per I, when they were sicke, I was clothed with sacke: I humbled my soule with fasting: and my prayer was turned vpon my bolome.

14 I behaued my selfe as to my friend, or as to my brother: I humbled my selfe, mourning as one that bewaileth his mother.

15 But in mine aduersity they reioyced, and gathered themselves together: the aduersaries assembled themselves against mee, and I knew not: they tare me and ceased not.

16 With the false scoffers at o bankets, gnashing their teeth against me.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou beholde this? deliuer my soule from their tumult, euen my desolate soule from the lions.

18 So wilt I giue thee thanks in a great congregation: I will praye thee among much people.

PSAL. XXXVI.

1 The Prophet grievously vexed by the wicked, doeth complaine of their malicious wickednesse. 6 Then he turneth to consider the unspeakable goodness of God towards all creatures: 9 But specially towards his children, that by the faith thereof he may be comforted and assured of his deliuerance by this ordinarie course of Gods worke. 13 Who in the ende destroyeth the wicked and fawerth the iust.

C To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David, the servant of the Lord.

Wickednesse saith to the wicked man, even in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

2 For he flattereth himselfe in his owne eyes, while his iniquitie is founde worthe to be hated.

3 The wordes of his mouth are iniquitie and deceit: he hath left off to understand and to doe good.

4 Hee imagineth mischiefes vpon his bed: he setteth himselfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.

5 Thy mercie, O Lord, reacheth vnto the heauens, & thy faithfulness vnto the cloudes.

6 Thy righteousness is like the high mountains: thy iudgements are like a great deepe: thou, O Lord, doest faue man & beast.

7 How excellent is thy mercie, O God!

and put not difference betweene good and euill. d by describing at large the nature of the reprobate, he admonisheth the godly to beware of these vices. e Though wickednesse seemeth to ouerflowe all the world, yet by thine heavenly providence thou gouernest heauen and earth. f Ebr. the mountaine of God: for whifouer is excellent, is thus called. f The depth of thy providence gouerneth all things, and disposeth them, albeit the wicked seeme to ouerwhelme the world, therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadowe of thy wings.

8 They shall be satisfied with the farnesse of thine house, and thou shalt giue them drinke out of the riner of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall we see light.

10 Extend thy louing kindenesse vnto them that knowe thee, and thy righteousness vnto them that are vpright in heart.

12 There they are fallen that tooke iniquitie: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.

himselfe against me, neither the power of the wicked driue me away.

k That is, in their pride, wherein they flatter themselves.

PSAL. XXXVII.

1 This Psalm containeth exhortation & consolation for the weak, that are grieved at the prosperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly. 7 For howe prosperously fouer the wicked doe liue for the time, he doth affirme their felicitie to be vaine and transitorie, because they are not in the fauour of God, but in the ende they are destroyed as his enemies. 11 And howe miserably that the righteous seemeth to liue in the world, yet his ende is peace, and he is in the fauour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked and preferred.

A Psalm of David.

Net not thy selfe because of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the euil doers.

2 For they shall soone be cut downe like grasse, and shall wither as the Greene herbe.

3 Trust thou in the Lord a do good: dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed abundantly.

4 And delight thy selfe in the Lord, and he shall giue thee thine hearts desire.

5 Commit thy way vnto the Lord, and trust in him, and he shall bring it to passe.

6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy iudgement as the noone day.

7 Waite patiently vpon the Lord, and hope in him: fret not thy selfe for him which prospereth in his way: nor for the man that bringeth his enterprises to passe.

8 Cease from anger, and leaue off wrath: fret not thy selfe a litle to doe euill.

9 For euil doers shall be cut off, and they that waite vpon the Lord, they shall inherit the land.

10 Therefore yet a little while, and the wicked shall not appeare, and thou shalt looke after his place, and he shall not be found.

11 But meeke men shall possess the earth, and shall haue their delight in the multitude of peace.

12 The wicked practiseth against the offended with the darkenesse of the night: so ought we patiently trust that God will cleare our cause and restore vs to our right.

1 When God suffereth the wicked to prosper, it seemeth to the flesh that he fauoureth their doings, Iob 11. 7. & c. Meaning, except moderate his afflictions, he shall be led to doe as they doe.

h H correcteth the impatience of our nature, which cannot abide till the fulnesse of Gods time bee come. Mat. 5. 5. The godly are assured that the power and craft of the wicked shall not preuaile against them, but fail on their owne neckes, and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time, and in the meane while bewaile their sinnes, and offer vp their teares as a sacrifice of their obedience.

lust, and gnasheth his teeth against him.

13 But the Lord shall laugh him to scorne: for he seeth, that his day is coming.

14 The wicked haue drawe their sword, and haue bent their bowe, to cast downe the poore and needy, and to slay lych as bee of vpright conuersation.

15 But their bowe shall enter in to their owne heart, and their bowes shal be broken.

16 A small thing vnto the iust man is better, then great riches to the wicked and mightie.

17 For the armes of the wicked shall be broken: but the Lord upholdeth the iust me.

18 The Lord knoweth the dayes of vpright men, and their inheritance shall bee perpetuall.

19 They shall not be confounded in the perillous time, and in the dayes of famine they shall haue ^{me} ynough.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall bee consumed as the fat of Lambes: euen with the smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked borroweth and payeth not againe: but the righteous is mercifull, and ^{is} giueth.

22 For lych as he blessed of God, shal inherite the lande, and they that be curld of him, shal be cut off.

23 The pathes of man are directed by the Lord: for he loweth his way.

24 Though he a fall, he shall not be cast off: for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.

25 I haue bene yong, and am olde: yet I sawe neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his seede begging bread.

26 But hee is euer mercifull and tenderth, and his seede inioyeth the blessing.

27 I flee from euil and do good, and dwell for euer.

28 For the Lord loweth iudgement, and forsaketh not his iustites: they shall be preferred for euermore: but the seede of the wicked shalbe cut off.

29 The righteous men shall inherite the land, and dwell therein for euer.

30 The mouth of the righteous will speake of wisdom, and his tongue will talke of iudgement.

31 For the law of his God is in his heart, and his steps shall not slide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.

33 But the Lord wil not leaue him in his hand, nor condemne him, when he is iudged.

34 Waitte thou on the Lord, and keepe his way, and he shall exalt thee, that thou shalt inherite the lande: when the wicked men shall perish, thou shalt see.

35 I haue seene the wicked strong, and spreading himselfe like a greene bay tree.

36 Yet he is passed away, and loe, he was gone, and I sought him, but he could not be found.

u For though it bee sometime so expedient both for Gods glory and their saluation, yet hee will approve their cause, and reuenge their wrong. x So that the prosperitie of the wicked is but as a cloude, which vanisheth away in a moment.

37 Marke the vpright man, and behold the iust: for the ende of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressours shall bee destroyed together, & the end of the wicked shal be cut off.

39 But the saluation of the righteous men shall bee of the Lord: hee shall bee their strength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord shall helpe them, and deliuer them: hee shall deliuer them from the wicked, and shall saue them, because they trust in him.

the ende hath good successe, though for a time God proue them by sundry tentations.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

1 David lying sicke of some greivous disease, acknowledging himselfe to be chastised of the Lord for his sinnes, and therefore prayeth God to turne away his wrath. 2 He vntereth the greatnesse of his griefe by many words and circumstances, as wounded with the arrowes of Gods ire for saken of his friends, euil entreated of his enemies. 22 But in the ende with firme confidence he commendeth his cause to God, and hopeth for speedie help at his hand.

¶ A Psalm of David for remembrance. O Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 For thine arrowes haue lieth vpon me, and thine hand lieth vpon me.

3 There is nothing found in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there rest in my bones, because of my sinne.

4 For mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, and as a weightie burden they are too heauie for me.

5 My wounds are purrified, and corrupt because of my foolishnes.

6 I am bowed, and crooked very sore: I goe mourning all the day.

7 For my reins are full of burning, and there is nothing found in my flesh.

8 I am weakened and sore broken: I roare for the very griefe of mine heart.

9 Lord, I powne my whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine heart is painted: my strength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euen as they are not mine owne.

11 My louers and my friends stande aside from my plague, and my kinsmen stande a farre off.

12 They also, that seeke after my life, lay snares, and they that goe about to doe me euill, talke wicked things and imagine deceipt continually.

13 But I as a deafe man heard not, and am as a dumme man, which openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofes.

15 For on thee, O Lord, doe I waite: thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.

16 For I said, Heare me, lest they reioyce great: but alwayes to crye vnto God with sure trust for deliuerance.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

Blessed is hee that indgeth wisely of the pooer: the Lord shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.

2 The Lord wil keepe him, and preserve him aliu: he shall be blessed vpon the earth, and thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the will of his enemies.

3 The Lord wil strengthen him vpon the bed of sorow: thou hast turned all his bed in his sicknesse.

4 Therefore I said, Lord, haue mercy vpon mee: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies & speake euill of me, saying, When shall he die, and his name perish?

6 And if he come to see me, hee speaketh eyles, but his heart heapeth iniquitie vnto him, & when hee cometh forth, he telleth it.

As the heart travaileth for the rivers of water, so panteth my soule after thee, O God.

2 My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the liuing God: when shall I come and appeare before the presence of God?

3 My teares haue bene my meate day and night, while they dayly lay vnto mee, Where is thy God?

4 When I remembered these things, I poured out my very heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and led them into the house of God with the voyce of singing, and pyppe, as a multitude that keepeth a feast,

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule, and binquier within me? waite on God: for I will yet giue him thanks for the helpe of his presence.

6 Why God my soule is cast down within me, because I remember thee, from the land of Iordan, and Hermonim, and from the mount Bizar.

7 One deepe calleth an other deepe by the noyse of the water spoutes: all thy waues and thy floods are gone ouer me.

8 The Lord will graunt his louing kindnes in the day, and in the night shall I sing of him, euen a prayer vnto the God of my life.

9 I will say vnto God, which is my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten me? Why goe I mourning, when the enemy oppresseth me?

10 My bones are cut asunder, while mine enemies reproach me, saying dayly vnto me, Where is thy God?

11 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within mee? waite on God: for I will yet giue him thanks: hee is my present helpe, and my God.

g Afflictions came so thicke vpon mee, that I felt my selfe as ouerwhelmed: whereby he sheweth there is no ende of our miserie, till God be pacified, and send reu edie. h He assureth himselfe of Gods helpe in time to come. i That is, I am most grievously tormented. k This repetition doeth declare that Dauid did not overcome at once: to teach vs to be constant, forasmuch as God will certainly deliuer his.

d He alludeth to them that ride in chariots in their triumphes, shewing that the quiet state of a Kingdome standeth in truer, meeknesse and iustice, not in worldly pompe and vanitie. e Vnder this figure of this kingdome of iustice is set forth the euermolting kingdome of Christ. f Hath established thy kingdome as the figure of Christ, which is the peace and ioy of the Church. g In the which palace the people made thee ioyfull to see them giue thanks and reioyce for thee. h Though he had many kings daughters among his wives, yet beloved Pharaohs daughter best. i Vnder y figure of Pharaohs daughter hee sheweth that the Church must cast off all carnall affections to obey Christ onely. k He signifieth that diuers of them that be rich, shall be benefactors to the Church, albeit they giue not perfect obedience to the Gospell. l There is nothing fayned nor hypocritical, but theis glorious both within and without: and howbeit the Church hath not at all times this outward glory, the fault is to be imputed onely to their owne ingratitude. m They shall haue greater graces then their fathers. n He signifieth the great compasse of Christs kingdome, which shall be sufficient to enrich all his members. o This must onely be referred to Christ, and not to Salomon.

3 Gird thy sword vpon thy thigh, & most mightie, to wit, thy word: and thy glory. 4 And prosper with thy glory: & ride vpon the woode of truer & of meeknesse and of righteousness: to thy right hande shall teach thee terrible things.

5 Thine arrowes are sharpe to pierce the heere of the Kings enemies: therefore the people shall fall vnder thee.

6 Thy throne, O God, is for euer & euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousness.

7 Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickednesse, because God, euen thy God hath anointed thee with the oyle of gladnesse above thy fellows.

8 All thy garments smell of myrrour and aloes, and Cassia, when thou comest out of the purple palaces, & where they haue made thee glad.

9 Kings daughters were among thine honourable wives: vpon thy right hand did stand the Queene in a vesture of golde of Ophir.

10 Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine eare: forget also thine owne people and thy fathers house.

11 So shall the King haue pleasure in thy beautie: for hee is thy Lord, and reuerence thou him.

12 And the daughter of Tyrus with the rich of the people shall doe homage before thy face with presents.

13 The Kings daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of hyssopped golde.

14 Shee shall be brought vnto the king in rayment of noble worke: the virgines that followe after her, and her companions shall be brought vnto thee.

15 With ioy and gladnesse shall they be brought, and shall enter into the Kings palace.

16 In steade of thy Fathers shall thy children be: thou shalt make them princes through all the earth.

17 I will make thy Name to be remembered through all generations: therefore shall the people giue thanks vnto thee world without ende.

1 A song of triumph or thanksgiving for the deliuerance of Ierusalem, after Senacherib with his army was driven away, or some other like sudden and marvellous deliuerance by the mightie hand of God. 2 Whereby the Prophet commanding this great benefite, doeth exhort the faithfull to giue themselves wholly vnto the hand of God, doubting nothing but that vnder his protection they shall bee safe against all the assaults of the enemies, because this is his delight, to assuage the rage of the wicked, when they are most busy against the iust.

To him that excelleth vpon a Alamoth. A song committed to the sonnes of Korah.

God is our hope & strength, and helpe in troubles, ready to be found.

PSAL. XLVIII.

1 A notable deliuerance of Ierusalem from the hand of many Kings is mentioned, for the which, thanks are giuen to God, and the state of that citie is praised, that hath God so presently at all times ready to defend them. This Psalm seemeth to be made in the time of Ahas, Isthaphat, Asa or Ezechiah: for in their times chiefly was the citie by forreine Princes assailed.

1 A long or Psalm committed to the sonnes of Korah.

Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised, in the Citie of our God, euen upon his holy Mountaine.

2 Mount Zion, lying Northward, is faire in situation: it is the ioy of the whole earth, and the citie of the great King.

3 In the palaces thereof God is knowne for a refuge.

4 For lo, the Kings were gathered and went together.

5 When they sawe it they maruelled: they were astounded, and suddenly diuen backe.

6 Feare came there vpon them, and forrow, as vpon a woman in trauaile.

7 As with an Eastwind thou breakest the ships of Tarshish, so were they destroyed.

8 As we haue heard, so haue we seene in the Citie of the Lord of hostes, in the citie of our God: God will stablish it for euer. Selah.

9 We waite for thy louing kindenesse, O God, in the midst of thy temple.

10 O God, according vnto thy Name, so is thy praise vnto the worlds ende: thy right hand is full of righteousness.

11 Let mount Zion reioyce, and the daughters of Iudah be glad, because of thy iudgements.

12 Compassie about Zion, and go round about it, and tell the towres thereof.

13 Marke well the wall thereof: beholde her towres, that ye may tell your posteritie.

14 For this God is our God for euer and euer: he shall be our guide vnto the death.

15 The enemies were afraid at the sight of the citie.

1 The holy Ghost calleth all men to consideratio of mans life, 7 Shewing them not to be most blessed, that are most wealthie, & therefore not to be feared: but contrariwise he lieth up our minds to consider how all things are ruled by Gods providence: 14 Who as heudgeth these worldly misers to euertlasting torments, 15 So doeth he persue his, and wil reward them in the day of the resurrection, 2. He care this, all ye people: giue care, all be that dwell in the world,

2 As wel low as he, both rich and poore.

3 My mouth shall speake of wisdom, & the meditation of my heart is of knowledge.

4 I will incline mine eare to a parable, and utter my graue matter vpon the harpe.

11 Yet they thinke, their houses, and their habitations shall continue for euer, euen from generation to generation, and I call their landes by their names.

12 But man shall not continue in honour: he is like the beastes that die.

A Psalm of ^a Asaph.

The God of Gods, even the Word hath spoken and called the earth from the rising up of the Sunne unto the going downe thereof.

1 When David was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan, for his great offences, he did not only acknowledge the same to God with protestation of his natural corruption and iniquitie, but also left a memoriall thereof to his posteritie. 7 Therefore first he desireth God to forgive his sinnes, 10 And to renew in him his holy spirit, 12 Which promise that he will not be unmercifull of those great graces. 18 Finally, fearing lest God would punish the whole Church for his fault, he requieth that he would rather increase his graces towards the same.

2 To him that exelleth. A Psalm of David, when the Prophet Nathan came unto him, after hee had gone in to Bathsheba.

Have mercie vpon me, O God, according to thy loving kindnesse: according to the multitude of thy compassions put away mine iniquities.

2 Cleanse mee thoroughly from mine iniquities, and cleanse me from my sinne.

3 For I knowe mine iniquities, and my sinne is cuer before me.

4 Against thee, against thee only haue I sinned, and done euill in thy sight, that thou mayest bee iust when thou speakest, and pure when thou iudgest.

Sau me, O God: for the waters are sentred euen to my soule.

2 I stickte fast in the deepe mire, where no stay is: I am come into deepe waters, and the streames runne ouer me.

3 I am wearie of crying: my throte is drye: mine eyes faile, whiles I waite for my God.

4 They that hate mee without a cause, are more then the haies of my head: they that would destroy mee, and are mine enemies: falsely, are mightie, so that I restored that which I tooke not.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishnesse, and my fautes are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee O Lord God of hostes, be ashamed for me: let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me, O God of Israel.

7 For thy sake haue I suffered reproofe: shame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren, euen an aliant vnto my mothers lonnes.

9 For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I wept and my soule fasted, but that was to my reproofe.

11 I put on a sacke also: and I became a prouerbe vnto them.

12 They that late in the gate, spake of me, and the drunkards sang of me.

13 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee in an acceptable time, euen in the multitude of thy mercie: O God, heare me in the truth of thy saluation.

4 Deliu me out of the mire, that I shike not: let mee bee deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.

15 Let not the water flood vnto mee, neither let the deepe swallowe me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare mee, O Lord, for thy louing kindnesse is good: turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: make haste and heare me.

18 Draw neere vnto my soule and redeeme it: deliuer me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast knowen my reproofe and my shame, and my dishonour: all mine aduersaries are before thee.

24 Downe out thine anger vpon them, and let thy wrathfull displeasure take them.

25 Let their habitation be voyd, and let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him, whom thou hast smitten: and they adde vnto the sorow of them, whom thou hast wounded.

27 Lay in iniquitie vpon their iniquitie, and let them not come into thy righteousness.

28 Let them bee put out of the booke of life, neither let them bee written with the righteous.

29 When I am poore, and in heavinesse, thine helpe, O God, shall exalt me.

30 I will praise the name of God with a song, and magnifie him with thanksgiving.

31 This also shall please the Lord better then a yong bullocke, that hath homies and hoofes.

32 The humble shall see this, and they that seeke God, shall be glad, and your heart shall lue.

g As this is true in all godly kings, so is it chiefly verified in Christ, who with his heavenly Church maketh his dwelleuer to flourish.

h That is, from the red sea, to the sea called Syria-cum, and from Euphrates forward: meaning, that Christes kingdome should be large and vniuersall.

i Of Cilicia and of all other countreys beyond the sea, which he meaneth by the yles. k That is, of Arabia that rich countrey, where of Sheba was a part bordering vpon Ethiopia. l Though tyrants passe not to shed blood, yet this godly king shall preferue his subiects from all kind of wrong.

m God wil both prosper his life, and also make the people most willing to obey him.

n Vnder such a King shall bee most great plenty, both of fruite, and also of the encrease of mankind. o They shall pray to God for his continuance, and know that God doth prosper them for his sake. p He confesseth that except God miraculously preferue his people, that neither the King nor the kingdome can continue. q Concerning his honore Salomon.

6 Wee shall come downe like the raine vpon the moouen grasse, and as the showers that water the earth.

7 In his dayes shall the righteous flourish, and abundance of peace shall be so long as the moone endureth.

8 His dominion shall bee also from ^h sea to sea, and from the ruer vnto the endes of the land.

9 They that dwell in the wilderness, shall kneele before him, and his enemies shall lick the dust.

10 The Kings of ⁱ Tarshish and of the yles, shall bring presents: the kings ^k of Sheba and Seba shall bring gifts.

11 Yea, all kings shall worship him: all nations shall serue him.

12 For hee shall deliuer the poore when he cryeth: the needie also, and him that hath no helper.

13 He shall be mercifull to the poore and needie, and shall preferue the soules of the poore.

14 Wee shall redeeme their soules from deceit and violence, and ^l deare shall their blood bee in his sight.

15 Yea, he shall liue, and vnto him shall they giue of the ^m gold of Sheba: they shall also pray for him continually, and dayly blesse him.

16 An handfull of come shall be sown in the earth, even in the toppes of the Mountaines, and the ⁿ fruite thereof shall shake like the trees of Libanon: and the children shall flourish out of the citie like the grasse of the earth.

17 His name shall be for euer: his name shall endure as long as the sunne: all nations shall blesse ^o him, and bee blessed in him.

18 Blessed bee the ^p Lord God, euen the God of Israell, which onely doeth ^q wonderful things.

19 And blessed bee his glorious Name for euer: and let all the earth be filled with his glory. So be it, euen so be it.

HERE ENDE THE ^r prayers of Dauid, the sonne of Ithai.

PSAL. LXXIII

1 The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the worldly prosperitie of the vngodly, 14 Nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage Gods children: but rather ought to moue vs to consider our Fathers providence, and to cause vs to reuerence Gods iudgements: 19 Forasmuch as the wicked vanish away, 24 And the godly enter into life everlasting, 28 In hope whereof hee resigneth himselfe into Gods hands.

2 A Psalm committed to Asaph.

Y ^e Lord God is good to Israell: euen to the pure in heart.

2 As for me, my feete were almost gone: my knees had welneere slept.

As it were betweene hope and despaire he brasteth forth into this affliction, being assured that God would continue his fauour towards such as were godly in deede, and not hypocrites,

3 For I fretted at the foolish, when I saw the prosperitie of the wicked.

4 For there are no bands in their death, but they are lustie and strong.

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are the plagued with other men.

6 Therefore pride is as a chaine vnto them, and crueltie conerth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out for fatnes: they haue more then heart can with.

8 They are licentious, and speake wickedly of their oppression: they talke presumptuously.

9 They set their mouth against heauen, and their tongue walketh through y earth.

10 Therefore his people turne higher: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they say, how doeth God know it? or is there knowledge in the most high?

12 Lo, these are the wicked, yet prosper they alway, and encrease in riches:

13 Certainly I haue cleansed my heart in vaine, and washed mine hands in innocencie.

14 For dayly haue I bene punished, and chaffened euery morning.

15 If I say, ^e I will iudge thus, behold the generation of thy children: I haue repassed.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was too painefull for me.

17 Vntill I went into the ^h Sanctuaries of God: then understood I their end.

18 Surely thou hast set them in slippery places, & caldest the downe into desolation.

19 Vowe suddenly are they destroyed, perished and ⁱ horribly consumed.

20 As a dreame when one awaketh: ^o Lord, when ^p thou raisest vs up, thou shalt make their image despised.

21 Certainly mine heart was vexed, and I was pricked in my reines:

22 So foolishly was I, and ignorant: I was as a beast before thee.

23 Yet I was alway ^m with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou wilt guide me by thy counsell, and afterwarde reuene me to glory.

25 Whome haue I in ⁿ heauen but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh faileth and mine heart also: but God is the strength of mine heart, and my ^o portion for euer.

27 For loe, they that withprauie themselves from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them that goe a whooping from thee.

most wisely, and preferuest thy children in their greatest dangers, h Vntill I entred into thy schoole and learned by thy worde and holy spirit, that thou orderest all things most wisely and iustly. i By thy fearful iudgement.

k When thou openest our eyes to consider thy heavenly felicitie, we contemne all their vaine pompe. l For the more that man goeth about by his owne reason to seeke out Gods iudgements, the more doeth he declare himselfe a beast. m By faith I was assured that thy providence did watch alwayes ouer mee to preferue me. n Hee sought neither helpe nor comfort of any faue of God onely. o Hee teacheth vs to denie our selues, to haue God our whole sufficiency, and onely contentment. p That is, forsake thee to seeke others.

ff.ii. 28 As

b The wicked in this life liue at pleasure, and are not drawn to death like prisoners: that is, by sicknesses, which is deaths messenger.

c They glory in their pride as some doe in their chaines: and in crueltie, as some doe in apprell. ^e For they passe the desires of the heart.

d They blaspheme God and feare not his power, and raile vpon men, because they esteeme themselves above al others.

e Not onely the reprobate, but also the people of God oftentimes fall backe, seeing the prosperous estate of the wicked, and are ouerwhelmed with sorowes, thinking that God considereth not a:

right the state of the godly.

f Thus the flesh moueth euen the godly to dispute with God touching their poore estate, and the prosperitie of the wicked.

g If I giue place to this wicked thought, I offend against thy providence, seeing thou disposest all things

q Though all the worlde shrinke from God, yet he promisseth to trust in him, and to magnifie his workes.

28 As for me, it is good for me to trauaile nere to God: therefore I haue put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy workes.

PSAL. LXXI III.

1 The faithfull complainte of the destruction of the Church and true religion, 2 Vnder the name of Zion, & the Temple destroyed: 11 And trusting in the might and free mercies of God, 20 By his covenant, 21 They require helpe and succour for the glory of Gods holy Name, for the saluation of his poore afflicted seruants, 23 And the confusion of his proude enemies.

¶ A Psalm to giue instruction, committed to Asaph.

O God, why hast thou put vs away for euer: why is thy wrath kindled against the sheepe of thy pasture?

2 Thinke vpon thy Congregation, which thou hast possessed of olde, and on the rod of thine inheritance which thou hast redeemed, and on this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift vp thy strokes, that thou mayest for euer destroy every enemy that doeth euill to the Sanctuarie.

4 Thine aduersaries roare in the mids of the Congregation, and let by their banners for signes.

5 He that lifted the axes vpon the thicke trees, was reioyned, as one, that brought a thing to perfection:

6 But now they breake downe the carved worke thereof with axes and hammers.

7 They haue cast the Sanctuarie into the fire, and raled it to the ground, and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They sayd in their hearts, Let vs destroy them altogether: they haue burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.

9 Wee see not our signes: there is not one Prophete more, nor any with vs that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long shall the aduersarie reproch thee? shall the enemy blaspheme thy name for euer?

11 With what wast thou thine hand, euen thy right hand: drawe it out of thy bosome, and consume them.

12 Euen God is my King of olde, working saluation in the mids of the earth.

13 Thou diddest deuide the sea, by thy power: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the head of Iustathan in pieces, and gauest him to be meate for the people in wilderness.

15 Thou brakest vp the fountaine and riuier: thou drestst vp mightie riuers.

16 The day is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sunne.

g They ioyne their deliuerance with Gods glory and power, knowing that the punishment of the enemies should be their deliuerance, h Meaning, in the sight of all the worlde, i To wit, Pharaohs armie, k Which was a great monster of the Sea, or whale, meaning Pharaoh. l His destruction did reioyce them as meate refresheth the body, m Seeing that God by his prouidence gouerneth and disposeth all things, nce gathereth that he will take care chiefly for his children.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made summer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproched the Lord, and the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.

19 Giue not the soule of thy turtle doue into the beast, and forget not the Congregation of thy poore for euer.

20 Consider thy covenant: for the darke places of the earth are full of the habitations of the cruell.

21 Oh let not the oppressed retorne ashamed, but let the poore and needie praye thy Name.

22 Arise, O God: maintaine thyne renowne: remember thy dayly reproch by the foolish man.

23 Forget not the voyce of thine enemies: for the tumult of them, that rise against thee shall endeth continually.

PSAL. LXXV.

1 The faithfull do praye the Name of the Lord, 2 Which shall come to iudge at the time appointed, 8 When the wicked shall be put to confusion, and drinke of the cup of his wrath, 10 Their pride shall be abated, and the righteous shall be exalted to honour.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Destroy not. A Psalm or song committed to Asaph.

We will praye thee, O God, we will praye thee, for thy Name is nere: therefore they will declare thy wonderous workes.

2 When I shal take a conuenient time, I will iudge righteously.

3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: but I wil establish the pillars of it. Selah.

4 I said vnto the foolish be not so foolish, and to the wicked, Lift not vp thy home,

5 Lift not vp your home on high, neither speake with a stiffe necke.

6 For to come to preferment is neither from the East, nor from the West, nor from the South,

7 But God is the iudge: he maketh low and he maketh high.

8 For in the hand of the Lord is a cup, and the wine is red: it is full mirt, and he pottereth out of the same: surely all the wicked of the earth shall wyng out and drinke the dreges thereof.

9 But I will declare for euer, and sing prayes vnto the God of Iacob.

10 All the homes of the wicked also will I breake: but the homes of the righteous shall be exalted.

gainst Gods people, seeing that God at his time destroyeth them that rule wickedly, f Gods wrath is compared to a cup of strong and delicate wine, wherewith the wicked are made so drunke, that by drinking it they come to the very dregges, they are vterly destroyed, g The godly shall better prosper by their innocent simplicitie, then the wicked shall by all their craft and subtiltie.

PSAL. LXXVI.

1 This Psalm setteth forth the power of God and care for the defence of his people in Ierusalem, in the destruction of the armie of Saneherib: 11 And exhorteth the faithfull to be thankfull for the same.

n He meaneth the Church of God, which is exposed as a pray to the wicked.

o That is, all places where thy worde shineth not, there reigneth tyrannie and ambition.

p He sheweth that God cannot suffer his Church to be oppressed, except he lose his owne right.

q Or, increaseth more and more.

a Reade Psalm. 57. 1.

b He declareth how the faithfull shall euer haue iust occasion, to praye God, for asmuch as in their neede they shall feele his power at hand to helpe them.

c When I see my time (sayeth God) to helpe your miseries, I will come and set all things in good order.

d Though all things bee brought to ruine, yet I can restore & preferre them.

e The Prophet warneth the wicked that they would not set themselves aa He declareth that Gods power is evidently seene in preferring his people and destroying his enemies.

b Which afterward was called Ierusalem.
c He compareth the kingdomes full of extortion and rapine to the mountaines that are full of rauening beasts.
d God hath taken their spirits & strength from them, as though their hands were cut off.
e God with a looke is able to destroy all the power and activity of the enemies, were they neuer so many or mighty.
f To reuenge the wrongs done to thy Church.
g For the ende shall shewe that the enemy was able to bring nothing to passe: also thou shalt bridle their rage, that they shall not compasse their purpose.
h To wit, the Leuites that dwell about the Tabernacle, or the people, among whom hee doth dwell.
i The Ebrewe word signifieth, to vintage, or gather grapes: meaning, that hee shall make the counsels and enterprises of wicked tyrants foolish and vaine.

a The Prophet teacheth vs by his example, to flee vnto God for helpe in our necessities.
b Or, mine hand was stretched out.
c He sheweth that we must patiently abide, although God deliuer vs not out of our troubles at the first time.

P To him that excellet in strength, A Psalm or song committed to Asaph.
G D is known in Iudah: his Name is great in Israel.
2 For in Shalem is his Tabernacle, and his dwelling in Zion.
3 There brake hee the arrowes of the bow, the shield and the sword and the battle. Selah.
4 Thou art more bright and puissant, then the mountaines of pray.
5 The stout hearted are spoyled: they haue slept their sleepe, and all the men of strength haue not found their hands.
6 At thy rebuke, O God of Iakob, both the chariot and horse are cast asleepe.
7 Thou, euen thou art to be feared: and who shall stande in thy sight, when thou art angrie?
8 Thou diddest cause thy iudgement to be heard from heauen: therefore the earth feared and was still.
9 When thou, O God, arose to iudgement, to helpe all the meeke of the earth. Selah.
10 Surely the rage of man shall turne to thy praise: the remnant of the rage shalt thou restraîne.
11 Come and performe vnto the Lord your God, all yee that be rounde about him: let them bring presents vnto him that ought to be feared.
12 He shall cut off the spirit of princes: he is terrible to the kings of the earth.

PSAL. LXXVII.

1 The Prophet in the name of the Church reherceth the greatness of his affliction, & his grievous temptations, 6 Whereby hee was driuen to this ende to consider his former conuersation, 11 And the continuall course of Gods workes in the preservation of his seruants, & so he confirmeth his faith against these temptations.
O For the excellent musician A Tedythun.
A Psalm committed to Asaph.
M y voyce came to God, when I cried: My voyce came to God, and hee heard mee.
2 In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord: my sore raine and ceased not in the night: my soule refused comfort.
3 I did thinke vpon God, & was troubled: I prayed, and my spirit was full of anguish. Selah.
4 Thou keepst mine eyes: waking: I was affonied and could not sleepe.
5 Then I considered the dayes of olde, and the yeres of ancient time.
6 I called to remembrance my song in the night: I communed with mine owne heart, and my spirit searched diligently.

7 All the Lord ablent himselfe for euer: and will he shew no more fauour?
8 Is his mercie cleane gone for euer? doeth his promise faile for euermore?
9 Hath God forgotten to bee mercifull? hath hee shut vp his tender mercies in displeasure? Selah.
10 And I sayde, This is my death: yet I remembered the yeres of the right hand of the most High.
11 I remembered the workes of the Lord: certainly I remembered thy wonders of olde.
12 I did also meditate all thy woorkes, and did deuise of thine actes, saying,
13 Thy way, O God, is in the Sanctuarie: who is so great a God as our God!
14 Thou art the God that dost woon: ders: thou hast declared thy power among the people.
15 Thou hast redeemed thy people with thine arme, euen the sonnes of Iakob and Ioseph. Selah.
16 The waters saw thee, O God: the waters saw thee, and were afraide: yea, the depths trembled.
17 The cloudes poured out water: the heauens gaue a sound: yea, thine arrowes went abroad.
18 The voyce of thy thunder was round about: the lightnings lightened the world: the earth trembled and shooke.
19 Thy way is in the Sea, & thy pathes in the great waters, and thy footesteppes are not known.
20 Thou diddest leade thy people like sheepe by the hand of Moyses and Aaron.
k He declareth wherein the power of God was declared, when hee deliuered the Israelites through the red Sea. l That is, thundered and lightened. m For when thou haddest brought ouer thy people, the water returned to her course, & the enemies that thought to haue followed them, could not passe through, Exod. 14. 28, 29.

PSAL. LXXVIII.

1 Hee sheweth howe God of his mercie chose his Church of the posteritie of Abraham, 8 Reproaching the stubburne rebellion of their fathers, that the children might not onely understand, 11 That God of his free mercie made his covenant with their ancestors, 17 But also fearing them so malicious and peruerse, might be ashamed and so turne wholly to God. In this Psalm the holy Ghost hath comprehended, as it were, the summe of all Gods benefices, to the intent the ignorant and grosse people might see in fewe words the effect of the whole histories of the Bible.
A Psalm to giue instruction, committed to Asaph.
H eare my doctrine, O my people: incline your eares vnto the wordes of my mouth.
2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare high featenres of olde.
3 Which wee haue heard and knownen, and our fathers haue told vs.
4 Little wil not hide them from their children, but to the generation to come we will shewe the prayes of the Lord, his power also, and his wonderfull workes that hee hath done:

e Both the causes why I was chastened, and when my sorrowes should haue an ende, f As if he should say, It is impossible: whereby he exhorted himselfe to patience.
g Though I first doubred of my life, yet considering that God had his yeres, that is, change of times, and was accustomed also to liue them, whom he hath beaten, I tooke heart againe.
h That is, in heauen, whereunto we must ascend by faith, if we will know the wayes of God.
i Hee condemneth all that worshippe any thing faue the onely true God, whose glory appeareth through the world.

a Reade Psa. 33.
b The Prophet vnder the name of a teacher calleth the people his, and the doctrine his, as Paul calleth y Gospel his, whereof he was but y preacher, as Rom. 2. 16. & 16. 25.
c Which were the people of God.

d By the testimony and lawe he meaneth the lawe written, which they were commanded to teach their children, Deut. 6. 7. e He sheweth wherein the children should be like their fathers, that is, in maintaining Gods pure religion, f He sheweth wherein the use of this doctrine standeth in faith, in the meditation of Gods benefices, and in obedience. g Though these fathers were the seede of Abraham and the chosen people, yet he sheweth by their rebellion, prouocation, falsehood and hypocrisie, that the children ought not to followe their examples, h By Example he meaneth also the rest of the tribes, because they were most in number: whose punishment declareth that they were vnfaithfull to God, and by their multitude and authoritie had corrupt all others. i He proueth that not onely the posteritie, but also their forefathers were wicked and rebellious to God, Exod. 14. 21. Exod. 14. 24. Exod. 17. 6. num. 20. 11. psal. 105. 41. 1. cor. 10. 4. wisa. 11. 4. k Their wicked malice could be overcome by no benefices, which were great and many. l Then to require more then is necessarie, and to separate Gods power from his will, is to tempt God. Numb. 11. 1. m Thus when we give place to sinne, we are moued to doubt of Gods power, except he will alwayes be ready to serue our lust. Ex. 17. 6. num. 20. 11. psal. 105. 41. 1. cor. 10. 4. Numb. 11. 1. n That is, in his Fatherly prouidence, whereby he careth for his, and prouideth sufficiently. o So that they had that, which was necessarie & sufficient: but their lust made them to couet that which they knewe God had denied them. Iohn 6. 32. 1. cor. 10. 3.

5 Howe hee established a testimonie in Jaakob, and ordaind a Lawe in Israel, which hee commanded our fathers, that they should teach their children: 6 That the posteritie might knowe it, & the children which should bee borne, should stand by, and declare it to their children: 7 That they might set their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God, but keepe his commandments: 8 And not to be as their fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithfull vnto God. 9 The children of Ephraim being armed and shooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battell. 10 They kept not the couenant of God, but refused to walke in his lawe, 11 And forgate his actes, and his wonderful workes that he had shewed them. 12 He did maruelous things in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the field of Zoan. 13 He diuided the sea, and ledde them through: hee made also the waters to stand as an heape. 14 In the day time also hee ledde them with a cloude, and all the night with a light of fire. 15 He claue the rocks in the wilderness, & gaue them drinke as of the great depths. 16 Hee brought floods also out of the stone rocke, so that hee made the waters to descend like the riuers. 17 Yet they sinned still against him, and prouoked the Highest in the wilderness. 18 And tempted God in their hearts in requiring meat for their lust. 19 They spake against God also, saying, Can God prepare a table in the wilderness? 20 Beholde, hee smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames ouerflowed: can hee giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people? 21 Therefore the worde heard and was angrie, and the fire was kindled in Jaakob, and alio wrath came vpon Israel. 22 Because they beleued not in God, and trusted not in his helpe. 23 Yet he had commanded the cloudes aboute, and had opened the doores of heaven. 24 And had rained downe MAN vpon them for to eate, and had giuen them of the wheate of heaven. 25 Dan did eate the bread of Angels: he sent them meate enough.

26 Hee caused the Eastwinde to passe in the heaven, and through his power hee brought in the Southwinde. 27 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered fowle as the sand of the sea. 28 And he made it fall in the midwes of their campe, euen round about their habitations. 29 So they did eate and were wel filled: for he gaue them their desire. 30 They were not turned fro their lust, but the meate was yet in their mouthes, 31 When the wrath of God came euen vpon them, and slew the strongest of them, and smote downe the chosen men in Israel. 32 For all this, they sinned still, and beleued not his wonderous workes. 33 Therefore their dayes did hee consume in vanitie, and their yeeres hastily. 34 And when hee slew them, they sought him, and they returned, and sought God early. 35 And they remembered that God was their strength, and the most high God their redeemer. 36 But they flattered him with their mouth, and dissembled with him with their tongue. 37 For their heart was not vpright with him: neither were they faithfull in his couenant. 38 Yet he being mercifull, forgave their iniquitie, and destroyed them not, but oft times called backe his anger, and did not stirre vp all his wrath. 39 For hee remembered that they were flesh: yea, a vnde that passeth and cometh not againe. 40 How oft did they prouoke him in the wilderness: & grieue him in the desert? 41 Yea, they returned, and tempted God, and limited the holy one of Israel. 42 They remembered not his hand, nor the day when hee deliuered them from the enemye. 43 Nor him that let his signes in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan, 44 And turned their riuers into blood, and their floods, that they could not drinke. 45 Hee sent a swarme of flies among them, which deuoured them, and frogges, which destroyed them. 46 Hee gaue also their fruites vnto the caterpillar, and their labour vnto the grasshopper. 47 He destroyed their vines with haille, and their wild figtrees with the haillestone. 48 He gaue their cattell also to the haille, and their flockes to the thunder bolts. 49 Hee call vpon them the fiercenesse of his anger, indignation & wrath, and vexation by the sending out of euill Angels. 50 He made a way to his anger: he spared p God vied the meanes of the winde to teach them, that all elements were at his commandment, and that no distance of place could let his working. q Such is the nature of concupiscence, that the more it hath, the more it lusteth. r Though other were not spared, yet chiefly they suffered, which trusted in their strength against God. s Thus sinne by continuance maketh men insensible, so that by no plagues they can be amended. t Such was their hypocrisie, that they sought vnto God for feare of punishment, though in their heart they loued him not. u Whatsoeuer commeth not from the pure fountaine of the heart, is hypocrisie. x Because he would erue haue some remnant of a Church to praise his name in earth, he suffered not their sinnes to ouercome his mercy. y That is, they tempted him oft times. z As they all doe that measure the power of God by their capacitee, a The forgetfulness of Gods benefices is the roote of rebellion and all vice. b This worde signifieth a confused mixture of flies and venomous wormes. Some take it for all sortes of Serpents: some for all wilde beastes. c Hee peatech not here all the miracles that God did in Egypt, but certain which might be sufficient to conuince the people of malice and ingratitude. d So called, either of the effect, that is, of punishing the wicked, or else because they were wicked spirits, whome God permitted to vex men.

not their soule from death, but gaue their life to the pestilence, 51 And smote all the first borne in Egypt, euen the beginning of their strength in the tabernacles of Ham.

52 But her made his people to goe out like sheepe, and led them in the wilderness like a flocke.

53 Pea, he caried them out safely, & they feared not, and the Sea covered their enemies.

54 And he brought them vnto the borders of his Sanctuary: euen to this Mountaine, which his right hand purchased.

55 Hee cast out the heathen also before them, and caused them to fall to the lot of his inheritance, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tabernacles.

56 Yet they tempted, and prouoked the most high God, & kept not his testimonies.

57 But turned backe & dealt fallily like their fathers: they turned like a deceitfull bowe.

58 And they prouoked him to anger with their hie places, and moued him to wrath with their grauen images.

59 God heard this and was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel.

60 So that hee forooke the habitation of Shilo, euen the Tabernacle where hee dwelt among men, 61 And deliuered his power into captiuitie, and his beautie into the enemies hand.

62 And hee gaue by his people to the sword, and was angry with his inheritance.

63 The fire deuoured their chosen men, and their maidens were not praiſed.

64 Their priestes fell by the sword, and their widowes lamented not.

65 But the Lord awaked as one out of sleepe, and as a strong man that after his wme cryeth out, 66 And smote his enemies in the hinder parts, and put them to a perpetuall shame.

67 Yet he refused the tabernacle of Joseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:

68 But chose the tribe of Judah, and mount Zion which he loued.

69 And hee built his Sanctuary as an hie palace, like the earth, which he stablished for euer.

70 He chose Dauid also his seruant, and tooke him from the sheepefolds.

71 Euen from behinde the ewes with yong brought he him to feede his people in Jaakob, and his inheritance in Israel.

72 So he fed them according to the simplicitie of his heart, and guided them by the discretion of his handes.

1 The Israelites complaine to God for the great calamitie and oppression that they suffered by Gods enemies, 8 And confessing their finnes, flee to Gods mercies with full hope of deliuerance, 10 Because their calamities were ioynd with the contempt of his Name, 13 For the which they promise to be thankfull.

¶ A Psalm committed to Asaph. O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holy Temple haue they defiled, and made Ierusalem heapes of stones.

2 The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to beemeate vnto foules of the heauen: and the flesh of thy Saints vnto the beastes of the earth.

6 For who is equal to the Lord in the heauen? and who is like the Lord among the sonnes of the gods?

7 God is very terrible in the assemble of the Saints, and to be reuerenced aboue all, that are about him.

8 O Lord God of hosts, who is like vnto thee, which art a mightie Lord, and thy truth is about thee.

9 Thou rulest y raging of the sea: when the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast beaten downe Rahab as a man slaine: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mightie arme.

11 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast layde the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

12 Thou hast created the North and the South: k Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy Name.

13 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thine hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 Righteousnesse and equitie are the sta-

the heauens. g Meaning, the Angels. h If the Angels tremble before Gods maiestie and infinite iustice, what earthly creature by oppressing the Church, dare set himselfe against God? i For as hee deliuered the Church by the red Sea, and by destroying Rahab, that is, the Egyptians: so will hee eftsoues deliuer ie, when the dangers bee great. k Tabor is a mountaine Westward from Ierusalem, and Hermon Eastward: so the Prophet signifyeth that all partes and places of the worlde shall obey Gods power for the deliuerance of his Church. l For hereby hee iudgeth the world and sheweth himselfe a merciful Father and faithfull protectour vnto his.

15 Blessed is the people, that can re-shed with him, and mine arme shall streng-

25 I will let his hand alke in the sea, and his right hand in the floods.

cap, and cast his throne to the ground.

wherefore shouldst thou create in vaine all the children of men?
48 What man luerh, and shall not see

49 Lord, where are thy former mercies, which thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy trueth?
50 Remember, O Lord, the rebuke of thy seruants, which I heare in my bosome of all the mighty people.

1 Here is described in what assurance he liueth that putteth his whole trust in God, and committeth himself wholly to his protection in all tentations. 14 A promise of God to those that loue him, know him, and trust in him, to deliuer them, and giue them immortall glory.

W Ho so dwelleth in the secret of the most High, shall abide in the shadowe of the Almighty.

2 I will lay vnto the Lord, O mine hope, and my fortress: hee is my God, in him will I trust.

3 Surely hee will deliuer thee from the snare of the hunter, and from the noyloome pestilence.

4 He will couer thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be sure vnder his feathers: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5 Thou shalt not be afrayde of the feare of the night, nor of the arrowe that flieth by day.

6 Nor of the pestilence that walketh in ly, which be calleth a snare: or openly, which is here meant by the pestilence. d That is, his faithfull keeping of promise to helpe thee in thy necessitie. e The care that God hath ouer his is most sufficient to defend them from all dangers.

the darkenesse: nor of the plague that destroyeth at noone day.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come neere thee.

8 Doubtlesse with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

9 For thou hast sayde, The Lord is my hope: in thou hast let the most High for thy refuge.

10 There shall none euil come vnto thee, neither shall any plague come neere thy tabernacle.

11 For he shall giue his Angels charge ouer thee to keepe thee in all thy wayes.

12 They shall beare thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy foote against a stone.

13 Thou shalt walke vpon the lion and aspe: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou treade vnder feete.

14 Because he hath loued me, therefore will I deliuer him: I will exalt him because he hath knowen my Name.

15 Hee shall call vpon mee, and I will heare him: I will be with him in trouble: I will deliuer him, and glorifie him.

16 With long life will I satisfie him, and shew him my saluation.

P S A L. XCII.

1 This Psalm was made to be sung on the Sabbath, to stirre up the people to acknowledge Gods, & to prayse him in his workes: the Prophet reioyceth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider that the vngodly, when he is most flourishing, shall most speedily perish. 12 In the ende is described the felicitie of the iust, planted in the house of God to prayse the Lord.

A Psalm or song for the Sabbath day. It is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing vnto thy Name, O most High.

2 To declare thy louing kindeesse in the morning, and thy truth in the night.

3 Upon an instrument of ten strings, and vpon the viose, with the song vpon the harpe.

4 For thou, Lord, hast made mee glad by thy workes, and I will reioyce in the workes of thine hands.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy workes! and thy thoughts are very deepe.

6 An vnwise man knoweth it not, and a foole doeth not vnderstand this.

7 When the wicked grow as the grasse, and all the workers of wickednes doe flourish: that they shall be destroyed for euer.

8 But thou, O Lord, art most High for euermore.

9 For loe, thine enemies, O Lord: for loe, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquitie shall be destroyed.

day: to wit, to meditate Gods workes. e That is, the wicked consider not Gods workes, nor his iudgements against them, and therefore most iustly perish. f Thy iudgements are most compliant against the wicked, and passe our reach.

f The godly shall haue some experience of Gods iudgements against the wicked euen in this life, but fully they shall see it at that day, when all things shall be reueiled.

g God hath noe appointed every man one Angel, but many to be ministers of his providence to keepe his and defend them in their vocation, which is the way to walke in without tempting God.

h Thou shalt not onely be preferred from all euil, but overcome it.

q For except thou guide vs with thine holy Spirit, our enterprises can haue no good successe.

a Which teacheth that the vice of the Sabbath standeth in praying God, and not onely in ceasing from worke.

b For Gods mercy and fidelitie to his promises toward his, binde them to praise him continually, both day and night.

The righteous flourish.

g Thou wilt strengthen them with all power, and blest them with all felicitie. h Though the faithfull seeme to wither and be cut downe by the wicked: yet they shall growe againe and flourish in the Church of God, as the Cedars doe in mount Lebanon. i The children of God shall haue a power about nature, and their age shall bring forth most fresh fruites,

10 But thou shalt exalt mine home, like the unicomes, and I shall be anointed with fresh oyle. 11 Mine eye also shall see my desire against mine enemies: and mine eares shall heare my wish against the wicked, that rise vp against me. 12 The righteous shall flourish like a palme tree, and shall growe like a cedar in Lebanon. 13 Such as be planted in the house of the Lord, shall flourish in the courts of our God. 14 They shall still bring forth fruite in their age: they shall be fat and flourishing. 15 To declare that the Lord my rocke is righteous, and that none iniquitie is in him.

P S A L XCIIL.

1 Hee prayeth the power of God in the creation of the world, and beareth downe all people which lift them vp against his Maestie. 5 And promoueth to consider his promises.

a As God by his power and wisdom hath made and gouerneth the world: so must the same be our defence against all enemies and dangers. b Wherein thou fittest and gouernest the world. c Gods power appeareth in ruling the furious waters. d Besides Gods power and wisdom in creating, and gouerning, his great mercie also appeareth in that hee hath giuen his people his worde and covenant.

The Lord reigneth, and is clothed with maiestie: the Lord is clothed, and girded with power: the world also shall be established, that it cannot be moued.

2 Thy throne is established of old: thou art from everlasting.

3 The floods haue lifted vp, O Lord: the floods haue lifted by their voyce: the floods lift by their waues.

4 The waues of the sea are maruelous through the noise of many waters, yet the Lord on high is more mightie.

5 Thy testimonies are very sure: holiness becommeth thine house, O Lord, for euer.

d Besides Gods power and wisdom in creating, and gouerning, his great mercie also appeareth in that hee hath giuen his people his worde and covenant.

P S A L XCIII.

1 He prayeth vnto God against the violence and arrogancie of tyrants. 10 Warning them of Gods iudgements. 12 Then doeth he comfort the afflicted by the good issue of their afflictions, as he felt in himself, and did see in others, and by the ruine of the wicked. 23 Whom the Lord will destroy.

a Whose office it is to take vengeance on the wicked. b Shewe by effect that thou art Iudge of the world to punish the wicked. c That is, brag of their crueltie and oppression: or, esteeme themselves above all other. d Seeing the Church was then to fore oppressed, it ought not to seeme strange to vs, if we see it so now, and therefore wee must call to God to take our cause in hand. e Hee sheweth that they are desperate in malice, forasmuch as they feared not God, but gaue themselves wholly to doe wickedly.

O Lord God: the auenger, O God the auenger, lift up thy selfe clearly.

2 Exalt thyselfe, O Iudge of the world, and render a reward to the proud.

3 Lord, how long shall the wicked, howe long shall the wicked triumph?

4 They pate and speake fiercely: all the workers of iniquitie daunt themselves.

5 They d suite downe thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage.

6 They slay the widowe and the stranger, and murder the fatherlesse.

7 Yet they say, the Lord shall not see: neither will the God of Iacob regard it.

8 Understand ye vnwise among the people: and ye fooles, when will ye be wise?

Psalms.

9 He that planted the eare, shall hee heare? or hee that formed the eye, shall hee not see?

10 Hee that chastiseth the nations, shall hee not correct? hee that teacheth man knowledge, shall hee not knowe?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanitie.

12 Blessed is the man, whom thou chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy law.

13 That thou mayest giue him rest from the dayes of euill, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked.

14 Surely the Lord will not faile his people, neither will hee forsake his inheritance.

15 For iudgement shall returne to iustice, and all the byright in heart shall follow after it.

16 Who will rise vp with me against the wicked? or who will take my part against the workers of iniquitie?

17 If the Lord had not holpen me, my soule had almost dwelt in silence.

18 When I sayd, My foote slideth, thy mercy, O Lord, stayed me.

19 In the multitude of my thoughts in mine heart, thy comforts haue reioyced my soule.

20 With thyne of iniquitie fellowship with thee, which forgett wrong for a Law.

21 They gather them together against the soule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of my hope.

23 And hee will recompense them their wickednes, & destroy them in their owne malice: yea, the Lord our God shall destroy them.

m In my trouble and distresse I eue found thy present helpe. n Though the wicked iudges pretende iustice in oppressing the Church, yet they haue not that authoritie o God. o It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpose of the wicked is broken; but most, when they are destroyed in their owne malice.

P S A L XCV.

1 An earnest exhortation to prayse God, for the gouernement of the world, and the election of his Church. 8 An admonition not to follow the rebellion of the olde fathers, that tempted God in the wilderness: 11 For the which they might not enter into the land of promise.

Come, let vs reioyce vnto the Lord: let vs sing, & aloue vnto the rocke of our saluation.

2 Let vs come before his face in prayse: let vs sing loude vnto him with Psalmes.

3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great king aboue all gods.

4 In whole hand are the deepe places of the earth, and the heightes of the mountaynes are his.

5 To whome the Sea belongeth: for hee made it, & his hands formed the dry land.

a He sheweth that Gods seruice standeth not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in the sacrifice of prayse and thankgiuing. b Euen the Angels (who in respect of men are thought as gods) are no-

7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his hand: to day, if ye will heare his voyce.

8 Harden not your heart, as || in Hēribah, and as in the day of || Balaak in the wilderness.

9 Where your fathers tempted me, proued me, though they had seene my worke.

1 An exhortation both to the Iewes & Gentiles to praise God for his mercie. And thus specially ought to be referred to the kingdom of Christ.

Sing vnto the Lord a newe song: sing vnto the Lord, all the earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord, and playe his Name: declare his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is ^b great and much to be praised: he is to be feared aboue all gods.

5 For all the gods of the people are || idols: but the Lord made the heauens.

6 Strength and glorie are before him: power and beautie are in his Sanctuary.

7 Cme vnto the Lord, ye families of the people: cme vnto the Lord, glorie and ^c power.

8 Cme vnto the Lord the glorie of his Name: bring ^d an offering, and enter into his courts.

9 Worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary: tremble before him all the earth.

10 Say among the ^e nations, The Lord reigneth: surely the world shall bee stable, and not moue, and hee shall iudge the people in righteousness.

11 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth bee glad: let the sea roare, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field bee ioyful, and al that is in it: let al the ^f trees of the wood then reioyce.

13 Before the Lord: for he commeth, for he commeth to iudge the earth: he will iudge the world with righteousness, and the people in his trueth.

2 Cloudes and darkenesse are rounde about him: righteousness and iudgement are the foundation of his throne.

3 There shall goe a fire before him, and burne by his enemies round about.

6 The heauens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory.

7 Confounded bee all they that serue grauen images, and that glory in idols: worship him ^e all ye gods.

8 Zion heard of it, and was glad: and the daughters of Iudah reioyced, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.

PSAL. XCVIII.

1 An earnest exhortation to all creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercie, and fidelitie in his promise by Christ, 10 By whome hee hath communicated his saluation to all nations.

1 A Psalm.

Sing vnto the Lord a newe song: for hee hath done maruelous things: his right hand, and his holy ^b arme haue gotten him the victorie.

2 The Lord declared his saluation: his righteousness hath hee reuelled in the sight of the nations.

3 We hath ^c remembered his mercie and his trueth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth haue seene the saluation of our God.

4 All the earth, sing yee loude vnto the Lord: cry out and reioyce, and sing playes.

5 Sing praise to ^d Lord vpon the harpe, euen vpon the harpe with a singing voyce.

6 With ^e halnes and sound of trumpets sing loude before the Lord the King.

7 Let the sea roare, and all that therein is, the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the mountaines reioyce together.

9 Before the Lord: for he is come to iudge the earth: with righteousness shall he iudge the world, & the people with equitie. and also of the dumme creatures, he signifieth that the world is neuer able to praye God sufficiently, for their deliuerance.

PSAL.

a He sheweth where God reigneth, there is all felicitie and spiritual ioy. b For the Gospel shall not be openly preached in Iudea, but through all yles and countreys. c Heis thus described to keepe his enemies in feare, which commonly contemne Gods power. d This feare bringeth not the wicked to true obedience, but maketh them to run away fro God. e He signifieth that Gods iudgements are in a readinesse to destroy the idolaters. f Let all that which is esteemed in the world, fall downe before him. g The Iewes shall haue occasion to reioyce that the Gentiles are made partakers with them of Gods fauour. h Here requireth two things of his children: the one that they desist vice, the other, that they put their trust in God for their deliuerance. i Though Gods deliuerance appeare not suddenly, yet it is shewn and layd vp in store for them. k Be mindfull of his benefits, and onely trust in his defence.

a That is, some song newly made in token of their wonderful deliuerance by Christ. 1/a. 59. 16.

b He preferreth his Church miraculously.

c For the deliuerance of his Church.

d God was moued by none other means to gather his church of the Iewes and Gentiles, but because he would performe his promise.

e By this repetition and earnest exhortation to giue prayes with instruments, and also of the dumme creatures, he signifieth that the world is neuer able to praye God sufficiently, for their deliuerance.

PSAL. XCIX.

1 He commendeth the power, equitie & excellencie of the kingdome of God by Christ ouer the Iewes and Gentiles, 5 And prouoketh thee to magnifie the same and to serue the Lord, 6 Following the example of the ancient fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling vpon God, were heard in their prayers.

The Lord reigneth, let the people tremble: hee siteth betweene the Cherubims, let the earth be moued.

2 The Lord is great in Zion, and he is hee above all the people.

3 They shall praise the great and fearefull Name (for it is holy)

4 And the Kings power, that loueth iudgement; for thou hast prepared equitie: thou hast executed iudgement and iustice in Iacob.

5 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his footstool: for he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron were among his Priests, 7 and Samuel among such as call vpon his Name: these called vpon the Lord, and he heard them.

7 He spake vnto them in the cloudie pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the Law that he gaue them.

8 Thou hearest them, O Lord our God: thou wast a fauourable God vnto them, though thou diddest take vengeance for their inuentions.

9 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his holy Mountaine: for the Lord our God is holy.

comprehendeth the whole people of Israel, with whome God made his promise. e For the more liberally that God dealeth with his people, the more doth he punish them that abuse his benefices.

PSAL. C.

1 Hee exhorteth all to serue the Lord, 3 Who hath chosen vs and preferred vs, 4 And is enter into his assemblies to praise his name.

A Psalm of praise.

Sing ye loud vnto the Lord, all the earth. 2 Serue the Lord with gladnesse: come before him with ioyfulness.

3 Knowe ye that euen the Lord is God: hee hath made vs, and not wee ouer selues: we are his people, & the sheepe of his pasture.

4 Enter into his gates with praye, and into his courts with reioycing: praise him, and blesse his Name.

5 For the Lord is good: his mercy is everlasting, and his truth is from generation to generation.

whereby wee are his sheepe and people. c He sheweth that God will not be worshipped, but by that meanes, which he hath appointed. d Hee declareth that wee ought neuer to bee wearie in praying him, seeing his mercies towards vs last for euer.

PSAL. CI.

1 Dauid describeth what government hee will obserue in his house and kindome. 3 He will punish and correct, by rooting forth the wicked, 6 And cherishing the godly persons.

A Psalm of Dauid.

I will sing mercy and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

2 I will doe wisely in the perfect way hee would be, when God should place him in the throne, promising openly, that he would be mercifull and iust.

b till thou comest to me: I will walke in the uprightnesse of mine heart in the midst of mine house.

3 I will let no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the worke of them that fall away: it shall not cleaue vnto me.

4 A feoward heart shall depart from me: I will knowe none euill.

5 Min vnto I proudly slandereth his neighbour, will I destroy: him y hat a proude looke and hie heart, I cannot suffer.

6 Mine eyes shall be vnto the faithful of the land, that they may dwel vnto me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serue me.

7 There shall no deceitfull person dwell within mine house: he that telleth lyes, shall not remaine in my sight.

8 Betimes will I destroy all y wicked of the lande, that I may cut off all the workers of iniquitie from the cutie of the Land.

about kings, hee declareth that he will punish all, e He sheweth what is the true vse of the sword: to punish the wicked, and to maintaine the good. f Magistrates must immediatly punish vice, least it grow to further inconuenience: and if heathen Magistrates are bound to doe this, howe much more they that haue the charge of the Church of God?

PSAL. CII.

1 It seemeth that this prayer was appointed to the Iushyall to pray in the captiuitie of Babylon.

16 A consolation for the building of the Church:

18 Whereof followeth the praise of God to be published vnto all posteritie. 22 The conversion of the Gentiles, 28 And the stabilitie of the Church.

A prayer: of the afflicted, when hee shall be in distress, and pwayne forth his meditation before the Lord.

O Lord, heare my prayer, and let my cry come vnto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto mee: when I call, make haste to heare me.

3 For my dayes are consumed like smoke, & my bones are burnt like an herth. 4 Mine heart is smitten and withereth like grasse, because I forgate to eate my bread.

5 For y voyce of my groning my bones doe cleaue to my skime.

6 I am like a pellicane of the wilderness: I am like an owle of the deserts.

7 I watch and am as a sparowe alone vpon the house toppe.

8 Mine enemies reuile mee daily, and they that rage against mee, haue sworn against me.

9 Surely I haue eaten asses as bread, and mingled my drinke with weeping.

10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast me downe.

11 My dayes are like a shadowe that fa- deth, and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou, O Lord, dost remaine foruarie, casting out fearefull cries. I Haue conspired my death: I haue not risen out of my mourning to take my refection. h He sheweth that the afflictions did not onely thus moue him, but chiefly the feeling of Gods displeasure. i Howsoever wee be fraile: yet thy promise is sure, and the remembrance thereof shall confirme vs for euer.

b Though as yet thou deferest to place me in the kingly dignitie, yet will I giue my selfe to wisdom and vprightnesse, being a priuate man.

c He sheweth that magistrates doe not their duties, except they be enemies to all vice.

d In promising to punish these vices, which are most pernicious in them that are signified, that albeit we be in neuer so great miseries, yet there is euer place left for prayer.

b He declareth that in our prayer we must liuely feele that which we desire, and steadfastly beleue to obtaine.

e These excessive kindes of speech shewe how much the affliction of the Church ought to wound the hearts of the godly.

14 The frailtie of mans life. 20 An exhortation to man and Angels to praise the Lord.

A Psalme of Dauid.

Mine soule, praise thou the Lord, and all that is within mee, praye his help name.

2 My soule, praye thou the Lord, and forget not all his benefites.

3 Which forgineth all thine iniquitie, and healeth all thine infirmities.

4 Which redeemeth thy life from the grave, and crowneth thee with mercie and compassions.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy pouth is renewed like the eagles.

6 The Lord executeth righteousnesse and iudgement to all that are oppressed.

7 Hee made his wayes knowne vnto the isles, and his workes vnto the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is full of compassion & mercie, slowe to anger, and of great kindnesse.

9 He wil not alwaye chide, neither keepe his anger for euer.

10 He hath not dealt with vs after our sinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

11 For as high as the heauen is aboue the earth, so great is his mercie towards them that feare him.

12 As farre as the East is from the West: so farre hath he removed our finnes from vs.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth wherof we be made:
he remembereth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of man are as grasse: as a flower of the field, so flourisheth he.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shall knowe it no moie.

17 But the louing kindnesse of the Lord endureth for euer: and euer vpon them that feare him, and his righteousness vpon childrens children,

18 Vnto them that keepe his covenant, and thinke vpon his commandements to do them.

d If by thy power thou diddest not bridle the rage of the waters, it were not poſſible, but the whole world ſhould be deſtroyed.

PSAL. CVI.

The people dispersed vnder Antiochus do magnifie the goodnes of God among the iusts, and repentant: 4. Desiring to bee brought againe into the land by Gods mercifull visitation. 8. And after the manifold mannales of God wrought in their deliuerance forth of Egypt, and the great ingratitude of the people reuealed, 47 They do pray and desire to bee gathered from among the heathen, to the intent they may praise the Name of the God of Israel.

I Praise ye the Lord.

Praise ye the Lord because he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.
 2 Who can expresse the noble actes of the Lord, or shew forth all his prayes?
 3 Blessed are they that keepe indigement, and doe righte conscience at all times.
 4 Remember me, O Lord, with the favour of thy people: visite me with thy saluation.
 5 That I may see the felicitie of thy chosen, and reioyce in the top of thy people, and glory with thine inheritance.
 6 We haue sinned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquitie, and done wickedly.
 7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt, neyther remembered they the multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, euen at the red Sea.
 8 Nevertheless hee saued them for his names sake, that hee might make his power to be knowne.
 9 And he rebuked the red Sea, & it was dived by, and hee led them in the deepe, as in the wilderness.
 10 And hee saued them from the aduersaries hand, and deliuered them from the hand of the enemy.
 11 And the waters covered their oppressours: not one of them was left.
 12 Then he blessed they his wordes, and sang praise vnto him.
 13 But incontinently they forgate his wordes: they wanted not for his counsel.
 14 But lusted with concupiscence in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.
 15 Therefore gaue them their desire: but he sent a leanne into their soule.
 16 They enuied Moses also in the tents, and Aaron the holp one of the Lord.
 17 Therefore the earth opened & swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abirair.

 a The Prophet exhorted the people to praye God for his benedictes past, that thereby their mindes may be strengthened against all present troubles and despaire.
 b Heweth that it is not ynough to praye God with mouth, except the whole heart agree thereto, and all our life be thereunto framed.
 c Let the good-will that thou bearest to thy people, extend vnto me, that thereby I may be receiued into the number of thyne.
 d By earnest confession aswell of their owne, as of their fathers finnes, they shew that they had hope that God according to his promise would pitee them.
 e The ineffable goodness of God appeareth in this, that hee would change the order of nature rather then his people should not bee deliuered, although they were wicked. Exod. 14. 27. f The wonderfull workes of God caused them to beleue for a time, and to praye him. g They would prevent his wisdom and prouidence. h The abundance that God gaue them, profited not, but made them pine away, because God cursed it. i By the greatnesse of his punishment the haynous offence may bee considered: for they that rise against Gods ministers, rebell against him.

k He sheweth that all idolaters renounce God to be their glory, when in stead of him they worship any creature, much more wood, stone, or call, or Calues.
l If Moses by his intercession had not obtained Gods fauour against their rebellions.

q Signifying, that whatsoever man inuenteth of himselfe to serue God by, is detestable, and prouoketh his anger.
r When all other neglected Gods glorie, he in his zeale killed the adulterers and preuented Gods wrath.
s This A& declared his liuely faith, and for his faiths sake was accepted.
t If so notable a Prophet of God escape not punishment, though others prouoked him to sinne, how much more shall they bee subiect to Gods iudgement, which cause Gods children to sinne? u Hee sheweth how monstrous a thing idolatrie is, which can winnevs to things abhorring to nature, whereas Gods worde can not obtaine most small things. x Then true chasticitie is to cleaue wholly and onely vnto God.

18 And the fire was kindled in their alt semblie: the flame burne vpon the wicked.
19 They made a calfe in Horeb, & wor shipped the molten image.
20 Thus they turned their gloyp into the similitude of a bullocke, that sauesth grasse.
21 They forgate God their Saviour, which had done great things in Egypt.
22 Wonderous workes in the lande of Ham, and fearefull things by the red sea.
23 Therefore he minded to destroy them, had not Moses his chosen stande in the breach before him to turne away his wrath lest he should destroy them.
24 Also they contemned that a pleasant land, and beleued not his worde.
25 But murmured in their tentes, and hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.
26 Therefore hee lifted vp his hand a gainst them, to destroy them in the wilder
nesse.
27 And to destroy their seede among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countreys.
28 They iopned themselves also vnto Baal-peor, and did eate the offerings of the dead.
29 Thus they prouoked him vnto an ger with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.
30 But y Phinehas stood vp, and eres cuted widnes, and the plague was stayed.
31 And it was imputed vnto him for righteousnesse from generation to genera tion for ever.
32 They angered him also at the waters of Meribah, so that Moses was punished for their sakes.
33 Because they bered his spirit, so that he spake unabuledly with his lippes.
34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commaunded them.
35 But were mingled among the hea then, and learned their workes.
36 And serued their idoles, which were their rime.
37 Yea, they offered their sonnes, and their daughters vnto deuils.
38 And shed innocent blood, euen blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters, whom they offered vnto the idoles of Ca naan, and the land was defiled with blood.
39 Thus were they stained with their owne workes, and went a whozing with their owne inuentions.
40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and hee abhor red his owne inheritance.
41 And hee gaue them into the hand of the Heathen: and they that hated them, were lords ouer them.
42 Their enemies also oppressed them,
and they were humbled vnder their hand.

43 Many a time did hee deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their counsels:
therefore they were brought downe by their iniquitie.
44 Yet he saue them when they were in as suetion, and he heard their cry.
45 And hee remembered his covenant to ward them, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies.
46 And gaue them fauour in the sight of all them that led them captiues.
47 Saue vs, O Lord our God, & ga ther vs from among the heathen, that wee may prayse thine holy name, and gloyp in thy prayse.
48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for ever and ener, and let all the people say,
So be it. Prayse ye the Lord.

a Gather thy Church, which is disperfed, and giue vs confluence vnder the crosse, that with one consent wee may all prayse thee.

Holdenot thy tongue, O God of my praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened upon mee: they haue spoken to mee with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed mee about also with wordes of hatred, and fought against mee without a cause.

4 For my friendship they were mine aduersaries, but I gaue my selfe to prayer.

5 And they haue rewarded mee euill for good, and hatred for my friendship.

6 Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let the aduersarie stand at his right hand.

7 When hee shall bee iudged, let him be condemned, and let his prayer bee turned into linn.

8 Let his dayes be fewe, and let another take his charge.

9 Let his children be fatherlesse, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children bee bagabonds and begge and seeke bread, coming out of their places destroyed.

11 Let the extortioner catch all that hee hath, and let the strangers spoyle his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy vnto him: neither let there bee any to shewe mercie vpon his fatherlesse children.

13 Let his posteritie be destroyed, and in the generation following let their name be put out.

14 As let the iniquitie of his fathers bee had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother bee done away.

15 But let them alway be before the Lord, that hee may cut off their memoriall from the earth.

16 Because hee remembered not to shewe mercie, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the sorrowfull hearted to slay him.

17 As hee loued cursing, so shall it come vnto him, and as hee loued not blessing, so shall it be farre from him.

18 As hee clothed himselfe with cursing like a raiment, so shall it come into his bowels like waters, and like oyle vnto his bones.

22 Because I am poore and needie, and mine heart is wounded with inie.

23 I depart like the shadowe that declineth, & am shaken off as the grasshopper.

27 And they shall knowe, that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Though they curse, yet thou wilt blesse: they shall arise and bee confoinded, but thy seruant shall reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with shame, and let them couer themselves with their confusion, as with a cloke.

C Prayer

a Though all the world condemne me, yet thou wilt approve mine innocencie, and that is a sufficient praise to me. b To declare that I had none other refuge, but thee, in whome my conscience was at rest. c Whether it were Doeg or Saul, or some familiar friend, that had betrayed him, he prayeth not of priuate affection, but moued by Gods spirit, that God would take vengeance vpon him. d As to the elect, all things turne to their profite: so to the reprobate, euen those things that are good, turne to their damnation. e This was chiefly accomplished in Iudas, Actes 1.20. f He declareth that the curse of God lieth vpon the extortioners: who thinking to enrich their children by their vnlawfull gotten goods, are by Gods iust iudgement deprived of all. g Thus punisheth the Lord to the third and fourth generation the wickednesse of the parents in their wicked children. h He sheweth that God accustomed to plague them after a strange sort, that shewe themselves cruell toward other. i Thus giueth the Lord to euery man the thing, wherein hee delireth, that the reprobate cannot accuse God of wrong, when they are giuen vp to their lustes and reprobate mindes. k For being destitute of mans helpe, hee fully trusted in the Lord, that hee would deliuer him. l As thou art named merciful, gracious & long suffering, so shew thy selfe in effect.

m Meaning, that he hath no stay nor assistance in this world. n For hunger, that came of sorrow, hee was leane, and his naturall moisture failed him. o The more grievous that Satan assailed him, the more earnest and instant was he in prayer. p They shall gaine nothing by cursing me. q Not onely in confessing it secretly in my self, but also in declaring it before all

■ The Prophet declareth that he will praise God both privately and openly, and that from the heart, as he that consecrateth himself wholly and onely vnto God.

■ He sheweth that Gods works are a sufficient cause wherefore we should praise him, but chiefly his benefites toward his Church. c God hath giue to his people all that was necessary for them, and will doe still euen for his covenants sake: and in this sense the Hebrew worde is taken, Prou. 3. 0. 8. and 31. 15. || Or, pray, and foods. d As God promised to take the care of his Church: so in effect doeth he declare himselfe iust and true in the gouernement of the same, e They onely are wise, that feare God, and none haue vnderstanding, but they that obey his worde, f To wit, his commandements, as verily,

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise the Lord with my whole heart in the assembly and Congregation of the iust.

2 The works of the Lord are great, & ought to be fought out of all them that loue them.

3 His worke is beautifull and glorious, and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 He hath made his wonderfull works to be had in remembrance: the Lord is mercifull and full of compassion.

5 He hath giuen a portion vnto them that feare him: he will euer be mercifull of his covenant.

6 He hath shewed to his people the power of his works in giuing vnto them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The works of his hands are trueth and iudgement: all his statutes are true.

8 They are stablished for euer and euer, and are done in trueth and equitie.

9 He sent redemption vnto his people: hee hath commanded his covenant for euer: holy and fearefull is his Name.

10 The beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lord: all they that obserue them, haue good vnderstanding: his praise endureth for euer.

PSAL. CXII.

1 Hee praiseth the felicitie of them that feare God, 10 And condemneth the cursed state of the contemners of God.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

Blessed is the man, that feareth the Lord, and delighteth greatly in his commandments.

2 His seede shall be mightie vpon earth: the generation of the righteous shall be blessed.

3 Riches & treasures shalbe in his house, and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 Vnto the righteous ariseth light in darkenesse: he is mercifull and full of compassion and righteous.

5 A good man is mercifull and lendeth, and wil measure his affaires by iudgement.

6 Surely he shall neuer be mooued: but the righteous shall be had in euertlasting remembrance.

7 He wil not be afrayde of euill tidings: for his heart is fixed, and beleueth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished: therefore he wil not feare, until he see his desire vpon his enemies.

9 He hath distributed and giuen to the poore: his righteousnesse remaineth for euer: his home shall be created with glory.

■ He meaneth that recurrent feare, which is in the children of God, which causeth them to desire onely in the worde of God, b The godly shall haue abundance & contentment, because their heart is satisfied in God onely. c The faithfull in all their adversities knowe that all shall goe well with them: for God wil be mercifull and iust. d He sheweth what is the fruite of mercy: to lend freely & not for gaine, and so to measure his doings, that he may be able to helpe where neede requirith, and not to bestow all on himselfe. e The godly pinch not niggardly, but distribute liberally, as the necessitie of the poore requirith, and as his power is able, f His power and prosperous estate.

10 The wicked shall see it & be angry: he shall gnash with his teeth, and consume away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An exhortation to praise the Lord for his providence, 7 In that that contrary to the course of nature he worketh in his Church.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

Praise ye seruants of the Lord, praise the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the Name of the Lord, from henceforth and for euer.

3 The Lords Name is praised from the rising of the sunne vnto going downe of the same.

4 The Lord is high aboue all nations, and his glory aboue the heauens.

5 Who is like vnto the Lord our God, that hath his dwelling on high.

6 Who abasheth himselfe to beholde things in the heauen and in the earth.

7 He raiseth the needy out of the dust, and lieth vp the poore out of the dung.

12 Blessed art thou, O Lord: teach mee thy statutes.

74 So they that feare thee, seeing me, shall reioyce, because I haue trusted in thy word.

85 The proude haue digged pits for me, which is not after thy Lawe.

PSAL CXX.

The prayer of David being vexed by the false reports of Sauls flatterers. 5 And therefore he lamenteth his long abode among those infidels. 7 Who were giuen to all kinde of wickednesse and contention.

That is, of lifting vp the tune and rising in singing.
I Called vnto the Lord in my trouble, and he heard me.
2 Deliu' me from the deceitfull tongue.
3 What doth thy deceitfull tongue bring vnto thee? or what doeth it auail thee?
4 It is as the sharpe arrowes of a mighty man, and as the coles of iuniper.
5 Woe is to me that I remaine in ashes, and dwelle in the tents of iudas.
6 My soule hath too long dwelt with him that hateth peace.
7 I seeke peace, and when I speake thereof, they are bent to warre.
e He assured him selfe that God would turne their craft to their owne destruction. d He sheweth that there is nothing so sharpe to pearce, nor so hot to set on fire as a slanderous tongue. e These were people of Arabia, which came of Iaphet, Gen. 10. 2. f That is, of the Ishmaelites. g He declareth what he meaneth by Meshech and Kedar: wit, the Israelites which had degenerate from their godly fathers, and hated and contended against the faithfull.

PSAL CXXI.

This Psalm teacheth that the faithfull ought only to looke for helpe at God. 7 Who only do maintain, preserve and prosper his Church.

A song of degrees.
I Will lift by mine eyes vnto the mounte Iames, from whence mine helpe shall come.
2 Mine helpe cometh from the Lord, which hath made the heauen & the earth.
3 He will not suffer thy foote to slip: for he that keepeth thee, will not slumber.
4 Behold, he that keepeth Israel, will neither slumber nor sleepe.
5 The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shadow at thy right hand.
6 The sunne shall not smite thee by day, nor the moone by night.
7 The Lord shall preserve thee from all euill: he shall keepe thy soule.
8 The Lord shall preserve thy going out, and thy coming in from henceforth and for euer.

Or, above the mountaine: meaning, that there is nothing so high in this world, where he can trust, but only in God. a He accuseth mans ingratitude, which cannot depend on Gods power. b He sheweth that Gods providence not only watcheth over his Church in general, but also ouer every member thereof. c Neither heate nor colde, nor any incommoditie shall be able to destroy Gods Church: albeit for a time they may molest it. d Whatsoeuer thou doest enterprise shall haue good successe.

PSAL CXXII.

David reioyceth in the name of the faithfull, that God hath accomplished his promise. 6. & placed his Arke in Zion. 5 For the which he giueth thanks. 8 And prayeth for the prosperitie of the Church.

A song of degrees, of Psalme of David.

I Reioyceth, when they sayd to me, Wee will goe into the house of the Lord.
2 Our feet shall stand in thy gates, O Jerusalem.
3 Jerusalem is builded as a citie, that is compact together in it selfe:
4 Whereunto the Tribes, euen the Tribes of the Lord goe up, according to the testimonie to Israel, to praise the Name of the Lord.
5 For there are thrones set for iudgement, euen thrones of the house of David.
6 War for the peace of Jerusalem: let them prosper that loue thee.
7 Peace be within thy walles, and prosperitie within thy palaces.
8 For my brethren and neighbours sake I will wish thee now prosperitie.
9 Because of the house of the Lord our God, I will procure thy wealth.

1 Chron. 29. 9. a He reioyceth that God had appointed a place, where the Arke should still remaine. b Which were wont to wander to and fro as the Arke remooued. c By the artificiall ioyning and beautie of the houses, he meaneth the concord and loue that was betwene the citizens. d All the tribes according to Gods covenant shall come and pray there. e In whole house God placed the throne of Iustice, and made it a figure of Christes kingdom. f The fauour of God prosper thee both within and without. g Not only for mine owne sake, but for all the faithfull.

PSAL CXXIII.

A prayer of the faithfull, which were afflicted eyther in Babylon, or vnder Antiochus by the wicked worldlings and contemners of God.

A song of degrees.

I lift by mine eyes to thee, that dwellest in the heauens.
2 Behold, as the eyes of seruants looke vnto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden vnto the hand of her mistresse: so our eyes waite vpon the Lord our God, until he haue mercy vpon vs.
a He compareth the condition of the godly to seruants that are destitute of all helpe, assuring that when all other helpe faile, God is euer at hand and like himself.

b He declareth that when the faithfull are so full, that they can no more endure the oppressions and scorninges of the wicked, there is alway helpe aboue, if with hungrie desires they call for it.

3 Haue mercie vpon vs, O Ioyde, haue mercie vpon vs: for we haue suffered too much contempt.

4 Our soule is filled too full of the mocking of the wastellie, and of the despitfull use of the woundes.

5 The people of God, escaping a great perill, doe acknowledge themselves to be deliuered, not by their owne force, but by the power of God. 6 They declare the greatness of the perill, 6 And praise the Name of God.

PSAL. CXXIII.

A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

If the Ioyde had not bene on our side, (map Israel now sap)

2 If the Ioyde had not bene on our side, when men rose vp against vs,

3 They had then swallowed vs by quick, when their wrath was kindled against vs.

4 Then the waters had drowned vs, and the streame had goue ouer our soule:

5 Then had the swelling waters gone ouer our soule.

6 Draped be the Ioyde, which hath not giuen vs as a snare vnto their teeth.

7 Our soule is escaped, euen as a birde out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are deliuered.

8 Our helpe is in the name of the Ioyde, which hath made heauen and earth.

a He sheweth that God was ready to helpe at neede, and that there was none other way to be saued, but by his onely meanes. b So vnable were we to resist. c He vseth most proper similitudes to expresse the great danger that the Church was in, and out of the which God miraculously deliuered them. d For the wicked did not onely furiously rage against the faithfull, but craftily imagined to destroy them.

PSAL. CXXV.

1 He describeth the assurance of the faithfull in their afflictions. 4 And desireth their wealth, 5 And the destruction of the wicked.

A song of degrees.

They that trust in the Ioyde, shall bee as mount Zion, which cannot be remoued, but remaineth for euer.

2 As the mountaines are about Ierusalem: so is the Ioyde about his people from henceforth, and for euer.

3 For the rod of the wicked shall not rest on the lot of the righteous, lest he righteous put forth their hand vnto wickedness.

4 Doe well, O Ioyde, vnto those that be good and true in their hearts.

5 But these that turne aside by their crooked wayes, them shall the Ioyde lead with the workers of iniquitie: but peace shall bee vpon Israel.

that it should driue them from hope. c He desireth God to purge his Church from hypocrites and such as haue no zeale of the truth.

PSAL. CXXVI.

1 This Psalm was made after the returne of the people from Babylon, and sheweth that the meane of their deliuerance was wonderful after the fewtie yeeres of captiuitie foretold by Ieremie, Chap. 25. 12. and 29. 10.

A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

When the Ioyde brought againe the captiuitie of Zion, were were like them that dreame.

a Their deliuerance was as a thing incredible, and therefore tooke away all excuse of ingratitude.

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with ioy: then said they among the heathen, The Ioyde hath done great things for them.

3 The Ioyde hath done great things for vs, wherof we reioyce.

4 O Ioyde, bring againe our captiuitie, as the 4 riuers in the South.

5 They that sowe in teares, shall reape in ioy.

6 They went weeping and caried precious seed: but they shall reuume with ioy and bring their sheaues.

thankful. d It is no more impossible to God to deliuer his people, then to caule the riuers to runne in the wilderness and barren places. e That is, seede which was scarce and deare: meaning, that they which trusted in Gods promise to returne, had their desire.

PSAL. CXXVII.

1 He sheweth that the whole estate of the world, both domestick and politick standeth by Gods meere providence and blessing. 3 And that so haue children well nurtured, an especial grace and gift of God.

A song of degrees, or Psalme of Salomon.

Except the Ioyde builde the house, they labour in vaine that builde it: except the Ioyde keepe the citie, the keeper watcheth in vaine.

2 It is in vaine for a cow to rise early, and to lie downe late, and eate the bread of sorrow: but he will surely giue rest to his beloued.

3 Behold, children are the inheritance of the Ioyde, and the fruite of the wombe his reward.

4 As are the arrowes in the hand of the strong man: so are the children of youth.

5 Blessed is the man that hath his quier full of them: for they shall not bee ashamed, when they speake with their enemies in the gate.

griefe of minde. e Not exempting them from labour, but making their labours comfortable, and as it were a rest. f That is, indued with strength and vertues from God: for these are signes of Gods blessings, and not the number. g Such children shall be able to stop their aduersaries mouths, when their godly life is maliciously accused before iudges.

PSAL. CXXVIII.

1 He sheweth that blessednesse appertaineth not to all vniuersally, but to them onely that feare the Lord, and walke in his wayes.

A song of degrees.

Blessed is every one that feareth the Ioyde, and walketh in his wayes.

2 When thou eatest the labours of thine handes, thou shalt be blessed, and it shall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine on the sides of thine house, and thy children like the olive plants round about thy table.

4 For, surely thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Ioyde.

5 The Ioyde our of Zion shall blesse thee,

b He sheweth how the godly ought to reioyce, when God gathereth his Church or deliuereth it. c If the infidels confesse Gods wonderful worke, the faithfull can neuer shewe themselves sufficiently a That is, gouernance, and dispose all things pertaining to the familie. b The publike estate of the common wealth. c Which watch and ward, and are also Magistrates, and rulers of the citie. d Either that which is gotten by hard labour, or eaten with PSAL. CXXIX.

1 He admonisheth the Church to reioyce though it be afflicted. 4 For by the righteous Lord it shall be deliuered. 6 And the enemies for all their glorious feare, shall suddenly be destroyed.

A song of degrees.

Thy haue oftentimes afflicted me from my youth (map. I. Israel now say)

2 Thy haue oftentimes afflicted mee from my youth: but thy couldest not preuaile against me.

3 The plowes plowed vpon my backe, and made long furrowes.

4 But the righteous Lord hath cut the cordes of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zion, shall be all ashamed and turned backward.

6 They shall be as the grasse on the house tops, which withereth afore it cometh forth.

7 Whereof the milder silenty not his hand, neither the gleaner his lap:

8 Neither they, which goe by, say, The blessing of the Lord be vpon you. or, We blesse you in the Name of the Lord.

PSAL. CXXX.

1 The people of God from their bottomlesse miseries doe cry vnto God, and are heard. 3 They confesse their finnes and flee vnto Gods mercie.

A song of degrees.

O of the deepe places haue I called vnto thee, O Lord.

2 Lord, heare my voyce: let thine eares attend to the voyce of my prayes.

3 If thou, O Lord, straitly markest iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?

4 But mercie is with thee, that thou mayest be feared.

5 I haue waited on the Lord: my soule hath waited, & I haue trusted in his word.

6 My soule watcheth on the Lord more the the morning watch watcheth for the morning.

7 Let Israel waite on the Lord: for with the Lord is mercie, and with him is great redemption.

8 And he shall redeeme Israel from all his iniquities.

PSAL. CXXXI.

1 David charged with ambition & greedy desire to reigne, professeth his humilitie and modestie before God, and reacheth all men, what they shall doe.

A song of degrees, or Psalm of Dauid.

Lord, mine heart is not haughty, neither are mine eyes lofty, neither haue I swelled in great matters and hid from me.

2 Surely I haue behaved my selfe like one waied from his mother, & kept silence: I am in my selfe as one that is warned.

3 He was voyde of ambition and wicked desires,

3 Let Israel waite on the Lord from henceforth and for ever.

PSAL. CXXXII.

1 The faithfull grounding on Gods promise made vnto Dauid, & how he would establish the same, both as touching his posteritie & the building of the Temple, so pray there as was foretold, Deu. 12. 5.

A song of degrees.

Lord, remember Dauid with all his affliction.

2 Who swore vnto the Lord, & vowed vnto the mightie God of Iacob, saying,

3 I will not enter into the Tabernacle of mine house, nor come vpon my pallet or bed,

4 Nor suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eye lids to slumber,

5 Until I find out a place for the Lord, an habitation for the mightie God of Iacob.

6 Lo, we heard of it in Ephrathah, and found it in the fieldes of the forest.

7 We will enter into his Tabernacles, and worship before his footstool.

8 And, O Lord, to come into thy rest, thou, and the Ark of thy strength.

9 Let thy Virgins be clothed with righteousness, and let thy Saints rejoice.

10 For thy seruants Dauids sake, refuse not the face of thine Anointed.

11 The Lord hath sworn in truth vnto Dauid, and he will not thinke from it, saying, Of the fruite of thy body will I set vpon thy throne.

12 If thy sonnes keepe my covenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their sonnes also shall sit vpon thy throne for ever.

13 For the Lord hath chosen Zion, and loued to dwell in it, saying, 14 This is my rest for ever: here will I dwell, for I haue a delight therein.

15 I will surely blesse her vitallies, and will sacrifice her pooze with bread.

16 And will cloth her Queens with sacke, and her Sauiours shall honour for ever.

17 There will I make the home of Dauid to budde: for I haue ordeyned a light for mine Anointed.

18 His enemies will I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shall flourish.

afterward his Arke should remooue to none other place. f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Priestes and in the people.

g As thou first madest promise to Dauid, so continue it to his posteritie, that whatsoever they shall aske for their people, it may be granted.

h Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promise was spirituall. i Meaning, for his owne sake, and not for the plentifulnesse of the place: for he promised to blesse it, declaring before, that it was barren. k That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe. l Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet he promised to restore it.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

1 This Psalm conserneth the commendation of brotherly amitie among the seruants of God.

A song of degrees, or Psalm of Dauid.

Behold, holue good and holue come: by a thing it is, brethren to dwell enen together.

a The Church now afflicted ought to remember, how her condition hath euer bene such from the beginning: to be molested most grievously by the wicked: yet in time it hath euer bene deliuered. b Because God is righteous, he cannot but plague his aduersaries, and deliuer his, as oxen out of the plow. c The enemies that lift themselves most high, and as it were, approach nere to the sunne, are consumed with the heat of Gods wrath, because they are not grounded in godly humilitie. d That is, the wicked shall perish and none shall passe for them.

1 He exhorteth all the faithfull, of what estate soeuer they be, to praise God for his marvellous works, and specially for his graces towards his people, wherein hee hath declared his maiestie, 15 To the confusion of all idolaters, and their idoles.

A Praise pe the Lord.

Praise the name of the Lord: pee servants of the Lord, praise him.

2 Pee that stand in the house of the Lord, and in the courts of the house of our God,

3 Praise pe the Lord: for the Lord is good: sing praises vnto his name: for it is a comely thing.

4 For the Lord hath chosen Iacob to himselfe, and Israel for his chiefe treasure.

5 For I knowe that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is aboue all gods.

6 Whatsoever pleased the Lord, that he did hee in the heauen and in earth, in the sea, and in all the depths.

7 He bringeth vp the cloudes from the endes of the earth, and maketh the lightnings with the raine: he draweth forth the winde out of his treasures.

8 Hee smote the first borne of Egypt both of man and beast.

9 He hath sent tokens and wonders into the mids of thee, O Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his seruants.

10 He smote many nations, and slewe mighty kings:

11 As Sihon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Basan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

12 And he gaue their land for an inheritance, euen an inheritance vnto Israel his people.

13 Thy name, O Lord, endureth for euer: O Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

14 For the Lord will iudge his people, and be pacified towards his seruants.

15 The idoles of the heathen are silver and golde, euen the worke of mens hands.

16 They haue a mouth, & speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

17 They haue eares and heare not, neither is there any breath in their mouth.

18 They that make them, are like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.

19 Praise the Lord, pee house of Israel: praise the Lord, pee house of Aaron.

20 Praise the Lord, pee house of Levi: pee that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.

21 Praised be the Lord out of Zion, which dwelleth in Ierusalem. Praise pe the Lord.

1 The people of God in their banishment seeing Gods true religion decay, liued in great anguish and sorrow of heart: the which grieft the Chaldeans did so little pittie, 3 That they rather increased the same daily with taunts, reproches & blasphemies against God. 7 Wherefore the Israelites desire God, first to punish the Edomites, who provoked the Babylonians against them, 8 And moued by the Spirit of God, prophesie the destruction of Babylon, where they were handled so tyrannously.

B The rulers of Babel we salute, and there be the wipers, when we remembered Zion.

2 Wee hanged our harpes vpon the willowes in the maddes thereof.

3 Then they that led vs captiues, requiured of vs songs and mirth, when we had hanged vpon our harpes, saying, Sing vs one of the songs of Zion.

4 Wolue shall we sing, layd we, a song of the Lord in a strange land?

5 If I forget thee, O Ierusalem, let my right hand forget to play.

6 If I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleane to the roofof my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Ierusalem to my chiefe toy.

7 Remember the children of Edom, O Lord, in the day of Ierusalem, which layde, Rale it, rale it to the foundation thereof.

8 O daughter of Babel, worthie to be destroyed, blessed shall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast serued vs.

9 Blessed shall hee be that taketh and dasheth the children against the stones.

1 David with great courage prayeth the goodness of God toward him, the which is so great, 4 That it is known to forraigne princes, who shall praise the Lorde together with him. 6 And hee is assured to haue like comfort of God in the time following, as he hath had heretofore.

APsalme of David.

Will praise thee with my whole heart:

Leuen before the gods will I praise thee:
2 I will worshippinge toward thee holy Temple, and praise thy Name, because of thy louing kindnesse and for thy truetie: for thou hast magnified thy Name aboue all things by thy word.

3 When I called, then thou heardest me, and hast increased strenght in my soule.

4 All the Kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord: for they haue heard the words of thy mouth.

5 And they shall sing of the wayes of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord is great.

6 For the Lord is high: yet he beholdeth the lowly, but the proude hee knoweth a farre off.

7 Though I walke in the mids of trouble, yet wilt thou reuine me: thou wilt stretch forth thine hand vpon the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall saue me.

1 David to cleanse his heart from all hypocrisie, sheweth that there is nothing so hidde, which God seeth not. 13 Which hee confirmeth by the creation of man. 14 After declaring his zeale and feare of God, he protesteth to be enemye to all them that conserne God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David.

O Lord, thou hast tried me & knowen me.

2 Thou knowest my sitting and my rising: thou understandest my thought a farre off.

3 Thou compassest my pates, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my wayes.

4 For there is not a word in my tongue, but loe thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.

5 Thou holdest mee strait behinde and before, and layest thine hand vpon me.

6 Thy knowledge is too wonderfull for me: it is so high that I cannot attaine vnto it.

7 Whither shall I go from thy Spirit: or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 If I ascend into heauen, thou art there: if I lie downe in hell, thou art there.

9 Let me take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the priernost partes of the sea:

2 Let my prayer be directed in thy sight as incense, and ^e the lifting vp of mine hands as an euening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and keepe the ^e doore of my lippes.

4 Incline not mine heart to euill, that I should commit wicked workes with men, that worke iniquitie: and let me not eate of their delicacies.

5 Let the righteous smite mee: for that is a benefite: and let ^e him reprove mee: and it shall be a precious oyle, that shall not breake mine head: for within a while I shall euen pray in their miseries.

6 When their iudges shall be cast downe in stonie places, they shall ^e heare my wordes, for they are sweete.

2 A Psalm of Dauid, to giue instruction, & a prayer when he was in the caue.

3 Cried vnto the Lord with my voyce: with my voyce I prayed vnto the Lord.

4 I poured out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.

5 Though my spirit was in perplexitie in mee, yet thou knewest my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they pryncely layde a snare for me.

8 Herken vnto my cry, for I am brought very lowe: deliuer me from my persecuters, for they are too strong for me.

1 That is, as thou hast promised to bee faithfull in thy promise to all that trust in thee.

2 That is, according to thy free goodnesse, whereby thou defendest thine. 3 Hee knewe that his afflictions were Gods messengers to call him to repentance for his finnes, though toward his enemies he was innocent, and that in Gods sight all men are sinners. 4 He acknowledge that God is the onely, and true physician to heale him: and that he is able to rayle him to life, though he were dead long agoe and turned to ashes. 5 So that onely by faith, and by the grace of Gods spirit he was vpholden. 6 To wit, thy great benefites of olde, and thy manifold examples of thy fauour toward thine.

i Though wicked kings be called Gods seruants, as Cyrus, Isai. 45. 1. forasmuch as he vseth them to execute his iudgements: yet Dauid because of Gods promise, and they, that rule godly, are properly to be called, because they serue not their owne affections, but set forth Gods glory.

k He desireth God to continue his benefites towards his people, counting the procreation of children and their good education among the chiefest of Gods benefites. l That the very corners of our houses may be full of store for the great abundance of thy blessings. m Hee attributeth not onely the great commodities, but euen the least also to Gods fauour. n And if God giue not to all his children all these blessings, yet he recompenseth them with better things.

PSAL. CXLV.

This Psalm was composed, when the kingdome of Dauid flourisheth. i Wherein hee describeth the wonderfull providence of God, as well in governing man, as in preserving all the rest of his creatures. 17 He prayeth God for his iustice & mercy, & Dauid specially for his louing kindenesse toward those that call vpon him, that feare him, and loue him: 21 For the which he promisseth to praye him for euer.

A Psalm of Dauid of prayle.

O By God, and King, I will extol thee, and will blesse thy Name for euer and euer.

2 I will blesse thee dayly, and prayle thy Name for euer and euer.

3 Great is the Lord, and most worthe to be prayled, and his greatnesse is incomprehensible.

4 Generation shall prayle thy workes vnto generation, and declare thy power.

5 I will meditate of the beauty of thy glorious maiestie, and thy wonderfull works.

6 And they shall speake of the power of thy fearefull Actes, and I will declare thy greatnesse.

7 They shall breake out into the mention of thy great goodnesse, and shall sing aloud of thy righteousnesse.

8 The Lord is gracious and mercifull, slow to anger, and of great mercie.

9 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are ouer all his workes.

10 All thy workes prayle thee, O Lord, and thy Saints blesse thee.

c Forasmuch as the end of mans creation, and of his preservation in this life, is to prayse God, therefore e he requirerh that not onely we our selues doe this, but cause all other to doe the same. d Of thy terrible iudgements against the wicked. Exod. 34. 6. e Hee describeth after what sort God sheweth himselfe to all his creatures, though our finnes haue provoked his vengeance against all: to wit, mercifull, not onely in pardoning the finnes of his elect, but in doing good euen to the reprobate, albeit they cannot feele the sweetest comfort of the same.

kings, and reuerceth Dauid his seruant from the hurtfull sword.

11 Rescue mee, and deliuer me from the hand of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood:

12 That our corners may be as the plants growing vp in their pouth, and our daughters as the corner stones, grauen after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our corners may be full, and abounding with diuers foies, and that our sheepe may bring forth thousandes and ten thousand in our streetes.

14 That our house may be strong to labour: that there be none inuasion, nor going out nor no crying in our streetes:

15 Blessed are the people, that be so, yea, blessed are the people, whose God is the Lord.

11 They shew the glorie of thy kingdome, and speake of thy power,

12 To cause his power to be knownen to the sonnes of men, and the glorious renowne of his kingdome.

13 Thy kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lord upholdeth al that fall, and lifreth vp all that are ready to fall.

15 The eyes of all waite vpon thee, and thou giuest them their meate in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand, & fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure.

17 The Lord is c righteous in all his wayes, and holy in all his workes.

18 The Lord is neere vnto all y call vpon him: yea, to all that call vpon him in trueth.

19 He will fulfil the desire of them that feare him: he also will heare their cry, and will saue them.

20 The Lord vpholdeth all them that loue him: but he will destroy all the wicked.

21 My mouth shall speake the prayle of the Lord, and all flesh shall blesse his holy Name for euer and euer.

fore they ought to reuerence him, that reigneth in heauen, & suffer themselves to be gouerned by him. i To wit, alwell of man as of beast. k Hee prayeth God, not onely for that he is beneficiall to all his creatures, but also in that that he iustly punisheth the wicked, and mercifully examineth him by y cross, giuing them strength and deliuering them. l Which onely appertaineth to the faithful: and this vertue is contrary to infidelitie, doubting, impaciencie, and murmuring. m For they will aske or wish for nothing, but according to his will, 1, Iohn. 5. 14. n That is, all men shall bee bound to prayse him.

PSAL. CXLVI.

1 Dauid declareth his great reate that he hath to praise God, 3 And teacheth not to trust in man, but only in God almighty, 7 Which deliuereth the afflicted, 9 Defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fatherlesse & the widowes, 10 And reigneth for euer.

Prayle ye the Lord.

Praise thou the Lord, O my soule.

2 I will prayle the Lord during my life: as long as I haue any being, I will sing vnto my God.

3 But not your trust in princes, nor in the sonne of man, for there is none helpe in him.

4 His breath departeth, and he returneth to his earth: then his thoughtes perish.

5 Blessed is he, that hath the God of Iacob for his helpe, whose hope is in the Lord his God.

6 Which made heauen and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth his fidelitie for euer:

7 Which executeth iustice: for the oppressed: which giueth bread to the hungry: the Lord looseth the prisoners.

f The prayse of thy glory appeareth in all thy creatures: and though the wicked would obscure the same by their silence, yet the faithful are euermindfull of the same. g He sheweth that all things are out of order, but onely where God reigneth. *Dan. 7. 14. P S A L. CXLVII.

1 The Prophet praifeth the bountie, wifedome, power, iuflice, and providence of God vpon all hu creatures, 2 But fpecially vpon his Church, which he gathereth together after their difperfon, 19 Declaring his word and iudgements vs vnto them, as he hath done to none other people.

Praife ye the Lord, for it is good to fing vnto our God: for it is a pleafant thing, and praife is comely.

2 The Lord doth build vp Ierufalem, and gather together the difperfed of Ifrael.

3 Hee healeth thofe that are broken in heart, and bindeth vp their fozes.

4 Hee counteth the number of the ftarres, and calleth them al by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: his wifedome is infinite.

6 The Lord relieueth the mecke, and a-hafeth the wicked to the ground.

7 Sing vnto the Lord with praife: fing of an horfe, neither delireth he in the legges

11 But the Lord delireth in them that feare him, and attend vpon his mercie.

 thy God, O Zion.

13 For hee hath made the barres of thy gates ftrong, and hath bleffed thy children within thee.

14 He fetterh peace in thy borders, and fa-tisfieth thee with the floure of wheate.

 ment vpon earth, and his word runneth very fwoiftly.

 tereth the hoare froft like afhes.

17 He cafteth forth his ice like mofels:
 who can abide the colde thereof?

 waters flowe.

 is Gods free mercie, which hath elected his in Sonne Chrift Iefus

P S A L. CXLVIII.

1 He prouoketh all creatures to praife the Lord in heauen and earth and all places, 14 Specially hu Church, for the power that he hath giuen to the fame after that he had chofen them & reigned them vnto him.

Praife ye the Lord.

Praife ye the Lord from the heauen:
 praife ye him in the high places.

 praife him, all his armie.

3 Praife ye him, fonne and moone:
 praife ye him all bright ftarres.

4 Praife ye him, heauens of heauens,

5 Let them praife the name of the Lord:

 praife aboue the earth and the heauens.

P S A L. CXLIX.

1 An exhortation to the Church to praife the Lord for his victorie and conqueft, that hee giueth his Saints againft all mans power.

Praife ye the Lord.

Sing ye vnto the Lord a newe fong: let his praife be heard in the Congregation of Saints.

a For his rare and manifold benefits beflowed vpon his Church.

b In that that they were preferred before all others nations, it was as a new creation, and therefore Psal. 95.7. they were called the sheepe of Gods handes. c For God as hee is the Creator of the soule and body, so will he that both two serue him, and that his people be continually subiect vnto him as to their most lawfull King. d He alludeth to that continuall rest and quietnesse, which they should haue, if they would suffer God to rule them. e This is chiefly accomplished in the Kingdome of Christ, when Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: and it giueth no libertie to any to reuenge their priuate iniuries. f Not onely the people, but the Kings that were their enemies, should be destroyed. g Hereby God bindeth the hands and mindes of all his to enterprise no further then he appoynteth.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that made him, and let the children of Zion reioyce in their King.
3 Let them praye his name with the flute: let them sing praises vnto him with the timbrell and harpe.
4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: hee will make the meeke glorious by deliuerance.
5 Let the Saints be ioyfull with glorie: let them sing loude vpon their beddes.
6 Let the high Actes of God be in their mouth, and a two edged sworde in their handes.
7 To execute vengeance vpon the heathen, and corrections among the people:
8 To binde their kings in chaines, and their nobles with fetters of yron,
9 That they may execute vpon them the iudgement that is written: this honour shall be to all his Saints. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CL.

1 An exhortation to praise the Lord without cease by all manner of wayes, for all his mightie and wonderfull workes.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

Praise ye God in his Sanctuarie: praise ye him in the firmament of his power.
2 Praise ye him in his mightie Actes: praise ye him according to his excellent greatness.
3 Praise ye him in the sounde of the trumpet: praise ye him vpon the viole and the harpe.
4 Praise ye him with timbrel and flute: praise ye him with virginalles and organs.
5 Praise ye him with sounding cymbals: praise ye him with high sounding cymbals.
6 Let euery thing that hath breath praise the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

a That is, in the heaven.
b For his wonderfull power appeareth in the firmament which in Hebrew is called a stretching out, or spreading abroad, wherein the mightie worke of God shineth.
c Exhorting the people onely to reioyce in praying God, hee maketh mention of those instruments, which by Gods commandement were appoynted in the olde Lawe, but vnder Christ the vse thereof is abolished in the Church. d Hee sheweth that all the order of nature is bound to this dutie, and much more Gods children, who ought neuer to cease to praise him, till they be gathered into that kingdome, which hee hath prepared for his, where they shall sing euermore praising.

* This word Prouerbe, or parable, signifieth a graue and notable sentence, worthe to be kept in memorie: and is sometimes taken in the euil part for a mocke, or scoffe.

The * Prouerbes of Salomon.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE wonderful loue of God toward his Church is declared in this booke: forasmuch as the summe and effect of the whole Scriptures is here set forth in these brieue sentences, which partly containe doctrine, and partly maners, and also exhortations to both. Whereof the nine first Chapters are as a preface full of graue sentences, and deepe mysteries, to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that followe: which are left as a most precious iewell to the Church of those three thousand parables mentioned, 1. King. 4.32. and were gathered and committed to writing by Salomons seruants, and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The power and vse of the word of God. 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of hu worde. 10 We may not consent to the intings of sinners. 20 Wisedome complaineth that shee is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that conteme her.

Be Parables of Salomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel.
2 To know wisdome, and instruction, to vnderstand the wordes of knowlegde,
3 To receiue instruction to doe wisely, by iustice and iudgement and equitie,

4 To giue vnto the simple sharpenesse of witte, and to the childe knowlegde and discretion.
5 A wise man shall heare and increase in learning, and a man of vnderstanding shall attaine vnto wise counsels.

a That is, what we ought to know and folow, and what wee ought to refuse. b Meaning, the word of God, wherein is the onely true knowledge.

c To learne to submit our selues to the correction of those that are wise. d By liuing iustly, and rendering to euery man that which appertayneth vnto him. e To such as haue not discretion to rule themselves. f As he sheweth that these parables, containing the effect of religion as touching maners and doctrine, do apperteyne to the simple people: so doth he declare, that the same is also necessarie for them that are wise and learned.

6 To vnderstand a parable, and the interpretation, the wordes of the wise, and their darkelayings.

7 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles despise wisdom and instruction.

8 My sonne, heare thy fathers instruction, and forsake not thy mothers teaching.

9 For if they shall be as a comely ornament vnto thine head, as chaines for thy necke.

10 My sonne, if sinners doe intice thee, consent thou not.

11 If they say, Come with vs, we will lay waite for blood, and lie in wait for the innocent without a cause:

12 We will swallow them by a liue like a graue euen whole, as those that go downe into the pit:

13 Certe that finde all precious riches, and fill our houses with spoyle:

of grace. i To wit, the wicked, which haue not the feare of God. k He speaketh not onely of the shedding of blood with hand, but of all craske practices which tend to the detriment of our neighbour. l As the graue is neuer satiate, so the auarice of the wicked and their cruelty hath none ende.

Psal. 111.10. ecclus. 1.16.

g He speaketh this in the Name of God, which is the vniuersall Father of all creatures, or in the Name of the pastor of the Church, who is as a father.

h That is, of the Church, wherein the faithfull are begotten by the incorruptible seed of Gods word.

† Ebr. Increase

m He sheweth whereby the wicked are allured to ioyne together, because they haue euerie one part of the spoyle of the innocent.

n That is, haue nothing at all to doe with them, o He sheweth that there is no cauleto moue these wicked to spoyle the innocent, but their auarice & cruelty.

p Whereby he concludeth that the courteous man is a murderer, q This wisdom is the eternall worde of God. r So that none can pretende ignorance.

i Wisdom reprooueth three kindes of men: the foolish or simple, which erre of ignorance, and the mockers, that can not suffer to be taught, & the fooles which are drowned in worldly lustes and hate the knowledge of godlinesse.

t This is spoken according to our capacitie, signifying that the wicked, which mocke and iest at Gods worde, shall haue the iust reward of their mocking.

u That is, your destruction, which thing you feared, x Because they sought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their owne griefe. y Shewing that without faith and obedience we can not call vpon God aright. z They shall feele what commoditie their wicked life shall giue them. a That is, the prosperitie and sensualitie wherein they delight.

That is, keepe them in thine heart, b If thou giue thy selfe to the true knowledge of God without hypocrisse,

14 Cast in thy lot among vs: wee will all haue one^a purse:

15 My sonne, walke not thou in the way with them: refraine thy foote from their^a path.

16 For their feete runne to euill, & make haste to shed blood.

17 Certainly as without cause the net is spied before the eyes of all that hath wing:

18 So they lay waite for blood & lie priuily for^a their liues.

19 Such are the wayes of euery one that is greedy of gaine: he would take away the^a life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ Wisdom cryeth without: shee stretcheth her voyce in the^a streets.

21 Shee calleth in the hie streete, among the pease in the entrings of the gates, and uttereth her wordes in the cite, saying,

22 Doe yet foolishly, how long will yee loue foolishnesse: and the scornfull take their pleasure in scornings: and the fooles haue knowledge.

23 ¶ Turne you at my correction: loe, I will poyse out my minde vnto you, and make you vnderstand my wordes)

24 Because I haue called, & ye refused: I haue stretched out mine hand, and none would regard.

25 But ye haue despised all my counsell, and would none of my correction.

26 I will also^a laugh at your destruction, and mocke when your feare commeth.

27 When^a your feare commeth like sudden delolation, and your destruction shall come, like a whirlewinde: when affliction and anguish shall come vpon you,

28 Then shall they call vpon me, but I will not answere: they shall seeke me earlely, but they shall not^a finde me, 29 Because they hated knowledge, and did not chuse the feare of the Lord.

30 They would none of my counsell, but y despised all my correction.

31 Therefore shal they eate of the^a fruite of their owne way, and be filled with their owne deuities.

32 For^a ease slayeth the foolish, and the prosperitie of fooles destroyeth them.

33 But he that obeyeth me, shall dwell safely, and be quiet from feare of euill.

and cryeth for vnderstanding:

4 If thou seekest her as silver, & searchest for her as for^a treasures,

5 Then shalt thou vnderstand & feare of the Lord, & finde the^a knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giueth wisdom, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding,

7 Well preferueth the state of y righteous: he is a shield to them that walke vprightly,

8 That they may keepe the wayes of iudgement: and hee preferueth the way of his^a Saintes)

9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousness, and iudgement, and equitie, and euery good path.

10 ¶ When wisdom entred into thine heart, and knowledge deliteth thy soule,

11 Then shall^a counsell preferue thee, and vnderstanding shall keepe thee,

12 And deliuer thee from the euil way, & from y man that speaketh froward things.

13 And from them that leaue the^a wayes of righteousness to walke in the wayes of darkenesse:

14 Which reioyce in doing euill, and delight^a in the frowardnesse of the wicked, 15 Whose wayes are crooked and they are letwde in their paths.

16 And it shall deliuer thee from the strange^a woman, even from the stranger, which flattereth with her wordes.

17 Which forsaketh the^a guide of her youth, and forgetteth the^a covenant of her God.

18 Surely her^a house tendeth to death, and her paths vnto^a the dead.

19 All they that goe vnto her, retorne not againe, neither take they hold of the wayes of life.

20 Therefore walke thou in y way of good men, and keepe the wayes of the righteous.

21 For the iust shall dwell in the^a land, and the vpright men shall remaine in it.

22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it.

23 He remaine in his subiection. 1 Which is the promise made in marriage.

h Meaning, that he that seeketh wisdom: that is, suffereth himselfe to be gouerned by the worde of God, shall haue all prosperitie both corporall and spirituall.
i Which bringeth forth such fruite that they that eate thereof, haue life: and he alludeth to the tree of life in Paradise.
k Hereby he sheweth that this wisdom, whereof he speaketh, is euerslasting, because it was before all creatures, and that all things, even the whole world were made by it.
|| Or, thou shalt, reads Chap. 1. 9.
l For whē God destroyeth the wicked, he will saue his, as he did Lot in Sodom.
m Not onely from them to whom the possession belongeth, but also thou shalt not keepe it from them, which haue neede of the vse thereof.
n That is, puttest his trust in thee.

4 So shalt thou finde fauour & good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.
5 ¶ Trust in the Lord to all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisdom.
6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy wayes.
7 ¶ Be not wise in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord, and depart from euill.
8 So health shall be vnto thy nauell, and marrow vnto thy bones.
9 Honour the Lord with thy riches, and with the first frutes of all thine increase.
10 So shall thy barnes be filled with abundance, and thy presses shall be burst with newe wine.
11 ¶ My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither be grieved with his correction.
12 * For the Lord correcteth him, whom he loueth, euē as the father doeth the childe in whom he delighteth.
13 Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.
14 For the marchandise thereof is better then the marchandie of siluer, & the gaine thereof is better then golde.
15 It is more precious then pearles: and all things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.
16 Length of dayes is in her right hand, and in her left hand riches and gloiy.
17 Her wayes are wayes of pleasure, and all her paths prosperitie.
18 She is a tree: of life to them that lay holde on her, and blessed is he that retaineth her.
19 The Lord by wisdom hath laid the foundation of the earth, & hath stablished the heauens through vnderstanding.
20 By his knowledge p depths are broken vp, & the cloudes drop downe the dew.
21 My sonne, let not these things depart from thine eyes, but obserue wisdom, and counsell.
22 So they shall be life to thy soule, and grace vnto thy necke.
23 When shalt thou walke safely by thy way: and thy foote shall not stumble.
24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afeared, and when thou sleepest, thy sleepe shall be sweete.
25 Thou shalt not feare for any sudden feare, neither for the destruction of the wicked, when it cometh.
26 For p Lord shall be for thine assurance, and shall preserue thy foote from taking.
27 ¶ Withhold not the good from the owners thereof, though there be power in thine hand to doe it.
28 Say not vnto thy neighbour, Doe and come againe, and to morowe will I giue thee, if thou now haue it.
29 ¶ Intende none hurt against thy neighbour, seeing he doeth dwell without feare by thee.
30 ¶ Striue not with a man causelesse, when he hath done thee no harme.

31 ¶ Bee not * enuious for the wicked man, neither chuse any of his wayes.
32 For the froward is abomination vnto the Lord: but his secret is with the righteous.
33 The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the righteous.
34 With the scornfull he scorneth, but he giueth grace vnto the humble.
35 The wise shall inherite gloiy: but fooles dishonour, though they be exalted.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Wisdom and her fruites ought to be searched.
14 The way of the wicked must be refused. 30 By the worde of God the heart, eyes and course of life must be guided.

¶ Care, O yee children, the instruction of the father, and giue eare to learne vnderstanding.

2 For I doe giue you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my lawe.

3 For I was my fathers sonne, tender and deare in the sight of my mother.

4 When he taught me, & said vnto me, Let thine heart holde fast my wordes: keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue.

5 Get wisdom: get vnderstanding: forget not, neither decline from the wordes of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, & she shall keepe thee: loue her, and she shall preserue thee.

7 A wisdom is the beginning: get wisdom therefore: and about all thy possession get vnderstanding.

8 Exalt her, & she shall exalt thee: she shall bring thee to honour, if thou embrace her.

9 She shall giue a comely ornament vnto thine head, yea, she shall giue thee a crowne of gloiy.

10 I heare, my sonne, and receive my wordes, & the yerres of thy life shall be many.

11 I haue taught thee in the way of wisdom, and led thee in the paths of righteousness.

12 When thou goest, thy gate shall not be strait, and when thou turnest, thou shalt not fall.

13 Take holde of instruction, and leaue not: keepe her, for she is thy life.

14 ¶ Enter not into the way of the wicked, and walke not in the way of euill men.

15 Auaide it, & go not by it: turne from it, and passe by.

16 For they cannot sleepe, except they haue done euill, and their sleepe departeth, except they cause some to fall.

17 For they eate the bread of wickednesse, and drinke the wine of violence.

18 But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that shineth more and more vnto the perfect day.

o Desire not to be like vnto him.
p That is, his couenant & fatherly affection which is hid and secret from the world.
q He will shew by his plagues that their scornes shall turne to their owne destruction, as Chap. 1. 26.

a He speaketh this in the person of a preacher and minister, which is as a father vnto the people, reads Chap. 1. 8.

b In Ebrewe, it is Onely: for though he had three others, as

1. Chro. 3. 51. yet so tenderly hee loued Salomon that he was vnto her, as her onely sonne.

c Meaning, Dauid his father.

d He sheweth that wee must first beginne at Gods worde, if so be we will that other things prosper with vs, contrary to the iudgement of the world, which make it their last Audie, or els, care not for it at all.

e Salomon declareth what care his father had to bring him vp in the true feare of God: for this was Dauids protestation.

f Thou shalt walke at liber-tie without offence. g Meaning, that to doe euill is more proper and naturall to the wicked, then to sleepe, eate or drinke. h Gotten by wicked meanes and cruel oppression. i Signifying, that the godly increase dayly in knowledge and perfection, till they come to full perfection, which is, when they shall be ioyned to their head in the heauens.

k That is, they shall haue health of body: vnder the which all other blessings promised in the lawe are contained. l Foras the heart is eyther pure or corrupt, so is the whole course of mans life. m Keepe a measure in all thy doings.

19 The way of the wicked is as the darkness: they knowe not wherein they shall fall.
20 O My sonne, hearken vnto my wordes, incline thine eare vnto my sayings.
21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the mids of thine heart.
22 For they are life vnto those that find them, and health vnto all their flesh.
23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereout cometh life.
24 Put away from thee a frowarde mouth, & put wicked lips farre from thee.
25 Let thine eyes beholde the right, and let thine eye lids direct thy way before thee.
26 Wonder the path of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.
27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remoue thy foote from euill.

CHAP. V.

3 Whoredome forbidden. 9 And prodigallitie. 15 He willett a man to liue on his labours and to helpe others. 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednesse.

My sonne, hearken vnto my wisdom, and incline thine eare vnto my knowledge.

2 That thou mayest regard counsell, and thy lips obserue knowledge.

3 For the lippes of a strange woman drop as an hony combe, and her mouth is more soft then oyle.

4 But the end of her is bitter as wormewood, and sharpe as a two edged word.

5 Her feete go downe to death, and her steps take holde on hell.

6 She weigheth not the way of life: her paths are moueable: thou canst not know them.

7 Heare ye mee now therefore, O children, and depart not from the wordes of my mouth.

8 Keepe thy way farre from her, and come not neere the doore of her house.

9 Lest thou giue thine honour vnto others, and thy riches to the cruell.

10 Lest the stranger should be filled with thy strength, and thy labours bee in the house of a stranger.

11 And thou mourne at thine end, (when thou hast consumed thy flesh and thy body)

12 And say, How haue I hated instruction, and nune heart despised correction!

13 And haue not obeyed the voyce of them that taught mee, nor inclined mine eare to them that instructed me!

14 I was almost brought into all euill in the mids of the Congregation & assembly.

15 Drinke the water of thy cistern, and of the riuers out of the middes of thine owne well.

16 Let thy fountaines stowe forth, and the riuers of waters in the streets.

17 But let them seee thine, euen thine onely, and not the strangers with thee.

For vnderstanding.

a That is, an harlot which giueth her selfe to another then to her husband.

b By oyle and hony he meaneth flattering and craftie intencements.

c All her doings leade to destruction.

d She hath euer new meanes to allure to wickednesse.

e That is, thy strength and goods to her that will haue no pitie vpon thee: as is read of Samson, and the prodigall sonne.

f The goods gotten by thy trauell.

g Although I was faithfully instructed in the trueth, yet had I almost fallen to viter shame and destruction, notwithstanding my good bringing vp in the assembly of the godly.

h Hee reacheth vs sobriety, exhorting vs to lue of our owne labours, and to bee beneficiall to the godly that want.

i Distribute them not to the wicked and infidels, but reserve them for thy selfe, thy familie, and them that are of the houthold of faith.

18 Let thy fountain be blessed, and reioyce with the wife of thy youth.

19 Let her bee as the louing hinde & pleasant roe: let her breathe sweetly thee at all times, and delight in her long continually.

20 For why shouldst thou desire, my sonne, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosome of a stranger?

21 For the wayes of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths.

22 His owne iniquities shall take the wicked himselfe, and he shall be holden by the cordes of his owne sinne.

23 He shall die for fault of instruction, and shall goe astray through his great folly.

and in outward conuersation, that he shall not escape the iudgements of God. n Because he will not giue eare to Gods word and be admonished.

CHAP. VI.

1 Instruction for sluggards. 6 The slothful & sluggish is stirred to worke. 12 Hee describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the word of God. 24 To flee adultery.

My sonne, if thou be lreetic for thy neighbour, and hast stricken hands with the stranger,

2 Thou art snared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art euen taken with the wordes of thine owne mouth.

3 Doe this now my sonne, and deliuer thy selfe: leaue thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, goe and humble thy selfe, and sollicit thy friends.

4 Crie no sleepe to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eye lides.

5 Deliuer thy selfe as a Doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a birde from the hand of the fowler.

6 Goe to the pismire, O sluggard: behold her wayes, and be wise.

7 For shee hauing no guide, gouernour, nor ruler,

8 Prepareth her meate in the summer, and gathereth her foode in harvest.

9 How long wilt thou sleepe, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?

10 Yet a little sleepe, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleepe.

11 Therefore thy pouertie cometh as one that trauaileth by the way, and thy necessitie like an armed man.

12 The richeste man and the wicked man walketh with a frowarde mouth.

13 Hee maketh a signe with his eyes: hee signifieth with his feete: hee instructeth with his fingers.

14 Lewde things are in his heart: hee imagineth euill at all times, and rayleth by contentions.

15 Therefore shall his destruction come speedily: hee shall bee destroyed suddenly without recoverie.

16 These five things doeth the Lord hate: yea, his soule abhorreth seuen:

17 The haunte eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood, thirstie, or the men of Belial, and slanderous. Ebr. speaketh. g Thus all his gesture tendeth to wickednesse.

k Thy children which shall come of thee in great abundance, shewing that God blesteth marriage and curseth whoredome. l Which thou diddest marry in thy youth.

m Hee declareth that except man doe ioyne to his wife both in heart a He forbiddeth vs not to become lreetic one for another, according to the rule of charitie, but that we consider for whom and after what sort, so that the creditor may not be defrauded.

b If the word of God cannot instruct thee, yet learne at the little pismire to labour for thy selfe, and not to burden others.

Chap. 24. 33.

c He expresth lively the nature of the sluggards, which though they sleepe neuer so long, yet haue neuer ynough, but euer seeke occasions therunto.

d That is, suddenly, and when thou lookest not for it.

e It shall come in such sort as thou art not able to resist it.

f He sheweth to what inconuenience the idle persons and sluggards come, by calling them vnthristie, or the men of Belial, and slanderous.

g Thus all his gesture tendeth to wickednesse.

h Meaning, the raging affections, which carry a man away in such sort that he cannot tell what he doth.

|| Or, neighbours.
i Reade Chap.

3.3.

k By the commandment he meaneth the worde of God: and by the instruction, the preaching and declaration of the same, which is committed to the Church.

l And reprehensions when the worde is preached bring vs to life.

m With her wanton looks and gesture, n Meaning, that she will neuer cease till shee haue brought thee to beggerie, and then seeketh thy destruction.

o He approoveth not theft, but sheweth that it is not so abominable as whoredome, forasmuch as theft might be redeemed: but adulterie was a perpetuall infamie, and death by the Lawe of God, p Meaning, for very necessitie. Ebr. faileth in heart. q That is, death appointed by the Law. r He sheweth that man by nature seeketh his death that hath abused his wife, and so concludeth, that neither Gods Law nor the law of nature admitteth any ranfome for the adulterie.

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, h feete that be swift in running to mischief.

19 A false witness that speaketh lyes, and him that rayleth vp contentions among his brethren.

20 O My sonne, keepe thy fathers commandment, and forsake not thy mothers instruction.

21 Bind them alway vpon thine heart, and tie them about thy necke.

22 It shall leade thee, when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest, and when thou wakest, it shall talke with thee.

23 For the k commandment is a lantern, and instruction a light: and corrections for instruction are the way of life.

24 To keepe thee from the wicked woman, and from the flatterie of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 Desire not her beautie in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her = eye lids.

26 For because of the whorish woman, a man is brought to a mozell of bread, & a woman will hunt for the precious life of a man.

27 Can a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Can a man goe vpon coales, and his feete not be burnt?

29 So hee that goeth in to his neighbours wife, shall not bee innocent, whoseuer toucheth her.

30 Men doe not o despise a theefe, when he stealeth, to satisfie his p soule, because hee is hungry.

31 But if he be found, hee shall restore ten fold, or he shall giue all the substance of his house.

32 But he that committeth adulterie with a woman, he is destitute of vnderstanding: he that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He shall finde a wound & dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer be put away.

34 For ielousie is the rage of a man: therefore hee will not r spare in the day of vengeance.

35 He cannot beare the sight of any ranfome: neyther will he consent, though thou augment the gifts.

36 He cannot beare the sight of any ranfome: neyther will he consent, though thou augment the gifts.

CHAP. VII

1 An exhortation to wisdom and to the word of God, 5 Which will preferre vs from the harlot, 6 Whose manners are described.

M y sonne, keepe my words, and hide my commandments with thee.

2 Keepe my commandments, and thou shalt live, and mine instruction as the a apple of thine eyes.

3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of thine heart.

4 Say vnto wisdom, Thou art my sister: & call vnderstanding thy kinneswoman.

5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger that is smooth in her words.

6 b As I was in the window of mine house, I looked through my window,

7 And I saw among the foolles, and considered among the children a young man destitute of vnderstanding,

8 Who passed through the streete by her corner, and went toward her house,

9 In the twilight in the evening, when the night began to be = blacke and darke.

10 And behold, there mette him a woman with an harlots = behaviour, and = full till in heart.

11 Hee = is babling and loude: whose feete cannot abide in her house.

12 Nowe shee is without, now in the streetes, and lieth in waite at euery corner.

13 So she caught him and kissed him, and with an impudent face laid vnto him, 14 I haue = peace offerings to this = day haue I payed my vowes.

15 Therefore came I forth to meete thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue found thee.

16 I haue deckt my bedde with ornaments, = carpets and laces of Egypt.

17 I haue perfumed my bedde with myrrhe, aloes, and cinamom.

18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning: let vs take our pleasure in dalliance.

19 For mine husband is not at home: hee is gone a iourney farre off.

20 He hath taken = to him a bagge of siluer, & will come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft shee caused him to yeelde, and with her flattering lips she enticed him.

22 And he followed her straightwayes, as an oxe that goeth to the slaughter, and as a foole to the stocks for correction.

23 Till a dart strike through his liver, as a bird hasted to the snare, not knowing that = he is in danger.

24 *W*eaue me now therefore, O children, and hearken to the wordes of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her wayes: wander thou not in her pathes.

26 For shee hath caused many to fall downe wounded, and the = strong men are all slaine by her.

27 Her house is the way = vnto the graue, which goeth downe to the chambers of death.

Chap. 2. 18.

CHAP. VIII

1 Wisdom declareth her excellencie, 11 Riches, 15 Power, 22 Eternitie. 32 She exhorteth all to loue and follow her.

*D*eth = not = wisdom cry: and vnderstanding utter her voyce?

2 She standeth in the toppe of the high places by the way in the place of the pathes.

hee can pretend no ignorance, forasmuch as God calleth all men by his word, and by his works, to follow vertue and to flee from vice.

3 She

b Salomon vnto this parable to declare their folly, that suffer themselves to be abused by harlots.

c He sheweth that there was almost none so impudent, but they were afraid to be seene, and also their owne consciences did accuse them, which caused them to seeke the night to couer their filthinesse.

|| Or, garments.
|| Or, laid.

d He describeth certaine conditions, which are peculiar to harlots.

= Ebr. she strengthened her face.

e Because that in peace offerings a portion returned to them that offered, she sheweth him that shee hath meate at home to make good chere with: or else she would use some cloke of holinesse, till shee had gotten him in her snares.

f Which declareth that harlots outwardly will seeme holy and religious: both because they may the better deceiue others, and also thinking by obscuring of ceremonies and offerings to make satisfaction for their finnes.

|| Or, carued worke. = Ebr. in his hand. g Which thinking he goeth to the pasture, goeth willingly to his owne destruction.

h Which goeth cheerfully, not knowing that he shalbe chastised.

b Where the people did most resort, and which was the place of iustice.

c Meaning, that the word of God is easie vnto all that haue desire vnto it, & which are not blinded by the prince of this world.

d That is, except a man haue wisdom, which is the true knowledge of God, he can neither be prudent, nor good counsellor.

e So that he that doeth not haue euil feareth not God.

f Whereby he declareth that honours, dignitie or riches come not of mans wisdom or industrie, but by the prouidence of God.

g That is, studie the word of God diligently, and with a desire to profite.

h Signifying, that he chiefly meaneth the spiritual treasures & heavenly riches.

i For there can be no true iustice or iudgement, which is not directed by this wisdom.

k He declareth hereby the diuinitie and eternitie of this wisdom, which he magnifieth and praiseth through this booke: meaning thereby the eternall Sonne of God Iesus Christ our Saviour, whom Saint Iohn calleth the word that was in the beginning, Iohn 1.1.

l He declareth the eternitie of the Sonne of God, which is meant by this worde Wisdom, who was before all time, and euer present, with the Father.

3 Shee creeth besides the gates before the citie at the entrie of the doores,

4 When, I call vnto you, and vuer my voyce to the children of men.

5 O ye foolish men, vnderstand wisdom, and ye, O fooles, be wise in heart.

6 Giue eare, for I will speake of excellent things, and the opening of my lippes shall chaunge things that be right.

7 For my mouth shall speake the truth, and my lippes abhorre wickednesse.

8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdnesse, nor frowardnesse in them.

9 They are all plaine to him that will vnderstand, & straight to them that would finde knowledge.

10 Receiue mine instruction, and not flatter, and knowledge rather then fine golde.

11 For wisdom is better then precious stones: and all pleasures are not to be compared vnto her.

12 I wisdom dwell with prudence, and I finde forth knowledge and counsels.

13 The feare of the Lord is to hate euill, as pride, and arrogancie, and the euill way: and a month that speaketh lewde things, I doe hate.

14 I haue counsell and wisdom: I am vnderstanding, and I haue strength.

15 By mee Kings reigne, and princes decree iustice.

16 By me princes rule, and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.

17 I loue them that loue mee: and they that seeke me earely, shall finde me.

18 Riches & honour are with mee: & euendurable riches and righteuousnesse.

19 My fruite is better then golde, euen then fine gold, and my reuenues better then fine silver.

20 I cause to walke in the way of righteuousnesse, and in the middes of the pathes of iudgement.

21 That I may cause them that loue mee, to inherite substance, and I will fill their treasures.

22 The Lord hath possessed mee in the beginning of his way: I was before his workes of olde.

23 I was let vp from everlasting, from the beginning, and before the earth.

24 When there was no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountaines abounding with water.

25 Before the mountains were setled: and before the hilles, was I begotten.

26 Hee had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the dust in the world.

27 When hee prepared the heauens, I was there, when he let the compasse vpon the deepe.

28 When hee established the cloudes above, when hee confirmed the fountaines of the deepe.

29 When hee gaue his decree to the sea, that the waters should not passe his commandement: when he appointed the foundations of the earth,

30 Then was I with him as a nourisher, and I was dayly his delight reioycing alway before him, 31 And tooke my solace in the compasse of his earth: and my delight is with the children of men.

32 Therefore now hearken, O children, vnto mee: for blessed are they that keepe my wordes.

33 Heare instruction, and be ye wise, and refuse it not: blessed is the man that heareth me, watching dayly at my gates, & giuing attendance at the postes of my doores.

34 For hee that findeth me, findeth life, and shall obtaine fauour of the Lord.

35 But he that sinneth against me, hurteth his owne soule: and all that hate mee, loue death.

o By earth he meameth man, which is the worke of God in whome Wisdom tooke pleasure: in so much as for mans sake the Diuine Wisdom tooke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, and filled vs with vnspokeable treasures: and this is that solace and pastime whereof is here spoken.

CHAP. IX.

2 Wisdom calleth all to her feast. 7 The scorner will not be corrected. 10 The feare of God.

13 The conditions of the harlot.

Wisdom hath built her a house, and dwelled therein: she hath set seven pillars.

2 Shee hath killed her vitalles, drawn her wine, and prepared her table.

3 Shee hath sent forth her maydens, and creeth vpon the highest places of the citie, saying,

4 Alas so is simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisdom, shee saith,

5 Come, and eate of my meate, & drinke of the wine that I haue drawn.

6 Forsake your way, ye foolish, & ye shall liue: & walke in the way of vnderstanding.

7 He that repouseth a scorne purchaseth to himselfe shame: and he that rebuketh the wicked, getteth himselfe a blot.

8 Rebuke not a scorner, lest hee hate thee: but rebuke a wise man, and hee will loue thee.

9 Giue admonition to the wise, and hee will bee the wiser: teach a righteous man, and he will increate in learning.

10 The beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lord, and the knowledge of holy things, is vnderstanding.

11 For thy dayes shall be multiplied by me, and the yeeres of thy life shall bee augmented.

12 If thou bee wise, thou shalt bee wise for thy selfe, and it thou bee a scorner, thou m Some reade a chiefe worker, signifying that this wisdom, euen Christ Iesus, was equall with God his Father, and created, preferred, and fill worketh with him, as Iohn 5.17.

n Whereby is declared that the worke of the creation was no paine, but a solace vnto the wisdom of God,

o By earth he meameth man, which is the worke of God in whome Wisdom tooke pleasure: in so much as for mans sake the Diuine Wisdom tooke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, and filled vs with vnspokeable treasures: and this is that solace and pastime whereof is here spoken.

a Christ hath prepared him a Church,

b That is, many chiefe stayes and principall partes of his Church, as were the Patriarkes, Prophets, Apostles, Pastors and Doctors.

c He compareth wisdom with great princes that keepe open house for all that come.

d Meaning, true preachers, which are not infected with mans wisdom.

e Hee that knoweth his owne ignorance, and is voyde of malice, of God and the ministracion of the Sacramentes, whereby God nourisheth his seruants in his house, which is the Church. g For the wicked will contemne him and labour to defame him. h Meaning, them that are incorrigible, which Christ calleth dogges and swine: or hee speaketh this in comparison, not that the wicked shoulde not bee rebuked, but hee sheweth their malice, and the small hope of profite. i Hee sheweth what true vnderstanding is, to knowe the will of God in his worde, which is meant by holy things. k Thou shalt haue the chiefe profite and commo-ditie thereof.

I By the foolish woman, some vnderstand the wicked preachers, who counterfaite the word of God, as appeareth verse 16. which were the wordes of the true preachers, as verse 4. but their doctrine is but as stollen waters: meaning that they are but mens traditions, which are more pleasant to the flesh then the word of God: and therefore they themselves boast thereof.

C H A P. X.

In this Chapter & al that folow vnto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which he calleth parables, to folow vertue, & to flee vice: & sheweth also what profite cometh of wisdom, and what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnesse.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON,

All wise sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish sonne is an heauinesse to his mother.

2 The treasures of a wickednesse profite nothing: but righteousness deliuereth from death.

3 The Lord wil not famish the soule of the righteous: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked.

4 A slothfull hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5 Hee that gathereth in summer, is the sonne of wisdom: but hee that sleepeeth in harvest, is the sonne of confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shall couer the mouth of the wicked.

7 The memorial of the iust shall be blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rotte.

8 The wife in heart will receiue commendements: but the foolish in talke shall be beaten.

9 Hee that walketh vprightly, walketh boldly: but he that peruertereth his wayes, shall be knowne.

10 He that winketh with the eye, worketh sorow, and he that is foolish in talke, shall be beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a wellspring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hated stireth by contentions: * but loue couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lips of him that hath vnderstanding, wisdom is found, and a rod is able for the backe of him that is destitute of wisdom.

14 Wise men lay by knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a present destruction.

15 The rich mans goods are his strong citie: but the feare of the needie is their povertie.

16 The labour of a righteous tendereth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.

17 He that regardeth destruction, is in the whereas pouertie brideleth the poore from many euill things.

way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissembleth hatred with lying lips, & he that inuentereth slander, is a foole.

19 In many wordes there cannot want iniquitie: but he that reframeth his lips, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man is as fined silver: but the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous doe feede many: but fooles shall die for want of wisdom.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he doth add no sorrow with it.

23 It is as a pastime to a foole to doe wickedly: but wisdom is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God wil graunt the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlewinde passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an everlasting foundation.

26 As vineger is to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the slothfull to them that send him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the peeres of the wicked shall be diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall be gladnesse: but the hope of the wicked shall perith.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the vpright man: but feare shall be for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shall neuer bee remoued: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust shall be fruitfull in wisdom: but the tongue of the wicked shall be cut out.

32 The lippes of the righteous knowe what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh froward things.

C H A P. XI.

False balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perfit & weight please him.

2 When pride cometh then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.

3 The vprightnesse of the iust shall guide them: but the frowardnesse of the transgressors shall destroy them.

4 Riches auail not in the day of wrath: but righteousness deliuereth from death.

5 The righteousness of the vpright shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall in his owne wickednesse.

6 The righteousness of the iust shall deliuer them: but the transgressors shall be taken in their owne wickednesse.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his hope perissheth, and the hope of the vniust shall perith.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shall come in his steade.

9 An hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous shall be deliuered by knowledge.

12 Hee that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisdom: but a man of understanding will keepe silence.

13 Hee that goeth about as a slaunderer, discouereth a secret: but he that is of a faithfull heart, concealeth a matter.

14 Where no counsell is, the people fall: but where many counsellors are, there is health.

15 Hee shall be sore vexed, that is suretie for a stranger, and hee that hateth suretiship, is sure.

16 A gracious woman attaineth honour, and the strong men attaine riches.

17 He that is mercifull, rewardeth his owne soule: but hee that troubleth his owne flesh, is cruell.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitfull worke: but he that soweth righteousnesse, shall reeue a sure reward.

19 As righteousnesse leadech to life: so he that followeth euill, seeketh his owne death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are vniht in their way, are his delite.

21 Though hand ioyne in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seede of the righteous shall escape.

22 As a iewel of gold in a swines snout: so is a faire woman, which lacketh discretion.

6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in waite for blood: but the mouth of the righteous will deliver them.

7 God overthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall be commended for his wisdom: but the froward of heart shall be despised.

9 Hee that is despised, and is his owne seruant, is better then he that boasteth him selfe and lacketh bread.

24 Faire wordes are as an homie combe, sweetnesse to the soule, & health to the bones.

25 Where is a way that seemeth right vnto man: but the issue thereof are the wayes of death.

26 The person that trauaileth, trauaileth for himselfe: for his mouth & craueth it of him.

27 A wicked man diggeth by euill, and in his lips is like a burning fire.

28 A froward person loatheth strife: and a tale teller maketh diuision among princes.

29 A wicked man deceiueth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.

30 He shutteth his eyes to deuise wickednesse: hee moueth his lips, and bringeth euill to passe.

31 Age is a crowne of glory, when it is found in the way of rightcouines.

32 Hee that is slowe vnto anger, is better then the mightie man: and hee that ruleth his owne minde, is better then hee that winneth a citie.

33 The lot is cast into the lap: but the whole disposition thereof is of the Lord.

Butter is a drie morsell, if peace bee with it, then an house full of sacrifices with strife.

2 A discreete seruant shall haue rule ouer a lewde sonne, and he shall deuide the heritage among the brethren.

3 As is the sining pot for siluer, and the furnace for gold, so the Lord trieth the hearts.

4 The wicked giueth heede to false lips, & a lye hearkeneth to the naughtie tongue.

5 He that mocketh the poore, reproacheth him, that made him: and hee that reioyceth at destruction, shall not be vnpunished.

6 Childrens children are the crowne of the elders: and the glory of the children are their fathers.

7 We talke becomuneth not a foole, much lesse a lying talke a prince.

8 A reward is as a stone pleasant in the eyes of them that haue it: it prospereth, whither soeuer it turneth.

9 He that conereth a transgression, seeketh loue: but hee that repeateth a matter, is parateth the paine.

10 A reproofe entrencheth more into him that hath vnderstanding, then an hundred stripes into a foole.

11 A feditious person seeketh onely euill, & a cruell messenger shalbe sent against him.

12 It is better for a man to meete a beare robbed of her whelpes, then a foole in his folly.

13 Hee that rewardeth euill for good, euill shall not depart from his house.

14 The beginning of strife is as one that openeth the waters: therefore of the contention be medled with, leaue off.

15 He that iustifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the iust, euill they both are abomination to the Lord.

16 Wherefore is there a price in the hand of the foole to get wisdom, and hee hath none heart?

17 A friend loneth at all times: and a brother is borne for aduersitie.

18 A man destitute of vnderstanding toucheth the hand, and becomuneth suretie for his neighbour.

19 Hee loneth transgression that loneth strife: and hee that exalteth his gate, seeketh destruction.

20 The froward heart findeth no good: and hee that hath a naughtie tongue, shall fall into euill.

21 He that begetteth a foole, getteth him selfe sorowe, and the father of a foole can haue no ioy.

22 A ioyfull heart causeth good health: but a sorowfull minde drieth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the holome to wrest the wayes of iudgement.

24 Wisdom is in the face of him that hath vnderstanding: but the eyes of a foole are in the corners of the world.

25 A foolish soule is a griece vnto his father, and a heauinesse to her that bare him.

4 The wordes of a mans mouth are like deepe waters, and the wellfpring of wifedome is like a flowing river.

5 It is not good to accept the perfon of the wicked, to caufe the righteous to fall in iudgement.

6 A foolles lippes come with strife, and his mouth calleth for stripes.

7 A foolles mouth is his owne destruction, and his lips are a snare for his foule.

8 The wordes of a tale bearer are as flat-terings, and they goe downe into the bottoms of the bellie.

9 We alfo that is flothfull in his worke, not good, and he that hafteth with his feete,

3 The foolifhneffe of a man peruertereth poore is feparated from his neighbour.

CHAP. XX.

a By wine here is meant him that is giuen to wine, and so by strong drinke.

1 Wine is a mocker, and strong drinke is raging: and whosoever is deceiued thereby, is not wise.

2 The feare of the King is like the roaring of a lion: hee that prouoketh him into anger, sinneth against his owne soule.

3 It is a mans honour to cease from strife: but every foole will be meddling.

4 The slouthfull will not plowe, because of winter: therefore shall he begge in sommer, but haue nothing.

5 The counsell in the heart of man is like deepe waters: but a man that hath vnderstanding will drawe it out.

6 Many men will boast, every one of his owne goodnesse: but who can finde a faithfull man?

7 Hee that walketh in his integritie, is just: and blessed shall his children bee after him.

8 A King that sitteth in the throne of iudgement, cha- seth away all euill with his eyes.

9 What can say, I haue made mine heart cleane, I am cleane from my sinne?

10 Diuers weights, and diuers measures, both these are euen abomination vnto the Lord.

11 A childe also is knowne by his doings, whether his worke bee pure and right.

12 The Lord hath made both these, euen the ear to heare, and the eye to see.

13 Lone not sleepe, lest thou come vnto pouertie: open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.

but afterward his mouth shall be filled with grauell.

18 Establish the thoughts by counsell: and by counsell make warre.

19 Hee that goeth about as a slaunderer, discovereth secrets: therefore meedle not with him that flattereth with his lips.

20 Hee that curseth his father or his mother, his light shall be put out in obscure darkenesse.

21 An heritage is hastily gotten at the beginning, but the ende thereof shall not bee blessed.

22 Say not thou, I will recompense euill: but waite vpon the Lord, and he shall saue thee.

23 Diuers weights are an abomination vnto the Lord, and deceitfull balances are not good.

24 The steps of man are ruled by the Lord: howe can a man then vnderstand his owne way?

25 It is a destruction for a man to denoue that which is sanctified, and after the bowles to inquire.

26 A wife king scattereth the wicked, and causeth the wheele to turne ouer them.

27 The light of the Lord is the breath of man, and searcheth all the bowels of the belly.

28 Mercie and trueness preserue the King: for his throne shall be established with mercie.

29 The beautie of yong men is their strength, and the glorie of the aged is the gray head.

30 The blewnesse of the wound serueth to purge the euill, and the stripes within the bowels of the belly.

31 The chastitie of the inward partes, is profitable for the wicked, to bring them to amendment.

CHAP. XXI.

The Kings heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the riuers of waters: hee turneth it whither soeuer it pleaseth him.

2 Every way of a man is right in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts.

3 To doe iustice and iudgement is more acceptable to the Lord then sacrifice.

4 A hautie looke, and a prouide heart, which is the light of the wicked, is sinne.

5 The thoughts of the diligent doe surely bring abundance: but whosoever is hastie commeth surely to pouertie.

6 The gathering of treasures by a deceitfull tongue is vanitie tossed to and fro of them that seeke death.

16 And my reines shall reioyce, when thy lippes speake righteous things.

17 * Let not thine heart bee enuious against sinners: but let it bee in the feare of the Lord continually.

18 For liuely there is an ende, and thy hope shall not be cut off.

19 O thou my sonne, heare and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way.

20 Keepe not company with drunkards, nor with gluttons.

21 For the drunkard and the glutton shall be poore, and the sleeper shall be clothed with ragges.

22 O be thy father that hath begotten thee, and despise not thy mother when shee is olde.

23 Buy the truth, but sell it not: like-wisely wisdom, and instruction, and understanding.

24 The father of the righteous shall greatly reioyce, and he that begetteth a wise child, shall haue ioy of him.

25 Thy father and thy mother shall bee glad, and she that bare thee, shall reioyce.

26 O my sonne, giue me thine heart, and let thine eyes delight in my wordes.

27 * For a whore is as a deepe ditch, and a strange woman is as a narrow pit.

28 * Also the yeech in waite as for a pray, and shee increaseth the transgressors among men.

29 To whom is woe? to whom is sorrow? to whom is strife? to whom is muring? to whom are woundes without cause? and to whom is the rednesse of the eyes?

30 Euen to them that tary long at the wine, to them that goe, and seeke murt wine.

31 Looke not thou vpon the wine, when it is red, and when it sheweth his colour in the cup, or goeth downe pleasantly.

32 In the ende thereof it will bite like a serpent, and hurt like a cockatrice.

33 Thine eyes shall looke vpon strange women, and thine heart shall speake lewde things.

34 And thou shalt bee as one that slee- peth in the middes of the sea, and as hee that sleeper in the top of the mast.

35 They haue stricken me, that thou say, but I was not sicke: they haue beaten mee, but I knew not, when I awoke: therefore will I seeke it yet still.

CHAP. XXIII.

* Not thou enuious against euill men, neither desire to be with them.

2 For their heart imagineth destruction, and their lipps speake mischief.

3 Through wisdom is an house build- ed, and with understanding it is establi- shed.

4 And by knowledge shall the cham- bers bee filled with all precious and plea- sant riches.

5 A wise man is strong: for a man of vn- derstanding increaseth his strength.

6 * For with counsell thou shalt enter- prise thy warre, and in the multitude of them that can giue counsell, is health.

7 Wisdom is he to a foole: therefore he cannot open his mouth in the gate.

8 Hee that imagineth to doe euill, men shall call him an author of wickednesse.

9 The wicked thought of a foole is sinne, and the scorner is an abomination vnto men.

10 If thou bee faint in the day of ad- uerlitie, thy strength is unall.

11 Deliuer them that are drawn to death: and tolke thou not pelerne them that are led to be shame.

12 If thou say, Behold, we knowe not of it: he that pondereth the hearts, doeth not he understand it? and hee that keepeth thy soule, knoweth ho it not? will not he also recompense euery man according to his workes?

13 O my sonne, eate of honie, for it is good, and the honie combe, for it is sweete vnto thy mouth:

14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom be vnto thy soule, if thou finde it, and there shall be an ende, and thine hope shall not be cut off.

15 Lay no waite, O wicked man, against the house of the righteous, and spoyle not his resting place.

16 For a iust man calleth seuen times, and riseth againe: but the wicked fall into mischief.

17 Woe thou not glad when thine enemy falleth, n Which by arte make wine strong, and more pleasant.

o That is, drunkennesse shall bring thee to whoredome.

p In such great danger shalt thou be.

I THESE ARE ALSO PARABLES of Salomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Iudah copied out.

a Whom Hezekiah appoynted for this purpose.
b That is, gathered out of diuers bookes of Salomon.
c God doth not reuenge the cause of his iudgements to man.
d Because the king ruleth by the reuened word of God, the cause of his doings must appeare, and therefore hee must vse diligence in trying out of causes.
e He sheweth that it is too hard for man to attaine to the reason of all the secret doings of the king: when he is vpright, and doeth his due tie. f When vice is remoued from a king, he is a meete vessel for the Lords vse. g It is not enough that hee be pure himselfe, but that he put away others that be corrupted.

The glory of God is to: conceale a thing secret: but the kings honour is to search out a thing.
3 The heavens in height, and the earth in deepenesse, and the kings heart can not man leache out.
4 Take the drasse from the siluer, and there shall proceede a vessel for the finer.
5 Take away the wicked from the king, & the king shall be as a new vessel for the Lords vse. g It is not enough that hee be pure himselfe, but that he put away others that be corrupted.

6 Boast not thy selfe before the king, and stand not in the place of great men.
7 * For it is better, that it be sayde vnto thee, Come by hither, then thou to bee put lower in the p'sence of the prince whome thou eyes haue seene.

Luke. 14. 10.

8 Doe not foorth hastily to strife, lest thou knowe not what to doe in the ende thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.
9 Debate thy matter with thy neighbour, and discouer not the secret to another,
10 Least hee that heare it, put thee to shame, and thine infamie doe not cease.
11 A word spoken in his place, is like apples of gold with pictures of silver.
12 He that reponeth the wise, and the obedient eare, is as a golden earcing and an ornament of fine golde.
13 As the colde of the snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithfull messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the soule of his masters.

h Lest whereas thou thinkest by this means to haue an ende of the matter, it put thee to farther trouble.
i In the time of great heat when men desired cold.

14 A man that boasteth of false liberalitie, is like clouds and wind without raine.
15 A prince is pacified by staying of anger, and a soft tongue breaketh the bones.
16 If thou hast found home, eate that is sufficient for thee, least thou be ouer full, and vomite it.
17 Withdraw thy foote from thy neighbours house, lest he be wearie of thee, and hate thee.
18 A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour, is like an hammer and a sword, and a sharpe arrow.
19 Confidence in an vnfaithfull man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth and a sliding foote.
20 He that taketh away the garment in the colde season, is like vinegar powred vpon nitre, or like him that singeth songs to an heauie heart.

k Which haue an outward appearance, and are nothing within.
l By not ministering occasion to prouoke him farther.

n Vse moderately the pleasures of this world.

21 * If he that hateth thee bee hungry, giue him bread to eate, and if he bee thirstie, giue him water to drinke.
22 For thou shalt lay coales vpon his head, and the Lord shall recompense thee.
23 As the southwinde driueth away the raine, so doeth an angrie countenance the slanderer tongue.
24 * It is better to dwell in a corner of the house tope, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.
25 Auaire the colde waters to a wearie soule, so is good netes fro a farre country.
26 A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled well, and a corrupt spring.

o Which melteth it, and consumeth it, || Cor. 12. 20.

28 A man that reframeth not his appetite, is like a citie which is broken downe, and without walles.

Eccles. 3. 22.

q And so is in extreme danger.

CHAP. XXVI.

As the snowe in the sommer, and as the raine in the harvest are not meete, so is honour vnseemely for a foole.

2 As the sparow by flying, and the swallow by flying, and the swallow low by flying escape, so the curse that is caused lesse, shall not come.

3 Unto the horse belongeth a whippe, to the asse a bridle, and a rodde to the fooles backe.

4 Answer not a foole according to his foolishnesse, lest thou also be like him.

5 Answer a foole according to his foo-lishnesse, lest he be wise in his owne con-ceite.

6 He that sendeth a messenge by the hand of a foole, is as he that cutteth off the tree, and drinketh iniquitie.

7 As they that lift by the legs of the lame, so is a parable in a fooles mouth.

8 As the closing vp of a precious stone in an heape of stones, so is he that giveth glorie to a foole.

9 As a thorne standing vpon in the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fooles.

10 The excellent that foined al things, both rewardeth the foole and rewardeth the transgressors.

11 As a dog turneth againe to his owne vomite, so a foole turneth to his foolish-nesse.

12 Seekest thou a man wise in his owne conceite? a more hope is of a foole then of him.

13 The stouthfull man sayeth, A Lyon is fit the way: a Lyon is in the streetes.

14 As the doore turneth vpon his hinges, so doeth the stouthfull man vpon his bed.

15 The stouthfull hideth his hand in his bosome, and it grieueth him to put it againe to his mouth.

16 The sluggard is wiser in his owne conceite, then seven men that can render a reason.

17 He that passeth by and medleth with the strife that belongeth not vnto him, is as one that taketh a dogge by the eares.

18 As he that smiteth himselfe mad, casteth firebrands, arrows, & mortal things.

19 So dealeth the deceitfull man with his friend, and saith, Am not I in sport?

20 Without wood the fire is quenched, and without a talebearer strife ceaseth.

21 As the cole maketh burning coles, and wood a fire, so the contentious man is apt to kindle strife.

22 The wooddes of a talebearer are as flatterings, and they goe downe into the bowels of the belie.

23 As silver dross overlaid vpon a potsheard, so are burning lippes, and an euill heart.

24 Hee that hateth, will counterfeit with his lippes, but in his heart he layeth vp deceit.

25 Though hee speake fauourable, beleeue him not: for there are seven abomi-nations in his heart.

26 Hatred may bee covered by deceit:
but the malice thereof shall bee discovered in the congregation.

27 Hee that diggeth a pit, shall fall theretin, and hee that rolleth a stone, it shall returne vnto him.

28 A false tongue hateth the afflicted, and a flatterer mouth causeth ruine.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Dast not thy selfe of to morowe: for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.

2 Let another man praise thee, and not thine owne mouth: a stranger, and not thine owne lippes.

3 A stone is heauie, and the sand weigh-tie: but a fooles wrath is heavier then them both.

4 Anger is cruell, and wrath is raging:
but who can stand before enuie?

5 Open rebuke is better then secret loue.
6 The woundes of a louer are faithfull, and the kisses of an enemy are pleasant.

7 The person that is full, despiseth an honic combe: but vnto the hungrie soule euery bitter thing is sweete.

8 As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his owne place.

9 As oymint and perfume reioyce the heart, so doeth the sweetnesse of a mans friend by hearty counsell.

10 Thine owne friende and thy fathers friend forsake thou not: neyther enter into thy brothers house in the day of thy cala-mitie: for better is a neighbour that is nere, then a brother farre off.

11 My loue, bee wise, and reioyce mine heart, that I may answer him that reprocheth me.

12 A prudent man seeth the plague, and hideth himselfe: but the foolish go on still, and are punished.

13 Take his garment that is surety for a stranger, and a pledge of him for the stranger.

14 He that prayeth his friend with a loude voyce, rising early in the morning, it shall be counted to him a curse.

15 A continuall dropping in the day of raine, and a contentious woman are alike.

16 He that hideth her, hideth the wounde, and she is as the oyle in his right hand, that vntereth it selfe.

17 Iron sharpeneth iron, so doeth a man sharpen the face of his friend.

18 He that keepeth the figge tree, shall eate the fruite thereof: so he that buyeth vpon his master, shall come to honour.

19 As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man.

20 The graue and destruction can neuer be full, so the eyes of man can neuer bee satiified.

21 As is the lining pot for silver, and the fornace for golde, so is every man according to his dignitie.

22 Though thou shouldst buy a foole in a market among wheate buyed with a pessell: yet will not his foolishnesse depart from him.

23 Be diligent to knowe the state of thy flocke, and take heede to the sheards.

24 For riches remaine not alway, nor the croune from generation to generation.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The wicked flee when none pursueth:
but the righteous are bolde as a lyon.

2 For the transgression of the land there are many princes thereof: but by a man of vnderstanding & knowledge a realme likewise endureth long.

3 A poore man, if he oppresse the poore, is like a raying raine, that leaueth no foode.

4 They that forsake the Law, praye the wicked: but they that keepe the Law, let themselves against them.

5 Wicked men vnderstande not iudge-ment: but they that seeke the Lord, vnder-stand all things.

6 Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnes, then he that peruerteth his wayes, though he be rich.

7 He that keepeth the Law, is a childe of vnderstanding: but he that feedeth the gluticons, shameth his father.

8 He that increaseth his riches by vniuer-sall intercell, gathereth them for him that will be mercifull vnto the poore.

9 He that turneth away his care from hearing the Law, euen his prayer shall be abominable.

10 He that causeth the righteous to goe astray by an euill way, shall fall into his owne pit, & the vpright shall inherite good things.

11 The rich man is wise in his owne co-necite: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, can trye him.

12 When righteous men reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vp, the man is tryed.

13 Hee that hideth his sinnes, shall not prosper: but he that confesseth, & forsaketh them, shall haue merite.

14 Blessed is the man that feareth al-way: but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into euill.

15 As a roaring lyon, and an hungry beare, so is a wicked ruler over the poore people.

16 A prince destitute of vnderstanding, is also a great oppressour: but hee that hath wisdom, couetousnesse, shall prolong his dayes.

17 A man that doeth violence against the blood of a perdue, shall flee vnto the grave, and they shall not stay him.

18 He that walketh vprightly, shall be saued: but he that is froward in his wayes, shall once fall.

19 He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with his food: but hee that followeth the idle, shall be filled with pouertie.

20 A faithfull man shall abound in blefsings, and he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be innocent.

21 To haue respect of person is not good:

CHAP. XXIX.

A man that hardeneth his necke, when he is rebuked, shall suddenly be destroyed and cannot be cured.

2 When the righteous are in authori-tie, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people sigh.

3 A man that loueth wisdom, reioyceth his father: but hee that feedeth his sins, wasteth his substance.

4 A king by iudgement maintaineth the country: but a man receiuing giftes, de-stroyeth it.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, spreaderh a net for his steps.

6 In the transgression of an euill man is his snare: but the righteous both sing and reioyce.

7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8 Scornefull men bring a citie into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.

9 If a wife man contend with a foolish man, whether hee be angry or laugh, there is no rest.

10 Bloody men hate him that is vpright:
but the iust haue care of his soule.

11 A foole pouerishe out all his minde: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterwarde.

12 A prince that hearkeneth to lyes, all his seruants are wicked.

13 The poore and the vniuer meete together, and the Lord lighteneth both their eyes.

14 A king by iudgement y poore in truth, his throne shall be established for euer.

15 The rodde and correction geue wise-dome: but a childe (ee at libertie), maketh his mother ashamed.

16 When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.

low: but the humble in spirit shall enjoy glory.

teth his owne soule: hee heareth cursing, bomination to the wicked.

ters in a garment? Who hath established canst tell?

5 * Every word of God is pure: he is a shield to those, that trust in him.

fended.

19 The way of an eagle in the ayre, the way of a serpent vpon a stone, the way of a ship in the muddes of the sea, and the way of a man with a maide.

20 Such is the way also of an adulterous woman: she eareth and * wipech her mouth, and sayeth, I haue not committed iniquitie.

21 For three things the earth is moued:
yea, for foure it cannot lullene it selfe:

22 For a servant when he reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meare, 23 For the hatefull woman, when she is married, and for a handmaide * is * here to her mistres.

24 These be foure small things in the earth, yet they are * wise and full of wis-
dome:

25 The pilmires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meate in sommer:

26 The conies a people not mightie, yet make they their houses in the rocke:

27 The grasshopper hath no king, yet go they forth all by bands:

28 The spider taketh holde * with her hands, and is in kings palaces.

29 There be three things that order wel their going: yea, foure are comely in going,

30 A lion which is strong among beasts, and turneth not at the sight of any:

31 A lustie gray bound, and a goate, and a king against whom there is no rising up.

32 If thou haist bene foolish in lifting thy selfe up, and if thou haist thought wickedly, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth.

33 * Who one churneth milke, he bringeth nose, causeth blood to come out: so hee that foreteth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

Ecclesiastes, or the Preacher.

THE ARGUMENT.

Salomon, as a Preacher and one that desireth to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceiueable vanities of this world, that man should not be addicted to any thing vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heavenly life: therefore he confuteth their opinions, which see their felicitie, either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnitied with God, and shall enioy his presence: so that all other things must be reiected, saue in as much as they further vs to attaine to this heavenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, and cannot be found in any other saue in God alone.

CHAP. I.

2 All things in this worlde are full of vanitie, and of none enduranc. 3 All mans wisdom is but folle and griefe.

He wordes of the Preacher, the sonne of Dauid king in Ierusalem.

2 Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.

3 What remaineth vnto man in all his trauell, which he suffereth vnder y sunne?

4 One generation passeth, and another generation succeedeth: but the earth remaineth for euer.

5 The sunne riseth, and the sunne goeth downe, and daitheth to his place, where he riseth.

6 The wind goeth toward the South, and compasseth toward the North: the wind goeth round about, and returneth by his circuites.

7 All the riuers goe into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the riuers goe vnto the place, whence they returne, and goe.

8 All things are full of labour: man cannot vtter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

9 What is it that hath bene? that that shall be: and what is it that hath bene done? that which shall bee done: and there is no new thing vnder the sunne.

10 Is there any thing, whereof one may say, and riuers into the sea againe. g He speaketh of times and seasons, and things done in them, which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe.

5 The sunne riseth, and the sunne goeth downe, and daitheth to his place, where he riseth.

6 The wind goeth toward the South, and compasseth toward the North: the wind goeth round about, and returneth by his circuites.

7 All the riuers goe into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the riuers goe vnto the place, whence they returne, and goe.

8 All things are full of labour: man cannot vtter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

9 What is it that hath bene? that that shall be: and what is it that hath bene done? that which shall bee done: and there is no new thing vnder the sunne.

10 Is there any thing, whereof one may say, and riuers into the sea againe. g He speaketh of times and seasons, and things done in them, which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe.

c By the sunne, winde and riuers,

he sheweth that the greatest labour and longest hath an end, and therefore there can be no felicitie in this world.

Eccles. 40. 11.

f The sea which compasseth all the earth, filleth the veins thereof, the which poure out springs and riuers into the sea againe.

g He speaketh of times and seasons, and things done in them, which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe.

h He proueth that if any could haue attained to felicitie in this worlde by labour and studie, he chiefly should haue obtained it because he had giftes and aydes of God there-unto aboue al
er.

Man of nature hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge,
which is the purification of sin,
to humble man,
and to teach him
to depend onely vpon God.
k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to goue otherwise
then they doe:
neither can he number the fautes that are committed, much lesse remedie them. l That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but griefe and trouble of conscience. m Wisdome and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of body and mind: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

lay, Beholde this, it is nether: it hath bene already in the olde time that was before vs.

11 There is no memorie of the former, neither shall there be a remembrance of the latter that shall bee, with them that shall come after.

12 ¶ The Preacher haue bene king
ouer Israel in Ierusalem:

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search and finde out wisdome by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this Ioye trauaile hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby)

14 I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the sunne, and beholde, all is vanitie, and veration of the spirit.

15 That which is crooked, can none make straight: and that which faileth, can not be numbered.

16 I thought in mine heart, and sayde, Beholde, I am become great, and excell in wisdome, all them that haue bene before me in Ierusalem: and mine heart hath seene much wisdome and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to knowe wisdome and knowledge, madnesse and foolishnesse: I knew also that this is a veration of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisdome is much griefe: and hee that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrowe.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous building, fleshes and possessions are but vanitie. 15 The wife and the foole haue both one end, touching the bodily death.

1 I saide in mine heart, Goe to now, I wil prooue thee with ioy: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and beholde, this also is vanitie.

2 I said of laughter, thou art mad: and of ioy, what is this that thou doest?

3 I sought in mine heart to giue my selfe to wine, and to leade mine heart in wisdome, and to take holde of follie, till I might see where is that goodnesse of the children of men, which they enjoy vnder the sunne, the whole number of the dayes of their life.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue built me houses: I haue planted mee vineyards.

5 I haue made me gardens: and orchards, and planted in them trees of all kinde.

6 I haue made me cisternes of water, to winter, therewith the woods that growe with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruants and maydes, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of beestes and sheepe aboue all that were before mee in Ierusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto mee also silver and gold, and the chiefe treasures of kings and prouinces: I haue plouided mee men fingers and women fingers, and the desires of the lonnes of men, as a woman taken captiue, and women taken cap-tiues.

9 And I was great, and increased aboue all that were before mee in Ierusalem: also my wisdome remained with me.

10 And what desired mine eyes desired,
I withheld it not from them: I withheld not mine heart from any ioy: for mine heart reioiced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my trauaile.

11 Then I looked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauaile that I had laboured to doe: and beholde, all is vanitie and veration of the spirit: and there is no profite vnder the sunne.

12 ¶ And I turned to behold wisdome, and madnes and folly: (for who is the man that I will come after the king in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I sawe that there is profite in wisdome, more then in follie: as the light is more excellent then darkenesse.

14 For the wise mans eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darkenesse:
yet I knowe also that the same condition faileth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It be-fallerh vnto me, as it befallerh to the foole:
Why therefore do I then labour to be more wise? And I said vnto mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shall be no remembrance of the wise, nor of the foole for ever: for that that now is, in the dayes to come shall all bee forgotten. And how dieth the wise man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne is grie-uous vnto me: for all is vanitie, and verati-on of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne, which I shall leade to the man that shall bee after mee.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall bee wise or foolish: yet shall he haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue tra-uailed, and wherein I haue shed my selfe vnder the sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart: abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauaile is in wisdome, and in knowledge and in equitie: yet to a man that hath not trauailed herein, shall he be giue his portion: this also is vanitie and a great griefe.

22 For what hath man of all his trauaile and griefe of his heart, wherein hee hath trauailed vnder the sunne?

23 For all his dayes are ioylesse, and taken no paine therefore, and whome hee knowe not whether he his trauaile grieue: his heart alid taketh not rest in the night: which alio is vanitie.

24. There is no profite to man, but that he eate and drinke, and delight his soule with the profite of his labour: I saue also this, that it was of the hand of God.

25. For whom could eate, and who coulde haste to go out ward things more then I?

26. Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giueth wisdom, and knowledge, and ioy: but to the sinner he giueth paine, to gather, and to heape to gine him that is good before God: this is also vanitie, and veration of the spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 All things haue their time. 14 The workes of God are persue, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

T All things there is an appointed time, and a time to every purpose vnder the heauen.

2 A time to be borne, and a time to die: a time to plant, & a time to plucke by that which is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to builde.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to daunce.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, and a time to be farre from embracing.

6 A time to seeke, and a time to lose: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rent, and a time to sewe: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What profite hath hee that worketh, of the thing wherein he trauaileth?

10 I haue seene the trauaile that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men: to humble them thereby.

11 He hath made euery thing beautifull in his tyme: also he hath set the world in their heart, yet can not man finde out the worke that God hath wrought from the beginning euen to the ende.

12 I knowe that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to doe good in his life.

13 And also that euery man eateth and drinketh, and seeth the commoditie of all his labour: this is the gift of God.

14. I knowe that whatsoeuer God shall doe it shall bee for euery: to it can no man adde, and from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should feare before him.

15 What is that that hath bene? that is now: and that that shall be, hath now bene: for God requireth that which is past.

16 And moreover I haue seene vnder the sunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednesse, and the place of iustice where was iniquitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God will iudge the iust and the wicked: for time is there for euery purpose and for euery worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men that God had purged them: yet to see to, they are in themselves as beastes.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beastes are euen as one condition vnto them. As the one dyeth, so dyeth the other: for they haue all one breath, and there is no excellencie of man about the beast: for all is vanitie.

20 All goe to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall returne to the dust.

21 Who knoweth whether the spirit of man ascende vpwarde, and the spirit of the beast descende downewarde to the earth?

22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better then that a man should reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

k Meaning, that reason cannot comprehend that which faith beleeueth herein. 1 By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 2. 24. and 3. 12, 22. and 5. 17. and 8. 15. hee declareth that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life then to vse the gifts of God liberally and comfortably: for to know further is a speciall gift of God reueiled by his Spirit.

CHAP. II.III.

1 The innocents are oppressed. 4 Mens labours are full of ains and vanitie. 9 Mans societie is necessarie. 13 A yong man poore, and wise, is to be preferred to an olde King, that is a foole.

S I turned, and considered all the oppressions that are wrought vnder the sunne, and behold, the teares of the oppressed, and none comforteth them: and loe, the strength is of the hand of them that oppresse them, and none comforteth them.

2 Therefore I prayed the dead which now are dead, about the liuing, which are yet aliue.

3 And I count him better then them both, which hath not yet bene: for he hath not seene the euil works which are wrought vnder the sunne.

4 Also I beheld all trauaile, and all perfection of workes, that this is the enue of a man against his neighbour: this alio is vanitie and veration of spirit.

5 The foole foloweth his hands, and catcheth by his owne flesh.

6 Better is an handfull with quietnes, then two handfulls with labour and vexation of spirit.

7 Again I returned, and saue vanitie vnder the sunne.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a seconde, which hath neither soune nor brother, yet there is none ende of all his trauaile, neither can his eye bee satisfied selfe, with riches: neither deeth hee thinke, for whome doe I trauaile and defraude my h And made the pure in their first creation.

i Man is not able by his reason and iudgement to put difference betwene man and beast, as touching those things whereunto both are subiect: for the one cannot iudge any otherwise of a man being dead, then of a beast, which is dead, yet by the word of God and faith wee easily knowe the diuersitie, as verse 21.

k Meaning, that reason cannot comprehend that which faith beleeueth herein. 1 By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 2. 24. and 3. 12, 22. and 5. 17. and 8. 15. hee declareth that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life then to vse the gifts of God liberally and comfortably: for to know further is a speciall gift of God reueiled by his Spirit.

p When man hath all laboured, he can get no more then food and refreshing, yet he confesseth also that this cometh of Gods blessing, as Chap. 3. 13.

q Meaning, to pleasures.

a He speaketh of this diuersitie of time for two causes, first to declare that there is nothing in the worlde perpetual: next to reach vs not to be grieved if we haue not all things at once according to our desires, neither enioy them so long as we woul with.

b Reade Chap. 1. 13.

c God hath giuen man a desire and affection to seeke out the things of this worlde, and to labour therein.

d Reade Chap. 2. 24. and these places declare that we should do all things with sobriety, and in the feare of God, forasmuch as he giueth nor his gifts to the intent that they should be abused.

e That is, man shall neuer be able to let Gods worke, but as he hath determined, so it shall come to passe.

f God onely causeth that, which is past to returne.

f Forasmuch as when man is alone, he can neither helpe himselfe nor others, he sheweth that men ought to liue in mutuall societe, to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may encrease. g by this proverbe he declarerh how necessarie it is, that men should liue in societe. h That is, from a poore and base estate, or out of trouble, and prison, as Ioseph did, Gen 41.14. i Meaning, that is borne a king. k Which follow, and flatter the kings sonne, or him that shall succeed: to enter into credite with them in hope of gaine. l They neuer cease by all meanes to creepe into fauour: but when they obtaine not their greedie desires, they thinke themselves abused, as other haue bene in time past, and so care no more for him. m That is, with what affliction thou comest to heare the word of God. n Meaning, of the wicked, which thinke to please God with ceremonies, and haue neither faith nor repentance.

a Either in vowing or in praying: meaning, y we should vse all reuerence to Godward. b He heareth thee not for thy many wordes sake or often repetitions, but considereth thy faith & seruent minde. Deut. 23.21. c He speaketh of vowes, which are approoued by Gods worde, and serue to his glory. d Cause not thy selfe to sinne by vowing rashly: as they doe which make a vowe to liue vnmaried, and such like. e That is, before Gods messenger, when he shall examine thy doing: as though thy ignorance should be a iust excuse.

rule of pleasure? this also is vanitie, and th is an euill traualle.
 9 Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.
 10 For if they fall, the one will lift vp his fellowe: but woe vnto him that is alone: for hee fallerh, and there is not a second to lift him vp.
 11 Also if two sleepe together, they shall they haue heate: but to one howe shouldesthere be heate?
 12 And if one ouercome him, two shall stand against him: and a threefolde s coard is not easily broken.
 13 Better is a poore and wise child, then an olde and foolish King, which will no more be admonished.
 14 For out of the prison he comureth forth to reigne: when as hee that is bozne in his kingdome, is made poore.
 15 I behelde all the liuing, which walke vnder the sunne, with the seconde child, which shall stand by in his place.
 16 There is none ende of all the people, nor of all that were before them, & they that come after, shall not reioyce in him: surely this is also vanitie and vexation of spirite.
 17 Take heede to thy foore when thou entrest into the house of God, and bee moze nere to heare then to giue the sacrifice of foolles: for they knowe not that they doe euill.

CHAP. V.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters.
 9 The covetous can neuer haue yrtough. 11 The labourers sleepe is sweete. 14 Man when hee dieth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To liue joyfully, and with a contented minde is the gift of God.
 B E not a rash with thy mouth, nor let thyne heart be baske to vter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on y earth: therefore let thy wordes be fewe.
 2 For as a dreame cometh by the multitude of businesse: so the voyce of a foole is in the multitude of wordes.
 3 When thou hast vowed a vowe to God, deferre not to pay it: for he delighteth not in foolles: pay therefore that thou hast vowed.
 4 It is better that thou shouldest not vowe, then that thou shouldest vowe and not pay it.
 5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy flesh to sinne: neither say before the Angel that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God bee angry by thy voyce, and destroy the worke of thine hands?

 6 For in the multitude of dreames, and vanities, are also many wordes: but feare thou God.
 7 If in a countrey thou seek the oppression of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iustice, hee not affronted at the matter: for hee that is higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.
 8 And the abundance of the earth is owner all: the King also consisteth by the field that is tilled.
 9 He that loneth, siluer shall not be satisfied with siluer, and hee that loneth riches, shall without the fruite thereof: this also is vanitie.
 10 When goods increase, they are increased that eate them: & what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?
 11 The sleepe of him that traualleth, is sweete, whether he eate little or much: but the satietie of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.
 12 There is an euill sicknesse that I haue seene vnder the sunne: to wit, riches referred to the owners thereof for their euill.
 13 And these riches perish by euill traualle, and hee begetteth a sonne, and in his hand is nothing.
 14 As hee came fourth of his mothers belly, hee shall retorne naked to goe as hee came, and shall beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his hand.
 15 And this also is an euill sicknesse, that in all popits as hee came, so shall hee goe, and what profite hath hee that he hath traualled for the world?
 16 Also all his dayes he eateth in darkness, with much griefe, and in his sorow and anger.

17 Behold then what I haue seene good, that it is comely to eate, and to drinke, and to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein hee traualleth vnder the sunne, the whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.
 18 Also to euery man to whome God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eate thereof, and to take his part, and to enjoy his labour: this is the gift of God.
 19 Surely hee will not much remember the dayes of his life, because God answereth to the top of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whome God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

There is an euill, which I sawe vnder the sunne, and it is much among men:
 2 A man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures and honour, and hee wanteth nothing for his soule of all that it desireth: but God giueth him not power to eate thereof, but a strange man shall eate it by: this is vanitie, and this

f Meaning, that God will redresse these things, and therefore wee must depend vpon him. g The reuenues of the earth are to be preferred aboue all things, which appertaine to this life. h Kings & Princes cannot maintain their estate without tillage, which thing commendeth the excellencie of tillage. i That is, his great abundance of riches, or the surfeiting, which cometh by his great feeding. k When covetous men heape vp riches, which turne to their destruction. l He doeth not enjoy his fathers riches. Job 1.21. wilsome 7.6. 1. sim. 6.7. m Meaning, in vaine, and without profite. n In affliction and griefe of minde. o Reade Chap. 3.22. p He wil take no great thought for the paines that he hath endured in time past. a He sheweth that it is the plague of God when the rich man hath not a liberall heart to vse his riches.

b If he can neuer have ynough.
c As we see of tentimes, that the couetous man either falleth into crimes that deserue death, or is murdered, or drowned, or hangeth himselfe, or such like, and so lacketh the honour of buriall, which is the last office of humanitie.
d Meaning the vntimely fruite whose life did neither profite nor hurt any.
e His desire and affection.
f That knoweth to vse his goods well in the iudgement of men. g To bee content with that which God hath giuen, is better then to follow the desires that neuer can be satisfied. h Meaning, God who will make him to feele that he is mortall.

this is an euill sicknesse.
3 If a man beget an hundred children, and liue many yeeres, and the dayes of his yeeres be multiplied, and his soule be not sacrificed with good things, and hee be not buried, I say that an vntimely fruite is better then he.
4 For hee cometh into vanitie, and goeth into darkenesse, and his name shall be couered with darknesse.
5 Also hee hath not seene the sunne, nor knownen it: therefore this hath more rest then the other.
6 And if he had liued a thousand yeeres, those told, and had seene no good, shall not all goe to one place.
7 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the soule is not filled.
8 For what hath the wise man more then the fool? what hath the poore that knoweth how to walke before the liuing?
9 The sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lustes: this also is vanitie, and veneration of spirit.
10 What is that that hath bene: the name thereof is now named: and it is knownen that it is man: and hee cannot strue with him that is stronger then he.

g To bee content with that which God hath giuen, is better then to follow the desires that neuer can be satisfied. h Meaning, God who will make him to feele that he is mortall.

C H A P. V I I.

Diuers precepts to follow that which is good, and to auoide the contrary.

Clearly there be many things that increase vanitie: and what auaileth it man?
2 For who knoweth what is a good for man in the life and in the number of dayes of the life of his vanitie, seeing hee maketh them as a shadowe? For who can thewe vnto man what shall be after him vnder the sunne?
3 A good name is better then a good ointment, and the day of death, then the day that one is borne.
4 It is better to goe to the house of mourning, then to goe to the house of feasting, because this is the ende of all men: and the liuing shall lay it to his heart.
5 Anger is better then laughter: for by a sad looke the heart is made better.
6 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning: but the heart of foolles is in the house of mirth.
7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wise man, then that a man should heare the song of foolles.
8 For like the noyle of the thornes vnder the pot, so is the laughter of the foolle: this also is vanitie.
9 Surely opprellion maketh a wise man madde: and the rewarde destroyeth the heart.
10 The end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirite is better then the proude in spirit.

11 We not thou of an hastie spiritte to be angrie: for anger resteth in the bolome of foolles.
12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then these? for thou doest not enquire wisely of this thing.
13 Wisdome is good with an inheritance, and excellent to them that see the sunne.
14 For man shall rest in the shadowe of wisdom, and in the shadowe of siluer: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisdom queth life to the possessours thereof.
15 Beholde the worke of God: for who can make a straight that which hee hath made crooked?
16 In the day of wealth he of good comfort, and in the day of affliction consider: God also hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man should finde nothing after him.
17 I haue seene all things in the dayes of my vanitie: there is a iust man that perissheth in his iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.
18 We not thou iust ouermuch, neither make thy selfe ouerwise: wherefore shouldst thou be desolate?
19 We not thou wicked ouermuch, neither be thou foolish: wherefore shouldst thou perissh not in thy time?
20 It is good that thou lay holde on this: but yet withholde not thine hand from that: for he that feareth God, shall come forth of them all.
21 Wisdome shall strengthen the wise man more then ten mightie princes that are in the citie.
22 Surely there is no man iust in the earth, that doeth good and sinneth not.
23 One not thine heart also to all the wordes that men speake, lest thou doe heare thy seruant cursing thee.
24 For oftentimes also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast cursed others.
25 All this haue I proued by wisdom: I thought, I will be wise, but it went farre from me.
26 It is farre off, what may it be? and it is a profound deepenesse, who can finde it?
27 I haue compassed about, both I and mine heart to knowe and to enquire and to search wisdom, and reason, and to knowe the wickednesse of folly, and the foolishnesse of madnesse.
28 And I finde more bitter then death the woman whose heart is as nettles and thornes, and her hands, as bands: hee that is good before God, shall be deliuered from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.
29 Beholde, sayeth the Preacher, this haue I found, seeking one by one to finde the count:
30 And yet my soule seeketh, but I finde it not: I haue found one man of a thousand: but a woman among them all haue I not found.

g Murmure not against God when he sendeth aduerſities for mans finnes.
h He answereth to them that esteeme not wisdom, except riches be ioyned therewith, shewing that both are the gifts of God, but that wisdom is farre more excellent, and may be without riches.

C H A P. VIII.

2 To obey Princes and Magistrates. 17 The workes of God passe man knowledge.

Who is as the wife man? and who knoweth y interpretation of a thing?
the wisdom of a man doeth make his face to shine: and the strength of his face shall be changed.

2 I aduertise thee to take heede to the mouth of the King, and to the worde of the othe of God.

3 Hastenot to goe forth of his sight:
stand not in an euill thing: for hee will doe whatsoever pleaseth him.

4 Where the worde of the King is, there is power, and who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

5 He that keepeth the commandment, shall know none euill thing, and the heart of the wise shall knowe the tune and iudge-ment.

6 For to every purpose there is a time and iudgement, because the miserie of man is great vpon him.

7 For hee knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him when it shall be?

8 Man is not lordes ouer the spirite to retein the spirite: neither hath hee power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battell, neither shall wickednesse deliuer the possessers thereof.

9 All this haue I seene, and haue giuen mine heart to every worke which is wrought vnder the sunne, and I sawe a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne hurt.

10 And likewise I sawe the wicked buried, and they returned, & they that came from the holy place, were yet forgotten in the cite where they had done right: this also is vanitie.

11 Because sentence against an euill worke is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to doe euill.

12 Though a sinner doe euill an hundred times, and God prolong his daies, yet
I knowe that it shall be well with them that feare the Lord, and do reuerence before him.

13 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither shall hee prolong his daies: hee shall be like a shadowe, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanitie, which is done vpon the earth, that there be righteous men to whome it cometh according to the workes of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whome it cometh according to the workes of the iust: I thought also that this is vanitie.

15 And I prayd for: for there is no goodnesse to man vnder the sunne, saue to eate and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the sunne.

16 When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to beholde the businesse that is done on earth, that neither day nor night

the eyes of man take sleepe,

17 When I behelde the whole worke of God, that man cannot finde out the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne: for the which man laboureth to seeke it, and cannot finde it: yea, and though the wise man thinke to know it, he cannot finde it.

C H A P. IX.

1 By no outward thing can man knowe whome God loueth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his ende. 16 Wisdom excelleth strength.

I haue surely giuen mine heart to all this,
I and to declare all this, that the iust, and the wise, and their workes are in the hand of God: and no man knoweth either loue or hatred of all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iust and to the wisked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner, hee that sweareth, as hee that feareth an othe.

3 This is euill among all that is done vnder the sunne, that there is one condition to all, and alio the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euill, and madnesse is in their hearts whiles they liue, and after that, they goe to the dead.

4 Surely whosoener is ioyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to a liuing dog, then to a dead lion.

5 For the liuing knowe that they shall die, but the dead knowe nothing at all: neither haue they any more a rewarde: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Allo their loue, and their hatred, and their enie is nowe perished, and they haue no more portion for euer, in all that is done vnder the sunne.

7 Go, eate thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a cheerefull heart: for God nowe accepteth thy workes.

8 At all times let thy garments bee white, and let not oyle bee lacking vpon thine head.

9 Reioyce with the wife whome thou hast loued all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, which God hath giuen thee vnder the sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is thy portion in the life, and in thy trauell wherein thou labourst vnder the sunne.

10 All thyne hand shall finde to doe, doe it with all thy power: for there is neither worke nor invention, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the graue whither thou goest.

11 I returned, & I sawe vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the strong, nor yet hee that is wise, nor yet hee that is rich, nor yet hee that is of understanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and chance cometh to them all.

e Reioyce, be merry, and spare for no cost, thus speake the wicked

these outward things, that is by uersitie, whome

God doeth fauour

lendeth them as well to the wicked as to the godly.

b In outward things, as riches, and poertie, sicknesse and health, there is no difference betweene the godly and the wicked:
but the difference is, that the godly are assured by faith of Gods fa-uour & assistance.

c He noteth the nall men, which made their belly

so to die, which is

and Lyon.

d They flatter themselves to be in Gods fauour, because they haue all things in abundance.

g That is, he doth not foresee what shall come.

12 For neither doeth man knowe his time, but as the fishes which are taken in an euill net, and as the birdes that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euill time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also seene this wisdomne vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A little citie and fewe men in it, and a great King came against it, and compassed it about, and builded forts against it.

15 And there was found therein a poore and wise man, and hee deliuered the citie by his wisdomne: but none remembred this poore man.

16 Then sayde I, Whether is wisdomne then strength: yet the wisdomne of the poore is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wise are more heard in quietnesse, then the crye of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Better is wisdomne then weapons of warre: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

1 The difference of foolishnesse and wisdomne.

11 A slanderer is like a serpent that cannot bee charmed. 16 Of foolish Kings, and drunken princes. 17 And of good Kings and princes.

Dad fliese cause to stinke, and putrifie the oymnt of the apothecarie: so doth a little follie him that is in estimation for wisdomne, and for glory.

2 The heart of a wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

3 And also when the foole goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he beleeueth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth rise vpon against thee, leaue not the place: for gentleness pacifieth great finnes.

5 There is an euill that I haue seene vnder the sunne, as an error that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Follie is set in great excellencie, and the rich let in the low place.

7 I haue seene seruants on horses, and princes walking as seruants on the grounde.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it, and hee that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 He that remooueth stones, shall hurt himselfe thereby, and he that curteth wood, shall be in danger thereby.

10 If the iron be blunt, and one hath not whetted the edge, hee must then put to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisdomne.

11 If the serpent bite, when hee is not charmed: no better is a babler.

12 The wordes of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the lips of a foole deuoure himselfe.

13 The beginning of the wordes of his mouth is foolishnesse: and the latter ende of his mouth is wicked madnesse.

14 For the foole multiplieth words, saying, I haue knowen not what shall bee: and who can tell him what shall be after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the city.

16 Doe to thee, O land, when thy king is a childe, and thy princes eate in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O lande, when thy king is the sonne of Nobles, and the princes eate in time, for strength and not for drunkennesse.

18 By slouthfullnesse the rooffe of the house goeth to decay, and by the idleness of the handes the house droppeth through.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the lining, but siluer answereth to all.

20 Curle not the King, no not in thy thought, neither curle the rich in thy bed chamber: for the foule of the heauen shall carie the voice, and that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberrall to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods providence. 8 Allworldly prosperitie is vaine. 9 God will iudge all.

Cast thy bread vpon the waters: for after many dayes thou shalt finde it.

2 Giue a portion to seuen, and also to eight: for thou knowest not what euill shall be vpon the earth.

3 If the clouds be full, they will poyze forth raine vpon the earth: and if the tree doe fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 He that obserueth the winde, shall not sowe, and hee that regardeth the cloudes, shall not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirite, nor howe the bones doe growe in the wombe of her that is with childe: so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy seede, and in the euening let not thine hand rest: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this, or that, or whether both shall be alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sunne.

8 Though a man liue many yeeres, and in them all he reioyce, yet hee shall remember the dayes of a darkenesse, because they are many, all that cometh is vaine.

9 Reioyce, O yong man, in thy youth, and let thine heart cheere thee in the dayes of thy youth: and walke in the wayes of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but knowe that for all these things, God will bring thee to iudgement.

An excellent song which was Salomons.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this Song Salomon by most sweete and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfect loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon & king of peace, and the faithful soule or his Church, which he hath sanctified and appoynted to be his spoule, holy, chaste, and without rephension. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridgrome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefites wherewith he doth enrich her of his pure bountie and grace without any of her desertings. Alas the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ, desiring to be more and more ioyned to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

1 The familiar talke and mysticall communication of the spiritual loue betweene Iesus Christ and his Church. 5 The domestical enemies that persecute the Church.

a This is spoken in the person of the Church, or of the faithfull soule inflamed with desire of Christ, whom the loueth.

b The feeling of the great benefites.

c They that are pure in heart and conuersation.

d The faithfull confesse that they cannot come to Christ, except they be drawn, e Meaning the secret ioy that is not knowne to the world.

Let him kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

2 Because of the fauour of thy good ointments thy name is as an ointment powred out: therefore the virgins loue thee.

3 Draw me: we will runne after thee: the King hath brought mee into his chambers: we will reioyce and be glad in thee: wee will remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous doe loue thee.

4 I am blacke, O daughters of Ierusalem, but comely, as the tents of Kedars, and as the curtains of Salomon.

5 Regard ye me not because I am blacke: for the sunne hath looked vpon mee. The sonnes of my mother were angry against me: they made me the keeper of the vines: but I kept not mine owne vine.

6 Shew me, O thou, whome my soule loueth, where thou feedest, where thou liest at noone: for why should I be as they that turneth aside to the flocks of thy companions?

like the b flocks of goats, which looke down from the mountaines of Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a floske of sheepe in good order, which go by from the washing: which every one bring out twinnes, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a threed of scarlet, and thy talke is comely: thy temples are with in thy lockes, as a piece of a pomegranate.

4 Thy necke is as the towre of David built for defence: a thousand sheldes hang therein, and al the targets of the strong men.

5 Thy two e breakfasts are as two young rees that are twinnes, feeding among the lilies.

6 Untill the day breake, & the shadowes flee away, I will goe into the mountaine of myrhe and to the mountaine of incense.

7 Thou art all faire, my loue, and there is no spot in thee.

8 Come with mee from Lebanon, my spouse, even with mee from Lebanon, and looke from the toppes of Amanah, from the toppes of Shevir and Vermon, from the denines of the Lyons: and from the mountaines of the leopards.

9 My sister, my spouse, thou hast wounded mine heart: thou hast wounded mine heart with one of thine eyes, and with a chaine of thy necke.

10 My sister, my spouse, how faire is thy loue: howe much better is thy loue then wine: and the savour of thine oynments then all spices?

11 Thy e lippes, my spouse, drop as honie combes: honie and milke are under thy tongue, and the savour of thy garments is as the savour of Lebanon.

12 My sister my spouse is as a garden inclosed, as a spring shut up, and a fountaine sealed up.

13 Thy plants are as an orchard of pomegranates with sweete fruites, as camphire, spikenard, 14 Euen spikenard, and saffron, calamus, and cinamon, with all the trees of incense, myrhe and aloes, with all the chiefe spices.

15 D fountaine of the gardens, D wel of living waters, and the springes of Lebanon.

16 Arise, D North, and come D South, and blowen my garden that the spices thereof may flow out: let my welbeloued come to his garden, and eate his pleasant fruit.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 She heareth his voyce. 3 She confesseth her nakednesse. 10 She praiseth Christ her husband.

I Am come into my garden, my sister, my spouse: I gathered my myrhe with my spice: I ate mine honie combe with mine honie: I dranke my wine with my milke: eate, D friends, drinke, and make you merie, D welbeloued.

2 b I sleepe, but mine heart waketh, it is the voyce of my welbeloued that knocketh, saying, Open unto mee, my sister, my loue, my dove, my undefiled: for mine head is full of dewe, and my lockes with the which is meant by sleeping.

3 I have put off my coate, howe shall I put it on? I have washed my feete, howe shall I defile them?

4 My welbeloued put in his hand by the hole of the doore, and mine heart was affectioned toward him.

5 I role up to open to my welbeloued, and mine hands did droppe downe myrhe, and my fingers pure myrhe vpon the handles of the barre.

6 I opened to my welbeloued: but my welbeloued was gone and past: mine heart was gone when hee did speake: I sought him, but I could not find him: I called him, but hee answered me not.

7 The watchmen that went about the cite, found me: they linote me and wounded mee: the watchmen of the walles tooke away my baile from me.

8 I charge you, D daughters of Jerusalem, if wee finde my welbeloued, that you tell him that I am sick of loue.

9 D the fairest among women, what is thy welbeloued more then other welbeloued? what is thy welbeloued more then another lover, that thou doest to charge vs?

10 My welbeloued is white and ruddie, the chiefe of ten thousand.

11 His head is as fine gold, his locks curled, and blacke as a rauen.

12 His eyes are like dones vpon the riuers of waters, which are washed with milke, and remaine by the full vessels.

13 His cheekes are as a bed of spices, and as sweete flowers, and his lippes like lillies dropping downe pure myrhe.

14 His hands as rings of golde set with the chrysolite, his bellie like white yuorie couered with Sapphires.

15 His legges are as pillars of marble set vpon sockets of fine golde: his countenance as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is as sweete things, and hee is wholly delectable: this is my welbeloued, and this is my lover, D daughters of Jerusalem.

17 D the fairest among women, whether is thy welbeloued gone? whether is thy welbeloued turned aside, that wee may seeke him with thee?

CHAP. VI.

2 The Church asureth her selfe of the love of Christ. 3 The praises of the Church. 8 She is bus one and undefiled.

My welbeloued is gone downe into his garden to the beds of spices, to feede in the gardens, and to gather lillies.

2 I am my welbeloued, and my welbeloued is mine, who feedeth among the lilies.

3 Thou art beaurtiful, my loue, as Tirzah, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an armie with banners.

4 Turne away thine eyes from mee: for they overcome me: thine haire is like a floske of goats, which looke downe from Gilead.

1 The beautie of the Church in al her members, 10 She is assured of Christs loue toward her.

Howe beautifulle are thy goings with shoes, O princes daughter! the toyntes of thy thighes are like iewels: the woike of the hand of a cunning workeman.

2 Thy navel is as a round cup that wanteth no licour: thy belley is as an heape of wheate compassed about with lilies.

3 Thy two breasts are as two yong rees that are twinned.

4 Thy necke is like a towre of yuorpe: thine eyes are like the fish pooles in Bethshon by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the towre of Lebanon, that looketh toward Damascus.

5 Thine heade vpon thee is as skarlet, and the bush of thine head like purple: the king is tyed in thy raffers.

6 How faire art thou, and howe pleasant art thou, O my loue, in pleasures!

7 Thy stature is like a palme tree, and thy breasts like clusters.

8 I said, I wil go vp into the palme tree, I will take hold of her boughs: thy breasts shall not be like the clusters of the vine: and the labour of thy nose like apples,

9 And the rooffe of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth straight to my welbeloued, and causeth the lips of the ancient to speake.

10 I am my welbeloueds, and his desire is toward me.

11 Come, my welbeloued, let vs go forth into the field: let vs remaine in the villages.

12 Let vs get vp early to the vines, let vs see if the vine flourish, whether it hath budded the small grape, or whether the pomegranates flourish: there will I giue thee my loue.

13 The mandrakes haue giuen a smell, and in our gates are all sweete things, new and olde: my welbeloued, I haue kept them for thee.

3 His left hande shall bee vnder mine head, and his right hand shall embrace mee.

4 I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, that you stirre not vp, nor waken my loue, until he please.

5 Who is this that cometh vp out of the wilderness, leaning vpon her welbeloued? I rayled thee vp vnder an apple tree: there thy mother conceiued thee: there she conceiued that bare thee.

6 Set me as a seale on thine heart, & as a signer vpon thine arme: for loue is strong as death: ielouise is cruel as y graue: the coles thereof are fierie coles, & a vehement flame.

7 Much water cannot quench loue, neither can the floodes drowne it: If a man should gine all the substance of his house for loue, they would greatly conteme it.

8 We haue a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall wee doe for our sister when she shall be spoken for?

9 If she be a wall, we will build vpon her a silver palace: and if she be a doore, we will keepe her in rich boardes of cedar.

10 I am a wall, and my breasts are as towers: then was I in his eyes as one that findeth peace.

11 Salomon had a vine in Baal-hamon: hee gaue the vineyard vnto keepers: euery one bringeth for the fruite thereof a thousand pieces of silver.

12 But my vineyard which is mine, is before mee: to thee, O Salomon, appertaineth a thousand pieces of silver, and two hundred to them that keepe the fruite thereof.

13 Thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken vnto thy voyce: cause me to heare it.

Isaiah.

THE ARGVMENT.

God according to his promise, Deut. 18.15. that hee would neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not only to declare vnto the people the things to come, wherof they had a special reuelation, but also to interpret & declare the Lawe, and to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefly therein, to the viliicie and profite of thoſe, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertaine, and as the time and ſtate of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had reſpect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine. Firſt to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: ſecondly, to the promiſes and threatnings of the Law: and thirdly, to the covenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded vpon our Sauour Ieſus Chriſt, who is the ende of the Lawe. Whereunto they neither added nor diminiſhed, but faithfully expounded the ſenſe and meaning thereof, And according as God gaue them vnderſtanding of things, they applied the promiſes particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and alſo denounced the menaces againſt the enemies of the ſame: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to aſſure the Church of their ſafegarde by the deſtruction of the enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more clearly increaſed it then Moſes, and ſet forth more liuely Ieſus Chriſt, in whom this covenant of reconciliation was made. In all theſe things Iſaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was moſt diligent to ſet out the ſame, with moſt vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and conſolations: euer applying the doctrine, as he ſaw that the diſeaſe of the people required. He declareth alſo many notable prophecies which he had receiued of God, as touching the promiſe of the Meſſiah, his office, and his kingdom. Alſo of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, & their vniõ with the Iewes. Which are as moſt principal poynts contained in this booke, & a gathering of his Sermons that he preached. Which after certaine dayes that they had ſtand vpon the Temple doore (for the manner of the Prophets was to ſet vp the ſumme of their doctrine for certaine dayes, that the people might the better marke it, as Iſai. 8. 1. and Habak. 2. 2.) the Priests tooke it down and reſerued it among their regiſters: and ſo by Gods providence theſe bookes were preſerued as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his perſon and time, he was of the Kings ſtocke (for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the beſt writers agree) and prophecied more then 64. yeres, from the time of Vziah vnto the raigne of Manaſſeh, whole father in lawe hee was (as the Ebreies write) and of whom hee was put to death. And in reading of the prophets this one thing among ſo other is to be obſerued, that they ſpeake of things to come, as though they were now paſt, becauſe of the certaintie thereof, and that they could not but come to paſſe, becauſe God had ordeined them in his ſecret counſell, and ſo reuealed them to his Prophets.

CHAP. I.

King. 15. 1. of theſe Kings, reade, 2. King, from chap. 14. vnto chap. 21, and 2. Cor. from chap. 23. vnto chap. 33. d Becauſe men were obliuious and inſenſible, hee calleth the dumme creatures, which were more prompt to obey Gods worde, as Deut. 32. 1. e Hee declareth his great mercy toward the Iewes, for ſo much as hee choſe them aboue all other nations to be his people and children, Deuter. 10. 15. f The moſt brute and dull beaſtes doe more acknowledge their dutie toward their maſters, then my people doe toward me, of whom they haue receiued benefites without compariſon. g They were not only wicked, as were their fathers, but vicerly corrupt, and by their euill example infected others. h That is, him that Sanctified Iſrael. i What auayleth it to ſeek to amende you by puniſhment, ſeeing the more I correct you, the mote ye rebel?

u Your sacrifices offered in the new moones and feastes: he condemneth hereby hypocrites, which thinke to please God with ceremonies, and they themselves are voyde of faith & mercie. x He sheweth that where men be giuen to auarice, deceit, crueltye and extortion, which is meant by blood, there God will shew his anger, and not accept them, though they seeme neuer to holy, as Chap. 59. 3. y By this outward walking, he meaneth the spirituall: exhorting the Iewes to repent and amend their liues. z This kinde of reasoning, by the second table, the Scriptures vse in many places against the hypocrites, who pretend most holiness and religion in worde, but when their charitie & loue toward their brethren should appeare, they declare that they haue neither faith nor religion. a To know if I do accuse you without cause. b Left sinners shoulde preterend any rigour on Gods part, hee only willett them to be pure in heart, and he will forgieue all their finnes, were they neuer so manie or great. c He sheweth that whatsoever aduersitie man endureth, it ought to be attributed to his owne incredulitie and disobedience. d That is, Ierusalem, which had promised fidelitie vnto me, as a wife to her husband. e Giuen to couetousnesse and extortion, which he signified before by blood, vers. 15. f Whatsoever was pure in thee before, is now corrupt, though thou haue an outward shew. g That is, they maintaine the wicked and the extortioners, and not only doe not punish them, but are themselves such. h When God will shewe himselfe mercifull to his Church, he calleth himselfe, The holy one of Israel: but when he hath to doe with his enemies, he is called Mightie, as against whome no power is able to resist. i I will take vengeance of mine aduersaries the Iewes, and so satisfy my desire by punishing them, which thing yet hee doeth with a griefe, because of his covenant. k Left the faithfull among them shoulde bee ouercome with this threatening, hee addeth this consolation. l It is onely the worke of God to purifie the heart of man, which thing hee doeth because of his promise, made concerning the salvation of his Church. m By iustice is meant Gods faithfull promise, which is the cause of the deliuerance of his Church.

14 Thy soule hateth pour new moones and pour appointed feasts: they are a burden vnto me: I am weary to beare them.
 15 And when pou shall stretch out pour handes, I will hide mine eyes from pou: and though pee make many prayes, I will not heare: for pour handes are full of blood.
 16 Wash pou, make pou cleane: take away the euill of pour workes from before mine eyes: cease to doe euill.
 17 Learn to doe wel: seeke iudgement, relieue the oppressed: iudge the fatherlesse and defend the widow.
 18 Come now, & let vs reason together, saith the Lord: for though your finnes were as crimson, they shall bee made white as snow: though they were redde like scarlet, they shall be as wooll.
 19 If pee consent and obey, pee shall eate the good things of the land.
 20 But if pee refuse and be rebellious, pee shall bee denoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.
 21 Howe is the faithfull citie become an harlot? it was full of iudgement, and iustice lodged therein, but now they are murderers.
 22 Thy silver is become drossie: thy wine is mixt with water.
 23 Thy princes are rebellious & companions of s: theyeuey one loueth gifts, and followeth after rewardes: they iudge not the fatherlesse, neither doeth the widows cause come before them.
 24 Therefore saith the Lord God of hostes, the mightie one of Israel, wh, I will ease mine of mine aduersaries, and auenge me of mine enemies.
 25 Then I will turne mine hand vpon thee, and burne out the drossie, till it be pure, and take away all thy minne.
 26 And I will restore thy iudges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward shall thou bee called a citie of righteousness, and a faithfull citie.
 27 Zion shall be redeemed in iudgement, and they that retorne in her, in iustice.
 28 And the destruction of the transgressours and of the sinners shall bee together: and they that forsake the Lord, shall be consumed.
 29 For they shall bee confounded for the oaks, which pee haue desired, and pee shall bee ashamed of the gardens, that pee haue chosen.
 30 For pee shall be as an oke, whose leafe s: as a garden that hath no water.
 31 And the strong shall be as a towre, and the maker thereof, as a sparke: and they shall both burne together, and none shall quench them.
 32 Your confidence, shall be consumed as easily, as a piece of towre.

 The woide that I saiah the sonne of Amos saw vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.
 2 It shall be in the last dayes, that the mountaine of the house of the Lord shall be prepared in the top of the mountaines, and shall be exalted above the hills, and all nations shall flowe vnto it.
 3 And many people shall goe & say, Come, and let vs go vnto the mountaine of the Lord, to the house of the God of Iacob, and he will reach vs his wages, and we will walke in his paths: for the Lawe shall goe forth of Zion, and the woide of the Lord from Ierusalem.
 4 And they shall iudge among the nations, and rebuke many people: they shall breake their swordes also into mattocks, and their speares into s: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learne to fight any more.
 5 House of Iacob, come pee, and let vs walke in the light of the Lord.
 6 Surely thou hast forsaken thy people, the house of Iacob, because they are full of the East maners, and are sorcerers as the Philistines, & abound with strange childre.
 7 Their land also was full of silver and golde, and there was none ende of their treasures: and their land was full of horses, and their chariots were infinite.
 8 Their land also was full of idoles: they worshipped the worke of their own hands, accomplished, when the Gospell was first preached in Ierusalem, and from thence went through all the worlde. g The Lord, which is Christ, shall haue all power giuen him. h That they may acknowledge their finnes and turne to him. i Hee sheweth the fruite of the peace, which the Gospell should bring: to wit, that men shoulde doe good one to another, whereas before they were enemies. k Hee speaketh not against the vse of weapons and lawfull warre, but sheweth howe the hearts of the godly shall be affected one toward another: which peace and loue doeth bring: to wit, that men shoulde doe good one to another, whereas before they were enemies. l Seeing the Gentiles will bee so ready, make you haste and shewe them the way to worshippinge God. m The Prophet seeing the small hope, that the Iewes would conuert, complaineth to God, as though hee had viterly forsaken them for their finnes. n Full of the corruptions that reigned chiefe in the East partes. o They altogether giue themselves to the superstition of other nations. p The Prophet first condemned their superstition and idolatrie: next their couetousnesse, and thirdly, their vaine trust in worldly meanes.

n The wicked shall not be partakers of Gods promises, Psal. 93. 9. o That is, the trees & pleasant places, where ye commit idolatrie, which was forbidden, Deut. 16. 21. p The false god, wherein ye put your confidence, shall be consumed as easily, as a piece of towre. Micah 4. 1. a The decree & ordinance of God, touching the restitution of the Church, which is chiefly meant of the time of Christ. b In an euident place to be seene and discerned. c When the kingdom of Christ shall be enlarged by the preaching of the doctrine. Here also is declared the scale of the children of God, when they are called, d Alluding to mount Zion, where the visible church then was. Micah 4. 2. e Meaning the whole doctrine of Salvation. f This was accomplished, when the Gospell was first preached in Ierusalem, and from thence went through all the worlde. g The Lord, which is Christ, shall haue all power giuen him. h That they may acknowledge their finnes and turne to him. i Hee sheweth the fruite of the peace, which the Gospell should bring: to wit, that men shoulde doe good one to another, whereas before they were enemies. k Hee speaketh not against the vse of weapons and lawfull warre, but sheweth howe the hearts of the godly shall be affected one toward another: which peace and loue doeth bring: to wit, that men shoulde doe good one to another, whereas before they were enemies. l Seeing the Gentiles will bee so ready, make you haste and shewe them the way to worshippinge God. m The Prophet seeing the small hope, that the Iewes would conuert, complaineth to God, as though hee had viterly forsaken them for their finnes. n Full of the corruptions that reigned chiefe in the East partes. o They altogether giue themselves to the superstition of other nations. p The Prophet first condemned their superstition and idolatrie: next their couetousnesse, and thirdly, their vaine trust in worldly meanes.

q He noteth the nature of the idolaters, which are neuer satisfied in their superstitions. r Thus the Prophet spake, being inflamed with the zeale of Gods glory, and that he might feare them with Gods iudgement. f Meaning, as soone as God shall beginne to execute his iudgements. t By high trees and mountaines are meant them that are proude, and losie, and thinke themselves most strong in this world. u He condemneth their vaine confidence, which they had in strong holdes, & in their rich marchandise, which brought in vaine pleasures, wherewith mens mindes became effeminate. Hose. 10.8. luke 23.30. reuel. 6.16. and 9.6. x They shal cast them into most vile and filthie places, when they perceiue that they are not able to helpe them. y Cast off your vaine confidence of man, whole life is so fraile, that if his nose be stopped, he is dead, and consider that ye haue to doe with God.

CHAP. III.

1 For the sinne of the people God will take away the wise men, and giue them foolish princes. 14 The conuulsiveness of the gouernours. 16 The pride of the women.

For loe, the Lord God of hostes will take away from Ierusalem & from Iudah the stay & the strength: euen all the stay of bread, and all the stay of water,

2 The strong man, & the man of warre, the iudge & the prophet, the prudent and the aged,

3 The captaine of fiftie, and the honourable, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent man.

4 And I will appoint children to be their princes, and babes shal rule over them.

5 The people shall be oppressed one of God would take away euery thing that was in any estimation, and wherein they had any occasion to vaunt themselves. d Not only in age, but in wit, maners, knowledge and strength. e For lacke of good regiment and order.

another, and euery one by his neighbour: the children shal presume against the ancient, and the vile against the honorable.

6 When euery one shal take hold of his brother of the house of his father, and say, Thou hast clothed thee: thou shalt bee our prince, & let this fall be vnder thine hand:

7 In that day he shal sweare, saying, I cannot be an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: therefore make me no prince of the people.

8 Doubtlesse Ierusalem is fallen, & Iudah is fallen downe, because their tongue and woordes are against the Lord, to prouoke the eyes of his glory.

9 The trial of their countenance testifieth against them, yea, they declare their sinnes, as Sodom, they hide them not. Wo be vnto their soules: for they haue rewarded euill vnto themselves.

10 Say ye, Surely it shal be wel with the iust: for they shal eate the fruite of their workes.

11 Woe be to the wicked, it shal be euill with him: for the reward of his hands shal be giuen him.

12 Children are extortioners of my people, and women haue rule over them: I will people, they that leade thee, cause thee to erre, and destroy the way of my paths.

13 The Lord standeth vp to pleade, yea, he standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord shall enter into iudgement with the ancients of his people and the princes thereof: for pee haue eaten vnto the bread: the people of the poore is in pour houses.

15 What haue pee to doe, that pee beate my people to pieces, and grinde the faces of the poore, saith the Lord, euen the Lord of hostes?

16 The Lord also saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haucie, and walke with o sterced out heeles, and with wandering eyes, walking and musing as they goe, and making a twinkling with their feete, 17 Therefore shal the Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zion balde, and the Lord shall discover their secret partes.

18 In that day shal the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, and the calkes, and the round tiers,

19 The sweete balles, and the hyaceters, and the bonnets,

20 The tyres of the head, and the shoppes, and the headbands, and the tablets, and the earrings,

21 The rings and the mufflers,

22 The costly apparell and the balles, and the wimples, and the crisping pinnes,

23 And the glasses, and the fine linnen, preferred it, according to their duetie. m That is, yee shewe all euellie against them. n Hee menaceth the people, because of the arrogancie and pride of their women, which gaue themselves to all wantonnesse and dissolution. o Which declared their pride. p As a signe, that they were not chaste. q Which shewed their wantonnesse. r They delighted then in slippers that did creake, or had little plates sowed vpon them, which tinkled as they went.

a Because they trusted in their abundance and prosperitie, he sheweth that they should be taken from them. b The temporal gouernour and the minister. c By these hee meaneth that God would take away euery thing that was in any estimation, and wherein they had any occasion to vaunt themselves. d Not only in age, but in wit, maners, knowledge and strength. e For lacke of good regiment and order.

f He sheweth that this plague shalbe so horrible, that contrarie to the common maner of men, which by nature are ambitious, none shalbe found able or willing to be their gouernour. g Feare shal rather cause him to forswear himselfe, then to take such a dangerous charge vpon him. h When God shal examine their deedes, whereupon they now face an impudent set, hee shal finde the marke of their impiecie in their forehead. i Ye e that are godly assured that God will defend you in the middes of these troubles. k Because the wicked people were more addicted to their princes, then to the commandments of God, he sheweth that he would giue them such princes, by whom they should haue no helpe, but that should be manifest tokens of his wrath, because they should be fooles and effeminate. l Meaning, that the rulers and gouernours had destroyed his Church, and not

In rehearsing all these things particularly, he sheweth the lightnes and vanitie of such as cannot be content with comely apparell according to their degree.

^e Meaning, that God will not only punish the women, but their husbands, which haue suffered this desolatenesse, and also the common weale, which hath not remedied it.

CHAP. III.

1 The final remnant of men after the destruction of Ierusalem. 2 The graces of God upon them that remaine.

a When God shall execute this vengeance, there shall not be one man found to be the head to many women, and they contrary to womanly shamefastnesse, shall seeke vnto men, and offer themselves to any condition.

b Bethou our husband, and let vs be called thy wies.

c For so they thought it, to be without an head and husband.

d He comforteth the Church in this desolation, which shall spring vp like a bud, signifying that Gods graces should bee as plentifull towards the faithfull, as though they sprang out of the earth, as Chap. 45. 8. Some by the budde of the Lord meane Christ. e He alludeth to the booke of life, whereof reade Exod. 32. 32: meaning Gods secreete counsell, wherein his elect are predestinate to life everlasting. f That is, the crueltie, extortion, auarice, and all wickednesse. g When things shall be redressed, that were amisse. h He alludeth to the pillar of the cloude, Exod. 13. 21: meaning, that Gods fauour and protection should appeare in every place. i The faithfull are called the glory of God, because his image, and tokens of his grace shine in them. k God promisseth to be the defence of his Church against all troubles and dangers.

CHAP. V.

1 Vnder the similitude of the vine bee described the state of the people. 8 Of their auarice. 11 Their drunkennesse. 13. Of their captiuitie.

a The Prophet by this song doeth set before the peoples eyes their ingratitude, & Gods mercy.

b That is, to God.

Jerem. 2. 21. matth. 21. 33. c Meaning, that he had planted his Church in a place most plentifull and abundant.

and the hoods, and the f lammes.

24 And in stead of sweete saoure there shall be stinke, and in stead of a girle, a rent, and in stead of dressing of the haire, baldnesse, & in stead of a stomacher, a girding of sackcloth, and burning in stead of beaurie.

25 They men: shall fall by the sword, and thy strength in the battell.

26 Then shall her gates mourne and lament, and the bring desolate, shall sit vpon the ground.

a And in that day shall seven women take holde of one man saying, We will eate our owne bread, and wee will weare our owne garments: onely let vs bee called by thy name, and take away our reproch.

2 In that day shall the bud of the Lord be beautifull and glorious, and the fruite of the earth shall be excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

3 Then he that shall be left in Zion, and he that shall remaine in Ierusalem, shall be called holp, and every one shall be written among the liuing in Ierusalem.

4 When the Lord shall walke the filthines of the daughters of Zion, and purge the blood of Ierusalem out of the mids thereof by the spirit of iudgement, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Lord shall create vpon every place of mount Zion, and vpon the assemblies thereof, a cloude and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: say vpon all the glory shall be a defence.

6 And a cowering shall be for a shadow in the day for the heate, & a place of refuge & a couert for the storme, and for the raine.

plants, and he built a towne in the mids thereof, & made a winepresse therein: then he looked that it should bring forth grapes: but it brought forth wilde grapes.

3 Now therefore, O inhabitants of Ierusalem and men of Iudah, iudge, I pray you, betwene me, and my vinegarde.

4 What could I haue done any more to my vinegarde, that I haue not done vnto it? why haue I looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it bringeth forth wilde grapes?

5 And now I will tell you what I will doe to my vinegarde: I will rake away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten vp: I will breake the wall thereof, and it shall be troden downe:

6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not be cut, nor digged, but byers, and thornes shall growe by: I will also command & cloude that they raine no raine vpon it.

7 Surely the vinegarde of the Lord of hostes is the house of Israel, and the men of Iudah are his pleasant plant, and hee looked for iudgement, but beholde oppression: for righteousness, but beholde a crying.

8 Woe vnto them that torne house to house, and lay siege to sieles, all there be no place, that pee may bee placed by your sieles in the mids of the earth.

9 This is in mine eares, saith the Lord of hostes. Surety many houses shall be desolate, euen great, and faire without inhabitant.

10 For ten acres of vines that yeeld one bath, and the seeds of an homer shall yeeld an ephah.

11 Woe vnto them that rise vp earely to follow drunkennesse, and to them that continue vntill night, till the wine doe inflame them.

12 And the harpe, and viole, timbrel, and pipe, and wine are in their feastes: but they regard not the worke of the Lord, neither consider the worke of his hands.

13 Therefore my people is gone into captiuitie, because they had no knowledge, and the glory thereof are men fannish, and the multitude thereof is dyped by with thirst.

14 Therefore hell hath enlarged it selfe, and hath opened his mouth, without measure, and their glory, & their multitude, and their poase, and he that reioiceth among them, shall descend into it.

15 And man shall be brought downe, and man shall be humbled, euen the eys of the poynde shall be humbled.

16 And the Lord of hosts shall be exalted in iudgement, and the holy God shall be sanctified in iustice.

their rioting and excessive pleasures: but vse all meanes to prouoke to the same. 2 They regarde not the prouident care of God ouer them, nor for what ende he hath created them. 3 That is, shall certainly goe for so the Prophets vse to speake, as though the thing which shall come to passe, were done already. 4 Because they would not obey the word of God. 5 Meaning, the graue shall swallowe vp them that shall die for hunger and thirst, and yet for all this great destruction it shall neuer be satiate.

d He spared no diligence nor cost.

e In the seventh verse he declareth what they were.

f He maketh them iudges in their owne cause, forasmuch as it was euident that they were the cause of their owne ruine.

g I will take no more care for it: meaning that he would take from them his worde and ministers, and all other comforts, and send them contrary plagues. h Iudgement & righteousness are true fruits of the feare of God, and therefore in the cruell oppressors there is no religion.

i Of them that are oppressed, k To wit, for the poore to dwell in.

l I haue heard the complaint, and cry of the poore.

m Which containeth about ten pottels: so that euery acre should but yeeld one portell.

n Which containeth an hundred pottels.

o An Ephah containeth ten pottels, and is indrie things as much as Bath is, in sicours.

p That spare no paine nor diligence to followe their lustes.

q Which are neuer wearie of x God comforteth the poore lambs of his Church, which had bene strangers in other countreies, promising that they should dwell in those places againe, whereof they had bene deprived by the fat and cruel tyrants.

y Which vse all allurements, occasions, and excuses to harden their conscience in sinne.

z He sheweth what are the wordes of the wicked, when they are menaced with Gods iudgements.

a Which are not ashamed of sinne, nor care for honestie, but are grown to a desperate impie.

b Which are contenters of all doctrine and admonition.

c Which are neuer wearie, but shew their strength, & brag in gluttonie and drunkenesse.

d Both they and their posteritie, so that nothing shall be left.

e He sheweth that God had so fore punished this people, that the dumme creatures, if they had bene to plagued, would haue bene more sensible, & therefore his plagues must continue, till they begin to feele them.

f He will make the Babylonians to come against them at his becke, and to fight vnder his standerd.

17 Then shall the lambs feede after their maner, and the strangers shall eate the desolate places of the sat.

18 I Woe vnto them, that draw iniquitie with y cozdes of baunie, and sinne, as with cart ropes:

19 Which say, Let him make speede: let him halten his woike, that we may see it: and let the counsell of the holp one of Israel draw neere and come, that wee may knowe it.

20 Woe vnto them that speake good of euill, and euill of good, which put darknesse for light, and light for darknesse, that put bitter for sweete, and sweete for lowe.

21 Woe vnto them that are wise in their owne eyes, & prudent in their owne sight.

22 Woe vnto them that are mightie to drinke wine, and to them that are strong to powre in strong drinke:

23 Which misse the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousnes of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as the flame of fire deuoureth the stubble, and as the chaffe is consumed of the flame: so their roote shall be as rottenesse, and their bud shall rise by like dust, because they haue cast off the law of the Lord of hostes, & contemned the woordes of the holp one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, & he hath stretched out his hand vpon them, and hath smitten them that his mountaines did tremble: and their carkeises were come in the middes of the streetes, and for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out still.

26 And he will lift vp a signe vnto the nations afarre, and will hysse vnto them from the ende of the earth: and behold, they shall come hastily with speede.

27 None shall slumber nor sleepe, neither shall the girdle of his loynes be loosed, nor the lacher of his shooes be broken:

28 Whose arrowes shall be sharpe, and all his bowes bent: his horse shooes shall be thought like sint, and his wheeles like a whirlwinde.

29 His roaring shall be like a lyon, and he shall roare like Lyons whelpes: they shall roare, and lap holde of the pray: they shall take it away, and none shall resist it.

30 And in that day they shall roare vpon them, as the roaring of the sea: and if they looke vnto the earth, behold darknesse, and forow, and the light shall be darkened in their sight.

C H A P. VI.

1 Isaiah sheweth his vocation by the vision of the diuine maiestie. 9 Hee sheweth the obstinacie of the people. 11 The destruction of the land. 13 The remnant reserved.

1 In the peere of the death of king Oziah, I sawe also the Lord sitting vpon a high throne, and lifted vp, and the lower partes thereof filled the Temple.

2 The Seraphims stood vpon it: euery one had sixe winges: with twaine he covered his face, and with twaine he covered his feete, and with twaine he did e flie.

3 And one cried to another, & said, Holy, holp, holp is the Lord of hostes: the whole world is full of his glory.

4 And the linels of the dooze cheekes moved at the voyce of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then I sayde, I Woe is me: for I am undone, because I am a man of polluted lips, and I dwell in the mids of a people of polluted lips: for mine eyes haue seene the King and Lord of hostes.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims vnto me with an hote coale in his hand, which hee had taken from the altar with the tongs:

7 And he touched my mouth, and sayd, Woe, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquitie shall be taken away, & thy sinne shall be purged.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send? and who shall goe for vs? Then I sayd, Here am I, send mee.

9 And hee said, Woe, and say vnto this people, O pe shall heare in deede, but pe shall not vnderstand: pee shall plamely see, and not perceiue.

10 Awake heart of this people sa, make their eares heaie, and shut their eyes, lest they see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and conuert, and he heale them.

11 Then said I, Lord, how long? And hee answered, Until the cities bee wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be utterly desolate.

12 And the Lord haue remooued men farre away, and there be a great desolation in the middes of the land.

dement. h This oft repetition signifieth, that the holy Angels can not satisfie themselves in praying God, to reach vs that in all our liues we should giue our felues to the continual prayse of God.

i His glory doeth not onely appeare in the heauens, but through all the worlde, and therefore all creatures are bound to prayse him.

k Which things were to confirme the Prophet, that it was not the voyce of man: and by the smoke was signified the blindness that should come vpon the Iewes. l Hee speaketh this for two causes: the one, because hee that was a mortall creature, and therefore had more need to glorifie God then the Angels, did it not: and the other, because the more neere that man approacheth to God, the more doeth he knowe his owne sinne and corruption.

m Of the burnt offerings, where the fire neuer went out. n This declareth that man can not render true obedience to God, till hee haue purged vs.

o Whereby is declared that for the malice of man God will not immediately take away his worde, but hee will cause it to be preached to their condemnation, when as they will not learne thereby to obey his will, and be fauced: hereby he exhortheth the ministers to doe their dutie, and answereth to the wicked murmurers, that through their owne malice their heart is hardened, Matth. 13. 14. Actes 28. 26. Roman. 11. 8. p As hee was moued with the zeale of Gods glory, so was hee touched with a charitable affection towards the people.

a God sheweth not himselfe to man in his maiestie, but according as mans capacite is able to comprehend him: that is, by visible signes, as Iohn Baptist saw the holy Ghost in the forme of a doue.

b As a iudge ready to giue sentence.

c Of his garment, or of his throne.

d They were Angels, so called, because they were of a fierie colour, to signifie that they burnt in the love of God, or were light as fire to execute his will.

e Signifying, that they were not able to endure the brightness of Gods glorie.

f Whereby was declared that man was not able to see the brightness of God in them.

g Which thing declareth the prompt obedience of the Angels to execute Gods commaundment.

q Meaning, the tenth part: or as returne, and shalbe eaten vp as an olive ¹⁰ of some Vzziah, it was as an olive, which haue a substance in them, reueiled to Iaiab when they cast their leaues: so the holy seede for the confirmation of his prophetic, that tenne Kings should come before their captiuitie, as were from Vzziah to Zedekiah. r For the fewenesse they shall seeme to be eaten vp: yet they will after flourish as a tree, which in winter loofeth his leaues, and seemeth to be dead, yet in sommer is fresh and Greene.

CHAP. VII.

1 Jerusalem besieged, 4 Iaiab comforteth the King, 14 Christ is promised.

AND in the dapes of ^a Ahaz, the sonne of Iotham, the sonne of Vzziah King of Iudah, Rezin the King of ^b Aram came vp, and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah king of Israel, to Jerusalem to fight against it, but he could not overcome it.

2 And it was told the house of ^b David, saying, Aram is togred with ^c Ephraim: therefore his heart was ^d mooued, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are mooued by the winde.

3 Then sayde the Lorde vnto Iaiab, Goe forth now to meete Ahaz (thou and ^e Shear-iashub thy sonne) at the end of the conduit of the vpper poole, in the path of the fullers felde,

4 And say vnto him, Take heede, and be still: feare not, neither be faint hearted for the two taitles of these smoking firebrands, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Aram, and of Remaliahs sonne:

5 Because Aram hath taken wicked counsell against thee, and Ephraim, and Remaliahs sonne, saying,

6 Let vs goe vs against Iudah, and let vs waiken them vp, and make a breach therein for vs, and set a King in the middes thereof, euen the sonne of ^f Tabeal.

7 Thus saith the Lord God, It shal not stand, neither shall it be.

8 For the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and within fise and ^g threescore yeere, Ephraim shalbe destroyed from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliahs sonne. If ye beleene not, surely ye shal not be established.

10 I And the Lorde spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

11 Aske a signe for thee of the Lord thy God: aske it, cyther in the depth beneath, or in the height aboue.

12 But Ahaz sayde, I will not aske, nei ther will I tempt the Lord.

13 Then he sayde, Heare thou now, O house of David, Is it a small thing for you to grieve ^h men, that yet will also grieve my God?

Isaiah did this message. i For the confirmation of this thing, that thine enemies shall be destroyed and thou preferred. k Not to beleue Gods word without a signe, is to tempt God: but to refuse a signe when God offereth it for the ayde and helpe of our infirmities, is to rebell against him. l You thinke you haue to doe with men, when ye contemne Gods messengers: but it is God, against whom you bend your selues, 14 Therefore the Lorde ^m himselfe will giue you a signe. Beholde, the virgine shall conceiue and beare a sonne, and she shal call his name ⁿ Immanuel.

15 ^o Butter and hony shal he eate, till he haue knowledge to refuse the euill, and to chuse the good.

16 For afore the ^p child shal haue knowledge to chuse the euill, and to chuse the good, the lande, that thou abhorrest, shalbe forsaken of both her Kings.

17 The Lorde shal bring vpon thee, and vpon thy people, ^q & vpon thy fathers house (the dapes that haue not come from the day that Ephraim departed from Iudah) euen the King of ^r Asshur.

18 And in that day shal the Lorde hisse for the ^s rie that is at the uttermost part of the floods of Egypt, ^t & for the Wee which is in the land of Asshur,

19 And they shal come and shal light all in the desolate balles, and in the holes of the rockes, and vpon all thyng places, and vpon all bushie ^u places.

20 In that day shal the Lord haue with a rador that is hired, euen by them beyonde the ruer, by the King of Asshur, the head and the haire of the ^v fette, and it shal consume the beard.

21 And in ^w same day shal a man ^x nourish a pong kolwe, and two sheepe.

22 And for the abundance of milke that they shal giue, he shal eate butter: for butter and hony shal euery one eate, which is left within the land.

23 And at the same day euery place, wherein shalbe a thousande vines, shalbe at a thousand pieces of siluer: so it shalbe for the byers and for the thornes.

24 With arrowes and with ^y bow shal one come thither: because at the land shalbe byers and thornes.

25 But on ^z all the mountaines, which shalbe digged with the mattocke, there shal not come thither the feare of byers and thornes: but they shalbe for the sending out of bullocks, and for the treading of sheepe.

by reason the country is hote and moyst, it is full of flies, as Assyria is full of Bees. f Signifying, that no place shall be free from them. t That is, that which is from the belly downward: meaning, that he would destroy both great and small. u He that before had a great number of cattell, shall bee content with one kowe and two sheepe. x The number of men shall be so small, that a fewe beastes shall bee able to nourish all abundantly. y As they that goe to fecke wilde beastes among the bulkes. z The mountaines contrary to their wont, shalbe tilled by such as shall flee to them for succour.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The captiuitie of Israel & Iudah by the Assyrians. 6 The infidelitie of the Iewes. 9 The destruction of the Assyrians. 14 Christ the stone of stumbling to the wicked. 19 The word of God must be inquired at.

MY SONNE, the Lord saide vnto me, Take thyce a ^a great royle, and write in it ^b with a mans penne, spake speede to the spolie: haste to the pray.

may be more easily read. b Meaning, after the common fashion, because all men might reade it.

c Because the thing was of great importance, he tooke these two witnesses, which were of credit with the people, when he set this vp vpon the doore of the Temple, albeit Vriah was a flattering hypocrite, 2. King. 16. 11. d Meaning to his wife, and this was done in a vision. || Or, make speede to the spoyle: haste to the pray. e Before any child be able to speake.

f That is, the armie of Assyria. g Which was a fountaine at the foote of mount Zion, out of the which ran a small riuier through the citie: meaning, that they of Iudah distrusting their owne power, which was small, desired such power and riches as they sawe in Syria and Israel. h That is, the Assyrians, which dwell beyond Euphrates. i It shalbe ready to drowne them. k He speaketh this to Messiah or Christ, in whom the faithfull were comforted, and who would not suffer his Church to be destroyed vtterly. l To wit, yee that are enemies to the Church, as the Assyrians, Egyptians, Syrians, &c. m To encourage me that I shoulde not shrinke for the infidelitie of this people, and so neglect mine office. n Consent not yee that are godly, to the league and friendshippe that this people feake with strangers and idolaters. o Meaning, that they shoulde not feare the thing that they feared, which haue no hope in God. p In putting your trust onely in him, in calling vpon him in aduersitie, patiently looking for his helpe, and fearing to doe any thing contrary to his will. q He will defende you which are his elect, and reiect all the rest, which is meant of Christ, against whom the Iewes should stumble and fall, Luke 2. 34. Rom. 9. 3. 1. pet. 2. 7. 8. r Though all forsake mee, yet ye that are mine, keepe my word sure sealed in your hearts.

2 Then I tooke vnto me faithfull witnesses to record, Vriah the Priest, and Zebadiah the sonne of Ieberechiah. 3 After, I came vnto the 4 Prophets, which concealed, and bare a soune. Then said the Lord to me, Call his name, I asher-shalal-lazai. 4 For before the child shal haue knowledge to crye, my father and my mother, hee shal take away the riches of Damascus, and the people of Samaria, before the King of Assyria. 5 And the Lord spake yet againe vnto me, saying, 6 Because this people hath refused the waters of Shiloah that runne softly, and reioyce with Rezin, and the sonne of Kesmiah, 7 Now therefore behold, the Lord by himselfe vpon them the waters of the Riuier mightie and great, even the King of Assyria with all his glorie, and hee shal come vp vpon all their riuers, and goe ouer all their banks, 8 And shal breake into Iudah, and shal ouerflowe and passe through, and shal come by to the necke, and the stretching out of his hums shal fill the breadth of the land, 9 Gather together on heapes, O peeple, and peeple shal be broken in pieces, and hearken all ye of farre countreys: gird your selues, and you shal be broken in pieces: gird your selues, and you shal be broken in pieces. 10 Take counsell together, yet it shalbe brought to nought: pronounce a decree, yet shal it not stand: for God is with vs. 11 For the Lord spake thus to me in talking of mine hand, and taught me, that I shoulde not walke in the way of this people, saying, 12 Say pee not, We confederacie to all them, to whom this people saith a confederacie, neither feare you their feare, nor be afraid of them. 13 Sanctifie the Lord of hostes, and let him be your feare, & let him be your dread, 14 And he shalbe as a Sanctuary: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rocke to fall vpon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare, and as a net to the inhabitants of Jerusalem. 15 And many among them shal stumble, and shal fall and shal be broken and shalbe feared and shalbe taken. 16 Bind ye by the testimonie: seale ye by the lawe among my disciples.

17 Therefore I will waite vpon the Lord that hath hidde his face from the house of Iakoh, and I will looke for him.

18 Beholde, I and the children whom the Lord hath giuen mee, are as signes and as wonders in Israel, by the Lord of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shal say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of diuination, & at the soothsayers, which whisper and murmur, Shoulde not a people enquire at their God: from the living to the dead?

20 To the lawe, and to the testimonie, if they speake not according to this word: it is because there is no light in them.

21 Then he that is afflicted & famished, shal goe to and fro in it: and when he shal be hungry, he shal euerfeate himselfe, and curse his king and his gods, and shal looke upward.

22 And when he shal looke to the earth, behold trouble, and darkenesse, vexation and anguish, and he is giuen to darkenesse.

x That is, Will they refuse to be taught of the Prophet, who is the mouth of God, and seeke helpe at the dead, which is the illusion of Satan? y Seeke remedy in the word of God where his will is declared. z They haue no knowledge, but are blinde leaders of the blind. a That is, in Iudah, where they should haue had rest, if they had not thus grievously offended God. b In whom alone they put their trust. c They shal thinke that heauen and earth and all creatures are bent against him to trouble them.

CHAP. IX.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles, 2 A prophesie of Christ, 3 The destruction of the scribes for their pride and contempt of God.

YEt the darkenesse shal not bee as yet: a He comforted the affliction, that it had when the Church, at the first hee touched lightly the lande of againe after these Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, nor as great threatenings, promising to restore them to great glory in Messiah. b Wherewith Israel was punished first by Tiglath-pileser, which was a light scourge in respect of that which they suffered afterward by Shalmaneser who carried the captiues.

2 The people that walked in darkenesse, haue seene a great light: they that dwelled in the land of the shadow of death, vpon them hath the light shined.

3 Thou hast multiplied the nation, and not increased their top: they haue reioiced before thee according to hope in thy name, & as men reioyce when they deuide a spoyle.

4 For the yoke of their burden, and the staffe of their shoulder, and the rod of their oppressor hast thou broken as in the day of Midian.

5 Surely surer battell of the warrior is Israelites away captiues.

c Whereas the Iewes and Gentiles dwelt together by reason of those twentie citie, which Salomon gaue to Hiram. d Which were captiue in Babylon: and the Prophet speaketh of that thing, which should come to passe threescore yeeres after, as though it were nowe done. e Meaning, the comfort of their deliuerance. f This captiuitie and deliuerance were figures of our captiuitie by sinne, and of our deliuerance by Christ through the preaching of the Gospel, Math. 4. 15, 16. g Their number was greater when they went into captiuitie, then when they returned, but their ioy was greater at their returne, Hag. 2. 10. h Thou gauest them perfit ioy, by deliuering them and by destroying the tyrantes that had kept them in cruell bondage, as thou didst deliuer them by Gideon from the Midianites, Iudg 7. 22.

i He speaketh of the deliuerance of his Church, which he hath deliuered miraculously from his enemies, but specially by the comming of Christ of whom he prophesieth in the next verse.
 k The author of eternitie, and by whome the Church and euerie member thereof shalbe preferred for euer, and haue immortall life.
 l His singular loue and care for his elect.
 m This is another prophesie against them of Samaria, which were mockers & contemners of Gods promises and menaces.
 n We were but weakie, when the enemy ouer-came vs, but we will make our selues lo strong, that we will neede care for our enemies, nor feare Gods threatnings.
 o Rezin king of Syria, who was in league with Israel, was slaine by the Assyrians, after whose death, Aram, that is, the Syrians were against Israel, which on the other side were assailed by the Philistims.
 p Wickednes, as a bellows, kindleth the fire of Gods wrath, which consumeth all his obstinate enemies.
 q Though there were no forreine enemy, yet they shall destroy one another.
 r Their grienedesse shalbe insatiabie, so that one brother shall care vp another, as though he should eate his owne flesh.

with noyse, & with tumbling of garnementes in blood: but this shall bee with burning and deuouring of fire.

6 For vnto vs a childe is bozne, and vnto vs a Sonne is giuen: and the gouernement is vpon his shouder, and he shall call his name Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The euermlasting Father, The prince of peace.

7 The increase of his gouernement and peace shall haue none end: he shall sit vpon the thron of Dauid, & vpon his kingdome, to order it, and to stablish it with iudgement and with iustice, from henceforth, euen for euer: the seale of the Loyde of hostes will performe this.

8 ¶ The Lord hath sent a word into Jaakob, and it hath lighted vpon Israel.

9 And all the people shall know, euen Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that lap in the pride and presumption of the heart.

10 The stickes are fallen, but we will build it with beuen stones: the wilde figge trees are cut downe, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Forerethlesse, the Loyde will raise vp the aduersaries of Rezin against him, and ioyne his enemies together.

12 Aram before and the Philistims besinde, and they shall deuoure Israel with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

13 For the people turneth not vnto him that smiteth them, neither doe they seeke the Loyd of hostes.

14 Therefore will the Lord cut off fro Israel head & taile, branch & routh in one day.

15 The ancient and the honourable man, hee is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the taile.

16 For the leaders of the people cause them to erre: and they that are led by them, are denoured.

17 Therefore shal the Lord haue no pleasure in their pong men, neither will he haue compassion of their fatherlesse and of their widowes: for euery one is an hypocrite and wicked, and euery mouth speaketh follie: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 For wickednesse burneth as a fire: it denoureth the byers and the thornes, and will kindle in the thicke places of the forest: and they shall mount vp like the lifting by of smoke.

19 Vp the wrath of the Loyde of hostes shall the lande be darkened, and the people shalbe as the inrate of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

20 And he shal hatch at the right hand, and be hungry: and he shall eate on the left hand, and shall not be satisfied: euery one shall eate the flesh of his owne arme.

21 Manasseh, Ephraim: and Ephraim Manasseh, & they both shalbe against Iudah: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

CHAP. X.

1 Of the wicked lawmakers, 5 God will punish his people by the Assyrians and after destroy them, 21 The remnant of Israel shalbe saved.

W Vnto the chat decree wicked decrees, and write grieuous things, To keepe backe the poore from iudgement, and to take away the iudgement of the poore of my people, that widowes map see their praye, and that they map spoele the fatherlesse.

3 What will ye do now in the day of visitation, & of destruction, which shall come from faire: to whom will ye flee for helpe: and where will ye leaue your glory?

4 Without mee euery one shall fall among them that are bound, and they shall fall downe among the flaine: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 ¶ As for the rod of my wrath: & the staffe in their hands is mine indignation.

6 I will send him to a dissembling nation, and I will giue him a charge against the people of my wrath to take the people and to take the pray, and to treade them vnder feete like the mire in the streete.

7 But he thinketh not so, neither doth his heart esteeme it so: but he magnieth to destroy and to cut off not a few nations.

8 For hee saith, Are not my princes also together kings?

9 Is not Calno as Carchemish? Is not Hamath like Arpad: Is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 Like as mine hand hath found the kingdomes of the idoles, seeing their idoles were aboute Ierusalem, and aboute Samaria:

11 Shall not I as I haue done to Samaria, and to the idoles thereof, so doe to Ierusalem, and to the idoles thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Loyde hath accomplished all his worke vpon mount Zion and Ierusalem, I will visite the fruit of the proude heart of the King of Assyrie, and his glorious and proude lookes.

13 Because hee sayde, by the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, and by my wisdom, because I am wise: therefore I haue remooued the borders of the people, and haue spooled their treasures, and haue pulled downe the inhabitantes like a valiant man.

14 And mine hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people, and as one gathereth eggs that are left, so haue I gathered all the earth: & there was none to moue the wing, or to open the mouth, or to wisper.

15 Shall the one boast it selfe against the work, but in respect of their owne malice, it is the worke of the deuill. g Seeing that I haue overcome, as well one cite as another, so that none could resist, shal Ierusalem be able to escape mine hand? h When he hath sufficiently chastised his people (for he beginneth at his owne house) then will he burne the rods. i Meaning of Saneherib. k Here wee see that no creature is able to do any thing but as God appoynteth him, and that they are al but his instruments to do his worke, though the intentions be diuers, as verse 6.

a Which write and pronounce a wicked sentence to oppresse the poore: meaning that the wicked magistrates, which were the chiefe cause of mischief, should be first punished.
 b To wit, from Assyria.
 c Your riches and authoritie, that they may be safe, and that ye may receiue them againe.
 d Because they haue forsaken me, some shal go into captiuitie, and the rest shalbe slaine.
 e God calleth for the Assyrians to be the executioners of his vengeance.
 f That is, the Assyrians against the Iewes, which are but hypocrites: and in this first and seventh verse is declared the difference of the worke of God, and of the wicked in one very thing and as: for Gods intention is to chastise them for their amendment, and the Assyrians purpose is to destroy them to enrich themselves: thus in respect of Gods iustice, it is Gods worke, but in him that belweth therewith: ² or shall the lawe eate it selfe against him that moueth it: as if the rod should lift vp it selfe against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe should exalt it selfe, as it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lord God of hostes send among his fac men, leauimelle, and vnder his glorie he shall kindle a burning, like the burning of fire.

17 And the holp of Israel shall bee as a fire, and the holp one thereof as a flame, and it shall burne and deuoure his thornes and his byers in one day:

18 And shall consume the glop of his foete, and of his fruitfull fieldes both soule ¹ and body: and he shall bee as the ² faining of a stander bearer.

19 And the rest of the trees of his foest shalbe few, that a chyld may tell them.

20 ¶ And at that day shall the remnant of Israel, & such as are escaped of the house of Iacob, say no more vpon him that smote them, but shall say vpon the Lord, the holp one of Israel in truerh.

21 The remnant shall retorne, euen the remnant of Iacob vnto the myghtie God.

22 For though the people of Israel, be as the lande of the Sea, yet shall the remnant of thein retorne. The consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousnes.

23 For the Lord God of hostes shall make the consumption, euen ¹ determined, in the mids of all the land.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, ² vpon people, that dwell in Zion, be not afeade of Asshur: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee after the maner of Egypt:

25 But per a very litle tyme, & the wrath shall be consumed, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lord of hostes shall raise vp a scourge for him, according to the plague of ¹ Aspidan in the rocke of Arib: and as his staffe was vpon the ² Sea, so he will lift it vp after the maner of Egypt.

27 And at that day shall his burden be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his poke from off thy necke: and the poke shall be destroyed because of ¹ the anoynting.

28 He is come vnto Mich: he is passed into Migdon: at Aspidmaly shall he lay vp his armour.

29 They haue gone ouer the soorde: they lodged in the lodging at Geba: Ramah is afeade: Gibeath of Saul is fled away.

30 Lift vp thy voyce, O daughter Galim, canst thou to heare, O poore Anothor.

31 Madmenah is remoued: the inhabitants of Gebim haue gathered themselves together.

32 Yet there is a time that he will slap at Migdon: he shall lift vp his hand towards the mount of the daughter Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord God of hostes shall cut off the ¹ bough with feare, and they that their plague was come, so should they be deliuered. ² Feare and destruction shall come vpon Iudah: for the princes and the people shall all be led away captiues.

of his stature shall be cut off, and the hye shall be humbled.

34 And he shall cut away the thicke places of the foest with yron, & Lebanon shall haue a myghtie fall.

CHAP. XI.

1 Christ borne of the roote of Liaih. 2 His vertues and kingdomes. 6 The fruites of the Gospell. 10 The calling of the Gentiles.

¶ There shall come a ¹ rod footth of the stocke of Liaih, and a graffe shall growe out of his rootes.

2 And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest vpon him: the Spirit of wisdom & vnderstanding, the Spirit of counsell and strength, the Spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord.

3 And shall make him prudent in the feare of the Lord: for he shall not iudge after the sight of his eyes, neither repproue by the hearing of his eares.

4 But with righteousnes shall he iudge the poore, and with equite shall he repproue for the meeke of the earth: and hee shall smite the earth with a rod of his mouth, and with the bready of his lips shall he slap the wicked.

5 And iustice shall be the girdle of his loynes, and sayhuinesse the girdle of his reimes.

6 The wolfe also shall dwell with the lambe, and the leopard shall lie with the kidde, and the calfe, and the lion, and the fatte beast together, and a litle chyld shall leade them.

7 And the cow and the beare shall feede: their pong ones shall lie together: and the ypon shall eate strawe like the bullocke.

8 And the sucking chyld shall play vpon the hole of the aspe, and the wapped chyld shall put his hand vpon the cockatrice hofe.

9 Then shall none hurt nor destroy in all the mountaine of mine holinesse: for the earth shall be full of the knowledg of the Lord, as ¹ the waters that couer the sea.

10 And in that day the roote of Liaih, which shall stand vp for a signe vnto the people, the nations shall seeke vnto it, and his rest shall be glorious.

11 And in the same day shall the Lord stretch out his hand, & againe the seconde tyme to possesse the remnant of his people (which shall be left) of Asshur, and of Egypt, and of Parthos, and of Ethiopia, and of Elam, and of Shinear, and of Hamath, and of the ples of the sea.

12 And he shall set vp a signe to the nations, and assemble the disperied of Israel, and gather the scattered of Iudah from the foure corners of the world.

like lammes, fauouring and louing one another, and cast off all their cruell affections. Chap. 65. 25. d It shalbe in as great abundance as the waters in the Sea. e Hee prophesieth of the calling of the Gentiles. f That is, his Church, which hee also calleth his rest, Psalm. 132. 14. g For God first deliuered his people out of Egypt, and now he promisseth to deliuer them out of their enemies hands, as from the Parthians, Persians, Caldeans, and them of Antiochia, among whom they are disperied: and this is chiefly meant of Christ, who calleth his people being disperied through all the world.

1 Meaning, that God is a light to comfort his people, and a fire to burne his enemies.
m That is, the Assyrians.
n To wit, body & soule vterly.
o When the battle is lost, & the standard taken.
p This is the end of Gods plagues towards his, to bring them to him and to forsake all trust in others.
q This small number, which seemed to be consumed, and yet according to Gods decree is faued, shall be sufficient to fill all the world with righteoufnesse.
r God will destroy this land as he hath determined, and after saue a small portion.
s As the Egyptians did punish thee.

x Because of the promises made to that kingdom, whereby Christs kingdom was prefigured.
y He describeth by what way the Assyrians should come against Jerusalem, to confirme the faithfull, when it should come to passe, that as their plague was come, so should they be deliuered.
z Feare and destruction shall come vpon Iudah: for the princes and the people shall all be led away captiues.

a Because the captiuitie of Babylon was a figure of the spiritual captiuitie vnder sinne, he sheweth that our true deliuerance must come by Christ: for as Dauid came out of Ithai a man without dignitie: so Christ should come of a poore carpenters house, as out of a dead stocke, Chap. 53. 2.
b All these properties can agree to none but onely vnto Christ: for it is he that toucheth the hearts of the faithfull and mortifieth their concupiscences: and to the wicked he is the fauour of death and to them that shall perish: so that all the world shall be smitten with this rod, which is his word.
c Men because of their wicked affections, named by the names of beastes, wherein the like affections reigne: but Christ by his Spirit shall reforme them, and worke in them such mutual charitie, that they shalbe

h Here he describes the content that shalbe in his Church, and their victorie against their enemies.

i Meaning, a corner of the sea that entrench into the land, and hath the forme of a tongue.
k To wit, Nilus, the great riuer of Egypt, which entrench into the sea with seuen streames.

13 The hatred also of Ephraim shall depart, and the aduersaries of Iudah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not enuie Iudah, neither shall Iudah bere Ephraim:

14 But they shall flee upon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the West: they shall loyle them of the East together: Edom and Moab shalbe the stretching out of their hands, and the children of Ammon in their obedience.

15 The Lord also shal utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptians sea, and with his mighty winde shall lift vp his hand ouer the riuer, and shall smite him in his seuen streames, and cause men to walke therein with shooes.

16 And there shalbe a path to the remnant of his people, which are left of Asshur, like as it was vnto Israel in the day that he came by out of the land of Egypt.

A thanksgiuing of the faithfull for the mercies of God.

a He sheweth how the Church shall praye God, when they are deliuered from their captiuitie.

c The graces of God shall be so abundant, that ye may receiue them in as great plentie, as waters out of a fountaine that is full.
1. Chron. 16. 8.

And thou shalt say in that day, O Lord, I will praye thee: though thou wast angry with me, thy wrath is turned away, and thou comfortest me.

2 Behold, God is my saluation: I will trust, and will not feare: for the Lord God is my strength and song: he also is become my saluation.

3 Therefore with ioy shall wee drawe waters out of the welles of saluation.

4 And ye shall say in that day, * Praise the Lord: call vpon his Name: declare his workes among the people: make mention of them, for his Name is exalted.

5 Sing vnto the Lord, for he hath done excellent things: this is known in all the world.

ons gathered together: the Lord of hostes numbereth the hoste of the battell.

5 They come from a farre country, from the ende of the heauen: euen the Lord with the weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.

6 Howle ye now, for the day of the Lord is at hand: it shall come as a destroyer from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all handes be weakened, and all mens hearts shall melt,

8 And they shalbe afrayde: anguish and sorowe shall take them, and they shall haue paine, as a woman that travaileth: euery one shall be amazed at his neighbour, and their faces shall be like flames of fire.

9 Beholde, the day of the Lord cometh, cruell, with wrath and fierce anger to lay the land waste: and he shall destroy the sinners out of it.

10 For the stars of heauen and the planets thereof shall not giue their light: the sunne shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moone shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will visite the wickednesse vpon the world, and their iniquitie vpon the wicked, and I will cause the arrogancie of the proud to cease, and will cast downe the pride of tyrants.

12 I will make a man more precious then fine gold, euen a man above the wedg of golde of Ephraim.

13 Therefore I will shake the heauen, and the earth shall remoue out of her place in the wrath of the Lord of hostes, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And as a sheepe that no man taketh vp, euen man shall turne to his owne people, and seeke one to his owne land.

15 Euery one that is found, shalbe stricken throught: and whosoener toucheth him, shall fall by the sword.

16 Their children also shalbe broken in pieces before their eyes: their houses shall be voyded, and their iuices ransied.

17 Beholde, I will visite vpon the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver, nor be desirous of golde.

18 Every bowes also shall they destroy the children, and shall haue no compassion vpon the frunt of the wombe, and their eyes shall not spare the children.

19 And Babel the glory of kingdomes, the beautie & pride of the Chaldeas, shall be as the destruction of Sodom, and Gomorrah.

20 It shall not be inhabited for euer, neither shall it be dwelled in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch his tents there, neither shall the shepherds make their foldes there.

21 But ye him that lodge there, and their houses shalbe full of thorn: Distiches shall dwell there, and the Satyres shall daunce there.

but there shall they finde none. p Which were either wilde beasts, of foules, or wicked spirits, whereby Satan deluded man, as by the faeries, goblins, and such like fantasies.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie. 4 The derision of the King of Babylon. 11 The death of the King. 29 The destruction of the Philistins.

a He sheweth why God will hate to destroy his enemies: to wit, because hee will deliuer his Church.

b Meaning, that the Gentiles shall be ioyned with the Church and worship God.

c Signifying, that the Iewes should be superiours to the Gentiles, and that they should be brought vnder the seruice of Christ by the preaching of the Apostles, whereby all are brought to the subiection of Christ, 2. Cor.

d That is, hee suffered all violence and injuries to be done.

e Meaning, that when tyrants reigne, there can be no rest nor quietnesse, and also how detestable a thing tyrannie is, seeing the insensible creatures haue occasion to reioyce at their destruction.

f As though they feared, least thou shouldest trouble the dead, as thou didst the liuing: and here he derideth the proude tyrannie of the wicked, which knowe not that all creatures with their destruction that they may reioyce.

g In steade of thy costly carpers and coverings.

h Thou that thoughtest thy selfe most glorious, and as it were placed in the heauen: for the morning starre, that goeth before the sunne is called Lucifer, to whom Nebuchad-nezzar is compared.

i Meaning, Ierusalem, whereof the Temple was on the Northside, as Psal. 48. 2. whereby he meaneth that tyrants fight against God, when they persecute his Church, and would set themselves in his place.

2 And the Lord will haue compassion of Iacob, and will yet chuse Israel, and cause them to rest in their owne land: and the stranger shall ioyne himselfe vnto them, and they shall cleane to the house of Iacob.

3 And the people shall receiue them, and bring them to their owne place, and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the land of the Lord, for seruants and hand-maydes: and they shall take them prisoners, whose captiues they were, and haue rule ouer their oppressours.

4 And in that day when the Lord shall giue the rest from thy sorrow, and from thy feare, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou diddest lerne.

5 Then shalt thou take vp this prouerbe against the King of Babel, and say, Howe hath the oppressour ceased? and the golde chitric Babel rested?

6 The Lord hath broken the rod of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers:

7 Which smote the people in anger with a continual plague, and ruled the nations in wrath: if any were persecuted, hee did not let.

8 The whole world is at rest and is quiet: they sing for ioy.

9 Also the firre trees reioyced of thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art layde downe, no better came vs against vs.

10 Well beneath is moued for thee to sleepe thee at thy conuining, raising vp the dead for thee, euen all the princes of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the Kings of the nations.

11 All they shall crie, and say vnto thee, Art thou become weak as we: art thou become like vnto vs?

12 The pompe is brought downe to the graue, and the sounde of thy viols: the pompe is as heeard vnder thee, and the drums counter thee.

13 How art thou fallen from heauen, Lucifer, sonne of the morning: and cut downe to the ground, which didst cast lots vpon the nations?

14 Per thou saydest in thine heart, I will ascend into heauen, and exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also vpon the mount of the Congregation in the sides of the North.

15 I will ascend into heauen, and exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also vpon the mount of the Congregation in the sides of the North.

14 I will ascend about the height of the cloudes, and I will be like the most High.

15 But thou shalt be brought downe to the graue, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that see thee, shall looke vpon thee and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, and that did shake the kingdomes?

17 He made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof, and opened not the house of his prisoners.

18 All the Kings of the nations, euen they all sleepe in glory, euen one in his owne house.

19 But thou art cast out of thy graue like an abominable branch: like the rament of those that are staine, and thrust thorow with a sword, which go downe to the stones of the pit, as a cartelle troden vnder feete.

20 Thou shalt not be ioyned with them in the graue, because thou hast destroyed thine owne land, and staine the people: the seed of the wicked shall not be renowned for euer.

21 Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the inquite of their fathers: let them not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fill the face of the world with enemies.

22 For I will rise vp against them (saith the Lord of hostes) I will cut off from Babel the name and the remnant, and the sonne, and the nephewe, (saith the Lord):

23 And I will make it a possession to the heegehogge, and pooles of water, and I will sweepe it with the besome of destruction, (saith the Lord of hostes).

24 The Lord of hostes hath sworne, saying, Surely like as I haue purposed, so shall it come to passe, and as I haue consulted, it shall stand:

25 That I will breake to pieces Asshur in my land, and vpon my mountaines will I treade him vnder foote: so that his yoke shall depart from them, and his burden shall be taken from off their shoulder.

26 This is the counsell that is consulted vpon the whole world, and this is the hand stretched out ouer all the nations.

27 Because the Lord of hostes hath determined it, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turne it away?

28 In the yeece that King Abaz died, was this burden.

29 Reioyce not, (thou whole Palestina) because the rod of him that did beate thee, is broken: for out of the serpents roote shall come forth a cockatrice, & the fruit thereof shall be a fierie flying serpent.

30 For the first borne of the poore shall be fed, and the needy shall lie downe in safety: and I will kill thy roote with famine, and it shall lay thy remnant.

31 Howle, O gate, cry, O city: thou whole land of Palestina art dissolued, for there shall come from the North a smoke, and upon thee shall be alone, at his time appointed.

32 But they shall be all ready, and ioyned together,

33 But they shall be all ready, and ioyned together,

l To set them at libertie: nothing his crueltie.

m Thou wast not buried in the sepulchre of thy fathers, thy tyrannie was so abhorred.

n He calleth to the Medes and Persians and all those that should execute Gods vengeance.

Or, tortois.

o As I haue begun to destroy the Assyrians in Saneherib, so will I continue, and destroy them wholly, when I shall deliuer you from Babylon.

p From the Iewes.

q Reade Chap. 13. 1.

r He willett the Philistins not to reioyce because the Iewes are diminished in their power: for their strength shall be greater then euer it was.

s The Israelites which were brought to moft extreme miserie.

t To wit, my people.

u That is, from the Iewes or Assyrians: for they were both North from Palestina x But they shall be all ready, and ioyned together.

34 We haue heard of the pride of Moab, (hee is very proude) euen his pride and his arrogancie, and his indignation, but his lies shall not be lo.

35 Therefore shall Moab howle vnto Doab: every one shall howle: for the foundations of Kir-hareseth shall yee moune, yet they shall bee a striken.

36 For the vineyards of Hesbom are cut downe, & the vine of Sibmah: the Lords of the heathen haue broken the principall vines thereof: they are come vnto Jaazer: they wandered in the wilderness: her goodly branches stretched out themselves, and went ouer the sea.

37 Therefore with I weepe with the weeping of Jaazer, and of the vine of Sibmah, D Hesbom, and Elealeth. I will make thee drunke with my teares, because vpon thy sommer fruites, and vpon thy haruest I a shouting is fallen.

38 And gladnesse is taken away, and ioy out of the plentifull feldes: and in the vineyards shall bee no singing nor shouting for ioy: the reeder shall not treade wine in the winepresses: I haue caused the reioycing to cease.

39 Therefore, my bowels shall sound like an harpe for Moab, and mine inward partes for Kir-hareseth.

40 And when it shall appeare that Moab shall be wearie of his hie places, then shall he come to his temple to pray, but he shall not preuaile.

41 This is the worde that the Lord hath spoken against Moab since that time.

42 And now the word hath spoken, saying, In three yeeres, as the yeeres of an hireling, and the glory of Moab shall be contemned in all the great multitude, and the remnant shall be very small and feeble.

2 The cities of Aroer shall be forsaken: they shall bee for the flockes: for they shall lie there, and none shall make them a fraide.

3 The numition also shall cease from Ephraim, and the Kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram shall bee as the glory of the children of Israel, declaring the destruction of these two Kings of Syria, & Israel, when as they had conspired the ouerthrow of Iudah.

layeth the Lord of hostes.

4 And in that day the glory of Jacob shall be impoverished, and the fatnelle of his flesh shall be made leanne.

5 And it shall be as when the harvest man gathereth the sheaf, and reaper the eares with his arme, and hee shall bee as hee that gathereth the eares in the valley of Benjamin.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes shall be left in it, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries are in the toppe of the utmost boughes, and foure or five in the high branches of the fruit thereof, saith the Lord God of Israel.

7 At that day shall a man looke to his maker, and his eyes shall looke to the holy one of Israel.

8 And he shall not looke to the altars, the works of his owne hands, neither shall hee looke to those things, which his owne fingers have made, as grones and images.

9 In that day shall the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughes and branches, which they did forsake, because of the children of Israel, and there shall be desolation.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not remembered the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou see pleasant plants, and shalt graffe strange vine branches:

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to growe, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish: but the harvest shall be gone in the day of possession, and there shall be desperate sorrowe.

12 Ah, the multitude of many people, they shall make a founde like the noyse of the sea: for the noyse of the people shall make a founde like the noyse of mightie waters.

13 The people shall make a found like the noyse of many waters: but God shall rebuke them, and they shall see farre off, and shall bee chaled as the chaffe of the mountaines before the winde, and as a rowing thing before the whirlewinde.

14 And lo, in the evening there is a trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is the portion of them that spoyle vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

even in vessels of reeddes upon the waters, saying, See, ye swift messengers, to a nation, that is scattered abroad, and spoiled, unto a terrible people from their beginning even hitherto: a nation by little and little, even troden under foote, whose land yefloods have spoiled.

3 Al ye inhabitants of the world and dwellers in the earth, shall see when I set a signe in the mountaines, and when hee bloweth the trumpet, ye shall heare.

4 For so the Lord sayd unto me, I will rest and behold in my tabernacle, as the heate drying up the raine, and as a cloude of dewe in the heate of harvest.

5 For afore the harvest when the floure is finished, and the suite is rising in the floure, then hee shall cut downe the branches with hookes, and shall take away, and cut off the boughes.

6 They shall bee left together unto the fowles of the mountaines, and to the beasts of the earth: for the fowle shall summer upon it, and every beast of the earth shall winter upon it.

7 At that time shall a present be brought unto the Lord of hostes, (a people that is scattered abroad, and spoiled, and of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nation by little and little even troden under foote, whose land the rivers have spoiled) to the place of the Name of the Lord of hostes, even the mount Zion.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians. 18 Of their conversion to the Lord.

The burden of Egypt. Beholde, the Lord rideth upon a swift cloude, and shall come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of her.

2 And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: so every one shall fight against his brother, and every one against his neighbour, citie against citie, and kingdome against kingdome.

3 And the spirit of Egypt shall faile in the middes of her, and I will destroy their counsell, and they shall seeke at the idoles, and at the soverers, and at them that have spirits of divination, and at the soothsayers.

4 And I will deliver the Egyptians into the hand of cruell Lords, and a mightie King shall rule over them, saith the Lord God of hostes.

that mens hearts shall faint. c As he caused the Ammonites, Moabites, and Idumeans to kill one another, when they came to destroy the Church of God, 2. Chro. 20. 22. and Chap. 49. 26. d Meaning their policie, and wisdom.

b Which in those countries were great: in so much as they made ships of the for swiftnesse.

c This may be taken that they sent ether to comfort the Iewes, and to promise them help against their enemies, and so the Lord did threaten to take away their strength, that the Iewes should not trust therein: or that they did solite the Egyptians, & promited them hyde to goe against Iudah.

d To wit, the Iewes, who because of Gods plagues made all other nations afraide of the like, as God threatened, Deut.

13. 1. b Because the Egyptians trusted in the defence of their country, in the multitude of their idoles, and in the valiantnesse of their men, the Lord sheweth that hee will come over all their munitions in a swift cloude, and that their idoles shall tremble at his comming, and e He ſheweth that the ſea and Nilus their great river, whereby they thought themſelves moſt ſure, ſhould not be able to defend them from his anger, but that he would ſend the Aſſyrians among them, that ſhould keepe them vnder aſſaies.

f For Nilus ran into the ſea by ſeuē ſtreames, as though they were ſo many riuers.

g The Ebrew word is mouth, whereby they meane ſpring, out of the which the water gulleth as out of a mouth.

h The Scriptures vie to deſcribe the deſtruction of a country by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, fiſh, and ſuch other things, whereby countreyes are enriched.

i Called alſo Tanes, a famous cite vpon Nilus.

k He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh: who perſwaded the King that hee was wiſe, and noble, and that his houſe was moſt ancient, and ſo hee flattered himſelfe, ſaying, I am wiſe.

l Or Memphis, others Alexandria, and nowe called the great Cairā. m The principall vpholders thereof, are the chiefſt cauſe of their deſtruction. n For the ſpirit of wiſedomme hee hath made them drunke and giddie with the ſpirit of error. o Neither the great nor the ſmall, the ſtrong nor the weakē. p Conſidering that through their occaſion the Iewes made not God their defence, but put their truſt in them, and were therefore nowe puniſhed, they ſhall feare leſt the like light vpon them. q Shall make one confeſſion of faith with the people of God: by the ſpeech of Canaan, meaning, the language, wherein God was then ſerued. r Shall renounce their ſuperſtitious, and proteſt to ſerue God aright. ſ Meaning, of fixe cities, five ſhould ſerue God, and the ſixt remaine in their wickedneſſe: and ſo of the ſixt part, there ſhould be but one loſt.

5 Then the waters of the ſea ſhal faile, and the riuier ſhalbe dried vp, and waſted.

6 And theſe riuers ſhal goe farre away: the riuers of defence ſhal be emptied, and dried vp: the reedes and flagges ſhalbe cut downe.

7 The graſſe in the riuier, and at the head of the riuers, and all that groweth by the riuier, ſhal wither, and be diuyn away, and be no more.

8 The fiſhers alſo ſhal moune, and al thep that caſt angle into the riuier, ſhal lament, and thep that ſpread their net vpon the waters, ſhalbe weakened.

9 Moreover, thep that worke in flare of diners ſorts, ſhalbe confounded, and thep that weaue nets.

10 For their nets ſhall bee broken, and all thep that make pondeſ, ſhall bee heauie in heart.

11 Surely the princes of Zoan are fooles: the counſell of the wiſe counſellers of Pharaoh is become fooliſh: how ſay pee vnto Pharaoh, I am the ſonne of the ancient kings?

12 Where are nowe the wiſe men, that they may tell thee, or map knowe what the Lorde of hoſtes hath determined againſt Egypt?

13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles: the princes of Egypt are deceived, they haue deceived Egypt, euen the counſellers of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the ſpirit of errors: and they haue cauſed Egypt to erre in euery worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his boimie.

15 Neither ſhall there be any worke in Egypt, which the head map doe, nor the taile, the branch nor the ruff.

16 In that day ſhall Egypt be like vnto women: for it ſhalbe afraid and feare becauſe of the moouing of the hande of the Lord of hoſtes, which he ſhaketh ouer it.

17 And the land of Iudah ſhalbe a feare vnto Egypt: merp one that maketh mention of it, ſhalbe afraid thereof, becauſe of the counſell of the Lord of hoſtes, which he hath determined vpon it.

18 In that day ſhall five cities in the land of Egypt ſpeake the language of Canaan, and ſhall ſware by the Lorde of hoſtes: one ſhalbe called the cite of deſtruction.

19 In that day ſhal the altar of the Lord bee in the middes of the land of Egypt, and a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lord.

20 And it ſhall bee for a ſigne and for a witneſſe vnto the Lord of hoſtes in the land of Egypt: for they ſhall cry vnto the Lord, becauſe of the oppreſſors, and he ſhall ſend them a Saviour and a great man, and ſhall deliuer them.

21 And the Lord ſhall be knowne of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians ſhall knowe the Lord in that day, and doe ſacrifice and oblation, and ſhall bowe vowes vnto the Lord, and performe them.

22 So the Lord ſhall ſmite Egypt, hee ſhall ſmite and heale it: for he ſhall reſtore vnto the Lord, and he ſhall be ſatisfied of them, and ſhall heale them.

23 In that day ſhal there be a path from Egypt to Aſſhur, and Aſſhur ſhall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Aſſhur: ſo the Egyptians ſhall worſhip with Aſſhur.

24 In that day ſhal Iſrael be the third with Egypt and Aſſhur, euen a bleſſing in the middes of the land.

25 For the Lord of hoſtes ſhall bleſſe it, ſaying, Bleſſed bee my people Egypt and Aſſhur, the worke of mine hands, and Iſrael mine inheritance, enemies of the Church, he ſheweth that the Gentiles and the Iewes ſhould be ioyned together in one faith and religion, and ſhould be all one ſolde vnder Chriſt their ſhepherd.

CHAP. XX.

2 The three yeres captiuitie of Egypt & Ethiopia deſcribed by the three yeres going naked of Iſaiah. I In the peere that Tarraan came to Iſaiah I doo, (wher Sargon king of Aſſhur ſent him) and had fought againſt Iſaiah, and taken it.

2 At the ſame time ſhake the Lorde by the hand of Iſaiah the ſonne of Amos, ſaying, Doe, and looſe the ſackcloth from thy loynes, & put off thy ſhooe from thy foote. And hee did ſo, walking naked, & barefoote.

3 And the Lord ſaid, like as my ſeruant Iſaiah hath walked naked, and barefoote three yeres, as a ſigne and wonder vpon Egypt, and Ethiopia,

4 So ſhall the King of Aſſhur take away the captiuitie of Egypt, and the captiuitie of Ethiopia, both pong men and old men, naked and barefoote, with their buttocks vnconered, to the ſhame of Egypt.

5 And they ſhall feare, and be aſhamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their gloie.

6 Then ſhall the inhabitant of this eple ſay in that day, Beholde, ſuch is our expectation, whither we ſecke for helpe to be deliuered from the King of Aſſhur, & how ſhall we be deliuered?

1 Of the deſtruction of Babylon by the Perſians & Medes. 11 The ruine of Idumea, 13 and of Arabia.

4 Mine heart failed: fearefullnesse troubled me: the night of my pleasures hath he turned into feare vnto me.

5 Prepare thou the table: watch in the watch towre: eat, drinke: arise, ye princes, anout the shield.

6 For thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Goe, set a watchman, to tell what he seeth.

7 And he lawe a charer with two horses: men: a charer of an asse, and a charer of a camel: and he hearkened and tooke diligent heede.

8 And hee cried, A lion: my Lord, I stand continually vpon the watch towre in the day time, and I am set in my watch euery night.

CHAP. XXII.

1 He prophesieth of the destruction of Ierusalem by Nebuchad-nezzar. 15 A threatening against Sheba. 20 To whose office Eliakim is preferred.

The burden of the valley of vision. a Meaning, Iudaea, which was compassed about with mountaines, and was called the valley of visions, because of the Prophets which were alwayes there, whom they named Seers.

1 What apleth ther now that thou art whole gone vnto the house tops? b He speaketh to Ierusalem, whose inhabitants were fled and lay hid in the mountains.

2 Thou that art full of c people, a cite full of bulke, a populous cite: thy flame men shall not be flame d with wood, nor die in battell.

3 All thy princes shall flee together from the bowe: thy shalbe e bound: all that shall be found in thee, shall be bound together, which haue fled from feare.

4 Therefore sayd I, Turne away from me: I will weepe bitterly: labour not to comfort mee for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of ruine, and of perperitie by the Lord God of hostes in the valley of vision, breaking downe the cite: and a crying vnto the mountaines.

6 I And Elam bare the quiver in a mans charer with horsemen, and his bow covered the shield.

7 And the chiefe balles were full of charers, and the horsemen for themselves gathered in aray against the gate.

8 And hee discovered the h covering of captiuitie. Iudah: and thou diddest looke in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.

9 And ye haue sene the beaches of the cite of David: for they were many, and ye gathered the waters of the lower poole.

10 And ye numbered the houses i of Ierusalem, and the houses haue ye broken downe to foule the wall.

11 And haue also made a ditch betwene the two walles, for the waters of the olde poole, and haue not looked vnto the makt thereof, neither had respect vnto him that formed it of olde.

12 And in that day did the Lord God of hostes call vnto weeping and mourning, and to baldnesse and girding with sackes cloth.

13 And behold, ioy and gladnesse, singing oren and killing sheepe, eating flesh, and i Hee putteth them in minde howe God deliuered them once from Saneherib, who brought the Persians and Cyrenians with him, that they might by returning to God, auoyde that great plague which they shoulde els suffer by Nebuchad-nezzar. k The secrete place where the armour was: to wit, in the house of the forest, 1. King. 7. 2. l Ye fortified the ruinous places, which were neglected in time of peace: meaning, the whole cite and the cite of David, which was within the compass of the other. m Eather to pull downe such as might hurt, or els to knowe what men they were able to make. n To provide if neede shoulde bee of water. o To God that made Ierusalem: that is, they trusted more in the worldly meanes then in God.

p In steade of repentance yee were ioyfull and made great chere, contemning the admonitions of the Prophets, saying, Let vs eate and drinke: for our Prophets say, that we shall die to morowe. q Because the Ebrewe worde doeth also signifye one that doeth nourish and cherish, there are of the learned that thinke, that this wicked man did nourish secret friendship with the Assyrians and Egyptians, to betray the Church, and to promise for himselfe against all dangers: in the meane season he packt craftily and gate of the best offices into his hand vnder Hezekiah, encouraging to the best.

r Meaning, that he was a stranger and came vp of nothing.

s Where as he thought to make his name immortal by his famous sepulchre, he died most miserably among the Assyrians. t Signifying that whatsoever dignitie the wicked attaine vnto, at length it will turne to the shame of those Princes, by whom they are preferred.

u To be steward againe, out of the which office he had bene put by the craft of Shebna. x I will commit vnto him the full charge and gouernement of the Kings house. y I will establish him and confirme him in his office: of this phrase, see Ezra 9. 2. z Meaning, that both small and great that shall come of Eliakim, shall haue praise and glory by this faithfull officer. a Hee meaneth Shebna, who in mans iudgement should neuer haue fallen.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 A prophecie against Tyrus. 17 A promise that it shall be restored.

The burden of Tyrus. Howle, ye ships of Tarshish: for it is destroyed, so that there is none house: none shall come from the land of Chittim: it is reuelled vnto drinking wine, & eating and drinking: for them to morowe we shall die.

14 And it was declared in the eares of the Lorde of hostes. Surely this iniquitie shall not be purged from you, till yee die, saith the Lorde God of hostes.

15 Thus saith the Lorde God of hostes, God, get thee to that streake river, to Shebna, the Steward of the house, and say, 16 What hast thou to doe heere? and whom hast thou heere? that thou shouldst here helpe thee out a sepulchre as hee that helueth our his sepulchre in an he place, or that graue in an habitation: for himselfe in a rocke?

17 Beholde, the Lorde will carie thee away with a great captiuitie, and will surely carry thee.

18 He will surely rolle & turne thee like a ball in a large countrey: there shalt thou die, and there the charres of thy glory shall be the shame of thy Lords house.

19 And I will dine ther fro thy station, & out of thy dwelling will I destroy thee.

20 And in that day will I call my seruant Eliakim the sonne of Bilkai, 21 And with thy garments will I clothe him, and with thy girdle will I strengthen him: thy power also will I commit vnto his hand, and he shall be a father of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the house of Iudah.

22 And the key of the house of Dauid will I lay vpon his shoulder: so he shall open and no man shall shut: and he shall shut and no man shall open.

23 And I will fasten him as a naple in a fire place, and he shall be for the throne of glorie to his fathers house.

24 And thou shalt hang vpon him all the glorie of his fathers house, euen of the nephews & posteritie: all small vessels, from the vessels of the cuppes, euen to all the instruments of musick.

25 In that day, saith the Lorde of hostes, shall the nalle, that is fastened in the fire place, depart & shall be broken, and fall: and the burden, that was vpon it, shall be cut off: for the Lorde hath spoken it.

2 Be still, ye that dwell in the ples: the marchants of Zidon, & such as passe ouer the sea, haue I reuelled thee.

3 The seede of Iulius growing by the abundance of waters, and the harvest of the river was her reuenues, & she was a mart of the nations.

4 Be ashamed, thou Zidon: for the he hath spoken, euen the strength of the sea, saying, I haue not reauiled, nor brought forth children, neither nourished young men, nor brought by virgins.

5 When the same commeth to the Egyptians, they shall bee sone, concerning the ruinion of Tyus.

6 Go ye ouer to Tarshish: howle, ye that dwell in the ples.

7 Is not this that poue glorious citie? her antiquitie is of ancient dayes: her owne feete shall leade her a farre off to bee a fortourner.

8 Who hath decreed this against Tyus (that crownieth men) whose marchants are princes? whose chapmen are the nobles of the world?

9 The Lorde of hostes hath decreed this, to stame the pride of all glory, and to bring to contempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Passe through thy land like a flood to the daughter of Tarshish: there is no moze strength.

11 Hee stretched out his hand vpon the sea: hee spooke the kingdoms: the Lorde hath giuen a commaundement concerning the place of merchandise, to destroy the power thereof.

12 And he said, Thou shalt no moze reioyce when thou art oppressed: o virgin daughter of Zidon, rise vp, goe ouer vnto Chittim: per there thou shalt haue no rest.

13 Behold the land of Chaldeans: this was no people: I shall founde it by the inhabitants of the wilderness: they set by the towres thereof: they raped the palaces thereof and he brought it to ruine.

14 Howle ye ships of Tarshish, for your strength is destroyed.

15 And in that day shall Tyus bee forgotten for euerie seientie yeres, (according to the peeres of one King) at the ende of seientie yeres shall Tyus sing as an harlot.

16 Take an harpe, and go about the citie: (thou harlot that hast bene forgotten) make sweete melodie, sing mine songs that thou maiest be remembered.

17 And at the end of seientie peeres shall the Lord visit Tyus, and she shall reuerne to her y wages, & shall commit fornication f Haue haunted thee, and enriched thee.

g Meaning, the come of Egypt which was led by the ouerflowing of Nilus.

h That is, Tyrus, which was the chiefe port of the sea.

i I haue no people lett in me, and am as a barren woman that neuer had childre.

k Because these two countreys were ioyned in league together.

l Tyrus will ether other marchants to goe to Cilicia, and to come no more there.

m Who maketh her marchants like Princes.

n Thy strength will no more serue thee: therefore flee to other countreys for succour.

o For Tyus was neuer touched nor afflicted before.

p Because Tyus was buyle by them of Zidon.

q The Chaldeans which dwelt in tents in the wilderness, were gathered by the Assyrians into cities.

r The people of the Chaldeans destroyed the Assyrians: whereby the Prophee meaneth, that seeing the Chaldeans were able to ouercome the Assyrians, which were so great a nation, much more shall these two nations of Calde and Assyria bee able to ouerthrow Tyus.

s That is, Tyrus, by whome yee are enriched. t Tyus shall be destroyed seientie yeres, which hee calleth the reigne of one King, or a mansage. u Shall vyle all craft and subtiltie to entise men againe to her. x Shee shall labour by all meanes to recover her first estate, as an harlot when shee is long forgotten, seeketh by all meanes to enteraine her louers. y Though shee haue bene chastised of the Lorde, yet she shall returne to her olde wicked practices, and for gaine shall giue her selfe to all mens lusts like an harlot.

with all the kingdomes of the earth, that are in the world.

c The rage of the wicked is furious, till God breake the force thereof.

f Meaning, that as the heare is abated by the raine, so shall

God bring downe the rage of the wicked.

g As a cloude shadoweth from the heate of the sunne, so shall

God assuage the reioicing of the wicked against the godly.

h To wit, in Zion, whereby he meaneth his Church, which should vnder

Christ be assembled of the Jewes, and the Gentiles, and is here described

i Meaning that ignorance and blindness, whereby we are kept backe from Christ.

k He will take away all occasions of sorow, and fill his with perforce.

l By Moab are meant all the enemies of his Church.

m There were two cities of this name: one in Iudah, 1. Chron. 2. 49. and another in the land of Moab, Iere. 48. 2. which seemeth to have bene a plentifull place of come, Chap. 10. 31.

n Meaning, that the reprobate, even in this life shall have the beginning of euerlasting death.

o To wit, the companie of the faithfull by the calling of the Gentiles.

p That is, the faithfull by the rodes were moored to pray vnto thee for deliuerance.

q To wit, in extreme sorowe.

r Our sorowes had none ende, neither did we enioy the comfort, that we looked for.

s The wicked and men without religion were not destroyed, t. He comforteth the faithfull in their afflictions, shewing them that euen in death they shall haue life: and that they should most certainly rise to glories.

u As herbes, dead in winter, flourish againe by the raine in the spring time: so they that lie in the dust, shall rise to ioy when they feele the dewe of Gods grace, x. He exhorteth the faithfull to be patient in their afflictions, and to waite vpon Gods worke.

v I. i. i. earth.

e of the mightie is like a stoupe against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noyle of the strangers, ^f as the heate in a drie place: he will bring downe the song of the mightie, as ^g the heate in the shadowe of a cloude.

6 And in this ^h mountaine shall the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fatte things, euen a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marrowe, of wines fined and purified.

7 And hee will destroy in this mountaine: the couering that couereth all people, and the baile that is spied vpon all nations.

8 We will destroy death for euer: and the Lord God will ^k wipe away the teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people will hee take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Loe, this is our God: we haue waited for him, and he will saue vs. This is the Lord, wee haue waited for him: wee will reioyce and be fowell in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hand of the Lord rest, and Boab shall be threshed vnder him, euen as strawe is threshed in ^m Babinenah.

11 And hee shall stretch out his hand in the middes of them (as he that swimmereth, stretcheth them out to swimme) and with the strength of his handes shall hee bring downe their pride.

12 The defence also of the height of thy walles shall hee bring downe, and lay lowe, and cast them to the ground, euen vnto the dust.

CHAP. XXVI.

A song of the faithfull, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the saluation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

1 That day shall ^a this song be sung in the land of Iudah, ^b wee haue a strong citie: saluation shall God set for walles and bulwarkes.

2 ^c Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation, which keepeth the trueth, may enter in.

3 By an assured ^d purpose wilt thou preserve perforce peace, because they trusted in thee.

4 Trust in the Lord for euer: for in the Lord God is strength for euermore.

5 For hee will bring downe them that dwell on hie: ^e the hie citie he will abate: euen vnto the ground will he cast it downe, and bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote shall treade it downe, euen the feete of the ^f poore, and the steppes of the needie.

7 The way of the iust is righteousness: thou wilt make equal the righteous path of the iust.

8 Also we, O Lord, haue waited for thee in the way of thy iudgements: the desire of our soule is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soule haue I desired thee in the night, and with my spirit within mee will I seeke thee in the morning: for leauing the iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shall learne ^h righteousness.

10 Let mercy be shewed to the wicked, yet he will not learne righteousness: in the land of vngiftednesse he do wickedly, and will not behold the maiestie of the Lord.

11 O Lord, they will not behold thine hie hand: but they shall see it, and be confounded with ^k the zeale of the people, and the fire of thine ^l enemies shall deuoure them.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou wilt ordaine peace: for thou also hast brought all our workes for vs.

13 O Lord our God, other ^m lordes beside thee haue ruled vs, but we will remember thee onely, and thy name.

14 The dead shall not liue, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memorie.

15 Thou hast increased the ⁿ nation, O Lord: thou hast increased the nation: thou art made glorious: thou hast enlarged all the coastes of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they ^p visited thee: they pouered out a prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with childe, that diueth neere to the trauaile, is in sorowe, and cryeth in her paynes, so haue wee bene in thy ^q sight, O Lord.

18 We haue concured, we haue borne in paine, as though wee should haue brought forth ^r winde: there was no helpe in the earth, neither did the inhabitants of ^s the world fall.

19 ^t Thy dead men shall liue: euen with my body shall they rise. Awake, and sing, yee that dwell in dust: for thy ^u dewe is as the dewe of herbes, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: ^v enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores after thee: hide thy selfe for a very little while, vntill the indignation passe ouer.

21 For loe, The Lord cometh out of his place, to visit the iniquitie of the inhabitants of the earth vpon them: and the 22 I. i. i. earth.

23 I. i. i. earth.

24 I. i. i. earth.

Y The earth shall vomit and cast out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may crye for vengeance against the wicked.

CHAP. XXVII.
A prophesie against the kingdome of Satan, 2 And of the ioy of the Church for their deliuerance.

1 That a day the Lord with his fore and great and mightie sword shall visite Liuiathan, that peering serpent, euen Liuiathan, that crooked serpent, and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyard of red wine.

3 If the Lord doe keepe it: I will water it euery moment: lest any assaile it, I will keepe it night and day.

4 Anger is not in me: who would set the byers and the thornes against mee in battell? I would goe through them, I would burne them together.

5 Will hee feeble my strength, that he may make peace with mee, and bee at one with mee?

6 Hereafter, Iacob shall take roote: Israel shall flourish and grow, and the world shall be filled with fruit.

7 Hath hee smitten him as hee smote those that smite him? or is hee slaine according to the laughter of them that were slaine by him?

8 In a measure in the branches thereof wilt thou contend with it, when hee bloweth with his rough winde in the day of the Eastwinde.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquitie of Iacob bee purged, and this is all the fruit, the taking away of his sinne: when hee shall make all the stones of the altars, as chalke stones broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not stand by.

10 Yet the defended citie shall be desolate, and the habitation shall be forsaken, and left like a wilderness. There shall the calfe feede, and there shall hee lie, and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughes of it are drie, they shall be broken: the women come, and let them on fire: for it is a people of none understanding: therefore he that made them, shall not haue compassion of them, and hee that formed them, shall haue no mercie on them.

12 And in that day shall the Lord thresh from the channell of the River, vnto the river of Egypt, and yee shall bee gathered spring againe and bring forth in great abundance. g He sheweth that God punisheth his in mercie, and his enemies in iustice. h That is, thou wilt not destroy the roote of thy Church, though the branches thereof seeme to perish by the sharpe winde of affliction. i He sheweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all idolatrie, and the monuments thereof destroyed. k Notwithstanding his fauour that hee will shewe them after: yet Ierusalem shall be destroyed, and grasse for cattell shall growe in it. l God shall not haue neede of mightie enemies: for the very women shall doe it, to their great shame. m Hee shall destroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for some fled toward Egypt, thinking to haue escaped.

one by one, O children of Israel.

13 In that day also shall the great trumpet be blown, and they shall come, which perished in the land of Assur: and they that were chased into the land of Egypt, and they shall worshippinge the Lord in the holy mount at Ierusalem.

CHAP. XXVIII.
Against the pride and drunkennesse of Israel. 9 The vntowardnesse of them that should learne the word of God. 24 God doth all things in time and place.

Wards of Ephraim: for his glorious beautie shall be a fading flour, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and are ouercome with wine.

2 Beholde, the Lord hath a mightie and strong holte, like a tempest of haile, and a whirlewinde that overthroweth, like a tempest of mightie waters that ouerflowe, which thewe to the ground mightily.

3 They shall bee troden vnder foote, euen the crowne and the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beautie shall bee a fading flour, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and as the hasty fruite afoye summer, which when hee that looketh vpon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hostes be for a crowne of glorie, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the residue of his people:

6 And for a spirite of iudgement to him that stretch in iudgement, and for strength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate.

7 But they haue erred because of wine, and are out of the way by strong drinke: the priest and the prophet haue erred by strong drinke: they are swallowed vp with wine: they haue gone astray though strong drinke: they faile in vision: they stumble in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are full of filthie vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 Whome shall hee teach knowledge? and whome shall hee make to vnderstand the things that hee heareth? them that are weyned from the milke and drawen from the breastes.

10 For precept must bee vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little, and there a little.

11 For with a stammering tongue and with a strange language shall he speake vnto this people.

12 Vnto whom I haue sayde, This is the a Meaning, the hypocrites, which were among them, and were all together corrupt in life and doctrine, which is here meant by drunkennesse and vomiting. b For there was none that was able to vnderstand any good doctrine: but were foolish, and as vnmeete as yong babes. c They must haue one thing of times tolde. d Let one teach what hee can, yet they shall no more vnderstand him, then if hee spake in a strange language. e That is, the Prophet whom God shoulde send. f This is the doctrine, whereupon ye ought to stay and rest.

n Shew to them that are wearie and haue neede of rest, what is the true rest.
o Because they will not receiue the word of God when it is offered, it cometh of their owne malice, if after their hearts be so heardene, that they care not for it, as before, Chap. 6.9.
p They thought they had snuffe to auoide Gods iudgements, and that they could escape though all other perished.
q Though the prophets condemned their idols, and vaine trust of falsehood, and vannie, yet the wicked thought in themselves that they woulde trust in these things.
r That is, Christ, by whome all the building must be tryed, and vpbolden, Plal. 118. 22. mat. 21. 42. act. 4. 11. rom. 9. 33. 1. pet. 2. 6.
s He shall be quier, and seeke none other remedies, but be content with Christ.
t In the restitution of his Church, iudgement and iustice shall reigne.
u Gods corrections & affliction.
x Affliction shall discouer their vaine confidence, which they kept secret to themselves, y Terror and destruction shall make you to learne that which exhortations and gentleness could not bring you vnto, z Your affliction shall be so sore that you are not able to endure it, a When Dauid ouercame the Phillisims, 2. Sam. 5. 20. 1. Chron. 14. 11. b Where Ioshua discomfited five kings of the Amorites, Iosh. 10. 12. c As the plowman hath his appointed time, and diuers instruments for his labour, so hath the Lorde for his vengeance: for he punisheth some at one time, and some at another, some after one sort, and some after another, so that his chosen seede is beaten, and tryed, but not broken, as are the wicked, rest: ^a give rest to him that is wearie: and this is the refreshing, but they woulde not heare.

13 Therefore shal the word of the ^o Lord bee vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle and there a litle, that they may goe and fall backward, and be broken and be snared and be taken,
14 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, yee scornfull men that rule this people, which is at Ierusalem.
15 Because ye haue sayd, We haue made a ^p covenant with death, and with hell are wee at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, and passe through, it shal not come at vs: for wee haue made a falshood our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid.
16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will lay in Zion a stone, a tryed stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation. He that beleueth, ^q shal not make haste.
17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule and ^r righteousness to the ballance, and the ^s haile shal sweep away the vaine confidence, and the waters shal ouerflowe ^t the secret place.
18 And your covenant with death shal be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shal not stand: when a scourge shal runne ouer and passe through, then shal yee be trode downe by it.
19 When it passech ouer, it shal take you away: for it shal passe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there shal bee ^u no goyng by yee to make you to vnderstand the hearing.
20 For the ^v beddes ^w strait that it can not suffice, and the covering narrowe that one cannot wrap himselfe.
21 For the Lord shal stand as in mount ^x Iherusalem: he shal be woth as in the valley ^y of ^z Sion, that he may do his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his act, his strange act.
22 How therefore bee ye no mockers, lest your bonds increase: for I haue heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.
23 Hearken yee, and heare my voyce: hearken ye, and heare my speech.
24 Doeth the plowman plowe all the day, to sowe? doeth he open, and breake the clots of his ground?
25 When he hath made it ^a plaine, will he not then sowe the sitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appointed barley and rie in their place?

26 For his God doeth instruct him to haue discretion, and doeth teach him.
27 For sitches shal not be threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shal a cart wheele be turned about vpon the cummin: but the sitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.
28 Bread come when it is threshed, he doeth not alway thresh it, neither doeth the wheele of his carte full make a noyse, neither will he breake it with the teethe thereof.
29 This also cometh from the Lorde of hostes, which is wonderful in counsaile, and excellent in workes.
C H A P. XXIX.
1 A prophesie against Ierusalem, 13 The vengeance of God on them that followe the traditions of men.
A ^b Altar, altar of the cite that Dauid dwelt in: adde yeere vnto yeere: ^c let them kill lambses.
2 But I will bring the altar into distresse, and there shal be heauynesse and sorrow, and it shal be vnto me like ^d an altar.
3 And I will besiege thee as a circle, and fight against thee on a mount, and will cast vp ramparts against thee.
4 So shalt thou bee humbled, and shalt speake out of the ^e ground, and thy speech shal bee as out of the dust: thy voyce also shal be out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shal whisper out of the dust.
5 Moreover, the multitude of thy ^f strangers shal be like snail dust, and the multitude of strong men shal be as chaffe that passeth away, and it shal bee in a moment, euen suddenly.
6 Thou shalt bee visited of the Lorde of hostes with thunder, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirlewind, and a tempest, and a flame of deuouring fire.
7 And the ^g multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shal bee as a dreame or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holdes against it, and lay siege vnto it.
8 And it shal bee like as an hungry man dreameth, and behold, hee ^h eateth: and when hee awaketh, his soule is empty: or like as a thirstie man dreameth, and loe, he is drinke, and when he awaketh, behold, hee is faint, and his soule longeth: so shal the multitude of all nations bee that fight against mount Zion.

CHAP. XXX.

i Meaning, that it is all alike, either to read, or not to read, except God open the hart to vnderstand.
k Because they are hypocrites and not sincere in heart, as Mat. 23. 5. 8.
l That is, their religion was learned by mans doctrine, and not by my word.
m Meaning, that whereas God is not worshipped according to his word, both magistrates and ministers are but fooles, and without vnderstanding.
n This is spoken of them, which in heart despise Gods word, and mocked at the admonitions, but outwardly bare a good face.
o For all your craft, sayth the Lorde, you can not be able to escape mine hands, no more then the clay, that is in the potters hands, hath power to deliuer it selfe.
p Shal there not be a change of all things, and Carmel, that is a plentiful place in respect of that it shall be then, may be taken as a forest, as Chap. 32. 15. and thus he speaketh to comfort the faithfull.
q They that went about to finde fault with the Prophets wordes, and would not abide admonitions, but would intangle them and bring them into danger. r Signifying, that except God giue vnderstanding, and knowledge, man can not but still erre and murmur against him.

spirite of slumber, and hath shut vp your eyes: the Prophets, and your chiefe Seers hath he covered.
 11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. Then shall hee say, I can: not: for it is sealed.
 12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that cannot reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. And hee shall say, I can not reade.
 13 Therefore the Lorde said, Because this people come neere vnto mee with their mouth, and honour mee with their lippes, but haue remooued their heart farre from me, & their i feare toward me was taught by the precept of men, 14 Therefore behold, I will againe doe a marvellous worke in this people, euen a maruileous worke, and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shall be hid.
 15 Vnto them that seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Lorde: for their workes are in darkenesse, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?
 16 Your turning of deuiſes shall it not be esteemed: as the potters claye? for shall the worke say of him that made it, Hee made me not? or the thing foined, say of him that fashioned it, Hee hath none vnderstanding?
 17 Is it not yet but a litle while, and Lebanon shall be turned vnto Carmel? and Carmel shall be counted as a forest?
 18 And in that day shall the deafe heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde shall see out of obſcuritie, and out of darkenesse.
 19 The meeke in the Lorde shall receiue ioy againe, and the poore men shall reioyce in the holy one of Israel.
 20 For the cruell man shall cease, & the scornfull shall be consumed: and all that haſted to iniquitie shall be cut off:
 21 Which made a man to sinne in the word, andooke him in a ſnare: which repproued them in the gate, and made the iuſt to fall without cauſe.
 22 Therefore thus ſaith the Lorde vnto the houſe of Iacob, euen hee that redeemed Abraham, Iacob ſhall not now be confounded, neither now ſhall his face be pale.
 23 But when he ſeeth his children, the worke of mine handes, in the mids of him, they ſhall ſanctifie my name, and ſanctifie the holy one of Iacob, and ſhall feare the God of Iſrael.
 24 Then they that erred in ſpirit, ſhall haue vnderſtanding, and they that were mured, ſhall learne doctrine.

1 Hereproueth the lawes which in their aduerſity they vſed their owne counſels, 2 And ſought helpe of the Egyptians, 10 Deſpiſing the Prophets. 16 Therefore hee ſheweth what deſtruction ſhall come vpon them, 18 But offereth mercy to the repentant.
Vnto the rebellious children, ſayth the Lorde, that take counſel, but not of me, and couer with a ſcrueling, but not by my Spirit, that they may lay ſinne vpon ſinne:
 2 Which walke forth to goe downe into Egypt, and haue not asked at my mouth) to ſtrengthen themſelues with the ſtrength of Pharaoh, and truſt in the ſhadowe of Egypt.
 2 But the ſtrength of Pharaoh ſhall be your ſhame, and the truſt in the ſhadowe of Egypt your confuſion.
 4 For his princes were at Zoan, and his Ambaſſadours came vnto Hanes.
 5 They ſhall beall aſhamed of the people that cannot proſite them, nor helpe nor doe them good, but ſhall be a ſhame and alſo a reproch.
 6 The burden of the beaſtes of the South, in a land of trouble and anguiſh, from whence ſhall come the yong and olde lyon, the viper, & a ſerie flying ſerpent againſt them that ſhall beare their riches vpon the ſhoulders of the coltes, and their treaſures vpon the bunches of the Camels, to a people that can not proſite.
 7 For the Egyptians are vanities, and they ſhall helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vnto her, Their ſtrength is to ſtill.
 8 Now goe, and write it before them in a table, and note it in a booke that it may be for the laſt day for euer and euer:
 9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children and children that would not heare the Law of the Lorde.
 10 Which lay vnto the Seers, Set not: and to the Prophets, Propheſie not vnto vs right things: but ſpake flattering things vnto vs: propheſie errorours.
 11 Depart out of the way: goe aſide out of the path: cauſe the holy one of Iſrael to ceaſe from vs.
 12 Therefore thus ſayth the holy one of Iſrael, Becauſe ye haue caſt off this word, and truſt in violence and wickedneſſe, and ſtay there vpon,
 13 Therefore this iniquitie ſhall be vnto you as a breach that falleth, or a ſwellung in an hie wall, whoſe breaking cometh ſuddenly in a moment,
 14 And the breaking thereof, is like the breaking of a potters pottre, which is broken without pittie, and in the breaking thereof is not founde a heerd to take fire out of the hearth, or to take wa:

a Who contrary to their promes, take not me for their protector, and contrary to my commandement ſeeke helpe at ſtrangers.
b They ſeeke ſhifts to cloke their doings, and not godly meanes.
c The chiefe of Iſrael went into Egypt in ambuſſe to ſeeke helpe, and a broode at theſe cities.
d That is, a heauie ſentence or propheſie againſt the beaſtes that caried their treaſures into Egypt, by the wilderneſſe, which was South from Iudah: ſignifying that if the beaſtes ſhould not be ſpared, the men ſhould be puniſhed much more grievouſly.
e To wit, to Ieruſalem.
f And not to come to and fro to ſeeke helpe.
g That is, this prophecie.
h That it may be a witneſſe againſt them for all poſteritie.
i He ſheweth what was the cauſe of their deſtruction, and bringeth alſo all miſerie to man: to wit, becauſe they would not heare the worde of God, but delited to bee flattered, and led in error, k Threaten vs not by the word of God, neither be ſo rigorous, nor talke vnto vs in the Name of y Lord, as Iere. 17. 1. l Meaning, in their ſubburnneſſe againſt God, and the admonitions of his Prophets. m Signifying, that the deſtruction of the wicked ſhall be without recourſe.

n Oft times by his prophets he put you in remembrance of this, that you should onely depend on him.

o We will trust to escape by our horses.

p Whereas all the trees are cut downe save two or three to make staves, q He commendeth the great mercies of God, who with patience waiteth to call sinners to repentance.

r Not onely in punishing, but in vying moderation in the same, as Iere. 10. 24. and 30. 11.

Or, instructiour.

s God shall direct all thy wayes, and appoint thee how to goe either higher or thither.

t Ye shall cast away your idoles which you haue made of golde, siluer, with all that belongeth vnto them, as a most filthy thing, and polluted.

u Shewing, that there can be no true repentance, except both in heart and deede we shewe our lues enemies to idolatrie.

v By these diuers aniers of speech he sheweth that the felicity of the Church shall be so great, that none is able sufficiently to express it.

w When the Church shall be adorned, the glory thereof shall be seuen times the brightnesse of the sunne: for by the sunne and moone, which are two excellent creatures, hee sheweth what shall be the glory of the children of God in the kingdom of Christ. This threatening is against the Assyrians, the chief enemies of the people of God.

ter out of the pit.

15 For thus saith the Lord God, the holy one of Israel, in rest and quietnesse shall ye be lauded: in quietnesse and in confidence shall be your strength, but ye would not.

16 For ye haue sayd, No, but we will flee away vpon horses. Therefore shall ye flee. Wee will ride vpon the swiftest. Therefore shall your persecuters be swifter.

17 A thousand as one shall see at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of five shall ye flee, till ye be left as a skynne mast vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a broken vpon an hill.

18 Yet therefore will the Lord waite, that hee may haue mercy vpon you, and therefore will hee be exalted, that hee may haue compassion vpon you: for the Lord is the God of iudgement. Blessed are all they that waite for him.

19 Surely a people shall dwell in Zion, and in Ierusalem: thou shalt weepe no more: hee will certainly haue mercy vpon thee at the voyce of thy crye: when hee heareth thee, he will and were thee.

20 And when the Lord hath giuen: in the bread of aduersitie, and the water of affliction, thy raine shall be no more kept backe, but thine eyes shall see thy raine.

21 And thine eares shall heare a worde behinde thee, saying, This is the way, walke pee in it, when thou turnest to the right hand, and when thou turnest to the left.

22 And ye shall pollute the couering of the images of siluer, and the rich ornament of thine images of golde, & cast them away as a menstruous cloth, and thou shalt say vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall hee giue raine vnto thy seede, when thou shalt towe the ground, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fatte, and as oyle: in that day shall thy cattel be fedde in large pastures.

24 The oren also and the yong asses, that till the ground, shall eate cleane prouender, which is winnowed with the shoouel, and with the fanne.

25 And vpon euery hie mountaine, and vpon euery hie hill shall there be riuers and streames of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towres shall fall.

26 Moreouer, the light of the moone shall be as the light of the sunne, and the light of the sunne shall be seuen fold, and like the light of seuen dayes in the day that the Lord shall binde by the breach of his people, and heale the stroke of their wound.

27 Beholde, the name of the Lord cometh from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heaue: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a deuouring fire.

28 And his spirit is as a riuier that ouerfloweth vnto the necke: it diuindeth asunder, to fanne the nations with the fanne of banittie, and there shall be a hyde to cause them to erre in the chawes of the people.

29 But there shall be a song vnto you as in the night, when a solenne feast is kept: and gladnesse of heart, as he that cometh with a pipe to goe vnto the mount of the Lord, to the mightie one of Israel.

30 And the Lord shall cause his glorious voyce to be heard, and shall declare the lighting downe of his arme with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fire, with scattering and tempest, and hailestones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lord shall Achor be destroyed, which smote with the rodde.

32 And in euery place that the staffe shall passe, it shall cleave fast, which the Lord shall lay vpon him with tabrets & harpes: and with battels, and sitting vp of hands shall he fight against it.

33 For Tophet is prepared of olde: it is euen prepared for the King: hee hath made it deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lord, like a riuier of brimstone, doth kinde it.

1 He curseth them that forsake God, and seeke for the helpe of men.

WDe vnto them that goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and stay vpon horses, and trust in charrets, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they be very strong: but they looke not vnto the holy one of Israel, nor seeke vnto the Lord.

2 But he yet is wise: therefore he will bring euill, and not turne backe his worde, but hee will arise against the house of the wicked, and against the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

3 Nowe the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their horses flesh, and not spirit: and when the Lord shall stretch out his hand, the helper shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall, and they shall altogether faile.

4 For thus hath the Lord spoken vnto me, As the lyon or lions whelpes roareth vpon his praye, against whome if a multitude of shepheards be called, hee will not bee afrayde at their voyce, neither will he humble himselfe at their noyse: so shall

Mat. 23. 37. f He toucheth their conscience that they might earnestly feele their grievous sinnes, and so truly repent, forasmuch as now they are almost drowned, and past recoverie. g By these fruites your repentance shall be known, as Chap. 3. 18. h When your repentance appeareth. i This was accomplished soone after when Saneheribs armie was discomfited, and hee fled to his castle in Nineueh for succour. k To destroy his enemies.

6 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood: it is made fatte with the fatte and with the blood of the Lambs and the goates, with the fatte of the kidneis of the Rammes: for the Lord hath a sacrifice in Bzrah, and a great laughter in the land of Edom.

7 And the Unicomes shall come downe with them, and the Heifers with the bulles, and their land shall bee drunken with blood, and their dust made fatte with fatnesse.

8 For it is the day of the Lords vengeance, and the yere of recompence for the iudgement of Zion.

9 And the riuers thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into Brimstone, and the land thereof shall be burning pitch.

10 It shall not bee quenched night nor day: the smoke thereof shall goe by evermore: it shall be desolate from generation to generation: none shall passe through it for euer.

11 But the Pelican and the Wedge-hogge shall possesse it, and the great owle, and the rauen shall dwell in it, and hee shall stretch out vpon it the line of banitie, and the stones of emptinesse.

12 The nobles thereof shall call to the kingdome, and there shall bee none, and all the princes thereof shall bee as nothing.

13 And it shall bring forth thornes in the palaces thereof, nettles and thistles in the strong holdes thereof, and it shall be an habitation for dragons, and a court for ostriches.

14 There shall meete also Zim and Jim, and the Sayre shall cry to his fellowe, and the hichobole shall rest there, and shall finde for her selfe a quiet dwelling.

15 There shall the owle make her nest, and lave, and hatche, and gather them vnder her shadowe: there shall the vultures also be gathered, euery one with her make.

16 Seeke in the booke of the Lord, and reade: none of these shall faile, none shall want her make: for his mouth hath commanded, and his very Sprite hath gathered them.

17 And hee hath cast the lot for them, and his hande hath deuised it vnto them by lot: they shall possesse it for euer: from generation to generation shall they dwell in it.

f Hee hath giuen the beasts and foules Idumea for an inheritance.

The desert and the wilderness shall reioyce: and the waste ground shall be glad and flourish as the rose.

2 It shall flourish abundantly, and shall greatly reioyce also and ioy: the glory of Lebanon shall be giuen vnto it: the beautie of Carmel, and Sharon, they shall see the glory of the Lorde, and the excellencie of our God.

3 Strengthen the weak handes, and comfort the feeble knees.

4 Say vnto them that are fearefull, Be ye strong, feare not: beholde, your God cometh with vengeance: euen God with a recompense, hee will come and saue you.

5 Then shall the eyes of the blinde bee lightened, and the eares of the deafe bee opened.

6 Then shall the lame man leape as an hart, and the dunne mans tongue shall sing: for in the wilderness shall waters breake out, and riuers in the desert.

7 And the dust ground shall bee as a pool, and the thirist as spings of water: in the habitation of dragons, where they lay, shall be a place for reeces and rushes.

8 And there shall be a path and a way, and the way shall be called holie: the polluted shall not passe by it: for hee shall be with them, and walke in the way, and the fooles shall not erre.

9 There shall be no lyon, nor noyome beasts shall ascend by it, neither shall they be found there, that the redeemed may walke.

10 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall returne and come to Zion with prayle: and euermlasting ioye shall bee vpon their heads: they shall obtaine ioye and gladnesse, and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

Saneherib sendeth Rabshakeh to besiege Ierusalem. 15 His blasphemies against God.

N Due in the fourteenth yere of king Hezekiah, Saneherib King of Assyrie came vp against all the strong cities of Iudab, and tooke them.

2 And the king of Assyrie sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Ierusalem, vnto King Hezekiah, with a great host, and hee stood by the conduit of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers filde.

a This historie is rehearsed because it is as a feale and confirmation of the doctrine afore, both for the threatnings and promises: to wit, that God would suffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length would sende deliuerance. b When ... had abolished superstition and idolatrie, and restored religion, yet God would exercise his Church to trie their faith and patience.

1 The great ioy of them that beloeue in Christ. 3 Their office which preach the Gospel. 8 The fruits that followe thereof.

e For he was now restored to his office, as Isaiah had prophesied, Chap. 22. 20.
 d This declareth that there were fewe godly to be found in y^e kings house, when he was dnuen to send this wicked man in such a weigheie matter.
 e Saneheribs chief captaine.
 f He speaketh thisin the person of Hezekiah falsely charging him that he put his trust in his wit and eloquence, whereas his onely confidence was in the Lord.
 g Satan laboured to pull the godly king from one vaine confidence to another, to wit, from trust in the Egyptians, whose power was weak and would deceive them, to yeelde himselfe to the Assyrians, and so not to hope for any helpe of God.
 h He reprocheth to Hezekiah his small power, which is not able to resist one of Saneheribs least captaines.
 i Thus the wicked to deceiue vs, will pretend the Name of the Lord, but we must trie the spirits, whether they be of God or no.
 k They were a frayde, lest by his words, he should haue stirred the people against the King, and also pretended to growe to some appointment with him. 4 Ebr. the water of their feet. 1 The Ebrewe word signifieth blessing; whereby this wicked captaine woulde haue persuaded the people, that their condition shoulde bee better vnder Saneherib then vnder Hezekiah.

some of Hezekiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chanceller, and Joah the sonne of Naph the recorder.

4 And ^h Kabbahkei say vnto them, Tell pou Hezekiah, I pray pou. Thus saith the great King, the King of Asshur, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, ⁱ Surely I haue eloquence, but counsell and strength are for the warre: on whom then dost thou trust, that thou resistest against me?

6 Loe, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reede on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it will geue into his hand, and pearce it: so is ^j Pharaoh King of Egypt, vnto all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to mee, Wee trust in the Loyde our God, Is not that hee, whose he places and whose altars Hezekiah tooke downe, and said to Iudah and to Ierusalem, ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the king of Asshur, and I wil giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders vpon them.

9 For how canst thou despise any captaine of the heale of my lords seruants: and put thy trust on Egypt for charrets and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come by without the lord to this land to destroy it? The Loyde said vnto me, Go by against this land and destroy it.

11 Then said Eliakim, and Shebna, and Joah vnto Kabbahkei, ^k Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language, (for we vnderstand it) and talke not with vs in the Jewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then said Kabbahkei, Hath my master sent mee to thy master, and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall, that they may eate their owne doung, and drinke their owne piss with you?

13 So Kabbahkei stood, and cried with a loud voyce in the Jewes language, and said, Heare the wordes of the great king, of the King of Asshur.

14 Thus saith the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Loyde, saying, The Loyde will surely deliuer vs: this cite shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Asshur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Asshur, Spake I appointment with me, and come out to me, that euerp man may eate of his owne vine, and euerp man of his owne figtree, and drinke euerp man the water of his owne well.

17 Till I come and bryng you to a lande like your owne land, euen a land of wheate and wine, a land of beead and vineyardes.

18 Least Hezekiah deceiue you, saying, The Loyde will deliuer vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

19 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharaim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

20 Who is hee among all the gods of these lands, that hath deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that ^l Loyd should deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they kept silence, and answered him not a word: for the Kings commandement was, saying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hezekiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chanceller, and Joah the sonne of Naph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and told him the wordes of Kabbahkei.

2 Hezekiah asketh counsell of Isaiah, who promyseth him the victorie. 10 The blasphemie of Saneherib. 16 Hezekiahs prayer. 36 The armie of Saneherib is slaine of the Angel, and hee himselfe of his owne sinnes.

And when the King Hezekiah heard it, ^a he rent his clothes, and put on sackes cloth, and came into the house of the Lord.

2 And he sent Eliakim the steward of the house, and Shebna the chanceller, with the elders of the Priestes, clothed in sackes cloth, vnto ^b Isaiah the Propheet, the sonne of Amos.

3 And they sayde vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemie: for the chyldren are come to the birth, and there is no strength to bryng forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath heard the wordes of Kabbahkei, whom the King of Asshur his master hath sent to rapple on the liuing God, and to reproch him with wordes which ^l Loyd thy God hath heard, then c life thou by thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of the King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah said vnto them, Thus say vnto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraide of the wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the King of Asshur haue blasphemed me.

and he ſhall heare a worſe, and returne to his owne land, and I will cauſe him to fall by the ſword in his owne land.

8 ¶ So Raſhahkei returned, and found the King of Aſſhur fighting againſt Libnah: for hee had heard that he was departed from Lachiſh.

9 Her heard alſo men ſay of Tirhakah, King of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight againſt thee: and when he heard it, he ſent other meſſengers to Hezekiah, ſaying,

10 Thus ſhalpe ſpeake to Hezekiah king of Iudah, ſaying, Ver not thy God deſtroy thee, in whom thou truſteſt, ſaying, Ieruſalem ſhall not be given into the hand of the King of Aſſhur.

11 Behold thou haſt heard what þ kings of Aſſhur haue done to all lands in deſtroying them, and ſhalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the nations deliuered them, which my fathers haue deſtroyed: as i Cozan, and k Yaran, and Iaceph, and the children of Eden, which were at Telaiſar?

13 Where is the King of Hamath, and the King of Sephar, and the King of the citie of Sepharuam, Hena, and Tuah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the meſſengers and read it, and he went vp into the houſe of the Lorde, and Hezekiah ſpread it before the Lorde.

15 And Hezekiah prayed vnto the Lorde, ſaying,

16 O Lord of hoſtes, God of Iſrael, which dwelleſt betwene the Cherubims, thou art verie God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou haſt made the heauen and the earth.

17 Encline thine eare, O Lord, & heare: open thine eyes, O Lord, and ſee, and heare all the words of Saneherib, who hath ſent to blaſpheme thee luing God.

18 Truerh it is, O Lord, that the Kings of Aſſhur haue deſtroyed all landes, and their countrey, 19 And haue caſt their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, euen wood or ſtone: therefore they deſtroyed them.

20 Nowe therefore, O Lorde our God, ſaue thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe, that thou onely art the Lorde.

21 ¶ Then Iſaiah the ſonne of Amos ſent vnto Hezekiah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lorde God of Iſrael, Becauſe thou haſt prayed vnto mee, concerning Saneherib King of Aſſhur, 22 This is the word that the Lorde hath ſpoken againſt him, The virgine, the daughter of Zion, hath deſpiſed thee, and laughed thee to ſcoffe: The daughter of Ieruſalem hath ſhaken her head at thee.

23 Whom haſt thou railled on, and blaſphemed: and againſt whome thou haſt exalted thy voice, and liſted vp thine eyes on him? euen againſt the y Holy one of Iſrael.

24 Wp thy ſervants haſt thou railled on the Lorde, and ſayd, Wp the multitude of my chariots I am come by to the towne of the mountains, to the ſides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the cedars thereof, and the ſane fire trees thereof, and I will goe by to the height of his top and to the ſortest of his fruitful places.

25 I haue digged 9 and drunke the waters, and with the plant of my feete haue I dyed all the rivers cloed in.

26 Haſt thou not heard howe I haue of olde time made it, and haue ſoyned it long agoe? and ſhoulde I nowe bring it, that it ſhoulde bee deſtroyed, and layde on ruinous heapes, as cities deſtroyed, 27 Whole inhabitants & haue ſmall power, and are afraid and confounded: they are like the graſſe of the ſielde and greene herbe, or graſſe on the houſe tops, or coene blaſted afore it be growen.

28 But I knowe thy dwelling, and thy going out, and thy conuining in, and thy ſurie againſt me.

29 Becauſe thou rageſt againſt me, and thy tumult is come vp vnto mine eares, therefore will I put mine hookes in thy noſtrils, and my byde in thy lips, and will bring thee backe againe the ſame way thou cameſt.

30 And this ſhalbe a y ſigne vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou ſhalt eate this peece ſuch as groweth of it ſelfe and the ſecond peece, ſuch things as grow without ſowing: and in the third peece, ſowe pee and reape, and plant vineyards, and eate the fruit thereof.

31 And the remnant that is eſcaped of the houſe of Iudah, ſhall againe take roote downward and beare fruit upward.

32 For out of Ieruſalem ſhal go a remnant, and they that eſcape out of mount Zion: the zeale of the Lorde of hoſtes ſhall doe this.

33 Therefore thus ſaith the Lorde, concerning the King of Aſſhur, he ſhall not enter into this citie, nor ſhoore an arrowe there, nor come before it with ſhields, nor caſt a mount againſt it.

34 Wp the ſame way that hee came, he ſhall returne, and not come into this citie, ſaith the Lorde.

35 For I will defende this citie to ſaue it for mine owne ſake, and for my ſervant b Dauids ſake.

36 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lorde went out, and ſtoode in the campe of Aſſhur: ſo hundredth, fourſcore, and ſixe thouſand: ſo when they aroſe early in the morning, behold, they were all dead coppies.

q He boaſteth of his pollicie in that that he can find means to nourish his armies: and of his power, in that y his armie is ſo great, that it is able to drie vp whole rivers, and to deſtroy the waters, which the Iewes had cloed in. r Signifying, that God made not his Church to deſtroy it, but to preſerue it, and therefore he ſaith that he formed it of olde, euen in his eternall counſel, which cannot be changed. s Ebra. art ſhort in hand. f He ſheweth that the ſtate and power of moſt flouriſhing cities endureth but a moment in reſpect of the Church, which ſhall remaine for euer, becauſe God is the maintainer thereof. t Meaning, his counſels, and enterprises. u Becauſe Saneherib ſhewed himſelfe as a deuouring fiſh and furious beaſt, he viſeth thee ſimilitudes, to teach how he will take him and giude him. x Thou ſhalt looſe thy labour. y God giueth ſignes after two ſortes: ſome goe before the thing, as the ſignes that Moſes wrought in Egypt, which were for the confirmation of their faith: and ſome goe after the thing, as the ſacrifice, which they were commaunded to make three dayes after their departure: and theſe latter are to keepe the benefices of God in our remembrance, of the which ſort this here is. z Hee promiſeth that for two yeeres the ground of it ſelfe ſhoulde feede them. a They whom God had deliuered out of the hands of the Aſſyrians, ſhall proſper: and this properly belongeth to the Church. b For my promiſe ſake made to David. 2. 1 Hezekiah is sicke. 5 He is restored to health by the Lord, and liueth fiftene yeeres after. 10 He giueth thanks for his benefite.

About that time was Hezekiah sicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Isaiah some of Amoz came vnto him, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Put thine house in an order: for thou shalt die, and not liue.

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord,

3 And said, I beseech thee, Lord, remember nowe howe I haue walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept fore.

4 Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying,

5 Goe, and say vnto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, & seene thy teares: behold, I will adde vnto thy dayes fiftene yeeres.

6 And I will deliuer thee out of the hand of the King of Asshur, and this cite: for I will defend this cite.

7 And this signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord will doe this thing, that he hath spoken,

8 Beholde, I will bring againe the shadowe of the degrees (whereby it is gone downe in the diall of Ahaz by the sunne) ten degrees backward: so the sunne returned by ten degrees, by the which degrees it was gone downe.

9 The writing of Hezekiah king of Iudah, when hee had bene sicke, and was recovered of his sicknesse.

10 I said in mine heart cutting off of my dayes, I shall goe to the gates of the graue: I am deuiued of the residue of my yeeres.

11 I said, I shall not see the Lord, even the Lord in the lande of the liuing: I shall see man no more among the inhabitants of the world,

12 Mine habitation is departed, and is removed from me, like a shepherds tent: I haue cut off like a weauer, my life: hee will cut me off from the height: from day to night, thou wilt make an ende of mine.

13 I reckoned to the morning: but hee brake all my bones, like a ypon: from day to night wilt thou make an ende of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallowe, so did I chatter: I did mourne as a doue: mine eyes were life vpon me high: O Lord, it hath oppressed me, comfort me.

15 What shall I say? for he hath saide to me, and he hath done it: I shall walke & waken all my yeeres in the bitterness of my soule.

16 O Lord, to them that ouerline them, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirit shall be knownen, that thou causedst me to sleepe, and hast giuen life to me.

17 Beholde, for felicitie I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my finnes behinde thy backe.

18 For the graue cannot confesse thee: death cannot praple thee: they that goe downe into the pitte, cannot hope for thy truth.

19 But the liuing, the liuing, hee shall confesse thee, as I doe this day: the father to the children shall declare thy truth.

20 The Lord was ready to saue me: therefore we will sing vs song, all the dayes of our life in the house of the Lord.

21 Then said Isaiah, Take a lump of drie figges and lay it vpon the houle, and he shall recover.

22 Also Hezekiah had said, What is the signe, that I shall goe by into the House of the Lord?

p I shall haue no release, but continuall sorowes whiles I liue. q They that shall ouerline the men that are nowe aliue, and al they that are in these yeeres, shall acknowledge his benefite. r That after that thou haddest condemned mee to death, thou restoredst me to life. s Whereas I thought to haue liued in rest and ease, being deliuered from mine enemy, I had griefe vpon griefe. t He esteemeth more the remission of his finnes, and Gods fauour, then a thousand liues. u For as much as God hath placed man in this worlde to glorifie him, the godly take it as a signe of his wrath when their dayes were shortened, eyther because that they seemed vaworthie for their finnes to liue longer in his seruice, or for their zeale to Gods glorie, seeing that there are so fewe in earth, that doe regard it, as Psalm. 6. 5, and 115. 17. x All posteritie shall acknowledge, and the fathers according to their duetie towards their children, shall instruct them in thy graces and mercies towards mee. y Hee sheweth what is the vse of the Congregation and Church: to wit, to giue the Lord thanks for his benefites. z Reade 2. 10 Behold, the Lord God wil come with power, and his arme shall rule for him: beholde, his reward is with him, and his worke before him.

11 Hee shall feede his flocke like a shepheard: hee shall gather the lambs with his arme, and carie them in his bosome, & shall guide them with a rod.

12 Who hath measured the waters in his fist? and counted heauen with the spanne, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure? and weighed the mountaynes in a weight, and the hills in a balance?

13 Who hath instructed the Spirit of the Lord? or was his counsellor, or taught him?

14 Of whome tooke hee counsell, and who instructed him and taught him in the way of iudgement? or taught him knowledge, and shewed vnto him the way of vnderstanding?

15 Beholde, the nations are as a droppe of a bucket, and are counted as the dust of the balance: beholde, hee taketh away the pleasures as a little dust.

16 And Lebanon is not sufficient for fire, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.

17 All nations before him are as nothing, and they are counted to him lesse then nothing, and vanitie.

18 To whom then will hee liken God? or what similitude will hee see vnto him?

Hee speaketh all this to the intent that they shoulde neuer feare man, nor put their trust in any, save onely in God. u Hereby hee armeth them against the idolatrie, wherewith they shoulde bee tempted in Babylon. x Hee sheweth the rage of the idolaters, seeing that the poore that haue not to suffice their owne necessities, will defraude them selues to serue their idoles.

21 Knowe ye nothing? haue ye not heard y it? hath it not bene tolde you from the beginning? haue ye not vnderstande it by the foundation of the earth?

22 He setteth vpon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers, hee stretcheth out the heauens, as a curtaine, and spreadeth them out, as a tent to dwell in.

23 Hee bringeth the princes to nothing, and maketh the iudges of the earth, as vauities.

24 As though they were not planted, as though they were not sown, as though their stocke tooke no roote in the earth: for hee did euen blowe vpon them, and they withered, and the whirlewinde will take them away as stubble.

25 To whom now will ye liken me, that I should be like him, saith the holy one?

26 Lift vp your eyes on hie, and beholde who hath created these things, and bringeth out their armies by number, and calleth them all by names: by the greatnes of his power and mightie strength nothing faileth.

27 Why sayest thou, O Iakob, and speakest, O Israel, a Why way is hid from the Lord, and my iudgement is passed ouer of my God?

28 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard, that the euermolde God, the Lord hath created the endes of the earth: hee neither fainteth, nor is wearie: there is no searching of his vnderstanding.

29 But hee giveth strength vnto him that fainteth, & vnto him that hath no strength, hee encreaseth power.

30 Cuen the yong men shall faint, and be wearie, and the yong men shall stumble and fall.

31 But they that waite vpon the Lord, shall renewe their strength: they shall lift vp the wings as the eagles: they shall runne, and not be wearie, and they shall walke and not faint.

f They that trust in their owne vertue, and doe not acknowledge that all cometh of God.

2 Gods mercie in chusing his people. 6 Their idolatrie. 27 Deliueraunce promised to Zion.

Let the people renewe their strength: let them come neere, and let them speake: let vs come together into iudgement.

2 Who raised vp iustice from the East, and called him to his foot: and gaue the nations before him, and subdued the kings? he gaue them as dust to his sword, and as scattered stubble vnto his bowe.

3 He pursued them, & passed safely by the way that he had not gone with his feete.

4 Who hath wrought and done it? he that calleth the generation from the beginning. I the Lord am the first, and with the last I am the same.

5 The vles lawe it, and did feare, and the endes of the earth were abashed, dwelt neere, and came.

6 Every man helped his neighbour and said to his brother, Be strong.

7 So the workeman comforted the founder, and hee that sinned by the hammer, him that sinned by the course, saying, It is ready for the sodening, and he fastened it with nayles that it should not be moued.

8 But thou, Israel, art my seruant, and thou Iakob, whom I haue chosen, the seede of Abraham my friend.

9 For I haue taken thee from the endes of the earth, and called thee before the chiefe thereof, and layde vnto thee, Thou art my seruant: I haue chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

10 Feare thou not, for I am with thee: be not afrayde, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, & helpe thee, & I will susteine thee with the right hand of my iustice.

11 Beholde, all they that provoke thee, shall be ashamed, and confounded: they shall be as nothing, and they that strue with thee, shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seeke them, and shalt not finde them: to wit, the men of thy strife, for they shall be as nothing, and the men that ware against thee, as a thing of nought.

13 For I the Lord thy God will holde thy right hand, laying vnto thee, Feare not, I will helpe thee.

14 Feare not, thou worme, Iakob, and ye men of Israel: I will helpe thee, sayeth the Lord, and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel.

15 Beholde, I will make thee a roller, and a newe threshing instrument hauing teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and bring them to powder, and shalt make the hilles as chaffe.

16 Thou shalt fanne them, and the wind shall carie them away, and the whirlewinde shall scatter them: and thou shalt reioyce in the Lord, and shalt glorie in the holy one of Israel.

17 When the poore and the needie seeke water, and there is none (their tongue faileth for thirst: I the Lord will heare them: I the God of Israel will not forsake them)

18 I will open rivers in the tops of the hilles, and fountains in the middes of the valleys: I will make the wilderness as a poole of water, and the waste land as springes of water.

19 I will set in the wilderness the cedar, the thittab tree, and the myrre tree, and the pine tree, and I will set in the wilderness the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together.

that shall be afflicted in the captiuitie of Babylon, rather change the order of nature, then they should want anything, that crieth to him by true faith in their miseries: declaring now them hereby that they shall lacke nothing by the way, when they retorne from Babylon.

d Who hath created man and mainteyned his succession, e Though the world set vp neuer so many gods, yet they diminish nothing of my glory: for I am all one, vnchangeable, which haue euer bene, and shalbe for euer.

f Considering mine excellent workes among my people.

g They assembled themselves, and conspired against me to mainteine their idolatrie.

h He noteth the obstinacie of the idolaters to mainteine their superstitions.

i And therefore oughtest thou to pollute thy selfe with the superstition of the Gentiles.

m Thus he calleth them because they were contemned of all the world, and that they considering their owne poore estate, should seeke vnto him for helpe.

o This chiefly is referred to the kingdom of Christ.

r He biddeth the idolaters to proue their religion, and to bring forth their idols, that they may be tryed whether they know all things, and can doe all things: which if they cannot doe, he concludeth that they are no gods, but vile idoles.

f So that a man cannot make an idole, but he must doe that, which God detesteth and abhorreth: for he chuseth his owne deuices, and forsaketh the Lords.

z That is, the Israelites, which returne from the captiuitie.

b When I looked whether the idolos could do these things, I found that they had neither wisdom nor power to doe any thing: therefore hee concludeth that all are wicked, that trust in such vanitie.

a That is, Christ who in respect of his manhood is called here servant. The Prophets vse to make mention

d He shall declare himselfe gouernour over the Gentiles, and call them by his word, and rule them by his Spirit.

e His comming shall not bee with pompe and noyse, as earthly princes.

20 Therefore let them see and knowe, and let them consider and vnderstande together that the hand of the Lorde had done this, and the holy one of Israel hath created it.

21 Stand to your cause, saith the Lorde: bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Iacob.

22 Let them bring them forth, and let them tell vs what shall come: let them shewe the former things which they be, that wee may consider them, and knowe the latter ende of them: neither declare vs things for to come.

23 Shewe the things that are to come hereafter, that we may knowe that you are gods: yea, doe good or do euill, that we may declare it, and behold it together.

24 Behold, ye are of no value, and your making is of nought: man hath chosen an abomination by them.

25 I haue railed vp from the North, and he shall come: from the East sunne shall hee call vpon my Name, and shall come vpon princes as vpon clay, and as the potter treadeth mire vnder the foote.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may knowe: or before time, that we may say, hee is righteous: Surely there is none that heareth: surely there is none that declareth: surely there is none that heareth your words.

27 I am the first, that sayeth to Zion, Behold, behold them: and I will giue to Ierusalem a one that shall bring good tidings.

28 But when I behelde, there was none, and when I enquired of them, there was no counsellour, and when I demanded of them, they answered not a word.

29 Beholde, they are all vanitie: their worke is of nothing, their images are winde and confusion.

1 The obedience and humilitie of Christ. 6 Why he was sent into the world. 11 The vocation of the Gentiles.

2 Beholde, my seruant: b I will stay vpon him: mine elect, in whome my soule delighteth: I haue put my Spirit vpon him: hee shall bring forth iudgement to the Gentiles.

3 He shall not crie, nor lift vp, nor cause his voyce to be heard in the streete.

3 A humbled reede shall hee not breake, and the smoking flaxe shall hee not quench: he shall bring forth iudgement in truth.

4 He shall not faile nor be discouraged till he haue set iudgement in the earth, and the kyles shall waite for his lawe.

5 Thus saith God the Lorde (hee that created the heavens and spread them abroad: hee that stretched forth the earth, and the buis thereof: hee that giueth breath vnto the people vpon it, and spirit to them that walke therein)

6 I the Lorde haue called thee in righte-ousnesse, and will holde me thine hande, and I will keepe thee, and giue thee for a covenant of the people, and for a light of the Gentiles.

7 That thou maiest open the eyes of the blinde, and bring out the prisoners from the prison: and them that sit in darkenesse, out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lorde, this is my Name, and my glory will I not giue to another, neither my praise to grauen images.

9 Behold, the former things are come to passe, and new things doe I declare: before they come forth, I tel you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lorde a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth: ye that goe downe to the sea, and al that is therein: the vles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wildeernes & the cities thereof lift vp their voyce, the towines that dwell doeth inhabite: let the inhabitants of the rockes sing: let them shoute from the toppes of the mountaines.

12 Let them giue glorie vnto the Lorde, and declare his praise in the plands.

13 The Lorde shall goe forth as a grant: hee shall stirre vp his courage like a man of warre: hee shall shoute and cry, and shall preuaile against his enemies.

14 I haue a long time holden my peace: I haue bene still and refrained my selfe: now wil I cry like a crouailing woman: I will destroy and deuoure at once.

15 I will make waste mountaines, and hilles, and dye vp all their herbes, and I will make the floods plandes, and I will dye vp the pooles.

16 And I will bring the blinde by a way that they know not, and leade them by pathes that they haue not known: I will make darkenesse light before them, and crooked things straight. These things wil I doe vnto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shall be turned backe: they shall bee greatly ashamed, that trust in grauen images, and say to the molten images, Wee are our gods.

a Shewing that mans heart is most inclined to idolatrie, and therefore he warrneth his people by these examples, that they should not cleave to any but to the living God, when they should be among the idolaters.
b He sheweth that the worke of the Lord toward his people shalbe so great, that the insensible creatures shall be moued therewith.
c He armeth them against the foorthlayers of Babylon, which would haue borne them in hand, that they knewe by the starres that God would not deliuer them, & that Babylon should stand.

21 • Remember these (O Iacob and Israel) for thou art my seruant: I haue formed thee: thou art my seruant: O Israel forget me not.
22 I haue put away thy transgressions like a cloude, and thy finnes as a mist: turne vnto me, for I haue redeemed thee.
23 • Reioyce vee heauens: for the Lord hath done it: spout, ye lower partes of the earth: haue forth into prayles, yee mountaines, O forest, and euery tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Iacob, and will be glorified in Israel.
24 Thus sayeth the Lord thy redeemer, and hee that formed thee from the wombe, I am the Lord, that made all things, that spread out the heauens alone, and stretched out the earth by my selfe.
25 I destroy the c tokens of the soothsayers, and make them that conecture, fooles, and turne the wise men backwarde, and make their knowledge foolishnesse.
26 • I be confirmeth the word of his seruant, and performeth the counsell of his messengers, saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt bee inhabited: and to the cities of Iudah, Ye shall be built vp, and I will repaire the decayed places thereof.
27 Ye sayeth to thee • deepe, Be drie, and I will drie by thy floods.
28 Vee sayeth to thee • Cyrus, Thou art my shepheard: and hee shall performe all my desire: laying also to Jerusalem, Thou shalt bee built: and to the Temple, Thy foundation shall be surely laide.

d Of Isaiah & the rest of his Prophets, which did assure the Church of Gods fauour and deliurance. e He sheweth that Gods worke should be no lesse notable in this their deliurance, then when hee brought them out of Egypt through the Sea. f To assure them of their deliurance, he nameth the person, by whom it should be, more then an hundred yeere before he was borne.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The deliurance of the people by Cyrus. 9 God is iust in all his workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

a To assure the Iewes of their deliurance against the great tentations that they should abide, he nameth the person and the meanes.
b Because Cyrus should execute the office of a deliuerer, God called him his anoynted for a time, but afterward, he called David.
c To guide him in the deliurance of my people. d I will take away all impediments and lets. e Not that Cyrus did knowe God to worship him aright, but he had a certaine particular knowledge, as prophane men may haue of his power, & so was compelled to deliuer Gods people. f Not for any thing that is in thee, or for thy worthinesse.

Thus sayeth the Lord vnto • Cyrus his anoynted, whose right hand I haue holden: to subdue nations before him: therefore will I weaken the lynes of kings, and open the doores before him, and the gates shall not be shut.
2 I will goe before thee and make the crooked straight: I will breake the brazen doores, and burst the yron barres.
3 And I will giue thee the treasures of darkenesse, and the things hid in secret places, that thou mayest knowe that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, euen the God of Israel.
4 For Iacob my seruants sake, and Israel mine elect, I will euen call thee by thy name, and name thee, though thou hast not known me.

5 I am the Lord and there is none other: there is no God besides me: I a giued thee though thou hast not known me.
6 That they may knowe from the rising of the sunne and from the West, that there is none besides me. I am the Lord, and there is none other.
7 I forme the light and create darkenesse: I make peace and create euill: I the Lord doe all these things.
8 Vee heauens, send the dewe from above, and let the cloudes droppe downe in righteousness: let the earth open, and let saluation and iustice growe forth: let it bring them forth together: I the Lord haue created him.
9 • Alloe vnto him that striueth with his maker, the potsher with the potsherd of the earth: shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy worke, What hath none hands?
10 Alloe vnto him that saith to his father, What hast thou begotten? or to his mother, What hast thou brought forth?
11 Thus saith the Lord, the Holy one of Israel, and his maker, Alke me of things to come concerning my finnes, and concerning the workes of mine handes: command you me.
12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: I, whose hands haue spread out the heauens, I haue euen commaunded all their armie.
13 I haue raised him by in righteousness, and I will direct all his waies: he shall build my citie, and hee shall let goe my captiues, not for a price nor reward, saith the Lord of hostes.
14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Egypt, and the marchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabaeans, men of stature shall come vnto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall followe thee, and shall goe in chains: they shall fall downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee, laying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none other God besides.
15 Verely thou, O God, • hidest thy selfe, O God, the labour of Israel.
16 All they shall be ashamed and also confounded: they shall goe to confusion together, that are the makers of images.
17 But Israel shall bee laued in the Lord, with an euermourning saluation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded, world without ende.
18 For thus saith the Lord (that created heauen, God himselfe, that formed the earth,

I haue giuen thee strength, power and authoritie, h I send peace and warre, prosperitie, and aduersitie, as Amos 3.6.
i He comforteth the Iewes, as if he would say, Though when ye looke to the heauens & earth for succour, ye see nothing now but signes of Gods wrath, yet I will cause them to bring forth most certaine tokens of your deliurance, and of the performance of my promise, which is meant by righteousness.
k I haue appointed Cyrus to this vte and purpose.
l Hereby he briedeth their impatiencie, which in aduersitie and trouble murmure against God, and will not tarie his pleasure: willing that man should match with his like, and not contend against God.
m That is, it is not perfectly made.
n In steade of murmuring, humble your felues, and aske what ye will for the consolation of my children, and you shall be sure of it, as ye are of these things: which are at your commandement. Some reade it with an interrogation, and make it the application of the similitude. o That is, the starres.
p To wit, Cyrus, that I may shewe by him the faithfulness of my promise in deliuring my people. q Meaning, freely, and without ranfome, or any grievous condition. r These people were tributaries to the Persians, & so king Artahshastre gaue this money toward the building of the Temple, Ezra 7.21. s Whereas tofore they were thine enemies, they shall now honour thee, and thou shalt rule them: which was accomplished in the time of Christ. t Hereby he exhortheth the Iewes to patience, though their deliurance be deferred for a time: shewing that they should not repent their long patience, but the wicked and idolaters shall be destroyed.

u To wit, of man, but chiefly of his Church.
 z As do the false gods, which give vncertaine answers.
 y Al ye idolaters, which though you seeme to haue neuer so much worldly dignitie, yet in Gods sight you are vile & abiect.
 z He calleth the idolaters to repentance, willing them to looke vnto him with the eye of faith.
 a That is, that the thing, which I haue promised, shall be faithfully performed.
 b The knowledge of God, and the true worshipping shall be through all the world, Rom. 14. 11. Phil. 2. 10.
 whereby he signifyeth that we must not onely serue God in heart, but declare the same also by outward profession.
 c Meaning, the faithfull shall feele and confesse this.
 d All the con-tempners of God, and made it: hee hath prepared it, he created it not in baine: hee founed it to bee inhabited) I am the Lord, and there is none other.

 19 I haue not spoken in secrete, neither in a place of darkenesse in the earth: I said not in vaine vnto the seed of Iakob, Seeke you me: I the Lord doe speake righteousness, and declare righteous things.
 20 Assemble your selues, and come: draw neere together, yee abiect of the Gentiles: they haue no knowledge, that let by the wood of their idole, and pray vnto a god, that cannot saue them.
 21 Tell yee and bring them, and let them take counsell together, who hath declared this from the beginning: or hath tolde it of olde? Haue not I the Lord? and there is none other God beside mee, a iust God, and a Saviour: there is none beside me.
 22 Looke vnto me, and yee shall be saued: all the endes of the earth shall be saued: for I am God, and there is none other.
 23 I haue thorne by my selfe: the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not returne, That every knee shall bowe vnto mee, and every tongue shall sweare by me.
 24 Surely hee shall say, In the Lord haue I righteousness and strength: he shall come vnto him, and all that prouoke him, shall be ashamed.
 25 The whole seede of Israel shall be iustified, and glory in the Lord.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 The destruction of Babylon and of their idoles.
 3 Hee calleth the Iewes to the consideration of his works.

Babel is bowed downe: a Rebo is fallen: their idoles were vpon the b heastes, and vpon the cattell: they which did beare you, were laden with a wearie burden.
 2 They are bowed downe, and fallen together: for they could not ridde them of the burden, and their soule is gone into captiuitie.
 3 Heare ye mee, O house of Iakob, and all that remaine of the house of Israel, which are borne of mee from the wombe, and brought vp of me from the birth.
 4 Therefore vnto olde age, I the same, euen I wil beare you until the hoare haire: I haue made you: I will also beare you, and I will carie you, and I will deliuer you.
 5 O to whom will yee make me like, or make mee equal, or compare mee, that I should be like him?

a These were the chiefe idoles of Babylon.
 b Because they were of gold and siluer, the Medes and Persians carried them away.
 c The beastes that caried the idoles, fell downe vnder their burden.
 d He derideth the idoles, which had neither soule nor sense.
 e He sheweth the difference betweene the idoles and the true God: for they must bee caried of others, but God himselfe carieth his, as Deut. 32. 11.
 f Seeing I haue begotten you, I will nourish and preserve you for euer.
 g The people of God, seeing their owne calamitie, and the flourishing estate of the Babylonians, shoulde bee tempted to thinke that their God was not so mightie as the idoles of their enemies: therefore he describeth the originall of all the idoles, to make them to bee abhorred of all men: shewing that the most that can bee spoken in their commendation, is but to proue them vile, Baruch 6. 25.

6 They draw golde out of the bagge, and weigh siluer in the ballance, and hire a goldsmith to make a god of it, and they bowe downe and worship it.
 7 They beare it vpon the shoulders: they carry him and let him in his place: so doeth hee stand, and cannot remouue from his place. Though one crie vnto him, yet can he not answere, nor deliuer him out of his tribulation.
 8 Remember this, and be ashamed: bring it againe to minde, O ye transgressors.
 9 Remember the former things of olde: for I am God, and there is none other God, and there is nothing like me.
 10 Which declare the last thing from the beginning: and from of olde, the things that were not done, saying, My counsell shall stand, and I will doe whatsoever I will.
 11 I call a bird from the East, and the man of my counsell from farre: as I haue spoken, so will I bring it to passe: I haue purposed it, and I will doe it.
 12 Heare me, yee stubburne hearted, that are farre from iustice.
 13 I bring neere my iustice: it shall not be farre off, and my saluation shall not tary: for I will giue saluation in Zion, and my glory vnto Israel.

CHAP. XLVII.

The destruction of Babylon, and the causes wherefore.

Come downe and sitte in the dust: O virgine, daughter Babel, sitte on the ground: there is no throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, Tender and delicate.
 2 Take the milkstones, and grind meale: loose thy lockes: make bare the feete: uncover the legges, and passe through the floods.
 3 Thy filthinesse shall bee discouered, and thy shame shall bee scene: I will take vengeance, and I will not meete thee as a man.
 4 Our redeemer, the Lord of hostes is his name, the Holy one of Israel.
 5 Sit still, and get thee into darkenesse, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more bee called, The lady of kingdoms.
 6 I was wroth with my people: I haue polluted mine inheritance, and giuen them into thine hand: thou diddest shewe them no mercie, but thou diddest lay thy very heauie yoke vpon the ancient.
 7 And thou saydest, I shall be a lady for euer, so that thou diddest not let thy minde to these things, neither didst thou remember the latter end thereof.
 8 Therefore now heare, thou that art giuen to pleasures, and dwellest carelesse, she saith in her heart, I am and none else: I shall not sitte as a widow, neither shall I knowe the losse of children.
 9 But these two things shall come to thee saine, suddenly on one day, the losse of children, and widowhood: they shall come vpon thee h Become wise, meaning that all idolaters are without wit or sense, like mad men.

 i That is, Cyrus, which shall come as swift as a bird, and fight against Babylon. k Him by whom I haue appointed to execute that, which I haue determined.
 l Which by your incredulitie would let the performance of my promise.
 m Hee sheweth that mans incredulitie cannot abolish the promise of God, Rom. 3. 3.
 a Which hath liued in wealth and wantonnesse, and halt not yet bene overcome by any enimie.
 b Thy gouernment shall be taken from thee.
 c Thou shalt be brought to molt vile feruitude: for torture the mill was the office of slaues.
 d The things wherein the feretie her greatest pride, shall be made vile, euen from the head to the foote.
 e I will vte no humane nor pitie toward thee.
 f The Israelites shall confesse, that the Lord doeth this for his Churches.
 g For very shame, and hide thy selfe.
 h They abused Gods iudgements, thinking that hee punished the Israelites, because he would vterly cast them off, and therefore in stead of pitying their miserie, thou diddest increase it.
 thee

i So that the punishment shall be so great as is possible to be imagined.

k Thou didst thinke that thine owne wisdom & policie would haue saved thee, I He derideth their vaine confidence, that put their trust in any thing, but in God, condemning also such vaine sciences, which serue to no vse, but to delude the people, and to bring them from depending only on God.

m They shall vtterly perish, and no part of them remaine; n They shall see every one to that place, whiche he thought by his speculation to be most safe, but a He derideth their hypocritie which vaunted themselves to be Israelites, and were not so in deede.

b Meaning, the fontaine and stocke.

c They make a shew, as though they would haue none other God, d He sheweth that they could not accuse him in any thing, forasmuch as he had performed whatsoever he had promised.

e I haue done for thee more then I promised, that thy stubbornnes and impudencie might haue bene ouercome, f Howe thou shouldst be deliuered out of Babylon, g Will ye not acknowledge this my benefite, and declare it vnto others?

thee in their perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinations, and for the great abundance of thine inchanters.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednesse: thou hast sayde, None seeth mee. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, they haue caused thee to rebell, and thou hast sayde in thine heart, I am, and none els.

11 Therefore shall euill come vpon thee, and thou shalt not knowe the morning thereof: destruction shall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not bee able to put away: destruction shall come vpon thee suddenly, yet thou beware.

12 Stand now among thine inchanters, & in the multitude of thy soothsayers (with whome thou hast wearied thy selfe from thy youth) if so be thou mayest haue profit, or if so be thou mayest haue strength.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of the counsels: let now the Astrologers, the starr-gazers, and Iudiciall doctors stande by, and saue thee from these things, that shall come vpon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble: the fire shall burne them: they shall not deliuer their owne liues from the power of the flame: there shall be no coales to warme at, nor light to sit by.

15 Thus shall they lerne thee, with whom thou hast wearied thee, even thy merchants from thy youth: every one shall wander to his owne quarter: none shall saue thee.

that shall deceiue them.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The hypocritie of the Iewes is reproued. 2 The Lord alone will be worshipped, 3 Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

Hear ye this, O house of Iacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come out of the waters of Judah: which beare by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness.

2 For they are called of the holy cite, and stay themselves vpon the God of Israel, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

3 I haue declared the former things of old, and they went out of my mouth, and I shewed them: I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 Because I knewe, that thou art obstinate, and thy necke is an yron sinew, and thy browe brasie.

5 Therefore I haue declared it to thee of old: before it came to passe, I shewed it thee, lest thou shouldst say, Mine owne hand hath done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, beholde all this, and wilt not ye declare it? I haue shewed thee new things, euen nowe, and hid things, which thou knewest not.

7 They are created now, and not of old, and euen before this thou heardest them: I Howe thou shouldst be deliuered out of Babylon, g Will ye not acknowledge this my benefite, and declare it vnto others?

not, least thou shouldst say, Beholde, I knew them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither diddest knowe them, neither yet was thine eare opened of olde: for I knew that thou wouldest greuously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a transgressor from thy wombe.

9 For my Names sake will I deferre my wrath, and for my praye will I reframe it from thee, that I cut thee not off.

10 Beholde, I haue fined thee, but not as sinner: I haue chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake will I doe it: for how should my Name be polluted? surely I will not giue my glory vnto another.

12 Hear me, O Iacob, and Israel, my called, I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens: when I call them, they stand by together.

14 All you, assemble your selues, and heare: which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loued him: he will doe his will in Babel, and his arme shall be against the Caldeans.

15 I, euen I haue spoken it, and I haue called him: I haue brought him, and his way shall prosper.

16 Come nere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in secret from the beginning: from the time that the thing was, I was there, and now the Lord God and spirit hath sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy Redeemer, the holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which reach thee to professe, and lead thee by the way, that thou shouldest goe.

18 Oh that thou haddest hearkened to my commandements! then had thy posteritie bene as the flood, and thy righteousness as the waves of the Sea.

19 Thy seede also had bene as the sand, and the fruite of thy body like the grauell thereof: his name should not haue bene cut off nor destroyed before me.

20 I Goe ye out of Babel: flee ye from the Caldeans, with a voyce of ioy: tell and declare this: shewe it forth to the ende of the earth: say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iacob.

21 And they were not thirftie: hee led them though the wilderness: he caused the waters to flowe out of the rocke for them: for he claue the rocke, and the water gushed out.

22 There is no peace, saith the Lord, vnto the wicked.

Thus the Prophet speaketh for himselfe, and to assure them of these things. u What things shall doe thee good. x That is, the prosperous estate of Israel. y After that hee had forewarned them of their capnitie, and of the cause thereof, hee sheweth them the great ioy that shall come of their deliuerance. z Hee sheweth that it shall be as easie to deliuer them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt. a Thus he speaketh, that the wicked hypocrites shoulde not abuse Gods promise, in whome was neither faith nor repentance, as Chap. 57. 21.

h Shewing that mans arrogancie is the cause why God doeth not declare all things at once, lest they should attribute this knowledge to their owne wisdom. i From the time that I brought thee out of Egypt: for that deliuerance was as the birth of the Church. k As it was my free mercy that I did chuse thee: so is it my free mercie that mult saue thee. l For I had respect to thy weakenes and infirmities: for in sinner there is some pures, but in vs there is nothing but drossie. m Iooke thee out of the furnace where thou shouldst haue bene consumed, n God ioyeth the saluation of his with his owne honour: so that they can not perish, but his glory should be diminished, as Deut. 32. 27. o Read Chap. 42. 8. p Reade Chap. 41. 4. q To obey me, and to doe whatsoever I command them. r Meaning Cyrus, whom he had chosen to destroy Babylon, s Since the time that I declared my selfe to your fathers,

1 An exhortation to come to Christ. 8 Gods counsels are not as mans. 12 The joy of the faithfull.

HD, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and yee that have no silver, come, buy and eat: come, I say, buy wine and milke without silver and without money.

2 Wherefore doe ye lay out silver and not for bread? and your labour without being satisfied? hearken diligently vnto mee, and eat that which is good, and let your soule delight in fatnesse.

3 Encline your eares, and come vnto me: heare, and your soule shall liue, and I will make an euertlasting covenant with you, euen the sure mercies of Dauid.

4 Beholde, I gaue him for a witness to the people, for a Prince and a master vnto the people.

5 Beholde, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and a nation that knew not thee, shall runne vnto thee, because of the Lord thy God, and the holie one of Israel: for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seeke yee the Lord while he may be found, call ye vpon him while he is nere.

7 Let the wicked forsake his wayes, and the vniuersall his owne imaginations, and returne vnto the Lord, and he will haue mercie vpon him: and to our God, for he is very ready to forgive.

8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your wayes my wayes, saith the Lord.

9 For as the heauens are higher then the earth, so are my wayes higher then your wayes, and my thoughts aboue your thoughts.

10 Surely as the raine commeth downe and the snowe from heauen, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it to bring forth and bud, that it may giue seede to the sower, and bread vnto him that eateth:

11 So shall my word be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shall not returne vnto mee void, but it shall accomplish that which I will, and it shall prosper in the thing whereunto I sent it.

12 Therefore yee shall goe out with ioy, and be led forth with peace: the mountaine and the hils shall break forth before you into ioy, and all the trees of the fildes shall clap their hands.

trees: for nettles shall growe the myrtle tree, and it shall be to the Lord for a name, and for an euertlasting signe that shall not be taken away.

CHAP. LVI.

1 An exhortation to iudgement and iustice. 10 Against shepherds that desoure their flocke.

Thus saith the Lord, 1 Keepe iudgement and doe iustice: for my saluation is at hand to come, and my righteousness to be reuelled.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the sonne of man which layeth holde on it: he that keepeth the Sabbath and polluterch it not, and keepeth his hand from doing any euill.

3 And let not the sonne of the stranger, which is ioyned vnto the Lord, speake and say, The Lord hath surely seperate me from his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto th: Eunuchs, that keep my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleasest me, and take holde of my covenant,

5 Then vnto them will I giue in mine house and within my walles, a place and a name better then of the sonnes and of the daughters: I will giue them an euertlasting name, that shall not be put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleaue vnto the Lord, to serue him, and to loue the name of the Lord, and to be his seruants: euery one that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluterch it not, and embraceth my covenant,

7 Then will I bring also to mine holy mountaine, and make them ioyfull in mine house of prayer: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted vpon mine altar: for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people.

8 The Lord God saith, which gathereth the scattered of Israel, Yet will I gather to them those that are to be gathered to them.

9 All ye beasts of the fildes, come to deuoure, euen all ye beasts of the forest.

10 Their watchmen are all blinde: they haue no knowledge: they are all dunnie dogs: they can not barke: they lye & sleepe and delite in sleeeping.

11 And these greye dogs can neuer haue ynough: and these shepherds cannot vnderstand: for they all looke to their owne way, euery one for his advantage, and for his owne purpose.

12 Come, I will bring wine, and we wil fill our selues with strong drinke, and to morowe shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

and all that they haue as a liuely and acceptable sacrifice, b Not onely for the Iewes, but for all others, Mat. 21. 13. i Meaning the enemies of the Church, as the Babylonians, Assyrians, &c. Thus bee speake to feare the hypocrites, & to assure the faithfull, that when this commeth, they may know that it was tolde them before. k He sheweth that this affliction shall come through fault of the gouernours, prophets, & pastors, whose ignorance, negligence, avarice, and obstinacie prouoked Gods wrath against them. l We are wel yet, and to morow shall be better: therefore let vs not feare y plagues, beforre they come: thus the wicked contemned the admonitions and exhortations, which were made them in the Name of God.

a From the plague that is at hand, and also because God will punish the wicked, b The soule of the righteous shalbe in ioy, and their body shall rest in the graue vnto the time of the resurrection, because they walked before the Lord.

c Hethereyth the wicked hypocrites, who vnder the pretence of the Name of Gods people, derided Gods worde and his promises: boasting openly that they were the children of Abraham, but because they were not faithfull and obedient as Abraham was, he calleth them bastards, and the children of forcerers, which forsooke God and fled to wicked meanes for succour, d Reade Leuit. 18. 21. 2 King. 23. 10.

14 And hee shall say, Cast vp, cast vp: prepare the way: take vp the stumbling blockes out of the way of my people.

15 For thus sayth he, that is his and excellent, hee that inhabiteth the eternitie, whose name is the Holy one, I dwell in the hie and holy place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to renew the spirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I will not contend for euer, neither will I be alwayes wroth, for the spirit should faile before me: and I haue made the heath.

17 For his wicked countenance I am angry with him, and haue smitten him: I hid me and was angry, yet he went away, and turned after the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, & will heale him: I will leade him also, and restore comfort vnto him, and to those that lament him.

19 I create the fruit of the lippes to be peace: y peace vnto them that are farre off, and to them that are neere, sayth the Lord: for I will heale him.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea, that can not rest, whose waters cast vp mire and dirt.

1 The office of Gods ministers. 2 The workes of the hypocrites. 6 The fast of the faithfull. 13 Of the true Sabbath.

Reade aloud, spare not: lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and shewe my people their transgression, and to the house of Jacob, their finnes.

2 Yet they seeke mee dayly, and will knowe my wayes, euen as a nation that did righteously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they aske of mee the ordinances of iustice: they will draw neere vnto God, saying,

3 Wherefore haue we fasted, and thou seest it not? wee haue punished our selues, and thou regardest it not. Beholde, in the day of your fast you will seeke your will, and require all your debts.

4 Beholde, yee fast to strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickednesse: ye shall not fast as ye doe to day, to make your voyce to be heard aboue.

5 Is it such a fast that I haue chosen, that a man should afflict his soule for a day, and to bowe downe his head, as a bull eue, and to lie downe in sackcloth, and ashes? wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fasting, that I haue

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The wicked perish through their on ne iniquities. 12 The confession of sinnes. 16 God alone wil preserve his Church, though all men faile.

Behold, * the Lordes hand is not short-ened, that it cannot saue: neither is his eare heauie, that it cannot heare.

2 But * your iniquities haue separated betwene you and your God, and your finnes haue hid his face from you, that hee will not heare.

3 For your handes are defiled with 5 blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lips haue spoken lies, and your tongue hath murmured iniquitie.

4 No man talketh for iustice: no man 6 conuenieth for truth: they trust in vanti-tie, and speake vaine things: they conceiue mischief, and bring forth iniquitie.

5 They hatch the cockatrice 7 egges, and weaue the spiders 8 webbe: hee that eateth of their egges, dieth, and that which is trod vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

e They are profitable to no purpose.

16 Their webbes shall be no garment, neither shall they couer themselves with their labours: for their workes are workes of iniquitie, and the worke of crueltie is in their handes.

7 Their feete runne to euil, & they make hast to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and de-struction is in their pathes.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked pathes: whosoever goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is 9 iudgement farre from vs, neither doeth 10 iustice come neere vnto vs: we waite for light, but lo, it is darknesse: for brightnesse, but we walke in darkenesse.

10 We grope for the wall like the 11 blind, and wee grope as one without eyes: wee stumble at the noone day as in 12 the twilight: we are in solitarie places, as dead men.

11 We roare all like 1 beaues, & mourne like dones: we looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our 13 sinnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we know our iniquities.

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lord, and wee haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion, conceiuing and uttering out of the heart false 1 matters.

14 Therefore 10 iudgement is turned backward, and iustice standeth farre off: for truth is fallen in the streete, and equitie cannot enter.

15 Pea, trutheth faileth, and he that refrat-nerh from euill, maketh himselfe 11 a paye: and when the Lord saw it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

16 And when hee sawe that there was no man, hee wondered that none would offer himselfe. 12 Therefore his arme did 13 saue it, and his righteousness it selfe did sustaine it.

17 For hee put on righteousness, as an habergion, and an helmet of saluation vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As to make recompense, as to requite the furie of the aduersaries with a recom-pense to his enemies: hee will fully repay the 14 Ilands.

19 So shall they feare the Name of the Lord from the West, and his glory from the rising of the sunne: for the enemy shall 15 come like a flood: but the spirit of the Lord shall chase him away.

20 And the Redeemer shall come vnto Zion, and vnto 16 them that turne from iniquitie in Iakob, saith the Lord.

3 The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospel, 8 They shall come to the Church in abundance, 16 They shall have abundance, though they suffer for a time.

A Rise, O Ierusalem: bee bright, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen vpon thee.

2 For behold, darkenesse shall couer the earth, and grosse darknesse the people: but the Lord shall arise vpon thee, and his glory shall be seene vpon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall walke in thy light, and Kings at the brightnesse of thy rising vp.

4 Lift vp thine eyes round about, & behold: all these are gathered, and come to thee: thy sonnes shall come from farre, and thy daughters shall bee nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see & shine: thine heart shall be comforted and enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shall be conuerted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall couer thee: and the dromedaries of Arabia and of Ephah: all they of Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense, and they shall shew forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the sheepe of Arabia shall be gathered vnto thee: the rams of Arabia shall serue thee: they shall come vp to be accepted vpon mine altar: and I will beautifie the house of my glory.

8 Also are these: that flee like a cloude, and as the doves to their windowes?

9 Surely the ples shall wait for me, and the spittes of Tarshish, as at the beginning, that they may bring thee some from farre, and their silver, and their golde with them, vnto the name of the Lord thy God, and to the holy one of Israel, because hee hath glorified thee.

10 And the sonnes of strangers shall build vp thy walles, and their kings shall minister vnto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercy I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall bee open continually: neither day nor night shall they be shut, that men may bring vnto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and the kingdom, that will not serue thee, shall perish: and those nations shall be utterly destroyed.

13 The glory of Lebanon shall come vnto thee: the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together, to beautifie the place of my Sanctuary: for I will glorifie the place of my feete.

14 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bowe vnto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall & downe at the soles of thy feete: and they shall call thee, The Citie of the Lord, Zion of the Holy one of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast bene forsaken and hated, so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternall glory, and a ioye from generation to generation.

16 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the breasts of Kings: and thou shalt knowe, that I the Lord am thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the mighty one of Iakob.

17 For brass will I bring golde, and for yron will I bring silver, & for wood brass, and for stones yron. I will also make thy gouernement: peace, and thine exactours righteousnesse.

18 Violence shall no more be heard of in thy land, neither desolation, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call Salvation thy walles, and prayse, thy gates.

19 Thou shalt haue no more sunne to shine by day, neither shall the brightnesse of the moone shine vnto thee: for the Lord shall be thine euermore light, and thy God, thy glory.

20 Thy sunne shall neuer goe downe, neither shall thy moone be hidde: for the Lord shall be thine euermore light, and the dates of thy lowe shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall possesse the lande for euer, the graffe of my planting shall bee the worke of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become as a thousand, and a small one as a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in due time.

3 To appoynt vnto them that mourne in Zion, and to giue vnto them beautie for ashes, thy oyle of ioy for mourning, the garment of gladnesse for the spirit of heavinesse, that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

4 And they shall builde the olde waste places, and rayle by the former desolations, and they shall repaye the cities that were desolate and waste through many generations.

5 And the strangers shall stand & feede your sheepe, and the sonnes of the strangers shall be your plow men and deslers of your vines.

6 But ye shall be named the Priestesses of the Lord, and men shall say vnto you, The ministers of our God: Pee shall eate the riches of the Gentiles, and shall be exalted with their glorie.

7 For your shame you shall receiue a double, and for confusion they shall reioyce in their position: for in their land they shall possesse the double: everlasting ioy shall be vnto them.

8 For I the Lord loue iudgement & hate a robbery: for burnt offering, and I will direct their worke in trieth, and will make an euermlasting covenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their budde among the people. All that see them, shall know them, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.

10 I will greatly reioyce in the Lord, and my soule shall be ioyfull in my God: for he hath clothed me with the garments of saluation, and covered me with the robe of righteousness: he hath decked me like a bridegrome, and as a bride tyeth herself with her iewels.

a This Prophecie is against the Idumeans, and enemies which persecuted the Church, on whom God will take vengeance, and is here set forth all bloody after d Shewing, that when God punisheth his enemies, it is for the profite and deliuerance of his Church.

e God sheweth that he hath no need of mans helpe for the deliuerance of his, and though men refuse to doe their dutie through negligence and ingratitude, yet hee himselfe will deliuer his Church, and punish the enemies. Reade Chap. 59. 16.

f I will foast in them, and make them so giddie, that they shall not know, which way to goe.

g The Prophet speaketh this to moue the people to remember Gods benefites in times past, that they may be confirmed in their troubles. h For I did chuse them to be mine, that they shoulde be holy, and not deceiue mine expectation.

i He bare their afflictions and griefes, as though they had bene his owne.

k Which was a witnesse of Gods presence: and this may be referred to Christ, to whom belongeth the office of saluation.

l That is, the people of Israel being afflicted, called to remembrance Gods benefites, which hee had bestowed vpon their fathers in times past.

m Meaning, Moses, n That is, in Moses, that hee might well gouerne the people: some referre this giuing of the Spirit to the people. o Peaceably and gently, as an horie is led to his pasture. p Hauing declared Gods benefites shewed to their forefathers, he turneth himselfe to God by prayer, desiring him to continue the same graces toward them. q Thy great affection which thou barest toward vs. r Meaning, from the whole body of the Church. Though Abraham would refuse vs to be his children, yet thou wilt not refuse to be our Father.

I will treade them in mine anger, and treade them vnder foote in my wrath, and their blood shall bee sprinkled vpon my garments, and I will staine all my rayment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, & the day of my redemption is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to helpe, and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine owne arme helped mee, and my wrath it selfe sustained me.

6 Therefore I will treade downe the people in my wrath, and make them drunken in mine indignation, and will bring downe their strength to the earth.

7 I will remember the mercies of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord according vnto all that the Lord hath giuen vs, and for the great goodnesse toward the house of Israel, which he hath giue them according to his tender loue, and according to his great mercies.

8 For hee said, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie: so hee was their fauour.

9 In all their troubles hee was troubled: and the Angell of his presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie hee redeemed them, and hee bare them and carryed them all wayes continually.

10 But they rebelled, and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore was he turned to be their enemy and he fought against them.

11 Then he I remembered the old time of Moses and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them vt out of the sea with the shepheard of his sheepe? where is he that put his holy Spirit within him?

12 We led them by the right hand of Moses with his owne glorious arme, dividing the water before them, to make himselfe an euerslaking Name.

13 We led them through the deepe, as an horse in the wilderness, that they shoulde not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth downe into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord gaue them rest: so diddest thou leade thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious Name.

15 I looke downe from heauen, and beholde from the dwelling place of thine holiness, and of thy glory. Where is thy zeale and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and of thy compassions? they are restrained from me.

16 Doubtlesse thou art our father: though Abraham bee ignorant of vs, and Isaac knowe vs not, yet thou, O Lord, art our Father, and our redeemer: thy Name is praised in all generations.

g Thou wilt haue pitie vpon vs. h Wee are iustly punished and brought into captiuitie, because we haue prouoked thee to anger, and though wee would excuse our selues, yet our righteoufnesse and best vertues are before thee as vile cloutes, or, (as some reade) like the menstruous clothes of a woman. i Albeit, O Lord, by thy iust iudgement thou mayest vtterly destroy vs, as the potters may his pot, yet wee appeale to thy mercie vs, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopt vs to be thy children. k For so the flesh iudgeth when God doth not immediately send succour, for euer.

17 O Lord, why hast thou made vs to erre from thy wayes? and hardened our heart from thy feare: Returne for thy seruants sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thine holinesse haue possessed it, but a little while: for our aduersaries haue troden downe thy Sanctuary.

19 Wee haue bene as they, ouer whome thou neuer barest rule, and vpon whome thy Name was not called.

According to thy iust iudgement. u Meaning, for the conueniencie sake made to Abraham, Isaac and Iacob his seruants. x That is, in respect of the promise which is perpetuall: albeit they had now possessed the land of Canaan a thousand & foure hundred yere: and thus they lament, to moue God rather to remember his covenant, then to punish their finnes.

CHAP. LXIII.

1 The Prophet prayeth for the finnes of the people, 6 Mans righteoufnesse is like a filthy cloth.

O that thou wouldest breake the heauen, and come downe, and that the mountaynes might melt at thy presence!

2 As the melting fire burned, as the fire caused the waters to boyle, (that thou mightest declare thy Name to thy aduersaries) the people did tremble at thy presence.

3 When thou diddest terrible things, which were looked not for, thou camest downe, and the mountaynes melted at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the world they haue not heard nor understood with the eare, neither hath the eye seene another God beside thee, which doeth so to him that waiteth for him.

5 Thou diddest meeete him, that reioyced in thee, and did trustly: they remembered thee in thy wayes: behold, thou art angry, for we haue sinned: yet in thee is continuance, and we shall be saued.

6 But wee haue all bene as an vncleane thing, and all our righteoufnesse is as filthy cloutes, and we all doe fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the winde haue taken vs away.

7 And there is none that calleth vpon thy Name, neither that stretcheth by himselfe to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from vs, and hast consumed vs because of our iniquities.

8 But now, O Lord, thou art our Father: we are the clay, & thou art our potter, and we al are the worke of thine hands.

9 We not angry, O Lord, about meafure, neither remember iniquitie for euer: loe, wee beseech thee, behold, we are all thy people.

g Thou wilt haue pitie vpon vs. h Wee are iustly punished and brought into captiuitie, because we haue prouoked thee to anger, and though wee would excuse our selues, yet our righteoufnesse and best vertues are before thee as vile cloutes, or, (as some reade) like the menstruous clothes of a woman. i Albeit, O Lord, by thy iust iudgement thou mayest vtterly destroy vs, as the potters may his pot, yet wee appeale to thy mercie vs, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopt vs to be thy children. k For so the flesh iudgeth when God doth not immediately send succour,

By taking away thy holy Spirit from vs by whome wee were gouerned, and so for our ingratitude diddest deliuer vs vnto our owne concupiscence, and didst punish sinne by sinne a The Prophet continueth his prayer, desiring God to declare his loue toward his Church by miracles, and mightie power, as hee did in Mount Sinai.

b Meaning, the raine, haile, fire, thunder, and lightnings.

c Saint Paul voucheth the same kinde of admiration, 1. Cor. 2. 9. marueiling at Gods great benefites shewed to his Church by the preaching of the Gospel.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made with hands. 3 Hee despyseth sacrifices done without mercie and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 19 The vocation of the Gentiles. 23 The perpetual Sabbath. 24 The punishment of the wicked & everlasting.

AR: 7.48.49. a My maiestie is so great that it filleth both heauen and earth, and therefore can not be included in a Temple like an idole: condemning hereby their vaine confidence, which trusted in the Temple and sacrifices. b Seeing that both the Temple and the things therein, with the sacrifices, were made and done by his appointment, he sheweth that he hath no neede thereof, and that he can be without them, Psal. 50.10. c To him that is humble and pure in heart, which receiueh my doctrine with reuerence and feare, d Because the Iewes thought themselves holy by offering of their sacrifices, and in the meane season had neither faith nor repentance, God sheweth that hee doeth no lesse detest these ceremonies, then hee doeth the sacrifices of the heathen, who offered men, dogges and swine to their idoles, which things were expressly forbidden in the law. e I will discouer their wickednesse and hypocrisie, where-with they thinke to blinde mine eyes, to all the world. f He encourageth the faithfull, by promising to destroy their enemies which pretended to be as brethren, but were hypocrites, and hated them that feared God. g The enemies shall shortly heare a more terrible voyce, even fire and slaughter, seeing they would not heare the gentle voyce of the Prophets which called them to repentance. h Meaning, that the restauration of the Church should bee so sudden and contrary to all mens opinion, as when a woman is deliuered before shee looke for it, and that without paine in trauaile.

Thus saith the Lorde, * The * heauen is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is that house that yee will build vnto me? and where is that place of my rest?

2 For all these things hath mine hande made, and all these things haue bene, saith the Lorde: and to him will I looke, euen to him that is poore, and of a contrite spirite and trembleth at my wordes.

3 Hee that killeth a bullocke, is as if hee deliue a man: hee that sacrificeth a heepe, as if he cut off a dogges necke: he that offereth an oblation, as if hee offered times blood: he that remembereth incense, as if hee blessed an idole: yea, they haue chosen their owne waies, and their soule delighteth in their abominations.

4 Therefore will I chuse out their delusions, and I will bring their feare vpon them, because I called, and none would answer: I spake, and they would not heare: but they did euill in my sight, and chose the things which I would not.

5 Heare the word of the Lord, all ye that tremble at his worde, Your brethren that hated you, and cast you out for my names sake, said, Let the Lord be glorified: but he shall appeare to your ioye, and they shall be ashamed.

6 A voyce soundeth from the cite, euen a voyce from the Temple, the voyce of the Lorde, that recompenseth his enemies fully.

7 Before I see trauailed, seee brought forth: and before her paine came, seee was deliuered of a man child.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seene such things? shall the earth bee brought forth in one day? or shall a nation be borne at once? for as soone as Zion trauailed, she brought forth her children.

9 Shall I cause to trauaile, and not bring forth? shall I cause to bring forth and shall be barren, saith the Lord?

10 Reioyce yee with Ierusalem, and bee glad with her, all ye that loue her: reioyce for ioy with her, all ye that mourne for her.

11 That ye may sucke and bee satisfied with the beastes of her consolation: that yee may milke out and bee delighted with the brightnesse of her gloiy.

12 For thus saith the Lorde, Behold, I will extend peace ouer her like a flood, and the gloiy of the Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye sucke, ye shall be borne vpon her sides, and bee ioyfull vpon her knees.

13 As one whome his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, and ye shall bee comforted in Ierusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall reioyce, and your bones shall flourish like and hearte: and the hand of the Lorde shall be known among his seruants, and his indignation against his enemies.

15 For behold, the Lorde will come with fire, and his charers like a whirling wornde, that he may recompense his anger with wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

16 For the Lord will iudge with fire, and with his worde all flesh, and the flame of the Lord shall be many.

17 They that sanctifie themselves, and purifie themselves in the gardens behinde one tree in the middes eating swines flesh, and such abomination, euen the moule, shall be consumed together, saith the Lord.

18 For I will visite their workes, & their imaginations: for it shall come that I will gather all nations, and tongues, and they shall come, and see my gloiy.

19 And I wil set a signe among them, and will sende those that escape of thou, vnto the nations of Tyars, ¹ Tyars, ² Iddu, and a Lib, and to them that draw the bow, to Tubal and Iauan, yles as farre off, that haue not heard my name, neither haue seene my gloiy, and they shall declare my gloiy among the Gentiles.

20 And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all i This shall passe the capacite of man to see such a multitude that shall come vp at once, meaning, vnder the preaching of the gospel, whereof they that came vp out of Babylon, were a figure.

k Declaring hereby, that as by his power and prouidence woman trauaileth and is deliuered: so hath he power to bring forth his Church, at his time appointed.

l That ye may reioyce for all the benefites that God bestoweth vpon his Church, m I will giue her felicitie and prosperitie in great abundance.

n Reade Chap. 60.16.

o Ye shall be cherished, as her dearly beloued children.

p Ye shall haue newe strength and new beaurie.

q This vengeance God began to execute at the destruction of Babylon, and hath euer continued it against the enemies of his Church, and will doe till the last day, which shall bee the accomplishment thereof.

r Meaning, the hypocrites. s Whereby are meant them that did maliciously transgresse the Lawe, by eating beastes forbidden, euen to the moule which nature abhorreth. t The Gentiles shall be partakers of that glory, which before I shewed to the Iewes. u I will make these that I chuse, that they perish not with the rest of the infidels: whereby hee alludeth to the marking of the postes of his people, whome he preferred, Exodus 12.7. x I will scatter the rest of the Iewes, which escape destruction, into diuers nations. y That is, Cilicia. z Meaning Africa, a To wit, Lydia, or Asia Minor. b Signifying the Pauthians, c Italia. d Grecia. e Meaning, the Apostles, Disciples, and others, which hee did first chuse of the Iewes to preach vnto the Gentiles. f That is, the Gentiles, which by faith shall be made the children of Abraham, as you are.

g Whereby he meaneth that no necessarie meanes shall want when God shall call the Gentiles to the knowledge of the Gospell, h To wit, of the Gentiles, as he did Luke, Timothy, and Titus first, and others after, to preach his word. i Hereby he signifieth the kingdome of Christ, wherein his Church shalbe renewed: and where as before there were appointed seasons to sacrifice, in this there shall be one continuall Sabbath, so that all times and seasons shall be mere.

nations, vpon horses, and in charrets, and in horse litteres, and vpon mules, and swift beastes, to Jerusalem mine holy mountaine, saith the Lorde, as the children of Israel offer in a cleane vessel in the house of the L ord.

21 And I will take of them for priests, and for Leuites, saith the L ord.

22 For as the new heauens, & the newe earth which I will make, shall remaine before mee, sayeth the L ord, so shall your seede and your name continue.

23 And from moneth to moneth, & from Sabbath to Sabbath shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the L ord.

24 And they shal go forth, and looke vpon the carcasses of the me that haue transgressed against me: for their womene shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched, and they shall bee an abhorring vnto all flesh.

k As he hath declared the felicitie that shall be within the Church for the comfort of the godly, so doth hee shewe what horrible calamitie shall come to the wicked, that are out of the Church. l Meaning, a continuall torment of conscience, which shall euer gnawe them and neuer suffer them to bee at rest, Marke 9. 44. m This is the iust recompense for the wicked, which contemning God and his worde, shall be by Gods iust iudgement abhorred of all his creatures.

Jeremiah.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE Prophet Jeremiah borne in the cite of Anathoth in the countrey of Benjamin, was the sonne of Hilkiah, whome some thinke to be he that found out the booke of the Law, and gaue it to Iosiah. This Prophet had excellent gifts of God, and most euident reuelations of prophecies, so that by the commandement of the Lorde he beganne very yong to prophesie, that is, in the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah, and continued eighteene yeeres vnder the laide King: and three moneths vnder Ichoahaz, and vnder Ichoiakim eleuen yeeres, and three moneths vnder Ichoiachin, & vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeeres: vnto the time that they were carryed away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to aboute fourtie yeeres, beside the time that he prophesied after the captiuitie. In this booke he declareth with teares and lamentation the destruction of Jerusalem, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatrie, couetisenesse, subtiltie, cruelty, excesse, rebellion, and contempt of Gods word, and for the consolation of the Church, reuileth the iust time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to bee considered three things. First the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more stubborne and obstinate, when the Prophets doe admonish them most plainly of their destruction. Next how the Prophets and Miniisters of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocation, though they be persecuted and rigorously handled of the wicked for Gods cause: And thirdly, though God shewe his iust iudgement against the wicked, yet will he euer shewe himselfe a preferuer of his Church, and when all meanes seeme to mans iudgement to be abolished, then will he declare himselfe victorious in preferring his.

7 But the Lorde saide vnto mee, Say thou, I am a childe: for thou shalt goe to all that I shall sende thee, and what so euer I commaunde thee, shalt thou speake.

f Of the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah, who was also called Mattaniah, and at this time the Iewes were carried away into Babylon by Nebuchad-nezzar. g The Scripture vseth this manner of speech, to declare that God hath appointed his ministers to their offices before they were borne, as Isaiah 49. 1. galat. 1. 15. h For Jeremiah did not onely prophesie against the Iewes, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites and other nations. i Considering the great iudgements of God, which according to his threatnings shoulde come vpon the worlde, hee was moued with a certaine compassion on the one side to pitee them that shoulde thus perishe, and on the other side by the infirmities of mans nature, knowing, how hard a thing it was to enterprise such a charge, as Isaiah 6. 11. Exodus 3. 11. and 4. 1.

of Ierusalem, which were the Caldeans dominion. p I will giue that Gods vengeance is prepared against them, which dare not execute their dutie faithfully, eyther for feare of man, or for any other

Satan & the world rage against Gods ministers, the more present will he be to helpe them, Iosua. 5. Heb. 13. 5. and on the other part, that

CHAP. II.

2 God reheaseth his benefites done vnto the Iewes.
8 Against the Priests and false prophets. 12 The Iewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

Meane while, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Go, and crie in the eares of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, with the kindness of thy youth and the loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after mee in the wilderness in a land that was not sowed.

3 Israel was as a thing halowed vnto the Lord, and his first frutes: all they that eate it, shall offend: euill shall come vpon them, saith the Lord.

4 Weare yet the word of the Lorde, O house of Iakob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers found in mee, that they are gone farre from me, and haue walked after baunite, and are become baime?

6 For they sayde not, There is the Lord that brought vs vp out of the lande of Eg-ypte: that led vs through the wilderness, through a desert, and waste lande, through a drie land, and s by the shadowe of death, by a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentifull country, to eate the fruite thereof, and the commodities of the same: but when yee entered, yee defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The Idoles sayd not, Where is the Lorde? and they that shoulde minister the lawe, knewe mee not: the pastours also offended against mee, and the Prophets prophecied in Baal, and went after things that did not profite.

9 Therefore I will yet pleade with you, saith the Lord, and I will pleade with your childrens children.

10 For goe yee to the yles of Chittim, and behold, and send vnto Kadar, and take diligent heede, and see whether there be such things.

11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people haue changed their glorie, for that which doth not profite.

12 O yee heauens, bee astonied at this:
be afraid and vnterly confounded, saith the Lord.

13 For my people haue committed two euils: they haue forsaken mee: the fountaine of liuing waters, to digge theyn and ministers: signifying that all estates were corrupt. m That is, of God to serue idoles: for by Baal, which was the chiefe idole of the Moabites, are meant all idoles. n Signifying, that hee woulde evident example their great ingratitude, that they might bee ashamed and repent. o Meaning, the Grecians and Italians. p Vnto them glorious aboue all other people: reproouing the Iewes, that they were lesse diligent to serue the true God, then were the idolaters to honour their vanities. r Meaning, the idoles, which were their destruction, Pal. 106. 36. s Hee sheweth that the insensible creatures abhorre this vile ingratitude, and as it were, tremble for feare of Gods great iudgements against the same. t Signifying, that when men forsake Gods word, which is the fountaine of life, they reiect God himselfe, and so fall to their owne inuentions, and vaine confidence, and procure to themselves destruction, purifications and ceremonies of the Lawe, thou canst not escape punishment, except thou turne to me by faith and repentance. i Meaning, that hypocrites denie that they worshippinge the idoles, but that they honour God in them, and therefore they call their doings Gods seruice. i Hee compareth the idolaters to these beasts, be-so though thou canst not be returned backe nowe from thine idola-trie, yet when thine iniquitie shall be at the full, God will meete labour, and hurt themselves, which is here meant by the bare foote and thurst, lra. 57.10.

his cities are burnt without ^y an inhabi-

16 Also the children of ^z Mooph and Ca-hapanes haue ^a broken thine head.

17 Hast not thou procured this vnto thy selfe, because thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, when hee ^b ledde thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou nowe to doe in the way of ^c Egypt? to drinke the water of Shilus: or what maketh thou in the way of Asshur: to drinke the water of the ^d Ri-uer?

19 Thine owne wickednesse shall ^e correct thee, and thy turnings backe shall reprooue thee: knowe therefore and beholde, that it is an euill thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hostes.

20 For of olde time I haue broken thy yoke, and burst thy bonds, and thou saydest,
I wil no more transgresse, but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon all hie hilles, and vnder all greene trees.

21 Yet I had planted thee, a noble vine, whose ^f plants were all naturall: how then art thou turned vnto me vnto the plants of a strange vine?

22 Though thou wash thee with ^g nitre, and take thee much sope, yet thine in-quittie is marked before mee, saith the Lord
God.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, neither haue I ^h followed Baalim: be-holde thy wayes in the valley, and knowe, what thou hast done: thou art like a swift ⁱ dyomedact, that runneth by his wayes.

24 And as a wilde ^k ass, vnto the wil-dernes, that smitteth by the winde by occasion at her pleasure: who can turne her backe: all they that seeke her, will not weare themselves, but will find her in her ^l mo-neth.

25 Keepe thou thy feete from ^m bare-nesse, and thy throte from thirst: but thou saydest desperately, No, for I haue loued strangers, and them will I followe.

26 As the ⁿ thiefe is ashamed when hee is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their kings, their princes, and their Priests, and their Prophets.

27 Saying to a tree, Thou art my ^o father, and to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: for they haue turned their backe vnto mee, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? Let them arise, if they can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble: for according ^p to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Iudah.

29 Wherefore wilt ^q ye pleade with mee, yeer all haue rebelled against mee, sayeth the Lord.

30 I haue smitten your children in vaine,
they received no correction: your ^r owne sword hath denoured your Prophets like a destroying Lyon.

31 O generation, take heede to the word of the Lorde: haue I bene as a ^s wildenesse vnto Israel? or a land of darkenesse?
Wherefore sayeth my people then, Wee are lordes, wee will come no more vnto thee.

32 Can a maide forget her ornament, or a bride her attyre: yet my people haue forgotten me, dayes without number.

33 Why dost thou prepare thy way, to ^t seeke amitie: euen thereto wilt I teach thee, that thy wayes are wickednesse.

34 Also in the ^u wings is founde the blood of the soules of the poore innocents:
I haue not found it in holes, but vpon all these places.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am guilt-lesse, surely his wrath shall turne from mee:
beholde, I will enter with thee into iudge-ment, because thou sayest, I haue not sinned.

36 Why runnest thou about so much to change thy wayes? for thou shalt be confounded of Egypt, ^v as thou art confounded of Asshur.

37 For thou shalt goe forth from thence, and thine hands vpon ^w thine head, because the Lorde hath reiecte thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.

game vnto her? shall not this lande b her

2 Lift up thine eyes vnto the hie places, with thy whooredomes, and with thy

3 Therefore the showres haue bene re-

5 Will he keepe his anger for ever? wil he

6 The Lorde saide vnto me, in the dayes of Iosiah the King, Hast thou seene what this rebell i Israel hath done? for the hath gone by vpon euery hie mountaine, and vnder euery greene tree, & there played the harlot.

7 And I saide, when shee had done all this, Turne thou vnto me: but shee returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah saide.

8 When I saide, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I cast k her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not afraid, but she went also, and played the harlot.

9 So that for the l lightnesse of her whooredome shee hath euen defiled the land:
for she hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.

10 Neuertheless for all this, her rebellious sister Iudah hath not returned vnto me with m her whole heart, but fainedly, saith
the Lord:

11 And the Lord saide vnto me, The rebellious Israel hath n iustified her selfe more then the rebellious Iudah.

12 Goe and cry these wordes towarde o the North and say, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, saith the Lord, and I will not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am merci-full, saith the Lord, and I will not alway keepe mine anger.

13 But knowe thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, and hast p scattered thy wayes to the strange gods vnder euery greene tree, but ye would not obey my voyce, saith the Lord.

14 O ye disobedient children, turne againe, saith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I will take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe, and will bring you to Zion,

15 And I will giue you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feede you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreover, when ye be increased and multiplied in the land, in those dayes, saith the Lord, they shall lay no more, The q Arke of the covenant of the Lord: for it shall come no more to minde, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visite it, for that shall be no more done.

17 At that time they shall call Ierusalem, r The thione of the Lorde, and all the nations shall be gathered vnto it, euen to the Name of the Lorde in Ierusalem: and therefore they shall followe no more the hardnesse of their wicked heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Iudah shall walke with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the North, into the land, that I haue gi-uen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I saide, How did I take thee for children, and giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the annies of the heathen, and saide, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not turne from me:

20 But as a woman rebelleth against her husband: so haue ye rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Lorde.

21 A voyce was heard vpon the hie places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruerced their way, and forgotten the Lorde their God.

22 O ye disobedient children, returne and I will heale your rebellions. s Behold, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lorde our God.

23 Truly the hope of the hills is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines:
but in the Lorde our God is the health of Israel.

24 For confusion hath denoued our sheepe and their bullockes, their sonnes and their daughters.

of your heartes, ye men of Iudah, and in come forth like fire, and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednes of 5 Declare in Iudah, and shew forth in Ierusalem, and say, Blowe the trumpet in Assemble your selues, and let vs goe into

6 Set vp the standart in Zion: prepare

8 Therefore gird you with sackcloth:

the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, sayeth the Lord, the heart of the king shall perishe, and the heart of the Princes, and the Iudels shall be as astonished, and the Prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lorde God, surely thou hast deceiued this people, and Ieru salem, saying, Ye shall haue peace, and the sword pearceeth vnto the heart.

11 At that time shall it be saide to this people & to Ierusalem, A drie winde in the high places of the wilderness cometh to ward the daughter of my people, but ney ther to fanne, nor to cleanse.

12 A nightie winde shall come vnto me from those places, and now will I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 Beholde, hee shall come vp as the cloudes, and his chariots shall be as a tem pest: his horses are lighter then eagles.
Allo vnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Ierusalem, waite thine heart from wickednesse, that thou mayest bee saued:
how long shall thy wicked thoughtes re maine within thee?

15 For a voyce declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention of the heathen, and publish in Ierusalem, Behold, the skoutes come from a farre countrey, and crie out against the cities of Iudah.

17 They haue compassed her about as the watchmen of the field, because it hath prooked me to wrath, saith the Lord.

18 Thy wayes & thine inuentions haue procured thee these things, such is thy wi kednes: therefore it shall be bitter, therefore it shall pearce vnto thine heart.

19 O my belly, my belly, I am pained, euen at the very heart: my heart is trou bled within me: I cannot be still: for my soule hath heard the sound of the trumpet, and the alarme of the battell.

20 Destruction vpon destruction is cry ed, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my tentes destroyed, and my curtaines in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standart, and heare the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they haue not knowen me: they are foolish children, and haue none vnderstanding: they are wise to doe euill, but to doe well they haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and loe, it was without forme and void: and to the heauens, and they had no light.

24 I behelde the mountaines, and loe, they trembled, and all the hilles spooke.

25 I beheld, and loe, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were de parted.

26 I beheld, and loe, the fruitfull place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken downe at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lorde saide, The whole lande shall be desolate: yet will I not make a full ende.

28 Therefore shall the earth mourne, and the heauens aboue shall bee darkened, be cause I haue pronounced it: I haue thought it, and will not repent, neither will I turne backe from it.

29 The whole cite shall flee, for the noise of the horsemen and howe men: they shall goe into thicketts, and cline vp vpon the rockes: euery cite shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou shalt bee destroyed, what wilt thou doe? Though thou clo thest thy selfe with scarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of golde, though thou paintest thy face with co lours, yet shalt thou trimme thy selfe in vaine: for thy louers will abhorre thee and seeke thy life.

31 For I haue heard a noyse as of a wo man trailing, or as one labouring of her first childe, euen the voyce of the daughter of Zion that sigheth and stretcheth out her handes: I doe is mee now: for my soule faunterh because of the murderers.

ye can finde a man, or if there bee any that executeth iudgement, and seeketh the truth, and I will spare it.
2 For though they say, The Lord lieth, yet doe they sweare falsely.
3 O Lord, are not thine eyes vpon the earth: thou hast stricken them, but they haue not sorrowed: thou hast couched them, but they haue refused to receive correction:
they haue made their faces harder then a stone, and haue refused to returne.
4 Therefore I sayde, Surely they are poope, they are foolish, for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the iudgement of their God.
5 I will get me vnto the great men, and will speake vnto them: for they haue knowne the way of the Lord, and the iudge-ment of their God: but these haue altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.
6 Therefore I vpon out of the forest shall slay them, and a Wolfe of the wildenesse shall destroy them: a leopard shall watch ouer their cities: every one that goeth out thence, shall be come in pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions are increased.
7 How should I spare thee for this? thy children haue forsaken me, and I sware by them that are no gods: though I fed them to the full, yet they committed adulterie, and assembled themselves by companies in the harlots houses.
8 They rose vp in the morning like fedde horses: for every man neryed after his neighboures wife.
9 Shall I not visit for these things, saith the Lord? Shall not my soule bee auenged on such a nation as this?
10 I Cline vp vpon their wallles, and destroy them, but make not a full end: I take away their battlements, for they are not the Lordes.
11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue grievously trespassed against me, saith the Lord.
12 They haue denyed the Lord, and sayd, It is not he, neither shall the plague come vpon vs, neither shall we see sword nor famine.
13 And the prophets shall be as a winde, and the word is not in them: thus shall it come vnto them.
14 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, Because yee speake such wordes, beholde, I will put my wordes into a thy mouth, like a fire, and this people shall be as wood, and it shall deuoure them.
15 Lo, I will bring a nation vpon you from farre, O house of Israel, saith the Lord, which is a mightie nation, and an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neyther understandest what they say.
16 Whose quiner is as an open sepulchre: they are all very strong.
17 And they shall eate thine harvest and thy bread: they shall deuoure thy finnes, and thy daughters: they shall eate vp thy sheepe and thy bullockes: they shall eate thy vines and thy figge trees: they shall destroy with the sword thy fenced cities, wherein thou didest trust.

18 Neuerthelesse at those dayes, saith the Lord, I will not make a full ende of you.
19 And when yee shall say, Wherefore doeth the Lord our God doe these things vnto vs? then shalt thou answer them, Like as yee haue forsaken mee and serued strange gods in your land, so shall yee serue strangers in a land that is not yours.
20 Declare this in the house of Iakob, and publish it in Iudah, saying, 21 Heare now this, O foolish people, and without understanding, which haue eyes and see not, which haue eares & heare not.
22 Feare yee not me, saith the Lord: or will ye not be afrayde at my pience, which haue placed the lande for the boundes of the sea by the perpetuall decree that it can not passe it, and though the waues thereof rage, yet can they not puaile, though they roare, yet can they not passe ouer it.
23 But this people hath an unfaithfull and rebellious heart: they are departed and gone.
24 For they say not in their heart, Let vs now feare the Lord our God, that giueth raine both early and late in due season:
he reserveth vnto vs the appointed weekes
of the harvest.
25 Yet your iniquities haue turned away these things, and your finnes haue hindered good things from you.
26 For among my people are found wicked persons, that lay waite as bee that fer-retch inhares: they haue made a pit to catch men.
27 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceite: thereby they are become great and wayer rich.
28 They are wayer fat and shining: they doe ouerpasse the deedes of the wicked:
they execute no iudgement, no not the iudgement of the fatherlesse: yet they prosper, though they execute no iudgement for the poore.
29 Shall I not visite for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my soule bee auenged on such a nation as this?
30 An horrible and filthy thing is committed in the land.

my people delight therein. What will yee then doe in the ende thereof?

5 Arise, and let vs goe vp by night, and destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hosts said, Wee will downe wood, and cast a mount against Ierusalem: this citie must be destroyed: all opposition is in the midst of it.

7 As the fountaine casteth out her waters, so he casteth out her malice: a crueltie and spoyle is continually heard in her before me with sorow and strokes.

8 Be thou instructed, O Ierusalem, lest my soule depart from thee, lest I make thee desolate as a land, that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hosts. They shall gather as a vine; the residue of Israel: rurne backe thine hand as the grape gatherer vnto the baskets.

10 Vnto whom shall I speake, and aduise, that they may heare? Behold, their eares are vncircumcised, and they can not hearken: beholde, the word of the Lord is vnto them as a repproche: they haue no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lord: I am weary with holding it: I will powre it out vpon the children in the streete, and likewise vpon the assembly of the young men: for the husband shall euen bee taken with the wife, and the aged with him that is full of dayes.

12 And their houses with their landes, and wines all shall be turned vnto strangers: for I will stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of the lande, saith the Lord.

13 For from the least of them, euen vnto the greatest of them, euery one is giuen vnto conuouerselle, and vpon the prophet euen vnto the priest, they all deale falsly.

14 They haue healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweete words, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, no neither could they haue any shame: therefore they shall fall among the same: when I shall visite them, they shall be cast downe, saith the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the wayes and beholde, and aske for the olde way which is the good way, & walke therein, and ye shall finde rest for your soules: but they said, We will not walke therein.

20 To what purpose bringest thou mee from Sheba, and sweete calamus from a farre country? Your burnt offerings are not pleasant, nor your sacrifices sweete vnto me.

21 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will lay stumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together shall fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, a people cometh from the North country, and a great nation that arise from the Isles of the earth.

23 With bowe and shield they be weaponed: they are cruell, and will haue no compassion: their voyce roareth like the sea, and they ride vpon horses, well appointed, like men of warre against thee, O daughter Zion.

24 We haue heard their fame, and our hands are feeble: sorowe is come vpon vs, as the sorowe of a woman in trauaile.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walke by the way: for the sword of the enemy and feare is on euery side.

26 O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thy selfe in the ashes: make lamentation, and bitter mourning as for thine only sonne: for the destroyer shall suddenly come vpon vs.

27 I haue set thee for a defence and for trespasse among my people, that thou mayest knowe and trie their wayes.

28 They are all rebellious traitours, walking craftily: they are braue, and yron, they all are destroyers.

9 And oppresse not the stranger, the fatherlesse and the widow, and shed no innocent blood in this place, neyther walke after other gods to your destruction.

7 Then will I let you dwell in this place in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers, for euer and euer.

8 Beholde, you trust in lying wordes, that cannot profite.

9 Will you steale, murder and commit adulterie, and sweare falsely, and burne incense vnto Baal, & walke after other gods whom ye know not,

10 And come and stand before mee in this house, whereupon my name is called, and say, We are deliuered, though wee haue done all these abominations?

11 Is this house become a denne of theues, whereupon my Name is called before your eyes? Beholde, euen I see it, saith the Lord.

12 But goe yee now vnto my palace which was in Shilo, & where I let my Name at the beginning, and beholde what I did to it for the wickednes of my people Israel.

13 Therefore now because yee haue done all these workes, saith the Lorde (and I roie vp early and spake vnto you: but when I spake, ye would not heare me, neyther when I called, would ye answer)

14 Therefore wil I do vnto this house, whereupon my Name is called, wherein also yee trust, euen vnto the place that I gaue to you and to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shilo.

15 And I wil cast you out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your brethren, euen the whole seede of Ephraim.

16 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift vp crye or prayer for them, neither increate mee, for I will not heare thee.

17 Seest thou not what they doe in the cities of Iudah and in the streetes of Ierusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kinde the fire, & the women knead the dough to make cakes to the Queene of heauen and to powre out drinke offerings vnto other gods, that they may prouoke me vnto anger.

19 Doe they prouoke me to anger, saith the Lord, and not themselves to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, mine anger and my wrath shall be kindled vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon the tree of the field, and vpon the fruite of the ground, and it shall burne and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, But your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.

22 For I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voyce, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: & walke ye in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that it may be well vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsels and the stubbornnesse of their wicked heart, and went backward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came by out of the land of Egypt, vnto this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, m rising by early every day, and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare me nor incline their eare, but hardened their necke, and did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these wordes vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt also cry vnto them, but they will not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt say vnto them, This is a nation that braverh not the voyce of the Lorde their God, nor receiueh discipline: truth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut off thine haire, O Ierusalem, and call it away, and take by a complaint in the hie places: for the Lorde hath reiected and forlaken the generation of his wrath.

31 And they haue built the hie place of Topheth, which is in the valley of Ben-hinnom, to burne their sonnes and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neyther came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lorde, that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall burie in Topheth till there be no place.

33 And the carkeiles of this people shall be meate for the fowles of the heauen and for the beasts of the earth, and none shall fray them away.

1 The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lords mooueth the people to amendment. 10 He reprehendeth the lying doctrine and the coutetousnesse of the Prophets and Priests.

At that time, saith the Lorde, they shall bring out the bones of the Kings of Iudah, and the bones of their Princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the Prophets, & the bones of the inhabitants of Ierusalem out of their graves.

2 And they shall spread them before the sunne and the moone, and all the hoste of heauen, whome they haue loued, and whome they haue serued, and whome they haue followed, and whome they haue fought, and whome they haue worshipped : they shall not be gathered nor be buried, but shall bee as dung vpon the earth.

3 And death shalbe desired rather then life of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked familie, which remaine in all the places where I haue scattered them, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 Thou shalt say vnto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Shall they fall & not arise? shall hee turne away and not turne againe?

5 Wherefore is this people of Ierusalem turned backe by a perpetual rebellion? they gaue themselves to deceite, and woulde not returne.

6 I hearkened and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickednesse, saying, What haue I done? euerie one turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battell.

10 Therefore wil I giue their wines vnto others, and their fildes to them that shal possesse them: for euerie one from the least euen vnto the greatest is giuen to coutetousnesse, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, euerie one dealeth falsely.

11 For they haue healed the heart of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed adonination? nay, they were not ashamed, neither could they haue any shame: therefore shall they fall among the flaine: when I shall visite them, they shall be cast doونه, saith the Lord.

13 I wil surely consume them, saith the Lord: there shall bee no grapes on the vine, nor figges on the fig tree, and the lease shall fade, & the things that I haue giuen them, I shall depart from them.

14 Why doe we stay? I assemblen our selues, & let vs enter into the strong cities, and let vs be quiet there: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence, and giuen vs water with gall to drinke, because we haue sinned against the Lord.

15 Wee looked for peace, but no good came, and for a tyme of health, and beholde troubles.

16 The neyng of his horses was heard from Dan, the whole land trembled at the noyse of the neyng of his strong horses: for they are come, and haue deuoured the land with all that is in it, the citie and those that dwell therein.

17 For beholde, I wil send serpents, and cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall sting you, saith the Lord.

18 I would haue comforted my selfe against sorow, but mine hart is heavy in me.

19 Beholde, the boyce of the crye of the daughter of my people for feare of them of a farre countrey, Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her King in her? Why? haue they prouoked mee to anger with their graven images, and with the vanities of a strange god?

20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not holpen.

21 I am a sore bered for the hurt of the daughter of my people: I am heauie, and astonishment hath taken me.

22 Is there no balme at Gilead? is there no Physicion there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

q The Prophet speakeeth this. i Meaning, that no mans helpe or meane could saue them: for in Gilead was precious balme, Chap. 46. 11. or else deriding the vaine confidence of the people, who looked for helpe at their Priests, who should haue bene the Physicians of their soules, and dwelt at Gilead, Hos. 6. 8.

CHAP. IX.

i The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we only to reioyce. 26 The vncircumcision of the heart.

O that mine head were full of water, and mine eyes a fountaine of teares, that I might weepe day and night for the flaine of the daughter of my people.

2 Wh, that I had in the wilderness a cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leaue my people and goe from them: for they bee all adulterers and an assembly of rebels.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bowes for lies: but they haue no courage for the truth vpon the earth: for they proceede from euill to worse, and they haue not knowne me, saith the Lord.

4 Let euerie one take heed of his neighbour, and trust you not in any brother: for euerie brother will beleeve deceit, and euerie friend will deale deceitfully.

b Heweth that thus were more quietnesse, and greater safety to him, to dwell among the wild beasts then among this wicked people: that God hath inioyned him this charge. c Vterly turne from God. d To belie and slander their neighbours. e Meaning that all were corrupt, and none could finde an honest man.

a The enemie for greedinesse of gaine shall rise your granes, and lay you before those idoles, which in your life you worshipped, to see if they can helpe you. b Because of the afflictions that they shall feele through Gods iudgements. c Is there no hope that they will returne?

d They are full of hypocrisie, and euerie one followeth his owne fantasie without any consideration. e He accuseth them in that that they are more ignorant of Gods iudgements, then these birds are of their appointed seasons, to discern the colde and heate, as Isa. 1. 3. f The Law doth not profite yeh, neither needed it to haue bin written for ought, that you haue learned by it. g They seeme wise may be ashamed of their ignorance for all wisdom consisteth in Gods worde. i He speaketh in the person of the people, who when the enemie cometh, will runne about to hide themselves, and acknowledge that it is Gods hand. k That is, hath brought vs into extreme affliction, and thus they shall not attribute this plague to fortune, but to Gods iust iudgement, Chap. 9. 15. and 23. 15. n Seeing you can not lament your owne finnes, call for those foolish women, whome of a superstition you haue to lament for the dead, that they by their fained teares may prouoke you to some sorowe.

o As though they were weary of vs, because of our iniquities, Leuit. 18. 28. and 30. 32.

p Hee denideth the superstition of the women, which made an art of mourning, and taught to weepe with fained teares.

q Signifying, that there is no means to deliuer the wicked from Gods iudgements: but when they thinke to be most sure, and most farre off, then are they doonest taken.

5 And euery one will deceiue his friend, and wil not speake the truth: for they haue taught their tongues to speake lyes, and take great paines to doe wickedly.

6 Echine habitation is in the mids of deceiuers: because of their deceite they refuse to knowe me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I wil melt them, and trie them: for what should I else doe for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrow shot out, and I speake the deceite: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he laueth waite for him.

9 Shall not I visit them for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my foule bee avenge on such a nation as this?

10 Upon the mountains will I take vp a weeping, and a lamentation, and vpon the faire places of the wilderness a mourning, because they are burnt vp: so y^e none can passe through them, neither can men heare the voyce of the flocke: both the foule of the ayre, and the beast are fled away and gone.

11 And I wil make Ierusalem an heape, and a den of dragons, & I wil make y^e cities of Iudah waste, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is wise to vnderstand this? and to whom the mouth of the Lord declare it. Why doeth the lande perish, and is burnt vp like a wilderness, that none passe through?

13 And the Lord saith, Because they haue forsaken my law, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voyce, neyther walked thereafter,

14 But haue walked after the stubbornnesse of their owne heart, and after Baalims, which their fathers taught them,

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I wil feede this people with wormewood, and giue them waters of gall to drinke.

16 I wil scatter them also among the heathen, whome neither they nor their fathers haue knownen, and I wil send a sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

17 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Take heede, and call for the mourning women, that they may come, and send for skillfull women: that they may come.

18 And let them make haste, and let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may cast our teares, and our eye lids gully out of water.

19 For a lamentable noyse is heard out of Zion, howe we are destroyed, and brekely confounded! for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings haue cast vs out.

20 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your eares regard the wordes of his mouth, and teache your daughters to mourne, and euery one her neighbour to lament.

21 For death is come vp into our widdowes, and is entred into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the yong men in the streetes.

22 Speake, Thus saith the Lord, The carkeises of men shall lie euen as the dewing vpon the field, and as the handfull after the mower, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wife man glory in his wisdom, nor the strong man glory in his strength, neither the rich man glory in his riches.

24 But let him that glorieth, glory in this, that hee vnderstandeth, and knoweth me: for I am the Lord, which shew mercy, iudgement, and righteousness in the earth: for in these things I delight saith the Lord.

25 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I wil visite all them, which are circumcised with the vncircumcised:

26 Egypt, and Iudah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all the vniuersall corners of them that dwell in the wilderness: for all these nations are vncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are vncircumcised in the heart.

Meaning, both Iewes and Gentiles, as in the next verse hee sheweth the cause, reade Chap. 4. 4.

1 The constellations of the stars are not to be feared. 2 The weaknesse of idoles, and of the power of God. 3 Their passions are become brute beasts.

4 Care the worde of the Lord that hee speakeeth vnto you, O house of Israel.

7 And another decketh it with silver, and with golde: they fasten it with nayles, and hammereth that it stand not.

8 The idoles stand by as the palme tree, but speake not: they are borne because they cannot goe: feare them not, for they cannot doe euill, neither can they doe good.

9 There is none like vnto thee, O Lord: y^e great: & thy name is great in power.

10 Who would not feare thee, O king of nations: for to thee appertained the dominion: for among all the wise men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdoomes there is none like thee.

11 But altogether they dote, and are foolish: for the stocke is a doctrine of vanitie. Lawes and ceremonies, whereby they confirme their idolatrie, which is forbidden, Deut. 12. 30. The Prophets vie thus plainly and simply to let forth the vile absurditie of the idolaters, that men might learne to be ashamed of that, whereunto they corrupt nature is most subiect, reade Isa. 44. 12. He teacheth the people to lift vp their eyes to God, who hath all power, and therefore ought onely to be feared: and herein hee sheweth them not onely the euill that they ought to elchew, but the good which they ought to followe, Reuel. 15. 4.

12 Because the people thought that to haue images was a meane to serue God, and to bring them to the knowledge of him, he sheweth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor bringeth man into greater errors and ignorance of God: and therefore hee calleth them the doctrine of vanitie, the worke of errors, verse 15, and Hab. 2. 18. calleth them the teachers of lies: contrary to that wicked opinion, that they are the bookes of the lay people.

These three poyntes are necessary to knowe aright his mercie, wherein consisteth our salvation: his iudgement, which he executeth continually against the wicked: and his iustice, whereby he defendeth and maintayneth the faithful.

G This declareth, that all that hath bene in this Chapter spoken of idoles, was to arme the Iewes when they should be in Caldea among the idolaters, and nowe with one fence he instructeth them both how to protest their owne religion against the idolaters, & how to answer them to their shame which should exhort them to idolatrie, & therefore he writeth this sentence in the Caldeans tongue for a memorie, whereas all the rest of his writing is Hebrew.

h The more that man thinketh to do any thing well by his owne wisdom, and not as God instructeth him, the more doeth he proue himselfe to be a vile beast.

9 Silver plates are brought from Tarsish, and gold from Cyprus, for the worke of the workeman, and the bandes of the founder: the blue silke, and the purple is their clothing: all these things are made by cunning men.

10 But the Lord is the God of truth: he is the living God, and an everlasting king: at his anger the earth shall tremble, and the nations cannot abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shall you say vnto them, The gods: that haue not made the heauens and the earth, shall perish from the earth, and from vnder these heauens)

12 Hee hath made the earth by his power, and established the worlde by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

15 They are vanitie, and the worke of errours: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 The portion of Iakob is not like them: for hee is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rodde of his inheritance: the Lord of hosts is his Name.

17 Gather vp thy wares out of the land, O thou that dwellest in the strong place.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I will shew as with a sling the inhabitants of the land, and will trouble them, and they shall finde it so.

19 Woe is mee, for my destruction, and my grievous plague: but I thought, Yet it is my hope, and I will beare it.

23 O Lord, I knowe, that the way of which Isaiah calleth in measure, Chap. 27. 8. measuring his rods by their infirmities, 1. The worde that came to Ieremias from the Lord, saying,

2 Heare ye the wordes of this covenant, and speake vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

3 And say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Cursed bee the man that obeyeth not the wordes of this covenant,

4 Which I commaunded vnto your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the yron furnace, saying, Obey my voyce, and doe according to all the things, which I commaund you: so shall ye be my people, & I will be your God,

5 That I may confirme the othe, that I haue sware vnto your fathers, to giue them a land, which floweth with milke, and honie, as appeareth this day. Then answered I and said, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord said vnto me, Cry all these wordes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the wordes of this covenant, and doe them.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them by out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

8 Nevertheless, they would not obey, nor incline their eare: but euery one walked in stubbornnes of his wicked heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the wordes of this covenant, which I commaunded them to doe, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue broken my covenant, which I made with their fathers.

q Considering that God had reuelled vnto him the certitude of their captiuitie, Chap. 7. 16. he onely prayeth, that he would punish them with mercie, 11 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shall not be able to escape, and though they cry vnto me, I will not heare them.

12 When shall the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, goe, and cry vnto the gods vnto whom they offer incense, but they shall not be able to help them in time of their trouble.
13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, and according to the number of the streetes of Ierusalem haue ye set vp altars of confusion, euen altars to burne incense vnto Baal.
14 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neyther lift vp a cry, or prayer for them: for when they cry vnto mee in their trouble, I will not heare them.
15 What shoulde my beloved care in mine house, seeing they haue committed abomination with many: and the holy flesh goeth away from thee: yet when thou dost euill, thou reioicest.
16 The Lord called thy name, A greene olive tree, faire, and of goodly fruite: but with a noyse and great tumult hee hath set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.
17 For the Lorde of hostes that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudah, which they haue done against themselves to prouoke mee to anger in offering incense vnto Baal.
18 And the Lord hath taught me, and I know it, euen then thou shewdest me their practises.
19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, & I knew not that they had deuised thus against me, saying, Let vs destroy the tree with the fruite thereof, and cut him out of the land of the liuing, that his name may bee no more in memorie.
20 But O Lord of hostes, vindicest righteously, and triest the reines and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.
21 The Lord therefore speaketh thus of the men of Anathoth, (that seeke thy life, and say, Prophecie not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands)
22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will visite them: the yong men shall die by the sword: their sons and their daughters shall die by famine,
23 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague vpon the men of Anathoth, euen the yeere of their visitation.

10 speaker against pastors and preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threatneth destruction vnto the nations that troubled Iudah.
O Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art righteous: yet let me talke with thee of thy iudgements: wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? why are all they in wealth that rebelliously transgresse?
2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken roote: they growe, and bring forth fruite: thou art neere in their mouth, and farre from their reines.
3 But thou, Lorde, knowest mee: thou hast seene mee, and tried mine heart towarde thee: pull them out like sheepe for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.
4 How long shall the land mourne, and the heauens of euery field wither for the wickednes of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed and the birds, because they said, We will not be our last end.
5 If thou hast run with the footemen, and they haue wearied thee, then how canst thou match thy selfe with horses? and if thou thoughtest thy selfe safe in a peaceable land, what wilt thou doe in the swelling of Iordan?
6 For euen thy brethren, and the house of thy father, euen they haue dealt faithlesly with thee, and they haue cryed out altogether vpon thee: but beleue them not, though they speake faire to thee.
7 I haue forsaken a mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the dearely beloved of my soule into the hands of her enemies.
8 Mine heritage is vnto mee, as a lyon in the forest: it crieth out against me, therefore haue I hated it.
9 Shall mine heritage be vnto mee as a bird of diuers colours? are not the birds about her, saying, Come, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to eate her?
10 Many pastours haue destroyed my vineyard, and troden my portion vnder foote: of my pleasant portion they haue made a desolate wilderness.
11 They haue laid it waste, and it, being waste, mourneth vnto mee: and the whole lande lyeth waste, because no man letteth flattered themselves as though God would euer be merciful, and not vicerly destroy them: therefore they hardened themselves in sinne, till at length the beasts and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their stubborne rebellion against God. f Some thinke that God reprooueth Ieremiah, in that he would reason with him, saying, that if he were not able to march with men, that hee were farre vnable to dispute with God. Others, by the foote men, meane them of Anathoth, and by the horsemen them of Ierusalem, which should trouble the Prophet worse then his owne countrey men did. g God willeth the Prophet to denounce his iudgements against Ierusalem, notwithstanding that they shall both by threatnings and flatteries labour to put him to silence. h Euer ramping and raging against me and my Prophets. i In steade of bearing my liuery and wearing onely my colours, they haue change and diuersitie of colours of their idols and superstitions: therefore their enemies, as thicke as the soles of the ayre, shall come about them to destroy them. k He prophesieth of the destruction of Ierusalem by the captaines of Nebuchad-nezzar, whom he calleth pastors.

a The Prophet confesseth God to be iust in all his doings, although man be not able to giue reason of all his aces.
b This question hath benee alway a great temptation to the godly, to see the wicked enemies of God in prosperitie, and his deare children in aduersitie, as Job 21. 7. psalm. 37. 1. and 73. 3.

14 Thus saith the Lord against all mine euill neighbours, that touch the inheritance, which I haue caused my people Israel to inherit. Behold, I will plucke them out of their land, and plucke out the house of Iudah from among them.

15 And after that I haue plucked them out, I will returne, and haue compassion on them, and will bring againe every man to his heritage, and every man to his land.

16 And if they will learne the wayes of my people, to sweare by my Name, (The Lord lieth, as they taught my people to sweare by Baal) then shall they be built in the midst of my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I betterly plucke vp, and destroy that nation, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The destruction of the Jewes prefigured. 11 Why Israel was reuered to bee the people of God, and why they were forsaken. 15 He exhorteth them to repentance.

Thus saith the Lord vnto me, Goe, and buy thee a linnen girdle, and put it vpon thy loynes, and put it not in water.

2 So I bought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes,

3 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, go toward Derath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

5 So I went, and hid it by Derath, as the Lord had commanded me.

6 And after many dayes, the Lord saide vnto me, Arise, goe toward Derath, & take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Derath, and digged, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and beholde, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this manner will I destroy the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem.

10 This wicked people haue refused to heare my worde, and walke after the stubborne of their owne heart, & walke after other gods to serue them, and to worship them: therefore they shall be as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loynes of a man, so haue I tied to mee the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iudah, saith the Lord, that they might be my people: that they might haue a name and praye, and glory, but they would not heare.

12 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them this word, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Every bottell shall be filled with wine, & they shall say vnto thee, Do not we know, that euery bottell shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will fill all the inhabitants of this lande, euen the kings that sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and the Priestes, and the Prophets and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunkennes,

14 And I will dash them one against another, euen the fathers and the sonnes together, saith the Lord: I will not spare, I will not pitty nor haue compassion, but destroy them.

15 Heare and giue care, be not proude: for the Lord hath spoken it.

16 Oue glory to the Lord your God before he bring darkenesse, and ouer your feete stumble in the darke mountaines, and whiles ye looke for light, he turne it into the shadow of death and make it as darkenesse.

17 But if ye will not heare this, my soule shall weepe in secret for your pride, & mine eye shall weepe and droppe downe teares, because the Lordes flocke is caried away captiue.

18 Say vnto the king & to the Queene, Humble your selues, sit downe, for the crowne of your glory shall come downe from your heads.

19 The cities of the South shall be shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iudah shall be caried away captiue: it shall be wholly caried away captiue.

20 Lift vp your eyes, and beholde them that come from the North: where is the flocke that was giuen thee, euen thy beautifull flocke?

21 What wilt thou say, when he shall visite thee? (For thou hast taught them to bee captiues and as chiefe over thee) shall not sorowe take thee as a woman in travail?

22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon me? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts discovered and thy heeles made bare.

23 Can the blacke Moore change his skine? or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, & are accustomed to do euil.

24 Therefore wil I scatter them, as the stubble that is taken away with the South winde.

25 This is thy portion, and the part of thy meannes from me, saith the Lord, because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in lies.

26 Therefore I haue also discovered thy skirts vpon thy face, that thy shame may appeare.

27 I haue seene thine adulteries, and thy neglings,

b Euery one of you shall be filled with spirituall drunkennes, and be without all knowledge to seeke howe to help your selues.

c It shall be as easie for me to destroy the greatest, & the strongest, as it is for a man to breake earthen bottels.

d That is affliction and miserie, by the Babylonians, Isa. 8. 22.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Of the death that should come. 7 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lord. 10 The unfaithfull people are not heard. 12 Of prayer, fasting, and false prophets that seduce the people.

The word of the Lord that came unto Jeremiah, concerning the death.

1 Judah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, they have bin brought to heauinesse vnto the ground, and the crye of Ierusalem goeth vp.

3 And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water, who came to the welles, and found no water: they returned with their vessels empyte: they were ashamed and confounded, and covered their heads.

4 For the ground was destroyed, because there was no raine in the earth: the plowmen were ashamed, and covered their heads.

5 Pea, the hinde also calued in the fildes, and forsook it, because there was no grasse.

6 And the wilde asses did stand in the hie places, and dewe in their twinde like dragons: their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

7 The Lord, though our iniquities testifie against vs, deale with vs according to thy name: for our rebellions are many, wee sinned against thee.

8 The hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a stranger in the land, as one that passeth by to tarte for a night?

9 Where thou as a man ascribed, and as a strong man that can not helpe? yet thou, O Lord, art in the middes of vs, and thy name is called vpon vs: forsake vs not.

10 Thus saith the Lord vnto this people, Thus haue they delited to wander: they haue not refrained their feet, therefore the Lord hath no delight in them: but he will now remember their iniquitie, and visite their finnes.

11 Then said the Lord vnto me, Thou shalt not pray to doe this people good.

12 When they fast, I will not heare their cry, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

13 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, behold, the prophets say vnto them, We shall not see the sword, neither shall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you assured peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord said vnto me, The prophets prophetic lie in my name: I haue not sent them, neither did I commaund the Lord answere & that both the Prophets which decciued, and the people, which suffered themselves to be seduced, shall perish, Chap. 23. 15. and 27. 8, 9. and 29. 6. Chap. 23. 21. and 27. 10, 15. and 29. 9.

them, neither spake I vnto them, but they prophetic vnto you a false vision, and diuination, and vanitie, and deceitfulness of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that prophetic in my name, whome I haue not sent, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land, by sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whom these prophets doe prophetic, shalbe cast out in the streeces of Ierusalem, because of the famine, and the sword, and there shall bee none to burie them, both they, and their wives, and their soimes, and their daughters: for I will powre their wickednesse vpon them.

17 Therefore thou shalt say this word vnto them, Let mine eyes droppe downe teares night and day without ceasing: for the virgine daughter of my people is destroyed with a great destruction, and with a fore greiuous plague.

18 For if I goe into the fildes, beholde the flame with the sword: and if I enter into the citie, beholde them that are sicke for hunger also: moreover the papher also and the priest got a wadding into a land that they knew not.

19 Hast thou utterly rejected Judah, or hath thy soule abhorred Zion? why hast thou smitten vs, that we cannot be healed? Wee looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

20 We acknowledge, O Lord, our wickednesse and the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue sinned against thee.

21 Doe not abhorre vs: for thy names sake cast not downe the throne of thy glory: remember and breake not thy covenant with vs.

22 Are there any among the vauities of the Gentiles, that can giue raine? or can the heauens giue showres: is it not thou, O Lord our God? therefore we will waite vpon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Lord would haue no prayer for the Iewes, 3 But threateneth to destroy them with foure plagues.

When sayde the Lord vnto me, Though I Moses and Samuel stood before mee, yet mine affection coulde not bee towardes this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them depart.

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whither shall we depart? then tell them, Thus saith the Lord, Such as are appointed to death, vnto death: and such as are for the sword, to the sword: and such as are for the famine, to the famine: and such as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

3 And I will appoynt ouer them foure kindes, saith the Lord, the sword to slay, and the dogs to trace in pieces, and the fowles of the heauen, and the beasts of the earth to deuoure, and to destroy.

4 I will scatter them also in all kingdoms

m In this perplexitie, the Lord comforted me, and said that my last dayes should be quiet: and by the enemy he meant here, Nebuzar-adan the captaine of Nebuchad-nezzar, who gaue Jeremiah the choise either to remaine in his country, or to goe whether hee would: or by the enemy he meant the Iewes, which should afterward knowe Jeremiahs fidelitie, and therefore fauour him. n As for the people though they seemed strong as yron, yet shoulde they not be able to resist the hard yron of Babylon, but shoulde be ledd captiues.

14 And I will make thee to go with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burne you.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, remember me, and visite me, and reuenge me of my persecuters: take mee not away in the continuance of thine anger: know that for thy sake I haue suffered rebuke.

16 Thy wordes were found by me, and I did reate them, and thy word was vnto mee the ioy and reioycing of mine heart: for thy Name is called vpon mee, O Lord God of hostes.

mee with indignation.

20 And I will make thee vnto this people a strong brasen wall, and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to saue thee, and to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XVI.

2 The Lord forbidding Jeremiahs to marrie, sheweth him what should be the afflictions vpon Iudah, 13 The captiuitie of Babylon. 15 Their deliuerance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

The word of the Lord came also vnto me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take a thee a wife, nor haue sonnes nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters that are borne in this place, and concerning their mothers that beare them, and concerning their fathers that beget them in this land,

4 They shall die of deaths and diseases: they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried, but they shall bee as dung vpon the earth, and they shall bee consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carckes shall be meate for the foules of the heauen, and for the beastes of the earth.

5 For thus sayeth the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither goe to lament, nor be moued for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, euen mercie and compassion.

6 Both the great, and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7 They shall not stretch out the hands for them in the mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall they giue them the cuppe of consolation to drinke for their fathers: for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also goe into the house of feasting to sitte with them to eate and to drinke.

9 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, euen in your dayes the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome and the voyce of the bride.

11 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Because your fathers haue forsaken mee, sayeth the Lord, & haue walked after other gods, and haue serued them, and worshipped them, and haue forsaken mee, and haue not kept my law.

12 And ye haue done worse then your fathers: for behold, you walke euery one after the stubbornesse of his wicked heart, and will not heare me.

13 Therefore will I drine you out of this land into a land that yee knowe not, neither you, nor your fathers, & there shall yee serue other Gods day and night: for I will shewe you no grace.

14 Behold therefore, sayeth the Lord, the dayes come that it shall no more bee sayde, The Lord liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

15 But, the Lord liueth, that brought vp the children of Israel from the land of the North, and from all the lands where hee had scattered them; and I will bring them again into their land, & I gaue vnto their fathers.

16 Behold, saith the Lord, I will sende out many fishers, and they shall fish them, and after will I sende out many hunters, and they shall hunt them from euery mountaine and from euery hill, and out of the caues of the rocks.

17 For mine eyes are vpon all their wayes: they are not hid from mine eyes, neither is their iniquitie hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquitie and their sinne double, because they haue despised my land, and haue filled mine inheritance with their filthie & carious and their abominations.

19 O Lord, thou art my fort, and my strength and my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee, from the endes of the world, and shall say, Surely our fathers haue inherited lies, and vanity, wherein there was no profit.

20 Shall a man make gods vnto himselfe, and they are no gods?

21 Behold, therefore I will this once teach them: I will shew them mine hand and my power, and they shall know that my Name is the Lord.

4 And thou shalt rest, and in thee, shalbe a rest from thine heritage that I gaue thee, and I will cause thee to serue thine enemies in the land, which thou knowest not: for yee haue kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burne for euer.

5 Thus saith the Lord, Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arme, and withswaereth his heart from the Lord.

6 For he shalbe like y heath in y wilderness, & shall not see whe any good cometh, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land, and not inhabited.

7 Blessed be the man, that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

8 For he shall be as a tree that is planted by the water, which spreadeth out her rootes by the river, & shall not feele when the heate cometh, but her lease shalbe greene, and shall not care for the yeere of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

9 The heate is deceitfull and wicked about all things, who can know it.

13 O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee, shall be confounded: they that depart from thee, shall be written in the earth, because they haue forsaken the Lord, the fountaine of liuing waters.

19 Thus hath the Lord sayd vnto mee, Goe and stande in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Iudah come in, and by the which they goe out, and in all the gates of Ierusalem.

20 And lay vnto them, Heare the worde of the Lord, yee Kings of Iudah, and all Iudah, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, that enter in by these gates.

24 Neuerthelesse if yee will heare mee, sayth the Lord, and beare no burthen through the gates of the citie in the Sabbath day, but sanctifie the Sabbath day, so that yee doe no worke therein.

25 Then shall the Kings and the Princes enter in at the gates of this citie, & shall sit * vpon the thone of David and shall ride vpon charets, and vpon horses, both they and their Princes, the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem: and this citie shall remaine for ever.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Iudah, and from about Ierusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plaine, and from the mountaines, and from the South, which shall bring burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meate offerings, and incense, & shall bring sacrifice of payle into the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not heare me to sanctifie the Sabbath day, and not to beare a burden nor to goe through the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

3 Then I went downe to the potters house, and beholde, he wrought a worke on the wheel.

4 And the vessel that hee made of clay, was broken in the hand of the potter. so hee returned, and made it an other vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

6 O house of Israel, cannot I doe with you as this potter, sayth the Lord: behold, as the clay is in the potters hand, so are you in mine hand, O house of Israel.

7 I will speake ill denly against a nation, or against a kingdom to plucke it vp, and to root it out and destroy it.

8 But if this nation, against whome I haue pronounced, turne from their wickednesse, I will repent of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I will speake suddenly concerning a nation, & concerning a kingdom to build it and to plant it.

10 But if it doe euill in my sight & heare not my voyce, I will repent of the good that I thought to do for them.

11 Speake thou now therefore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, sayth the Lord, Beholde I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: returne you therefore euery one from his euill way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they sayde desperately, Surely we will walke after our owne imaginations, and do euery man after the stubburnesse of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard such thinges: the virgine of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snow of Lebanon, which cometh from the rocke of the field: or shall the cold flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and haue burnt incense to wantie, & their prophets haue caused the to stumble in their wayes from the ancient wayes, to walke in the paths and way that is not troden.

16 To make their land desolate & a perpetuall derision, so that euery one that passeth there by, shall be astonished and wagge his head,

17 I will scatter them with an Eastwinde before the enemy: I will shew them the backe, and not the face in the day of their destruction.

b When the Scripture attribureth repentance vnto God, it is not that he doeth contrary to that which he hath ordeined in his secreete counsell: but when he threatneth, it is a calling to repentance, and when he giueth man grace to repent, the threatening (which euer containeth a condition in it) taketh no places and this the Scripture callethe repentance in God, because it so appeareth to mans iudgement.

20 Shall euill be recompensed for goods? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stood before thee, to speake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore, O deliuer by their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sword, and let their wives be robbed of their children, and be widowes: and let their husbands be put to death, and let their yong men be slaine by the sword in the battell.

22 Let the drie be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an hoste suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pitte to take me, and hid inuares for my feete.

23 Yet O Lord thou knowest all their counsell against me tendeth to death: forgive not their iniquitie, neither put out their shame from thy sight, but let them be overthrowen before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

He prophesieth the destruction of Ierusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

Thus sayeth the Lord, God, and buy an earthen bottell of a potters, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

2 And goe forth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entrie of the East gate, and thou shalt preach there the wordes, that I shall tell thee.

3 And shalt say, Heare ye the word of the Lord, O Kings of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which whowene heauen, his eares shall tingle.

4 Because they haue forsaken mee, and prophaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whom neither they, nor their fathers haue knowne, nor the Kings of Iudah (they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5 And they haue built the hie places of Baal, to burne their sonnes with fire for burnt offerings vnto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my minde)

6 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will bring the counsell of Iudah and Ierusalem to naught in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seeke their liues: and their carkeless will I giue to be meate for the fowles of the heauen, and to the beasts of the field.

8 And I will make this cite desolate and an hilling: so that euery one that passeth thereby, shall be affrighted and hiss because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will feede them with the flesh of their sonnes and with the flesh of their daughters, and euery one shall eate the flesh of his friende in the siege and straitnesse, wherewith their enemies that seeke their liues, shall holde them strait.

10 Then shalt thou breake the bottell in the sight of the men that goe with thee?

11 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, euen so will I breake this people and this cite, as one breaketh a potters vessell, that cannot be made whole againe, and they shall burie them in Topheth till there be no place to burie.

12 Thus will I doe vnto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this cite like Topheth.

13 For the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses of the Kings of Iudah shall be defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the houses vpon whole e rooves they haue burnt incense vnto all the hoste of heauen, and haue powped out drinke offerings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, where their Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lords house, and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring vpon this cite, and vpon al her towne, all the plagues that I haue pronounced against it, because they haue hardened their necks, and would not heare my wordes.

CHAP. XX.

Jeremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching of the word of God. Hee prophesieth the captiuitie of Babylon. Hee complaineth that hee is a mocking stocke for the word of God. He is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

When Balthur, the sonne of Nimner, the Priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things,

2 Then Balthur smote Jeremiah the Prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Beniamin which was by the house of the Lord.

3 And on the morning, Balthur brought Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then sayd Jeremiah vnto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Balthur, but Magor-missabib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will make thee to be a terror to thy selfe, and to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall beholde it, and I will giue all Iudah into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shall cary them captiue into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover, I wil deliuer al the substance of this cite, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Iudah wil I giue into the hande of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and take them away and cary them to Babel.

6 And thou Balthur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall goe into captiuite, and thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt die, and shalt bee buried there, thou and all thy friends, to whome thou hast

3 Thus sayeth the Lorde, * Execute yee iudgement and * righteousnesse, and deliuer the oppressed from the hande of the oppressour, and here not the stranger, the fatherlesse, nor the widow: doe no violence, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if yee doe this thing, then shall the Kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this house, * and ride vpon chariots, and vpon horses, both he and his seruantes and his people.

5 But if yee will not heare these wordes, I sweare by my selfe sayth the Lorde, that this house shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lorde spoken vpon the Kings house of Iudah, Thou art * Clead vnto me, and the head of Lebanon, yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and as cities not inhabited.

7 And I will * prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe the chiefe * cedar trees, and cast them into the fire.

8 * And many habitations shall passe by this cite, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, * Wherefore hath the Lorde done this vnto this great cite?

9 Then shall they answer, * Because they haue forsaken the covenant of the Lorde their God, and worshipped other gods and serued them.

10 * Ceepe not for the dead, and be not moued for them, but weepe for him that goeth out: for he shall returne no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the Lorde, as touching * Shallum the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither.

12 But he shall die in the place, whither they haue led him captiue, and shall see this land no more.

13 * Go vnto him * buildeth his house by * righteousnesse, & his chambers without equite: he vseth his neighbour without wages, and gueteth him not for his worke.

14 He sayth, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so hee will make himselfe large windowes, and sisting with cedar, and paint them with vermilion.

16 * When he iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, he prospered: was not this because he knew me, sayth the Lorde?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but onely for thy contumeliousnesse, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, euen to doe this.

18 * Wherefore thus saith the Lorde God of Iehoiakim, the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, They shall not lament him, saying, Ah, my brother, or Ah, sister: neither shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glory.

19 He shall be buried as an asse * is buried, euen as he and cast forth without the gates of Ierusalem.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperitie: but thou saydest, I will not heare: this hath bene thy manner from thy youth, * thou woldest not obey my voyce.

22 The winde shall feede all thy pastors, & thy louers shall go into captiuitie: and then shalt thou bee ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the * cedars, how beautiful shalt thou be when forsores come vpon thee, as the sorowe of a woman in traualle.

24 As I live, sayeth the Lorde, though * Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

28 Is not this man Coniah as a despised and broken vessel, as a vessell, wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they carried away, he and his seede, and cast out into a land that they know not?

people, Doe haue scattered my flocke and thrust them out, and haue not visited them: behold, I will visit you for the wickednesse of your workes, sayth the Lord.

3 And I will gather the remnant of my sheepe out of all countries, whither I haue diuised them, and will bring them againe to their foldes, & they shall grow and increase.

4 And I will set vp shepherdes over them, which shall feede them: and they shall dread no more nor be afraide, neither shall any of them be lacking, sayth the Lord.

5 Beholde, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that I will raise vnto Dauid a righteous branch, and a king shall reigne, and prosper, and shall execute iudgement, and iustice in the earth.

6 In his dayes Iudah shall bee saued, and Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the Name whereby they shall call him, The Lord our righteousnesse.

7 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that they shall no more say, The Lord lieth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

8 But the Lord lieth, which brought vp and led the seede of the house of Israel out of the North countrey and from all countries where I had scattered them, and they shall dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within mee, because of the prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (and like a man whome wine hath overcome) for the presence of the Lord, and for his holy wordes.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, and because of othes the land mourneth, the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried vp, and their course is euil, and their force is not right.

11 For both the prophete and the priest doe wickedly: and their wickednes haue I found in mine: Woe, sayth the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall bee vnto them as slippery wayes in the darkenesse: they shall be diuised forth and fall therein: for I will bring a plague vpon them, even the peere of their visitation, sayth the Lord.

13 And I haue seene foolishnesse in the prophetes of Samaria, that prophesied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue seene also in the prophetes of Ierusalem filthines: they commit adulterie and walke in lyes: they strengthen also the handes of the wicked, that none can returne from his wickednesse: they are all vnto me as Sodom, & the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord of hostes concerning the prophetes, Beholde, I will feede them with wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophetes of Ierusalem is wickednesse gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Weare not the wordes of the prophetes that propheticke vnto you, and teach you vaine: they speake the vision of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say til vnto them y despite mee, The Lord hath saide, Ye shall haue peace:

and they say vnto euery one that walketh after the stubbornesse of his owne heart, No euill shall come vpon you.

18 For y who hath stood in the counsell of the Lord that he hath perceiued & hearde his word? Who hath marked his word and heard it?

19 Behold the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlwind shall fall down vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of y Lord shall not returne untill he haue executed, and till he haue persecuted the thoughtes of his heart: in the latter dayes ye shall vnderstand it plainly.

21 I haue not sent these prophets, sayth the Lord, yet they ran: I haue not spoken to them, yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsell, and had declared my wordes to my people, then they shoulde haue turned them from their euill way, and from the wickednes of their inuentions.

23 Am I a God at hand, sayth the Lord, and not a God farre off?

24 Can any hide himselfe in secreete places, y I shall not see him, sayth the Lord? Do not I fill heauen and earth sayth the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the prophetes said, that propheticke lies in my Name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? Doe the Prophets delite to propheticke lies, euen prophesying the decreite of their owne heart?

27 Thinke they to cause my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which they tell euery man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my Name for Baal?

28 The prophet y hath a dreame, let him tel a dreame, and be that hath my word, let him speake my word faithfully: y what is the chaunce to the wheate, sayth the Lord?

29 Is not my word euen like a fire, sayth the Lord, and like an hammer, that breaketh the stone?

30 Wherefore beholde I will come against the prophetes, sayth the Lord, that steale my word euery one from his neighbour.

31 Beholde, I will come against the prophetes, sayth the Lord, which haue sweete tongues, and say, I haue said.

32 Beholde, I will come against them that propheticke false dreames, sayth the Lord, and doe tell them, and cause my people to erre by their lyes, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commaunded them: therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, sayth the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest shall aske thee, saying, What is the burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say, I haue no burden, neither am I a prophet.

Thus they did deride Ieremiah as though the word of God were not reueiled vnto him: so also spake Zedekiah to Michah, 1. King. 22. 24.

q Both that God hath sent me, and that my worde shall be true, Chap. 14. 13, 14. and 27. 15. and 29. 8, 9.

r He sheweth the difference between the true prophetes and the false, between the hurling and the true minister, I doe not I see your falschoode, howsoeuer you cloke it, and wherefore you commit it?

s I haue a propheticke reueiled vnto me, as Nomb. 12. 6. g Ev. it is in the heart of the prophetes.

u Hesheweth that Satan rayseth vp false prophetes to bring the people from God.

x Let the false prophet declare that it is his own fantasie, and not slander my word as though it were a cloke to couer his lies.

y Meaning, that it is not sufficient for Gods ministers to abstaine from lies, and to speake the word of God: but that there be iudgement in alledging it, and that it may appear to be applied to the same purpose that it was spoken, Ezekiel 3. 17. 1. Corin. 2. 13. and 4. 2. 2. Timoth. 1. 15. 1. Pet. 4. 10. 11.

z Which let fourth in my Name that which I haue not commaunded, a To wit, the Lord. b The Prophets called their threatnings Gods burden, which the sinners were not able to susteine: therefore the wicked in deriding the word, would aske of the Prophets, What was the burden? as though they would say, You seeke nothing else, but to lay burdens on our shoulders: and thus they reieced the worde of God, as a grievous burden.

say vnto them, What burden? I will euen forsake you, sayth the Lorde.

34 And the prophet, or the priest, or the people that shall say, The burden of the Lorde, I will euen visite euery such one, and his house.

35 Thus shall ye say euery one to his neighbour, and euery one to his brother, What hath the Lorde answered? and what hath the Lorde spoken?

36 And the burden of the Lorde shall ye mention no more: for euery mans worde shall be his burden: for ye haue peruered the wordes of the liuing God, the Lorde of hostes our God.

37 Thus hath thou say to the prophet, What hath the Lorde answered thee? and what hath the Lorde spoken?

38 And if you say, The burden of the Lorde, Then thus sayth the Lorde, Because ye say this worde, the burden of the Lorde, and I haue sent vnto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the Lorde.

39 Therefore, behold, I, euen I will utterly forget you, and I will forsake you, and the citie that I gaue you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence.

40 And will bring an euermolting reproche vpon you, and a perpetual shame which shall neuer be forgotten.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 The vision of the baskets of figges. 5 signified that part of the people should be brought againe from captiuitie. 8 And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people should be caried away.

The Lorde shewed me, and behold, two baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lorde, after that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had caried away captiue Ieremias, the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, and the princes of Iudah with the workmen, and cunning men of Ierusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket had very good figges, euen like the figges that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughtie figs, which could not be eaten, they were so euill.

3 Then sayd the Lorde vnto mee, What seest thou Ieremias? And I sayd, Figges: the good figges very good, and the naughtie very naughtie, which cannot be eaten, they are so euill.

4 Again the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

5 Thus sayth the Lorde, the God of Israel, like these good figges, so wil I know them that are caried away captiue of Iudah to be good, whome I haue sent out of this place, vnto the land of the Caldeans.

6 For I will let mine eyes vpon them for good, and I will bring them againe to this land, and I will build them, and not destroy them, and I will plant them, and not roote them out.

7 And I will giue them an heart to know mee, that I am the Lorde, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall returne vnto mee with their whole heart.

8 And as the naughtie figges which can not bee eaten, they are so euill (wrely thus sayth the Lorde) so wil I giue Zedekiah the king of Iudah, and his princes, and the residue of Ierusalem, that remaine in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt:

9 I will euen giue them for a terrible plague to all the kingdomes of the earth, and for a reproche, and for a proverbe, for a common talke, and for a curse, in all places, where I shall cast them.

10 And I wil send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they be consumed out of the land, that I gaue vnto them and to their fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

1 He prophesieth that they shall be in captiuitie seuenie yeeres. 12 And that after the seuenie yeeres the Babylonians should be destroyed. 15 The destruction of all nations is prophesied.

The worde that came to Ieremias, concerning all the people of Iudah in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Josiah king of Iudah that was in the first yeere of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel:

2 The which Ieremias the Prophet spake vnto all the people of Iudah, and to all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth yeere of Josiah the sonne of Amos king of Iudah, euen vnto this day (that is the three and twentieth yeere) the word of the Lorde hath come vnto me, And I haue spoken vnto you, rising early and speaking, but ye would not heare.

4 And the Lorde hath sent vnto you all his seruants the Prophets, rising early and sending them, but ye would not heare, nor incline your eares to obey.

5 They sayd, Turne againe now euen one from his euill way, and from the wickednesse of your inuentions, and ye shall dwell in the land that the Lorde hath giuen vnto you, and to your fathers for ever and euer.

6 And goe not after other gods to serue them and to worship them, and prouoke mee not to anger with the workes of your handes, and I will not punish you.

7 Nevertheless ye would not heare me, sayth the Lorde, but haue prouoked me to anger with the workes of your handes to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Because ye haue not heard my wordes,

9 Beholde, I will send and take to me all the families of the North, sayth the Lorde, and Nebuchadnezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations I round about, and will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continual dereliction.

10 Moreover, I will take from them the voyce of mirth and the voyce of glad-great power, and by my outstretched arme, and haue giuen it vnto whom it pleased mee.

6 But nowe I haue giuen all these landes into the hande of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel my seruant, and the beasts of the felde haue I also giuen him to serue him.

7 And all nations shall serue him, and his sonne, and his sonnes sonne, vntill the very time of his land come also: then many nations and great Kings shall serue themselves of him.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, the same nation will I visite, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntill I haue wholly giuen them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your prophets nor your loothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your enchanters, nor your soothsayers, which say vnto you thus, See shall not serue the King of Babel.

10 For they prophesie a lie vnto you to cause you to goe farre from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him, those will I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupie it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I I speake also to Zedekiah king of Iudah according to all these words, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will ye die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the King of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the words of the prophets, that speake vnto you, saying, We shall not serue the king of Babel: for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not sent them, saith the Lord, yet they prophesie a lie in my name, that I might cast you out, & that ye might perish, both you, and the Prophets that prophesie vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I speake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Heare not the words of your prophets that prophesie vnto you, saying, Beholde, the vessels of the house of the Lord shall nowe shortly bee brought againe from Babel, for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the king of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this cite be desolate?

18 But if they bee Prophets, and if the worde of the Lord be with them, let them intreate the Lord of hostes, that the vessels, which are left in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Jerusalem, goe not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bales, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this cite,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke not, when hee carried away captive Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah from Jerusalem to Babel, with all the nobles of Iudah and Jerusalem.

21 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remaine in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Jerusalem, 22 They shall be brought to Babel, and there they shall be vntill the day that I visite them, saith the Lord: then will I bring them vp, and restore them vnto this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The false prophesie of Hananiah, 12 Jeremiah reprobeth Hananiah, and prophesieth.

And that same yeere, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah King of Iudah in the fourth yeere, and in the fifth moneth, Hananiah the sonne of Azur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake to me in the house of the Lord, in the presence of the priests, and of all the people, and sayd,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, I haue broken the yoke of the King of Babel.

3 Within two yeeres (saith the Lord) I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lordes house, that Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke away from this place, and carried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring againe to this place Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, with all them that were carried away captive of Iudah, and went into Babel, saith the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Jeremiah said vnto the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the Lord,

6 Even the Prophet Jeremiah said, So be it: the Lord do so, the Lord continue thy wordes which thou hast prophesied to restore the vessels of the Lordes house, and all that is carried captive, from Babel, into this place.

7 But heare thou nowe this worde that I will speake in thine eares and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophets that haue bene before me and before thee in time past, prophesied against many countreys, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the worde of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet bee knowne that the Lord hath truly sent him.

12 ¶ Then the worde of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Jeremiah) saying,

13 Goe, and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, I haue put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all these nations, that they may seeke Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they shall serue them, and I haue giuen him the beasts of the fildes also.

15 Then said the Prophet Jeremiah vnto the prophet Hananiah, Heare nowe Hananiah, the Lord hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will cast thee from off the earth: this yeere thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

17 So Hananiah the Prophet died the same yeere in the seventh moneth.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Jeremiah writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10 Hee prophesieth their returne after seuentie yeeres. 16 He prophesieth the destruction of the King and of the people that remains in Ierusalem. 21 Hee threatneth the prophets that seduce the people. 25 The death of Semaiah is prophesied.

N^{ow} these are the wordes of the booke which Jeremiah the Prophet sent from Ierusalem vnto the residue of the Elders which were caried away captiues, and to the Priestes, and to the Prophets, and to all the people whome Nebuchad-nezzar had caried away captiue from Ierusalem to Babel:

2 ¶ After that Ieconiah the King, and the Queene, and the Euniches, the princes of Iudah, and of Ierusalem, and the workemen, and cunning men were departed from Ierusalem)

3 By the hand of Elatah the sonne of Shaphan, and Gemariah the sonne of Niliak, (whome Zedekiah king of Iudah sent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) saying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto all that are caried away captiues, whome I haue caused to be caried away captiues from Ierusalem vnto Babel:

5 Build you houses to dwell in, & plant you gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

6 Take you wines, and beget sonnes and daughters, and take wives for your sonnes, and giue your daughters to husbands, that they may beare sonnes and daughters, that yee may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seeke the prosperitie of the citie, whither I haue caused you to be caried away captiues, and pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall you haue peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Let not your prophets and your soothsayers that be among you, deceiue you, neither giue eare to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophesie you a lie in my Name: I haue not sent them, sayeth the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, That after seuentie yeeres he accomplished at Babel, I will visite you, and performe my good promise toward you, and cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I knowe the thoughtes, that I haue thought towards you, sayth the Lord, euen the thoughtes of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an ende, and your hope.

12 Then shall you cry vnto mee, and ye shall goe and pray vnto mee, and I will heare you,

13 And yee shall seeke me, and finde me, because yee shall seeke mee with all your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, sayth the Lord, and I will turne away your captiuitie, and I will gather you from all the nations, & from all the places, whither I haue cast you, sayth the Lord, and will bring you againe vnto the place, whence I caused you to be caried away captiue.

15 ¶ Because ye haue sayd, The Lord hath caused vs by prophets in Babel,

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord of the King, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, and of all the people, that dwell in this citie, your brethren that are not gone soothly with you into captiuitie:

17 Euen thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will send vpon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, & will make them like vile figges, that cannot be eaten, they are so naughtie.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence: and I will make them a terror to all kingdomes of the earth, and a curse, and astonishment and an hissing, and a reproch among all the nations whither I haue cast them,

19 Because they haue not heard my wordes, sayth the Lord, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets, rising by eary, and sending them, but yee would not heare, sayth the Lord.

20 ¶ Heare ye therefore the worde of the Lord all ye of the captiuitie, whome I haue sent from Ierusalem to Babel.

e The Prophet speaketh not this for the affliction that he bare to the tyrant, but that they shoulde pray for the common rest and quietnesse, that their troubles might not be increased, and that they might with more patience and lesse griefe waite for the time of their deliuerance, which God had appointed most certaine: for else not only the Israelites, but all the world, yea, and the insensible creatures should reioyce when these tyrants should be destroyed, as Isa. 14. 4. f When your oppression shall be great, and your afflictions cause you to repent your disobedience, and also when the seuentie yeeres of your captiuitie shall be expired, 2. 22 And all they of the captiuitie of Iudah, that are in Babel, shall take by this curle against them, and say, the Lorde make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whome the King of Babel burnt in the fire.

23 Because they haue committed a villenie in Israel, and haue committed adulterie with their neighbours wives, and haue spoken lying wordes in my Name, which I haue not commaunded them, euen I knowe it, and testifie it, sayth the Lorde.

24 ¶ Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying,
25 Thus speaketh the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name vnto all the people, that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying,

26 The Lorde hath made thee Priest, for Iehoiada the Priest, that ye should be officers in the House of the Lorde, for every man that raueth and maketh himselfe a Prophet, to put him in prison and in the stocks.

27 Nowe therefore why hast not thou reprooued Jeremiah of Anathoth, which prophesieth vnto you?

28 For, for this cause he sent vnto vs in Babel, saying, This captiuitie is long: build houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the eares of Jeremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the wordes of the Lorde vnto Jeremiah, saying,

31 Sende to all them of the captiuitie, saying, Thus sayth the Lorde of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied vnto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie, 32 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, Beholde, I will visite Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seede: he shall not haue a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he beholde the good, that I will doe for my people, sayth the Lorde, because he hath spoken rebelliously against the Lorde.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon.
16 He menaceth the enemies, 18 And comforteth the Church.

THE worde that came to Jeremiah from the Lorde, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lorde God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the wordes that I haue spoken vnto thee, in a booke.

3 For loe, the dayes come, sayth the Lorde, that I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people Israel and Iudah, sayth the Lorde: for I will restore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

4 Again, these are the wordes that the Lorde spake concerning Israel, and concerning Iudah.

5 For thus sayth the Lorde, Alce haue heard a terrible voyce, of feare and not of peace.

6 Demaund nowe and beholde, if man trauaile with childre: Wherefore doe I beholde every man with his handes on all loynes as a woman in trauaile, and all faces are turned into paleness?

7 Alas, for this day is great: none hath bene liket it: it is euen the time of Iacob's trouble, yet shall he be deliuered from it.

8 For in that day, sayth the Lorde of hostes, I will breake his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serue themselves of him.

9 But they shall serue the Lorde their God, and e David their King, whom I will raise vp vnto them.

10 Therefore feare not, O my seruant Iacob, sayth the Lorde, neither be afraid, O Israel: for loe, I will deliuer thee from a farre country, and thy seede from the land of their captiuitie, and Iacob shall turne againe, and shall be in rest and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, sayth the Lorde, to saue thee: though I bitterly destroy all the nations where I haue scattered thee, yet will I not bitterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by iudgement, and not bitterly cut thee off.

12 For thus saith the Lorde, Thy bruising is incurable, and thy wound is dolorous.

13 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaister: there are no medicines, nor helpe for thee.

14 All thy louers haue forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I haue stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy finnes were increased.

15 Why criest thou for thine affliction? thy wounde is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy finnes were increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.

16 Therefore all they that deuoure thee, shall be deuoured, and all thine enemies every one shall goe into captiuitie: and they that spoyle thee, shall be spoiled, and all they that robbe thee, will I giue to be robbed.

17 For I will restore health vnto thee, and I will heale thee of thy woundes, sayth the Lorde, because they called thee, The castaway, saying, This is Sion, whome no man seeketh after.

18 Thus sayth the Lorde, Beholde, I will bring againe the captiuitie of Iacob's tents, and haue compassion on his dwelling places: and the citie shall be builded vpon her owne heape, and the palace shall remaine after the manner thereof.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Hee rehearſeth Gods benefites after their returne from Babylon, 23 And the ſpiritual ioy of the faithfull in the Church.

A T the ſame time, ſaith the Lord, which I be the God of all the families of Iſ-rael, and they ſhall be my people.

2 Thus ſaith the Lord, The people which I eſcaped the ſwoorde, found grace in the wilderneſſe: hee walked before Iſrael to caule him to reſt.

3 The Lord hath appeared vnto me of olde, ſay they: Pea, I haue loned thee with an euerlaſting loue, therefore with mercie
I haue diuinen thee.

4 Againe I will build thee, & thou ſhalt be builded, O virgine Iſrael: thou ſhalt ſtill be adorned with thy timbels, and ſhalt goe forth in the daunce of them that be ioyfull.

5 Thou ſhalt yet plant vines vpon the mountaines of Samaria, and the planters that plant them, ſhall make them common.

6 For the dayes ſhall come that the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim ſhall cry, Arile, and let vs goe vp vnto Zion to the Lord our God.

7 For thus ſaith the Lord, Reioyce with gladneſſe for Iacob, and ſhoute for ioy among the cheefe of the Gentiles: publiſh payre and ſay, O Lord, laue thy people, the remnant of Iſrael.

8 Beholde, I will bring them from the North country, and gather them from the coaſtes of the world, with the blind and the lame among them, with the woman with child, and her that is deliuered alſo: a great company ſhall returne hither.

9 They ſhall come weeping, and with mercie will I bring them againe: I will leade them by the riuers of a water in a ſtraight way, wherein they ſhall not thum-ble: for I am a father to Iſrael, and Ephraim is my firſt borne.

10 I Heare the woide of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, and declare in the ples a farre off, and ſay, He that ſcattered Iſrael, will gather him and will keepe him, as a ſhepherd doeth his ſheepe,

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iacob, and raiſoned him from the hand of him,
that was ſtronger then he.

12 Therefore ſhall come and reſeioyce in the hight of Zion, and ſhall runne to the bountifullneſſe of the Lord, euen for the wheate and for the wine, and for the ople, and for the increaſe of ſheep and bullockes;
and their ſoule ſhall bee as a watered garden, and of the y ſhall haue no more thowrow.

13 Then ſhall the virgine reioyce in the daunce, and the yong men, & the olde men together: for I will turne their mourning into ioy, and will comfort them, and giue them ioy for their ſorrowes.

14 And I will replenish the ſoule of the Prieſts with fatnes, and my people ſhalbe ſatiſfied with my goodneſſe, ſaith the Lord.

15 Thus ſaith the Lord, A voyce was heard on his, a mourning & bitter weeping. Rahel weeping for her childre, reſuſed to be coſorted for her childre, becauſe they were not.

16 Thus ſaith the Lord, Retraine thy voyce from weeping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke ſhalbe rewarded, ſaith the Lord, and they ſhall come againe from the land of the enemy:

17 And there is hope in thine ende, ſaith
the Lord, that thy childre ſhall come againe to their owne borders.

18 I haue heard Ephraim lamenting thus, Thou haſt corrected me, and I was chafficed as an vntamed calfe: I conuert thou me, and I ſhalbe conuerted: for thou art the Lord my God.

pentend: and after that I was inſtructed, I ſinote vpon my thigh: I was aſhamed, yea, euen confounded, becauſe I did beare
the reproch of my youth.

els are troubled for him: I will ſurely haue

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Yet shall they say this thing in the land of Iudah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring againe their captiuitie, The Lord blesse thee, O habitation of iustice and holy mountaine.

24 And Iudah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that goe forth with the flocke.

25 For I haue satiate the wearie soule, and I haue replenished euery sorrowfull soule.

26 Therefore I awaked and beheld, and my sleepe was sweete vnto me.

27 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will sowe the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah with the seede of man and with the seede of beast.

28 And like as I haue watched vpon them, to plucke vp, and to root out, and to throwe downe, and to destroy, and to plague them, so will I watch ouer them, to build and to plant them, saith the Lord.

29 In those dayes shall they say no more, The fathers e haue eaten a fowle grape, and the childrens teeth shall be set on edge.

30 But euery one shall die for his owne iniquitie: euery man that eateth the fowle grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 Behold I daies come, saith the Lord, that I will make a newe covenant with the house of Israel, & with the house of Iudah, 32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband vnto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my Lawe in their inward partes, and will write it in their heartes, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

to mee in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, and said vnto mee, Buy me a feld, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Benjamin: for the right of the possession is thine, and the purchase belongeth vnto thee: buy it for thee. Then I knewe that this was the word of the Lord. 9 And I bought the feld of Vanameel, mine vncles sonne, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the silver, even leuen shekels, and ten pieces of silver. 10 And I wrote it in the booke, and signed it, and tooke witness, and weighed him the silver in the ballances. 11 So I tooke the booke of the possession, being sealed s according to the Lawe, and custome, with the booke that was open. 12 And I gaue the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maaseiah, in the sight of Vanameel mine vncles sonne, and in the presence of the witnesses, written in the booke of the possession, before all the Iewes that late in the court of the prison. 13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying, 14 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Take the writings, even this booke of the possession, both that is sealed, and this booke that is open, and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue a long time. 15 For the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saith thus, Houses and fieldes & vineyards shall be possessed againe in this land. 16 Nowe when I had deliuered the booke of the possession vnto Baruch, the sonne of Neriah, I prayd vnto the Lord, saying, 17 Ah Lord God, beholde, thou hast made the heauen and the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arme, and there is nothing I hard vnto thee. 18 Thou shewest mercie vnto thousands, and recompenseth the iniquitie of the fathers into the bosome of their children after them: O God the great and mightie, whose Name is the Lord of hostes, 19 Great in counsell, & mightie in work, (for thine eyes are open vpon all the wayes of the sonnes of men, to giue to every one according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes) 20 Which hast let signes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this day, and in Israel, and among all men, and hast made thee a Name, as appeareth this day, 21 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signes, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, with a stretched out arme, and with great terrour. 22 And hast given them this land; which thou diddest sweare to their fathers to giue them, even a land, that floweth with milke and honye. 23 And they came in, and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voyce, neither walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedst them to doe, they haue not done: therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come vpon them. 24 Beholde, the mountes, they are come into the citie to take it, and the citie is giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight against it by means of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to passe, and behold, thou seest it. 25 And thou hast sayd vnto me, O Lord God, Buy vnto thee the feld for silver, and take witness: for the citie shall bee giuen into the hand of the Caldeans. 26 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremiah, saying, 27 Beholde, I am the LORD GOD of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for me? 28 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will giue this citie into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, & he shall take it. 29 And the Caldeans shall come and fight against this citie, and let fire on this citie, and burne it, with the houses, vpon whose rookes they haue offered incense vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto other gods, to prouoke me vnto anger. 30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Iudah haue surely done euill before mee from their youth: for the children of Israel haue lifely prouoked mee to anger with the workes of their hands, sayeth the Lord. 31 Therefore this citie hath bene vnto me as a prouocation of mine anger, and of my wrath, from the day, that they built it, euen vnto this day, that I should remooue it out of my sight. 32 Because of all the euill of the children of Israel, & of the children of Iudah, which they haue done to prouoke mee to anger, euen they, their Kings, their Princes, their Priestes, and their Prophets, and the men of Iudah, and the inhabitantes of Ierusalem. 33 And they haue turned vnto mee the backe & not the face: though I taught them, & rising by earely, and instructing them, yet they were not obedient to receiue doctrine. 34 But they let their abominations in the house (wherevpon my Name was called) to defile it. 35 And they built the hie places of Baal, which are in the valley of Ben-hinnom, to cause their sonnes & their daughters to passe through the fire vnto Moloch, which I commaunded them not, neyther came it into my minde, that they shoulde doe such abomination to cause Iudah to sinne. 36 And now therefore, thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken, concerning this citie, whereof ye say, It shall be deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence. 37 Beholde, I will gather them out of all countreys, wherein I haue scattered them in mine anger, and in my wrath, and in great indignation, and I will bring them againe vnto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 The Prophet * monished of the Lord to pray for the deliuerance of the people, which the Lord promised. 8 God forgiueth sinnes, for his owne glory. 15 Of the birth of Christ. 20 The kingdom of Christ in the Church shall neuer be ended.

Meouer, the woide of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah the second time (while hee was yett but in the * court of the prison) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, the maker * thereof, the Lord that formed it, and established it, the Lord is his Name.

3 Call vnto me, and I wil answer thee, and shewe thee great and mightie things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the Kings of Iudah, which are destroyed by the * mountes, and by the sword,

5 They come to * fight with the Caldeans, but it is to kill themselves with the dead bodies of men, whome I haue slaine in mine anger and in my wrath: for I haue hid my * face from this citie, because of all their wickednesse.

6 Beholde, I will giue it health and amendment: for I will cure them, and will reueile vnto them the abundance of peace, and truth.

7 And I will cause the captiuitie of Iudah, and the captiuitie of Israel to returne, and will build them as at the first.

8 And I wil * cleanse them from all their iniquitie, whereby they haue sinned against mee: yea, I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they haue sinned against mee, and whereby they haue rebelled against me.

9 And it shall be to me a name, a * ioy, a praise, and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall heare all the good that I doe vnto them: and they shall feare, and tremble for all the goodnesse, and for all the wealth, that I shew vnto this citie.

10 Thus sayeth the Lord, A game there shall be heard in this place (which yee say shall be desolate, without man, & without beast, even in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, that are desolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast)

11 The voyce of ioy and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride, the voyce of them that shall say, * Praise the Lord of hostes, because the Lord is good: for his mercy endureth for euer, and of them that offer the sacrifice of praise in the house of the Lord, for I will cause to returne the captiuitie of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

12 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, * A game in this place, which is desolate without man, and without beast, and in all the cities thereof there shall bee dwelling for shepheards to rest their flocks.

13 In the cities of the * mountaines, in the cities in the plaine, & in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, and about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah that the sheepe passe againe, vnder the hand of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Beholde, the dayes come, sayeth the Lord, that I wil performe that good thing, which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, and to the house of Iudah.

15 In those dayes and at that time wil I cause * the branch of righteousness to growe vp vnto Dauid, and he shall execute iudgement, and righteousness in the land.

16 In those dayes shall Iudah bee saued, & Ierusalem shall dwell safely, & he that shall call * her, & the Lord our * righteousness.

17 For thus sayth the Lord, Dauid shall neuer want a man to it vpon the throne of the house of Israel.

18 Neither shall the Priestes and Leuites want a man before me to offer * burnt offerings, and to offer meate offerings, and to doe sacrifice continually.

19 And the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah, saying,

20 Thus sayeth the Lord, If you can breake my couenant of the * day, and my couenant of the night, that there should not be day, and night in their season,

21 Then may my couenant be broken with Dauid my seruant, that he should not haue a sonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Leuites, and Priestes my ministers.

22 As the armie of heauen can not be numbered, neither the land of the sea measured: so wil I multiply the seede of Dauid my seruant, and the Leuites, that minister vnto me.

23 Moreover, the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what I this people haue spoken, saying, The two families, 26 Then will I cast away the seede of Iacob & Dauid my seruant, and not take of his seede to bee rulers ouer the seede of Abraham, Ishak, and Iacob: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, and haue to passion on them.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Hee threateth that the citie, and the King Zedekiah shall be giuen into the hands of the King of Babylon. 11 Hee rebuketh their crueltie towards their seruants.

The worde which came vnto Jeremiah from the Lord (when Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and all his hoste, and all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand, and all people fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, God, and speake to Zedekiah King of Iudah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, * I will giue this citie into the hands of the King of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire.

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eyes shall beholde the face of the King of Babel, and he shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt goe to Babel.

4 Per heare the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah, King of Iudah: thus saith the Lord of thee, thou shalt not die by the sword,

5 But thou shalt die in peace: and according to the burning for thy fathers the former Kings which were before thee, so shall they burne odours for thee, and they shall lament thee, saying, O he Lord: for I haue pronounced the word, saith the Lord.

6 Then Jeremiah the Prophet spake all these wordes vnto Zedekiah King of Iudah in Ierusalem,

7 (When the king of Babels host fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities of Iudah that were left, euen against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Iudah)

8 This is the word that came vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, after that the King Zedekiah had made a couenant with all the people, which were at Ierusalem, to procure liberty vnto them,

9 That every man should let his seruant goe free, & every man his handmaide, which was an Ebieue or an Ebieuelle, and that none should serue himselfe of them, to wit, of a Iewe his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had agreed to the couenant, heard that every one should let his seruant goe free, and every one his handmaide, and that none should serue themselves of them any more, they obeyed and let them goe.

11 But afterwarde they repented, and caused the seruants and the handmaidens, whom they had let goe free, to returne, and held them in subiection as seruants and handmaidens.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I made a couenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of seruants, saying,

14 * At the terme of seuen yeeres let yee goe, every man his brother an Ebieue which hath bene solde vnto thee: and when hee hath serued thee sixe yeeres, thou shalt let him goe free from thee: but your fathers obeyed me not, neither inclined their eares.

15 And yee were now turned, and had done right in my sight in proclaiming libertie, every man to his neighbour, and ye had made a couenant before me in the house, whereupon my Name is called.

16 But yee repented, and polluted my Name: for yee haue caused every man his seruant, and every man his handmaide, whome yee had let at libertie at their pleasure, to returne, and holde them in subiection to bee vnto you as seruants and as handmaidens.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Ye haue not obeyed me, in proclaiming freedom every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim a libertie for you, saith the Lord, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you a terrour to all the kingdomes of the earth.

18 And I will giue those men that haue broken my couenant, and haue not kept the wordes of the couenant, which they had made before me, when they cut the calfe in twaine, and passed betwene the partes thereof:

19 The princes of Iudah, and the princes of Ierusalem, the Eunuchs, and the Idictees, and all the people of the land, which passed betwene the partes of the calfe,

20 I will enen giue them into the hand of their enemies, and into the handes of them that seeke their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meate vnto the fowles of the heauen, & to the beastes of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Iudah, and his princes will I giue into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke their life, and into the hand of the King of Babels hoste, which are gone vp from you.

22 Beholde, I will commaund, sayth the Lord, and cause them to returne to this citie, and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burne it with fire: and I will make the cities of Iudah desolate without an inhabitant.

2 Goe vnto the house of the Rechabites, and speake vnto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord into one of the chambers, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Iazaniah, the sonne of Jeremiah the sonne of Habazziniah, & his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought them into the House of the Lord, into the chamber of the sonnes of Hanan, the sonne of Igballiah a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was aboute the chamber of Baasiah the sonne of Shallum, the keeper of the treasure.

5 And I set before the sonnes of y house of the Rechabites, pots full of wine, and cups, and I laid vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they said, We wil drinke no wine: For y Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father commanded vs, saying, y Pee shall drinke no wine, neither you nor your sonnes for euer.

7 Neither shall ye build house, nor sowe seede, nor plant vineyard, nor haue any, but all your daies ye shall dwell in tentes, that yee may liue a long time in the lande where ye be strangers.

8 Thus haue wee obeyed the voyce of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, & we drinke no wine all our daies, neither we, our wiues, our sonnes, nor our daughters.

9 Neither builde wee houses for vs to dwell in, neither haue we vineyarde nor field, nor feede.

10 But we haue remained in tents, and haue obeyed, & done according to e all that Jonadab our father commanded vs.

11 But when Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel came vp vnto y land, we said, Come, and let vs goe to Ierusalem, from the holte of the Caldeans, and from the holte of A-ram: so we dwelt at Ierusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremiah, saying,

13 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Go, and tell the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, Will y ye not receiue doctrine to obey my wordes, saith the Lord?

14 The commandement of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab that he commanded his sonnes, that they should drinke no wine, is surely kept: for vnto this day they drinke none, but obey their fathers commandement: notwithstanding y I haue spoken vnto you, k rising early, and speaking, but ye would not obey me.

15 I haue sent also vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early, & sending the, saying, Returne now euery man from his euill way, & amend your workes, and goe not after other gods to serue them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I haue giuen vnto you, & to your fathers, but yee would not incline your eare, nor obey me.

16 Surely, the sonnes of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab, haue kept the commandement of their father, which he gaue them, but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, all the euill that I haue pnomined against them, because I haue spoken vnto them, but they would not heare, and I haue called vnto them, but they would not answer.

18 And Jeremiah said vnto the house of the Rechabites, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Because ye haue obeyed the commandement of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according vnto all that he hath commanded you, 19 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Jonadab the sonne of Rechab shall not want a man, to stand before me for euer.

1 Baruch writeth, as Ieremiah ministereth, the booke of the curses against Iudah & Israel. 9 He is sent with the booke vnto the people and readeth it before them all. 14 He is called before the rulers and readeth it before them also. 23 The King casteth it in the fire. 28 There is another written at the commandement of the Lord.

And in the fourth yeeere of Ichoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, came this worde vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roule or booke, and write therein all the words that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, and against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake vnto thee, euen y from the daies of Iosiah vnto this day.

3 It may bee that the house of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to doe vnto them, that they may returne euery man from his euill way, that I may forgine their iniquitie, and their finnes.

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah all the wordes of the Lord, which he had spoken vnto him, vpon a roule, or booke.

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut vp, and cannot goe into the house of the Lord.

6 Therefore goe thou, & reade the roule, wherein thou hast written at my mouth the wordes of the Lord, in the audience of the people in the Lordes House vpon the fasting day: also thou shalt reade them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may bee that they will pray before the Lord, and euery one returne from his euill way, for great is the anger, and the wrath, that the Lord hath declared against this people.

8 So Baruch the sonne of Neriah did according vnto all, that Jeremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the booke the wordes of the Lord in the Lordes

f He sheweth that fasting with-out prayer & repentance away-leth nothing, but is mere hypocrisie.

g The fast was then proclaimed, and Baruch read this roule, which was a litle before that Ierusalem was first taken, and then Iehoiakim and Daniel and his companions were led away captiues. h Which is the East gate of the Temple.

Lords house.
9 And in the fift e yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iodiah King of Iudah, in the ninth moneth, they proclaimed a fast before the Lorde to all the people in Ierusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah vnto Ierusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the booke the wordes of Ieremiah in the House of the Lorde, in the chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the secretaire, in the hier court at the enrie of the newe gate of the Lordes house, in the hearing of all the people.

11 When Michajah the sonne of Gemariah, the sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the booke all the wordes of the Lord,

12 Then hee went downe to the kings house into the Chancellours chamber, and loe, all the Princes sate there, euen Eliham the Chancellour, & Delajah the sonne of Shemaiah, and Chitathan the sonne of Achbor, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michajah declared vnto them all the wordes that he had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audience of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Netaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Chushi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand y^e roule, wherein thou hast read in the audience of the people, & come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah, tooke the roule in his hand, and came vnto them.

15 And they sayd vnto him, Sit downe now, and reade it, that we may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

16 Nowe when they had heard all the wordes, they were afraine both one and other, and said vnto Baruch, We will certifie the king of all these wordes.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs now, howe diddest thou write all these wordes at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, Wee pronounced all these wordes vnto mee with his mouth, and I wrote them with ynke in the booke.

19 Then said the Princes vnto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Ieremiah, and let no man knowe where ye be.

20 And they went in to the king to the court, but they layde by the roule in the chamber of Eliham the Chancellour, and tolde the king all the wordes, that he might heare.

21 So the king sent Iehudi to fet the roule, and hee tooke it out of Eliham the Chancellours chamber, and Iehudi read it in the audience of the king, and in the audience of all the princes, which stood beside the king.

22 Nowe the King sate in the winter house, in the ninth moneth, and there was a fire burning before him.

23 And when Iehudi had read three, or foure lires, he cut it with the penknife and cast it into the fire, that was on the hearth, vntill all the roule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afrayde, nor rent their garments, neyther the king, nor any of his seruants, that heard all these wordes.

25 Neuertheless, Chitathan, and Delajah, and Gemariah had besought the king, that he would not burne the roule: but hee would not heare them.

26 But the king commaunded Ierahmeel the sonne of Hanumelech, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abdiel, to take Baruch the scribe, and Ieremiah the Prophet, but the Lorde hid them.

27 Then the wordes of the Lord came to Ieremiah (after that the king had burnt the roule and the wordes which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah) saying,

28 Take thee againe another roule and write in it all the former wordes that were in the first roule which Iehoiakim the king of Iudah hath burnt.

29 And thou shalt say to Iehoiakim king of Iudah, Thus sayeth the Lorde, Thou hast burnt this roule, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, that the king of Babel shall come and certainly destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, He that haue none to sit vpon the throne of David, and his dead body shall bee cast out in the day to the beate, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will visite him and his seede, and his seruants for their iniquitie, and I will bring vpon them, and vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and vpon the men of Iudah all the euill that I haue pronounced against them: but they would not heare.

32 Then tooke Ieremiah another roule, and gaue it Baruch the scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the booke which Iehoiakim the king of Iudah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides them many like wordes.

Zedekiah succedeth Iechoniah. 3. He sendeth vnto Ieremiah to pray for him. 12. Ieremiah going in to the land of Benjamin, is taken, 15 He is beaten and put in prison.

And King Zedekiah the sonne of Ioshiah reigned for 21. moneth the sonne of Iehoiakim, whome Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel made king in the lande of Iudah.

2 But neyther he, nor his seruants, nor the people of the land would obey y^e wordes of the Lorde, which hee spake by the ministratione of the Prophet Ieremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king sent Jehrikal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest to the Prophet Ieremiah, saying, Pray nowe vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 Nowe Ieremiah went in and out among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.

n Thus wee see the continuall care that God hath euer ouer his people to preferue them from the rage of the wicked.

*Ebr. went up.

5 Then Pharaohs hoste was come out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that belieged Ierusalem, heard tidings of them, they departed from Ierusalem.

6 Then came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Thus shall ye say to the king of Iudah, that sent you vnto me to inquire of me, Behold, Pharaohs hoste, which is come forth to helpe you, shall returne to Egypt into their owne land.

8 And the Caldeans shall come againe, and fight against this cite, and take it and burne it with fire.

9 Thus saith the Lord, Deceiue not your selues, saying, The Caldeans shall surely depart from vs: for they shall not depart.

10 For though ye had written the whole hoste of Caldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet shoulde every man rife vp in his tent, and burne this cite with fire.

11 When the host of the Caldeans was broken vp fro Ierusalem, because of Pharaohs armie, 12 Then Ieremiah went out of Ierusalem to goe into the lande of Benjamin, separating himselfe thence from among the people.

13 And when hee was in the gate of Benjamin, there was a chiefe officer, whose name was Irtiah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and hee tooke Ieremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou shalt flee to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Ieremiah, That is false, I flee not to the Caldeans: but he would not heare him: so Irtiah tooke Ieremiah, and brought him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angrie with Ieremiah, and smote him, and layde him in prison in the house of Iehonathan the scribe: for they had made that his prison.

16 When Ieremiah was entered into the dungeon, and into the prisons, and had remained there a long time,

17 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke him out, and the king asked him secretly in his house, and sayde, Is there any word from the Lord? And Ieremiah said, O yes: for, said he, thou shalt be deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel.

18 Moreover Ieremiah sayde vnto king Zedekiah, What haue I offended against thee, or against thy seruants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison?

19 Where are nowre your prophetes, which prophesied vnto you, saying, The king of Babel shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore heare nowre, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my prayer be accepted before thee, that thou cause mee not to returne to the house of Iehonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commaunded that they shoulde put Ieremiah in the court of the prison, & that they shoulde giue him dayly a piece of bread out of the bakkers streets vntill all the bread in the cite were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 By the motion of the rulers Ieremiah is put into a dungeon. 10 At the request of Ebed-melech the king commaundeth Ieremiah to be brought forth of the dungeon. 17 Ieremiah sheweth the king how he might escape death.

Then Shephatiah the sonne of Bathan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Iahshur, and Iucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Iahshur the sonne of Balchiah, heard the wordes that Ieremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, He that remaineth in this cite, shall die by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Caldeans, shall liue: for he shall haue his life for a pray, and shall liue.

3 Thus sayeth the Lord, This cite shall surely be giuen into the hand of the king of Babels armie, which shall take it.

4 Wherefore the princes sayde vnto the king, We beseech you, let this man bee put to death: for thus he shall weaken the hands of the men of warre that remaine in this cite, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such wordes vnto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hands, for the king can denie you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Ieremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Balchiah the sonne of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let downe Ieremiah with cordes: and in the dungeon there was no water but myre: so Ieremiah sticke fast in the myre.

7 Now when Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, one of the Eunuches, which was in the kings house, heard that they had put Ieremiah in the dungeon (then the king late in the gate of Benjamin)

8 And Ebed-melech went out of the kings house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 O my lord the king, these men haue done euill in all that they haue done to Ieremiah the Prophet, whom they haue cast into the dungeon, and hee dieth for hunger in the place where hee is: for there is no more bread in the cite.

10 Then the king commaunded Ebed-melech the black Moore, saying, Take from hence thirtie men with thee, and take Ieremiah the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech tooke the men with him, and went to the house of the king vnder the treasure, and tooke there old rotten ragges, and olde woyme cloutes, and let them downe by cordes into the dungeon to Ieremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the blacke Moore sayd vnto Ieremiah, Put nowre these olde rotten ragges and woyme, vnder thine arme-holes, betwene the cordes. And Ieremiah did so.

13 So they drew by Ieremiah with cordes, and tooke him vp out of the dungeon,

14 ¶ Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke Jeremiah the Prophet unto him, into the third entrie that is in the house of the Lord, and the king laide vnto Jeremiah, I will alke thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah saide to Zedekiah, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt not thou slaye me? and if I giue thee counsell, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the king sware secretly vnto Jeremiah, saying, As the Lord liueth, that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the handes of those men that seeke thy life.

17 Then laide Jeremiah vnto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of hostes, the God of Israel, If thou wilt goe forth vnto the king of Babels princes, then thy soule shall liue, and this citie shall not bee burnt vp with fire, and thou shalt liue, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the king of Babels princes, then shall this citie be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and they shall burne it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their handes.

19 And Zedekiah the king laide vnto Jeremiah, I am careful for the Iewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, least they deliuer me into their handes, & they mocke me.

20 But Jeremiah saide, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voyce of the Lord, I beseech thee, which I speake vnto thee: so shall it be well vnto thee, and thy soule shall liue.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to goe forth, this is the word that the Lord hath spewed me.

22 And beholde, all the women that are left in the king of Iudahs house, shall bee brought forth to the king of Babels princes: and those women shall say, Thy friends haue perswaded thee, and haue preuailed against thee: thy feete are fastened in the mire, and they are turned backe.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wiues, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their handes, but shalt bee taken by the hande of the king of Babel: and this citie shalt thou cause to bee burnt with fire.

24 Then laide Zedekiah vnto Jeremiah, Let no man knowe of these wordes, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, and they come vnto thee, and say vnto thee, Declare vnto vs now, what thou hast laide vnto the King, hide it not from vs, and we will not slay thee: also what the king laide vnto thee,

26 Then shalt thou say vnto them, I humbly besought the king that hee would not cause me to returne to Jehonathans house to die there.

27 Then came all the Princes vnto Jeremiah and asked him. And he tolde them according to all these wordes that the king had commaunded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not per- ceived.

28 So Jeremiah abode still in the court of the prison, vntill the day that Ierusalem was taken: and he was there, when Ierusalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchad-nezzar besiegeth Ierusalem. 4 Zedekiah fleeing is taken of the Caldeans. 6 His sonnes are slaine. 7 His eyes are thrust out. 11 Jeremiah is provided for. 15 Ebed-melech is deliuered from captiuitie.

1 ¶ The ninth yeere of Zedekiah king of Iudah, in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel and all his host against Ierusalem, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleventh yeere of Zedekiah, in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the citie was broken * vp.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babel came in, and late in the middle gate, euen Neregal, Sharezer, Sangaar-nebo, Sarlechim, Rab-laris, Neregal, Sharezer, Rabmag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the king of Iudah sawe them, and all the men of warre, then they fled, and went out of the citie by night, thowhe the kings garden, and by the gate betweene the two walles, and he went toward the wilderness.

5 But the Caldeans hoste pursued after them, and ouertooke Zedekiah in the desert of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel vnto Riblah in the lande of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 Then the king of Babel slew þ sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babel slew all the Nobles of Iudah.

7 Moreover he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines, to carie him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the Kings house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nabuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people, that remained in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nabuzar-adan the chiefe steward left the poore that had nothing, in the lande of Iudah, and gaue them vineyardes and fields at the same time.

11 Now Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel gaue charge concerning Jeremiah vnto Nabuzar-adan the chiefe steward, saying,

12 Take him, and looke well to him and doe him no harme, but doe vnto him * euen as he shall lay vnto thee.

13 So Nabuzar-adan the chiefe steward sent, and Nabuzazban, Rab-laris, and Neregal, Sharezer, Rab-mag, and all the king of Babels princes:

l Herein appeareth the infirmite of the Prophet, who did dissemble to saue his life, albeit it was not to the deniall of his doctrine, or to the hurt of any.

f Whome the King of Babel had now appointed gouernour o- uer the rest of the Iewes that he left behinde, 14 Then they sent, and tooke Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, that he should carie him home: so hee dwelt among the people.

15 Now the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah, which hee was shut vp in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Goe and speake to Ebed-melech the blacke Doe, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring my wordes vpon this citie for euill, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not be giuen into the hand of the men whome thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliuer thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a praye vnto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

4 Jeremiah hath licence to goe whither he will. 6 He dwelleth with the people that remaine with Gedaliah.

The worde which came to Jeremiah from the Lord after that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had let him goe from Ramath, when hee had taken him being bound in chaines among all that were caried away captiue of Ierusalem and Iudah, which were caried away captiue vnto Babel.

2 And the chiefe steward tooke Jeremiah, and laide vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Nowe the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because yee haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed his voyce, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And now beholde, I loose thee this day from the chaines which were on thine hands: if it please thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I will loose thee well vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with me into Babel, I tarie still: behold, all the land is before thee: whether it seemeth good, and conuenient for thee to goe, thither goe.

5 For yet he was not returned: therefore he saide, Returne to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whome the king of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, and dwell with him among the people, or goe wheresoeuer it pleaseth thee to goe. So the chiefe steward gaue him vitayles and a rewarde and let him goe.

6 Then went Jeremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, to Mizpah, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Nowe when all the Captaynes of the hoste, which were in the fieldes, euen they and their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the land, and that he had committed vnto him, men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the lande, that were not caried away captiue to Babel,

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, euen Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan, and Jonathan the sonnes of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth, and the sonnes of Eypai, the Bethpathite, and Jezaniah the sonne of Balaiah, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, came vnto them, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans: dwell in the lande, and serue the king of Babel, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for mee, beholde, I will dwell at Mizpah to serue the Caldeans, which will come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine, and summer fruites, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities, that ye haue taken.

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Doon, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah, and that hee had set ouer them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, 12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were diuen, & came to the lande of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruites, very much.

13 Whereouer Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the hoste, that were in the fieldes, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah,

14 And said vnto him, knowest thou not that Baalis the king of the Ammonites, hath sent Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee? but Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam beleened them not.

15 Then Iohanan the sonne of Kareah spake to Gedaliah at Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me goe, I pray thee, and I will slay Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it. Wherefore should hee kill thee, that all the Iewes, which are gathered vnto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Iudah perished?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam saide vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt not doe this thing: for thou speakest falsly of Ithmael.

4 Now the second day that he had slaine Gedaliah, and no man knewe it.

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, euenscore men, hauing their beards shauen, and their clothes rent and cut, with offerings and incense in their handes to offer in the house of the Lorde.

6 And Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah went south from Mizpah to meete them, weeping as he went: & when he met them, he sayd vnto them, Come to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the middes of the citie, Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah slewe them, and cast them into the middes of the pit, hee and the men that were with him.

8 But tenne men were found among them, that sayde vnto Ithmael, Slay vs not: for wee haue treasures in the fieldes, of wheate, and of barley, and of oyle, and of hony: so hee stayed, and slewe them not among their brethren.

9 Nowe the pit wherein Ithmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whom hee had slaine because of Gedaliah) is it, which Ala the king had made because of Baasba King of Israel, and Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slaine.

10 Then Ithmael caried away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, euenscore daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the chiefe steward had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah caried them away captiue, and departed to goe ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste that were with him, heard of all the euill that Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah had done,

12 Then they all tooke their men, & went to fight with Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Nowe when all the people whome Ithmael caried away captiue, sawe Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste, that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people, that Ithmael had caried away captiue from Mizpah, returned, and came againe, and went vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah escaped from Iohanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then tooke Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, & all the captiues of the hoste that were with him, all the remnant of the people, whom Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah had caried away captiue from Mizpah, (after that hee had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam) euenscore men of warre, and the women, and the children, and the eunuches, whome hee had broughte againe from Gibeon:

17 And they departed and dwelt in Geruth Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, to goe and to enter into Egypt.

18 Because of the Caldians: for they feared them, because Ithmael the sonne of Nethaniah had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, whom the king of Babel made gouernour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The captiues aske counsell of Ieremias what they ought to doe. 7 He admonisheth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

When all the captiues of the hoste, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and Ieremias the sonne of Hosaiah, and all the people from the least vnto the most came,

2 And said vnto Ieremias the Prophet, & heare our prayer, wee beseech thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lorde thy God, euenscore for all this remnant (for wee are left, but a fewe of many, as thine eyes doe behold)

3 That the Lord thy God may shewe vs the way wherein wee may walke, and the thing that we may doe.

4 Then Ieremias the Prophet said vnto them, I haue heard you: behold, I will pray vnto the Lorde your God, according to your words, and whatsoever thing the Lord shall answere you, I will declare it vnto you: I will keepe nothing backe from you.

5 Then they saide to Ieremias, The Lorde be a witness of truth, and faith betweene vs, if wee doe not, euenscore according to all things for the which the Lord thy God shall send thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euill, we will obey the voyce of the Lord God, to whom we send thee, that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 And so after ten dayes came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremias.

8 Then called hee Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste, which were with him, and all the people from the least to the most,

9 And sayde vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom ye sent me to present your prayers before him,

10 If ye will dwell in this land, then I will build you, and not destroy you, and I will plant you, and not roote you out: for I repent me of the euill that I haue done vnto you.

11 Feare not for the King of Babel, of whom ye are afraid: hee nor afraid of him, saith the Lorde: for I am with you to saue you, and to deliuer you from his hand, 12 And I will graunt you mercy that he may haue compassion vpon you, and he shall caule you to dwell in your owne land.

13 But if ye say, Wee will not dwell in this land, neither heare the voyce of the Lorde

b There are none more ready to abuse the Name of God and take it in vaine, then the hypocrites, which to colour their falshood vlie without all reuerence, and make it a means for them to deceiue the simple and the godly.

14 Saying, Nay, but we will goe into the lande of Egypt, where wee shall see no warre, nor heare the sounde of the trumpet, nor haue hunger of bread, and there will we dwell.

15 (And now therefore heare the worde of the Lord, yee remnant of Iudah, thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, If yee let your faces to enter into Egypt, and goe to dwell there)

16 Then the sword that ye feared, shall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, shall there hang vpon you in Egypt, and there shall yee die.

17 And all the men that set their faces to enter into Egypt to dwell there, shall die by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence, and none of them shall remaine nor escape from the plague, that I will bring vpon them.

18 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, As mine anger and my wrath hath bene poured forth vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem: so shall my wrath bee poured forth vpon you, when yee shall enter into Egypt, and ye shall bee a dereliction, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproch, and yee shall see this place no more.

19 Yee remnant of Iudah, the Lord hath sayde concerning you, Goe not into Egypt: knowe certainly that I haue admoyned then vpon this day.

20 Surely ye haue disobeyed in your hearts when yee sent me vnto the Lord your God, saying, I pray for vs vnto the Lord our God, and declare vnto vs euery according vnto all that the Lord our God shall say, and we will doe it.

21 Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me vnto you.

22 Now therefore, knowe certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither yee desire to goe and dwell.

CHAP. XLIII.

Iohanan carieth the remnant of the people into Egypt contrary to the minde of Ieremiah. 8 Ieremiah prophesieth the destruction of Egypt.

Now when Ieremiah had made an end of speaking vnto the whole people all the wordes of the Lord their God, for the which the Lord their God had sent him to them, euery all these wordes,

2 Then spake Azariah the sonne of Iohashah, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying vnto Ieremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Goe not into Egypt to dwell there.

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah prouoketh thee against vs, for to deliuer vs into the hande of the Chaldeans, that they might slay vs, and cary vs alway captiuities into Babel.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiuities of the hoste, and all the people obeyed not the voyce of the Lord, to dwell in the land of Iudah.

5 But Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiuities of the hoste, tooke all the remnant of Iudah, that were returned from all nations, whither they had bene driven, to dwell in the land of Iudah:

6 Even men and women, and children, and the Kings daughters, and euery person that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had left with Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the Prophet, and Baruch the sonne of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord: thus came they to Tahpanhes.

8 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in y^e bricke kil, which is at the entrie of Pharaohs house in Tahpanhes in the sight of the men of Iudah,

10 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will sende and bring Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel y^e seruant, and will set his throne vpon these stones that I haue hidde, and he shall spread his pavilion ouer them.

11 And when he shall come, he shall smite the land of Egypt: such as are appointed for death, to death, and such as are for captiuitie, to captiuitie, and such as are for the sword, to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burne them and cary them away captiues, and he shall aray himselfe with the lande of Egypt, as a shepheard putteth on his garment, and shall depart from thence in peace.

13 Yee shall breake also the images of Beth-shemesh, that is in the lande of Egypt, and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burne with fire.

CHAP. XLIII.

Hee reprehendeth the people for their idolatrie. 15 They that sit light by the threatening of the Lords, are chastened. 26 The destruction of Egypt and of the Iewes therein, is prophesied.

The worde that came to Ieremiah concerning all the Iewes, which dwell in the lande of Egypt, and remained at Migdol and at Tahpanhes, and at Psof, and in the countrey of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Yee haue seene all the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iudah: and behold, this day they are desolate, and no man dwelleth therein, e Thus the wicked doe not only contemne and hurt the messengers of God, but slander & speake wickedly of all them that support or fauour the godly.

a Who was also called Iezaniah, Chap. 42. 1.

b This declareth that pride is the cause of rebellion, and contempt of Gods ministers.

c When the hypocrite of the wicked is discovered, they burst forth into open rage: for they can abide nothing but flatteries, reade Ila. 30. 10. d He sheweth what is the nature of the hypocrites: to wit, to saie that they would obey God and embrace his worde, if they were assured that his messengers spake truth: though in deed they be most farr from all obedience.

3 Because of their wickednesse which they haue committed, to prouoke me to anger, in that they went to burne incense, and to serue other gods, whom they knew not, neither they nor you nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets ^a rising early, and sending them, saying, Oh doe not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare nor incline their eare to turne from their wickednesse, and to burne no more incense vnto other gods.

6 Therefore my wrath, and mine anger was powred forth and was kindled in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, and they are desolate, and wastefull, as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Therefore commit ye this great euill against your soules, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that yee prouoke mee vnto a wrath with the workes of your handes, burning incense vnto other gods in the lande of Egypt whither ye be gone to dwell: that yee might bring destruction vnto your selues, and that ye might bee a curse and a reproch among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue ye forgotten the wickednesse of your fathers, and the wickednesse of the kings of Iudah, and the wickednesse of their wives, and your owne wickednesse, and the wickednesse of your wives, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah and in the streetes of Ierusalem?

10 They are not humbled vnto this day, neither haue they feared nor walked in my Lawe nor in my statutes, that I set before you, and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will set my face against you ^a to euill, and to destroy all Iudah,

12 And I will take the remnant of Iudah, that I haue set their faces to goe into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shall all be consumed and fall in the lande of Egypt: they shall euen be consumed by the sword, and by the famine: they shall die from the least vnto the most, by the sword, and by the famine, and they shall bee a detestation and an astonishment and a curse and a reproch.

13 For I will visite them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I haue visited Ierusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence,

14 So that none of the remnant of Iudah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall escape or remaine, that they should returne into the land of Iudah to the which they haue a desire to returne to dwell there: for none shall returne, but as such as shall escape.

15 Then all the men which knewe that their wives had burne incense vnto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwell in the lande of Egypt in Pathos, and we red Jeremiah, saying,

16 The word that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the name of the Lorde, wee will not heare it of thee,

17 But wee will doe whatsoever thing goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incense vnto the Queene of heauen, and to potyre out drinke offerings vnto her, as wee haue done, both wee and our fathers, our Kings and our princes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem: for then I had much plentie of vitalles and were well and felt none euill.

18 But since we left off to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to potyre out drinke offerings vnto her, wee haue had I scarcenesse of all things, and haue bene consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And when wee burnt incense to the Queene of heauen, and potyred out drinke offerings vnto her, did wee make her cakes to make her glad, & potyre out drinke offerings vnto her without our husbands?

20 Then said I Jeremiah vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had giuen him that answer, saying,

21 Did not the Lorde remember the incense, that yee burnt in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, both you, and your fathers, your Kings, and your princes, and the people of the lande, and I hath he not considered it?

22 So that the Lord could no longer forbear, because of the wickednesse of your inventions, and because of the abominations, which yee haue committed: therefore is your land desolate and an astonishment, and a curse and without inhabitant, as appeareth this day.

23 Because ye haue burnt incense, and because ye haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, nor walked in his Lawe, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Wherefore Ieremiah layde vnto all the people and to all the women, Heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah that are in the land of Egypt.

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Yee and your wives haue both spoken by your mouthes, and fulfilled with your handes, saying, Wee will performe our vowes that wee haue vowed to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to potyre out drinke offerings to her: yee will performe your vowes, and doe the things that yee haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah that dwell in the land of Egypt. Beholde, I haue become by my great Name, sayeth the Lorde, that my Name wines any thing whereof they be not assured by whereby they take an occasion to iustifie their doings, and their husbands shall giue an accompt thereof before God, ^a Ebr. It is not come vnto his heare in You haue committed double euill in making wicked vowes, and in performing the same.

This declareth how dangerous a thing it is to decline once from God, and to followe our owne fantasies: for Satan euert sollicitud, and doth not leaue them till he haue brought them to extreme impudencie and madness, euen to iustifie their wickednes against God and his Prophets.

ⁱ Reade Chap. 7. 18. n This declareth an horrible plague toward idolaters, seeing that God will not vouchsafe to haue his Name mentioned by such as haue polluted it.

o We see therefore, that God hath a perpetual care ouer his, whereof they are scattered: for though they be but two or three, yet he will deliuer them when he destroyeth his enemies.

p He sheweth the meanes whereby they should be destroyed, to assure them of the certaintie of the plague, and yet they remaine still in their obstinacie till they perish: for Iosephus lib. 10. de Antiqu. cap. 11. writeth, that five yeere after the taking of Ierusalem, Nebuchadnezzar the yonger, hauing overcome the Moabites and the Ammonites, went against Egypt, and slew the king, and so brought thence Iewes, and other into Babylon.

28 Yet a small number that escape the sword, shall returne out of the land of Egypt into the lande of Iudah: and all the remnant of Iudah that are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall knowe whose words shall stand, mine of theirs.

29 And this shall bee a signe vnto you, sayeth the Lorde, when I visite you in this place, that yee may knowe that my wordes shall surely stand against you for euil.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue Pharaoh Nophra king of Egypt into the hande of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke his life: as I gaue Zedekiah king of Iudah into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel his enemy, who also sought his life.

6 The swift shall not flee away, nor the strong man escape: they shall stumble, and fall toward the North by the river Berach.

7 Who is this, that cometh vp as a flood, whose waters are mooued like the reuers?

8 Egypt riseth by like the flood, and his waters are mooued like the rivers, and hee saith, I will go vp, and will couer the earth: I will destroy the citie with them that dwell therein.

9 Come vp, yee horses, and rage ye chariots, and let the valiant men come forth, the blacke Mores, and the Libyans that beare the shield, and the Egyptians that handle and bend the bowe.

23 They shall cut downe her forest, saith the Lord: for they cannot bee counted, because they are more then the grasshoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded: she shall be deliuered into the hands of the people of the North.

25 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will visite the y common people of Moab, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods and their Kings, euen Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him.

26 And I will deliuer them into the hands of those that seeke their liues, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the hands of his seruantes, and afterward shall he dwell as in the olde time, saith the Lord.

27 But feare not thou, O my seruant Jaakob, and bee not thou afraid, O Israel: for behold, I will deliuer thee from a farre country, and thy led from the land of their captiuitie, and Jaakob shall returne and be in rest, and prosperitie, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Feare thou not, O Jaakob my seruant, saith the Lord: for I am with thee, and I will utterly destroy all the nations, whither I shall diuine thee: but I will not utterly destroy thee, but correct thee by iudgement, and not utterly cut thee off.

CHAP. XLVII.

The word of the Lord against the Philistims.

The wordes of the Lord that came to Ieremiah the Prophet, against the Philistims, before that Pharaoh smote Azah.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, waters rise vp out of the North, and shall bee as a swelling flood, and shall ouerflowe the land, and all that is therein, and the cities with them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howle.

3 At the noise and stamping of the hooves of his strong horkes, at the noise of his charrets, and at the rumbing of his wheeles: the fathers shall not looke backe to their children, for feeblenesse of hands.

4 Because of the day that cometh to destroy all the Philistims, and to destroy Tyus, and Sidon, and all the rest that take their part: for the Lord wil destroy the Philistims, the remnant of the ple of Caphtor.

5 Baldonelle is come vpon Azah: Ashkelon is cut vp with the rust of their vallets. How long wilt thou cut thy selfe?

6 Thou wast of the Lord, how long will it bee or thou cease? turne againe into thy scabbard, rest and be still.

7 How can it cease, seeing the Lord hath giuen it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea banke: euen there hath he appointed it.

it is not possible that the wicked shoulde by any meanes escape or stay the Lord, when he will take vengeance.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The word of the Lord against the Moabites,

Because of their pride and crueltie.

Concerning Moab, thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Woe vnto Moab: for it is wasted: Kirithaim is confounded and taken: Dibgab is confounded and afraid.

2 Moab shall boast no more of Destruction: for they haue deuised euill against it. Come, and let vs destroy it, that it bee no more a nation: also thou shalt bee destroyed, O Madmen, and the word shall pursue thee.

3 A voyce of crying shall be from Horonaim with desolation and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed: her little ones haue caused their cry to be heard.

5 For at the going vp of Luhith, the mourner shall goe vp with weeping: for in the going downe of Horonaim, the enemies haue heard a cry of destruction.

6 Flee, and save your liues, and bee like vnto the heath in the wilderness.

7 For because thou hast trusted in thy workes and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and Chemoth shall goe forth into captiuitie with his priests & his princes together.

8 And the destroyer shall come vpon all cities, and no citie shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plaine shall be destroyed as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Give wings vnto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall bee desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 Cursed be hee that doeth the worke of the Lord negligently, and cursed be hee that keepeth backe his sword from blood.

11 Moab hath bene at rest from his youth, and hee hath rested on his lees, and hath not bene powred from vessell to vessell, neyther hath hee gone into captiuitie: therefore his taste remayned in him and his sent is not changed.

12 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will sende vnto him such as shall carie him away, and shall empty his vessels, and breake their bottles.

that God would punish the Caldeans, if they did not destroy the Egyptians, and that with a courage, and calleth this executing of his vengeance against his enemies, his worke: though the Caldeans sought another end, Isa. 10. 12. For, desertfully. Hath not bene remoued as the Iewes haue, but haue liued at ease, and as a wine that feedeth it selfe on his lees.

f They haue pulled off their haire for sorowe and heauinesse. g As the heathen vied in their mourning, which the Lord forbade his people to do, Deut. 14. 1.

h Meaning, that meanes escape or stay the Lord, when he will take vengeance.

a These were citie of the Moabites which Nebuchad-nezzar tooke before he went to fight against Necho king of Egypt.

b Thus shall the Babylonians encourage one another. c Reade Isa. 25. 10.

d Horonaim and Luhith were two places, whereby the Moabites should flee, Isa. 15. 5.

e Hide your selues in barren places, where the enemy will not pursue after you, Chap. 17. 6.

f That is, the idoles which are the workes of thine hands. Some reade, in thy possessions, for so the word may signifie, as 1. Sam. 25. 2.

g Both thy great idole, and his maineiners shall be ledde away captiues, so that they shall then know that it is in vaine to looke for helpe at idoles, Isa. 15. 2.

h Hee sheweth

i Hath not bene

k As the calfe of Beth-el was not able to deliuer the Israelites: no more shall Chemosh deliuer the Moabites, & Ebr. gone up, or destroyed.

l How are they destroyed that put their trust in their strength and riches, m Thus they that see, shall answere.

n That is, his power and strength,

o He willed the Caldeans to lay afflictions ynowe vpon them, till they bee like drunken men that fall downe to their shame and are derided of all.

p Or, shalbe full, or clap his hands.

q Thou reioycest to heare of his miserie.

r Isa. 16. 6.

s He shall not execute his malice against his neighbours.

t Reade Isa. 16. 7.

f Which citie was in the vtmost border of Moab: and hereby he signifieth that the whole land should be destroyed, and the people caried away.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Beth-el their confidence.

14 How thinke you thus, We are mighty and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed, & his citie burnt vp, & his cholen yong men are gone downe to slaughter, saith the King, whose name is, The Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab is ready to come, and his plague hath fast.

17 All ye that are about him, moune for him, and all yee that knowe his name, say, How is the strong staffe broken, and the beautifull rod!

18 Thou daughter that doest inhabite Dibon, come downe from thy glorie, and sit in thirst: for the destroyer of Moab shall come vp vpon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holdes.

19 Thou that dwellest in Aroer, stand by the way, and beholde: ake him that fleeth and that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 Moab is cried: for it is destroyed: howle, and crie, tell ye it in Arnon, thus Moab is made waste.

21 And iudgement is come vpon the plaine countrey, vpon Holon and vpon Jahaz, and vpon Dephaath,

22 And vpon Dibon, and vpon Bebo, and vpon the house of Diblahaim, 23 And vpon Kirathaim, and vpon Beth-gannul, and vpon Beth-meon, 24 And vpon Kerioth, and vpon Bosrah, and vpon all the citie of the lande of Moab saue orneere.

25 The house of Moab is cut off, and his arme is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him drunken: for he magnified himselfe against the Lord: Moab shall wallowe in his vomite, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For diddest not thou deride Israel, as though he had bin found among theeues? for when thou speakest of him, thou art pmooued.

28 Wee that dwell in Moab, leaue the cities, and dwell in the rockes, and bee like the doue, that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

29 We haue heard the pride of Moab (hee is exceeding proude) his skoutnesse, and his arrogancie, and his pride, and the haughtinesse of his heart.

30 I knowe his wrath, saith the Lord, but it shall not bee so: and his dissimulations, for they doe not right.

31 Therefore will I howle for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab: mine heart shall moune for the men of Kir-heres.

32 Wine of Sibnah, I will weepe for thee, as I weep for Fazer: thy plants are gone ouer the sea, they are come to the sea of Fazer: the destroyer is fallen vpon thy summer fruites, and vpon thy vintage, 33 And now, and gladnesse is taken from the plentifull field & from the lande of Moab: and I haue caused wine to faile from the wine press: none shall tread with shovelling: their shovelling shall be no shovelling.

34 From the cry of Heshbon vnto Elaleh, and vnto Jahaz haue they made their noyle: from Zoar vnto Horonaim, the helper of thire yeere olde shall go lowing: for the waters alio of Ammin shall be wasted.

35 Moreover, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lord, him that offered in the hie places, & him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like a shaine, and mine heart shall sound like a shaine for the men of Kir-heres, because the riches that hee hath gotten, is perished.

37 For euery head shall be balde, and euery beard plucked: vpon all the handes shall be cuttings, and vpon the loynes sackcloth.

38 And mourning shall bee vpon all the house toppes of Moab & in all the streetes thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a vessell wherein is no pleasure, sayeth the Lord.

39 They shall howle, saying, How is hee destroyed? How hath Moab turned the backe with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a teare to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, he shall flie as an eagle, and shall spread his wings ouer Moab.

41 The cities are taken, and the strong holdes are wome, and the mightie mens hearts in Moab at that day shall bee as the heart of a woman in trauell.

42 And Moab shall bee destroyed from being a people, because hee hath set vp himselfe against the Lord.

43 Feare, and pit and snare shall vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the feare, shall fall in the pit, and hee that getteth vp out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring vpon it, even vpon Moab, the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled stood vnder the shadowe of Heshbon, because of the force: for the fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sihon, and deuoured the corner of Moab, and the toppes of the seditious children.

46 We be vnto thee, O Moab: the people of Chemosh perisheth: for thy finnes are taken captiues, and thy daughters led into captiuitie.

47 Yet will I bring againe the captiuitie of Moab in the latter dayes, saith the Lord. Thus saith the Lord of the iudgement of Moab.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The words of the Lord against the Ammonites, 7 Idumea, 23 Damascus, 28 Kedar, 34 and Elam.

Vnto the children of Ammon thus saith the Lord, What Israel no lonnes? or hath hee none heire? Why then hath their king possessed Gad? and his people dwelt in his cities?

2 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will cause a noyle of uiritie, they inuaded the countrey of Gad. b Towit, of the Ammonites. c Meaning, of the Israelites.

t Reade Isa. 15. 5.

u Their custome was to play on flutes or instruments, heaue and graue tunes at burials and in the time of mourning, as Matth. 9. 23.

Isa. 15. 2. 3. Ezek. 7. 18. Ior. shauen.

x That is, Nebuchad-nezzar, as Chap. 49. 22.

y He that escapeth one danger, shall be taken of another, Isa. 24.

z They fled thither, thinking to haue succour of the Ammonites.

a The Amorites had destroyed the Moabites in times past, and now because of their power, the Moabites shall seeke to them for helpe.

b Which vaunted themselves of their idole, as though he could haue delended them.

c That is, they shall be restored by the Messiah.

a They were separated from the Moabites by the river Arnon, and after that the renne tribes were caried away into capti-

warre

d Which was one of the chief cities of the Ammonites, as were Heshbon and Ai: there was also a citie called Heshbon among the Moabites.

e In thy plentiful country, f Signifying that power and riches when not prevaile as God wil execute his iudgements.

g That is, without looking backe, & as every one can finde a way to escape. h In the time of Christ, when the Gentiles shall be called.

i Which was a citie of Edom called by the name of Teman Eliphaz sonne, who came of Esau.

k The enemies that shall dissemble as though they fled away, shal turne backe, and invade your land, & possesse it.

l Meaning, that God would venterly destroy them, and not spare one, though y grape gatherers leaue some grapes, and theeuces seeke but till they haue enough, Oba. 1. 5.

m The destruction shall be so great, that there shall be none left to take care ouer the widowes and fatherlesse.

p That is, Bozrah.

warre to be heard in Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heape, and her daughters shalbe burnt with fire: then shall Israel possesse thole that possessed him, saith the Lord.

3 Howbe, D Heshbon, for Ai is wasted: erie ye daughters of Rabbah: girde you with sackcloth: mourne and cunne to and fro by the hedges: for their king shall goe into captiuitie, and his Priestes, and his Princes likewise.

4 Therefore gloriest thou in the valleys: thy valley floweth away, O rebellious daughter: thee trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come vnto me?

5 Beholde, I will bring a feare vpon thee, layeth the Lord God of hostes, of all chole that be about thee, and ye shalbe scattered euery man & right forth, and none shall gather him that fleeth.

6 And Afterward I will bring againe the captiuitie of the children of Ammon.

7 ¶ To Edom thus saith the Lord of hostes, Is wilddome no more in Teman: Is counsell perished from their children: Is their wilddome banished?

8 Flee, ye inhabitants of Dedan (k) they are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell) for I haue brought the destruction of Esau vpon him, and the time of his visitation,

9 If the grape gatherers come to thee, would not they not leaue some grapes? if theeuces come by night, they will destroy till they haue enough.

10 For I haue discovered Esau: I haue vncouered his secrets, and he shall not be able to hide himselfe: his seede is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbours, and there shall be none to say,

11 I sawe thy fatherlesse children, and I will preserue them aloue, and let thy widowes trust in mee.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, they whole iudgement was not to dunke of the cup, haue assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shall escape free? thou shalt not goe free, but thou shalt surely dunke of it.

13 For I haue sowne by my selfe, layeth the Lord, that O Bozrah shall be waste, and for a reproch, and a desolation, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual desolations.

14 I haue heard a rumour from the Lord, and an ambassadour is sent vnto the heathen, saying, Gather you together, and come against y her, and rise vp to the battel.

15 For loe, I will make thee but small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy feare, & the pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rocke, and keepst y height of the hill: though thou shouldst make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee downe from thence, saith the Lord.

17 ¶ Also Edom shall be desolate: euery one that goeth by it, shall be astonished, & shall hiss at all the plagues thereof,

18 As in the overthrow of Sodome, & of Gomorah, and the places thereof neere about, saith the Lord: no man shall dwell there, neither shall the sonnes of men remaine in it.

19 Behold, he shall come vp like a Lyon from the swelling of Iordan vnto the strong dwelling place: for I will make Israel to rest, euen I will make him to haste away from her, and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is the shepherd that will stand before me?

20 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord that he hath deuised against Edom, and his purpose that hee hath conceived against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least of the flocke shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moued at the noyse of their fall: the cry of their voyce is heard in the red sea.

22 Behold, he shall come vp, and sic as the eagle, and spread his wings ouer Bozrah, and at that day shall the heart of the strong men of Edom bee as the heart of a woman in trauell.

23 ¶ Vnto Damascus he saith, Hamath is contoured and Arpad, for they haue heard euill tidings, & they are faint hearted as one on the fearefull sea that cannot rest. Damascus is discouraged, and turneth herselfe to flight, and feare hath leasened her: anguish and sorowes haue taken her as a woman in trauell.

25 How is the glorious citie not reuered, the citie of my toy?

26 Therefore her yong men shall fall in her streetes, and al her men of warre shalbe cut off in that day, saith the Lord of hostes.

27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, which shall consume the palaces of Ben-hadad.

28 ¶ Vnto Kedar, and to the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel shall linte, thus layeth the Lord, Arise, and goe vp vnto Kedar, and destroy the men of the East.

29 Their tentes and their flockes shall they take away: yea, they shall take to them selues their curtains, and al their vessels, and their camels, and they shall cry vnto them, Feare is on euery side.

30 Flee, get you farre off (e) they haue consulted to dwell) O ye inhabitants of Hazor, layeth the Lord: for Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel hath taken counsell against you, and hath deuised a purpose against you.

31 ¶ Arise, and get you vp vnto the wealtie nation, that dwelleth without care, layeth the Lord, which haue neyther gates nor barres, but dwell alone.

32 And their camels shalbe a bootie, and the multitude of their cattell a spoyle, and I will scatter them vnto all windes, and to the vmost corners, and I will bring their destruction from all the sides thereof, layeth the Lord.

b Who was king of Syria, i. King.

e The enemies

f Hee sheweth that they of Hazor will see to the Arabians for succour, but that shall not auail them.

g That is Persia, so called of Elam the sonne of Shem.

h Because the Persians were good archers, hee sheweth that the thing wherein they put their trust, should not profit them.

i I will place Nebuchad nezzar there. And in these propheties Jeremiah speaketh of those countries, which should be subdued vnder the first of those foure monarchies whereof Daniel maketh mention.

k This may be referred to the empire of the Persians and Medes after the Caldeans, or vnto the time of Christ, as Chap. 48. 47.

33 And Hazer shall bee a dwelling for dragons, and desolation for ever: there shall no man dwell there, nor the sonnes of men remaine in it.

34 The words of the Lord that came to Jeremiah the Prophet, concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reigne of Zedekiah king of Iudah, saying,

35 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Wehold, I wil breake the bow of Elam, even the chiefe of their strength.

36 And vpon Elam I will bring the foure windes from the foure quarters of heauen, & wil scatter them towards all these windes, and there shalbe no nation, whither the fugitives of Elam shall not come.

37 For I will cause Elam to be afraid before their enemies, and before them that seeke their liues, and will bring vpon them a plague, even the indignation of my wrath, saith the Lord, and I will send the sword after them till I haue consumed them.

38 And I will let my thyrone in Elam, and I will destroy both the king and the princes from thence, sayeth the Lord: but in the latter dayes I will bring againe the captiuitie of Elam, saith the Lord.

CHAP. L.

He prophesieth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

The word that the Lord spake concerning Babel, and concerning the land of the Caldeans by the ministerie of Jeremiah the Prophet.

2 Declare among the nations, and publish it, & set vp a standard, proclaime it, and conceale it not: say, Babel is taken, Bel is confounded, Berothach is broken downe: her idoles are confounded, and their images are burst in peeces.

3 For out of the North there cometh vpon a nation against her, which shall make her land waste, and none shall dwell therein: they shall flee, and depart, both man & beast.

4 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they, and the children of Iudah together, going, and weeping shall they goe, and seeke the Lord their God.

5 They shall aske the way to Zion, with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let vs cleaue to the Lord in a perpetuall covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 For people hath bene as lost sheepe: their shepheards haue caused them to goe astray, and haue turned them away to the mountaines: they haue gone from a mountaine to hill, and forgotten their resting place.

7 All that founde them, haue denoured them, and their enemies laide, & did offend not, because they haue sinned against the Lord, the habitation of iustice, even the Lord the hope of their fathers.

8 Iflee from the middes of Babel, and depart out of the land of the Caldeans, and be ye as the hee goates before the flocke.

9 For so, I will raise, & cause to come vpon against Babel a multitude of mightie nations from the North country, and they shall fight themselves in aray against her, whereby she shall be taken: their arrowes shall be as of a strong man, which is expert, for none shall returne in vaine.

10 And Caldea shall be a people: all that spoyle her, shall bee satisfied, sayeth the Lord.

11 Because ye were glad and reioyced in destroying mine heritage, and because ye are growen fat, as the calves in the grass, and neyed like strong horses,

12 Therefore your mother shall bee sore confounded, and shee that bare you, shall be ashamed: beholde, the vttermost of the nations shalbe a desert, a drie land, and a wilderness.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lord it shall not be inhabited, but shall be wholly desolate: euer one that goeth by Babel, shall be astonied, and shall at all her plagues.

14 Put your selues in aray against Babel round about: all ye that bende the bowe, shooete at her, spare no arrowes: for she hath sinned against the Lord.

15 Crie against her round about: shee hath giuen her hand: her foundations are fallen, and her walles are destroyed: for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance vpon her: as shee hath done, doe vnto her.

16 Destroy the tower from Babel, and him, that handeth the sieche in the time of haruest: because of the sword of the oppressour they shall turne euery one to his people, and they shall flee euery one to his owne land.

17 Israel is like scattered sheepe: the Lyons haue dispersed them: first the King of Asshur hath deuoured him, and last this Nebuchad nezzar King of Babel hath broken his bones.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will visite the King of Babel, and his lande, as I haue visited the king of Asshur.

19 And I wil bring Israel againe to his habitation: hee shall feede on Carmel and Bashan, and his soule shall be satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the iniquitie of Israel shall bee sought for, and there shall bee none: and the sinnes of Iudah, & they shall not bee found: for I will be mercifull vnto them, whome I reſerue.

21 Goe vpon against the lande of the rebeles, euen against it, and against the inhabitants of it: Dekod: destroy, and lay it waste after them, sayeth the Lord, and doe according to all that I haue commaunded thee.

22 A crie of battell is in the lande, and of great destruction.

23 How is the hammer of the whole world destroyed and broken! how is Babel become desolate among the nations!

24 I haue

l Shall be made rich thereby.

m For ioy of the victorie, that yee had against my people.

n In signe of contempt and disdain.

o He speaketh to the enemies the Medes and Persians.

p Though the Lord called the Babylonians his seruants, & their worke, his worke, in punishing his people, yet because they did it not to glorifie God, but for their owne malice, and to profite themselves, it is here called sinne.

q Or, yeelded, or made peace.

q Destroy her so that none bee left to labour the ground, or to take the fruite thereof.

f Their gouernours & ministers by their examples haue prouoked them to idolatrie.

g They haue committed idolatrie in euery place.

h For the Lord dwelt among them in his Temple, and would haue maintained them by his iustice against their enemies. i When God shall deliuer you by Cyrus.

24 I haue feared thee, and thou art taken, O Babel, and thou wast not aware: thou art founde, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his treasure, and hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the worke of the Lord God of hostes in the land of the Caldeans.

26 Come against her & from the utmost border: open her store houses: treade on her as on the heaves, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Destroy all her bullocks: let them go downe to the slaughter. Vnto them, for their day is come, and the time of their visitation.

28 The voice of them that flee, and escape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, and the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Call by the archers against Babel: all ye that bend the bowe, besiege it round about: let none thereof escape: recompence her according to her worke, and according to all that she hath done, doe vnto her: for she hath bene psonde against the Lord, euen against the holy one of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her strong men fall in the streetes, and alther men of warre shalbe destroyed in that day, saith the Lord.

31 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O psonde man, saith the Lord God of hostes: for thy day is come, euen the time that I will visite thee.

32 And the psonde shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him vp: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, & it shall deuoure all round about him.

33 Thus saith the Lord of hostes. The children of Israel, and the children of Iudah were oppressed together: and all that tooke them captiues, held them, and would not let them goe.

34 But their strong Redeemer, whose name is the Lord of hostes, he shall auenge their cause, that he may giue rest to the lande, & disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.

35 A sword is vpon the Caldeans, saith the Lord, and vpon the inhabitants of Babel, and vpon her princes, and vpon her wise men.

36 A sword is vpon the soothsayers, and they shall dote: a sword is vpon her strong men, and they shall be afraid.

37 A sword is vpon their horses, and vpon their chariots, and vpon all the multitude that are in the middes of her, and they shall be like women: a sword is vpon her treasures, and they shall be spoiled.

38 A drought is vpon her waters, and they shall be dried vp: for it is the land of grauen images, and they dote vpon their idols.

39 Therefore the Zimms with the Zimms shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein: for it shall be no more inhabited, neither shall it be inhabited from generation vnto generation.

40 As God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah with the places thereof neere about, saith the Lord: so shall no man dwell there, neither shall the sonne of man remayne therein.

41 Beholde, a people shall come from the North, and a great nation, and many kings shall be rapled vp from the coasts of the earth.

42 They shall holde the bowe and the buckler: they are cruell and vniuersall: their voice shall roare like the sea, and they shall ride vpon horses, and be put in array like men to battell against thee, O daughter of Babel.

43 The king of Babel hath heard the report of them, and his handes waxed feeble: for he came vpon him, euen sorow as of a woman in trauaile.

44 Beholde, he shall come vp like a lyon from the dwelling of Jordan vnto the strong habitation: for I will make Israel to rest, and I will make them to haue away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her? for who is like me, and who will appoint me the time? and who is the shepheard that will stand before me?

45 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord that he hath deuised against Babel, and his purpose that he hath conceived against the land of the Caldeans: surely the least of the flocks shall draw them out: surely hee shall make their habitation desolate with them.

46 At the noise of the winning of Babel the earth is moued, & the cry is heard among the nations.

6 Why Babylon is destroyed, 41 The vaine confidence of the Babylonians, 43 The vanity of idolaters, 59 Jeremiah giueth his booke to Sheraiah.

Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will raise vp against Babel, and against the inhabitants I that lift vp their heart against me, a destroying wind.

2 And will send vnto Babel fanners that shall make her, and shall empty her lande: for in day of trouble they shall be against her on every side.

3 Also to the bender that bendeth his bowe, and to him that lifteth himselfe vp in his hyganbme, will I say, Spare not her strong men, but destroy all her hoste.

4 Thus the slaine shall fall in the land of the Caldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streetes.

5 For Israel hath bene no widow, nor Iudah from his God, from the Lord of hostes, though their land was filled with sinne against the holy one of Israel.

6 Flee out of the mids of Babel, and deliver every man his soule: be not destroyed in her iniquitie: for this is the time of the Lords vengeance: he will render vnto her a recompence.

7 Babel hath bene as a golden cup in the Lords hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations haue drunken of her wine, therefore doe the nations rage.

8 Babel is suddenly fallen, & destroyed: howle for her, bring balme for her sore, if Babylonians, she may be healed.

11 Make bright the arrows: gather the shields: the Lord hath rapted by the spirit of the king of the Medes: for his purpose is against Babel to destroy it, because it is the vengeance of the Lord, and the vengeance of his Temple.

12 Set by the standard vpon the walles of Babel, make the watch strong: set by the watchmen: prepare the shouters: for the Lord hath both denied, and done that which hee spake against the inhabitants of Babel.

20 Thou art mine hammer, and weapons of warre: for with thee will I breake the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdoms.

21 And by thee will I breake horse and horseman, and by thee will I breake the chariot and him that rideth therein.

22 By thee also will I breake man and woman, and by thee will I breake olde and pong, and by thee will I breake the pong man and the maide.

23 I will also breake by thee the shepheard and his flocke, and by thee will I breake the husbandman and his yoke of oren, and by thee will I breake the dukes and princes.

24 And I will render vnto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Caldees, as theyr euill, that they haue done in Zion, even in pourt light, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, I come vnto thee, O destroying mountaine, saith the Lord, which despoilest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and will thee downe

26 They shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations, but thou shalt be destroyed for ever, saith the Lord.

27 Set by a standard in the laide: blowe the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call by the kingdoms of Astarat, Minni, and Ashchenaz against her: appoint the yince against her: cause horses to come by as the rough caterpillers.

28 Prepare against her p nations with the kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, and the yinces thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and sorrow: for the denice of the Lord shall be performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight: they haue remaigne in their holdes: their strength hath failed, and they were like women: they haue burnt her dwelling places, and her barres are broken.

31 A poste shall rume to meete the poste, and a messenger to meete the messenger, to shew the king of Babel, that his cite is taken on a sbe thereof.

32 And that the passages are stopped, & the reedes burnt with fire, and the men of warre troubled.

34 Nabuchad-nazzar the king of Babel hath deuoured me, and destroyed me: he hath made me an empye vessel: he swalloweth me vp like a dragon, and filled his bels with my delicates, and hath cast me out.

35 The spoile of me, and that which was left of mee, is brought vnto Babel, shall the inhabitant of Zion say: and my blood vnto the inhabitants of Caldea, that Ierusalem say.

36 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will maintaine thy cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I will dye by the sea, and die by her springs.

37 And Babel shall be as sheepes, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant.

38 They shall roare together like lions, and yell as the lions whelpes.

39 In their heate I will make them feastes, and I will make them drunken, that they may reioyce, and sleepe a perpetual sleepe, and not wake, saith the Lord.

47 Therefore behold, the dayes come, that I will visite the images of Babel, and the whole land shall be confounded, and all her name shall fall in the mids of her.

48 Then the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, shall reioyce for Babel: for the destroyers that come vnto her from the North, sayth the Lord.

58 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, The thick wall of Babel shall be broken, and her high gates shall be burnt with fire, & the people shall labour in vaine, and the folke in the fire, for they shall be wearie.

59 The word which Ieremiah þ Prophet prophet commaunded Sheraiah the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Shaalchiah, when hee went with Zedekiah the king of Iudah into Babel, in the fourth yere of his reigne; & this Sheraiah was a peaceable prince.

60 So Ieremiah wrote in a booke all the euil that should come vpon Babel: euen all these things, þ are written against Babel.

61 And Ieremiah sayde to Sheraiah, When thou comest vnto Babel, & shalt see, and shalt reade all these wordes, 62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to destroy it, that none should remaine in it, neither man nor beast, but that it should be desolate for euer.

63 And when thou hast made an end of reading this booke, thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it in the mids of Euphrates.

64 And shalt say, Thus shall Babel be drowned, and shall not rise from the dust, that I will bring vpon her: and they shall be wearie. Thus saie the wordes of Ieremiah.

CHAP. LII.

4 Ierusalem taken, 10 Zedekiahs sonnes are killed before his face, and his eyes put out. 13 The citie is burned. 31 Iehoiachin is brought forth of prison, and led like a king.

Zedekiah was one and twentie peece of age when he began to reigne, & he reigned eleven yeres in Ierusalem, & his mothers name was Hamutal, the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

2 And he did euil in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Iehoiakim had done.

3 Doubtlesse because the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Iudah, till he had cast them out from his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against þ King of Babel.

4 But in the ninth peece of his reigne, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth came Iechuchad-nezar King of Babel, he and all his hoste against Ierusalem, and pitched against it, and built forties against it round about.

5 So the citie was besieged vnto the eleventh peece of the King Zedekiah.

6 Now in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the famine was sore in the citie, so that there was no more bycade for the people of the land.

7 Then the citie was broken by and all the men of warre fled, and went out of the citie by night, by the way of the gate betwene the two walles, which was by the Kings garden: (now the Caldeans were by the citie round about) and they went by the way of the wilderness.

8 But the arme of the Caldeans pursued after the king, and tooke Zedekiah in the desert of Jericho, and all his hoste was scattered from him.

9 Then they tooke the King and carried him by vnto the King of Babel to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where hee gaue iudgement vpon him.

10 And þ King of Babel slew the sonnes of Zedekiah, before his eyes: he slawe also all the princes of Iudah in Riblah.

12 Now in the fifth moneth in the tenth day of the moneth (which was the nineteenth peere of the king Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) came Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward which stood before the king of Babel in Jerusalem.

13 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the kings house, & all the houses of Jerusalem, & all h great houses burnt he w fire.

14 And all the armie of the Caldians h were with the chiefe steward, brake downe all the walles of Jerusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue certaine of the poore of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the cite, and those that were seld, & fallen to the king of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan h chiefe steward left certaine of the poore of the land, to disse the vines, and to till the land.

17 Also the pillars of brasie that were in the house of the Lord, and the bales, and the brasen Sea, that was in the House of the Lord, the Caldians brake, & caried all the brasie of them to Babel.

18 The pots also, & the s beforems, and the instruments of musicke, & the basins, & the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasie wherwith they ministered, tooke they away.

19 And the bowles, & the Alhyans, and the basins, & the pots, & the candlestickes, and the incense dishes, and the cups, and all that was of golde, and that was of siluer, tooke the chiefe steward away.

20 With the two pillars, one Sea, and twelue brasen bulles, that were vnder the bales, which king Salomon had made in the House of the Lord: the brasie of all these vessels was without h weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, h height of one pillar was eightene cubites, and a thicke of twelue cubites did compasse it, and the thicknesse thereof was foure fingers: it was holowe.

22 And a chapter of brasie was vpon it, and the height of one chapter was fve cubites with networke, and pomegranates vpon the chapters round about, all of brasie: the second pillar also, and the pomegranates were like vnto these.

23 And there were ninete & fve pomes granates on a side: and all the pomegranates vpon the networke were an hundredth round about.

24 And h chiefe steward tooke Sheraiah the chiefe Priest, & Zephaniah h the second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

25 He tooke also out of the cite an Euznuch, which had the ouersight of the men of warre, and seven men that were in the kings presence, which were founde in the cite, & Sopher capitaine of the poste who mastered the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land, h were found in the mids of the cite.

26 Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the king of Babel to Riblah.

27 And the king of Babel smote them, and sowe them in Riblah, in the lande of Hamath: thus Iudah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

31 And in the seuen & thirtieth peere of the captiuitie of Jehoiachim king of Iudah, in h twelft moneth, in the fve & twentieth day of h moneth, Evil-merodach king of Babel, in the first peere of his reigne, lift h head by the head of Jehoiachim king of Iudah, and brought him out of prison.

32 And spake kinde vnto him, & set his throne about the throne of the kings, that were with him in Babel.

33 And changed his prison p garments, and hee did continually eate bready before him all the daies of his life.

19 I called for my louers, but they deceived me: my priests and mine elders perished in the cite while they sought their meate to refresh their soules.

20 Beholde, o Lord, howe I am troubled: my bowels swell: mine heart is turned within mee, for I am full of heauiness: the sword spyleth abroad, as death doeth at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, but there is none to comfort mee: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad, that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day, that thou hast pronounced, and they shall be like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednesse come before thee: o Lord, vnto them, as thou hast done vnto me, for al my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and mine heart is heauie.

CHAP. II.

Howe hath the Lord darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath: and hath cast downe from heauen vnto the earth the beautie of Israel, and remembered not his footstool in the day of his wrath.

2 The Lord hath destroyed all the habitations of Iakob, and not spared: hee hath throwne downe in his wrath the strong holdes of the daughter of Iudah: he hath cast them downe to the ground: hee hath pollard the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 Hee hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the house of Israel: he hath drawn backe his right hand from before the enemy, and there was kindled in Iakob like a flame of fire, which deuoured round about.

4 Hee hath bent his bowe like an enemy: his right hand was stretched vp as an aduersarie, and slewe all that was pleasant to the eye in the Tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he powred out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath deuoured Irael, and consumed all his palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holdes, and hath increased in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For hee hath destroyed his tabernacle, as a garden, hee hath destroyed his congregation: the Lord hath caused the feasts and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his wrath the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his altar: he hath abhorred his Sanctuary: he hath giuen it to the hand of the enemy the wallis of her palaces: they haue made a noise in the house of the Lord, as in the day of solennitie.

8 The Lord hath determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: hee stretched out a line: hee hath not withdrawn

9 Her gates are linke to the ground: hee hath destroyed and broken her barres: her King and her Princes are among the Gentiles: the lawe is no more, neither can her Prophets receive any vision from the Lord.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, and keepe silence: they have cast up dust upon their heads: they have girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Ierusalem hang downe their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes doe faile with teares: my bowels swell: my liver is pained upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and sucklings Or, swaine in the streets of the citie.

12 They have layde to their mothers, Or, faine. Where is bread and drinke? when they swooned, as the wounded in the streets of the citie, and when they gaue vp the ghost in their mothers bosome.

13 What thing shall I take to witnesse for thee? What thing shall I compare to thee, O daughter Ierusalem: what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgine daughter Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heale thee?

14 Thy prophets haue looked out vaine and foolish things for thee, and they haue not discovered thine iniquitie, to turne away thy captiuitie, but haue looked out for thee false prophesies, and causes of banishment.

15 All that passe by the way, clap their handes at thee: they hisse and gnash their head vpon the daughter Ierusalem, saying, Is this the citie that men call, The perfection of beautie, and the top of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies haue opened their mouth against thee: they hisse and gnash the teeth, saying, Let vs denoue it: certainly this is the day that wee looked for: we haue found and seene it.

17 The Lord hath done that which he had purposed: hee hath fulfilled his word that he had determined of old time: hee hath shewen done, and not spared: hee hath caused thine enemy to reioyce ouer thee, and set vp the horne of thine aduersaries.

18 Their heart cryed vnto the Lord, O wall of the daughter Zion, let teares runne downe like a river, day and night: take thee no rest, neither let the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, erie in the night: in the beginning of the watches pwayne out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift vp thine handes toward him for the life of the yong children, that faint for hunger in the corners of all the streets.

20 Behold, O Lord, & consider to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women eate their fruite, and children of a spanne long shall the Priest and the Prophet bee slaine in the Sanctuary of the Lord?

Or, enemies whom I feared.

CHAP. III.

I Am the man that hath seene affliction in the roo of his indignation.

2 Hee hath led me, and brought mee into darkenesse, but not to light.

3 Surely hee is turned against mee: hee turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skin hath he caused to waie older, and he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against mee, and compassed me with gall, and labour.

6 He hath set me in darke places, as they that be dead for euer.

7 He hath hedged about mee, that I can not get out: hee hath made my chaines heauie.

8 Also when I erie and shoute, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath stopped by my wayes with hewen stone, and turned away my paths.

10 Hee was into mee as a beare lying in waite, and as a lyon in secret places.

11 Hee hath stopped my wayes, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bowe and made mee a marke for the arrowe.

13 He caused the arrowes of his quiver to enter into my reines.

14 I was a derision to all my people, and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitterness, and made me drunken with wormewood.

16 Hee hath also broken my teeth with stones, and hath covered me with ashes.

17 Thus my soule was farre off from peace: I forgate prosperitie,

18 And I saide, My strength and mine hope is perished from the Lord, 19 Remembering mine affliction, and my mourning, the wormewood and the gall.

20 My soule hath them in remembrance, and is humbled in me.

21 I consider this in mine heart: therefore haue I hope.

22 It is the Lords mercies that wee are not consumed, because his compassions faile not.

23 They are renewed every morning: great is thy faithfulness.

24 The Lord is my portion, saith my soule: therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good vnto them, that trust a The Prophet complaineth of the punishments and afflictions that he endured by the false prophets and hypocrites, when he declared the destruction of Ierusalem, as Ier. 20. 3. b Hee speaketh this as one that felt Gods heauie iudgements, which hee greatly feared, and therefore fettereth them out with this diuertise of words. c This is a great temptation to the godly, when they see not the fruit of their prayers, and causeth them to thinke that they are not heard, which thing God vseth to doe, that they might pray more earnestly and the oftner. d And keepeth me in holde, as a prisoner. e He hath no pite on mee. f Hebr. finnes. g With great anguish and sorowe he hath made me to lose my sense. h Thus with paine he was driven to and fro betwene hope and despair, as the godly oft times are, yet in the end the Spirit getteth the victorie. i Hee sheweth that God thus vseth to exercise his, to the intent, that hereby they may know themselves and feele his mercies. i Considering the wickednesse of man, it is maruail that any remaineth alieue: but onely that God for his owne mercies sake, and for his promise, will euer haue his Church to remaine, though they be neuer so fewe in number. Is. 1. 9. k We feele thy benefites dayly. l The godly put their whole confidence in God, and therefore looke for none other inheritance, as Psal. 16. 5.

i Meaning, that her calamitie was so euident, that it needed no witness.

26 It is good both to trust and to waite for the saluation of the Lord.

27 It is good for a man that hee beare the yoke in his youth.

28 He sturth alone, and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it vpon him.

29 He putteth his mouth in the dust, if there may be hope.

30 He giueth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproches.

31 For the Lord wil not forsake for euer.

32 But though he send affliction, yet wil he haue compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doth not punish willingly, nor afflict the children of men.

34 In stamping vnder his feete all the prisoners of the earth.

35 In ouerthrowing the right of a man before the face of the most High.

36 In subverting a man in his cause: the Lord seeth it not.

37 Who is hee then that saith, and it cometh to passe, and the Lord commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not euill and good?

39 Wherefore then is the lining man sorrowfull: man suffereth for his sinne.

40 Let vs search and try our wayes, and turne againe vnto the Lord.

41 Let vs lift vp our hearts with our hands vnto God in the heauens.

42 We haue sinned, and haue rebelled, therefore thou hast not spared.

43 Thou hast couered vs with wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast flaine and not spared.

44 Thou hast couered thy selfe with a cloude, that our prayer shoulde not passe through.

45 Thou hast made vs as the offscouring and refuse in the mids of the people.

46 All our enemies haue opened their mouth against vs.

47 Feare, and a snare is come vpon vs with desolation and destruction.

48 Mine eye casteth our riuers of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eye droppeth without stay and ceaseth not.

50 Till the Lord looke downe, and behold from heauen.

51 Mine eye breaketh mine heart because of all the daughters of my citie.

52 Mine enemies chased mee loze like a bird, without cause.

53 They haue shut vp my life in the dungeon, and cast a stone vpon me.

54 Waters flowed ouer mine head, then thought I, I am destroyed.

55 I called vpon thy Name, O Lord, out of the lower dungeon.

56 Thou hast heard my voyce: stop not thine eare from my sigh, and from my cry.

57 Thou diestest nere in the day that I called vpon thee: thou saydest, Feare not.

58 O Lord, thou hast maintained the cause of my soule, & hast redeemed my life.

59 O Lord, thou hast seen my wrong, iudge thou my cause.

60 Thou hast scene all their vengeance, and all their deuiles against me.

61 Thou hast heard their reproch, O Lord, & all their imaginations against me:

62 The lips also of thole that rose against me, and their whispering against mee continually.

63 Beholde, their sitting downe and their rising vp, how I am their song.

64 Give them a recompense, O Lord, according to the worke of their handes.

65 Give them ill sorow of heart, euen thy curse to them.

66 Persecute with wrath and destroy them from vnder the heauen, O Lord.

5 They that did feede delicately, perish in the streets: they that were brought vp in scarlet, embrace the dung.

6 For the iniquitie of the daughter of my people is become greater then the sinne of Sodom, that was destroyed as in a moment, and I none pitched camps against her.

7 Her Nazarites were purer then the snowe, and whiter then the milke: they were more ruddy in body, then the red precious stones: they were like polished sapphire.

10 The handes of the pitifull women haue sodden their owne children, which were their meate in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lord hath accomplished his indignation: hee hath powred out his fierce wrath, he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath deuoured the foundations thereof.

The prayer of Ieremiah.

R Emember, O Lord, what is come vpon vs: a consider, and beholde our reproch.

gers, our houses to the aliens.

3 Wee are fatherlesse, euen without father, and our mothers are as widowers.

4 We haue drunken our b waters for money, and our wood is sold vnto vs.

5 Our neckes are vnder persecution: we are wearie, and haue no rest.

6 We haue giuen our c hands to the Egyptians, and to Asshur, to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers haue sinned, and are not, and we haue borne their d iniquities.

8 Seruants haue ruled ouer vs, and none woulde deliuer vs out of their handes.

9 Wee gate our bread with the perill of our liues, because of the sword e of the wildernes.

11 They desiled the women in Zion, and the maidens in the citie of Iudah.

13 They tooke the yong men to grinde, and the children fell vnder a the wood.

18 Because of the mountaine of Zion which is desolate: the foxes runne vpon it.

19 But thou, O Lorde, remainest for k euer: thy throne is from generation to generation.

20 Wherefore dost thou forget vs for euer, and forsake vs so long time?

THE ARGVMENT.

AFTER that Iehoiachin by the counsell of Ieremiah and Ezekiel had yellected himselfe to Nebuchad-Nezzar, and so went into captiuitie with his mother and diuers of his Princes and of the people, certaine beganne to repent and murmure that they had obeyed the Prophets counsell, as though the thing which they had prophesied should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should bee still miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof hee confirmeth his former prophesies, declaring by newe visions and reuelations shewed vnto him, that the citie should most certainly bee destroyed, and the people greuously tormented by Gods plagues, in so much that they that remained, should bee brought into cruell bondage. And lest the godly shoulde despaire in these great troubles, hee assured them that God will deliuer his Church at his time appointed, and also destroy their enemies which either afflicted them, or reioycied in their miseries. The effect of the one and the other should chiefly be performed vnder Christ, of whome in this Booke are many notable promises, and in whom the glory of the newe Temple shoulde perfectly bee restored. Hee prophesied these things in Caldea at the same time that Ieremiah prophesied in Iudea, and there began in the fifth yere of Iehoiachins captiuitie.

C H A P. I.

1 The time wherein Ezekiel prophesied and in what place. 3 His kindred. 5 The vision of the four beasts. 26 The vision of the throne.

I Came to passe in the thirtieth yeere in the fourth moneth, and in the first day of the moneth (as I was among the captiues by the river Chebar) that the heavens were opened, and I sawe visions of God.

2 In the first day of the moneth (which was the first yeere of King Ioiachins captiuitie)

3 The worde of the Lord came vnto Ezekiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the land of the Caldeans, by the river Chebar, where the hand of the Lord was vpon him.

4 And I looked, and behold, a whirlewinde came out of the North, a great cloud and a fire wayped about it, and a brightnesse was about it, and in the mids thereof, to wit, in the mids of the fire came out as the likenesse of Amber.

5 Also out of the mids thereof came the likenesse of foure beasts, and this was their forme: they had the appearance of a man.

6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one had foure wings.

7 And their feete were straight feete, and the sole of their feete was like the sole of a calves foote, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brasse.

8 And the handes of a man came out from vnder their wings in the foure partes of them, and they foure had their faces, and their wings.

9 They were soyned by their wings one to another, and when they went forth, they returned not, but euery one went straight forward.

10 And the similitude of their faces was as the face of a man: and they foure had the face of a lion on the right side, & they foure had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they foure also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: but their wings were spread out about: two wings of euery one were soyned one to another, and two couered their bodies.

12 And euery one went straight forward: they went whither their spirit led them, and they returned not when they went forth.

13 The similitude also of the beasts and their appearance was like burning coales of fire, and like the appearance of lampes: for the fire rann among the beasts, and the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beasts ranne, and returned like vnto lightning.

15 I Knew as I behelde the beasts, behelde, a wheele appeared vpon the earth by the beasts, hauing foure faces.

16 The facion of the wheeles and their wooke was like vnto a chrysolite: and they k The Ebrewe foure had one forme, and their facion, and their woorde was, as one wheele in another wheele.

17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not when they went.

18 They had also bringes, and height, and were fearful to behold, and their rings were full of eyes, round about them foure.

19 And when the beasts went, the wheeles went with them: and when the beasts were lift vp from the earth, the wheeles were lift vp.

20 Whither their spirit led them, they went, & thither did the spirit of the wheeles leade them, and the wheeles were lifted vp besides them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheeles.

21 When the beasts went, they went, and when they stood, they stood, and when they were lifted vp from the earth, the wheeles were lifted vp besides them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheeles.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beasts was wonderful, like vnto chrysell, spread ouer their heads aboue.

23 And vnder the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: euery one had two, which couered them, and euery one had two, which couered their bodies.

24 And when they went forth, I heard the noyse of their wings, like the noyse of great waters, and as the voyce of the Almighty, even the voyce of speech, as the noyse of an hoste: and when they stood, they let downe their wings.

25 And there was a voyce from the firmament that was ouer their heads, when they stood, and had let downe their wings.

26 And about the firmament that was ouer their heads, was the facion of a thronelike vnto a sapphire stone, and vpon the similitude of the thronelike was by appearance, as the similitude of a man aboue vpon it.

27 And I sawe as the appearance of Amber, and as the similitude of fire round about within it to looke to, even from his loynes upward: and to looke to, even from his loynes downward, I sawe as a likenesse of fire, and brightnesse round about it.

28 As the likenesse of the bowe, that is in the cloude in the day of raine, so was the appearance of the light round about.

29 This was the appearance of the similitude of the glory of the Lord: and when I sawe it, I fell vpon my face, and I heard a voyce of one that spake.

2 And the Spirit entered into me, when he had spoken vnto mee, and set me vpon my feete, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

3 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation, that hath rebelled against me: for they and their fathers haue rebelled against me, euen vnto this very day.

4 For they are impudent children, and stiffhearted: I doe send thee vnto them, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God.

5 But surely they will not heare, neither in deede will they cease: for they are a rebellious house: yet shall they know that there hath bene a Prophet among them.

6 And thou sonne of man, feare them not, neither be afraide of their wordes, although rebels, and thornes bee with thee, and thou remainest with scorpions: feare not their wordes, nor be afraide at their looks, for they are a rebellious house.

7 Therefore thou shalt speake my wordes vnto them: but surely they will not heare, neither will they in deede cease: for they are rebellious.

8 But thou sonne of man, heare what I say vnto thee: be not thou rebellious, like this rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eate that I giue thee.

9 And when I looked vp, beholde, an hand was sent vnto me, and loe, a roule of a booke was therein.

10 And he layed it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein, Lamentations, & mourning, and woe.

CHAP. III.

1 The Prophet beinge fidele with the worde of God, and with the constant boldnesse of the Spirit, sent vnto the people that were in captiuitie, 17 The office of true ministers.

Mouer hee sayd vnto mee, Sonne of man, eate that thou findest: eate this roule, and goe, and speake vnto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and hee gaue me this roule to eate.

3 And he said vnto mee, Sonne of man, cause thy belly to eate, and fill thy bowels with this roule that I giue thee. Then did I eate it, and it was in my mouth as sweet as hony.

4 And he sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, goe, and enter into the house of Israel, and declare them my wordes.

5 For thou art not sent to a people of an vnknoen tongue, or of an hard language, but to the house of Israel.

6 Not to many people of vnknoen tongue, or of an hard language, whose wordes thou canst not vnderstand: yet if I should send thee to them they would obey thee.

7 But the house of Israel will not obey thee: for they will not obey mee: yea, all the house of Israel are impudent and stiffhearted.

8 Behold, I haue made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheades.

9 I haue made thy forehead as the adamant, and harder then the flint: feare them not therefore, neither be afraide at their looks: for they are a rebellious house.

10 He sayd moreover vnto me, Sonne of man, receiue in thine heart all my wordes that I speake vnto thee, and heare them with thine eares.

11 And go and enter to them that are led away captiues vnto the children of my people, and speake vnto them, and tell them, Thus sayeth the Lord God: but surely they will not heare, neither will they in deede cease.

12 Then the Spirit tooke me vp, and I heard behinde mee a noyse of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the Lord out of his place.

13 I heard also the noyse of the wings of the beastes, that toucheth one another, and the rattling of the wheeles that were by them, euen a noyse of great rushing.

14 So the Spirit lift me vp, and tooke me away, and I went in bitterness, and indignation of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong vpon me.

15 Then I came to them that were led away captiues to Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river Chebar, and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them 7 seuen dayes.

16 And at the ende of seuen dayes, the wordes of the Lord came againe vnto mee, saying,

17 Sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore heare the word at my mouth, and giue them warning from me.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, and thou giuest him not warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his wicked way, that hee may liue, the same wicked man shall die in his iniquitie: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Perif thou waerne the wicked, and he turne not from his wickednesse, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquitie, but thou shalt deliuered thy soule.

20 Likewise if a righteous man turne from his righteousness and commit iniquitie, I will lay a stumbling blocke before him, and he shall die, because thou hast not giuen him warning: hee shall die in his sinne, and his righteous deedes, which he hath done, shall not be remembered: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Acquittethesse, if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, and that he deeth not sinne, he shall liue because he is admonished: alio thou hast deliuered thy soule.

22 And the hand of the Lord was there vpon me, and he sayd vnto me, Arise, and

CHAP. III.

1 The besieging of the cite of Ierusalem is signified. 9 The long continuance of the captiuitie of Israel. 16 An hunger is prophesied to come.

Thou also sonne of man, take thee a twicke, and lay it before thee, and portray vpon it the cite, euen Ierusalem,

2 And lay siege against it, and bulwre a fort against it, and cast a mount against it: see the campe also against it, and lay engines of warre against it round about.

3 Moreover, take an * vpon payne, and set it for a wall of vpon betwene thee and the cite, and direct thy face toward it, and it shall bee besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shalbe a signe vnto the house of Israel.

4 Sleepe thou also vpon thy left side, and lay the iniquitie of the * house of Israel vpon it: according to the number of the dayes, that thou shalt sleepe vpon it, thou shalt beare their iniquitie.

5 For I haue layd vpon thee the yeeres of their iniquitie, according to the number of the dayes, euen three hundredth and threetye dayes: so shalt thou beare the iniquitie of the house of Israel.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, sleepe againe vpon thy * right side, and thou shalt beare the iniquitie of the house of Iudah fourtie dayes: I haue appointed thee a day for a yeere, euen a day for a yeere.

7 Therefore thou shalt direct thy face toward the siege of Ierusalem, and thine * arme shall bee vncircled, and thou shalt prophesie against it.

8 And behold, I will lay * bands vpon thee, and thou shalt not turne thee from one side to an other, till thou hast ended the dayes of thy siege.

9 Thou shalt take also vnto thee wheat, and barley, and beanes, and lenties, & millet, and * fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make thee breade thereof according to the number of the dayes, that thou shalt sleepe vpon thy side: euen * three hundredth & nineety dayes shalt thou eate thereof.

10 And the meate whereof thou shalt eate, shall be by weight, euen * thwenty shekels a day: and from time to time shalt thou eate thereof.

11 Thou shalt drinke also water by measure, euen the first part of an * hin: from time to time shalt thou drinke.

12 And thou shalt eate it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it * in the dough that cometh out of man in thy fight.

13 And the Lord sayd, So shall the children of Israel eate their desired bread among the Gentiles, whither I will cast them.

14 Then sayd I, Ah Lord God, behold, my soule hath not bene polluted: for from my youth vp, euen vnto this houre, I haue not eaten of a thing dead, or torne in peces, neither came there any * vncleane fleshy in my mouth.

15 Then hee sayd vnto mee, Lo, I haue giuen thee bullocks * doving for mans doving, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover, hee sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, beholde, I will breake * the staffe of bread in Ierusalem, and they shall eate bread by weight, and with care, and with shall drinke water by measure, and with astonishment.

17 Because that bread and water shall faile, they shalbe astonied one with another, and shall consume away for their iniquitie.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because your multitude is greater then the nations that are round about you, and yet haue not walked in my statutes, neither haue ye kept my iudgements: no, yet haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations, that are round about you,

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I, euen I come against thee, and will execute iudgement in the mids of thee, euen in the sight of the nations.

9 And I will doe in thee, that I neuer did before, neither will doe any more the like, because of all thine abominations.

10 For in the middes of thee, the fathers shall eate their sones, and the sones shall eate their fathers, and I will execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the windes.

11 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord God, Surely, because thou hast defiled my Sanctuary with all thy filthinesse, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also destroy thee, neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue any pitty.

12 The third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the mids of thee: and another third part shall fall by the sword round about thee: and I will scatter the last third part into all windes, and I will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger bee accomplished, and I will cause my wrath to cease in them, and I will be comforted: and they shall knowe, that I the Lord haue spoken it in my seale, when I haue accomplished my wrath in them.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waste, and abhorred among the nations, that are round about thee, and in the sight of all that passe by.

15 So thou shalt be a reproch and shame, a chastiment and an astonishment vnto the nations, that are round about thee, when I shall execute iudgements in thee, in anger and in wrath, and in sharpe rebukes: I the Lord haue spoken it.

16 When I shall sende vpon them the euill^b arrowes of famine, which shall bee for their destruction, and which I will sende to destroy you: and I will increase the famine vpon you, and will breake your staffe of bread.

2 Sonne of man, Set thy face towards the^a mountaines of Israel, and prophetic against them.

3 And say, Pee mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord God: thus saith the Lord God to the^a mountaines and to the hilles, to the riuers and to the valleys, Beholde, I, euen I will bring a sword vpon you, and I will destroy your hie places:

4 And your altars shall be desolate, and your images of the^b sunne shall bee broken: and I will cast downe your staine men before your idoles.

5 And I will lay the dead carkeises of the children of Israel before their^c idoles, and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be desolate, and the hie places shall be layde waste, so that your altars shall bee made waste and desolate, and your idoles shall be broken, and cease, and your images of the sunne shall be cut in peeces, and your workes shall be abolished.

7 And the staine shall fall in the mids of you, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leaue a remnant,^d that you may haue some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when you shall be scattered through the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you shall remember mee among the nations, where they shall be in captiuitie, because I am grieued for their whorish hearts, which haue departed from me, and for their eyes, which haue gone a whoring after their idoles, and they^e shall be displeased in themselves for the euils, which they haue committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall knowe that I am the Lord, and that I haue not said in vaine, that I would doe this euill vnto them.

11 Thus saith the Lord God, I^f smite with thine hand, and stretch forth with thy foote, and say, Alas, for all the wicked abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 He that is farre off shall die of the pestilence, and he that is neere, shall fall by the sword, and hee that remaineth and is besieged, shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon them.

13 Then shall ye shall knowe, that I am the Lord, when their staine men shall among their idoles round about their altars, vpon every hie hill in all the tops of the mountaines, and vnder every greene tree, and vnder euery thicke oake, which is the place where they did offer sweete sauer to all their idoles.
